OBITUARY

MRS. THOMAS COOKE

STIRLING, April 2.—(Examiner Correspondence).—On Friday, March 28, the death occurred of Mrs. Thomas Cook of Harold, after an illness of short duration.

She was in her eighty-eighth year and until shortly before her death was cheerful and keen in intellect.

Her life was a shining example of patience, kindliness and humility. She had done what she could to make her community the better for her having lived in it, and the large assembly of friends at her funeral testified that her true work had stamped itself indelibly in the hearts of the neighborhood.

The funeral was held on Sunday from her late home to St. John's Church, Stirling, and was conducted by Rev. Levason, assisted by Rev. B. Byers.

She leaves three sons to mourn her loss, Albert at home, Fred of Minto, and Tom of Portland Oregon; and one brother, James Bird, of Madoc. Her husband passed away fifteen years ago.

PILES GO QUICK

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Piles sufferers from itching, bleeding or protuding piles have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves of cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID Tablets from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees to refund the purchase price if they do not end piles in any form.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Covered With Boils on Arms, Back and Neck

Miss Margaret Higgins, Dymont, Ont., writes:—"I was covered with boils on my arms, face and neck. I used plasters and other remedies with no results. My attention was drawn to Burdock Blood Bitters, so I decided to get a bottle. The results were marvellous, as in no time the boils had completely disappeared, and my skin was clearer and fresher than ever."

LABOR'S DEMAND.

Labor members of Parliament who fought against the House adjourning for the Easter recess without making provision to continue unemployment relief work were alive to their responsibility as representatives of the workers of the country.

The money voted for unemployment relief lapsed automatically on Tuesday, the last day of the fiscal year, and with unemployment conditions as bad as they were when this relief was first authorized, the Labor members were quite within their rights in arguing that Parliament should not adjourn without adopting some means of carrying on.

While the picture may not be as black as pictured by the Labor representatives and the prophecy of serious riots in the near future unless something is done to relieve the situation is not, it is hoped, likely to come true, the outlook is serious enough to justify the demands that unemployment relief should be continued for the present, and the refusal of the Government to reply to these statements will be disappointing to thousands of Canadians who, through no fault of their own, are now without employment.

THE MINISTER RETREATS.

Confronted with strong opposition from many hunters throughout the Province and protests from some of the Government supporters in the Legislature, Hon. Charles McCrea has had to adopt a compromise in regard to the use of dogs in deer hunting.

The Minister had arrived at the conclusion that the banning of dogs was desirable in the interest of deer conservation, and had intended to introduce legislation to that effect, but the opposition that developed at a Conservative caucus led to a modification of the policy decided upon, with the result that dogs may be used in the section of the Province south of the French and Mattawa Rivers, while north and west of those waters the abolition of the use of canine assistants will go into effect.

As The Examiner pointed out a few days ago, few questions arouse so much controversy as this argument over dogs, and the champions of their use are apparently ready to battle to the last ditch in their advocacy of a method of hunting that is apparently in disfavor in practically every other part of the Continent.

Anyway they have forced a retreat on the part of the Government for the time being, and as the majority of the hunters who approve of the use of dogs hunt in the district south of the French and the Mattawa, they will be able to carry on as usual next fall.

THAT CORPORATIONS TAX.

There is naturally much objection to the corporations tax passed at the session of the Legislature which closed to-day.

This levy, which imposes a tax of one-tenth of one per cent. on the capital of all corporations doing business in Ontario, is regarded as unfair because it is levied on capital regardless of the condition of any particular business rather than on profits, a much more justifiable field for taxation.

There is much to the objection voiced in the Legislature by W. E. N. Sinclair, the Liberal House leader.

As Mr. Sinclair pointed out, the Government has always taken the position that the taxes it imposed were charges for services rendered, and yet this new tax would apply only to corporations, while individual business men and partnerships would be exempt, even although they might be doing a greater volume of business than many of the corporations.

These individuals and partnerships receive just as much in services as do the limited companies, but the corporations tax has all to be assumed by the latter, which would seem to be discrimination.

There is the obvious danger that if Ontario continues to load new taxation on companies, manufacturers will be forced to consider locating in other Provinces where the burden of taxation is not so severe.

This continual reaching out for new revenue on the part of the Government may eventually wreck the administration—if it does not first wreck the Province.

THE RIGHT COURSE.

When Premier Henry announced a few weeks ago that the time had arrived for a drastic retrenchment in provincial expenditures and that economies would have to be brought into effect, he evidently meant what he said and was not merely trying to voice sentiment that he thought would be popular.

The main estimates for 1932, tabled in the Legislature on Tuesday, show that Mr. Henry's Government has made a very fair start along the path of economy, for they record a contemplated reduction in expenditures for next year of $23,000,000, which, it must be admitted, is a sizable cut.

The pruning knife has apparently been used vigorously all along the line, for practically every department has had to accept a substantial decrease, with the public works department leading the way with a slash of over $2,000,000, and the education and Attorney-General's departments also coming in for a drastic reduction in their appropriations.

Mr. Henry has adopted the only course consistent with present-day conditions.

It is obvious that only by vigorous retrenchment can fresh taxation be averted, and the new Premier in courageously slashing into expenditures and reducing appropriations as far as can be done without starving essential public services is showing a commendable appreciation of the general situation.

Almost anybody can think up ways of spending the people's money—but it needs a real leader to institute a drastic policy of economy.

RUSSIAN EXPORTS GROWING.

J. C. Macgillivray, the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Rotterdam, reports in the Commercial Intelligence Journal that many other articles besides wheat, coal and lumber are now being exported by Russia, a study of the contents of cargoes of ships from Russian ports, which are discharged in Holland, indicating an increasing diversification of the merchandise handled. Many of these products are directly competitive in the Netherlands with similar products made in Canada. Mr. Macgillivray specifically mentions rubber footwear of Russian origin now being sold in the Netherlands at prices much lower than those which Canadian manufacturers can quote, although we have heard of rubber footwear of Canadian origin being sold for far less in foreign markets than in the Canadian market itself.

This is evidence of the fact that, while a short time ago Russia was simply regarded as an exporter of raw materials and foodstuffs, notably wheat, she is now a potential competitor in many lines of manufactured goods, as a result of the progress made in the industrialization of the country under the Five-Year Plan. So far as can be learned, the tendency will remain in that direction, with Russia pouring more and more goods, both manufactured and unmanufactured, into the markets of Europe, and as European countries are quite indifferent regarding the source of manufactured requirements which they are themselves incapable of producing so long as Russia continues to buy from them, things look rather badly for the countries which have normally supplied these requirements, and lessened exports to Europe promise to be the rule.

How are those countries to deal with this further and serious competition? Will it be lessened through ignoring the course of industrial development in Russia and getting up further barriers to Russian trade? Or would it be wiser to attempt to reach some form of agreement with the Soviets, recognizing that Russian products will probably appear more and more on the world's markets. The New Outlook, organ of the United Church of Canada, takes the latter view when it remarks in its current issue that:

"Whatever we may think of the Soviets' creed as it affects either politics or religion, there is no question that we shall have to treat present-day Russia more seriously than we ever treated her Czarist predecessor. The Five-Year Plan has some weaknesses, but it is agreed on this continent that it is likely to prove about eighty per cent. efficient. Wheat, coal, lumber are all on the market in competition with Canadian, British and United States products, and now we learn that Russia's oil production, which in 1929 was 98,000,000 barrels, and last year reached 130,000,000 barrels, will this year total 173,000,000 barrels. Evidently Russia is forging ahead as she never did before. To ignore her is impossible; to fight her seems madness; and it would appear to be the part of wisdom to reach some amicable agreement—if such is possible. Chairman Alexander Legge, of the United States Farm Board, says that in his opinion Canada and the United States have nothing to lose and may possibly have something to gain by holding a conference with the Soviet representatives concerning the export of wheat. He does not see why Russia should go on indefinitely selling wheat at a loss, and he thinks that some way may be arranged by which the more orderly marketing of Russian and Canadian wheat may be secured. The Canadian Government has emphatically rejected a Russian offer to purchase some $10,000,000 worth of agricultural machinery, one-third of the value to be paid in Russian coal, the rest to be cash. But the matter of reaching some agreement with Russia is still to be settled, and if there is any possibility of it at all it should be tested. We do not believe that Canadian wheat will forever go begging, but the securing a satisfactory arrangement with Russia might help immediately, and not a little."

The Russian exports of manufactured products reported by the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Rotterdam are probably merely the advance guard of other manufactured articles, such sales forming the means by which Russia is enabled to proceed with its Five-Year Plan. It is apparent that there is only one course which will halt this movement and defeat that plan, and that is the imposition of a world embargo upon Russian goods. But if Canada has put such an embargo into effect, there is as yet no evidence of other countries following suit, and so long as the greater part of the world continues to accept Russian goods in return for their own exports to that country, so long as sales of Russian goods in foreign countries furnish Russia with the means of carrying out its industrial reorganization and advancement, goods produced under the guidance of the Soviets will go on entering foreign markets to the injury of established traders.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It looks as if Windsor will have to wait until times are normal for that Normal School the Government has been asked for.

Maple sugar and syrup production in Canada this year is showing a falling off, but the prices, it will be noticed, still remain firm.

The Ontario Legislature has completed its work after a rather tame but probably useful session.

Errors amounting to $8,000,000 were made in the main estimates submitted by the Ontario Government. But what's a few million dollars in these days of big revenues and big expenditures.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

PROLOGUE.

Jason Gridley is a radio bug. Had he not been, this story never would have been written. Jason is twenty-three and scandalously good looking. But this is not Jason's story—he is only an incident—an important incident that made this story possible.

Jason is an orphan with an income, and after he graduated from Stanford, he came down and bought a couple of acres at Tarzana, and that is how and when I met him.

While he was building he made my office his headquarters and was often in my study and afterward I returned the compliment by visiting him in his new "lab", as he calls it.

Jason is experimenting with some new principle of radio concerning which the less I say the better it will be for my reputation, since I know nothing whatsoever about it. I do know this, however, because Jason has told me that the idea he is playing with suggests an entirely new and unsuspected—well, let us call it a wave.

He says the idea was suggested to him by the vagaries of static and in groping around in search of some device to eliminate this he discovered in the ether an undercurrent that operated according to no previously known scientific laws.

At his Tarzana home he has erected a station and a few miles away, at the back of my ranch, another. Between these stations we talk to one another through some strange, ethereal medium that seems to pass through all other waves and all other stations, unsuspected and entirely harmless—so harmless is it that it has not the slightest effect upon Jason's regular set, standing in the same room and receiving over the same aerial.

But this is all by the way of getting to the beginning of the amazing narrative of the adventures of Tanar of Pellucidar.

Jason and I were sitting in his "lab" one evening, discussing, as we often did, innumerable subjects, and coming back, as Jason usually did, to the Gridley wave, which is what we have named it. Much of the time Jason kept on his ear phones, than which there is no greater discourager of conversation. But this does not irk me.

Presently, Jason removed the headpiece. "It is enough to drive a fellow to drink!" he exclaimed.

"What?" I asked.

"I am getting that same stuff again," he said. "I can hear voices, very faintly, but unmistakably, human voices. They are speaking a language unknown to man. It is maddening."

"Mars, perhaps, I suggested, "or Venus."

I shrugged.

"Do you know," he said, "that when I was a kid I used to believe every word of those crazy stories of yours about Mars and Pellucidar. The inner world at the earth's core was as real to me as the High Sierras, the San Joaquin Valley, or the Golden Gate. I saw nothing improbable at all in the trip of David Innes and old man Perry through the earth's crust to Pellucidar. Yes, sir, that was all gospel to me when I was a kid."

"And now you are twenty-three and know that it can't be true," I said with a smile.

"You are not trying to tell me it is true, are you?" he demanded, laughing.

"I never have told any one that it is true," I replied; "I let people think what they think, but I reserve the right to do likewise."

"Why, you know perfectly well that it would be impossible for that iron mole of Perry's to have penetrated five hundred miles of the earth's crust, you know there's no inner world peopled by strange reptiles and men of the stone age, you know there is no Emperor of Pellucidar."

"I like to believe that there is a Dian the Beautiful, "I said.

"Yes," he agreed.

Jason replaced his headpiece and I returned to the perusal of a book. Thus we sat for some time.

Presently Jason removed his ear phones and turned toward me. "I was getting music," he said; "strange, weird music, and then suddenly there came loud shouts and it seemed that I could hear blows struck and there were screams and the sound of shots."

"Perry, you know, was experimenting with gunpowder down there in Pellucidar," I reminded Jason, with a grin; but he was inclined to be serious and did not respond in kind.

"You know, of course," he said, "that there really has been a theory of an inner world for many years. It supposes polar openings leading into the interior of the earth. I'd like to make a try for one of those polar openings, he mused, as he replaced the ear phones.

Again there was a long silence, broken at last by a sharp exclamation from Jason. He pushed an extra headpiece toward me.

"Listen!" he exclaimed.

As I adjusted the ear phones I heard that which we had never before received on the Gridley wave—code! No wonder that Jason was excited, since there was no station on earth, other than his own, attuned to the Gridley wave.

Code! What could it mean? I am not what one might call an expert in the intricacies of code, but I had no difficulty in understanding the simple signal of two letters, repeated in groups of three with a pause after each group: "D.I.; D.I.;" pause; D.I., D.I., D.I.," pause.

The signals ceased and Jason touched his own key, sending his initials, J. G., J.G., J.G.," in the same grouping that we had received the D.I. signal. Almost instantly he was in errupted—you could feel the excitement of the sender.

"D.I., D.I., D.I., Pellucidar," rattled against our ear-drums like machine gun fire. Jason and I sat in dumb amazement, staring at one another.

"It is a hoax!" I exclaimed, and Jason, reading my lips, shook his head.

"How can it be a hoax?" he asked. "There is no other station on earth equipped to send or to receive over the Gridley wave, so there can be no means of perpetrating such a hoax."

Our mysterious station was on the air again: "If you get this, repeat my signal," and he signed off with "D.I., D.I., D.I."

"That would be David Innes," mused Jason.

"Emperor of Pellucidar," I added.

Jason sent the message, "D.I., D.I., D.I.," followed by, "what station is this, and "who is sending?"

more this

'This is the Imperial Observatory at Greenwich, Pellucidar; Abner Perry ending. Who are you?"

"This is the private experimental laboratory of Jason Gridley, Tarzana, California; Gridley sending," replied Jason.

"I want to get into communication with Edgar Rice Burroughs; do you know him?"

"He is sitting here, listening in with me," replied Jason.

"Thank Heaven, if that is true, but how am I to know that it is true?" demanded Perry.

I hastily scribbled a note to Jason: "Ask him if he recalls the fire in his first gunpowder factory and that the building would have been destroyed had they not extinguished the fire by shoveling his gunpowder onto it?"

Jason grinned as he read the note, and sent it.

"It was unkind of David to tell of that," came back the reply, "but now I know that Burroughs is indeed there, as only he could have known of that incident. I have a long message for him. Are you ready?"

"Yes," replied Jason.

'Then stand by."

And this is the message that Abner Perry sent from the bowels of the earth; from The Empire of Pellucidar:

It must be some fifteen years since David Innes and I broke through the inner surface of the earth's crust and emerged into savage Pellucidar, but when a stationary sun hangs eternally at high noon and there is no restless moon and there are no stars, time is measureless and so it may have been a hundred years ago or one. Who knows?

Of course, since David returned to earth and brought back many of the blessings of civilization, we have had the means to measure time, but the people did not like it, so David issued an edict abolishing time in Pellucidar.

When I came here I know nothing of radio but when David came back from the outer world he brought many scientific works and from these I learned all that I know of radio, which has been enough to permit me to erect two successful stations; one here at Greenwich and one at the capital of The Empire of Pellucidar.

But, try as I would, I never could get anything from the outer world, and after a while I gave up trying, convinced that the earth's crust was impervious to radio. But sometimes I played with it and upon several occasions I thought that I heard voices and other sounds that were not of Pellucidar. They were too faint to be more than vague suggestions of intriguing possibilities, but yet they did suggest something most alluring, and so I set myself to making changes and adjustments until this wonderful thing that has happened but now was made possibl .

And my delight in being able to talk with you is second only to my relief in being able to appeal to you for help. David is in trouble. He is a captive in the north or what he and I call north, for there are no points of compass known to Pellucidarians.

I have heard from him, however. He has sent me a message and in it he suggests a startling theory that would make aid from the outer crust possible if—but first let me tell you the whole story, and then you will be in a better position to judge as to the practicability of sending succor to David from the outer crust.

The whole thing dates from our victories over the Mahars, the once dominant race of Pellucidar. When, with our well-organized armie , equipped with fire-arms and other weapons unknown to the Mahars or their gorills-like mercenaries, the Sagoths, we defeated the reptilian monsters and drove their slimy hordes from the confines of The Empire, the human race of the inner world for the first time in its history took its rightful place among the orders of creation.

But our victories laid the foundation for the disaster that has overwhelmed us.

For a while there was no Mahar within the boundaries of any of the kingdoms that constitute the Empire of Pellucidar; but presently we had word of them here and there—small parties living upon the shores of sea or lake far from the haunts of man.

They gave us no trouble—their old power had crumbled beyond recall; th ir Sagoths were now numbered among the regiments of The Empire. Yet we did not want them among us, so David sent a force against them, but with orders to treat with them first and attempt to persuade them to leave The Empire peacefully.

Sagoths accompanied the expedition, for they alone of all the creatures of Pellucidar can converse in the sixth-sense, fourth dimension language of the Mahars.

The story that the expedition brought back was rather pitiful and aroused David's sympathies, as stories o persecution and unhappiness always do.

After the Mahars had been driven from The Empire they had sought a haven where they might liv in peace. Far away upon the shores of a mighty ocean, where there were no signs of man, they settled but their peace was not for long.

A great ship came, reminding the Mahars of the first ships they had seen—the ships that David and I had built—the first ships, as far as we knew, that ever had sailed the silent seas of Pellucidar.

Naturally it was a surprise to us to learn that there was a race within the inner world sufficiently far advanced to be able to build ships, but there was another surprise in store for us. The Mahars assured us that these people possessed firearms and that because of their ships and their firearms they were fully as formidable as we and they were much more ferocious; killing for the pure sport of slaughter.

After the first ship had sailed away the Mahars thought they might be allowed to live in peace, but this dream was short lived, as presently the first ship returned and with it were many others manned by thousands of bloodthirsty enemies against whose weapons the great reptiles had little or no defense.

Seeking only escape from man, the Mahars left their new home and moved back a short distance toward The Empire, but their enemies hunted them, and when they found them the Mahars were again forced to fall back.

Eventually they took refuge within the boundaries of The Empire, and scarcely had David's expedition to them returned with its report when we had definite proof of the veracity of their tale through messages from our northernmost frontier bearing stories of invasion by a strange, savage race of white men.

Frantic was the message from Goork, King of Thuria, whose far-flung frontier stretches beyond the Land of Awful Shadow. Some of his hunters had been surprised and all but a few killed or captured by the invaders. He had sent warriors, then, against them, but these, too, had met a like fate, and so he sent a runner to David begging the Emperor to rush troops to his aid.

Scarcely had the first runner arrived when another came, bearing tidings of the capture and sack of the principal town of the Kingdom of Thuria; and then a third arrived from the commander of the invaders demanding that David come with tribute or they would destroy his country and slay the prisoners they held as hostage.

In reply David dispatched Tanar, son of Ghak, to demand the release of all prisoners and the departure of the invaders.

Immediately runners were sent to the nearest kingdoms of the Empire and ere Tanar had reached the Land of Awful Shadow, ten thousand warriors were marching along the same trail to enforce the demands of the Emperor and drive the savage oe from Pellucidar.

As David approached the Land of Awful Shadow, a great column of smoke was observable in the horizonless distance ahead. It was not necessary to urge the tireless warriors to greater speed, for all who saw guessed that the invaders had taken another village and put it to the torch.

And then came the refugees — women and children only — and behind them a thin line of warriors striving to hold back swarthy, bearded strangers, armed with strange weapons that resembled ancient harquebuses with bell-shaped muzzles.

Loud were the shouts of joy when the first of the refugees discovered and recognized the force that had come to their delivery. The effect upon the enemy of the appearance of ten thousand well-armed warriors was quickly apparent. They halted, and, as we advanced, they withdrew, but though they retreated they gave us a good fight.

David learned from Goork that Tanar had been retained as a hostage, but though he made several attempts to open negotiations with the enemy for the puspose of exchanging some prisoners that had fallen into our hands, for Tanar and other Pellucidarians, he never was able to do so.

Our forces drove the invaders far beyond the limits of The Empire to the shores of a distant sea, where, with the loss of many men, the y at last succeeded in embarking their depleted forces on ships that were as archaic in design as were their ancient harquebuses.

From some of the last prisoners he took during the fighting at the seashore, David learned that Tanar was still alive and that the chief of the invaders had determined to take him home with him in the hope that he could learn from Tanar the secrets of our superior weapons and gunpowder.

When David saw the enemy ships sailing away with Tanar he was sick with grief, for Tanar always has been an especial favorite of the Emperor and his gracious Empress, Dian the Beautiful.

We had no ships upon this sea and David could not follow with his army; neither, being David, could he abandon the son of his best friend to a savage enemy before he had exhausted every resource at his command in an effort toward rescue.

In addition to the prisoners that had fallen into his hands David had captured one of the small boats that the enemy had used in embarking his forces, and this it was that suggested to David the mad scheme upon which he embarked.

David turned toward his people. "Those departing ships have borne away Tanar, the son of Ghak, and perhaps a score more of the young men of Pellucidar. It is beyond reason to expect that the enemy ever will bring our comrade back to us, but it is easy to imagine the treatment they will receive at the hands of this savage, bloodthirsty race.

"We may not abandon them while a single avenue of pursuit remains open to us. Here is that avenue." He waved his hand across the broad ocean. "And here the means of traversing it." He pointed to the small boat.

"It would carry scarce twenty men," cried one.

"It need carry but three," replied David, "for it will sail to rescue, not by force, but by strategy; or perhaps only to locate the stronghold of the enemy, that we may return and lead a sufficient force upon it to overwhelm it."

"I shall go," concluded the Emperor. "Who will accompany me?"

Instantly every man within hearing of his voice, saving the prisoners only, pressed forward to offer his services. David smiled.

"I knew as much," he said, "but I cannot take you all. I shall need only one and that shall be Ja of Anoroc, the greatest sailor of Pellucidar."

A great shout arose, for Ja, the King of Anoroc, who is also chief officer of the navy of Pellucidar, is vastly popular throughout the Empire.

"But two is too small a number to hope for success," argued Ghak, "and I, the father of Tanar, should be permitted to accompany you."

"Numbers, such as we might crowd in that little boat, would avail us nothing," replied David, "so why risk a single additional life. If twenty could pass through the unknown dangers that lie ahead of us, two may do the same, while with fewer men we can carry a far greater supply of food and water against the unguessed extent of the great sea that we face."

"But two are too few to man the boat," expostulated another, "and Ghak is right — the father of Tanar should be among his rescuers."

"Ghak is needed by the Empire," replied David, "He must remain to command the armies for the Empress until I return, but there shall be a third who will embark with us."

"Who?" demanded Ghak.

"One of the prisoners," replied David. "For his freedom we should readily find one willing to guide us to the country of the enemy."

Nor was this difficult since every prisoner volunteered when the proposal was submitted to them. David chose a young fellow who said his name was Fitt and who seemed to possess a more open and honest countenance than any of his companions.

And then came the provisioning of the boat. Bladders were filled with fresh water, and quantities of corn and dried fish and jerked meat, as well as vegetables and fruits, were packed into other bladders, and all were stored in the boat until it seemed that she might carry no more.

As the three men were about to embark, David had a last word with Ghak.

"You have seen the size and the armament of the enemy ships, Ghak," he said. "My last injunction to you is to build at once a fleet that can cope successfully with these great ships of the enemy and while the fleet is building—and it must be built upon the shores of this sea—send expeditions forth to search for a waterway from this ocean to our own. Can you find it, all of our ships can be utilized and the building of the greater navy accelerated by utilizing the shipyards of Anoroc.

"When you have completed and manned fifty ships, set forth to our rescue. Do not destroy these prisoners, but preserve them well for they alone can guide you to their country.

And then David I, Emperor of Pellucidar, and Ja, King of Anoroc, with the prisoner, Fitt, boarded the tiny boat; friendly hands pushed them out upon the long oily swells of a Pellucidarian sea; ten thousand throats cheered them upon their way and ten thousand pairs of eyes watched them until they had melted into the mist of the upcurving, horizonless distance of a Pellucidarian seascape.

David had departed upon a vain but glorious adventure, and, in the distant capital of The Empire, Dian the Beautiful would be weeping.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

DAILY LENTEN DEVOTION

PREPARED BY THE REV CLARENCE H. WILSON, D.D. FOR THE COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM OF THE FEDERAL COUNCIL OF THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST IN AMERICA

THE FAREWELL SUPPER

"And he said unto them, with desire I Have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer." Luke 22:15. (Read Luke 22:14–20.)

Meditation

Apparently our Lord's wish to have the passover supper a farewell was in order that He might institute the ceremonial of remembrance. By simple and solemn rites the disciples and all who were to come after them, would pledge again and again their loyalty to their Lord and to one another. So they would be bound to Him and bound together until He comes.

Prayer

Almighty God unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known and from whom no secrets are hid, cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of Thy Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love Thee and worthily magnify They Holy name. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

OFFICER BEATEN THUGS ESCAPE

McMaster University Students Aid Police in Rounding Up Suspects.

THREE OF FIVE IN JAIL.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 2.—Efforts of the police to round up two men sought in connection with the attack upon Motorcycle Officer Arno have been fruitless, it was stated to-day. Three suspects are in the cells on charges of vagrancy, and it is known that there were five persons in the party seen in the stolen car.

Constable Arno was resting quietly in the General Hospital to-day, and his recovery is assured.

Deputy Chief Ernest Goodman to-day extended the thanks of the Police Department to the students of McMaster University for their valuable assistance in rounding up the three suspects during the hectic midnight search in the vicinity of the college buildings.

WILLINGDONS BID ADIEU TO LONDON

FLOWERS FILL COACH.

LONDON, April 2 (By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent)—The Earl and Countess of Willingdon received an enthusiastic send-off when they left London to-day on their way to India. The crowd at Victoria Station was an immense one and the boat train was delayed for five minutes.

The reserved saloon car was converted into a veritable bower of flowers that had been presented to Lady Willingdon. Loud cheers accompanied the departure of the train, and the last sight London had of Lord Willingdon, perhaps for some years, was his tall, slender figure in the doorway of his carriage, waving his hand at the crowd.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE SALES SHOW INCREASE FOR THE MONTH

53 P.C. INCREASE.

For the fifth consecutive month total monthly sales on the Toronto Stock Exchange have shown a decided increase. January's turnover was 448,997 shares, February's came to 653,327 shares while March topped the quarter's record with a total volume of 687,350. This was equivalent to a 53 per cent. increase on the opening month of the year.

Contributing in no small measure to the unlisted section of March sales was the predominance of the metal shares. Noranda ran a close race with International Nickel for leadership, finally nosing the latter out with a total of 113,340 shares against 110,599 shares. The market action of the two stocks in question were dissimilar. Noranda ran from a low of 17 to slightly under the 30 mark and closed the month at 24¼. The movement of Nickel was not so spectacular, much of the speculative element being taken out of the stock and the spread between the high and low points for the month was something less than 3 points. It was a matter of coincidence that both leaders should have the annual statement appearing in March.

Brazilian, heretofore a market leader, was relegated to third place. Brazilian's total of 59,950 shares was a little more than half of Nickel.

Fourth place was taken by Walkers with 27,234 shares while two oil stocks, B.A. Oil and Imperial shared fifth and sixth places. International Petroleum fell slightly beneath 20,000 shares, while Wright Hargreaves total was 19,520 shares. Ford "A" took ninth place against seventh the previous month, although Ford "A" turnover during March at 13,386 shares exceeded February's by more than 4,000 shares.

The general trend of stocks during the period under review seems to have been affected by the publication of some decidedly adverse annual reports. The market entered the month like the proverbial lion and encouragement was furnished for the first week by outstanding strength in several of the pivotal issues. However, the rapidity with which the forward movement was carried over into March mitigated somewhat against a continuation of the advance throughout the month with a consequent drop in trading volume. On each setback, the market became quiet, which is in itself regarded as auspicious.

Individual Issues Supply Most of Trading in Otherwise Dull Session.

OILS ALSO SLOW.

TORONTO, Ont., April 2 (C. P.).—The market hung practically motionless this morning. Only a few stocks appeared at the opening and as the day wore on individual issues came out intermittently but never was the list active.

Price changes were for small fractions only and indicated nothing beyond the stalemate in the market. Operators withdrew until after the Monday holiday.

Noranda was one point of interest, rising the major portion of a point this morning. International Nickel was firm. Such pivotal stocks as C.P.R., Ford of Canada, Walkers, were unchanged. Brazilian was firm and up slightly.

Oils were slow to put in an appearance and, for the most part, sold unchanged from last night.

Atlantic Sugar lost a point to 30, Gypsum was down to its record low of 9 and Service Stations reacted 1 to 25.

Firmer Prices Shown Montreal Exchange

MONTREAL, Que., April 2 (C.P.).—Security prices on the Montreal stock exchange showed a firmer tone at noon today, though changes remained fractional and without much significance.

Brazilian dropped ¼, selling off to 22 at noon, Canadian Pacific Railway shares eased off ¼ to sell at 40. Nickel recovered 1-8 at 17 5-8. Consolidated Mining and Smelting stocks, after dropping a point in early trading, recovered and moved up two points to 155, showing a net gain of 1 point over yesterday's close. Montreal Power held an early gain of ½ at 62½. McColl Frontenac gained 1-8 at 17 1-8.

European Export News Sends Chicago Lower

CHICAGO, Ill., Apr. 2 (CP).—Reports of increased vessel chartering in southern Russian ports saw grain prices average lower early to-day, with oats outdoing the season's low price record. Buying, however, for previous sellers who wished to even up accounts in preparation for a holiday to-morrow served to steady the market somewhat. Opening 3-8 cents off to 1-4 up, wheat afterward kept near to the initial range. Corn started at 1-2 decline to 1-4 advance, and subsequently sagged further.

TAXICAB HITS MAN—INJURIES FATAL.

TORONTO, Ont., April 2.— Denis Savage, 50, died to-day at the Toronto General Hospital from injuries received when he was struck by a taxicab while attempting to cross University avenue last night.

Kiwanis To Erect Large Welcome Sign

Announcement was made by J. A. Stewart at the Kiwanis weekly luncheon that the Kiwanians intend to erect a large illuminated sign of "Welcome" on the Port Hope Highway at the western entrance to the city, this Spring. The contract has been awarded to J. J. Turner and Sons, who have the work in hand, while the opportunity will be afforded to six members of the Kiwanis Club to reserve advertising space.

MOSS GOLD SHARES LISTED N.Y. CURB

Application for listing of the shares of Moss Gold Mines, Limited, on the New York Curb Exchange has been accepted by the listing committee, and the shares are being called for trading this morning (April 2).

They are already listed on the Montreal Curb Market and the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, Toronto, where they have commanded an active and strong market for some weeks. This latest listing provides the shares with a market in New York in addition to the two principal financial centers of the Dominion. There are 4,000,000 shares of $1 par value authorized and outstanding.

A start has been made on the delivery of machinery in connection with the construction of a 100-ton mill at the company's property, made possible by the recent financing whereby the company was able to show cash assets in excess of $400,000 in its annual report as at March 23, 1931.

The mill construction is proceeding concurrently with the further development of the property both laterally and to greater depth.

Mining Corporation Nets $326 For the Past Year

TORONTO, April 2.—Declining prices for silver called for a complete change in production methods by Mining Corporation of Canada, Ltd., so that the company could obtain even moderate profits, it is revealed in the annual report for the year ended December 31. With a good market for Cobalt, however, the company produced almost 20 per cent of the world's requirements of this metal.

In his statement to shareholders, J. P. Watson, president, points out that the lower market value of Mining Corporation's holding have been met by heavy write-offs which might justifiably have been spread over a period of years. He further shows that the item mining rights, which in 1929 stood at $3,650,000, representing properties in Cobalt and South Lorrain now slowly coming to an end, has been written off entirely, although these properties are still operating ajt a profit.

These drastic write-offs, which total slightly more than $6,000,000, are reflected in the 1930 balance sheet and profit and loss account, but leave the corporation in a position to receive immediate benefit from the establishment of profitable operations at Hudson Bay Mining & Smelting Co., Base Metals Mining Corporation and other companies in which it holds important interests.

Evidence of the progress being made at the new building of the Y.M.C.A. is supplied in the fact that the large new swimming tank is now filled with water. It is reported that Jack Gillespie of Chrysler fame was second to enter the tank. He having been beaten by a certain local Irishman. The fact that the speedy Jack was second is vouched for by R. Grant, Geo. Macdonald, G. H. Roper, Chas. Cumming, Max Rishor and Chas Cummer.

United Gas Improves Earns 1.54 Per Share

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—Earnings of United Gas Improvement Company and subsidiaries for 1930 applicable to common stock amounted to $35,861,882, or $1.54 a share, compared with $1.46 a share in 1929, the annual report to-day showed.

Total income was $36,178,286, an increase of $2,987,585 over 1929, while net income of $32,810,744 was $4,535,634, or 16 per cent over 1929. Operating revenues of the company and subsidiaries totalled $108,374,496, compared with $105,355,269 for 1929, while operating expenses during 1930 were cut by $1,183,957.

Total assets of the company and subsidiaries at the end of 1930 amounted to $826,878,471, and surplus applicable to United Gas Improvement was $113,970,182. Total assets of United States Gas Improvement alone amounted to $394,460,809.

Marked Progress Made Automobile Industry

NEW YORK, N. Y., Apr. 2.—(CP)—The automobile industry in the United States and Canada made marked progress along the road to recovery in March, estimates indicated today.

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce placed output for its members at 187,848 cars, a gain of 26 per cent over February, or substantially larger than the normal seasonal gain. This does not include the Ford Motor Company output of which is estimated in trade circles around 100,000, bringing total March output into the neighborhood of 290,000 cars, or roughly 100,000 less than in the like month of 1930.

The Chevrolet Motor Company's output for March is estimated at about 80,000 units, falling behind Ford Motor Company for the first time this year.

Output for the entire industry in the United States and Canada for April is expected to show a substantial gain over March, on the basis of schedules announced, although it is now expected in trade circles that the total may come closer to 300,000 units than 400,000.

Wrigley To Extend Charter Wheat Plan

Intends to Buy Another 1,000,000 Bushels in Canadian West.

TORONTO, April 2.—Due to the increased business resulting from the original wheat venture and the more optimistic atmosphere that this has created in towns and cities throughout the Prairie Provinces, the Wm. Wrigley Jr., Co., Ltd., has practically decided to extend for the balance of the year its policy of purchasing Canadian wheat with all of the money derived from the sale of gum products and other merchandise in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

That was the answer of J. Allan Ross, president of the company, when questioned yesterday as to the results of the Wrigley Wheat Investment Fund, inaugurated on December 12, 1930, and which was due to expire on May 1, next.

The original plan of the fund was to purchase up to 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat during the period from December 12, 1930, to May 1, 1931, at or below the price of 65c a bushel (basis No. 1 Northern in store at western terminals). The extended plan to cover the full calender year still retains the maximum price of 65c per bushel that may be paid by the banking trustees operating the fund. It is estimated, said Mr. Ross, that an additional 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat will be accumulated under the plan, bringing the company's total holdings to 2,000,000 bushels.

It is understood that a very large portion of wheat the company originally agreed to buy has already been acquired and that the full amount of 1,000,000 bushels will be shown on its books by May 1.

NEW YORK LIST CONTINUES DROP

UTILITIES HARD HIT.

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 2 (C.P.).—The decline in share prices gained momentum in today's stock market, rounding out a fortnight of almost steady backsliding.

Some observers had expected the closing out of short contracts in advance of the Good Friday market holiday tomorrow to give the list a temporary upturn. A rally did get under wau in the morning, but was soon lost in a wave of selling. Since two weeks ago next Saturday, the market, as measured by the price index of 90 shares, has had only two slight upturns, and the latest one was almost negligible.

Utilities and chemicals were hard hit. International Telephone dropped more than 2 points, one block of 7,500 shares trading on the way down. United Corp. lost about a point, with one block of 12,000 appearing. Consolidated Gas, North American, Electric Power and Light, Pacific Lighting, and American Water Works lost 2 or more. Allied Chemical dropped 5 and Air Reduction more than 2 to new lows. U. S. Steel sold off more than a point, but was strongly supported at its 1931 low, which is about 3 points above the minimum of last December.

MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, Ont., April 2 (Special to Examiner.)—Changes made in the balance sheet of Mining Corporation of Canada clearly indicate that the company's decks are being cleared for its future operations as a holding and development organization. Mining rights in Cobalt and South Lorrain have been down to or below the market and it is proposed that these actions be offset by changing the stock from $5 par to no par. It is to be noted that the Ashley Gold Mining Corporation properties in Bannockburn township do not appear in the balance sheet. It is interesting therefore to estimate the value placed on this new acquisition by the street. Analysis of the balance sheet, as at December 23, 1930, indicates a book value behind the shares, exclusive of optioned properties and shares in exploration companies and buildings and equipment at Cobalt and South Lorrain of approximately $1 per share. At the current market price of $2.50 for Mining Corporation shares a value of about $1.50 a share or in the neighborhood of $2,500,000 is indicated for the other interest of the company.

According to advices from Elk Lake, Hollinger Gold Mines has tied up a block of ground to the west of the four corners of the Argyle, Bannockburn and Hinks township in the Matachewan district. The claims are said to adjoin on the west the Beauding claims taken over by the McDonough interests. There is considerable activity on the Ashley Garvey property of Mining Corporation it is reported, plant, boilers and equipment for sinking to 500, feet now being under test. About 400 tons of equipment has reached the property and more is being shipped in steadily.

A drill from the Mining Corporation's property is being shipped to the Arno Hurd group, it is stated and drilling should be under way shortly. A test pit put down on these claims is said to have given a $10 gold assay.

Little reference is made in the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting report to the improvement in gold values actually recovered over those originally expected. This apparently has been a more recent development and from reliable sources it is learned that gold recoveries have been over double those anticipated from preliminary work. The blister copper shipped to the refinery is said to contain up to $167 per ton of gold, a factor that has gone a long way towards helping the company to show a promising profit even in the first stages of operation.

May twenty-sixth has been definitely set as the day for the annual meeting of Dome Mines shareholders, postponed until the return of H. P. Depencier, vice-president and general manager from Africa. Officials are not prepared to discuss the purpose of Mr. Depencier's visit to the dark continent, but it is rumored he is looking over a gold concession for the company.

WESTERN FARMERS OPTIMISTIC REGARDING YEAR'S PROSPECTS

RODEO WILL NOT BE HERE.

In spite of economic adversity, western farmers are optimistic and confident of an early return of prosperity, George Hamilton, business agent for Welsh Brothers of Rush Lake, Saskatchewan, whose rodeo was the outstanding attraction of the Peterborough Exhibition last September told The Examiner to-day.

Mr. Hamilton hoped to book the rodeo again for this year's exhibition, but the directors had already decided not to re-engage the westerners so soon after their appearance here in 1930. Welsh Brothers have been working all winter on their rodeo, enlarging and improving it, increasing their equipment, and especially their stock. Mr. Hamilton said that they are coming in to London, Toronto and Windsor this year. Their experience in Peterborough when two of their men were painfully burned in the chuck wagon race, a feature of one of their evening programs, taught them a lesson of the danger of using gasoline to make torches of waggons. Recently they have arranged with the Hand Company, manufacturers of fireworks, for a substitute which will eliminate the menace of gasoline. They will also use other pyrotechnical effects in their night performances.

"We certainly would like to come back to Peterborough" said Mr. Hamilton. "We made a lot of good friends here, and every member of our outfit last year has a pleasant memory of this city. However, the Fair Board has decided otherwise, but they have no idea of the big improvements we have made for this year. It is a new rodeo on a bigger scale than ever."

Mr. Hamilton confirmed the reports of the pitifully low prices which western farmers have been receiving for their produce. However, they are expecting that conditions will begin to recover in the near future. Mr. Hamilton is an admirer of Premier Bennett, and believes that the policies of the new administration will realize the promises and faith which the Prime Minister has held before the Canadian people.

Quebec Paper Loss Less Than For 1929

MONTREAL, April 2.—For the year ended December 31, the financial statement of the Quebec Pulp & Paper Corporation shows a loss before providing for depreciation amounting to $264,006 This contrasts with a loss in the preceding year, also before provision for depreciation, of $309,082. This is the third report to be issued by this company, and there is shown a total operating deficit for the three-year period of $943,664.

The balance sheet reveals total assets at $10,651,827, as compared with $11,388,961 at the end of 1929. Fixed assets at $9,625,588 compare with $10,275,615 at the end of the preceding year. Investments show an increase from $311,466 to $729,932, while inventories are cut from $267,032 to $135,454 at the end of 1930.

Fair Profits Shown By Hamilton Bridge

MONTREAL, April 2.—The annual financial statement of the Hamilton Bridge Company for the fiscal year ended December 31, shows a reduction in earnings in keeping with the falling-off in construction activities throughout Canada. The year was progressive in other respects. Additions totalling $326,623, were made to the company's Toronto plant, which will be operated as soon as conditions justify. The final $100,000 of second preferred stock was cancelled; investments in bonds, etc., increased by over $100,000, while a good liquid position was maintained, with current assets exceeding current liabilities in a ratio over 5 to 1.

Profits for the year, after provision for depreciation and income tax, were $303,340, against $553,273 in the preceding year. Deduction of preferred dividends at $146,250 left a balance of $157,090 applicable to the common stock, which was $7,090 in excess of requirements. Previous surplus was brought forward at $598,129, making a profit and loss balance of $605,219 to be carried forward.

In its working capital position a slight reduction is shown, but this remains at the high figure of $1,364,877. On the balance sheet plant account is up over $200,000 at $3,488,442; inventories are down about $100,000, while cash in hand is nearly doubled at $200,758. Accounts payable are down from $532,958 to $274,814.

Discuss Financing New Wing Of Hospital

A discussion of ways and means of raising money for their projected gift of a wing to the proposed [illegible] building at Nicholls Hospital, took place last evening at the regular meeting of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E., held at the home of Mrs. R. C. Cummings, O'Carroll Avenue.

The Rev. Arthur Pickering, of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, in Toronto, was present and spoke of the work done by that institution. The Chapter decided to co-operate in any way possible, should a tag day be arranged for this fund.

Arrangements were discussed for the big birthday bridge of the Chapter at the Empress Hotel on April 17. Miss Daisy Davidson was appointed convenor of the Refreshment Committee.

About twenty-five of the members will usher for the Y.W.C.A. Pageant at the Grand Opera House in May.

GOLDS SUPPLY MINING TRADE

General List Shows Few and Minor Price Changes—Wright-Hargreaves Active.

KIRKLAND LAKE DECLINES.

TORONTO, Apr. 2 (CP). — Golds again supplied most of the action on the mining market in the forenoon today, with balance of the list showing comparatively few and minor price changes.

Eldorado featured the opening, rising to $1.24 on the strength of the Ottawa announcement regarding the company's holdings at Great Bear Lake. Selling sent the price back to $1.10 but it later rallied to stand up 8 at $1.17 at midday. In the higher-priced golds Wright-Hargreaves was active and 6 higher at $2.74, Hollinger advanced 10 to $8.50, but McIntyre was off a half to $24, Lake Shore a quarter to $27.75 and Teck Hughes 15 to $8.15.

In the lower-priced golds profit-taking appeared in Kirkland Lake gold with the price down 3 to 88 at noon. Columario advanced another 3 to 37 and Macassa and Big Missouri were up a couple apiece to 44½ and 48. Ritchie was a soft spot in the pennies, dropping 2½ cents under liquidation. Dominion Explorers sold up a like amount in renewed demand.

Base metals, including Noranda and Nickel, were unchanged when taken, though the former issue displayed early strength. Homestead continued its decline in the oils, price falling another 15 to $1.10. Peninsular Pete and Olga were up a cent each.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Apr. 2 (CP).—Prime mercantile paper 2 1-4 to 2 1-2 per cent.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 2.—Butter made still higher levels on the local market yesterday. No. 1 creamery solids moving at 32c to 32½c, and No. 2, at 31c to 31½c, or ½c better than on Tuesday and 1c up for the week. The demand was good and receipts were not pressing, and along with these favorable factors was the report of 14,000 boxes moved from storage during the month of March, leaving only 23,862 boxes on hand. The Australian butter that was due to arrive was reported as being sold previously and news of that kind never hurts the market.

Cheese

Cheese was selling at lower prices, touching new levels for the week. Brokers were quoting new large at 14c, twins at 14¼c and triplets at 14½c. This was a decrease of ¼c from Tuesday's high point or ½c to ¾c for the week. Retailers were offered supplies at steady prices of 15½c for new large, 15¾c for twins and 16c for triplets.

Eggs

Egg receipts were heavy, but clearing well at steady prices. Country shippers were offered 20c for extras, 18c for firsts, and 16c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were quoted 27c for extras in cartons, 25c for extras loose, 23c for firsts loose and 20c for seconds loose. Brokers offered graded eggs, in free cases, at 23c for extras, 21c for firsts and 18c to 18½c for seconds.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, April 2.—Potato, egg and butter prices advanced, while cheese quotations were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes, in carlots, gained 5c to 7½c, being quoted at 90c to 92½c for 80-pound bag. To retailers, prices were unchanged at $1 per 80-pound bag.

The only change on the egg market was the price of fresh seconds to retailers, up 1c to 22c a dozen. Ontario and Prairie fresh extras, in carlots, were quoted at 24c to 24½c, firsts at 22c and 22½c, and seconds at 18c a dozen. Fresh British Columbia extras in carlots, were quoted at 25c, firsts at 23c, pullets at 22c, and seconds at 20c a dozen. Receipts were 3,568 cases.

Prices of solids and printe to retailers advanced 1c a pound on the butter market, being quoted at 34c and 35c a pound, respectively. Regraded Eastern Townships and fresh Western No. 1 butter was quoted unchanged at 32½c to 32½c a pound. Receipts were 210 boxes.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., April 2. —(C.P.).—Hogs, 3,500; unevenly 10-25 under Tuesday's close and 25-35 below opening; active at decline; bulk desirable 120-210 lbs. 8.35-8.40; plainer kinds 8.25; 230-260 lbs. 7.75-8.15; few 370 lb. butchers 7.25.

Sheep 200; lambs strong to 15 higher; quality plain; medium to choice shorn lambs 8.50-9.00; medium woolskins 8.25-8.50; choice quoted 9.75; few 40 lb. spring lambs 15.00.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 2.—Narrow in range, but bolstered with favorable foreign advices and fair export business the wheat pit got away to a firm start at the opening. Support in the final hour waned, however, and prices eased fractionally from the high points to record losses of ½c to ⅝c for the session.

May closed at 57⅛c, down ½c; July at 58¼c, was ⅞c lower; while October closed at 60⅝c, down ⅞c.

Fair buying following the even opening, constituted the main support to the market. This came principally from seaboard houses. Some profit-taking by Tuesday's buyers also was in evidence.

Cash wheat was in fair demand, at improved prices. Coarse grains met an improved demand, more than 600,000 bushels of barley being contracted for.

ARCHIVIST MAKES STRANGE DISCOVERY

While Tracing Caps in Genealogy of Race He Finds Lost Links in Family History.

MONTREAL, April 2 —(CP)— By means of the recent work he has published tracing movements of some 15,000 voyageurs who left Montreal for the fur country and Mississippi between 1670 and 1760, E. Z. Massicotte, Court House archivist, has been able to fix the fate of two of his own ancestors who dropped from sight early in the 18th century. They contracted for voyages to Missillimakinac (Michillimackinac, now Mackinac Island,) Michigan, and died on those voyages.

Here are the entries in Mr. Massicotte's book which gave the clues completing the family genealogy on this side of the Atlantic:

"Contract of Joseph Massicot with M. de Croisil and other to make the voyage to Missillimakinac— May 27, 1731.

"Contract of Jacques Massicot with M. de Croisil and others to make the voyage to Missillimakinac—May 27, 1731."

Joseph Massicot had already made the trip to Detroit in 1730, but this was the first voyage of the two brothers together. A third Massicot appears in the voyageur list; he is Jean, who went to Missillimakinac in 1730, and in 1736 went to Port Ponchartrain du Detroit. He returned to Quebec, however, and Mr. Massicottee is one of his direct descendants.

All three brothers were of the first Canadian generation of the Massicot family, being sons of the first Massicot, who came from the Charente district, in France, and landed in Champlain county in 1692.

The spelling of the family name changed around 1853, Mr. Massicotte said. It should be "Massicot," as set forth in the voyageurs contracts, but one branch that came to Montreal succumbed to the variation partly through the actions of a Champlain county schoolmaster of English-speaking descent though bilingual, and partly through contracts made by Mr. Massicotte's father with a Scots family named Anderson for whom he worked in Toronto in his youth.

Greek Government Purchases British Planes

A flight of British-built Fairey III F. Napier aircraft have been made for the Greek Government. The machines have been built in such a manner that they are capable of a variety of military and naval uses, including day bombing, fleet patrol, army co-operation and photography. Each machine is fitted with alternative undercarriages, wheels and floats, so that a machine can be rapidly changed from a land to a water craft. The picture above shows Capt. Pherceas, Greek Naval Attache (bowler hat), receiving the flight of machines.

CONTRACTS ARE LET FIREMEN'S CLOTHES

Louie Green Secures Order For Unforms at Price of $643.20 —Grafton's Supply Shirts.

Trousers which are getting dangerously thin will soon be cast aside by the local firemen and no longer will the fire fighters have to show caution in bending.

This merely means that the Fire, Water and Light committee in session last night ordered 44 new pairs of nether garments for the Fire Department, along with 21 light uniform coats, five winter coats and 46 shirts.

Louie Green secured the order for the uniforms at a total price of $643.20 and Grafton's will supply the shirts for $126.40. Others tendered on the uniform prices totalling as follows: Tip Top, $657.25; Grafton's, $722.05 and Riley and Hickey $776. The cloth will be secured from the Dominion Woollens and Worsted Limited of this city.

The committee delayed the coal order until Chairman Cotton learns the price of cheaper grades from local merchants. With the blower recently installed in the Fire Hall it was deemed that lower grade coal could be used than that asked for in the tenders.

INDIANS PLAYING BIG PART

MEXICO, April 2. (CP)—Fourteen million of Mexico's 16 500,000 inhabitants are either full blooded Indians or part Indians, according to education department figures.

The 1930 census showed 5,500,000 full blooded Indians and 8,500,000 persons of part Indian blood. The Indians live mostly in the country and devote their efforts to agriculture.

Cleveland Resident Nearing 102nd Mark

Miss Elizabeth McCarthy Born and Raised on Banks of Ottawa River.

KINGSTON, April 2.—(Special to The Examiner).—Miss Elizabeth McCarthy, a delicate little lady in gray, lives in Cleveland, and next September will have reached her 102nd birthday. She was born as the first white baby at Fitzroy Harbour on the Ottawa River. Her family and another were the only two white families among all the Indians. Ottawa was at that time so rocky that gossip said the rush would go to Fitzroy Harbour. Men sold at Ottawa and bought at the Harbour but ultimately Ottawa won out. A few months after her birth, the family moved to Carleton Place. There were no roads, just thick forest, and flowing by was the little Mississippi River. They chose the natural road, bought a birch bark canoe and sailed the babe down the water. She attended school in a little log cabin at Carleton Place. Children sat in stiff little rows on wooden benches and "spoke when they were spoken to," by a man teacher in a long black coat. "We learned definition and long poems," she says and she tripped right off into a long poem about an Egyptian mummy that she learned about ninety years ago, and still remembers.

She trotted to school all dressed up in a "Flying Squirrel." That was a marvellous collar concotion that frilled out at the side over a woollen dress. And when she grew old she had a very familiar quarrel. "Auntie said I couldn't dance, but father was a good one, so I slid out the back window. Looking back a hundred years seems so short, and its been so sweet. I want all of life that I can have. If I could choose I'd rather be a school girl again than anything else," Miss McCarthy says.

THIS IS WHAT HAPPENS WHEN TRUCKS DON'T OBEY THE LAW!

Official WARNING

The Law Says:

ONTARIO

The Highway Traffic Act declares that during March and April on roads, both paved and unpaved, outside cities and towns:
Solid tired trucks and trailers shall be limited to half a load.
Pneumatic tired trucks and trailers with a carrying capacity of three tons and not more than six tons, shall be limited to a three ton load.
Pneumatic tired trucks and trailers with a carrying capacity exceeding six tons, shall be limited to half a load.
Horse drawn vehicles with a carrying capacity exceeding one ton, shall be limited to 250 lbs. per inch in width of tire.

Heavy Penalties:

The penalty for overloading during March and April is a fine, imprisonment or both. Licenses also may be suspended. Highway Traffic Officers have been directed to be especially vigilant in apprehending all who disobey.

Caution:

Speed limits all the year round are 15 miles an hour for solid tired vehicles and 20 miles an hour for pneumatic tired vehicles of more than 8 tons gross.

Ontario's Millions Invested in Good Roads Must be Protected. We ask the co-operation of every truck owner and driver.

Peiping City Falls Upon "Hard Times"

SHANGHAI, China, April 2 (By the Canadian Press.)—Pekin, the old Imperial Capital, now called Peiping, lies restive under the gloom of depression. Accustomed to its old glories, the ancient city has fallen upon hard times since the removal of the National Government capital to Nanking. Even the Provincial Government of Hopei has transferred its activities from Peiping to Tsientsin.

Many people in the south of China have failed to realize the financial losses suffered by the inhabitants of the North since the Capital of Nationalist China was moved to Nanking, three years ago. Shanghai on the other hand owes much of its recent prosperity to its proximity to Nanking.

In Peiping, industry and trade have failed to prosper; various commercial undertakings have experienced serious depression which, if not remedied soon, will deeply affect the social welfare of the whole north of China. So the problem of restoring the former prosperity of Peiping is a serious one.

Peiping is one of the greatest historic cities of the Orient, with such attractoins as the Imperial Palace of the Chinese Empire, and one of the proposals on foot would make it a great centre for tourists. It is also suggested Peiping could be made an educational and cultural centre; the centre of handicraft industries, and the aeroplane base of China.

OLD-TIMER LONGING FOR LEMO WHIMSES

LONDON, April 2.—(By the Canadian Press)—St. John Irvine, dramatic author and critic, in The Observer, expresses a longing for the old days of Dan Leno and Marie Lloyd, and says he is sick of jazz and jazzers. He says almost at regular intervals a rumor runs around the town that the old-fashioned music hall is to be revived and the variety artists are to be brought back to the stage, and, confessing himself "old-fashioned," he feels the cockles of his heart warming at such times, but he is always disappointed.

"I am sick with a great sickness, sick of jazz and jazzers and of sleek young men, with fishy eyes, who come out and sing a lil' song entitled, "Sh 's Ma' Sweete But n Hadden Got No Money So She Didden Wanna Play With Mee-e," St. John Irvine says. "If I hear another over-brilliantined, under-aired young man announcing in tones of tin that he wants to go, h wants to go he wants to go back to the shack where pop-eyed Susans grow. I shall say 'For God's sake go, and don't trouble to return.' I would sacrifice the whole herd of jazzers for 20 minutes of Dan Leno; I would give all the rag-timers in the world for a chance to hear Marie Lloyd again; and if I must listen to songs about Dixie and Alabama, I would prefer to hear them from Eugene Stratton than from the moaners and bleaters who now hold the stage."

URUGUAYANS KNOW LOT ABOUT CANADA

But Depression Makes Immediate Trade Prospects Unfavorable.

MONTE VIDEO, Uruguay, April 2 (By Claude Melancon, Canadian Press Correspondent). — "O Canada" and "Vive la Canadienne," beautifully played in a strange land at the end of a 7,000-mile journey, by the City's Municipal Band, created an impression not easily forgotten by the members of the Canadian Trade and Goodwill Mission. The smart organizers of the Monte Video Chamber of Commerce knew this apparently, for they went to a great deal of trouble to procure the music, a gesture entitling them to the party's gratitude.

But their hosts did more, for in a few hours they succeeded in convincing the Canadians that, not only was Monte Video one of the nicest cities in the world, but Uruguay as a whole was one of Canadas best friends. After meeting the new president of the Republic, Dr. Gabriel Terra, a man of great distinction and culture, and talking with the Monte Videons who accompanied them during an extensive tour of the city of 20 beaches and ultra modern architecture, the representatives of Canada were surprised to discover so many Uruguayans fully conversant with all the Canadian questions. Politic, finance, trade, social life — nothing apparently has escaped them. They talked of Canada as if they had been living there for many years, although most of them never set foot on Canadian soil.

This fact, besides making the visit a most pleasant one, would seem to indicate the possibility of easy trade relations. Unfortunately there are still a few obstacles to be removed before full advantage is taken of a very propitious situation.

ROADS A DISGRACE.

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Mr. Editor: In the beginning I might state that I am a travelling salesman. My duties often make it necessary for me to travel the country roads and in the spring I use a horse and buggy, which is the only mode of travel at all this time of the year.

A few days ago I happened to be out about nine miles north of Peterborough when I reached a portion of the road near the lakefront that was positively disgusting. No effort had been made to make this road passable: the first part was deep snow and the second sticky mud. My horse was laboring under the strain so much that the only merciful thing to do was to get out and walk beside it.

Such roads as these are a disgrace to the community. If it is not possible to put them in better condition, I voice the sentiments of a good many more, which is, that they should be closed. Hoping you will find this worthy of printing. Yours very truly,

A Traveller.

HURRAH FOR FERGUSON.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir: Mr. Ferguson has invited the wheat-producing countries of the world to meet in Canada next year, and, in spite of Mr. Bennett's refusal to have anything whatever to do with Russia, Mr. Ferguson has invited Russia, who has accepted with the stipulation that "orderly marketing" shall not mean high prices of bread to the poor.

We were in danger of falling into childishness over our politics in this country but Foster backs up Ferguson and Ferguson gets us out of the mud. I told you Ferguson was a statesman.

PEASANTS' BREAD FINDS NEW FAVOR

Great Export Trade Developed in Hard Rye Bread Made in Sweden.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 2 (By The Canadian Press)—Hard rye bread, called "Knaeckebroed," for more than a century one of the many specialities of Sweden's peasant homes, has now won an international market.

In the old days bread-making was a laborious procedure in the Swedish country homes. The huge baking ovens had to be heated by woodfires, and the housewife sometimes kept on for a whole week making bread to last the household for at least three months. The thin, hard rye bread, which kept its crispness and flavor for a long time then became the most popular kind of bread. The carefully mixed and spiced dough was flattened out into thin sheets, perforated with a steel-wire roller, baked in a very hot oven into round cakes with holes in the centre and afterwards hung up on poles in the ceiling of the cottage.

To-day the same bread is made by the ton by electrical machinery, baked in specially constructed revolving ovens and shipped in great quantities to different parts of the world, where it has won great favor on account of its taste and healthgiving qualities. No fewer than 60 Swedish bakeries are making this hard rye bread, the largest of which turns out about 6,000 tons a year. At present the export amounts to 2,500 to 3,000 tons a year with a value of nearly $1,000,000.

BOYS' WORK BOARD PLANNING BIG WEEK

Special Visits Will be Paid to Many of the Factories in the City.

The Peterborough Boys' Work Board are promoting a Boys' Week from April 6 to 12 (inclusive), during which time visits will be made to local factories. This is open to any organized boys' groups, and those who wish to take advantage of the trips must get in touch with the Y.M.C.A. before Saturday noon of this week. The Boys' Week will provide something of an educational nature during the Easter holidays.

Th program for the visits to local plants has been drawn up as follows: Monday, 2.30 p.m., Canadian Nashua Paper Company; 7.30 p.m. Stock's Bread Limited; Tuesday, 10 a.m. Bell Telephone Exchange; 2.30 p.m. Western Clock Company; Wednesday, 10 a.m. Quaker Oats Company; 2.30 p.m. Canadian General Electric Company.

The feature of the week will be the Hobby Show to be held in the Y.M.C.A. The judging of the entries will be done Thursday evening and Friday until 7.30 p.m. when the show will open to the public. Percy Atkinson's orchestra will be playing in the lobbyway. Exhibits will include model airplanes, manual training work, mechanical drawings, mechanical models, art, photography, scoutcraft and campcraft, soap sculptures, collections (stamps, coins and miscellaneous). There will also be checker, chess and ping pong tournaments, the entries for which must be in by Thursday of next week. Albert Hope, manual training instructor in the local schools, has promised a wood-working exhibit as a feature display.

There will be a dog show commencing at 9.30 Saturday morning, April 11. The Boys' Work Board has stipulated that the dogs must be on leash and in state of calm. The first prize will consist of 5 pounds of dog biscuit.

The week will be concluded Sunday evening with special services in many of the city churches. It is thought that such services will be held in Murray Street Baptist, George Street United, Knox United, All Saints' Anglican and Park Street Baptist Churches, although nothing definite has been decided as yet.

One Million Ford Cars

have been made in Canada

The Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, was organized in 1904. The business was started in a small frame building, with a force of seventeen men. The first year's production was only 117 cars.

Because of the value built into its products for the past twenty-seven years, the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has become one of the largest industrial organizations in the Dominion. In March of this year the millionth Ford made in Canada came off the assembly line and was delivered to a Ford owner.

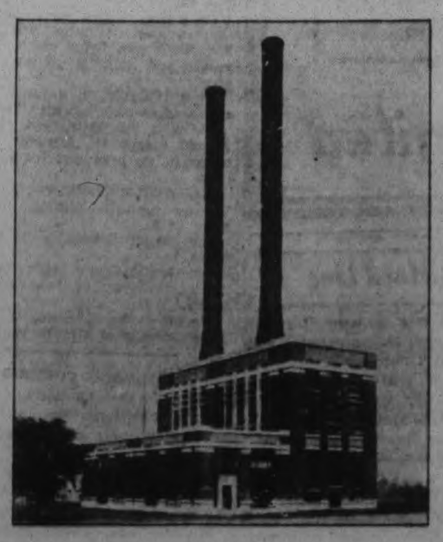
This achievement is of particular importance to the people of this country because the Canadian Ford car is made almost entirely of Canadian materials and by Canadian workmen.

During the past ten years the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has paid out in Canada more than $95,000,000 in wages and more than $201,000,000 for materials and services. In 1929 and 1930 alone the company's payroll exceeded $22,000,000. In addition, employment was furnished to thousands of other workmen through the expenditure of $40,000,000 for Canadian materials and services. To the end of 1929 more than 72% of the total earnings of the company had been reinvested in the business.

Throughout the years, the policy of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has been to provide greater and greater value at lower cost to the public. Every purchaser shares the benefit of the Ford low-profit policy and the economy and efficiency of its manufacturing methods.

The final assembly line of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, at East Windsor

The new Ford is made with unusual care. The connecting-rods are not permitted to vary more than four one-thousandths of an inch in length. Every crankshaft is statically and dynamically balanced, with a minimum of 174 checks for accuracy. Wrist-pin holes in the pistons are diamond bored and held true in diameter to a limit of two ten-thousandths of an inch. Ford valve stems are held exact in diameter to within one one-thousandth of an inch along their entire length. From the seat to the mushroom end there is never a variation of more than two one-thousandths of an inch.



The Ford Power House at East Windsor, Ontario. The two giant turbo-generators generate 15,000 kilowatts

As the company has grown in size, its position of leadership has become more and more evident. Today, the Ford leads every other automobile in Canada by a large and increasing margin. In many sections between 50% and 70% of all cars sold are Model A Fords.

People everywhere—in city, town and country—are purchasing the Ford because they know it is a value far above the price. Long continuous service emphasizes the value of its simplicity of design and the substantial worth that has been built into it.

RESCUES RELIEVE GRIM PAGES OF SEAL IN DUSTRY RECORDS

INDUSTRY PROSECUTED

BONAVISTA, Nfld., April 2 (By the Canadian Press)—Since the loss of the Viking added more than a score of Newfoundland's seal-hunters to the toll of almost six hundred men who have lost their lives in major disasters to the fleet, fyles have been resurrected and records searched to bring to light stories comparing with the tragedy of Horse Island. But there are numerous instances of thrilling rescues to brighten the grim record.

Thirty-five or forty years ago it was customary for townspeople here to repair to White Rock, an elevation of 200 feet, and watch the sealing fleet from St. John's pass north on March 10. Then also, men of the town who had not been fortunate enough to secure a berth to the ice donned their sea-boots and prepared to prosecute the industry from their own homes on the packed ice of the harbor. Here were enacted in miniature the successes and failures, disasters and escapes characterizing the fleet's activities in the north.

"Uncle Larry" Keel, when a lad of twelve years or so, accompanied his grandfather out on the ice one morning; the wind blew off-shore and the ice broke into pans. In late afternoon the grandfather knew his strength was gone and that no hope remained of their reaching shore together. He persuaded the boy to leave him and try to reach a vessel that could be seen several miles off. This the lad did, succeeded in reaching the vessel shortly before nightfall, and as it was impossible to set him ashore that night, it was decided to take him to the ice-fields. That was in March, and the vessel did not make her home port of Harbor Grace until May. One bright afternoon in that month young Larry arrived safe at home, having profited both physically and financially from the venture.

An experience of the same sort, though less spectacular occurred thirty years ago when a man left his home at two o'clock in the morning to go "off on ice." During the day he became separated from his companions and was given up for dead that night. Searching parties found no trace. Blinds were drawn in the home of the relatives. Nearly a week had elapsed when tidings came that the man had reached Litter Dernier Lighthouse after forty-eight hours on the ice, and was on his way home.

It was customary years ago when the ice came in for the women and girls to prepare kettles of hot tea and "figgy buns" and go out to meet the men-folk on the ice. After this refreshment they were ready to look for another turn o' pelts.

When the sealing fleet passed north this year the only recognition of the event in Bonavista was a signal on the fog-horn as they passed the cape. The bay was as clear of ice as in the month of August. The old customs have fallen into diuse.

Fox Plays Tag In London Streets

LONDON, Ont., April 1.—Residents in a down-town area reported police to-day, that a red fox has been seen roaming around the neighborhood, playing April first pranks, perhaps. The report was taken seriously when Inspector Tustin, of the Humane Society, met up with the animal but it escaped capture and is still at large.

The time has come when the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce must appeal to the citizens for a more generous support if it is to continue to give the best service possible.

You can't expect QUAKER QUALITY in ordinary oats!

Only Quaker Oats can give you the incomparable Quaker Flavour and Rich Nutrition

QUAKER OATS are superior to other oats, because only firm, plump, sun-ripened grain is used, milled by the exclusive Quaker process, rolled to a succulent, flaky tenderness . . . roasted to bring out the fresh, nut-like flavour which distinguishes Quaker Oats above all others.

Seventy per cent. of the day's entire work is done between breakfast and noon. This drain on energy requires a sustaining hot breakfast. That is why authorities universally recommend Quaker Oats!

Quaker Oats contain 16% protein, for growth . . .65% carbohydrates, for energy . . . an abundance of health-giving minerals and vitamins.

Because pre-roasted, Quick Quaker is ready in 2½ minutes after the water boils. Costs only one cent a meal.

FIRST HOLIDAY A POPULAR ONE

Easter Season Enjoyed by Workers as First Holiday of Year in England.

DIFFERENT CUSTOMS

LONDON, April 2. (By Thos. T. Champion Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). Easter, of course, brings the first great public holiday of the year. In London, and the South generally, Good Friday and Easter Sunday are both observed as holidays. In the North, however, it is the custom for work to continue on Good Friday and for the holiday to be observed on Easter Tuesday. This year is the 60th anniversary of the passing of the Bank Holiday Act of 1871. It used to be the fashion to describe a Bank Holiday as the Feast of St. Lubbock, Sir John Lubbock, of the celebrated line of Bankers, who afterwards became Lord Avebury, was the sponsor of this measure which converted Easter Monday, Whit Monday, the first Monday in August, and Boxing Day, (Dec. 26) into statutory holidays.

The Bank Holiday Act was received very favorably by Parliament and got through all its stages well before the Whitsuntide of 1871. This holiday had already been largely observed in London, but the closing of the banks gave it a fresh impetus, and most of the other mercantile concerns that had hitherto remained open now shut their doors. But it was otherwise with the new August holiday in the first year of its institution. The Stock Exchange closed, and so did most of the big wholesale houses in the City, but in the "West End" the motto appeared to be "Business as Usual" and in Regent Street for example, barely a dozen shops put up their shutters.

It was not until the following year, 1872, that the new holiday really caught on. The railway and steamship companies by then had, at any rate, partially realized their opportunities, cheap excursions were multiplied, and the custom of beginning the holiday on the previous Saturday began—to develop with enormous strides in the immediately succeeding years.

SOVIET TRADING SHOWS DECREASE

Fall in Commodity Prices Are at Last Affecting Russia.

CURTAIL PURCHASES.

MOSCOW, April 2 (C.P.).—Figures of the Soviet Union Chamber of Commerce, comparing foreign trade of January and February with the similar period of 1930, disclose that Russia has been hit, like other countries, by the backwash of the fall of commodity prices.

The figures contrast somewhat sharply with the general Soviet attitude of gleeful observation of the depression abroad as affording evidence of the collapse of the capitalistic system.

In January-February, 1930, the Soviet Union exported 1,647,000 tons, valued at rubles 133,129,000 (about $67,000,000), whereas in January-February, 1931, the Union exported 2,716,000, valued at only rubles 106,742,000 (about $54,000,000).

That this increase in tonnage exports at greatly reduced prices probably curtailed purchases of machinery and other necessities of the five-year plan program was indicated by a comparison of imports for the same period.

In January-February, 1930, the Union brought in 382,000 tons valued at rubles 144,611,000 (about $72,000,000), while in 1931 imports amounted to $360,000, valued at rubles 102,845,000 (about $51,000,000).

Rugged Soil-Tillers Endeavor To Carry On

WINNIPEG, Man., April 2 (C.P.).—Rugged soil-tillers of Manitoba told a tale of debt-ridden woe to the Legislature's select standing committee on agriculture last night — but vowed they would carry on.

Protests against a burden of production cost when return was so little were made by delegations from the wheat lands of the Province, and a long list of specific problems was presented to the committee for consideration. Chief among these difficulties were heavy debts, consequent mainly to high interest rates demanded on farm mortgages and bank loans, undue pressure exerted by creditors, High cost of commodity necessities as against low prices received for farm produce, and the erratic state of the produce market compared with the retail market.

Relief measures suggested included wiping off all accumulated interest on loans to farmers, lower freight rates and formation of a Dominion marketing board.

Charley Pit-a-Pat for Patty

Owing to the unusual interest taken by Charlie Chalin in Patricia Detering (above), British actress, it is freely predicted in the English capital that the famous comedian will take her back to Hollywood and stardom. Miss Detering, known professionally as Sari Maritza, is a blonde, and very beautiful. Charlie is, to say the least, enthusiastic about her, and says "she has everything."

NATIONALISTS LIMIT DELEGATES ATTENDING LONDON PARLEY TO SIX

Gandhi Fears if Group Large Some May Be Influenced By Compliments.

LEAVES IN JULY.

KARACHI, India, Apr. 2.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi and members of the Nationalist Cabinet today decided to limit the Indian Nationalist delegation to the forthcoming Round Table Conference to six although according to the agreement with Lord Irwin they are entitled to fifteen.

It was Gandhi's belief that a small compact, cohesive delegation would be better than a large unwieldly one, and that if there was a large delegation some "might fall victims of the international practice of Governments the world over to honor those whom the Government seeks to influence with banquets, compliments and blandishments."

Rather than be under any obligation to Great Britain Gandhi ruled that the All India National Congress should pay all the expenses of the Nationalist delegation to London. The entire cost of the last non-congress delegation to the first Round Table Conference came out of India's pocket.

Gandhi Least Expensive

Gandhi himself will prove the least expensive of India's delegates at the forthcoming conclave because he will travel third class like the humblest immigrant, carrying his food in a knotted homespun handkerchief knapsack affair. The ever-faithful Mirabai, nee Madeline Slade, daughter of an English Admiral will prepare his food for him.

His present plans call for his leaving India sometime in July, sailing from Bombay possibly with the Indian Princess but occupying steerage quarters of the boat while the Maharajahs have deluxe rooms.

For strategic reason Gandhi thus far has withheld his formal written acceptance of the Viceroy's invitation to attend the Second Round Table Conference, wishing to see first whether the Government will carry out all the terms of the new Delhi truce, especially that regarding release of political prisoners.

KENNELS BURNED SHOW DOGS LOST

LOSS RUNS HIGH.

SHREWSBURY, Mass., April 2. — (CP) Between 40 and 50 dogs, among them National and International Bench Show champions, were lost when fire destroyed the Welwire Kennels on the estate of Dr. and Mrs Homer Gage here early to-day.

Only three dogs escaped the flames. They were in the home of the Kennel Master, Joseph Booth.

Brandy Snap, valued at $4,000, world champion recently imported from England, was one of the three. Another was Ace Encon, holder of the record for winning the largest number of prizes.

The wire-haired terriers, for which the kennels were known throughout the world, were of great value and many of them were prize winners in dog shows throughout the country. The value of the medals and ribbons lost in the flames was upwards of $5,000.

Among the dogs that were lost were Dusinog, Duplicator, Wizard of Earlsmoor, Diamond Merchant, all Welsh terriers and international champions, Wycollor Wonder, an international champion and winner of the award for the best wire haired fox terrier. Welwire Wizard and Welwire Waterman were also lost in the flames.

FRENCH DISTANCE FLIERS DOWN.

ORAN, Algeria, April 2. (AP)—The French aviators, Paillard and Mermoz, landed at dawn to-day after having been 59 hours and 10 minutes in the air in flight over a closed circuit. They believed that they had bettered the distance mark of the aviators Boussoutrot and Rossi of 5,625 set Mar. 1.

PASSION WEEK SERVICES ARE WELL ATTENDED

Series of Services Resumed In St. James' United Church Last Night.

SPECIAL MUSIC.

Dr. C. V. McLean and Rev. A. E. Moorhouse Are Assisting Clergymen.

"This week, all over the world people are trying to understand and worship the crucified Lord", said Rev. Dr. McLaughlin introducing his sermon on Wednesday evening in St. James' United Church where the series of Passion Week services were resumed.

The Rev. A. E. Moorhouse, pastor of St. James', conducted the opening services of song and worship, during which the Scripture lesson found in the thirty-fifth chapter of Isaah, was read by Dr. McLaughlin. In this chapter the prophet of old tried to open the eyes of his people to the beauty of the world around them which they regarded as a desolate place. Dr. C. V. McLean of St. Andrew's was on the platform with the speaker and led in prayer.

Rev. Dr. McLaughlin preached to a comfortably filled edifice last night, on the subject as depicted in the seventh chapter of Luke. This gives a marvelous picture of the Saviour at His work. To know any man, it is necessary to see him at his work, in his contact with others daily, for yesterday is dead, tomorrow is not yet born, and it is only today that counts.

Pictures of Crucifixion

The three pictures presented here show us Jesus first in the morning passing along the roadside with His Disciples. As they draw near to a village they meet a funeral procession where a widow was laying aside her only child. It was against the ceremonial law for Jesus to touch the bier, but His love and sympathy could surmount any law and He restored the young man to life.

The second picture is at noon, when the deputation comes to Jesus from John to whom the decline of physical power has brought the decay of faith. Thus He sends to Jesus to ask "Art thou the Christ, or must we look for another?" Jesus did not answer at once, but in the evening bade the messengers return to John and tell him what they had seen that day. "You have seen the mission of mercy performed—the blind have been made to see, the deaf to hear, the lame to walk and the dead have been raised. You have seen the mission of evangelism, for the poor have been preached to and you have seen the mission of the cross. Tell of these things to John". In the economy of God sometimes His most precious souls must stand alone.

In the third picture we see Jesus dining at the home of the Pharisee. Up to this time Jesus had had no rupture with the authorities. To the poor sinful soul who stood behind Him as He talked, His words meant the possibility of a new life and she washed His feet with her tears and anointed them. The pharisee watching felt that he had made a mistake in inviting Jesus. The Master read his thought and rebuked him with the parable of the two debtors. "I change you", said Jesus "with threefold neglect in denying me a basin of water, the kiss of welcome and in failing to anoint me. This woman has provided this three-fold courtesy and her's shall be the threefold blessing of faith, peace and pardon."

What is the result of this day's work illustrated by these three pictures? In the widow's home the darkness of mourning has been turned into the light of noon-day. The disciples in jail has had his faith revived and his courage brought back. There has been joy in the presence of God over one sinner redeemed.

What is the application to us? Around every church are men and women, who say in action or words, that they do not need God. Our task is to awaken within their dead souls the need of God.

How are we to do this? First, by direct invitation; second, by a radiant life, that acts as a magnet to draw others to Him; thirdly, the great word of the New Testament is "restore," not "rebuke," for often where we condemn, God approves. God knows all about our broken humanity in its sin, and He has provided a remedy. In the Cross we many find Peace and Pardon which will lead us out into fuller service, till we come to know Him, whom to know is "Life Eternal."

In keeping with this wonderful message, Mr. Albert E. Greenlaw again inspired his audience with his tender rendering of his selections, "I Know a Name," "The Old Rugged Cross" (by request), and "Standing in the Need of Prayer."

For these numbers, Mr. Frank Stevens, organist, accompanied, and the two choirs assisted in the congregational singing throughout. The offertory selection, "For God So Loved the World," was sung by the Junior Choir.

The evening services come to a conclusion to-night in Mark Street United Church. The final and Communion Service being held in Trinity United on Friday morning at eleven o'clock.

Resting After the Battle

ONTARIO'S SEAPORT TO BE REALITY AS RAILWAY REACHES JAMES BAY

T.N.O. Commission Will Start Building Town Site at Moose Factory.

AUGUST SET AS DATE

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 2 (C.P.) —Ontario's first and only seaport will become a reality in August this year when the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario extension dips into James Bay at Moose Factory. At that time this 200-year-old habitation will be brought into the modern and civilized class and a commencement made at establishing what is expected to be a most important industrial centre of the province.

With the advent of the railway the T.N.O. Commission will immediately start building a new town and establishing the facilities that will be required for terminal purposes. An 800 acre tract of land already defined will be cleared of present growths and arrangements made for the installing of the necessary sanitation facilities. The main building programme other than for structures that will be required by the railway, will not be instituted for a year but then an extensive programme of a permanent nature will be commenced.

Reservations have been made in the townsite for church properties for all denominations and these will be transferred to the proper authorities at nominal figures

MORE STORM DRAINS TO BE LAID STREETS IMPROVED, CURBS BUILT AS PART OF CITY RELIEF PROGRAM

Paving Was Suggested, But Condition of Drains Will Not Permit the Work.

OPPOSE BLIND STREET.

Government Will Refund $59,220 to City Out of the $110,640 Spent.

With City Engineer Parsons reporting that $110,640 has been spent already on unemployment relief work in Peterborough, the members of the Board of Works last night considered further projects which the city can undertake immediately, so that the unemployed may benefit from the extended relief which the Provincial Government has promised the city through the month of April.

The Board decided upon more storm drains, road improvements, curb and gutters. Paving was discussed, but while the Board was split on the type to be laid, the City Engineer ended the discussion with the statement that no paving could be accomplished until the tops of the storm drains had settled, which would take at least six months.

Mr. Parsons in his report said,

Freed by Collision, Pigs Prove Elusive

COBOURG, Apr. 2.—A dozen pigs were scattered along the highway this afternoon when a truck, driven by F. Symons of Bowmanville, was in collision with a sedan, driven by John Hughes, Perth, four miles west of Cobourg. Passing motorists and nearby farmers, who volunteered to round up the pigs, had an exciting half hour before the last animal was captured. Both machines overturned in the ditch, and were slightly damaged.

Liner Goes Aground Passengers Saved

SYDNEY, Australia, April 2. (AP) Passengers of the British steamer Malabar, which went aground on a reef near Port Jackson last night, had to disembark so hurriedly that most were put ashore in their night clothes.

A calm sea enabled a safe and quick transfer. It was believed that the ship, which was badly holed, would sink. There were 27 passengers. The accident occurred in a dense fog.

COLLEGIATE ECHOES SETS RECORD WITH 2,300 COPIES BEING PRINTED

REVIEW OF YEAR'S WORK

With a current circulation of twenty-three hundred copies, the second highest circulation of school publications in the Province, the seventeenth annual issue of "The Echoes," published by The Literary Society of Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School is just off the press.

Bigger and better than ever, this year's magazine which echoes the many-sided activities of the school year, bears adequate testimony to the skill and patience of the editorial staff and their assistants, and reflects the wonderful spirit which permeates the whole school, and on which its very foundation is laid.

The circulation figures which show an increase this year of 600 copies over the preceding year, and a growth of some 1,200 copies over the year 1928, speak forcefully of the increasing popularity of the garnet and grey covered magazine, and are doubtless a source of justifiable pride to V. R. Henry, M.A., the business manager, to Charles Glover, circulation manager and to Harry Tewsley, advertising manager, together with their assistants, whose cooperative efforts have produced a work of very high standard. And a tribute to the ability of K. J. R Wightman, the editor.

A Quality Magazine

From the front cover design to the back page advertisement, the contents, both from a literary and artistic viewpoint, bespeak quality. The layout suggests careful and meticulous planning, while the illustrations are particularly fine.

Facing the table of contents is a splendid photograph of the school, while overleaf is a characteristic portrait study of the Principal H. R. H. Kenner, B.A., and a foreward by him in which he expresses appreciation of the efforts of those who have in any way contributed to the success of this year's Echoes.

"It is with relief, somewhat tinctured with regret, that we present the seventeenth issue of Echoes for your approval," states one of the editorials.

"Although we have laboured mightily in its production," it continues, "such was the cooperation and sympathy we received that our burden was immeasurably lightened and our work made a pleasure. We take this opportunity of thanking those who did so much for the magazine, and of soliciting their continued aid on behalf of next year's editorial staff. Mr. Morris and Mr. Henry have always been ready to give us time, energy and advice in unstinted measure, and Miss Montgomery has furnished inestimable assistance to the art editors. From the students we have had the whole-hearted support as evinced in the subscription campaign. The printed matter of the magazine has passed through the hands of a typewriting squad under the able leadership of Muriel Donaldson. To all these we are very grateful."

"The business houses of the city have been most generous in their response to our appeals for advertising, and this has aided greatly in solving financial problems. We trust that the pupils will show our advertisers the reciprocity of patronage, and ask for purchase slips as concrete evidense of same."

"Growing Pains"

Under the heading "Jottings by the Principal," is noted another interesting editorial entitled, "Growing Pains."

"The alumni of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School may be interested in knowing that attendance at their alma mater is steadily increasing," Mr. Kenner observes.

"When we entered the present enlarged building, we had an enrollment of seven-hundred and forty-seven pupils. Four hundred and eighteen of these were enrolled in the Academic Department, two hundred and twenty-seven in the Commercial, eighty-four in the Industrial Arts and eighteen in the Household Arts Department."

"In the following year, September 1929, the enrollment was eight hundred and four....."

"In September, 1930, the first month of the present school year, there was a record attendance of 894 pupils and 31 teachers. Four hundred and eighty-nine pupils were in Academic Department, two hundred and fifty-eight in the Commercial, one hundred and twenty-six in the Industrial Arts and twenty-one in the Household Arts Department."

"At the present time every classroom in both the Academic and Vocational parts of the building is occupied and many of them are overcrowded. In Form V Academic for example, there are at the present time no less than sixty pupils."

"Next September we shall need three additional classrooms in the Academic Department, and in order to secure them we shall be obliged to introduce what is known as the Rotary system so as to make use of three Science laboratories as regular classrooms."

"There is also congestion in the Industrial Arts Department. Among other things the Machine Shop is altogether too small; the Motor Mechanics Shop is just an apology for one; and a second Draughting Shop is necessary."

5 Additional Teachers Needed

"The Provincial inspectors recently paid official visits to the school and recommended to the local Board of Education that five additional teachers be added to the staff."

"Who would have thought two and a half years ago that the present building would be overcrowded so soon? Sooner or later another building program will have to be considered. There is no other alternative. All of which goes to show that education costs money."

The remainder of the magazine is chuck full of interest, not alone to the pupils and their relatives, but to all who follow the upward progress of the P.C.I. and V.S. from year to year.

Poems intersperse stories and essays, while each of the various activities of the school are by no means neglected. Concise resumes of the school sports and athletics, including rugby are afforded; various outstanding events in the school social season are recorded; the doings of the Camera Club are told in type and picture; the school orchestra is not overlooked, neither is the Cadet Corps; and space is devoted to correspondence from graduates, who are now seeking further knowledge in the Universities or who are shaping careers for themselves in the professions or in the world of business or industry.

All in all the 1931 issue of "The Echoes" is a worthy successor to its predecessors, and the editorial staff who take over the task for the next school year already have a tough proposition ahead of them to maintain the high standard.

Entrusted to The Peterborough Examiner Limited, the printing of the magazine embodies all the skill of the craftsman's art. It is executed in a heavy coated book paper and contains 152 pages, and is bound in a grey cover with the title and borders in garnet and black with the garnet predominating.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES"

If April 2nd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and from 11 p.m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 7:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

April 2nd does not carry with it a fortunate or propitious atmosphere. It is apparently unfavorable for social affairs, and decidedly unfavorable for handling important business matters. An atmosphere of conflict and suspicion will disrupt the harmony of the home. The influence of the Stars will be stronger than the will of man!

The child born on this April 2nd will have a personality which invites attention, demands love, and wins success. No matter to what rank it is born, it will always be a "commoner" at heart, and it will fight for any one in stress. It should not be deprived the companionship of animal pets.

Subjects born on April 2nd have simple, frank and outspoken natures. You are capable of holding command in executive positions, though you are not good in originating schemes. Given the blue-prints, you are a master builder. You have tried to make yourself "skilled" through information and training, and you can truly be called an efficient being. You are thorough and exact, and probably sometimes called a "crank."

You have very radical opinions, and are rather inclined to enforce them upon others, both in season and out of season. You have a tendency to progress with the times, and you are not loath to change your ideas. In both religion and politics you are ardent, and you are almost violent in your expression of feeling, but it is only a fire of straw and is soon over, leaving no sense of resentment. Your likes and dislikes are very pronounced, and you have no half-way feelings about either people or things.

A lot of geography and a lot of history is shown in your stride; adventure and travel are prognosticated for you. If life is dull, you usually find some way of livening it up. You are clannishly loyal to your own kith and kin and you do not seek many outside friendships. You unconsciously make enemies, though no formidible ones.

If April 3rd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 1 p.m. to 3:15 p.m., from 5:30 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. The danger hours are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 7:10 p.m. to 8:50 p.m.

A very inspiring day is predicted by the planetary aspects of April 3rd, a day of promise and emotion. If you allow the feelings that surge within you to control your actions, if you are not afraid, then success is assured. A happy issue out of all their troubles lies within the reach of all.

Children born on this April 3rd will be venturesome to the point of recklessness forceful and positive. They will be stubborn, upright and exacting, more fitted to an outdoor life than that of a sedentary nature. Their affections will be strong and vigorous, like their natures.

You are a very busy, active person if born on April 3rd. You never are still, and dislike to see others idling. You are always on the go, but frequently accomplish less than those who move more slowly. Continued and varying activity does not promote concentration. Whenever a difficult problem presents itself, you tackle it in an energetic manner, even when slow thinking is necessary for its solution. The result is that you work around in circles and never find the correct answer. Thought, without accompanying action, is impossible to one of your nervous disposition.

Success and failure will characterize your life, and, only in later years, will you acquire that degree of calm and absence of flurry that makes the most opportunities. You are a good talker, but your words often outrun your thoughts, and you revert to the use of "speech padding—" the use of unnecessary phrases to express the same thought. You are too satisfied with small successes, as with your ability, you could accomplish much more than mediocre achievements. Your judgment of events and persons is not very reliable. You are too much influenced by environment or externals. Your love nature is strong and tempestuous, therefore you crave something more than the placid.

CRUCIFIXION IS WELL PRESENTED

Mrs. C. J. Windrim and George Coleman, Jr., Peterborough, Assist With Campbellford Cantata.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 2 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent)—The rendition of Sir John Stainer's beautiful cantata, "The Crucifixion," which was given by the choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Campbellford, on Sunday evening, March 29, was a complete success. Rendered by a choir of thirty-six voices under the direction of the organist and choirmaster, W. A. Newcourt, L.C.C.M., A.L.C.M., before a very large congregation, the presentation showed good voice training and splendid finish to a difficult production.

The choir was assisted by two outstanding singers, Mrs. C. J. Windrim, who is well known for her remarkable soprano voice, and George Coleman, Jr., of St. Paul's Presby- has a voice of splendid mellow quality and tone and sang the bass solos tastefully and with artistic expression.

The tenor solos, exacting throughout, were rendered by William Collison, of Campbellford, with his own well recognized ability and style. John Storie, a baritone of exceptional promise sang solo parts with expression and ease while Messrs. Rollo and Nelson, basses, sang the minor parts very acceptably.

This same cantata was produced twice last year by St. Andrew's choir and scored a success. Coming back with the same presentation and having equal success this year with it brings great credit upon the director, Mr. Newcourt, and the members of the choir.

FINAL MEETING HASTINGS Y.P.S.

Good Program Provided at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Society Gathering.

HASTINGS, April 2.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The last meeting of the season of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held in the school room of the church on Monday night and was very largely attended. The meeting was under the leadership of the devotional committee with W. Flatman as convener.

After the opening hymn and prayer and the following program was very much enjoyed.

Scripture reading, Miss M. Robinson; recitation, Rutha Mouncey; reading, Mrs. J. A. Brown; solo, W. Flatman; reading, Pearl McMillan; recitation, Melville Killingbeck.

The topic, "Easter Lilies" was given by W. Flatman. The features of the evening were in the form of two competitions. The first one was to pick out the names of flowers that sentences placed on the board would recall. First prize was won by Mrs. J. A. Brown while the consolation went to Francis Kennedy. The other competition, threading the needle, caused a great deal of merriment among the young people, Melville Killingbeck getting the prize.

Mrs. W. R. Learmouth donated the prizes for both competitions.

SPLENDID SERMON GIVEN IN ROSENEATH

Sacrament of Lord's Supper Administered to Large Congregation in United Church.

ROSENEATH, April 2 (Examiner Correspondence)—The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to a large congregation in the United Church on Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. R. W. Paton, M.A., delivered an earnest discourse from the words "Spiritual dress at the Lord's table," found in the book of Matthew 22, verse 11.

His sermon seemed to speak individually to each one when he said, How shall we be spiritually attired at the sacramental feast? It was customary in ancient times at wedding feasts, for the guests to wear a certain garment, peculiar to the occasion. Any one who came without this garment was considered an intruder.

In this story, we learn that one man came to the wedding feast, not having or the wedding garment. He disregarded ordinary courtesies and pushed past the attendants at the door, thus defying the wishes of the host. When the host noticed this man without a wedding garment, he excluded him from the feast.

The pastor spoke sincerely by saying, this morning we are guests invited by our Lord to His table. "How shall we be spiritually attired." In the word of God we have three clear directions given us, concerning this attire. Our garment must be white, they must be modest and they must be gracious. It must be clean and white. Sin is the one thing in God's universe that can defile this robe. Sin is always uncleanness and always stains. Every deflection from truth and righteousness deposits its defilement and leaves a black stain and nothing we can devise can wash it out. Sin also destroys. It will burn holes in the character. As we think of the working of sin and remember that we are sinners. In the word of God we read "They have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the lamb." Only through Jesus Christ can we be cleansed from sin.

Our garments must also be modest. "Be clothed in humility" God forbid that we would come to his table, puffed up with a sense of our superiority. Rather let us come in humility, earnestly desiring to seek our perfection in Jesus Christ.

But our garments must be graceful. In God's word we have another suggestion concerning this attire. "Put on the garment of praise." This garment always gives color and brightness. There is always a gleam of brightness about thankful people. Let us be thankful ,praising God for His unspeakable gift for the gift of redemption through Jesus Christ, remembering as we observe this sacrament the blessed truth.

"While we were yet sinners, Christ died for the ungodly."

The choir rendered that old familiar anthem, "The Old Rugged Cross."

Service Easter Sunday evening is at 7.30 o'clock. Special music and singing is being prepared by the choir.

POT LUCK TEA

Mrs. Totten's Junior Girls' Sunday School Class Entertained by Mrs. M. McWilliams.

BRIDGENORTH, April 2 (Examiner Correspondence). Mrs. Totten's Sunday School class of junior girls of Bridgenorth United Church were entertained at a pot luck tea at the home of Mrs. Melville McWilliams on Friday evening, March 27.

The house and table was prettily decorated in St. Patrick's colors. Each little guest was provided with a green and white hat, place cards and St. Patrick's favor at their plate. After a splendid supper the girls enjoyed themselves by playing games and singing.

Don't let Rancid Oil in Stale Coffee keep you awake!

Every tin plainly marked with the date your grocer receives it!

MEDICAL research has now discovered that rancid oil found only in stale coffee is directly responsible for indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness.

There is one certain way you can avoid this menace. Use Chase & Sanborn's, the coffee that's guaranteed fresh.

This coffee is rushed to your grocer, straight from our roasters, every tin plainly marked with the date he receives it. Regularly our inspectors visit your grocer. If they find any tin whose date shows it is more than ten days old, it is immediately replaced with a fresh one.

There seldom is need to replace any, because our deliveries are so frequent and your grocer's needs so carefully analyzed. But at any rate, you can't possibly buy a stale tin of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee.

Avoid the dangers of stale, rancid coffee. Insist on Chase & Sanborn's, and look for the date when you buy!

THIS photograph was taken in an Ontario grocery store where the photographer bought expensive coffee that was more than seven months old. His affidavit is on file!

ALL COFFEE CONTAINS OIL . . . approximately a half cup to every pound of coffee. In fresh coffee this oil is as sweet and fragrant as fresh butter. But when the coffee gets stale this oil turns rancid, just as butter does. It actually spoils . . . becomes toxic and dangerous. Science says this rancid oil causes indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness. Don't take chances. Use Chase & Sanborn's, the coffee you know is fresh. Then you'll be safe from the dangers of rancid oil!

Mrs. C. G. Graham, president of the Rotary Annes, entertained the ladies of that organization at the tea hour yesterday afternoon at her home on Gilmour street. The pretty rooms were delightful with a profusion of spring flowers and cosy gratefires were burning in the living room and tea room. Large orange calendula, yellow and white daffodils and mauve and old gold tulips were in low bowls and vases in the living room and halls, while the tea table was picturesque in its Easter tints of pale pinks and yellows that were carried out in the cakes, bonbons and floral decorations. A cloth of antique filet lace was centered by a large silver basket filled with spring blossoms: double tulips in the tangerine shade that is called El Toreador, single tulips in bronze and mauve shades, tall jonquill-narcissus and pussywillow branches with tiny love birds on their stems. Two silver candelabra of the tripod type held yellow candles with central candles of mauve, carrying out the Easter colors. In the living room, Mrs. Graham was assisted by Mrs. Reg. Turner and Mrs. L. A. Potvin, while tea was poured by Mrs. R. M. Glover and Mrs. A. W. McPherson. Assistand were Mrs. T. H. Gillespie, Mrs. Alex Darling, Mrs. Jack Gillespie and Miss Gladys Graham.

And these little jobs really take more time than one large one, because one has to move about so much more, going from place to place.

• • • • • •

The housewife sometimes has to respond to doorbell or telephone bell with hands damp from too quick drying, or perhaps sticky because she could not do this job thoroughly in the few seconds at her command.

• • • • • •

If she does not hasten to answer whichever bell summons her, she may find some friends has gone from the door believing she is out, or there is no one at the telephone because the operator has given the reply that "they do not answer."

• • • • • •

Whenever such interruptions occur, unless the homemaker's hands are immaculately clean, a minor task of washing telephone receiver or door knob usually has to be done.

• • • • • •

This is trifling in itself but the time it takes consumes much of a homemaker's time, when one considers how valuable it is.

• • • • • •

Where there are little children in a family, sticky door knobs are not infrequent and there is a good excuse for them, however disturbing it is to handle such knobs.

• • • • • •

A mother has to be constantly guarding against such annoyances, first by training the children to keep their hands clean and second by going around the house very frequently with a wet soap cloth and a towel, washing the knobs.

• • • • • •

There is little kindly leniency for the woman who does her own work and in whose home sticky door knobs are to be found.

• • • • • •

There are good reasons, of course, in some cases for such a condition, while in other cases there is no excuse, whatever, but I just mentioned this matter to-day to call attention to a trivial task which may be overlooked.

St. John's Choir To Give Sacred Cantata

Lovers of ecclesiastical music will be afforded the opportunity of hearing a sacred cantata by a classical writer on Good Friday evening at 8 o'clock. St. John' Anglican Church choir will sing J.H.Maunder's "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," which is particularly suitable for the occasion. This cantata is written in three sections, with specially harmonized hymns to divide the parts. Boy soloists will figure prominently in the rendition of the sacred piece, and several of the best of the male choir will also do solo work. In addition to this a motet, Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer," will prove a very inspiring anthem. This piece has been made famous by having been recorded for gramophone by the Temple Choir, London, England. An excellent opportunity will therefore be given for lovers or thos motet to hear it rendered by the choir itself.

Voter Accepted $25 He Testifies At Trial

SOREL, Que., April 2.— (C.P.) — Testifying at the election contestation proceedings against Aime Boucher, Liberal candidate who won the Yamaska seat by one vote in the last Dominion election, Adolphe Grenier stated yesterday that he had been paid twenty-five dollars by David Lapierre whom he described as Boucher's election agent. He swore further that he had been promised the same amount at the next general election. The hearing is proceeding.

SAVED IMPORTED DRESS

"After a little wearing a lovely green voile—an imported dress—lost color so completely that it was not wearable. A friend who had admired it asked me why I wasn't wearing it any more. On hearing the reason, she advised dyeing it and recommended Diamond Dyes. To make a long story short, it turned out beautifully. I have a lovely new dress that really cost just 15c—the price of one package of Diamond Dyes

"I have since used Diamond Dyes for both tinting and dyeing. They do either equally well. I am not an expert dyer but I never have a failure with Diamond Dyes. They seem to be made so they always go on smoothly and evenly. They never spot, streak or run; and friends never know the things I dye with Diamond Dyes are redyed at all!

Battle Cruiser Tiger Goes To Scrap Heap

DEVENPORT, England, April 2.—(AP)—Spick and span and fit for many years' service, the great battle cruiser Tiger ended her last voyage here to-day to pay off her crew and go to the scrap heap under the Washington Naval Convention.

She had been with the Atlantic fleet in naval manoeuvers, and notwithstanding her doom the crew, on the homeward voyage from Gibraltar painted scratches and repaired other blemishes so that she might enter her home port as smart as ever.

The Tiger, which cost two million sterling, played a big role in the battle of Jutland. Persistent German reports afterward said that she had been sunk.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

CURING A COLD

If you were to ask a physician in charge of the health of an industrial plant what single ailment was responsible for most sickness and loss of time by employees he would tell you it was the common cold. He would also tell you that there were more cases reported Monday morning than any other morning notwithstanding the Sunday rest. It is a matter of too much rest and too much food together with some dampness and coldness of the atmospbere that is responsible for most colds.

A patient with a fresh cold in immediately sent home so as to avoid spreading the cold, and also that he may preSent a common cold developing into bronchitis or pneumonia.

What is the most successful treatment for colds?

Rest in bed is the most important part of the treatment as it enables the heart to devote all its power to the fight. instead of having some of it used up by the patient being up and around.

Heat is the next important, and the bosy should be heated by hot drinks, hot foot baths, or hot baths and hot water to the feet.

Drugs such as aspirin or Dover's powders may be used to induce further perspiration but even these simple drugs should only be given if they have been previously prescribed for former olds.

The third important point is to take something to cleanse the intestine. Although most laxative may be used the ordinary epsom salts are particularly helpful as they not only cleanse the intestine, but also draw some of the poisons from the blood. Further, epsom salts stimulate liver and gall bladder, and it is most important in colds that the liver is kept in good shape so as to filter out the poisons from the blood.

There has always been an argument about food and "stuffing a cold." As a matter of fact the patient needs food all right but he can usually do without it for awhile, miss a couple of meals, and then take simple foods such as orange jiuce, egg nogs, soups, and milk, for the first couple of days.

Rich highly seasoned foods may upset the digestion and digestion is a real factor in colds.

Don't neglect a cold; it can be the beginning of real trouble in the sinuses, in the ears, in nose and throat, in bronchial tubes, and lungs.

Remember the four points, rest in bed, heat, cleansing the intestine and light nourishing meals.

EXPERTS FIND METHOD LIMITING EXPENDITURE ON ARMS AND MATERIALS

Special League Committee Reaches Formula Which It is Hoped Will Be Adopted at World Conference in 1932.

GENEVA, April 2 (By The Canadian Press).—An important stage has just been completed in the preparation fro the General Disarmament Conference. The Committee of Experts on Budgetary Questions, called together by the Preparatory Commission for the purpose of making detailed proposals for the execution of the limitation of armament expenditure and for publicity, provided for in Articles 10, 24, 29 and 38 of the draft Disarmament Convention, has just finished its work by adopting a unanimous report in which it presents a system that, in its opinion, can be made to work satisfactorily.

The idea of limitation or publicity with regard to armament was first raised in 1927, when it was the subject of a report by the Committe of Budgetary Experts. That report, however, went little beyond an examination of the mechanism for publicity, and it was not until 1930 that the Preparatory Commission included definite provisions for the limitation of expenditure in the latest draft of the Convention. In this draft method of limiting land war material, and forms an accessory method of limiting naval war material and of limiting the total of each of the three forces.

DIFFICULT PROBLEM

Doubts have been expressed on the subject of the application of the principle of limitation of expenditure. It is said that nothing is easier than to camouflage armament expenditure by hiding such expenditure in unfamiliar parts of the budget, by making use of local or other extra budgetary funds, or by applying to armament purposes funds which have been voted for other purposes. On the other hand, very considerable differences exist in Parliamentary and accounting procedure regarding the budget in the various countries, and in the extent of the publicity which this procedure attracts and of the audit which is applied to it. It might, therefore, be thought that the limitation of expenditure would be fully effective for some countries, but illusory for others. Finally, as there are various causes which make expenditure fluctuate from time to time—e.g., purely accidental causes, or variation of prices, it might be feared that every Government would demand an outside limit which would therefore be, practically speaking, inoperative.

The Committee of Experts has closely studied the difficulties, and its hope is that the system which it proposes will not only provide substantially for all the difficulties and be prima facie effective, but will also provide for watching the possible defects of the system in case they should reach serious proportions.

MAIN PROPOSALS

The mainlines of the Committee's proposals may be summarised as follows:

1. The limitation will bear, not on Parliamentary votes (the significance of which is very different a cording to the country), but on the payments actually made during each financial year as shown in the appropriation accounts published and audited in each country. The Budget, or Parliamentary votes, will of course retain all their importance for public opinion within each country, and the Governments will in practice be obliged to explain publicly how the estimates contained in their budgets are to be reconciled with the limitation of their actual payments which they have accepted.

2. The Committee has suggested that the Governments should undertake not to indulge in the purchase of armaments on credit in such a way as to increase the armaments which they could otherwise have acquired within the limits of the Convention.

ANNUAL RETURNS

3. The draft Convention provides for an annual return of expenditure in a common form. Although these returns will not provide any basis of comparison of the strength of armaments between the different countries, it has always been recognized that a reasonable degree of uniformity was necessary for the general comprehension of the system of publicity and limitation. The Committee has drawn up this common form and has given detailed instructions as to the items of expenditure which are to be given in each of the eight to ten heads contained in the form.

4. It may be that not all Governments will be able to fill in this form strictly in accordance with the instructions, and the Committee has therefore proposed that each Government should be allowed to fill in the form in a slightly different method (according as its accounting procedure may require), provided that it explains this method to the Conference and undertakes to adhere to the same method during the period of the Convention.

INCLUDE ALL EXPENDITURE

5. The Committee's proposals provide that all armament expenditure is to be included from whatever source the funds are obtained—e.g., from the budgets of the forces, from the civil budgets, from the funds of local authorities, or from entirely different sources.

6. Generally speaking, when any marginal cases arise involving either difficulties of definition or doubts as to whether they really affect the strength of armaments, the Committee has proposed that doubtful items of expenditure of this kind, if excluded from the returns of expenditure, should be made the subject of publicity.

7. The Committe has also made proposals regarding the steps to be taken if a marked variation in the purchasing power of currencies gives rise to the need or adjusting the limits of expenditure. The Committe has also proposed that the limits of expenditure should in fact apply, not to the expenditure of each year, but to the average expenditure of each successive four years, the expenditure of any one year being allowed to exceed the limit to an extent to be fixed by agreement.

Farmers' Relief Act Provides For Loans

South African Government Assists Farmers to Meet Their Pressing Debts.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 2.—(By the Canadian Press.)— The Farmers' Relief Act, passed recently, in the House of Assembly, authorizes an internal loan of $25,000,000 out of which the debts of farmers who are pressed will be paid off to a maximum individually of $5,000. Vigilance boards in each district will investigate the financial condition of each applicant and will recommend to a Central Board of three representatives of the Land Bank, through which the payments will be made. The amounts thus paid off will be secured by a first or, where the farm is already mortgaged, by a second mortgage. The plan will cease to operate on March 31, 1932.

When the Farmers' Relief Bill was before the legislators in the assembly it was severely criticized by General J. C. Smuts, former Premier, who, however, refused formally to oppose it because he believed it was necessary to do something to help the farmers even if the bill in question did not meet with his approval in its allocation of Government funds to pay off the debts of the farmers.

General J. B. M. Hertzog, the Premier, accused General Smuts of trying to make party capital out of the bill.

Hon. N. C. Havenga, Minister of Finance, claimed that the bill would not freeze up the farmers' credit as had been predicted by General Smuts.

MORE STORM DRAINS TO BE LAID STREETS IMPROVED, CURBS BUILT

"From November 1 to date, 542 married men and 225 single men, a total of 767, registered for work in my office; of these 75 were culled for various reasons without being given a trial. Practically none of the single men were given work. In all 538 men were given work during the winter, averaging eight weeks out of twenty.

"On unemployment relief work $80,000 has been spent on unemployment relief work. Since direct relief work was started at the beginning of February, $36,322.39 has been spent; of this $23,400 was given out in wages and $12,922.39 was paid out for material. The total amount spent on relief work up to the end of March was $110,640, but of this amount the Government will refund the city approximately $59,220, leaving about $51,420 for the city to raise by debentures.

"At a cost to the city of $51,240, eight or nine miles of storm drains have been constructed under this scheme. The average cost of the work was less than $3 per foot; some of it running as high as $10 per foot."

The City Engineer submitted suggestions for added storm drains totalling in cost $20,380 and a series of curb and gutters to cost $69,000. These suggestions were more or less accepted wholly by the Board and in some cases additions were made. However, it is not considered by the Board that all this work can be accomplished within the next month, but it is work contemplated if the employment situation does not improve.

"There is only one point to it, and that is to give the men work," stated Mayor Denne and the Board concided with him in that opinion.

Work planned for unemployment relief accepted last night includes: storm drains on Mark street from Robinson street to the lake; Weller street from Monaghan to Albertus street, on Waterford street; curb and gutters on Prince street from Park to George, on Princess street from Park to Lock, on Mark street from Robinson to Douro, on Bolivar street from Park to Monaghan, on Sherbrooke street from Park to Monaghan, on Burnham street Hunter to James, on Benson avenue from Manning avenue to Wolsley street, on Dennistown avenue from Park Hill road to Inverlea street.

Another job on the Board's hands is the new Sherbrookes treet bridge and the City Engineer and Alderman Hamilton were asked to report on the best time to start and the probable cost.

R. C. Braund requested permission to open up a blind street on his lot east of Chamberlain. He proposes forming a court, moving a house from the corner of Reid and Sherbrooke to it and making the house into a duplex. Further, he plans to build a new home on the Reid-Sherbrooke corner and making his present home into apartments.

The Board was opposed to making a blind street, and will suggest to Mr. Braund that permission be secured to make the street only 40 feet wide and have him purchase the lot facing on Douglas avenue so that the street may be carried through. A committee of the chairman and mayor were appointed to interview Mr. Braund.

Mrs. Albert Throop requested the city to repair the boarding covering the creek flowing through her property. The Board decided that since the creek was on private property the city was not responsible for any such repairs.

The Automobile League asked that a light be installed at the corner of Park and Charlotte streets; all signal lights be so timed to allow through traffic and U-turns be made unlawful. No action was taken on the recommendation.

Australia Is After More Tourist Trade

Melbourne Holds Exhibition of Publicity Including Alluring Photographs.

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 2.—(Canadian Press).—The value of enlarged photographs as a cheap and effective method of publicity was emphasized by a recent exhibition of publicity arranged by the National Travel Association. The exhibition, which was opened by the Lord Mayor, Councillor Luxton, M.L.A., included many fine examples of photography, depicting every aspect of life in Australia. Perhaps the most striking feature of the exhibition was three large posters which are being displayed overseas. The first depicts the landing of Captain Cook and the planting of the British flag; the second, "Sun and Sunshine," a brightly colored scene, shows a phantom glod escort and coach in the foreground; and the third poster, "Ninety Years of Progress," is an illustration of sun and shadow in Collins street.

THEATRES

"THE CRIMINAL CODE."

Picture fans who imagine they have seen all there is to be seen in the way of criminal movies, can't complete their education without seeing "The Criminal Code." It is at the Regent Theatre for three days, closing to-morrow night.

It has something different about it, perhaps more of an aspect of reality. The grim, terrible side of prison life is emphasized, of course, but not so artificially as in other pictures of this type. The character roles are outstanding.

Walter Huston, the hero of "Lincoln," has the stellar part, first as the District Attorney who "sends them up" to please his superiors and win for himself the coveted Governorship of the State, and later, as the warden of the penitentiary where many of his committed men are imprisoned. They greet him with a volley of catcalls on his arrival and then he walks, in a tense moment, through their lines, smoking his cigar.

Phillips Holmes is the youth, Robert Graham, who goes up for a ten year stretch for manslaughter, after he has accidentally killed a man in a cafe brawl over a woman. Constance Cummings is the warden's daughter, Mildred, pretty and sweet, and then there are the prisoners, that strange, rough, hard group of men who plot for escape and cling to each other with their queer code.

This code forms the groundwork of the tale. Brady's code as District Attorney is the ancient law, 'an eye for an eye," and the code of the men who slouch in prison cells is to stick to one another. Galloway, his ape-like head over his spotless butler's jacket, a lifer but a trusty in the prison, 'gets' the squealer in a dramatic episode and then the boy is blamed and pays the price in the dungeon below the prison. The manner of Galloway's passing it almost more tragic, if possible, than that of Wallace Beery as 'Butch,' in "The Big House." Galloway and his mates make ths picture live and move. It is a notable performance.

KINGS SECRETARY BURIAL SATURDAY

Memorial Service For Lord Stamfordham Will Be Held April 9 in Westminster Abbey.

SERVED QUEEN VICTORIA.

LONDON, April 2. C. P. Cable).—The funeral of Lord Stamfordham, for many years Private Secretary to the King, who died on Tuesday, will be held privately on Saturday. Last night's court circular pays tribute to his memory, saying "the King deplores the loss of a most faithful servant and friend."

A memorial service will be held in Westminster Abbey next Thursday the date being thus fixed to suit general convenience.

The appointment of a successor to Lord Stamfordham, who first became Private Secretary to Queen Victoria 36 years ago, rests of course entirely with His Majesty. Sir Clive Wigram, Assistant Private Secretary, would appear marked for promotion.

The Private Secretaryship is not an ancient office as court appointments go. It was instituted originally because of the failing eyesight of George III.

Gandhi Again Facing Hindu-Moslem Dispute

Madeleine Slade, Gandhi's British disciple and attendant, was unable to join the Mahatma because she was removed to a hospital suffering from chickenpox. Physicains were taking measures against the spread of the disease and to prevent Gandhi's taking it, suffering, as he is, from a bad cold.

Four strong men were assigned to Gandhi's third class compartment as bodyguards, to prevent his admirers from forcing their way in or smashing windows as happened on his last train trip.

TORONTO MAN SUICIDES.

TORONTO, Ont., April 2.—(C.P.)—Believed to have become despondent because of inability to secure work, Joseph Massey, 40, tied a necktie about his neck early to-day and died shortly after admittance to the hospital. Massey who is married, is the father of one child.

Panoramic View Of The Historic Course At Aintree

The Grand National steeplechase, Britain's second ranking sporting event, yielding only to the Derby, was won by Grakle on Friday before a great throng of spectators. The ABOVE photograph shows the four-and-a-half mile course with its many turns and twists. The race was one mighty cascade of thrills. Among the war-scarred veterans in this famous race to fall by the wayside was Easter Hero, shown ABOVE who carried the cunning skill of Fred Rees, and was favorite for the race, but fell at Becher's Brook the second time round. The winner was Grakle, owned by C. A. Taylor, at 100 to 6. Gregalach, 25 to 1, was second, and Annandale, 100 to 1, third. Forty-three horses started.

THROUGH THE MEDIUM OF MUSIC LOWEL PATON INTERPRETS LIFE

ON CHAUTAUQUA CIRCUIT.

MARMORA, April 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—"Through the medium of music he interprets life with its almost infinite variety of moods," thus runs a paragraph in the folder issued by Canadian Chautauqua regarding Lowel Patton, musical director of that organization.

Interviewed by The Examiner on Wednesday evening, this clever pianist admitted, however, that he is most drawn to the religious. A personal friend of Seth Parker's, he has composed a choice setting for the latter's hymn, "Jesus is My Neighbour" and this is sung as one of the offerings at the concerts given by the Lowel Patton artists on the present spring circuit of Canadian Chautauqua.

Lowell Patton's recent appointment as musical director of "The Platform World" brings him more before the public eye. He has studied in Italy, France and the Royal Academy of London. His teacher at the latter place was Claude Pollard. As a composer he has profited through associations with Frank La Forge and Bruno Hune. He also studied harmony and counterpoint under Marion Bauer, head of the Composers League of New York. He is a member of the Guild of Organists and likes all kinds of music because thereby all moods are expressed. Thirty-five compositions stand to the credit of this comparatively young man and it is interesting to note that three hundred copies of "Jesus is My Neighbour" were recently sent to a mission station in India upon special request.

Most of his compositions have been set to lyrics composed by friends. He is a native of Portland, Oregon, and was born of parents who were both musical. His father plays the violin and his mother also plays the violin in addition to being an able pianist. "Little wonder," says Lowell Patton, "that I commenced to learn music when I was five." "Do you think more might be done in the way of creating musical scholarships that the natural talent of children of parents not well to do might be developed?" he was asked. His eyes lit up. "Yes," he said, "it is my ambition if I ever should get rich to help such children to get a break. I believe in offering the right inducement to the right child." "My hobbies," he replied, in answer to a further question, "are hiking, poetry and the outdoors, but 'the' hobby for me is — people. I learn so much by studying the diversities of human nature." Next October Lowell Patton will be heard over the N.B.C. broadcast chain in connection with Seth Parker presentations. With Fenwick Newell and Gloria Robinson, his present partners, he is also under contract with the Victor Company for the making of records featuring their own distinctive numbers.

Mission Band Holds Social Gathering

MILLBROOK, April 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—A delightful social gathering was planned and successfully carried through for the boys and girls of the Sunshine Mission Band, on Tuesday afternoon, when they were the guests of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary for tea and games, following their regular meeting immediately after school.

The 'party' was held in the parlors of Saint Andrew's United Church, and included with the Band members as guests were a number of the mothers, the superintendent, Mrs. M. McDowell, and her associate helpers, Mrs. J. Ridge, and Miss Phyllis Kidd.

Mrs. McDowell took charge of the regular meeting, with Master Gordon Jones at the piano, and a number of the boys and girls taking part, and at its conclusion the invitation to gather about the well-laden tables was followed by the seating of at least forty-five guests, a separate table accommodating the mothers, and the Band leaders.

Assisting in waiting upon the tables, and looking after the service of the supper, were Mrs. Offa Williamson, convenor of the supper committee, Mrs. W. A. O'Brian, Mrs. William Theobald, Mrs. Ross Edmunds, Mrs. C. C. Garside, Mrs. George Fallis, and Mrs. L. W. Smith.

Among the mothers who were present as guests were: Mrs. P. Stinson, with her little son, Connie; Mrs. Edgar Fallis; Mrs. B. B. Dawson with baby Jessie, and youngest son, Roy; Mrs. T. Douglas, and little girl, Hope; Mrs. (Rev.) W. W. Jones, and others. Miss Cane was also among the guests, and Messrs. O. Williamson and T. Douglas came in for the tea hour when the second tables were being served.

DR. BANNISTER

a well conducted school, equipped by the Government and supported by the Government, where any teacher engaged in teaching might go to see how a well-conducted school was operated. There was nothing compulsory about attending the school.

Dr. Ryerson proposed the establishment of training schools in 1847 when the first Normal School in Ontario was opened at Toronto. At that period the training consisted of academic and professional work. Only about twenty men presented themselves for the course at the opening of the school, but before the term was out the enrollment had increased to fifty men. In the following year there was a considerably larger enrollment, with twenty females.

"Last year at the Peterborough Normal School" said the speaker there were 118 students with only twenty men. The conditions obtaining in the first Normal School were the reverse from what they are here to-day."

The speaker continued to outline the growth of the Normal Schools and the establishment at a later period of Normal Institutions at Ottawa and London, while in the year 1909 four additional Normal Schools were added including the school at Peterborough.

With the increase in Normal Schools the model schools were cut down and later abolished, while the standard of training for teachers has steadily advanced.

"Four years ago the Government considered the time was ripe for further advancement and increased the length of time required for obtaining first or second class teaching certificates from one to two years attendance at Normal School."

What the outcome of this will be, the speaker was not prepared to definately state, but he thought there was a good deal of doubt as to the issue.

"It has tended to raise the standard within the Normal School", but the speaker pointed out another feature of the change, whereby students after completing one year at Normal may obtain a certificate to teach for a period of four years. They are not allowed to come back to Normal School for at least two years. Therefore those students who graduated two years ago will have to either return to Normal in another two years time or else quit teaching. Whether they will come back or not is a moot point.

"I think the majority of them will consider their teaching experience as a stepping stone to something else. Some of them will doubtless return, but the majority will enter some other profession or go on to the university to prepare for a high school teaching career", thought the speaker, who did not know whether the present system might not result in a dearth of public school teachers. One thing is certain it has not resulted in a dearth of students. The attendance has largely increased this year.

The speaker was accorded a vote of thanks on the motion of Carl S. Browne, M.A., who also announced next Thursday night as "Ladies' Night", when Dr. Austin of Queen's University will be the guest speaker.

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY'S APRIL FOOL

"Oh, Unkie Wig!" suddenly exclaimed Baby Bunty one morning when Mr. Longears came down stairs to breakfast in the hollow stump bungalow. "Look at your shoe!"

"Why, what's the matter with it?" asked the rabbit gentleman quickly.

"It's on your foot!" shouted Baby Bunty. "April Fool! Ha! Ha! I fooled you, didn't I?"

"Well, you did fool me just a little," admitted Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "I thought, at first, I had my shoe on the wrong foot or else that I had altogether forgotten to put it on. So this is April Fool day, is it?"

"You ought to know!" laughed Baby Bunty.

"I told you to be careful!" squeaked Nurse Jane as she brought in the carrot coffee.

"I'll be careful after this," Uncle Wiggily promised. "Please pass the sugar, Jingle," he said to one of his little girls.

Jingle tried hard not to giggle, by putting her paw over her mouth as she handed the sugar bowl to her daddy. If Uncle Wiggily had not been reading the paper perhaps he would have noticed something, but he did not and began to stir the white stuff into his coffee. But when he took a sip he cried

"Oh! Oh, dear! What kind of sugar was that?'

What kind of sugar was that?

"April Fool! It was salt!" cried Jingle.

"Didn't I tell you to be careful, Mr. Longears!" warned Nurse Jane as she gave him a fresh cup of carrot coffee and made sure he had real sugar this time. "They fooled you again."

"Yes, but it will be the last time," said Mr. Longears.

And so, though many of the other little bunny boys and girls tried to April Fool their father before they hopped from the hollow stump bungalow to go to school, Mr' Longears was careful. Jingle tried to make him take a piece of brown wood for toast and Buster tried to pass his father some yellow paper for butter. Uncle Wiggily, however, only laughed and would not be April Fooled again.

"Now you must be extra special careful," said Nurse Jane when the bunny children had gone to school and Mr. Longears was going to hop out and look for an adventure. "Be very careful!"

"What about?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"About the Fox, the Wolf and the Bob Cat," warned Nurse Jane. "They may try to play an April Fool joke on you and catch you!"

"Pooh! I'd like to see them catch me!" boasted Mr. Longears.

Now, as it happened about that time the Fox, the Wolf and the Bob Cat were talking together as to how they could play an April Fool joke on Uncle Wiggily and catch him. They talked of many plans but the Bob Cat thought of a good one when he said:

"Look here! Outside of my den are three tall, hollow stones. They are like vases to put flowers in. Now each one of us can get in one of the hollow stones and roll down the hill to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. If we roll right, when we reach the bottom of the hill we can make the hollow stones stand on end with us inside them."

"Where is there any joke in that?" asked the Fox.

"Uncle Wiggily will not know we are inside the hollow stones like flower vases,' explained the Bob Cat. "We can hide there and when he comes over to look at the stones that have rolled down to his bungalow we can pop out and grab him!"

"We must yell 'April Fool!' at him!" said the Wolf.

"Oh, sure, we'll yell 'April Fool!" to surprise him," mewed the Bob Cat. "Come on, now, let's get in the hollow stones and roll."

The Bad Chaps did this, rolling down the hill to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. And, as it happened, the hollow stones rolled in such a way that at the end they stood upright in a row with the open ends up and in each hollow stone was hidden one of the Bad Chaps.

"Hark! I think Uncle Wiggily is coming now!" whispered the Bob Cat in his hollow stone. "Get ready to pop out and grab him!"

Along came hopping the rabbit gentleman. He looked in surprise at three hollow stone vases in front of his bungalow. And then, all of a sudden, a heavy April shower of rain began to fall. The rain splashed into the hollow stones, filling them to the brim and almost drowning the three Bad Chaps inside. Sopping wet, out popped the Bob Cat, the Fox and the Wolf. They were so wet they couldn't bite Mr. Longears.

"Ha! Ha! April Fool!" cried Uncle Wiggily as the three slunk away their wet tails dangling between their wet legs Only the Bob Cat's tail didn't dangle much. It was too short. So the April shower fooled the Bad Chaps and they didn't fool the rabbit gentleman and all was well.

At Millbrook

Mrs. George Milburn, of Chemong Road, spent last week the guest of Miss Mary Eagleson. Miss Eagleson's many friends will be glad to learn that her health is steadily improving, though the period of convalescence after her fall some months ago, resulting in a fractured hip, has not yet reached the stage of full recovery.

Harold Hunter, of Port Hope, was a visitor in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. R. I. Fallis was called to Toronto on Saturday evening owing to the uncertain state of the health of his father, Mr. A. J. Fallis, who has been for several weeks a patient in the General Hospital. Mrs. Fallis is remaining in the city with her husband.

Mr. Howard Fallis, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting his mother, Mrs. John Fallis, and many other relatives in the village and vicinity.

Mrs. De Brisay, who has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. (Rev.) Joseph Wilks, for the past two weeks, returned to her home in Ottawa at the week-end.

Mrs. (Dr.) L. H. Rae is spending the Easter holiday with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Weldon, and the Misses Weldon, at Lindsay, leaving on Thursday. Mrs. Armstrong will join Mrs. Rae at Lindsay returning with her that evening.

While shoeing a team for Irwin Hatherly on Monday, Robert Brown had the misfortune to be kicked by one of the horses, and has been quite lame, and laid off work for a few days since, following the accident.

Born: At Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital, on Wednesday, April 1, 1931, to Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Jordan, a daughter.

Ernest L. Burnham is home for the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burnham, his final examinations in mechanical engineering at the University of Toronto, beginning immediately after the present holiday period, and continuing for at least three weeks.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at Saint Andrew's United Church on Easter Sunday morning, and the Sunday following, April 12, at morning worship the Women's Auxiliary, the Mission Circle and Mission Band, will attend in a body, when Miss E. C. Hawken, missionary teacher at the Wahstao School Home, Alberta, will be the special speaker for the service. The Easter thankoffering for the three organizations will be taken up.

Miss Jean Stinson leaves on Thursday to spend the Easter week-end with friends at Chatham.

Mrs. Arthur Mulligan, and her sister, Mrs. Harry Armstrong, who were called here on account of the sudden death of their mother, Mrs. Samuel Eakins, Senior, last week, left for their respective homes at Cleveland, Ohio, and Toronto, on Tuesday.

City League Teams Will Attend Party

Stars, City Hockey League winners, and Sea-horses, runners-up, will be entertained at a theatre party Monday night. Both teams will meet shortly before nine in the lobby of the Capitol Theatre and attend the nine o'clock show.

On Tuesday at eight o'clock, Manager H. C. Jay will give a banquet at his house, 258 Aylmer street, for his champion Star team. All of the players are requested to be on hand no later than eight on Tuesday evening.

Otonabee Chapter Hears Rev. Pickering

At the regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the green room of the Y.W.C.A. of the Otonabee Chapter, I.O.D.E., the Rev. Arthur Pickering, representative from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in Toronto, was present and spoke of the work being carried on at the Institute. The chapter decided to co-operate in any effort in aid of this organization, should such be undertaken in the city.

The regent, Mrs. C. A. White, presided. There was a good attendance.

The sum of $50, being proceeds of the recent Shamrock Tea, will be donated to the Well Babies Clinic.

Mrs. J. A. Robinson was appointed delegate from the society, to the forthcoming Provincial I.O.D.E. convention in Hamilton.

It was decided to hold a bridge party in the Paragon Hall on Tuesday afternoon, April 28th.

Canadiens Win National League Championship

CANUCKS BEAT BOSTON BRUINS IN FINAL GAME

Flying Frenchmen Take 3-2 Overtime Decision on Montreal Ice.

MEET HAWKS FRIDAY.

Bruins Even Habitants' Two Goal Lead in the Third Period.

FORUM, Montreal, April 2.—Montreal Canadiens beat the rugged Boston Bruins 3—2, with an overtime goal here last night, ending their five-game National Hockey League championship with the Canadiens winning three games to two. A wicked cross-shot by Wildore Larochelle, Canadiens' substitute wingman, ended the deciding battle last night after 19 minutes of overtime, and gave the Flying Frenchmen the right to meet Chicago Black Hawks in the Stanley Cup finals.

Boston Bruins were great in defeat. They were smothered hopelessly in the first period under a shifty, hurtling, bewildering attack. They got their stride in the second period and with increasing momentum drove furiously in a terrific offensive in the third to run in two goals and tie the score.

Exciting But Not Good Hockey

It was not great hockey last night, but 13,000 fans were tense and tingling with excitement because of the stakes. Canadiens as Canada's sole surviving bid for the Stanley Cup, fought desperately to stay in the running to defend the old silver mug they won last season.

Both teams were leg weary and battered by the four hard games they had played. Boston won the first encounter at home, coming from behind to win 5—4. The Canadiens next beat Bruins at Boston 1—0. Canadiens took their first home game 4—3, and they lost to Boston Monday night, Bruins winning by 3—1.

The crippled Canadiens tore into Boston with a vicious offensive in the first period last night. Boston did not get a shot on Hainsworth till 18 minutes went by, according to the score sheet. The first period gave the Canucks a comfortable 2—0 lead. Johnny Gagnon scored first on a pass from Marty Burke inside the Boston defense. Lepine took a short pass from Joliat as they rounded the Bruins' defense from opposite sides and drilled the puck into the corner of the net. Canadiens tired after their first period drive, and Boston staged a dogged attack in the second period. No score came until the third period, and then "Cooney" Weiland rattled two goals behind Hainsworth. Weiland bored through left wing, feinted around the defense and beat the Canuck goalie with a cross shot for his first goal. The second Bruins' goal came from a scramble in Canadiens' defense area. Weiland took a pass from Barry and Clapper and then lifted the puck into the cage.

Bowling Alley Gossip

By Pin Boy

(By Pin Boy.)

The Rangers tangled with the Canadians last night in the first game of the City League five pin play-offs, to break the tie for the first place in the second half of the schedule. The three-game battle was a real pin busting spree and a nip and tuck struggle right up to the last frame. The Canadians came out on the big end of the score with the slim winning margin of seven pins and will now meet the Big Five for the city championship, probably on Thursday of this week. The South-Enders were a little below their usual form and only the heavy gunning of Ranger and Marsden gave the latter crew a fighting chance. Ranger was the high man of the night with a single of 357 and a three-game total of 774. Ab Delahaye was high for Canadians with 697.

The K. of C. pin spillers are still knocking over the pins in big league style, with the Monday Night Leaguers leading the way. This week Vince O'Connell crumpled 851 pins in three games to come within two pins of the league record of 853 held by V. Shaughnessy, while S. S. Shaughnessy clipped off 848, which included a single of 377.

The local pin scuttlers from the C.G.E. who journeyed to Toronto last Saturday to battle with the Toronto Davenport Works' bowlers were certainly given a real trimming by the Queen City crowd. Four trundlers on the one team for the winners all topped the 700 mark, and their scores are as follows: Hainsworth 774-771, Seaton 327-783, Martin 294-798, and Munroe 302-703. Bill Martin was the only one of the locals who went over the 700 mark, securing 748, while Bud Weese was the next in line with 694.

SPRINGFIELD EASY FOR BOSTON CUBS

Latter Needs But One Victory For Canadian-American Hockey Title.

BOSTON, April 2. — The largest crowd ever to witness a minor league hockey game in Boston saw the Bruin Cubs last night annex their second game of the play-off in the Canadian-American Hockey League by trouncing the Springfield Indians, 6 to 2. The attendance was announced as 15,500.

The series now stands Boston 2, Springfield 1, and one tie game. The Cubs must win one more game to take the series.

The scoring was even in the first period, Heximer counting for the Indians and Taylor for the Cubs. In the second stanza, however, after Callighen scored Springfield's second and final goal, the Cubs collected three to take a wide lead.

Runge, Cub substitute, who netted the puck twice in this session, also contributed another in the final, when Burke also scored.

Boston Cubs—Goal, Grant; defense, Foster and Pratt; centre, Burke; wings; Mackey and Boyd; subs., Harris, Taylor, Conacher, Brander, McNeil and Runge.

Springfield.—Goal, Moore; defense, Callighen and Wilson; centre, Carrigan; wings, Heximer and Heller; subs., Saunders, Grant, Benson, Starr and Waite.

Referees—Stewart and Synnott.

Boston Defencemen To Other Pastures

Rumor States Owen to Quit Game—Hitchman to be Sold.

MONTREAL, April 2. — Boston Bruins will be without the service of Lionel Hitchman and George Owen, both of them husky defensemen, next season, according to a story published here yesterday.

While unable to get in touch with the Bruin management for official confirmation, it is learned from an authority in close touch with the affairs of the Boston Club of the National Hockey League that Lionel Hitchman will be sold because he has lost his speed and cannot give and take the bumps he used to.

The same source is also credited with the information that George Owen will leave professional hockey at the request of his wife, who fears that the big boy from Harvard might suffer some permanent injury if he stays at the game.

SHOWS BIG LEAGUERS HOW

99 YEARS OLD AND STILL GOING STRONG

Ninety-nine out of a hundred couldn't do it—but L. W. Eldridge, of Boston, Mass., who is 99 years old and will reach the 100 mark in June, shows Walter Berger of the Boston Braves how to increase his batting average. Eldridge is captain of the "Kubs" team at St. Petersburg, Fla. The members are all 75 years old or over.

QUEEN'S WILL PLAY LACROSSE THIS YEAR

Efforts Will Be Made to Organize Intercollegiate League.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Queen's will have a senior lacrosse team next fall, and with University of Toronto having a team, there is every indication that an Intercollegiate Lacrosse Union will be organized.

At Queen's there are a number of athletes who have played lacrosse in their home towns, and definite action toward the formation of a club was taken at a meeting held in the Students' Union last night, when Joe Lally, veteran lacrosse authority of Cornwall, addressed the players.

PLAY OF LEADERS.

TORONTO, Ont., April 2 (C.P.).—"Lil" Cooney Weiland, starry forward of Boston Bruins, gathered himself a couple of points in last night's engagement between Bruins and Canadiens, which Boston lost 3-2, and so far leads all players in the National League play-offs so far as scoring points are concerned. Cooney has scored six goals and a brace of assists for a total of eight points in the play-oc games. Clapper, also of the Bruins, comes second with two less.

The records:

	Goals.	Assists.	Points.	Penalties (in mins.)
Weiland, Boston ..	6	2	8	2
Clapper, Boston ..	2	4	6	6
Owen, Boston	2	3	5	13
Morenz, Canad. ..	0	4	4	4
G. Mantha, Canad.	3	0	3	0
March, Chicago ..	3	0	3	0
Shore, Boston	2	1	3	22
Adams, Chicago ..	1	3	3	6
Burke, Canad.	1	2	3	6
T. Cook, Chicago .	1	2	3	6
Barry, Boston	1	2	3	4
S. Mantha, Canad.	2	0	2	10
Wasnie, Canadiens,	2	0	2	6
Gottselig, Chicago.	1	1	2	1
Romne, Chicago ..	1	1	2	0
Couture, Chicago .	0	2	2	0
Gagnon, Canadiens	2	0	2	8
Lepine, Canad. ...	1	1	2	2
Larochelle, Canad..	1	1	2	2

Gainor, Boston, Leduc, Canadiens, Chapman, Boston, Wentworth, Chicago, and Joliat, Canadiens, have one assist to their credit.

Scene And Date Set For Stanley Series

MONTREAL, Que., April 2. — (C.P.) —Canadiens and Chicago Black Hwaks will meet at Chicago on Friday and Sunday nights in the first two games of their Stanley Cup series. The scene will then switch back to Montreal Forum where the best three out of five games will conclude. This was announced by President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League. Canadiens, as first place winners, had choice of city the first two games, but as no nce will be available in Chicago after Sunday night the Canucks decided to play at that place first.

UNEMPLOYED START RIOT

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 2 (C.P.)—A riot broke out in the House of Delegates Chamber here to-day as a group of unemployed who had marched from Baltimore attempted to present a petition demanding relief from the Legislature.

C.A.H.A. TAKES FIRM STAND ON AMATEURS RECEIVING "TRYOUTS"

Practise in Moneyed Ranks Means Automatic Suspension For Player.

VANCOUVER SEEKS FINALS.

WINNIPEG, Apr. 2. — Amateur hockey must stand unsullied, according to decision of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association of Canada. In annual meeting yesterday the association went on record as opposing any intercourse with professional teams by players of amateur ranks unless the players intend joining moneyed ranks outright.

Arguments flew fast and thick when the motion was placed before the meeting, some delegates considering the move drastic, other declaring themselves in favor because it put amateur hockey on a sound basis.

W. A. Frye of Dunnville, Ont., former President of the C.A.H.A., firmly stood behind the banning of amateur players mingling in pro. ranks. He declared that money and time were expended in developing amateur stars by the C.A.H.A., and it was not the organization's intention that these players should be snatched haphasardly from amateur hockey by professional clubs.

Vancouver Seeks Finals

Vancouver's plea for Allan Cup playdowns rumbled through the meeting. S. A. Jefford, British Columbia representative, backed his recommendation that Vancouver be allowed the finals of senior amateur hookey in Canada. Vancouver appealed for the simon-pure battles in the year preceding the Olympics, four years hence. Discussion on the subject was brief, and, following explanatory conversation between Jack Hamilton of Regina, President of the C.A.H.A. and Mr. Jefford, the recommendation was passed.

The recommendation's acceptance, however, does not give Vancouver the finals next year or any year before the Olympic meet, but it strengthens the position of the coast city and gives it preference when the subject comes before the annual meeting of the C.A.H.A. next year.

Mr. Hamilton informed the meeting it was not within the scope of the organization to allocate games to the coast city so far in advance. Mr. Jefford wished that Vancouver's request be taken under consideration, and Mr. Hamilton saw no objection.

Playing rules were again amended. Following prolonged debate, it was unanimously decided that kicking the puck during hockey games will be permitted from the defending goal line right up to the opposition's defense blue line, the 60-foot mark. It was the proposal of the organization of British Columbia that precipitated the discussion, and their motion was upheld. Heretofore kicking of the disc was allowed only in the defense zone.

Quebec's representatives injected argument on the forward pass. They wished a real interpretation of the rule to be officially made. The meeting decided to uphold the present rule permitting the forward pass only within the defensive zone.

Heavyweight Title Bout Is Still Without a Site

CLEVELAND, April 2.—Cleveland appeared last night to have the inside track in the bidding between Chicago, Detroit and this city for the heavyweight championship battle to be held probably July 3 between Champion Max Schmeling and W. L. ("Young") Stribling.

William E. Carey, President of Madison Square Garden Corporation, and Joe Jacobs, manager of the German title-holder, last night took under advisement the matter of selecting between Cleveland's mammoth downtown stadium, Chicago's huge Soldier Field, and Detroit's arena, after prolonged conferences with Cleveland officials.

It was said unofficially that differences over rental of Cleveland Stadium were the sole factors holding up a decision favoring it as the site.

'NEATH SUNNY SKIES

Spicy Bits of Baseball Gossip From Majors' Camps.

Babe Ruth's chivalry faced a severe test today at Chattanooga, Tenn. A gold watch has been offered for the first home run hit at Engel Stadium, and the Bambino would like to have it. But Miss Jackie Mitchell was scheduled to pitch for the Lookouts, and her heart's desire is to fan the Babe and make enough money to buy a roadster.

What to do?

The Phillies, with two of their most important regulars among the absentees, come back to the home lot today after five weeks in the south. Manager Shotton said the team was in fair shape for the coming series with the Athletics, but that wet weather had interferred with spring training. He had no word, he said, of any change in the status of Chuck Klein, outfielder, and Phil Collins, his best pitcher, both of whom are holdouts.

Winding up a training season at Charlotte, N.C., that has been somewhat unsatisfactory because of rainy weather, the first and second string Athletics will get away from North Carolina late today and head for home. The entire squad, which was split into two touring outfits a week ago, will get togetner enroute. They are due in Philadelphia Friday morning. Manager Mack said he expected both Simmons and Earnshaw, who have been training at Hot Springs, to be on hand for the city series with the Phillies, beginning tomorrow.

Manager Gabby Street at Bradenton, Fla., waxed enthusiastic over his aCrdinal infield today, and predicted it would go far in bringing another National League pennant to St. Louis.

While the same players compose the infield as a year ago, Gabby reasoned Charley Gelbert, still a youngster, would show continued improvement, and Sunny Jim Bottomley, handicapped last year by an injured hand, should do much better. Frankie Frisch still is the Fordham flash, and "Sparky" Adams, at third shows no signs of weakening.

BAILIEBORO MAY JOIN BALL LOOP

Possibility of Forming District League Discussed at Association Meeting.

DELEGATES APPOINTED.

BAILIEBORO, April 2 (Examiner Correspondence) — An enthusiastic meeting of the local Athletic Association was held in the hall on Monday evening to discuss the advisability of attempting to form a baseball league for the coming season.

The president A. Brown was in charge of the meeting and about fifteen members were present.

The advisability of joining the Northumberland O.B.A.A. league was discussed, and also the matter of attempting to form a league with Bethany, Millbrook, and Keene, seemed to meet with the majority of the members approval.

Alex Watt and A. Deyell were appointed delegates to look into the matter and attempt to find out if such arrangements could be made and also to attend the O.B.A.A. convention at the Empress Hotel on Saturday.

The local team was among the teams in the Northumberland league last season and almost won the Sam Clark trophy when they won second place in the league and gave Hastings a close race for first place.

W. Johnston, the sturdy local second base man won the trophy for hitting the most home runs of any player in the Northumberland league last year.

The boys also talked over the proposal of purchasing a new baseball equipment and new ball suits.

The Polish government will at once advance $8,000,000 to help in the renovation of old buildings and construction of new ones.

OPTIMISTIC FEELING PREVAILS REGARDING CONVENTION SUCCESS

H. R. H. Kenner, Gordon Matthews and R. M. Glover Will Speak at Banquet.

150-175 GUESTS.

The Reception and Entertainment Committee for the O.B.A.A. convention at the Empress Hotel Saturday held its final meeting last night and did a pile of work in the two hour session. A check-up on the work already done was made, and further plans to make the affair a big success were suggested and decided upon. Those present were: Bill Kay, chairman; Max Swanston, Bill Prindible, "Curly" Lebarr, Jack Deannard, Mike O'Brien, and Jim Coursey. Alex Kay and Charlie Curtis sent word that they would be unable to attend last night.

The list of speakers at the banquet Saturday noon was read out and passed upon. The Mayor will likely be chairman for the occasion and will officially welcome the O.B.A.A. executive and delegates. At this time, the huge key will be presented to Bob Elliott, president of the Association. The latter will reply to the Mayor's speech. Gordon Mathews is to give a talk on "General Sports" and R. M. Glover will speak on "Sister Sports." The main speaker for the occasion is H. R. H. Kenner. Probably a few of the other delegates will be called upon for a few words if time permits. Each speaker is allotted so much time so that the after-dinner speeches will not be dragged out too long.

The badges have been obtained and they should make good souvenirs for the visitors to take away. Alex Kay is chairman of the badge committee. The executive members will receive classy bronze buttons with the Lift Locks inscribed, besides a pair of crossed bats and a tiny baseball. To these buttons will be attached a white ribbon with the words "Ontario Baseball Amateur Association Executive. Peterborough, Annual meeting, 1931," printed on it. The local committee will wear a red ribbon with the same words, except that "Committee" will replace the word "Executive." The visiting delegates will be presented with bronze buttons.

Charlie Curtis will scee that a car is always available for any of the visitors wishing to travel about the city. He is chairman of the transportation committee. Two members, wearing their pins, will be at the C.P.R. and C.N.R. stations to meet delegates arriving on any of the trains Friday and Saturday.

Executive Meeting

The business meeting of the executive of the Association will be held in the Empress on Friday night. The regular annual meeting begins Saturday morning at ten o'clock. After the banquet, the meeting will be resumed and should be completed about the middle of the afternoon. The entertainment will commence then and continue through the evening. Some of the visitors will be leaving for home Saturday night, but many are expected to stay over the week-end.

The total number of guests expected for the luncheon is not known yet, but it should range from 150 to 175 persons. About 100 of them will be local citizens.

General satisfaction was expressed by all the members at last night's meeting on how things were shaping up, and confidence that they would put their end of the convention over all right was the attitude of everyone. A vote of thanks was given the Duffus Bowling Academy for the generous use of the Board Room to conduct all the meetings. Final plans to be completed by to-morrow night were made and the meeting was adjourned. There was an optimistic feeling shown by the different members of the Entertainment Committee, that promises to make this a great convention for the O.B.A.A.

CASUAL COMMENT

Belleville has a likely looking senior team lined up for the Central League race this year. The Mills brothers, the Weirs, "Hoot" Gibson and a flock of others will be available for the Quinte team. And they have several promising youngsters who will try out for a place, too.

• • • • • •

Oshawa is almost a sure entry in the C.O.B.L. also, but whether the fourth team will come from Kingston or be a Port Hope-Cobourg combination, is not known yet. But we'll get the inside on it before long now.

• • • • • • • •

The big boxing tournament at the Armouries will be run off a week from this Friday. Begins at eight o'clock and lasts about two hours Some ten bouts or so, and a wrestling match.

• • • • • •

Gord Garwood, boxing instructor, is going up to Lindsay over the week end to make final arrangements with the scrappers there who are coming down for the evening. There'll be about six Lindsay boys entered against the local boxers.

• • • • • •

A wrestler will also come to tackle Charlie Harris from here. They are welterweights, and have been training for some time. It's a long time since this town has seen a good pair of grapplers doing their stuff.

• • • • • •

Two Toronto mittsers have been obtained to go on in two main bouts with Reg. Lesurf, lightweight, and Lent Post, welter. Both of these boys are well known around here and are pretty fair ringmen.

• • • • • •

The executive committee of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association meets in Paris, Ont., to-night, and the general meeting will be held tomorrow. Three delegates and several others interested are going from here. It ought to be an interesting session.

• • • • • •

The city is putting up the banquet for this, the first O.B.A.A. Convention ever held east of Toronto. We hope the visitors will enjoy themselves so much in Peterborough that they'll want to come back again before long.

• • • • • •

The local list of guests who will attend the luncheon includes manufacturers, business men, aldermen, officers of various Peterborough clubs, both sporting and otherwise, former prominent athletes, and well-known sportsmen and followers of sports.

• • • • • •

The committee hopes to get a large banner with words of welcome painted on it to be hung across the street in front of the Empress on Saturday. It would be a nice finishing touch, all right.

• • • • • •

And look at the list of speakers obtained for the banquet! Mayor Denne, H. R. H. Kenner, Prexy Bob Elliot, Gordon Matthews, R. M. Glover, and probably a few other out-of-town guests.

• • • • • •

At the O.B.A.A. Entertainment Committee meeting last night much work was gone through. Surprising how many details have to be attended to in staging a big reception

• • • • • •

The next couple of days will be the hardest for the workers. After that, they'll have a rest coming. And a chance to do what they want to with their evenings again. That committee has certainly worked mighty hard to put the affair over, and they deserve a lot of thanks.

• • • • • •

And their vote of thanks last night to J. J. Duffus and to Bert for the free use of the Board Room to hold their meetings was a timely touch.

• • • • • •

Well, the big convention goes over the top on Saturday. The business meeting of the executive is on Friday night, and the annual meeting starts at ten o'clock on Saturday morning. It will resume after the banquet, and wind up some time through the afternoon.

TEN OF SIXTEEN CLUBS IN MAJOR LEAGUES RATED AS CONTENDERS

Braves Dark Horses in National—None in American League.

REDS AND SOX OUT

By FRED TURBYVILLE

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright, 1931)

BALTIMORE, April 2—The big leaguers are moving northward-homeward! April 14 is just around the corner and things are beginning to shape up for the sixteen clubs that comprise the major circuits.

Nine times out of ten the champion is a favorite to repeat in any sport and baseball is no exception. The A's and the Cards are favorites, but the odds are only about 3 to 2,9999, etc.

A lot of fans will argue that Washington right now appears stronger than the A's, and that the Cubs or Dodgers have it on the Cards.

Connie Mack has won two flags and two world's championships, but the greatest asset he has right now is the winning habit. No small asset to be sure.

He's short of good pitchers. Earnshaw and Grove are his aces, and what aces they are.

No other American league club can show a pair to compare with them. But sizing them up by staffs not by pairs and Washington looks better and so does Cleveland.

One star catcher, one star first-sacker and one star outfielder and you have pretty nearly told the story. Other contending teams in the American league have better infields and outfields. It is not so easy to say another team has a better catching staff, for one good man just about makes a catching staff and the A's have that man.

Class to Senators

Washington has a well balanced tea—good pitching, good hitting, smart and defensively strong.

Cleveland has good pitching, lots of good hitting and other bids.

Detroit is just about due to hit a fast pace. Stanley Harris has been shuffling his cards for some time, but he has a hand now that brings a smile. The Tigers will be fast, spectacular and very dangerous.

Joe McCarthy, with considerable reinforcements, will lead the Yankees into a higher final percentage than they enjoyed last year.

Only the Browns, White Sox and Red Sox seem out of it. The Browns may develop some speed. The White Sox have two great pitchers in Thomas and Lyons and one of the star outfielders of the game in Reynolds. The Red Sox have no claims at all.

Cards May Repeat

The Cards won last year after a poor start. With all the old material and quite a few newcomers, better luck and confidence that came with winning last year, they should be even better this year. And they probably are better, but they're facing a stronger field of contenders.

The Cubs have added strength and Hornsby may provide the spark that was missing through most of last year's campaign.

The Dodgers are bigger and better than last year and what a team they were then. The Pirates need only to shake the jinx to rate with the top-notchers of the league. They have the men.

The Giants are nearly always to be reckoned with. McGraw has added men and has made changes. He had a great team last year and the Giants of 1931 should be even stronger.

Reds Outclassed

Of the three remaining clubs the Braves are most likely to go places. Bill McKechnie showed an improved club last year and has not been asleep since last fall's curtain.

The Phils and Reds have been torn down until it will take a year or two to rebuild. They're out of the argument.

The writer would group them in this fashion:

American league: A's and Senators with equal chances for the flag; Indians and Yanks, with only slightly less prospects, and the White Sox, Browns and Red Sox in that order.

National league: Cards, Cubs and Dodgers, even choices; Pirates and Giants, prospects tied; Braves, a chance; Phils and Reds, next to hopeless.

But don't bet your money that way—stay until the game is over—till the last man's out!

VICTORY TO-NIGHT WILL BRING CANADIAN RE CORD TO WINNIPEG

But Seniors Face Hard Task in Subduing Tigers in Dominion Final.

Hamilton "Means Business."

WINNIPEG, Man., April 2. (CP)—Winner of more Canadian titles than any other city, Winnipeg to-day reached out for still greater laurels. No city has ever held Canada's senior and junior honors in the same year—and Winnipeg can record the achievement if Winnipegs snatch the Allan Cup by handing Hamilton Tigers a second straight defeat to-night. Winnipeg Elmwoods are now junior champions.

But Tigers, smarting under the 2 to 1 reverse handed out by the Flying Pegmen in the opener of the two-out-of-three-game series, are out to tie up the final. They plan to attempt to disorganize the Winnipegs' system earlier than they did in the last stages of the opening game—soon enough then o noch a single goal but too late to win!

On their showing in the first clash with the Eastern Kings, Winnipegs appeared to be at the top of the rising form they have exhibited in their struggle to the western title. As refutation to the claims that the Winnipegs will slip in the second game, their backers point out that the Manitobans have invariably either lost or tied the first game of their elimination series, only to come back and win the second.

Hamilton	position	Winnipeg
Marsh	goal	Cockburn
Farrell	defence	Sutherland
McKay	defence	Hinkel
McGown	centre	Simpson
Louch	wing	Rivers
Hayhoe	wing	Lindquist

Hamilton subs—Kane, Schwab, Litzen.

Winnipegs subs—Crowley, Wise, Garbutt.

INDIANS LEADING CUP CONTENDERS

Cleveland Club Has Chalked Up Three Victories and One Defeat.

IN OKE TROPHY BATTLE.

TORONTO, Ont., April 2 (C.P.) — While the round-robin series of games to decide this season's championship squad in the International Hockey League has not improved the attendance over play-off games of other years, it certainly has resulted in a wide-open dash for the title.

Cleveland Indians, present holders of the Oke trophy, titular emblem, are leading the other contenders with three victories and one defeat. To-night, however, the Ohio city outfit clash with the Buffalo Bisons at the Fort Erie rink, and it is quite likely a three-cornered tie will result, as a win for the Buffalonians will give them a similar record as possessed by the Clevelanders. And as Windsor Bulldogs are favored to conquer Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets, they too can chalk up three victories compared with one defeat.

The Bisons, who finished the regular season eight points in the van of the second place Bulldogs, displayed marked superiority over the Indians in the schedule games, and it will be somewhat of an upset if the Buffalonians fail to down their rivals to-night. The same teams meet again Saturday at Cleveland, where the Bisons will find the going tougher than at home.

Strong contenders for the championship, the Bulldogs will meet the Yellow Jackets on home ice before a capacity crowd. Each team has three home games in the series and the fans did not turn out any too enthusiastically in the first games, having in mind the fact they had two more chances to see their favorites.

Herbie Mitchell's fine team, led by Earl Robinson, who finished the schedule with 63 points, piled up through the medium of 44 goals and 19 assists, have revived hopes amogst Windsor fans of the league crown travelling to the Border City for the first time.

The Bulldogs have already trounced their strongest rivals, the Bisons and Indians. The Smoke Eaters have not yet won a game in four starts.

MAPLE SUGAR CAMP BURNED

OPERATIONS ABANDONED

LIFFORD LINE, April 2.—(Examiner Correspodence).—Mr. John McGee, who for years past has supplied a number of local customers with the fruits of the maple suffered an unusual misfortune on Tuesday night last.

Mr. McGee had been boiling the syrup the previous evening and left equipment in readiness for continuing the process the following morning. On his return, however, he was amazed to find that fire had broken out during the night and completely destroyed his large evaporator with the substantial building which enclosed it. About twelve gallons of syrup and several sap buckets were also included in the loss.

It was thought that an escaping spark was the cause of the outbreak, although no definite decision could be made. The disappointed owner brought home the remaining parts of his outfit and abandoned all hope of operation for the season.

Mr. W. Brierley Suffered with Kidney Trouble and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Port Elgin, Ont., April 2.—(Special).—"I feel I must write just a few lines to say what a wonderful medicine your Dodd's Kidney Pills are," writes Mr. W. Brierley, a well-known resident of this place. "For over a year I was very sick and took all kinds of medicines. I suffered with Kidney trouble and Inflammation of the Bladder. I was just on the point of going to the hospital when I thought I would try Dodd's Kidney Pills as a last resource. They seemed to do me good, so I continued and have now taken 25 boxes. LAKEFIELD LIBRARY CLOSED FOR WEEK

Board Takes Action as Result of Building Being Used for Loafing.

LAKEFIELD, April 2.—(Examiner Correspondence).—At a meeting of the Library Board, held on Tuesday night, it was decided to close the library for a week because it had been used and abused by those who sought a place to loaf and play in rather than a place to read quietly. Also it was decided that only juvenile books should be given to children. The Public Library is a community institution maintained by the taxpayers and by government grants and the upkeep is expensive and its abuse means that it will be closed for a time.

CAVAN MAILMAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

J. Bothwell Thrown Out and Dragged by Horse as Car Strikes Cart.

MOTORIST LENDS AID

CAVAN, April 2 (Examiner Correspondence) — On Saturday when Mr. J. Bothwell, rural mail carrier for lines seven and eight in Cavan, was finishing his route, he was struck by a car which attempted to pass him on the highway.

Mr. Bothwell was in a cart travelling north and his horse was trotting along easily. The car pulled out to pass him but the driver noticed a car coming south and pulled back again striking the cart. Mr. Bothwell was thrown to the ground and dragged quite a piece, before the lines broke and the horse got free.

He suffered cuts and bruises and his shoulder was hurt. His clothing was torn very badly, the harness broken, the horse hurt and the cart damaged. The mail was also badly damaged. An occupant of the car travelling south went to his assistance.

ASSOCIATES HONOR LAKEFIELD TEACHER

Miss Helen Hill Presented With Electric Iron on Eve of Marriage.

LAKEFIELD, April 2.—(Examiner Correspondence)—On Tuesday afternoon after the closing of the public school for the day the staff gathered in the principal's room for a social half hour in honor of Miss Eva Helen Hill, who has resigned her position on the staff.

Mr. T. W. Chaplin, principal of the public school, made a graceful speech offering Miss Hill the best wishes of the staff on the occasion of her marriage and Miss Kennedy presented her with an electric iron as a tangible evidence of the esteem and kindly wishes of the staff. Miss Hill was taken by surprise but replied, expressing her thanks and appreciation of this rememberance from her associates.

Contracts Renewed.

At a meeting held on Monday evening for the Chautauqua committee and others interested it was decided to renew the contract for 1932.

W. I. Meets.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Institute will be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon, April 8th. There will be a good program, also an exchange of bulbs, seeds and slips and of apron patterns.

KEELER FAMILY EARLY SETTLERS

Early History of Colborne Centres Around United Empire Loyalists.

BUILT NORWOOD MILL

TRENT RIVER, April 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—The early history of the village of Colborne centres around three members of the Keeler family, the grandfather, father and son, all bearing the same Christian name. The oldest of the trio was the first to settle in this district, coming from Vermont in 1789. Four years later he brought a group of 40 settlers with him, among whom was Greeley, the surveyor. Under the supervision of Keeler and Greeley a saw mill, a flour mill, a distillery and a carding and woollen mill were built near the mouth of Keeler's Creek, now Colborne Harbor.

The pioneer's son carried on the settlement and construction work already commenced. He was merchant, postmaster, Justice of the Peace, and at that time the most important person in the locality. He laid out a public square and gave free sites to the different churches. Keeler also built the first flour and saw mills at Norwood, Castleton and Cramahe.

Joseph Keeler, grandson of the first settler, represented East Northumberland in the Dominion Parliament from Confederation until 1873. He established the first newspaper and printing office at Colborne. He was a major in the Militia, and owned a large amount of property in the district. During Mr. Keeler's time the port became an important shipping center; there were two wharves, one owned by Mr. Keeler and the other by Mr. Campbell, descendant of an early settler. Many substantial buildings were erected in the village and a public hall was built near the Standard Bank. This bank was the first to settle in Colborne, and was under the management of J. B. Cummins. At this time Addison Vars was the village clerk and Mr. Grover was the registrar.

Keeler's newspaper, "The Transcript," was later supplanted by "The Watchman," edited by the young Steeles. This paper in time became known as "The Express" and was owned and edited by Mr. Keys.

Some of the buildings of Colborne date back to the early part of the nineteenth century. The Post Office was established in 1815 when a small store was opened. Besides the bank, built in 1873, and the Registry Office, Colborne had a number of good stores and well-built churches. The Presbyterians erected a stone edifice in 1830; the Anglicans built a frame church in 1844; and brick structures were started for the Wesleyan Methodists in 1863 and the Methodist Episcopalians in 1869. The united Grammar School buildings were also constructed of brick. There two Masonic Lodges and a chapter in the village. Two grist mills and tanneries provided the manufacturing activities of the town.

Dr. Barnardo Society Holds Weekly Meeting

The Dr. Barnardo Boys and Girls Club held their meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John West, 132 Perry street, last evening. The president Frank Degan presided as chairman. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary. The Sick Committee reported visiting Frank Degan on Sunday, as he was sick at that time.

It was decided that the Club members wear a button instead of a ribbon to designate their organization. Letters were read from J. Webb, president of the old Toronto club, wishing the newly formed club every success.

All former officers of the Club were given a vote of confidence. It was decided that the ladies should all be on the Social Committee to take charge of the social evenings. John West was elected chaplain. It was also determined that business and social meetings should be alternated. The meeting was closed by thanking Mr. and Mrs. West for the use of their home, and the singing of God Save the King.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Allen, 199 Perry street and will take the form of a social evening.

The time has come for every business man and woman in the city of Peterborough to rally around the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce banner.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 28 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The sound of his voice brought every head erect. Wide-eyed the children viewed him an instant, then with screams of terror fled toward the village. To the alarm came a score of warriors with hastily snatched spears. The boy halted, the glad smile fading from his face as with wild shouts the warriors ran toward him. Akut called to him to turn back. Instead, he raised his hand in a gesture of peace. A shower of spears answered it.

The missiles struck all about the boy, but none touched him. Again his spine tingled and the short hairs on his neck bristled. His eyes narrowed. Sudden hatred flared in them to wither the glad friendliness that had lighted them a moment before. With a low snarl, quite similar to a baffled beast, he turned and ran into the jungle. Akut awaited him in a tree. The wise old ape urged flight, knowing the sinewy black warriors would search for them.

But the son of Tarzan held back. Rage and hatred now consumed him. He wanted to fight yet he knew he could not meet these armed men with his naked hands. Moving slowly through the trees he could hear below him the savages advancing with shouts and cries. For a mile or so he followed above them. At last they turned back. One young warrior dropped behind his companions as they went down the narrow trail. A grim smile lit the boy's face.

Swiftly he hurried forward until he moved almost above the unsuspecting black, stalking him as Sheeta, the panther, stalks his prey. Suddenly and silently he leaped forward and downward upon the warrior's broad shoulders. As he landed, hurling the black heavily to the ground, his fingers sought and found the man's throat. The warrior struggled frantically in vain effort to dislodge the grim, silent thing clinging to him.

Hidden in the bush at one side of the trail, safe from the eyes of the searchers should they miss their fellow and return for him, the lad choked the life from his victim. Then a strange desire seized him. His whole being quivered and trilled. Involuntary he leaped to his feet and placed one foot upon the body of his kill. He raised his face to the heavens to voice a strange, weird cry surging within him.

But no sound passed his lips—he just stood there a full minute, his face uplifted, his chest heaving to his pent motions, like a statue of vengeance. The silence that marked the first great kill of the son of Tarzan was to typify all his future kills—just as the hideous victory cry of the bull-ape marked the kills of his mighty sire, Tarzan of the Apes. Akut, meantime, had turned back to search for the boy.

Soon the ape was startled to see a strange figure moving through the trees. It was the boy, yet could it be? In his hand was a long spear, down his back hung an oblong shield. On his arm and ankle were bands of brass and iron, while around his middle was twisted a loin cloth. A knife was thrust through its folds. The old ape could scarcely believe his eyes. The boy hastened forward and proudly recounted the details of his exploit.

They made a detour around the hostile village. Now for days the boy practiced with his spear until he gained a proficiency only attained by youthful muscles. Under Akut's guidance he came to know every jungle spoor and know the different beasts by scent. His nose could tell whether up-wind there were two lions or four. Much more the ape taught him—but far more was a species of intuition inherited from his father. He had come to love the jungle life.

OBITUARY

James Ball died suddenly last night at his home, 44 George street. The deceased was born in England 57 years ago, but has lived in Peterborough for the past 30 years. He has been an employee of J. J. Turner and Sons for the past 29 years, and at the time of his death he was one of the cutters. Surviving him are his wife; three daughters, Lillian and Violet of this city and Mrs. E. Stevenson of Hamilton, and four sons, Albert of Peterborough, Fred and Harold of Hamilton, and Thomas of Detroit.

The funeral will take place from his late home at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with Rev. E. A. Moorehouse of St. James United Church officiating. Interment will be made in Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPH WELLWOOD.

The death occurred Wednesday evening at 11 o'clock, of Mrs. Joseph Wellwood at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Sproat, 264 Stewart street. The late Mrs. Joseph (nee Margaret Jane) Wellwood, was born 89 years ago in Trafalgar County, and has reseided in Peterborough for several years. She leaves to mourn her passing eleven sons and three daughters.

The funeral service will be held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Sproat, at 7.30 this evening, and Rev. Wm. McDonald of Knox United Church will officiate. The remains will be taken to Dundalk, Ontario, for interment on Friday.

JOSEPH BRYAN.

In the passing away of the late Joseph Bryan, recently, at the age of 52, Hope Township lost one of its worthy sons. He was a man of sterling qualities, a friend to all who knew him.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Bryan, pioneer settlers of Hope Township. On February 5, 1907, he was married to Sarah Mellisia Kennedy of Cavan. To this happy union five children were born, of which four survive.

The funeral was largely attended, and interment was made in Bewdley Cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Lane, pastor of the deceased, had charge of the solemn and impressive service at the house and grave.

The pall-bearers were six nephews of the deceased: Arthur Bryan, Kenneth Thurtle, Gerald Thurtle, Sam. Elmer, John Lunn, and Will Lunn.

MRS. VALENTINE BEST

Mrs. Valentine Best died at 1.30 this morning in her 82nd year after a short illness. Mrs. Best, formerly Jemima Moore, was born in Emily Township on February 28, 1846. She has lived in Peterborough for the past 49 years, and at the time of her decease lived at 213 Brock street. Her husband died April 1, 1906. Mrs. Best is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Fee, and two sisters, Miss Jane Moore and Mrs. S. H. Best, all of this city.

The funeral will take place from her late residence at 2 p.m., Saturday. Rev. William Allan of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will conduct the service and interment will be made in Little Lake Cemetery.

DEATH.

EDWARDS.—At Zion, Hope Township, on Wednesday, April 1, 1931, Agness McKinstry, beloved wife of the late William Edwards, mother of Mrs. W. J. McCullough and the late Capt. Gilbert Edwards, M.C., in her 80th year.

Funeral service will be held at the family residence, Lot 29, Con. 4, Hope, on Saturday afternoon, April 4, at 2.30 o'clock. Interment at Zion Cemetery. Flowers gratefully declined.

IN MEMORIAM.

NEW FUR STORE TO OPEN HERE

REMODELLING DEPARTMENT.

On Tuesday morning of next week Peterborough will have an addition to its retail stores with the opening of the Reliable Furriers Company on their new premises, 461 George Street, near the Y.M.C.A.

The business will be in charge of P. Phillips, of Toronto, who has disposed of a similar store in Toronto to open up here. Mr. Phillips has had twenty-five years' experience as a fur dealer, and it is his intention to offer quality goods to those doing their shopping in this city.

In addition to carrying a good stock of finished coats, Mr. Phillips has established a fur remodelling department and is prepared to begin this service at once. He will also store furs during the summer months.

The store has been newly decorated inside and out, and Mr. Phillips extends an invitation to the public to inspect his goods on the opening day and to make his acquaintance.

Edinburgh, Scotland, will equip its firemen's bus with safety glass and an escape ladder.

CANADA'S GOVERNOR GENERAL ARRIVES

SUNDAY BALL IS BANNED IN BORDER AREA

Several Amendments and Resolutions Dealt With at Opening Session of Convention.

HAVE SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

Membership of Association for 1929 Totals 58 Leagues and 279 Clubs.

Eighteen of the leagues that comprise the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association were represented at the opening session of the association's thirteenth annual meeting which convened at the Empress Hotel this morning with the President, R. A. Elliott of Deloro, in the chair. Forty-four delegates and executive members were present.

The importance and progress of the O.B.A.A. was reflected in the annual report of the secretary, W. J. Snyder of Hamilton, showing a total membership last year of 58 leagues and 279 clubs, an increase over 1929 of 16 leagues and 85 clubs. During the year certificates were issued to 7,700 players, an increase of approximately 2,000 for the year.

Mr. Snyder's statement summarizing the splendid recovery of the O.B.A.A. under the administration of Mr. Elliott and his associates was unanimously adopted with prolonged applause expressing the satisfaction of the delegates, not only with development of amateur baseball throughout the province last year but also the prospects of improving the present flourishing condition during the season that will soon be opening.

Sunday Ball Banned

Towards the noon adjournment various amendments and resolutions were dealt with, one of them restoring the Association's policy of prohibiting Sunday baseball within its jurisdiction. Influenced perhaps by the current trend of retrenchment the association reduced the fees for umpires in senior and intermediate championship play-offs.

Welcomed By Mayor.

Mayor Denne greeted the delegates with a cordial welcome as a pleasant preface to the opening session this morning. After extolling the successful work of President Elliott and his colleagues in the promotion of amateur baseball in Ontario, and with a reference to Peterborough's industrial stability and its interest in sport Mayor Denne wished the delegates a successful canvention and invited the delegates to return when the city is in its summer bloom.

"We are happy to come to Peterborough," Mr. Elliott said acknowledging the city's welcome. "The idea of transferring our annual meetings to different parts of the province as a stimulus of interest in amateur baseball has been realized, I believe, by the attendance here to-day."

W. J. Smith, Toronto, a past president and life member, presented the association with a gavel, which Mr. Elliott gratefully received on behalf of the O.B.A.A., and requested Mr. Smith to use it for the first time by summoning the meeting to order.

President's Address

Mr. Elliott's address as president was as follows:

Once each year it is our privilege to meet together and discuss the welfare of amateur baseball in the province of Ontario. We will have a luncheon recess when you will be addressed by a number of prominent men, and as we have considerable work on our agenda, my remarks will be very brief.

Amateur baseball, during the season of 1930, staged a come-back with more players, a greater number of leagues and increased attendance. Credit for this revived activity and interest is due to the hard work of your executive and you men who are assembled here to-day.

Two important changes in amateur baseball were introduced and tried out during the past season.

Huge Trade Credit To Be Given Soviet

MOSCOW, April 4.— (C.P.)— The Soviet Commission which will leave here after Easter under the leadership of George Piatakov, for Berlin to sign the final agreement for a $75,000,000 trade credit for 1931 is seen here as one of the first steps by the Russian Government to break what it believes is an economic blockade plot.

It is also a move to obtain finances which are much needed for the completion of the five year plan.

Canada's new Governor General, who was sworn in at Halifax to-day by the Deputy Administrator, the Hon. E. L. Newcombe.

General Shortening Of Working Hours

BERLIN, April 4.— (A.P.)—Chancellor Beuning's Commission appointed to study a remedy for Germany's unemployment problem to-day suggested two partial solutions—general shortening of working hours and prohibiting of public servants from engaging in side jobs.

The commission which is headed by the former Minister of Labor, Heinrich Brauns, believed that shortening of working hours would afford an opportunity for at least part time work to many who are now out of jobs. The commission recommended that where industries proved recalitrant to the plan the government be empowered to fix the hours of work.

The commission urged also that all civil servants be prohibited from accepting remunerative jobs outside their regular civil service.

CIVIC WELCOME IS GIVEN O.B.A.A. AT BIG BANQUET

BIG KEY IS PRESENTED.

Alderman Mel. Turner Chairman of Reception Committee Presides.

A real Peterborough welcome, the warmth and sincerity of which could not be gainsaid was afforded the executive and delegates to the annual Ontario Baseball Amateur Association Convention to-day.

The civic welcome, taking the form of a banquet at the Empress Hotel this noon and presided over by Alderman E. M. Turner, chairman of the reception committee of the City Council, comprised one of the most representative gatherings of sportsmen which has been held here in many years.

The members of the City Council, whose guests the ballplayers were, rolled up in full force, along with His Worship Mayor Roland Denne. City Clerk S. R. Armstrong and the City Tax Collector, W. J. Green, himself an old ball-player, were also present.

Following the toast to "The King," the chairman introduced the officers of the Association as follows: W. J. Smith, life member; W. J. Snyder, life member; A. Hillmer, immediate past president; R. A. Elliott, president; C. K. Jutten, 1st vice-president; W. A. Smith, 2nd vice-president; P. M. Kennedy, Governor Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, and the executive committee, Messrs. A. J. Walsh, H. C. Maguire, J. W. Scott, N. A. Taylor, R. G. Fraser and William Kay.

In addition to the members of the City Council and the delegates themselves, there was a wide representation of prominent citizens, including J. F. Strickland, K.C., M.L.A., and members of the various civic departments, the local Chamber of Commerce and heads of various industries.

Throughout the dinner, which from an epicurean standpoint, left nothing to be desired, and which was of the usual high standard for which the Empress is locally famous, Rick Roberts and his Melody Men dispensed a lively program of music.

Large Key Is Presented.

His Worship Mayor Denne presented a large gold-plated key, em-

Easter Greeting

ANCIENT CUSTOMS OF EASTER DAY WILL BE REVIVED TOMORROW

Though we look upon Easter Day as a Day of prayer—a day on which nearly 2000 years ago, Christ was resurrected from the dead—nevertheless, Easter has many quaint customs which are not in any was associated with the religious rites of the day. For instance the Easter Lily, shown in (1)—if you look for them and not at the pretty girl—is blamed upon the florist, though really they are a symbol of purity, and therefore a symbol of Christ. In the case of the Chick (2) we must add that in the case of Easter at any rate, the egg came before the chicken. At first mythologists tried to prove that the bunny laid the egg, but failing this they simply had to add the cute little chick instead of a straggly old hen. Eggs used to be colored red in the old days as a symbol of the blood of Christ, and this probably accounts for the artist in (3) who, however decided she wants a more elaborately colored egg. Easter is, by the way, the Goddess of Spring.

Bandits Relieve Banker of $10,000 And One Also Makes Use of the Bath Tub

MUDELEIN, Ill., Apr. 4. — Marshal Clayton Tiffany was in a thoughtful mood today as he considered his clues in the case of the $10,000 robbery of the state bank of Mudelein.

They included:

1.—A pair of fancy blue-striped "shorts" belonging to Milan G. Mott, the bank's cashier, which one of the four bank bandits donned after he had taken a bath in Mr. Mott's home.

2.—A dark circle which the robber left in Mr. Mott's bath tub.

"Is there any reason why I shouldn't go upstairs and take a bath?" the fastidious bandit asked while his three companions were holding Mr. Mott and the members of his family captive in the Mott home.

"An expert, with a microscope," Marshal Tiffany laughingly said, "might get some idea of the brazen personality of the fellow by taking a look at that ring."

County police searched the neighborhood for traces of the four robbers, without results. They stole the money when they took Mr. Mott to the bank yesterday, making themselves at home in his residence all night.

SHIP GOES DOWN CREW ALL SAVED

British Vessel and Coast Guard Collide Off New England Coast.

INQUIRY IS OPENED.

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 4 (C.P.)—The oil screw vessel Symor from Nova Scotia sank last night near the Nantucket Shoals light vessel following a collision with the Coastguard patrol boat Legare. The crew of the British vessel was saved.

News of the collision reached here to-day with the arrival of the Legare which had aboard it the crew of the Symor. Aubrey Bachman of Lunenburg, N.S., was master of the British vessel.

An inquiry into the collision was ordered by Commander M. J. Ryan, chief of staff of the Coastguard destroyer force.

For the past several days, the Coastguard said, the Symor was in the vicinity of Nantucket Shoals and during much of that time had been trailed by the destroyer Wainwright. The destroyer was later relieved by the Legare. The Symor was reported to be about 90 feet long. The Legare is a 125 footer.

The board of investigation into the accident was not expected to complete its work until to-night.

Captain Bachman and other members of the Symor's crew were told by the Coastguard that they could attend the hearing and could offer testimony if so desired.

Earl Bessborough Takes Usual Oath At Halifax House

Canada's New Governor-General is Sworn in by Deputy Administrator Newcombe Before Canadian Leaders of Church and State.

PREMIER BENNETT AND 14 MEMBERS OF CABINET ARE PRESENT AT MOST IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Bond is Renewed Between Britain and Canada, Between Subject and King—Deep Voiced Guns Announced Royal Proclamation.

(By Charles Bruce, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

HALIFAX, N. S., Apr. 4.—At noon today the deep-voiced guns of Citadel Hill announced to Canadians the proclamation of a new Governor General. Within the weathered grey stone walls of Province House, where three of his predecessors took oath of service as their sovereign's representative, Vere Brabazon Ponsonby, Earl of Bessborough, stood in the presence of Canada's people to renew the bond between Britain and Dominion, between subject and king.

The sharp rhythm of the royal salute, thrice given to mark the beginning and the end of the mile-long procession from pier to council chamber, and renewal of the journey to the terminals, the blazing roars of military music, the formal splendor of dress uniforms, and the sober garb of the civil legislators made the ceremony representative of British tradition through and through, as the new governor general took up his trust under the eye of dominion, provincial and civic governments. Then, in nineteen iron words from the lowering citadel, came final pronouncement in the age-old voice of empire.

14 Of Cabinet Present.

Seated about the old council table as Earl Bessborough heard his commission read, signed the oath book, accepted the great seal of Canada and handed it back to the Secretary of State "for safe-keeping, were fourteen members of the Dominion Government, headed by Prime Minister the Right Honorable Richard Bedford Bennett. At the left of the dais from which the Earl stepped down to assume his high office were his Countess and representatives of the armed forces, others of whom stood at the right with the Earl's secretary. On either side the council table were the Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia and his lady, judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, the Deputy Administrator of the Dominion Government, the Provincial Premier and his Cabinet.

Addresses of welcome from the Prime Minister, Provincial Premier Gordon S. Harrington, and Mayor Louis Gastenguay were read to Their Excellencies when six bars of "God Save the King" had concluded the official oath-taking and proclamation. But first, Miss Mildred Bennett presented a bouquet of flowers to the Countess, and following Premier Bennett's address, Mrs. Harrington presented a floral tribute from the women of Nova Scotia. The Earl of Bessborough replied in fitting terms to each of the three formal welcoming addresses.

The assembly rose. The procession reformed for the journey back to the terminals, where their excellencies held a reception. They were to leave for Ottawa by special train at four o'clock.

The new governor-general's first contact with Canada to-day occurred at half past ten when the Honorable E. L. Newcombe, deputy administrator, Rt. Hon. Mr. Bennett, and Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state, went aboard th Duchess of Bedford to pay their suite landed to be received on hour later the Earl and Countess and their suite landed to be recived on the pier by the deputy and administrator Lieutenant Governor Frank Stanfield the prime minister and cabinet members, the premier and minister of the government of Nova Scotia, naval, military and air officers.

Saluted from Port

A salute of nineteen guns was fired from the citadel as the earl reach-

ARSENAL BEATS CHELSEA 2 TO 1 ENGLISH LEAGUE

HOTSPURS FALL 3-0.

Partick and Motherwell Battle to Scoreless Tie in Stottish League.

LONDON, April 4 (C.P. Cable). — Arsenal took a long lead in the race for the championship of the English soccer league, first division, in their matches yesterday and to-day. Good Friday they picked up a point for drawing with Portsmouth, and to-day they added two more for a fine win over Chelsea. Aston Villa, runners-up, lost ground when they were crushed at Portsmouth by five goals to nil to-day.

In the second division Tottentham Hotspurs, needing all the points they can accumulate to hold their lead in second place behind Everton to gain promotion at the end of the season, failed badly. They could only get a draw at home on Good Friday against Cardiff City, the bottom club in the table, and were beaten to-day at Port Vale. West Bromwich Albion, chasing the 'Spurs, while beaten yesterday at Port Vale, won to-day at home against Notts Forest and strengthened their position.

Deadlock Broken

The deadlock between Lincoln City and Tranmere Rovers at the top of the table of the Northern section of the third division was broken to-day when Lincoln City won from Carlisle United and the Rovers were trounced by Hull City.

In the Scottish first division, Rangers overhauled Motherwell, who were in the lead last week, when they beat Morton, while the Cup finalists could only draw against Partick Thistle.

Thirty thousand saw Portsmouth on their own grounds hold the Arsenal on Good Friday. Bastin netted for the Londoners twelve minutes from time. Easson snatched the equalizer three minutes from the whistle.

DAWN OF EASTER DAY BRINGS REVIVAL OF ANCIENT CUSTOMS

Day of Resurrection Was Once Day of Celebration by Heathen Races.

CUSTOMS ARE PAGAN

"Christ the Lord is Risen today! Hallelujah! Hallelujah!"

To-morrow Christians everywhere will echo these famous and holy words. Countless millions will rise and sing this praise to Him Who was crucified; to Him who was the King of the Jews, the Saviour of the race, the Son of God.

For to-morrow is Easter. Less than nineteen hundred years ago, an Angel of the Lord came unto Mary, who was weeping at the empty tomb of Jesus, and said unto her, "Christ is Risen!" and there was great rejoicing, for He was risen that the world might have everlasting life. "Like as I die, and rise to life again, so shall you die and rise to life again."

And yet, strange though it may seem, on Easter, we celebrate not only a Holy Day, but a day held sacred by the heathens of old—by pagans who roamed the earth long before the coming of Jesus of Nazareth. The word "Easter" has no connection, other than in tradition, with the Resurrection of Christ. For did not the heathen Saxons call upon Ostara, or Easter, the goddess of Spring, and invoke her blessings on the harvest for the coming year? They held festivals and feasts in her honor, and brought with them the sacred hare, or bunny or rabbit. It was, in truth a day of thanksgiving, of thanksgiving in advance for they thanked the goddess for the harvest to come.

Thus the holy day of Easter falls on a day held as sacred by the heathens—and for very similar reasons. For our Easter, too, is a day of thanksgiving.

Set By Parliament.

Easter Day now is gazetted by an act of parliament. But traditions sets

Playwright Coughs To Woman Bandit

CHICAGO, Ill., April 4.—(C.P.) Should Crane Gilbert, Chicago playwright, ever want to do a melodrama he has an episode from real life available.

He told a police sergeant about it, hoping the police would be able to add a final chapter.

"I was walking home, he said and saw a woman who seemed to be in distress. As I walked to her I took off my hat and asked what I could do to help her.

"She said I could help her best by giving her what money I had and drew a pistol. I gave it to her—$38."

"Is that all she took?" inquired the sergeant.

"No," siad the playwright, "I almost forgot to tell you. She took my $1,200 diamond ring, too."

Condemned Slayer Dies In His Cell

MONTREAL, April 4.— (C.P.)— Maxime Ethier, convicted murderer, died in his cell at the Montreal Jail last night, a heart attack, followed by paralysis, proving fatal. Ethier was to have been hanged on June 19 for the murder of Lucien Levesque, fellow employee of the Montreal Tramways, who was found in a clothes cupboard in Ethier's home with three bullet wounds in his body. Ethier attempted to commit suicide by shooting at the same time that Levesque was killed, but careful attention in hospital brought him around, and late last month he stood trial in the Court of King's Bench. For a year he had suffered from a serious disease and complications yesterday brought on a a heart attack.

Graceful Reference is Made to the French Blood of Her Excellency.

SPECIAL UNDERSTANDING.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 4.—(By the Canadian Press.) —Loyalty to the Crown and loyalty to the Dominion, strength from the past and faith in the future, were expressed to-day as the Earl of Bessborough was welcomed in formal addresses by the Dominion, province and city, and he replied to each in fitting terms. The addresses were marked by graceful references to the French blood of Her Excellency. "We believe it is given to her to especially understand the strength of that bond between the British people and her own, which makes them forever co-workers in the great cause of Canadian progress," said the Prime Minister.

The place of Canada in the commonwealth, and the history of Nova Scotia and Halifax were touched on in the Governor General's reply.

The address of welcome delivered by Rt. Hon. R. C. Bennett was:

"Your Excellency:

"On behalf of the government and people of the Dominion of Canada, I have the great honor of extending to Your Excellency and Lady Bessborough a sincere welcome to our country.

"Sixty-four years ago the people upon the northern half of this continent began the union which from then to now has been the bed-rock of our fortunes. The intervening years have completed that federation.

Vice-Regal Party To Attend Service

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 4.—(C.P.)—A little church in Newcastle, N.B., will be the first in Canada in which the Earl of Bessborough will worship. There at 11 o'clock Easter morning the Church of England Easter Holy Communion service will begin with the singing of the hymn, "Jesus Christ Has Risen To-day." An Easter sermon will be preached by the rector, Rev. W. J. Bate, who has been in New Brunswick almost 40 years but was born in Plymouth, Devonshire, England.

Japanese Explain Shooting Of Russian

TOKYO, April 4.—(A.P.)—Government officials denied to-day an anti-Soviet campaign was carried on here as Moscow asserted in a protest note regarding the shooting and wounding of Paul Anikeieff, Soviet counsellor to Japan, March 16.

The Foreign Office said an investigation indicated the attempt on the life of Anikeieff was of no political significance and had nothing to do with a fisheries dispute.

The spokesman said Nobukatsu, who wounded Anikeieff was a disgruntled concession hunter, who lived for years at Vladivostok. Baron Shidehara, Foreign Minister, will reply next week to the Moscow protest.

Reds Of Labor Party Meet In Conference

SCARBOROUGH, England, April 4 (C.P.). — The annual conference of the Independent Labor Party, purely Socialistic propaganda unit of the British Labor Party, opened today under the chairmanship of James Maxton.

The Independent Labor Party ranks consider the meeting the most momentous since the Great War, and efforts will be made to bring about complete severance from the National Labor Party, with which it has had strained relations for some time. It was not thought likely that these efforts would succeed.

A minor but interesting issue was the position of the party's members toward the new party of Sir Oswald Mosley.

25 Smugglers Battle Police Force

TWO OFFICERS ARE WOUNDED BY SMUGGLERS

400 CASES OF LIQUOR.

Officers Had Been Keeping Nightly Watch Upon House.

FALMOUTH, Mass., April 4 (C. P.). — Two Falmouth police officers were wounded late last night during a gun battle with 25 barricaded rum-smugglers which ended early to-day when the police withdrew because of a shortage of ammunition.

Chief of Police William A. Mercer was cut on the hand and Sergeant Roy S. Conant was shot in the arm. Neither was seriously hurt.

The smugglers leaped from the windows of the house in which they had barricaded themselves and escaped into the woods as the policemen beat a retreat to replenish their exhausted supply of ammunition. What the casualties of the smugglers may have been was not known.

Found Liquor in Garage

Two wounded officers, with a third, had been keeping a nightly watch on the house for several nights. Late last night the trio entered a garage at the rear and found 400 cases of liquor.

Officer Arthur F. Hamilton had been sent for a truck to transport the liquor when the firing opened.

The smugglers and police saw each other at almost the same moment and hundreds of shots were fired as the rum runners fled into the house and the police sought the safety of the trees surrounding the building. The police ammunition was exhausted before Hamilton returned.

The house situated at Wild Harbor beach, is easily accessible from the sea. While state troopers beat the woods in the vicinity early today, a watch was set along the coast to prevent their escape by boat.

QUEBEC, Que., April 4. (CP)—Struck by an automobile as he was crossing Grand Allee last night, Judge Albert Sevigny of the superior court and former cabinet minister in the Borden government was still unconscious at St. Sacrament hospital this morning. His condition is serious.

The jurist was accompanied by Judge Antonin Gatipeault, who managed to avoid the automobile that struck down Judge Sevigny.

Beat Shires But Flees From Wife

CHICAGO, Ill., April 4. — George Trafton, who weighs down the centre of the Chicago Bears' football line with his 230 pounds and pummeled the "Great" Arthur Shires in his prize ring debut, asked the courts to divorce him from his 110 pound wife today because she is cruel to him.

Trafton lost a ring battle to Primo Carnera and informed the court he had also lost to Mrs. Myce S. Trafton, charging that she beat him with a ginger ale chair and carving knife at him.

They were married June 4, 1929, bottle, kicked him and tossed a at Winona, Minn., and separated last December.

BODY OF HIGGINS FOUND ON PRAIRIE

Regina Insurance Man Has Been Missing Since August, 1930.

SUICIDE IS FEARED.

REGINA, Sask., April 4.—(C.P.)—The body of Wilfred Higgins, Regina insurance man missing since August, 1930, was discovered about six miles easth of the city yesterday by three boys who were on a cycling trip. The body, badly decomposed, was lying out on the open prairie in a secluded spot. A bottle, believed to have fell contained carbolic acid, was found beside it.

Pending a report from the Provincial analyst, to whom the bottle will be submitted no decision regarding an inquest has yet been made.

New Land Discovered In Arctic Regions

OSLO, Norway, Apr. 4. —(AP)—Captain Daehli, Norwegian government whaling inspector who returned today from visiting the herding grounds of the North Atlantic, claimed to have discovered a hitherto unknown land with lofty lofty peaks in the Arctic regions.

The land, he said, day between longgitudes 27 and 72 west, an area which includes most of Greenland, Baffin Bay, and the east coast of Baffin Land already.

Daehli told Tidens Tegn, Oslo daily that he had noted the exact position of the territory on maps and had taken photographs, but he refused to divulge its exact position. All details and documents have been handed to the Norwegian government.

BOY KILLED IN FALL

VICTORIA, B.C., April 4. (CP)—Slipping from the top of a high rock to the dry bed of Tugwell creek, near here yesterday, Ernest Chisholm, 15, of this city, fell to instant death. Chisholm with a younger brother was on a fishing expedition when the accident occurred.

LINGLE'S SLAYER IS GIVEN 14 YEARS BY CHICAGO JURY

TAKES VERDICT CALMLY.

Civic Leaders Hail Result as a Blow to Chicago's Gangland.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 4 (C.P.). — The responsibility for the murder of Alfred Lingle was placed to-day on the broad shoulders of Leo V. Brothers through his conviction by a jury which decided on 14 years' imprisonment as his punishment.

Breaking what appeared to be a hopeless deadlock, the jury in Judge Joseph Sabath's Court found the tall, blonde St. Louis gangster guilty of the crime late yesterday afternoon, and gave him the lightest sentence possible under Illinois law. Twenty-seven hours of stormy deliberation preceded the verdict Defence Will Appeal.

Thus ended the first big gangland case to reach a jury in Chicago, but there were indications that the legal fight to save Brothers was not over, as defence counsel announced they would ask for a new trial, and said they felt confident a rehearing would be granted. They described the result as a compromise. April 17 was fixed as the date for hearing their arguments.

"We have by no means given up hope of proving that Brothers had nothing to do with the Lingle murder," said Louis Piquett, one of Brothers' attorneys.

Civic leaders, on the other hand, hailed the result as a blow to Chicago gangs, and the prosecuting attorneys said they were satisfied that the verdict was just. Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the State's Attorney's office, was also pleased. "The verdict," said Roche, "should stand as a rebuke to the hostile interests of Chicago, which have continually attempted to impede and obstruct our investigation. Throughout the long investigation we have been assailed and embarrassed by those who wished us ill, and their efforts, marked by the spreading of much false propaganda, have been defeated only because we had a firm foundation in truth and justice."

Takes Verdict Calmly.

Brothers himself took the verdict

George was born when his father was 65 years old. Two children were born after him, the younger, a girl when the father was 75 years old.

SPECIAL RITUAL COMMEMORATES HOLY SATURDAY

Curtain of Lenten Mourning That Has Hung Over World Lifted To-day.

PRIESTS ORDAINED.

ROME, Italy, April 4 (C.P.)—The curtain of Lenten mourning that for forty days has hung over this mother city of the Roman Catholic Church lifted to-day.

Silent since Thursday morning, church bells at noon rang out joyously, organs pealed, and black or purple coverings fell from the statues and crucifixes in the churches in rejoicing at Christ's resurrection.

New Fire is Blessed

Holy Saturday was commemorated in Rome by special ritual in addition to the regular Mass. In the Cathedral of Rome, St. John Lateran, Cardinal Pompili, Vicar-General of the Diocese, blessed the new fire. And in St. Peter's, Vatican City, the Pope's own paschal candle, eight feet high and three inches in diameter, was blessed by Cardinal Pacelli, high priest of the Basilica.

Ordination of many young priests studying in seminaries of Rome commemorated the day. Minor orders were bestowed on those not yet ready for final orders. Adult converts were baptized.

Every office and home in Rome was visited to-day by a priest come to bless them and sprinkle each room with holy water.

EXPLOSION OF SACRED CART.

FLORENCE, Italy, April 4 (C.P.) —The "Explosion of the Sacred Cart," a Holy Saturday ceremony which began six centuries ago, was again carried out at noon to-day in the presence of thousands of Florentines, and visitors, packed into the square in front of the cathedral.

Four white oxen, with gilded horns and hoofs, and with brilliant crimson blankets, drew the cart, of which gaily decorated with flags and flowers, was in reality a moving arsenal of fireworks, rockets, pinwheels, and the like. A workman connected to it a wire, the other end of which led to a point just above the high altar of the cathedral. There an artificial pigeon carrying a skyrocket was slid on to the wire.

When to-day's High Mass arrived at the Gloria part and the bells rang out, a clergyman lighted the skyrocket. The pigeon shot out over the heads of the congregation, out the big doors, and impinged against the cart. There it lighted a fuse, which set off all the hidden fireworks. A whirl, road, sputter, and bang of pyrotechnics followed. The crowd roared its approval, and in two minutes the spectacle was over.

Chicago Gunwoman Steals Man's Trousers

CHICAGO, Ill., April 4 (C.P.). — "I hate to mention it," Irwin Klar, taxicab driver blushingly said to police last night, "but as you can see, I have on no trousers."

With which remark he gave the police a description of a smartly attired young gunwoman who, posing as a passenger, rode around in his cab for a while and then robbed him of his money and his pants.

Fifteen-Day Service To Australia Started

CROYDON, England April 4.—(A. P.)—Fifteen day airmail service from England to Australia was inaugurated to-day with departure of an Imperial Airways liner carrying 50,000 letters for Indian and Australian destinations.

Australia's 15,000 letters will be transferred at various points so as to reach Port Darwin on the western Australian coast April 19. An Australian machine will pick them up there and carry them eastward across the island continent.

Return mail from Port Darwin will leave there April 27 and reach Croydon May 14, about 17, days en route or a saving of about 13 days over surface route.

Keep Off The Grass Is Warning Issued

If citizens want to keep the scowls off the face of Alderman Stocker and have the grass and flower beds of the city's parks looking their best this summer then they should not allow their steps to stray across the parks.

Now is the critical period for the grass, not only on the parks but also on private lawns and treading feet now can leave irreparable scars. The common desire to take short cuts causes most of the damage to the grass. Then, again, children sometimes forget and make the parks a playground and their antics kill the tender shoots of the grass.

"Keep off the parks and lawns and urge others to do the same," is Alderman Stocker's request of citizens.

WOMEN CAUGHT BY BIG LANDSLIDE DROWNED IN LAKE

Twenty Looters Have Already Been Shot by Troopers in Earthquake Area.

Red Cross Takes Charge of Relief Work For Those in Distress.

BY WILLIAM EWING
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Apr. 4. — Nicaraguan constabulary assisted by United States marines are meeting emergency situations which have arisen in the city since its devastation by earthquake and fire. The city is deserted by two-third of its residents and the remaining third live in temporary shelters on the heights overlooking the debris.

20 Looters Shot

While the recovery of bodies of victims and treatment of injuries continue, patrols are meeting certain emergency situations which have developed. Guard details have carried out unhesitatingly orders to shoot looters, and four executions Thursday night are understood to have brought the total to 20.

Patrols are shooting at sight all dogs caught roaming streets, for fear that the lack of water and heat may drive some of them mad and lead to an epidemic of hydrophobia among refugees. Several cases of rabies have been reported.

Since the days of the Conquistadoes, who brought modern fabric clothing to Nicaragua, the woman of this section have washed their clothes in the lakes about the city. Forty who were thus engaged Tuesday at a small lake in the crater of a volcano above the city were caught unawares by a landslide precipitated by the quake and thrown into the lake, where they drowned.

Patrols yesterday recovered the forty bodies near the edge of the lake. They reported that other women were washing at the other side of the lake as they took the bodies out, just as if nothing had happened.

Ernest J. Swift, official of the organization of mercy who arrived late yesterday by plane from Miami, set in motion relief and salvage machinery which will aim toward eventual rehabilitation of the city's 45,000 stricken population. Swift commented that never in his experience with disasters has he found one where the destruction was so complete. Two

GUESTS FLEE IN NIGHT ATTIRE AS HOTEL IS BURNED

Unconscious Chinese Chef Carried From Flames By Porter.

GRIMSBY HOTEL.

All Guests Gain Safety and Volunteers Quench the Blaze.

GRIMSBY, Ont., April 4 (C.P.). —One man was overcome and twelve guests had to flee in their night clothes when fire broke out in the basement of the Grimsby Hotel, a two-storey brick structure on the main street of the village early today.

The blaze started in the basement, and gutted that section of the building, being checked by the volunteer fire brigade as it invaded the ground floor. Charlie Lee, Chinese chef, was rendered unconscious by smoke, and would have lost his life but for the action of Edward May, a porter. May discovered the chef and carried him to a window, smashing the glass and lifting out the unconscious man to safety before he crawled out himself.

The guests on the upper floors fled to the open air when the smoke spread through the building. None suffered any ill effects, however. The firemen worked efficiently and succeeded in keeping the flames in control. Loss is estimated at $5,000.

TENDERS CALLED FOR PARK SHRUBS

Committee Refuses to Allow Miniature Golf Course in King Edward Park.

PROTECT FLOWER BEDS.

Another sure sign of spring was given Thursday night when the Parks committee decided to ask for tenders on shrubs, trees and flowers to be planted thout the city this summer. Mayor Denne and Alderman Tuggey urged that local florists be given an opportunity to supply the city these plants and that they should not be brought direct from outside nurserymen.

There will be no miniature golf golf course on any of the city parks. I. R. Irwin, manager of the Putt-Awhile Course, asked leave to build a course on King Edward Park, but the committee gave a sweeping refusal.

A strong wire fence will be built about the little park at the corner of Hunter and Burnham street to protect the flower beds from the crowds which are expected to congregate to view the softball games to be played on the new diamond this summer.

MUSINGS AT A MANSE WINDOW

HOW fitting it is that Easter comes to us in the springtime of the year! The lily, arrayed in a glory such as Solomon never could display, the hyacinths and the daffodils, the fresh warm air of the heavens, the stirring course of all life in the vegetable and animal kingdoms, express better than all the eloquence that has ever poured forth from human lips the message of resurrection.

All over the earth this Easter, wherever men meet in temples great or small, ornate or simple, to sing their songs of praise to Him who conquered death and brought life and immortality to light, all nature meets this paean of praise with passionate outbursts of new life.

All that we know of April is her way
Of coming on the world through gentle springs,
Turning the hedge a whitening line of spray,
Staining the grass with shivered, golden things.

She has a way of rain against the sun,
Of moonlit orchards, ghostly white and still,
And the slow, silver coming, one by one,
Of burning stars above a purple hill.

The earth that has lain so long in the grip of frost and snow and ice grows warm and colorful as the rain of an April night calls forth the waiting buds. In a morning that is aglow with all the rich tints of tender new petals and the sweet scents from a veritable wonderland we ask in puzzled amazement:

Who was aware of beauty in the night,
Of blossom-breaking muffled through the dark,
Of any glittering shafts of yellow light?
Too secret and too hushed for us to mark,
Up from the South a warm, wet wind had strayed,
And—now these jonquils, joyously arrayed!

The Magic Touch of Faith.

The glory of the gospel message lies in the fact that it proclaims to men who have long been held in the benumbing fear of the winter of death, the well assured fact that Christ has brought spring to man's life. The magic touch of grace has come in response to the cry of faith, and it outshines the emerald of the grass, the gold of daffodils, or the soft glory of the sun behind a budding maple grove. Because He incarnates the spirit of Eternal Spring Christ has captured the imagination of the centuries.

What kind of a man are you to be thinking of decay when all about you are unfolding leaves? It is your privilege now—having trusted Christ for pardon and purity—to live in the power of a perpetual spiritual springtime! Each Easter should find us—if we really have any right to be considered New Testament Christians—growing wiser, more beautiful in character, more Christ-like in conduct, more fit for the transfer to closer companionship with the divine.

A Once-a-Year Christian.

There is a once-a-year breed of Christian who comes each Easter to the House of God! What he comes for I am at a loss to know, unless he comes for the purpose of getting a fresh stock of faith to carry him on through another year of non-church going! Perhaps he comes to hear a sermon that will satisfy and calm for another twelve months. While I would not stress church-going as the chief test of Christian living, I insist that it is the natural response of the genuine Christian who is growing in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Church attendance is not the whole of religion by any means, but it has its place, and it will always be more or less of a delight to the man who has felt warmth of the Easter light.

It seems to me that a great many nominal Christians base any religion they have, or think they have, on hope of life beyond the grave. Perhaps this is the hope of every soul, the question we all long to have settled. But we are not Christians simply in order to solve this problem. The chief concern of the person who has been to Calvary to gaze through his penitential tears upon the bleeding form of the Son of God—and from that scene has gone to inspect an empty tomb—should not be:

Where shall I go when this life ends? but how shall I live, what shall I do here? Our interest in the future should be incidental to our interest in the present. The most glorious of all adventures is the adventure of living!

The man who follows Jesus has an inward confidence that will not permit him to worry over what the future holds.

Easter Shames Us!

The resurrection of Jesus Christ has brought to me, because of my union with Christ, spiritual resources that make me secure for evermore.

The question we ought to address to ourselves at Easter is, Are we worth preserving? Is any once-a-year Christian worth preserving? Is he really a Christian, or is he being fooled? How can any soul that is satisfied with church-going once-a-year be ready for a higher level of experience? That men think of as immortality is not a sudden transplanting, but an achievement, a growth!

A true appreciation of Easter would shame most of us! It would compel us to stand dumb before its spiritual glory.

If all that Easter amounts to in our case is the rehearsing of its wonderful story, the feasting of our eyes on its flowers and our ears on its anthems, and the breathing for one day of air from a new realm, it is the most tragic thing in our experience!

If this beautiful, once-a-year promise is to be something more than a poetic fancy or a dress parade, there must be the persistent daily effort in an upward climb to eternity. We are to work out our own salvation with fear and trembling. And this we will do when once Christ has really wrought in us by the operations of the Holy Spirit both to will and to do of His good pleasure.

Allan Fairbairn.

The truly great of heart are those who spend their souls—but most people find it easier to spend their money.

The Hour Of Prayer

QUIET Son of God, who heardst the mountains speak the highway stones, the trees and all the nightly stars and who Thyself, the living Word, has taught us more in being God than e'en Thy truest phrase that pictures Him, lead us in unpretentious paths, teach us the silent, potent ministry of those who live in God. The tongue is not Thine only tool; the glance, the touch, the patient strength, the kindly note have wrought for Thee. The Spirit's fruit is not in sound, but in such love, such peace and gentleness as may adorn a mute. Put then that Spirit upon us, we pray Thee, that while we go our modest ways, we may, when least we think of Thee, reveal to men Thy grace. In presenting this prayer, all we seek is the glory of God and the good of men. Amen.

Just For One Hour

DID you ever sit in a half-cleared forest, in a summer's day, and, looking up, see the light come fleckering down in uncounted shades of golden brown and greenish gold, and these all the while changing and running into each other with the rustling leaves and the cloud-crossed sun? How useless to attempt to chronicle this play and interplay of light and dark! Yet this would be simple and easy, compared with the effort to note the number and variety of our thoughts and feelings for a single hour. If the flow of a day's mind and heart experiences were written, it would be a volume, and one's life a Bodleian library; but the "book of remembrance" is yonder, and the life is daguerreotyped on the sensitive pages of the future.

Integrity of life is fame's best friend—but it is rather difficult to get some people to believe it!

Content thyself to be obscurely good, and you may save yourself the necessity of going on "a diet,"—and enjoy the privilege of eating what you like.

A Shocking Doctrine

I have heard men teach that God has a right to glorify Himself and to appropriate everything to His own delight—a doctrine which is shocking, and which represents Him as living in almighty selfishness. Can we believe that He sits, self-poised, in eternity, admiring His own perfections and singing His own joys, when, against this, with regard to man, the whole Bible fulminates?

Virtue is the only true nobility, and unfortunately there is not a superabundance of that!

Sorrow ends not when it seemeth done! The echo of Shakespeare's words has been heard in many a heart.

Lights Here And There

GOING into a village at night, with the lights gleaming on each side of the street, in some houses they will be in the basement and nowhere else, and in others in the attic and nowhere else, and in others in some middle chamber; but in no house will every window gleam from top to bottom. So it is with men's faculties. Most of them are in darkness. One shines here, and another there; but there is no man whose soul is luminous throughout.

Whether in large or small affairs, there must be perpetual adjustment. Neither men nor women, more than our finely strung musical instruments can escape the need of constant tuning.

TWO DEJECTED MEN

THIS touching story of the two dejected men and the attendant Saviour is recorded because it is a true picture of life. Just so men walk to-day. Just so they are sad and lost in questionings. Just so is their trouble evident to the passer-by. That day, seeing two men in genuine grief and perplexity, could the Saviour restrain Himself from following, to comfort them? It was not possible. "Jesus Himself drew near."

EASTER.

Once again Easter is here and nature is conveying, as she always does at this time, the real message of the Easter season.

The mystery of the natural resurrection that at this period of the year occurs all around us is but a type of the more glorious Resurrection that makes Easter the most gladsome and the most significant festival of the Christian year.

The death of winter is passing, new life is beginning to spring up everywhere, and the yearly miracle is repeated before our eyes to tell us that what seems death is but a passing phase and that there is a glorious day of Resurrection coming.

A wonderful festival-Easter that, following closely on the terrible tragedy of Good Friday, brings us fresh hope and renewed confidence.

WELCOME, O.B.A.A. DELEGATES!

Peterborough citizens are delighted to-day to welcome the officers of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association and the delegates from the various affiliated leagues from all parts of the Province, who have assembled here for the annual convention.

This city is peculiarly interested in the body which governs amateur baseball in Ontario, for in the first place Peterborough has been connected with the O. B. A. A. since the year it was organized, and in the second, local teams have had a most successful record in the various provincial series and have captured eight O. B. A. A. championships in the comparatively short career of the provincial association.

It is a pleasure, therefore, to have the opportunity of acting in the capacity of hosts to a body of enthusiastic sportsmen who, by reason of their interest in baseball and their sincere desire to place the sport on a clean and healthy basis, have succeeded in building up a Province-wide association that is well to the forefront among Canadian sporting organizations.

The O.B.A.A.'s career has been watched with keen interest by hundreds of local citizens who are baseball enthusiasts, and they and other members of the community are delighted at this chance to welcome those who have been responsible for such a splendid showing.

In tendering to-day's visitors a civic reception and banquet the City Council has merely given official emphasis to the satisfaction Peterborough experiences in entertaining the O.B.A.A. delegates.

TRIPLE SPEED CHAMPION.

Once more Britain is supreme so far as speed records are concerned in the air, over the land and on the water.

The speed-boat laurels won by Gar Wood, veteran American driver, a few days ago when he bettered the late Major Segrave's mark and set up a new record of 101.154 miles an hour, have already been snatched from the brow of the famous United States expert, for Thursday Kaye Don, the British racer, drove his marine wonder, Miss England II., at the rate of 103.73 miles an hour, bettering Wood's record by well over two miles an hour.

Canadians will rejoice at the triumph of the British-er, and there will be especial satisfaction that the feat has been accomplished with the boat in which Major Segrave lost his life while breaking the world record last year.

Britain is again a triple speed champion.

The fastest time ever made through the air, over the water and across the land has been made by Britishers, driving British-made machines, and the three-fold championship is eloquent of the courage and gameness of the British racing cracks and to an equal degree of the cleverness of British engineering and the thoroughness of British workmanship.

A CHANCE TO SAVE.

D. M. Duggan, leader of the Conservative party in the Alberta Legislature, has voiced the sentiments of a good many other people in his recent speech in which he urged that something should be done to cut down the cost of government.

It is difficult to deny the statement so often heard that Canada has too much government machinery and is suffering from too many legislators.

Mr. Duggan illustrated that point by calling attention to what he termed the wild extravagance involved in administering the affairs of the Prairie Provinces.

Altogether the population of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan is only 2,220,000, and yet to run the business of the three Provinces there are three Legislatures, meeting in three sets of Parliament buildings and levying some $51,030,289 a year.

The membership of the three Houses is 181, and they draw in sessional indemnities $362,000 a year.

There are few problems in one Prairie Province different from those in any other, and no reason why one Legislature for the whole three could not run their affairs more effectively at a greatly reduced cost as compared with the present system.

Here is what Mr. Duggan says:

"It is some of our business to suggest to our sister Provinces that they reduce the number of members in their Legislatures, but it is an opportune time to consider economic reforms. We have no legislative power in Provinces other than Alberta, therefore we cannot appoint a commission to determine the number of members needed for effective administration of the business of the Provinces; but we have the power to set an example, and there is no doubt that, if this were done in an effective manner, other Provinces would follow suit."

WHAT ABOUT U. S. RAILWAYS?

Canadians disposed to think that a decline in the net profits of the Canadian National Railways may have something to do with public ownership, might profitably study what is happening to the great railways of the United States under private ownership. Study what happened to their net profits last year.

The story is told with admirable clarity in the current issue of Colliers, the writer being John T. Flynn.

Between 1922 and 1929 most United States railways did well—as did the Canadian National. Gross railway revenues were decreasing, but the roads introduced new and efficient methods, cut operating costs more rapidly than gross income declined. In other words, they made a dollar earn more.

Last year came a difference. Says Mr. Flynn:

"Throughout the year 1930 there had been a serious drop in traffic and in earnings. Most outsiders attributed this merely to the depression. The railroads were just getting their share of the bad times.

"But, as a matter of fact, railroad stocks continued to sink lower than industrial stocks. Since January, 1930, industrial stocks continued down 22 per cent., but the rails dropped 30 per cent. Railroad traffic last year was over six million freight cars less than 1929. Railroad gross revenue was more than six hundred million dollars less. The rate of return on property investment was only 3.41 per cent."

Mr. Flynn's theory is that United States railways, having made all the economies it has been possible for them to make, are now at the point where they are feeling the competition of motor cars. Back in 1920 United States railways took care of 47,250,000,000 passenger-miles. In 1929 they took care of but 31,250,000,000 passenger-miles. Asking where this passenger traffic has gone, Mr. Flynn answers:

"Where has this passenger traffic gone? To the motor buses? Let us see. The railroads lost 16,000,000,000 passenger-miles. The buses have not gotten, in long hauls, more than 2,500,000,000 passenger-miles. In other words, at the most, they have gained about one-sixth what the railroads have lost. Some bus men insist it is not even that much. What has become of the other five-sixths? There is only one answer: It is the private automobile. There are 24,000,000 private automobiles in the United States. If each car in a year travelled 520 miles with a single passenger in it outside its ordinary town driving, the loss in railroad travel could be accounted for. Allow for two passengers in a car and you double the passenger-miles lost by the roads. As a matter of fact, there is hardly a private automobile which does not in a year travel at least 500 miles in journeys which would be performed by rail if automobiles did not exist."

This theory may or may not be right. But whether it is right or wrong, the moral for Canadians is that it is both unjust and illogical to blame public ownership for the reduced earnings of the Canadian National when, operating under the same conditions, and often with greater advantages, privately operated railways in the United States also experienced losses.

The stark truth is that last year was an extraordinarily bad year for railways everywhere on this Continent, and that, considering this, and considering the financial and other conditions under which the Canadian National operates, the road did remarkably well. It is easy to grumble over a deficit of $30,000,000. What we should try to remember is that ten years ago the same railways were losing more than double that amount—and not giving service.

No need exists to grow panicky or even discouraged about the Canadian National. It has proved itself to be a mighty national asset, and with the return of prosperity it will regain and more than regain the position of 1928, when it put money into the treasury. Depression curtailed it last year, and motor cars may hit it in coming years, but its position will be no worse than that of other roads. And in a country like Canada, with its long hauls, the motor truck and the private automobile will never quite take the place of the locomotive and the rails.—Ottawa Journal.

THE CURE MAY COME.

Winnipeg City Council at its last session had a sort of emergency field day in search of more revenue. There is no desire to make an increase of between five and ten mills to meet obligations, so the western council has turned its search in other directions.

At the close of the session these taxes had been added:

A municipal income tax.

A larger poll tax.

Vehicle tax.

Tax on meals of $1 or over of 10 per cent.

Tax on light, power and water bills of 5 per cent.

Council also decided to ask the Legislature for permission to tax fire and life insurance companies, and to turn over $800,000 gasoline tax to help the city pay its bills. An attempt to cancel exemption on church property was defeated.

In addition to these new taxes the ratepayers are already forking out more money than many of them can afford. Winnipeg's case may be more extreme than the situation in other municipalities, but fundamentally it is the same. The bills have grown so large that the people, through their taxes, can't pay them.

Out of this situation there should arise a movement which may work a cure. People in general may be shaken from that feeling of indifference toward what is being done with city business. They may decide it is the duty of more of them to enter public life, and they may have it driven and banged into them that on election day they must get out and vote. A good many places are sadly in need of some such awakening.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Well done, Don!

Mr. Ferguson apparently found the delegates to the Wheat Conference as easy to handle as the members of the Ontario Government used to be.

A team of Canadian hockey players representing Montreal will now meet a team of Canadian hockey players representing Chicago for the "world's" hockey championship. And a couple of Canadian officials will handle the games.

British Columbia farmers have decided to enter the political field and will line up with the Labor party. This new movement will probably prove as successful—and no more—as similar political organizations have been.

With a great find of radium indicated in the Northwest Territories, Canada moves another step to the front among the mining countries of the world.

Mr. Jacobs' bill to make it unnecessary for members of Parliament who have been promoted to the Cabinet to seek re-election at the hands of their constituents is to be considered once more during this session. This time it should be carried as a reasonable method of bringing our political machinery up to date in at least this one respect.

News of Our Own Village

Wed. being the 1st of the month, April Fool jokes was played by many in the village, but no particularly fast ones was pulled, your scribe thinks.

Perry Alexander, who runs a alleged fishing camp north of here called Oak Orchard Lodge or somepin, is going to build a tavern in Cobourg, south of here, worth $700,000. What worries your scribe is, what Perry wants to build a hotel for if he can get $700,000.

* * *

Geo. Henry, our worthy Premier, was sorta expected to visit the village this week for the baseball convention, but couldn't get the time off. Better luck next time, say we.

Jack Gillespie, our fast driving Chrysler dealer, come within 1 of being the 1st swimmer to plunge into the new Y. pool this week, the name of the guy that beat him being withheld by popular request.

* * *

Baseball moguls and magnates from far and near assembled here this Sat. for the annual powwow. The village council threw them a feed at Graham's Hotel that was appreciated by all and sundry. Come again, lads say we.

* * *

Ad. Macdonald, 1 of Doc. Bannister's staff at the village Normal School, has written another book. Ad. threatens to get like the horseless carriage-makers with new models every year.

For no good reason at all, Fred Scates and Dave Leether, 2 of the keymen in the local softball world, went to Paris, west of here, Fri. to attend a provincial softball convention. Seems like the picnic brand is going to be played here again this year.

It is figured that if all the hot cross buns et in the village this week was to be placed end to end it would be just too bad.

* * *

Village hunters who like to have their meat drove right to them on the hoof has been smiling ever since Tues. when Charlie McCrea weakened on his dog-ban legislation.

Millie Bennett, who said a word or 2 for Ed. Peck during the election campaign in this part last summer, is going to be married, according to word from Ottawa, east of here. Bill Herridge, Dick Bennett's representative to Washington, south of here, is the lucky man.

Maple syrup can be spotted on the vests of some of the village plutocrats these days, but so far newspaper men ain't been able to confirm the rumor that the quality is better'n ever this year.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

SECOND INSTALMENT.

Synopsis of Preceding Instalment.

Jason Gridley, radio enthusiast, while experimenting with a specialized set of his own invention, hears strange sounds coming apparently from another world. He discovers that he is in communication with Abner Perry, who in company with David Innes had years before penetrated the earth's crust to discover an inner world at the earth's core known as Pellucidar, where David Innes had established himself as Emperor. Now a horde of savages calling themselves Korsars, and coming in ships across a strange sea have invaded his empire, and though they have been successfully repulsed, they have sailed away with many prisoners, including Tanar, son of David's friend Ghak, King of Sari. David, taking with him Ja, King of Anoroc, and a Korsar prisoner to guide them has set out in a small boat to follow the enemy and locate their stronghold.

The great ship trembled to the recoil of the cannon; the rattle of musketry. The roar of the guns aboard her sister ships and the roar of her own were deafening. Below decks the air was acrid with the fumes of burnt powder.

Tanar of Pellucidar, chained below with other prisoners, heard these sounds and smelled the smoke. He heard the rattle of the anchor chain; he felt the straining of the mast to which his shackles were bent and the altered motion of the hull told him that the ship was under way.

Presently the firing ceased and the regular rising and falling of the ship betokened that it was on its course. In the darkness of the hold, Tanar could see nothing. Sometimes the prisoners spoke to one another, but their thoughts were not happy ones, and so, for the most part, they remained silent—waiting. For what?

They grew very hungry and very thirsty. By this they knew that the ship was far at sea. They knew nothing of time. They only knew that they were hungry and thirsty and that the ship should be far at sea—far out upon an unknown sea, setting its course for an unknown port.

Presently a hatch was raised and men came with food and water—poor, rough food and water that smelled badly and tasted worse; but it was water and they were thirsty.

One of men said: "Where is he who is called Tanar?"

"I am Tanar," replied the son of Ghak.

"You are wanted on deck," said the man and with a huge key he unlocked the massive, handwrought lock that held Tanar chained to the mast. "Follow me!"

The bright light of Pellucidar's perpetual day blinded the Sarian as he clambered to the deck from the dark hole in which he had been confined and it was a full minute before his eyes could endure the light, but his guard hustled him roughly along and Tanar was already stumbling up the long stairs leading to the high deck at the ship's stern before he regained the use of his eyes.

As he mounted the highest dock he saw the chiefs of the Korsar horde assembled and with them were two women. One appeared elderly and ill favored, but the other was young and beautiful, but for neither did Tanar have any eyes—he was interested only in the enemy men, for these he could fight, these he might kill, which was the sole interest that an enemy could hold for Tanar, the Sarian, and being what he was, Tanar could not fight women, not even enemy women; but he could ignore them and did.

He was led before a huge fellow whose bushy whiskers almost hid his face—a great, blustering fellow with a scarlet scarf bound about his head. But for an embroidered, sleeveless jacket, open at the front, the man was naked above the waist, about which was wound another gaudy sash into which were stuck two pistols and as many long knives, while at his side dangled a cutlass, the hilt of which was richly ornamented with inlays of pearl and semi-precious stones.

A mighty man was The Cid, Chief of the Korsars—a burly, blustering, bully of a man, whose position among the rough and quarrelsome Korsars might be maintained only by such as he.

Surrounding him upon the high poop of his ship was a company of beefy ruffians of similar mold, while far below, in the waist of the vessel, a throng of lesser cutthroats, the common sailors, escaped from the dangers and demands of an arduous campaign, relaxed according to their various whims.

Stark brutes were most of these, naked but for the shorts and the inevitable gaudy sashes and the head cloths—an unlovely company yet picturesque.

At the Cid's side stood a younger man who well could boast as hideous a countenance as any sun ever shone upon, for across a face that might have taxed even a mother's love, ran a repulsive scar from above the left eye to below the right-hand corner of the mouth, cleaving the nose with a deep, red gash. The left eye was lidless and gazed perpetually upward and outward, as a dead eye might, while the upper lip was permanently drawn upward at the right side in a sardonic sneer that exposed a single fang-like tooth. No, Bohar the Bloody was not beautiful.

Before these two, The Cid and The Bloody One, Tanar was roughly dragged.

"They call you Tanar?" bellowed The Cid.

Tanar nodded.

"And you are the son of a king!" and he laughed loudly. "With a ship's company I could destroy your father's entire kingdom and make a slave of him, as I have of his son."

"You had many ships' companies," replied Tanar; "but I did not see any of them destroying the kingdom of Sari. The army that chased them into the ocean was commanded by my father, under the Emperor."

The Cid scowled. "I have made men walk the plank for less than that," he growled.

"I do not know what you mean," said Tanar.

"You shall," barked The Cid; "and then, by the beard of the sea god, you'll keep a civil tongue in your head. Hey!" he shouted to one of his officers, "have a prisoner fetched and the plank run out. We'll show this son of a king who The Cid is and that he is among real men now."

"Why fetch another?" demanded Bohar the Bloody. "This fellow can walk and learn his lesson at the same time."

"But he could not profit by it," replied The Cid.

"Since when did The Cid become a dry nurse to an enemy?" demanded Bohar, with a sneer.

Without a word The Cid wheeled and swung an ugly blow to Bohar's chin and as the man went down the chief whipped a great pistol from his sash and stood over him, the muzzle pointed at Bohar's head.

"Perhaps that will knock your crooked face straight or bump some brains into your thick head," roared The Cid.

Bohar lay on his back glaring up at his chief.

"Who is your master?" demanded The Cid.

"You are," growled Bohar.

"Then get up and keep a civil tongue in your head," ordered The Cid.

As Bohar arose he turned a scowling face upon Tanar. It was as though his one good eye had gathered all th hate and rage and venom in the wicked heart of the man and was concentrating them upon the Sarian, the indirect cause of his humiliation, and from that instant Tanar knew that Bohar the Bloody hated him with a personal hatred distinct from any natural antipathy that he might have felt for an alien and an enemy.

On the lower deck men were eagerly running a long plank out over the starboard rail and making the inboard end fast to cleats with stout lines.

From an opened hatch others were dragging a strapping prisoner from the kingdom of Thuria, who had been captured in the early fighting in the Land of Awful Shadow.

The primitive warrior held his head high and showed no terror in the presence of his rough captors. Tanar, looking down upon him from the upper deck, was proud of this fellow man of the Empire. The Cid was watching, too.

"That tribe needs taming," he said.

The younger of the two women, both of whom had stepped to the edge of the deck and were looking down upon the scene in the waist, turned to The Cid.

"They seem brave men; all of them," she said. "It is a pity to kill one needlessly."

"Poof! girl," exclaimed The Cid. "What do you know of such things? It is the blood of your mother that speaks. By the beards of the gods, I would that you had more of your father's blood in your veins."

"It is brave blood, the blood of my mother," replied the girl, "for it does not fear to be itself before all men. The blood of my father dares not reveal its good to the eyes of men because it fears ridicule. It boasts of its courage to hide its cowardice."

The Cid swore a mighty oath. "You take advantage of our relationship, Stellara," he said, "but do not forget that there is a limit beyond which even you may not go with The Cid, who brooks no insults."

The girl laughed. "Reserve that talk for those who fear you," she said.

During this conversation, Tanar, who was standing near, had an opportunity to observe the girl more closely and was prompted to do so by the nature of her remarks and the quiet courage of her demeanor. For the first time he noticed her hair, which was like gold in warm sunlight, and because the women of his own country were nearly all dark-haired, the color of her hair impressed him. He thought it very lovely and when he looked more closely at her features he realized that they, too, were lovely, with a sunny, golden loveliness that seemed to reflect like qualities of heart and character. There was a certain feminine softness about her that was sometimes lacking in the sturdy, self-reliant, primitive women of his own race. It was not in any sense a weakness, however, as was evidenced by her fearless attitude toward the Cid and by the light of courage that shone from her brave eyes. Intelligent eyes they were, too—brave intelligent and beautiful.

But there Tanar's interest ceased and he was repulsed by the thought that this woman belonged to the uncouth bully, who ruled with an iron hand the whiskered brutes of the great fleet, for the Cid's reference to their relationship left no doubt in the mind of the Sarian that that woman was his mate.

And now the attention of all was focused on the actors in the tragedy below. Men had bound the wrists of the prisoner together behind his back and placed a blindfold across his eyes.

"Watch below, son of a king," said the Cid to Tanar, "and you will know what it means to walk the plank."

"I am watching," said Tanar, "and I see that it takes many of your people to make one of mine do this thing, whatever it may be."

Now men with drawn knives and sharp pikes lined the plank on either side of the ship's rail and others lifted the prisoner to the inboard end so that he faced the opposite end of the plank that protruded far out over the sea, where great monsters of the deep cut the waves with giant backs as they paralleled the ship's course—giant saurians, long extinct upon the outer crust.

Prodding the defenseless man with knife and pike they goaded him forward along the narrow plank to the accompaniment of loud oaths and vulgar jests and hoarse laughter.

Erect and proud, the Thurian marched fearlessly to his doom. He made no complaint and when he reached the outer end of the plank and his foot found no new place beyond he made no outcry. Just for an instant he drew back his foot and hesitated and then, silently, he leaped far out and, dove foremost into the sea.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

DAILY LENTEN DEVOTION

PREPARED BY THE REV. CLARENCE H. WILSON, D.D. FOR THE COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM OF THE FEDERAL COUNCIL OF THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST IN AMERICA

EXTREME UNCTION

"And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise." Luke 23:43. (Read Luke 23:39-49.)

Meditation

This story of the penitent thief we owe to Luke's researches. Its lessons are precious. Truly, while there is life there is hope. And the last act of Jesus, while He was in His own agony, was to give comfort to a dying criminal. To the end, it was His mission to seek and to save the lost; to the end it was His way to ease the sufferings of the human heart. There is a satisfaction, too, in thinking that our Lord had companionship in His last agony. His Friends had forsaken Him and fled. His enemies, with brutal malice, flung taunts at Him. In this least unexpected place He found a friend who believed in Him. The Friend of sinners went into the great mystery leading a penitent sinner; they would be together in paradise.

Prayer

Our Heavenly Father who willest not the death of a sinner but that all should come unto Thee and live, we pray that Thou wilt be very near to any who are departing this life, giving to them comfort of hope and peace at the end. In Je us'name, Amen.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES"

If April 4th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11:50 a.m., from 2:15 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 8:50 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger hours are from noon to 2 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 7:50 p.m.

The astrological signs of April 4th denote uncertainty and perplexity. Routine duties should alone be carried out whilst an effort should be made to maintain an optimistic outlook, in order to avoid depression. Evening conditions will be ideal for lovers and sweethearts.

Children born on this April 4th will be light-hearted and happy-go-lucky, going through life with little sense of responsibility, and trusting to others to pull them out of any ditch into which they may fall. Their natures will be affectionate, but their emotions will never be deep.

Yours is a lovable nature, if you were born on April 4th. You think too little of your own interests, and too deeply of those of others, to ever achieve any outstanding material success. Judged, however, from the point of view of radiating happiness, your life will be a pronounced spiritual success. You are sincere, and have strong convictions, although you never voice them in a manner that will cause annoyance to others.

The stars say that you could achieve much in the world, if your disposition were not so compassionate. You have read a great deal. You are endowed with much natural ability. You are both intelligent and intellectual, and you have strong will power. All these gifts you freely employ for the benefit of those around you, and you are possibly happier in seeing them reap the rewards than if you harvested them yourself.

You are always willing to fight against injustice, but do so with the greatest vim when you are fighting for another's cause. You are modest and retiring, but the unselfishness that oozes from you, attracts one and all, and in any social gathering, you are the centre of attraction. Your married life will be rather one-sided, as you will give freely, whilst your mate will be extremely exacting.

If April 5th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., from noon to 2:15 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The danger hours are from 10:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The planetary aspects of April 5th are emotional, rather than materialistic. They denote a day of peaceful contentment, free from worry and care. An almost forgotten friendship may be resurrected from the past, or a difference of old standing may be happily adjusted.

The child born on this April 5th is destined for rather an adventurous life. It may never have a large banking account, but it will have a large fund of experience. Travel will be its "ALMA MATER" and it will never become stagnant through sameness of conditions.

You, if born on April 5th, are tiresomely difficult to get along with, although you mean well. You, however, possess the unhappy knack of unwittingly rubbing up people the wrong way. When you set out to please, you generally succeed in antagonizing. This is by no means the result of malice; rather is it caused by maladroitness. You always think of the right thing to do or say when it is too late to execute or to talk. You leave undone or unsaid the things that should be done or said, and do and say those things that should not be done or said.

You are not very popular, and this makes you flounder more and more, as you thus become too anxious to propitiate, and often make yourself a nuisance. A little careful thought would overcome all this difficulty. Naturalness could easily displace forced amiability.

Notwithstanding the drawbacks from which you suffer, the signs denote that, from a material standpoint, you will achieve success in the line of endeavor that you choose for yourself. If you marry young, there is not much indication of enduring happiness. If you defer going into double harness until there is every prospect of "a good stepping team."

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A Special Service to The Examiner.

ABITIBI POWER AND PAPER

One of the newsprint mills operated by the Abitibi Power and Paper Company, Limited, is to be closed down at the end of this month for an indefinite period, presumably owing to the present overproduction in the industry. The mill is that of the Ste. Anne Paper Company, Limited, which is a subsidiary of the Abitibi Company. It has a daily capacity of about 275 tons of newsprint. Three to four hundred men will be thrown out of work.

NEWSPRINT EXPORTS

Exports of newsprint from Canada during the month of February, according to the report just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, were valued at $8,086,266. This contrasts with a value of $8,641,937 in the preceding month and $9,418,742 in the similar month last year. Of the exports for February of this year, valued at $8,086,266, the United States took the total of $7,497,063.

UNITED STATES STEEL

The panphlet report of the United States Steel Corp. does not reveal anything new as regards per-share earnings, for it simply confirms the preliminary statement issued late in January, showing $9.11 a share on the total of 8,687,436 common shares, against $21.19 a share on 8,132,840 shares a year ago.

The report shows output in the final quarter last year was 47.9% of capacity with low operation being reached in December, at 43.7%. For the entire year average production of rolled and other finished products for sale averaged 65.6%, against 89.2% in the previous year. Ratio of output to capacity last year was next to the lowest for nay year since organization, the lowest being 47.5%, in 1921. Operations increased since the beginning of this year, and have averaged "about 50%" during January and February.

Current assets as of December 31, last, were $578,373,097 and sinking and reserve funds $49,317,766, making a total of $627,690,863. Current liabilities were $108,873,455, leaving net working capital of $518,817,408, compared with $535,947,516 at the end of 1929.

CANADA'S FIRST PAPER MILL

The first paper mill in Canada was established at St. Andrews, Quebec, in 1803. The first paper mill in Upper Canada was established at Greensville (then called Crook's Hollow), near Hamilton, in 1813, and a mill built at Bedford Basin, near Halifax, in 1819 was the first of these mills established in the Maritime Provinces.

CANADIAN MARKETS CONTINUE DULL DURING EASTER WEEK

Seasonal Improvement in General Trade Fails to Arouse Speculators to Interest.

OILS IRREGULAR.

TORONTO, Ont., April 4.—(By the Canadian Press)—Seasonal improvement in general trade, and news that wheat exporting countries will confer on the orderly marketing of wheat failed to arouse Canadian stock markets from a condition of lethargy during Easter week.

Aggressive demand for stocks was lacking but there was little liquidation of a serious character. Prices of leading industrial stocks were inclined downward however, and aside from a further advance in Noranda mining issues also reflected profit-taking and in some instances liquidation. Oils were highly irregular.

The outstanding characteristic of trading was the lack of demand for industrials, largely because buyers who were active a few weeks ago saw nothing in the business outlook to encourage further accumulation of these issues. Seasonal gains in steel and other industries are being reported; whether these are the forerunners of a major upturn in trade remains to be seen.

Nevertheless, the position of gold as a commodity remains unassailable and it was for that reason investors continued to centre their attention on shares of gold producing mines. All the leaders in the Canadian group, sold around their highest levels of the year, during the week, and most of them are still above last week's price levels despite profit-taking on Wednesday and Thursday.

Gold Group Impressive.

If Noranda is included in the gold group on the basis of its recent discovery of gold on the property the movement of these shares is impressive. Noranda, although only potentially a gold producer, rose sharply prior to the shareholders' annual meeting in Toronto, and and at the close of the week is selling at $26 against $24.75 last week. Higher prices were reached but were not maintained under realizing sales.

Teck-Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves were also outstanding exceptions to the reactionary tendency of the general list. Teck-Hughes is now quoted at $8.25 against $8.05 last week, while Wright Hargreaves at $2.75 compares with $2.45 a week ago. Both were among the most active mining stocks to appear in trading at Toronto, Montreal, and other centres. Dome also advanced closing at $12.25 against $12 last week, but profit-taking appeared in other gold issues and converted gains in some instances into net losses for the week.

Industrials experienced not only the lethargy of potential buyers, but also the definitely weakening influence of renewed professional operations for the decline at New York.

Nickel Leads Activity.

International Nickel maintained a leading position in point of activity but even this erstwhile "key" stock failed to break out of the narrow trading area in which it has remained for weeks. Sales on Thursday, prior to the Easter holiday period, were made at 17¼, or exactly half a point below last week's closing quotations.

Brazilian Traction was offered in fairly large volume earlier in the week, and selling was attributed chiefly to the still unsettled economic condition of Brazil as well as to wavering state of the milreis market. The traction leader at 21 7-8 is only 1-8 below last week's price however, a fact that indicates quite clearly the existence of underlying demand for the shares in the face of a generally irregular market. C.P.R. declined with other rails at New York, and in the Canadian market is selling at 40¼ against 41¼ a week ago; Smelters, now controlled through stock ownership by C.P.R. was one of the weakest features of the list, dropping from 168 to 153½. Ford of Canada "A" at 26½ against 27½ last week, Steel of Canada at 39¼ against 39¾ last week, and Walker's down from 7¾ to 7½ were also among the leaders to lose ground although in no instance was the loss a severe one.

MINOR CHANGES TORONTO CURB

Little Interest By Speculators Preceding Easter holiday Session.

PIVOTAL STOCKS UP.

TORONTO, Ont., April 4 (C.P.)—Stocks went through only minor price changes in a dragging market on Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. To-day's session came midway between the Good Friday and Easter Monday holidays, and found most of the financial community out of the city.

Towards the close pivotal stocks were selling at their best for the day. Noranda closed with a net gain of a point at 27. Nickel was slightly higher at 17⅛. Brazilian firmer at 22. C.P.R., Bell Telephone firm and unchanged at 40½ and 147, respectively. Ford of Canada eased ¼ to 26½.

Oils came out unchanged and closed firmer. B. A. Oil at 12, Imperial at 15¼, International Petroleum at 12.

Heavy selling again came into the market for Service Stations, driving the price down two points to a record low of 22½.

English wood experts have found that ash burns better when green.

CHEMICAL RESEARCH PROFIT

Current assets of $97,739, including $63,381 in cash and $34,348 in receivables, against accounts payable of $10,348 are reported in balance sheet dated December 31, 1930, issued to shareholders of Chemical Research Corporation. Other items on the asset side are incorporation expense, $2,150, stock held in escrow, $16,533, and capital stock investment (Gyro Process Company) $7,200,000. Liabilities include; surplus, $126,420; appreciated surplus (represented by 720,000 shares capital no par stock of the corporation) $7,133,864, and reserve for sinking fund, $45,780.

FURTHER DROPS WINNIPEG WHEAT

Values Slowly Decline Under Constant Pressure of Small Sales.

EXPORT DEMAND IMPROVES.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 4.—(By the Canadian Press)—Weary holder of wheat futures came back to the big pit last week and sold. Under the constant pressure of small sales, values slid back slowly but steadily and were 7-8 to 1½ cents a bushel down at the close of trading Thursday.

The decline, widest in some time, occurred despite more favorable news from abroad. May finished the week off 7-8 cents at 57 cents; July was down 1 3-8 to 1¼ cents at 58 to 58 1-8, and October declined 1½ cents to 60.

Some improvement was noted in the export demand and fairly substantial sales of Canadian wheat were made in the latter part on the week to British and continental buyers, as well as United States mills. This business, however, failed to improve prices except temporarily. Sellers rushed into the market on each bulge.

Cash wheat demand was limited. Barley, in fairly good demand for export, moved against the general market trend and scored a gain for the week of 1-8 to ¼ cent. Oats, rye and flax valued declined.

LITTLE CHANGE NEW YORK LIST

Stocks Slowly But Surely Continue Down Trend During Past Week.

PROFESSIONAL SELLING.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Apr. 4.—There has been little change in the character of the financial markets this week. Stocks have declined slowly, although steadily, with the issues affected by special circumstances sagging to new lows and the list generally affected by sporadic liquidation and more active professional selling.

Trade news was not particularly stimulating; neither was it unduly poor. Although the steel markets contain elements of strength such as the maintenance of construction demand, the downward revision of earlier estimates on automobile requirements and an inconclusive price structure contributed to uncertainty and brought up the question as to whether the seasonal peak has been passed and whether operations will continue to shade off.

The fortnightly line in stock prices—not since the dip that culminated in the December 17 rebound has there been so continuous a downward trend—indicated that the dividend readjustments now being made so frequently had not been as fully discounted as seemed probable a month ago. February's unusually poor record in railroad earnings offset marketwise the upturn in car loadings from the middle two weeks of March, and rail shares made new lows rather consistently, although the group acted a little better just before the adjournment for the Friday holiday.

Pools which had piloted stocks higher in the first two months of the year have been distributing their holdings. Such operations are especially evident in the utilities. Industrials seem to offer better resistance and bear drives against U.S. steel have so far failed to penetrate the year's low of that leader. Weakness of alcohol prices has hurt the chemicals, but motors and their related group, the accessory manufacturers, managed to hold their own.

The short interest in the market is extensive, although some brokerage houses believe it will take a well-defined selling climax to start a recovery. April is regarded as rather a critical month in the affairs of business as well as stock prices and it felt that much depends on what industry can show in the next few weeks. Wall Street believes the public is still "stock-minded," but its reluctance to follow the February rally demonstrated that extensive outside buying is not to be expected until the gloss of seasonal gains has worn off, exposing basic conditions more clearly.

Bonds are unsettled by the imminence of substantial Government financing and by the selling of second grade rail liens. The first of the March commodity indices shows an inconsequential decline due to the majority of gains reported during the first three weeks of that month, a trend that was later reversed. Duns' average, off less than one per cent., is the lowest for any month since October, 1916, although about 26 per cent. above the level that existed immediately prior to the outbreak of the World War.

LARGER CROP IS EXPECTED IN WEST

Traders Face Prospective Corn Crop of One Billion Bushels More Than Last Year.

(By John P. Boughan, Associated Press Market Editor.)

CHICAGO, Ill., April 4.—Grain traders are face to face with a 1931 prospective corn crop of 3,000,000,000 bushels, about an even billion bushels more than in 1929. The outlook is a result of estimates based on official figures about farmer's intentions as to planting and on an average per acre, 31 bushels. The nation's expected aggregate corn field this season is nearly 5,000,000 acres larger than last year, with about half of the total increase in the eleven corn belt states—Ohio Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Compared with a week ago, the corn market this morning showed 2 1-8 to 3 7-8 cents a bushel setback, with wheat varying from 2¼ decline to ¾ advance, oats 2 to 2¼ off, and provisions 2 cents to 22 cents down.

Despite the expected general increase of corn acreage, a striking circumstance is that the two banner corn states, Iowa and Illinois, promise to be almost stationary as to production whereas Nebraska indicates an expansion of 500,000 acres. In consequence, 1931 may see Nebraska with more corn planted than Illinois, a sequel to the fact that Nebraska has been advancing rapidly in the last few years as a producer both of wheat and corn, and that Nebraska during recent months has been a decided corn market factor on account of her heavy shipments. A big broadening of 1931 corn production is also indicated for Texas. Belief appears widespread among corn traders that a crop scare or some other drastic change in conditions must take place if corn is to score any material advance in price. Concerning likelihood of a crop scare as to corn, the fact is pointed out that serious damage, if any, would probably come when corn is in tassel. As a rule, the time that heat is sufficiently intense to cause injury seldom arrives before early in July. At present, no shortage in the Hay crop appears imminent and pasturing of wheat in the southwest is relieving demand for hay as well as for corn.

Forthcoming government reports are expected to show that the 1931 domestic winter wheat crop is well above normal in condition, some trade authorities deduce that the result, including carryover stocks will be a wheat supply revaling that of the previous crop year, and totaling about the largest on record. Oats prices reflect suggestions of 6 per. cent. increase of oats acreage this season.

Provisions show the effect of grain weakness.

HAMILTON HAS GASOLINE WAR

HIGH TEST HELD AT 23.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 4. (C.P.)—Although the natural gas "war centres in Hamilton other varieties of price cutting in the fuel field have invaded the city. With the big Canadian oil companie cutting the price of gasoline to 19½c per gallon for the regular grade, price in Hamilton have been brought to the lowest in years, with a few stations outside the fold of the better known producers selling for 18 cents per gallon plus the tax. No reckless slashing has occurred however, these levels prevailing uniformly throughout the city.

But once the motorist crosses the boundaries of Wentworth County, evidences of gasoline warfare are many. In the area toward Kitchener and including that city, many gasoline stations are offering their fuel at 15 cents per gallon plus tax. Other prices to be noted along the highway outside of Hamilton range from 16c to the regular 19½c.

High test gasoline has been held at 23c, there seeming to be little tendency to reduce the price of the more costly product.

LARGER GAINS GOLD SECTION

Wright-Hargreaves Moves Up 20 From Thursday's Close to Provide Feature.

NORANDA IN DEMAND.

TORONTO, Ont. April 4.—(C.P.)—Despite relatively light turnover due to the proximity of the holidays, the mining list gave a strong performance to-day with the gold section showing some substantial advances at the close.

Wright Hargreaves was the feature, price moving up 20 from Thursday's close. McIntyre gained a point, Lake Shore a half. Granada 12, Teck Hughes 10 and Sylvanite and Vipond 5 apiece. Mining Corp. dropped 5 in light selling and Hollinger was off 10. Eldorado opened soft but rallied towards noon to regain part of its early loss. Kirkland Lake, United Kirkland and Arno were active and higher in the cheaper golds.

Noranda met renewed demand in the base metal section, closing up a fraction for the session. Pend Oreille was 10 higher and the Lindsleys steady. Olga, advancing a couple to 17, showed the significant change in the cheaper oils.

MAPLE SYRUP HAS READY SALE

BUTTER 32 CENTS.

Bearing evidence of the extensive operations which have been conducted in the maple bushes during the past week or so, there was a regular glut of choice maple syrup on the produce market this morning, which was finding a ready sale at 65 cents a quart.

At almost very farmer's stand to-day were cans of syrup, alongside of which stood a dipper containing samples for tasting, and busy housewives looking eagerly for the best value for their shoping, went to and fro in swarms tasting and retasting in an effort to make a choice from a quantity of high grade syrup.

Eggs were a trifle lower to-day at 18 to 20 cents a dozen, while choice dairy butter also took a dip of a cent in price, and was retailing at 32 cents a pound. The decrease in price was also noted on potatoes, which were selling at 70 cents a bag.

Pork was fetching 13 and 15 cents, with veal 14 and 16 cents and chickens 30 cents each.

The advent of spring-like weather brought out a choice and varied assortment of vegetables, includings beets 25 cents, carrots 15 cents, onions 40 cents and turnips 25 cents a peck.

There was also quite a quantity of lettuce selling at 5 cents a head, spring onions 5 cents a bunch, parsley 5 cents a bunch, and rhubarb 10 cents a bunch.

Pussy willows were being eagerly snapped up at 5 cents a spray.

CIVIC WELCOME

blematic of the Freedom of the City of Peterborough, to Mr. Elliott, president of the Association. The key, a product of one of Peterborough's numerous factories, the Peterborough Lock Works, was inscribed "O.B.A.A., '31, Peterborough."

In making the presentation, His Worship spoke in characteristic vein, assuring the delegates of the pleasure it afforded the city to have them in Peterborough.

"Gentlemen, we have lots of good ball players here, but we have three old ones in the persons of Dr. J. B. Pentland, J. W. Green and Dan McCabe." (Cheers).

"Mr. Elliott, as president of the O.B.A.A., we present you with this key. We thank you for your presence here, and are indeed glad to have you."

Mr. Elliott, in responding to the enthusiastic welcome, spoke of the worth of the old ball players, Messrs. Green, McCabe and Dr. Pentland.

He said they were sorry they could not come back to Peterborough next year, but they felt the convention had been a means of stimulating the sport in this district in which they are all so vitally interested.

As president of the O.B.A.A., I wish to thank the people of Peterborough, the Mayor and Council for the welcome which has exceeded fondest expectations.

The Chairman read a number of messages of regret, including those from Jake Solomon, Connie Smyth, etc.

R. M. Glover, president and managing director of The Examiner, congratulated the O.B.A.A. on the success in the handling of the affairs of the Association.

"It seems to me," he said, "that effort should be made to provide the children and young men and women with healthy sports. At these times people are likely to seek other avenues of fun not so wholesome mentally or morally."

In the guest speaker to-day, Mr. Glover reminded the gathering, they had a man who was keenly interested in all kinds of sport.

In Peterborough, H. R. H. Kenner is much loved and during his time here, possibly he has had more young men and women pass through his hands than anyone. He is a scholarly gentleman and desires that all boys and girls who go through his hands turn out to be good men and women for this district and country."

Mr. Kenner tendered his thanks for the honor done to him and as a private citizen thanked delegates for the honor they had done the city by their presence.

"An Informal Talk on Sports," was what Mr. Kenner termed his address. He pointed out that the important part which sports play in the training of the youth of the nation.

"You gentlemen," he said, "are engaged in a very enviable work, that of training the nation in sport."

Lacrosse of 35 Years ago.

Speaking of lacrosse, he took his audience back over a period of 35 years when that sport was at its zenith. Every town of any size had its lacrosse team.

Speaking of the sportsmen of today as being the heroes of youth, he said he would much rather see it so, than youth worshipping at the shrine of Hollywood.

He recalled some of the local stars in the world of curling and football, mentioning among others, the late Sam Ray of this city.

His reminiscences embraced the memory of Rockne, who is being buried to-day. He spoke of Percy Williams, and he said if "youth wishes to worship a good loser there is Sir Thomas Lipton, and last but not least the greatest of all sports, the Prince of Wales to whom we can all look up to.

Mr. Kenner went on to discuss the wonderful heritage to be had as citizens of the great British Empire. "The British are the greatest sporting nation in the world. They are said to be slow, but hold three world records: in the air, in the sea and on the land."

W. J. Smith, life member of the association, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Kenner, "for the time and thought he had given to his address."

The motion was seconded by W. J. Snyder.

Gordon Matthews in the course of a brief address, spoke of baseball and hockey as being the two real sports in Ontario. He pointed out the growth which the O.B.A.A. has made and of the important place it occupies in the world of sport and in the training of the youth of the Province.

"Your local representatives, he assured them, "are doing a real work among the juniors and there are many players who will develop into good material."

In conclusion he paid tribute to the leadership of Mr. Elliott, adding "he is a man of whom Central Ontario is justly proud."

Mr. Strickland tendered the apology of Premier G. H. Henry who was regretfully unable to be present as he had planned. The speaker assured the delegates that Premier Henry had a keen interest in sport in general and in the work of the O.B.A.A. in particular.

The meeting came to close with the singing of "The Maple Leaf."

Rifle Shoot Results.

RANGERS RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Two practices were fired on Thursday night from the prone position with the average scores holding up well. At the conclusion of the shoot the boys adjourned to "A" Co. room where a social evening was held. Refreshments were served cafeteria style. Entertainment was supplied by Mr. A. Thomas whose clever manipulation of the cards had the boys mystified. The season's indoor work was to terminate this week but the club unanimously decided to continue until the outdoor ranges are in condition to use.

SEVERAL SMALLER GAINS REGISTERED

Auburn Advances Up More Than 20 in To-day's Trading on New York Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 4. (C.P.) — The resumption of trading in the stock market to-day was used primarily for short covering. Bears gave the list another prod in the early trading, sending U.S. Steel off fractionally to a new 1931 low but short covering became extensive in the last hour and gains of 1 to 3 points were numerous while Auburn shot up more than 20.

U. S. Steel, Radio, Gen Elec, Bethlehem, Gen. Motors, Inter. Telephone and Woolworth were among issues up a point of more. Shares up 2 to 3 included Amer. Can, Case and Allied Chemical.

Rails, Coppers and Oils failed to participate appreciably in the advance. The closing tone was strong. Sales for the two hour period were about 1,100,000 shares.

HEAVY BUYING EASTER MARKET

EGGS SELL AT 18 CENTS.

The Easter market was a large one this morning, especially in the basket section, where buying was heaviest. Fowl was very plentiful. On the open market, produce was at the usual range, with the hint of spring in some of the green stuff.

Eggs were 16 to 18 cents a dozen, utter 30 to 32 cents a pound, chickens sold at 25 to 28 cents a pound, ducks were 25 cents and geese 28 to 30 cents a pound.

NEW DEBENTURES FILTRATION PLANT

Tenders Called For $347,000 Issue on Debentures of Filtration Plant.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MEETS.

At the request of the Utilities Commission, the Finance Committee of the City Council in session on Thursday night decided to ask for tenders on debentures totalling $347,000 at 4½ percent. This is a renewal at a lower rate of the cost of the filtration plant. The new debentures are to be issued on July 1.

A resolution was received from the East Windsor Council asking Peterborough to join in urging the Provincial Government to adopt an eight-hour day and 50-cent an hour wage on all laboring work on highway construction. The local fair wage clause takes care of those employed in this work, stated Alderman Tuggey, and committee decided not to pass the East Windsor motion.

Considerable concern was expressed by the aldermen because of the greatly increased number of indigent patients in hospitals whose bills the city must pay. Some twenty new cases came before the committee and month by month the amount of taxes going out in this way is reaching serious proportions. Asked if the Council could do nothing to correct the situation, Chairman Phelan replied, "No, we have to pay until the patient gets well or dies."

Dog owners had better be on the watch, since a dog catcher will soon be appointed. The choosing of this official was left in the hands of the chairman.

GRAIN PRICES

CHICAGO, Ill., April 4. (CP) — Scarcity of offerings resulted in a material upturn of grain prices early to-day. Traders voiced opinions that recent setbacks of values had largely discounted bearish factors, and that in particular the selling of wheat July delivery as low as a cent a pound would prove illogical and dangerous. Opening ⅛-⅜ cents higher, wheat continued firm. Corn also started ⅛-⅜ up and subsequently advanced further.

WELL WITHIN SCHEDULE

KISUMU, Kenya Colony, April 4 (C.P.).—Glen Kidston, British airman who left Netheavon, England, last Tuesday in an attempt to reach Capetown in Six days is flying well within schedule. He arrived here at 11 p.m. Friday, and left at dawn today for Bulawayo.

FORMER POLICE SPY SUES PAL AS FAMOUS TEAM FALLS OUT

Kemal Khan "the Terible Gurkah" Once Struck Terror Into Heart of Bootleggers.

A THRILLING CAREER.

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright, 1931)

HALIFAX, N.S., April 4.—Kemal Khan, "the terrible Gurkah," from India, who served in France and Flanders with the Canadian Expeditionary forces, and later after the armistice returned to Canada, to bob up in Halifax early last year, and strike terror into the hearts of local bootleggers, has come to the parting of the ways with his erstwhile sidekick Allan James of the Federal Preventive Service, with whom he worked as a spotter on bootlegging joints.

Khan who worked with James securing conviction after conviction against local bootleggers, for the Federal Preventive Service and the now defunct Nova Scotia Temperance Act forces, has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of James, on a civil action, the Gurkah claiming that his former sidekick borrowed $700 from him, and forgot to pay it back.

Kemal Khan, who is no longer with the Federal Service, is also talking of taking legal action against A. T. Logan, chief of the Preventive Service in Nova Scotia, he claiming that there is upwards of $4,000 owing him in commissions and expenses on successful contraband rum convictions on which he gained the information leading up to the arrest.

The Khan breezed into Halifax a little more than a year ago, and during the late winter, spring and summer months, up to the time of the Government Control of Liquor Act coming into force in August, acted as a spy for the various wet forces in the province.

Bootlegging joint, after bootlegging joint, fell before the onslaught of the pair, the chief means of securing a conviction being for the Gurkah to purchase liquor, the purchase being used as evidence in the police court.

Their activities did not mean end there, however, for it was not long before they got in wrong with the City police. In a bootlegging case, in the police court, one day, the Khan asked who was in the bootlegging joint in question, blurted out among other names that of Police Officer Clary Johnson. The officer was hailed before the Police Commissioner and although the Khan and James testified he was there, the proprietor of the place and a few others said he was not, and the charge against the officer was dropped.

On another occasion the Gurkah had a revolver belonging to James in a basket. A city police officer spotted the gun, and seized it, placing Khan under arrest. James got sore and raided the office of the Deputy Chief of Police, seeking the gun, but did not find it. He was surprised in the act, and was charged with breaking and entering. The charges against the pair, finally fizzled out both being discharged.

And now, the pair, have apparently fallen out, and after being together so long in prosecuting cases, each find themselves on the opposing sides of a legal suit. Sensational developments are expected to develop when the case against James comes before the court.

CHOIR PRESENTS SACRED CANTATA

CANON TROOP PREACHES.

Sir John Stainer's beautiful cantata was successfully rendered by All Saints' Church choir of sixty voices last evening before a large and appreciative congregation. Lasting a period of almost an hour and a half, the rendition of the cantata, was accomplished with a finish bespeaking much intensive training and a remarkable degree of co-operation. The choirmaster Geo. E. Chandler, and the choir in general are to be congratulated in bringing to the congregation this beautiful and wonderful story in song.

It is interesting to note that last evening's service marks the twenty-first year during which All Saints' choir have presented Passion music under the direction of Mr. Chandler. Mrs. W. A. Logan was at the organ, while Mrs. Percy Hooper accompanied certain passages of the cantata, on the violin.

Rev. J. Douglas Paterson, the rector, officiated at the service, and a brief sermon was preached by Canon G. Osborne Troop, M.A., Rector Emeritus of St. Martin's Church, Montreal.

Canon Troop said, "I wish to solemnly remind you that we are responsible for the crucifixion as well as the Jews. It was indeed the demeanour of the Jews which dominated over Pilate, and caused him to give orders for the scourging and crucifixion of the Saviour. But," the preacher asked, "who was Pilate."

Continuing he explained that Pilate was not a Jew, but represented the great power of Imperial Rome.

"It was not all the Jews, and it was not all the Gentiles who crucified Christ, but a representation of both Jews and Gentiles—the whole world."

The reverend preacher spoke of the Hebrew-Christian Alliance and quoting from recent remarks of the president of that Alliance said, "There are more Hebrew-Christians in the world to-day than ever before since the days of the early church."

A change is coming over the world, he thought and while the Jews have not yet accepted the message of Christ in its entirety they are beginning to recognize that Christ was the greatest teacher they had known."

"How comes it there were three crosses at Calvary," he asked, in pointing out that Christ was crucified between two thieves. He proceeded to tell the story of how one of the thieves had reviled Christ and of how the other had accepted Christ and had received the assurance, "This night you shall be with Me in paradise."

"Which side of the cross are you on," demanded Canon Troop in pleading that our attitude to religion be that of the penitent robber.

The tenor solos throughout the cantata were capably rendered by Mr. Chandler and Frank Roberts, with the bass solos being taken by T. H. Boddy and baritone solos by Messrs. A. Siddall, H. Flowers and G. Young.

The cantata was interspersed with hymns appropriately chosen and in which the whole congregation joined.

The collection at the service was devoted to defray expenses for music in connection with such ambitious recitals as the one given on the evening of Good Friday.

Hostilities Called Off

MEXICO City, April 4 (A.P.)—Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda, Foreign Representative of General Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan insurgent chieftain, has received a copy of Sandino's order calling of hostilities there.

The order, transmitted by some "grapevine" source from the wilds of Segovia, where Sandino makes his headquarters, said:

"All divisions of our army will abstain until further orders from any offensive action against the enemy, no matter what strategical advantages such action would result in.

"Our army will limit its action for the time being to maintaining its positions and repelling any attack which may be made against it, without taking advantage of any case of disorientation on panic which could lead to our triumph, abiding in all cases by the principles of rectitude, equity and patriotism."

Ford Men to Farm in Summer; Make Autos in Winter

DETROIT, April 4. — Ford workers here, numbering between 80,000 and 100,000, will be assured of year-round employment under an industrial plan of Henry Ford.

The plan, revealed to-day, provides:

1. Ford will keep his factories open throughout the Winter and shut down during the Summer.

2. During the Summer, farms purchased by Ford in up-State Michigan will be tilled by the workers.

DECISION RESERVED IN DR. S. WEST CASE

Appeal is Heard Before His Honor Judge Huycke at Campbellford.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Apr. 4. — The West-Wilson case which caused much local comment and public attention in Campbellford some weeks ago came to the fore again on Thursday afternoon before His Honor Judge Huycke. Dr. Simon West entered an appeal against the decision of Magistrate G. A. Payne in Campbellford Police Court dismissing the action brought by him against James Wilson for coasting on a boundary road contrary to the town by-law. D. J. Lynch acted for the plaintiff and N. Alex MacColl for the defendant.

This evidence given at the police court hearing received before His Honor and much of the argument centered around the distance Wilson went up the hill to descend

In his argument Mr. Lynch stressthe fact that the by-law covering this boundary road was valid, despite the fact that there was no corresponding by-law in the township of Seymour.

Mr. MacColl for the defense pointed out that his client had admitted to coasting but a practice had not been established. Quoting from the Municipal Act he pointed out that as far as the by-law was concerned, to be valid it must be jointly covered by a corresponding one in the township.

calmly. He paled a little when it was read, but otherwise remained as much unperturbed as he did during all the while the prosecution was piling up the testimony of witnesses who said they recognized him as the man they saw near or fleeing from the scene of the Tribune reporter's slaying last June 9. His mother, Mrs. Rose Jessen, however, became hysterical, and his sweetheart, Miss Betty Cook, cried bitterly.

"Let's duck" was all that Brothers said, as he turned to his bailiff, dodged photographers, and started back to jail. Twenty-four ballots in all were taken by the jury whose members said they started out 7 to 5 for acquittal, gradually reaching 11 to 1 for conviction. H. W. Crotzer said that at no time was the electric chair demanded by the prosecution, given any consideration.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM SAMUEL HAMBLIN.

WARSAW, April 4th (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of William Samuel Hamblin, who passed away at Nichols Hospital, Peterborough, on Tuesday afternoon, following a brief illness, was held from his late residence to Warsaw cemetery with Rev. J. W. Wilkinson officiating.

There were a large number of relatives and friends present to pay their last respects to the deceased's memory, he having spent sixty years of his life in Dummer township, and having been born about a mile from the house in which he was lately residing.

Both the late Mr. Hamblin and Mrs. Hamblin have a large family connection, most of the relatives living within easy motoring distance of Warsaw.

The late Mr. Hamblin was a member of the United Church and belonged to Bethel congregation on Warsaw charge.

Besides his wife, formerly Minda Carveth, he leaves one son Hilliard and a daughter Bessie, both at home. There are also four brothers, Edward R. and Roland, in North Dummer; Walter at Lakefield, and George of Peterborough. One sister, Martha, died many years ago.

The bearers were three brothers-in-law, Archie, Arthur, and Walter Carveth, and three cousins, Allan L. Payne, Norman Payne and Fred Hamblin.

MAURICE ROSENBURGH.

The funeral was held on Wednesday of Maurice Rosenburgh of 310 Elias avenue, who died suddenly last Sunday night. Rev. William Allan, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiated at the service, while brethren of the Masonic Order also paid tribute to their brother in the rites of their order.

The deceased, who had lived in this district almost his entire lifetime, came to Canada with his parents from London, England, in his youth. Previous to coming to live in this city, he resided at Mount Pleasant. For the past twenty-five years he had been in the employment of the Matthews Packing Company (now the Canadian Packers Limited), as city salesman.

He was married 15 years ago last New Year's Day to Mabel F. Irvine of Deseronto.

Numerous beautiful floral tributes were received, among them being those from the Canadian Packing Company, and the Peterborough Lodge A. F. and A. M., and the Moore Preceptory, of which the deceased was a member.

He leaves his wife; mother living at Mount Pleasant, and one brother at Bobcaygeon and a sister of this city.

SKINNY MEN

Gain pounds of weight in few weeks with new IRONIZED YEAST—a special combination of dried brewer's yeast plus iron—or pay nothing

Daily the letters pour in telling how new Ironized Yeast has added pounds of good solid flesh in few weeks. Has built up new strength and pep in nervous, tired people. Has banished constipation, indigestion. Has cleared skin.

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one — special weight-building dried brewer's Yeast and blood-enriching, strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same as used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured and concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value. Double-tested for strength, purity and potency. Used by doctors and big hospitals.

To this concentrated dried brewer's Yeast is added three kinds of easily assimilated Iron to quickly make rich, red blood and tone up nerves and muscles. By this special process Ironized Yeast is made more effective than yeast or iron taken separately. Contains no starches, flours or gas-forming fillers. Pleasant little tablets—no nasty taste, no gas or bloating. Never spoil, safe for everybody.

Don't have a "skinny," weak body. Go to your druggist today and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. Take as directed, and if you are not delighted with quick results, money promptly refunded by manufacturer.

If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.25 direct to Canadian Ironized Yeast, Co., Ltd., Box 1323, Montreal, Que., Desk 2103.

HOME TOWNERS

Tidbits, Interesting and Humorous CAMPBELLFORD

Easter services will be held in all churches this coming Sunday with special musical programs and sermon themes appropriate for the occasion. At Christ Church (Anglican) the preacher for the day will be the Rev. N. Clark Wallace. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m., with Evensong at 7 p.m. At the 11 o'clock service special musical features will be presented by the choir; a solo, "Easter Hymn," arranged by Frank Bridge, being sung by Mrs. F. deF. Free. At the evening service Part 3 of the cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," will be sung as an anthem, while Mrs. C. J. Windrim will render as a vocal solo, "Day of Days" (Van-de-Water). There will be a children's service at 3 o'clock.

At St. John's United Church the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be held at the close of the morning service. The Rev. R. C. Tait will be the preacher for the day and will take as his sermon theme at the morning service, "Drawing a Cross," and in the evening, the sixth in his Sunday evening series, "The Spectre of Death". His Bible class subject in the afternoon will be "Jesus Teaches Humility." Special music will also be featured at both services. In the morning, Mr. Walter Henson will sing a bass solo, the choir will render the anthem, "Awake Thou That Sleepest" (Maker); and a quintette composed of the Misses N. Forde, P. Bibby, Nellie Hoover, Mr. G. Godden and Dr. H. O. Richardson, will sing "He Was Nailed to The Cross." In the evening Miss Emma Meiklejohn will sing the solo, "Hosannah," (Granier), and the morning anthem will be repeated.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church the Rev. J. C. Robinson will be the preacher for the day. At both services special musical selections will be given by the choir and by the organist, Mr. W. A. Newcourt. At the morning service the anthems will be "They Have Taken Away My Lord" (Stainer), and "Conquering Kings Their Titles Take" (Maunder). In the evening Mrs. Charles Milne will sing a solo and the choir will render the anthem, "Send Out Thy Light" (Gounod).

On the Seymour United Church circuit the Rev. F. G. MacTavish will be the preacher for the day, delivering at each point an Easter message. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at all services, which will be at Tabernacle at 11 a.m., Stephens at 3 p.m., and Zion at 7.30 p.m.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Burnbrae, the Rev. Donald A. McKenzie will take for his sermon theme at the morning service, "The Easter Message in Practice." The Sunday School will open for the season at 10 a.m. This will take the form of a worship service at which all families are requested to be present. Young People's Society will be held on Monday evening.

Easter holidays are being spent by Miss Velma Runnells in Toronto.

Mr. Lewis of Toronto, pensions investigator for the Canadian Legion, was in town on Tuesday.

At the Baptist Church the Rev. L. M. Smith will take for his morning subject, "The Practice of Immortality," and in the evening, "Beyond Death—Life." Special music will be featured at both services. At the evening service the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered.

EARL BESSBOROUGH ARRIVES IN CANADA

ed the pier and a guard of honor from the Royal Canadian navy was posted there to receive the party with a royal salute, as the Halifax rifles regimental band wove an overtone of military music through the proceedings. The Earl inspected the Halifax Boy Scout troup.

Felicitations concluded for the moment, the royal party were escorted to automobiles. First came Lady Moyra Ponsby, daughter of the Earl and Countess, with companion and aides. In the second car rode Viscount Duncannon, their son, in the third, Alan F. Lascells, secretary to the governor general, and Lt. Col. H. W. Snow, controller of the household. The Earl and Countess rode with their aides in the fourth motor.

The school children of Halifax were massed in a vacant space as eighteen horsemen from the Royal Dragoons led the way to the proving house, through streets as old as the city, on ground trod by the settlers of seventeen-forty-nine. The landing itself was made almost on the site of the old royal engineers' lumber yard, a storing ground that goes back to the earliest days of Halifax. Then up South street and down Barrington to the Grand Parade, a strip of ground set apart for military purposes when the city was founded, down George to Hollis, and so to the province house, first opened for assembly in 1820. Then the ceremonies concluded, down Hollis to the south terminals.

Reminiscent of Pioneers

The whole route over which the Governor General passed is studded with sites reminiscent of the pioneers. Government house, the grounds of which run through from Barrington to Hollis, and so front on both stages of the vice-regal route, was commened in 1800. Thirteen governors lived there before confederation.

Near the end of the Barrington street stage of the procession stands old St. Paul's church, built in 1749, the year of the city's founding. It is the oldest protestant church in Canada.

The streets were draped with flags to-day. Arches marked the route from the pier up South street. The staid grey stone of Government House was smothered in red, white and blue. From the windows of merchants flamed a repeated welcome to the King's representative.

Dominion Officials Waiting

A Royal salute given by a guard of honor chosen from the Royal Canadian regiment announced the arrival of the Earl's party at Province House. The scene in the Council chamber was already laid. The Dominion's officials were waiting there.

Lady Moyra Ponsoby and Viscount Duncannon were met on arrival at Province House by the Lieutenant Governor's secretary and conducted to the seats reserved for them immediately back of the place to be taken by the Countess.

The Vice-Regal procession formed up in the Legislature Library, where the first Supreme Court to meet in Canada held sessions.

The Earl took his stand on the dais, under battalion flags of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade. The secretary, taking a position to the right front, read the Commission appointing the Earl of Bessborough Governor General of Canada. Then, proceeding to the foot of the Council table and handing the Commission to Thomas Mulvey, Under Secretary of State, to be recorded. G. C. Kezer, Assistant Clerk of the Privy Council, then took the Bible, bowed to the Earl, and handed it to the Senior Puisne Jupdge of the Supreme Court of Canada as the Judge advanced a step or two. The Clerk then placed the oath book and papers at the heads of the council table, and the Earl, stepping down from the dais, received the Bible from the Puisne Judge.

The Earl then repeated the oath of allegiance: "I, Vere Brabazon, Earl of Bessborough, do swear that I will be faithful, and bear true allegiance to His Majesty King George the Fifth, his heirs and successors according to law. So help me God."

Oaths Administered

Following this the officials oaths were administered:

(1) "You do swear that you will well and truly serve His Majesty King George the Fifth in the office of Governor General and Commander in Ghief of the Dominion of Canada, and duly and impartially administer justice therein."

(2) You do swear that you will well and truly serve His Majesty King George the Fifth in the office of Keeper of the Great Seal of His Majesty's Dominion of Canada."

After subscribing his name to the oathbook, which contains the signatures of his predecessors, the Governor General resumed his place on the dais, taking his seat immediately after the Supreme Court judges signed the jurat. Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, then advanced and handed the Great Seal of Canada to His Excellency, who returned it with the words: "I hand you the Great Seal of Canada for safe keeping." The Undersecretary of State read the proclamation as the guns boomed, and submitted it to the Governor General for signature. The proclamation was then sealed with His Excellency's privy seal, as the Twenty-Second Regimental band struck up "God Save The King."

The formal installation concluded, the addresses of welcome and replies were read. As the assembly rose and His Excellency and suite left the Chamber in procession in the order in which they had entered.

Another salute from the Guard of Honor, and the procession began its journey down Hollis Street to the south terminals, where, after reception to all the Federal member of Parliament in the city, members of the Provincial Legislature, and other officials, their Excellencies attended a luncheon given by the Canadian Government before leaving for Ottawa at four o'clock.

GAS relieved

WHAT most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. Food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention, it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate with no harmful after-effects.

Once you learn this perfect way you'll never deal in any other manner with the headaches, gas, bloating, nausea, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, etc., due to an over-acid stomach and bowels.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips'. It is always a liquid; never made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle. All drug-stores sell it—50c. Made in Canada

ISLAND BEAUTY'S SINGLE PICTURE

IN SOUTH SEA ISLE.

A beautiful girl, as remote and hidden from the world as Wordsworth's Lucy Gray, has become a motion picture star for a single picture and then sunk back into obscurity. She is Reri, daughter of the South Sea islands, and the heroine of "Tabu," the Polynesian legend of love which the late F. W. Murnau filmed 3,000 miles from Hollywood.

Reri lives on the tiny atoll of Bora Bora, 30 0miles removed from the much publicized isle of Tahiti, but in the same group of Society Islands. It is probably the most untouched by civilization of all these islands. Until Murnau sailed into the diminutive port of Bora Bora some twenty months ago the natives had never seen a kodak. The story of how Reri became the most famous of her island people through the medium of the motion picture was related on the coast by Murnau a fortnight or so before his recent tragic death.

"I had hit upon the island 'tabus' as the theme of my story," he said. "A tabu is just what the Anglicized version taboo means. It is something forbidden not by mankind but by the gods. Around this idea I had woven a story with Robert J. Flaherty."

By the time he reached Bora Bora Mr. Murnau had tested dozens of native girls for the leading role. On Bora Bora more tests were made. He found great beauty, beauty that surprised him, but few looked capable of enacting the drama he had in mind. Then he heard of Reri. A veritable daughter of the islands, everybody praised her for her loveliness and her modesty. At the moment she was on another island, visiting relatives, so Murnau awaited her return.

A Child of Naturet

"As I knew that Bora Bora was my island," said Murnau, " so I was certain that Reri was my feminine star the moment I saw her. She was only 16, but the owner of the most exquisite sort of youthful beauty."

"Not until I had finished the picture did I show Reri what she looked like on the screen. She saw the rough cut. You have never seen any one so naive and shy. She was so bashful that she hid her face after the picture was over."

And so, with his picture completed, Murnau sailed away to show it to the world, leaving Reri to continue her living with her family, having her family, having her romances with her island lovers sooner or later she will be married.

TRANS-LUX PARTLY LIGHTS THEATRES

Programs Could Be Read With New System.

NEW YORK, April 4. — First Trans-Lux house, a converted corner store in New York, is operating as a newsreel theatre of 158 seats, with the house sufficiently lighted to read a program or newspaper from any seat. It is estimated that there is 30 per cent of full light (electric) in the house.

RKO deems the Trans-Lux system as practical enough to test for a regular house and talker feature, at the RKO Memorial theatre, Boston. Equipment is now being installed there. Joe Plunkett of RKO stated that if the experiment develops as the RKO theatre department anticipates, the Trans-Lux system of lighting will go into all RKO theatres, present and future.

The system, if practical for regular houses, will revolutionize theatre building of the future and change the dark or dim interior of current picture theatres. Courtland Smith, at the head of Trans-Lux, states with assurance the Trans-Lux idea has been thoroughly tried and will fit the playing policy of any house.

SERVANTS RENT PALATIAL HOMES

Estates Around Hollywood Used in Films When Owners Absent.

YACHTS AND CARS TOO.

HOLLYWOOD, April 4 — Servants of wealthy people spending the winter here are cashing in on the absence of their employers. Most of the tourists who winter in Beverly Hills or at the beach towns take the desert trips or spend a couple of weeks in Honolulu during the western stay.

As soon as they get out of town, servants make a dash for the studios with offers to rent the home or the owners' cars for pictures.

A millionaire automobile maker from Detroit now wintering here spent two weeks at Palm Springs. During his absence the house servants rented the house to an indie producer for a location.

$70 Worth of Water

Producer had a scene calling for a swimming pool, so the servants filled the pool with $70 worth of water. They got $150 for two days' shooting around the house, also a $10 cheque each for three of them as extras.

Same man has three automobiles, one a $15,000 custom job. Chauffeur rents the car to studios for $15 to $25 per day with his services thrown in.

A New Yorker has a beach home which is always getting into pictures due to its location. House is mostly used during the summer, when he is in the east. Evidently he doesn't go to picture theatres, for the house has been in four different productions during the past few months.

Charity and $4,000

Every time the house is used the caretaker gets $150, which he claims he turns over to charity. Last Christmas he bought himself a $4,000 car.

The captain of a yacht owned by a New Yorker is always making the rounds of the studios offering the yacht for productions. The owner pays the dockage and repair bills in the spring. Every time the boat leaves the dock it costs the owner over $200. Rental for the boat is $200 per day, which goes into the captain's kick.

SCREEN AND STAGE NOTES

"Woman Hungry" is described as a human drama set against the background of the Sierras. It is based on one of William Vaughn Moody's plays and was directed by Clarence Badger. Lila Lee, Sidney Blackmer, Fred Kohler, Kenneth Thomson, David Newel, Raymond Hatton, Blanche Frederick and Olive Tell are in the cast.

"Behind Office Doors" is the title of the new film with Mary Astor, Robert Ames and Ricardo Cortez as the featured players, and the rest of the cast includes Edna Murphy, Kity Kelly, Catherine Dale Owen, Charles Sellon and William Morris.

"As fine a mystery movie as has found the screen" is one reviewer's tribute to Earl Derr Bigger's "Charlie Chan Carries On" with Warner Oland in the title role of a Chinese detective.

NOW ON BROADWAY

William Powell in "Man of the World", his first picture in six months, is the suave leader of a blackmailing ring. Self-exiled because of his shady career in America, Mr. Powell spends his working hours extorting money from American tourists in Paris. It appears that he falls in love with a wealthy young woman whom he blackmails at the request of a former paramour. Carole Lombard, Wynne Gibson, Guy Kibbee and Lawrence Gray have important parts.

SUNDAY BALL IS BANNED IN BORDER AREA

First: Interleague competition in the senior series.

Second: Inauguration of the A and B rating in the intermediate series.

Both innovations were a decided success and both are responsible for the renewed interest in amateur baseball. The interleague competition was a boom to baseball in the urban centres and B series was a boom to baseball in the rural districts.

These changes, to my mind, caused a revival of interest in Amateur baseball which was a distinct gain for our association and every effort should be made by the incoming executive to consolidate th's gain and to encourage the interleague idea where possible in the other series, and the formation of more leagues in the rural districts.

Competition in the play-down games in all series was keen, however, our secretary in his report will cover this in detail and the treasurer's report will show that financially our association was able to show a surplus for the year's activities, which surplus is needed if this Association is to continue to foster amateur baseball in the province.

During the season it was my pleasure to visit and talk baseball from Sarnia in the west to Kingston in the east. From my observations, amateur baseball is in a healthy condition, but it will be necessary for everyone to continue to work and I feel that this work should be directed to the juniors, because they are the intermediate and senior players of the future.

I wish to thank the executive members, convenors, and league secretaries for their co-operation during the past season; without this help the results we have obtained would not have been possible and I would like to record my appreciation of your secretary. As you all know, Mr. Snyder is a very capable official and our association is indeed fortunate in having associated with it a man of his ability and integrity. Being in charge of the business office, he is in reality our general manager and much credit is due him for his business-like management of the affairs of this association. Speaking as president of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, may I say it was a pleasure to be associated with Mr. Snyder during the past season.

Secretary's Report.

In his annual report as secretary, Mr. Snyder reviewed the season of 1930 and the Association's progress.

"Our membership was composed of ten senior leagues, with thirty-two clubs, ten intermediate; "A" Leagues with forty-four clubs, sixteen intermediate; "B" Leagues with seventy-five clubs, ten junior leagues with forty-five clubs, seven juvenile leagues with forty-six clubs, and five Bantam leagues with forty-three clubs, a total of fifty-eight leagues and two hundred and seventy-nine clubs, an increase in membership over 1929 of sixteen leagues and eighty-five clubs. One senior, eleven intermediate, two junior, two juvenile leagues were new affiliations during 1930. We must all agree that the new series created in the intermediate section has more than justified the desire of the executive and delegates to revive the interest in baseball. Many of these new leagues were from the rural districts and their entry into organized baseball has brought about a condition that will result in greater activity for the coming season. During 1930 your secretary issued the following number of playing certificates: Senior, 1,100; intermediate "A," 1,000; intermediate "B," 1,600; junior, 1,100; juvenile, 900; bantam, 2,000; a total of 7,700."

Mr. Snyder mailed last year to all parts of the province more than 1,000 constitution books, and 2,000 pamphlets. Six executive and five sub-committee meetings were held during the year.

It has been my policy not to call upon the executive or subcommittee to meet unless important questions arose, which I deemed necessitated a meeting for a decision. It has also been my policy to keep in touch with your president, chairman of the subcommittee, members of the executive and all affiliated bodies on all matters that may affect your association. In so doing, the expenses of your association were materially reduced and no injustice was done to any affiliated body or district in the province.

Seventy players were granted a change of residence and sixteen were refused. It is still the policy of your executive to keep a close check on the tourist athlete and by curtailing their moves we give greater encouragement to the home talent and more satisfaction to the fans.

The Galt Terriers were the senior O.B.A.A. champions last year; Ingersoll, the intermediate "A" champions; Milton, the intermediate "B" winners; Galt Juniors won their class championship; Toronto St. Georges were the juvenile series champions; and the Bantam title was won by Peterborough.

In regard to the Associations work among the teen-age boys, Mr. Snyder remarked: "I can state without fear of contradiction that there is not another organization promoting amateur sport in Canada, who are expending their surplus revenue to encourage clean amateurs sport among the boys."

In the semi-final and finals for the 1930 Ontario championships, the number of games played were : 133, attendance 87,104, Gross receipts, senior and intermediate, $28,712.27.

During last season, 1400 league games and 60 exhibition games were played under the jurisdiction of the O.B.A.A.

"I might say that not in one instance where an O.B.A.A. club was granted permission to play with an independent club was the O.B.A.A. regulations violated, and to my mind the playing of these games has created a more friendly feeling toward our association."

Mr. Snyder concluded his address with a cordial appreciation of the cadership of R. A. Elliott as president.

Reviewing the financial statement which he read as treasurer, A. Hillmer, Oakville, remarked that the telegraph and telephone account of $470 was $300 more than 1929. He suggested that this expense might be curtailed.

Mr. Elliott said he agreed with the idea of economy, but it should not be forgotten that the number of playoffs last year was 133 as compared with 81 in 1929. The telephone bills in 1928 and previous years was about the same as in 1930.

"In other words," Mr. Elliott said, "we are doing more business at just about the same cost."

Advisory Board Report

Mr. Hillmer, as chairman of the Advisory oBard of past presidents which was formed last year submitted the suggestion that an effort be made this year to broadcast the final games in the senior series. He believed the quality of baseball deserved a radio report, and would have a wide appeal with the strong probability of increasing the attendance.

Mr. Hillmer also recommended that trophies be forwarded to championship clubs in order that they might be presented at local banquets at which the winning teams are customarily honored.

An amendment to the constitution which was unanimously adopted, gives the executive authority to except from membership any clubs that are unable to secure grouping in any affiliated association or league.

Avoid Good Friday

Another amendment referring to the date of the annual meeting provides that the annual meeting shall be held on the first Saturday in April except when that Saturday is the day following Good Friday, then the annual meeting shall be held on the second Saturday.

A resolution to make all minor league semi-final games "sudden-death" ran into a barrage of opposition.

H. C. Maguire of St. Catharines said the minor players looked forward to the trips. Bill Prindible, Peterborough, supported the contention of Mr. Maguire and R. E. Colling of Belleville.

A. H. Doult, past president of the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association, said the attendance at the minor league games in Toronto was exceedingly small.

Mr. Hillmer, Oakville, reminded the Toronto delegates that the O.B.A.A. granted $175 to the T.A.B.A to assist the minor league in Toronto.

George Stronach, Toronto, treasurer of the T.A.B.A. withdrew the resolution.

W. H. Kerr, Toronto, president of the T.A.B.A., proposed an amendment reducing the fee for umpires in senior playoffs from $15 to $10. It was seconded by Mr. Stronach of Toronto.

The amendment was adopted, with a further cut of umpires' fees in intermediate championship games from $10 to $7. Mileage remains unchanged at ten cents a mile one way.

Another amendment respecting remuneration of umpires was carried as follows:—

"In semi-final and final games which are postponed, due to rain or other causes, umpires may demand one-half the regulation fee and ten cents a mile one way."

He Is Risen.

He is risen. He is risen, Death, and hell, could not detain
The Great Lord of Life a captive in their desolate domain
All their powers, He has vanquished, wreaths of victory crown His brow
Where, O, Death are now thy terrors, where O grave thy boasting now.

Springtimes soft, and balmy breezes warbling birds on every spray
All Nature's myriad voices sing. The Lord is risen to-day.
And pledge to us, His Resurrection, that some glad day we shall rise
In immorta' bloom, and beauty—from the grave sod to the skies.

And if we now, with Him be risen, to the world of life, and love
Let us set our hearts' affections, on those holier things above
Let us shun the tempting pleasures, which, to earth fast bind the soul
To the shining prize, press onward, upward, to the Heavenly goal.

Peterborough, Ontario. MRS. A. F. CALDER.

BOOKLET ISSUED FOR WALL COLORS

Fashion This Year Amounts to a Passion for Pigment.

MANY NEW SHADES.

The fashion this Spring is not just a flare or fancy for furbishing up, but amounts to a passion for pigment. There is a persistent demand for color in everything, and many new shades are being introduced.

To meet this demand, the Imperial Varnish and Color Company have had one of Canada's foremost interior decorators blend for them nine new tints, supplementing their regular line of Flo-Glaze Four Hour Enamel. These tints are called Periwinkle Blue, Venetian Blue, Sapphire Blue, Antique Gold, Flesh, English Stone, Blonde, Sea Water Green and Rose. Although on the market for only a few weeks, these are proving extremely popular.

A dainty little color booklet showing the nine new tints in their complementary color combinations is being sent free by mail. It is worth having. The company's address is 2-20 Morse Street, Toronto.

OPENING SHOOT ENJOYED

The opening shoot of the 1931 season was enjoyed by members of the Peterborough Gun Club yesterday afternoon, who turned out in large numbers at the request of their President, Chris Graham.. It is planned to hold another shoot on April 11th, when a cordial invitation is extended to all present and prospective members to be present. completion of the five year plan.

And upon it has followed a natural and unhampered development of our constitutional powers, until to-day Canada has become an autonomous community within the British Empire, ready and able to play an ever increasing part in its great destiny.

"Our social and material advancements has been perhaps without parallel in history. Hard times have been but the forerunners of good times. In the beginning, adversity was no stranger to us, and even in the past year we have been called upon to endure a measure of hardship only less than that with which the other nations of the world have been afflicted. And yet no true Canadian doubts the greatness of our future or believes that the spiritual and physical energies of our people will not build out of the incalculable human and material riches of this Dominion, an economic power which may defy adversity, and ensure to our citizens the happiness and prosperity which are their birthright.

Faith Of Canadians.

"Your Excellency has but to consider what we once were and are now, to be satisfied that the faith of Canadians in their country is wholly justified and to be convinced with us that to-day we are on the march to an even greater contentment than we have yet known.

"Throughout this long period of change, the loyalty of this country to the British Crown has ever remained steadfast and true. And it is my privilege now, as it was that of my predecessors in other times, to humbly request Your Excellency to convey to His Majesty the King an assurance of the profound and affectionate devotion and loyalty of the Canadian people to his throne and person.

"We rejoice that Your Excellency combines with those high qualities which have so distinguished the service of your family to the state in the past two centuries, a wide knowledge of business, and of the world of practical affairs. And we confidently believe that your varied experience will make your counsel and advice of peculiar benefit to Canada at the present time.

Work for Welfare of All.

"In the past we have acknowledged with deep gratitude the unselfish and steadfast service of His Majesty's representatives in Canada, and Your Excellency may be assured that our people will be quick to recognize and proclaim the interest and co-operation of Your Excellency in all those matters which make for the welfare of Canada and the Empire a a whole.

"We welcome Her Excellency as one of a race which has built into our national life its noble qualities of patience and industry and patriotism. And we believe it is given to Her Excellency to especially understand the strength of that bond between the British people and her own, which makes them forever co-workers in the great cause of Canadian progres.

"May Divine Providence vouchsafe to Your Excellencies and to the members of your family health and happiness during your sojourn amongst us."

Man Wins $25,000; But Has Lost Ticket

SUDBURY, Ont., April 4 (C.P.) —Reino Jackal, Copper Cliff, has about $25,000 coming to him—if he can find the ticket an Shaun Gollin, sixth horse in the recent Grand National which he bought in the Provincial Assistance Sweepstakes. It is now possible his own written statement and those of two witnesses who saw him buy the ticket may be sufficient to allow him to cash in on his ticket. He is optimistic about it. Jackal is 24 years of age, married, and a native of Copper Cliff.

AIR MINISTRY BACKS FLIGHT TO AUSTRALIA

Two Planes Will Start on Different Dates From London to Port Darwin.

PLANNED AS EXPERIMENT.

Regular Service to Follow When Australia Ready to Contribute Share.

LONDON, April 2 (C.P. Cable). — Two experimental air flights under the Air Ministry's auspices, in each direction between London and Australia, were announced by Hon. F. Montague, Under-Secretary for Air, in the House of Commons to-day.

The first flight from London will start on Saturday and is scheduled to reach Port Darwin, Australia, on April 19. The second flight from London will start April 23 and will be due in Port Darwin on May 10.

The present England-India air mail route will be followed to Karachi and Delhi. The route will then be to Allahabad, Calcutta, Rangoon, Victoria Point, Singapore, Batavia, Sourabaya and Port Darwin.

Imperial Airways expect to make arrangements with the Australian Air Company to provide further connection from Port Darwin to Queensland and New South Wales centres.

"The Treasury have agreed to the subsidy for these two experimental flights on the condition and understanding that Australia is told this is all we can spend on the service until they are in a position to contribute," Mr. Montague told a questioner.

Letters will be carried at 16 cents for the first half-ounce and 14 cents for each additional half-ounce, but will be accepted only as far as Calcutta and Rangoon.

Establishment of regular England-Australia service will depend on whether financial assistance is forthcoming from the several Governments concerned.

The crash occurred near Leighton Buzzard, Scotland, and six persons were killed and more than eighty injured.

GEORGE STREET CHOIR PRESENTS CANTATA "THE DARKEST HOUR"

45 IN THE CHOIR.

(By Jeanette.)

"The Darkest Hour," a sacred cantata composed by Harold Moore, was the Good Friday night offering by the choir of George Street United Church. Directed by David R. Howat, the choir about forty-five strong, gave a splendid account of itself in the measures of this dramatic setting to the tragedy of Golgotha.

Miss Reta Swain, L.T.C.M., of Toronto, mezzo soprano, was the assisting artist of the evening, taking much of the recitative, and dividing the honors in this section with G. D. Carlisle, baritone. In due with Miss Swain, A. V. Lillow's sweet tenor voice was also heard briefly toward the close of the composition.

Operatic Atmosphere.

This cantata is a little different to the usual run of such sacred tone pictures which present scenes in song. It has a somewhat operatic atmosphere heightened by the character of the organ background, and its music emphasizes dramatic and melodic values, even in the recitative. It brings out the full value of the men's sections, which seem to be paramount throughout. The manner in which the rich bass voices took the lead in many portions, with the silvery tenors as a delicate overtone, was beautiful in the extreme. The cantata abounds in brief, fully emphasized sections that might almost be termed cameos of tone.

After a brief introductory bit by Miss Swain the music swings into separate choral sections emphasizing the phrase, "God so loved the world," with the theme taken first by the soprano, then the ensemble, then the alto section, then the fine silver of the sopranos, and again the whole choir. This handling of the cantata was evident throughout and was most effective.

Progressing from the scene in the Garden of Gethsamane, where the followers of Christ fall asleep at their posts, with the dramatic recitative by Mr. Carlisle: "Father, remove this Cup from Me," comes the Calvary scene, with the organ playing the March to Calvary in background to the impressive words of "Daughters of Zion, Weep Not," and "Surely He Was Bruised." This is sung in forte measures by the whole choir, in full-voiced volume of rich tone. After it comes the tragedy of the Cross, with the soprano sounding the theme, "They Crucified Him" and the men's voices paramount in "Save Thyself."

Miss Swain and Mr. Lillow sang in duet "O Saviour of the World," and the dramatic rendition had a mildly triumphant finale, sounding the note of Resurrection with the full-voice choir echoing the glad stanzas.

Mr. Carlisle's splendid baritone voice was outstanding in the recitative, which seems better adapted to men's voices. His resonant rich tones were superb throughout.

Miss Swain Well Received

Miss Swain made a wonderful impression on her hearers, both in the cantata and the two solos which she sang prior to its commencement. These were "The Cross" and "O, Divine Redeemer." Possessed of a finely-trained mezzo soprano voice that has that alluring quality that charms in its lower register and that is capable of soaring up in a wide range, she sang with ease and finesse and a smooth, rich, creamy timbre that made every verse and stanza attractive in the extreme.

Mr. Howat, besides directing his singers with skilful ease and training them to such a pleasing expression of their music, played two organ numbers that were appropriate to the day and were very beautifully done. "The Good Friday Spell" from Wagner's "Parsifal," in some of the bold, free grand music of the master German composer, weaving the magician's spell for his hearers, was the first number, and the second was "Requiem Aeternum," one of the dignified sonorous compositions from the Roman ritual, founded on an old Gregorian melody.

OMEMEE PLANS BIG SPORTS DAY

TRANSFER OF LAND.

OMEMEE, April 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The annual meeting of the Omemee Athletic Association was held in the council chamber, Monday night. The president, Harry Lamb, was in the chair.

The treasurer's report was presented by Mr. Lamb in the absence of the treasurer H. Hill. A cash balance of $410.00 remains in the bank.

By a unanimous vote, moved by G. W. Gowans and R. Bradley, the executive committee were authorized to deed a lot to the Dominion Government as an armory sight, in exchange for the present one, which the government in turn deeds to the School Board for an extra playground. The School Board is to pay costs of the transfer.

The president was appointed to wait on the council re adjustment of assessment on the O.A.A. grounds, owing to the change in value created by the transfer.

The president vacating the chair, the secretary called for election of officers for the year 1931. On motion of C. R. Corneil and G. W. Gowans, the officers of 1930 were re-elected as follows: President, H. Lamb; vice-president, W. F. Parker; treasurer, H. Hill; director, R. Bradley; secretary, S. J. Mackey.

It was decided to hold a celebration on Victoria Day, Monday, May 25th.

Messrs. Lamb, Parker, Adams, Hill, Saudy were elected a committee to look after concert and music.

R. Williamson, C. Elliott and R. Bradley were appointed to investigate the feasibility of building a walk from King St. to the O.A.A. grounds and report on same at next meeting.

The need of building a bowling green was discussed by those present and a committee was appointed, G. W. Gowans, M. D. Earle and S. J. Mackey, to secure information as to cost, etc., and report at next meeting.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on Wednesday evening, April 29th, at 7:30 P.M.

REGULAR MEETING OF WARSAW Y.P.S.

Mrs. George Taylor Reads Interesting Notes From Dr. Mackellar's Report.

WARSAW, April 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The members of the Y.P.S. met in the basement of the United Church on Tuesday evening, with a good attendance and Ivan Drain, president, occupied the chair.

After the usual opening excercises, including the reading of Luke 14, by Miss Cora Drain, Mrs. George Taylor read some very interesting notes and stories from Dr. Mackellar's annual report of the United Church Missionary Hospital at Neemuch, India.

For the social part there was a sing song and a relay race balancing a book upon the head.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks and in the Presbyterian Church.

ARTICLES OF INTEREST TO THE FARMER

SPLENDID VARIETY OF CATCH CROPS OFFERED FARMERS WITH SHORTAGE

Peas and Oats, Millets, Biennial Sweet Clover Among Recommended by Govt.

RESULT OF DRY SEASON

Because of the dry season of 1930, many Peterborough dairy farmers are going to be faced with a hay and pasture shortage this year. Permanent pastures were dried up last fall and many fields of new seeding did not get the start they should have. Because of this condition more than the usual amount of "catch' crops will be sown this spring.

The following recommendations regarding supplementary hay and pasture crops should be of interest. The varieties and rates of seeding recommended both at the experimental farms and throughout the province and have been found very satisfactory.

Where a farmer is faced with the project of a poor hay crop or short pasturage, he would be well to try one of these catch crops.

Supplementary Hay Crops

Most of these are annual crops but one biennial plant can be used with a fair success and this crop can be carried on into the succeeding season if necessary.

A mixture of strong growing, large strawed, many leaved varieties of these crops, such as O.A.C. No. 144, O.A.C. No. 72, or Banner Oats and Golden Vine, Prussian Blue, or O.A.C. No. 181 field peas has been found to yield excellent returns of high quality hay when sown at the rate of two bushels of oats and one bushel of peas per acre, a total seeding of three bushels per acre. This mixture has been successful on most types of soil. It should be sown in early spring on a well prepared seed bed. It is ready and should be harvested when the pea pods are half grown, the methods used in curing being the same as for any other hay crop. At the Ontario Agricultural College this crop has produced an average annual yield of between two and three tons of hay per acre.

Millets

On a well drained soil, comparatively free from weeds and in a good state of fertility, millet will give satisfactory returns as a supplementary hay crop. The Hungarian is one of the best varieties and is the one most commonly used. It should be sown at the rate of about three-quarters of a bushel per acre, and harvested when the plants are fully in head. Harvesting operations are the same as for other hay crops.

It has a feeding value nearly equal to Timothy but is more suitable for feeding to cattle than to horses.

Biennial Sweet Clover

Either white or yellow blossom biennial sweet clover may be used as a supplementary hay crop in Ontario. By seeding in the early spring without a nurse crop a fair amount of growth can be obtained by autumn which can be used for hay. The yield, however, will not be large but as the plant is a biennial it will produce slightly more than double the growth the following season which can be used either for hay, pasture, or silage. The choice as to the white or yellow blossom varieties will depend upon the use to which the crop may be put the second year. or hay the yellow blossom kind is leafier, but for silage or pasture the white blossom kind is most commonly used, as the seed is more easily produced and the yield is larger.

The seed should be sacrificed to ensure uniform germination, and if the crop is not going to be used the second year, it should be allowed to start growth in the spring before being ploughed down to avoid the possibility of its volunteering in succeeding crops.

Oats and Sweet Clover

A mixture of oats and sweet clover sown early in the spring at the rate of 80 pounds of oats and 20 pounds of sweet clover, makes an excellent pasture catch crop giving satisfactory returns in Ontario. Vigorous growing, heavy yielding varieties of these crops should be used. The biennial White Blossom sweet clover and the late maturing varieties of oats such as O.A.C. No. 144, O.A.C. 72, or Banner will give the biggest returns. This crop is ready for pasture some six weeks after seeding, and should be kept eaten down sufficiently to prevent the oats from heading out. The oats produce the pasture in the early part of the season and, the sweet clover that of the late summer and early fall. This mixture has the added advantage that sweet clover can be used the following year either as a pasture, silage or hay crop.

Rape

Rape is often grown as a catch crop in Ontario and after a failure of winter wheat and sometimes after a barley crop has been harvested. It makes an excellent pasture for sheep but may be used for hogs and cattle with satisfactory results. One and a half to two pounds of seed per acre is enough when the crop is sown in rows, but broadcast sowing will require four to five pounds per acre. It is usually sown late for fall pasture, but can be sown from early spring till late August to meet emergent pasture requirements. The farmers should procure his rape seed by variety name, one of the best being the Dwarf Essex. There is a danger of animals bloating on this crop if turned in when hungry or when it is wet. Any danger of this can be overcome by not allowing the animals to stay on the rape pasture too long at first, and increasing the length of time as they become used to it, and by letting them have access to a grass pasture.

Have Soil Right In Planting Grass

The fine seeds of grasses and legumes require a firm soil that is fine in tilth, and moist. They are very small in size and if seeded too deeply will produce plants which either lack in vigour when they emerge above the ground, or are completely smothered. The soil should be firm so that the seed will not be buried too deeply and so that moisture will be near the surface to facilitate the germination of the small seeds before the nurse crop becomes sufficiently well established to smother the small seedlings.

OMISSION OF GRIT IN CHICKEN FEED CAUSES TROUBLE

Birds Are Inclined to Eat Feathers—Have Digestive Trouble.

START CANNIBALISM

Substitute Fine Gravel If Unable to Get Granite Grit.

The omission of grain and grit in many chick rations has, no doubt, caused poultrymen considerable trouble.

Chickens do not have teeth, so have been provided with a muscular organ known as the gizzard, to grind and pulverize coarse fibrous material by the aid of grit. It is instinct with the chicken to pick up shiny stones or pebbles, which take the place of teeth.

Birds that are not fed grit, nor are running on a gravel soil, will develop a large, soft, mushy, non-muscular gizzard that will act as a storage organ. The feathers of such birds are inclined to be dry and hang very loosely. They will look bigger than their actual size. Birds that have been fed grain and grit are so much sounder and harder that they weigh more, although they look smaller.

Apt to Eat Fethers

The loose-feathered birds are much more likely to be affected by changes in temperature. They are much more inclined to eat their feathers. There are apt to be a great many bare backs, simply because they are not fed grain and grit. Birds that eat feathers are apt to start cannibalism and cause heavy losses. The feathers that go into the gizzard, without any grit to grind them up, are going to interfere with the mash consumption. Sour crops, crop bound, and indigestion are common where no grain or grit is fed.

We have all seen birds eating droppings and scratching in them. They are looking for grit, and if they had been fed the proper kind of grit, would not be picking at the droppings.

Many poultrymen, it is true, are feeding grit, yet having the various troubles just described. The grit they are feeding is soluble in acid, and the digestive juices are acid, so that it is dissolved by the time it reaches the gizzard. If you are not sure of the kind of grit you are feeding, put a few particles of it in a glass of vinegar. If after the first minute, bubbles continue to rise and it disappears in a short time, it will not serve as grit.

When buying grit for chicks, insist on a granite grit, and if unable to get it, use a clean, fine gravel grit. Gravel, containing very little mica, is not attractive to the birds, and the pebbles being round, does not do as good a job in grinding as a granite grit, so that graite is much preferred.

SCIENCE STUDIES COW'S STOMACH TO GET RESULTS

Modern Feeding Methods Are Outcome of Experiments to Find Right Combinations.

WATCH WATER IN WINTER

Disturbing of Cow While Chewing Her Cud Means Smaller Milk Flow.

By DR. L. D. LeGEAR, V.S.

The expression is frequently used that we are living in a laboratory age. Nearly everything we eat and wear and use must first go through several experimental stages.

A few years ago, I visited the factory of a well-known high-priced automobile and was told that every part of the engine was inspected every forty-five minutes during the process of manufacture. Finally, the engine was placed on a testing block and run at full speed continuously for four hours before it was ever put into the finished car.

The average public is not aware of the fact that similar methods have been employed for years in the study of the care and feeding of cattle.

Recently I visited a well-known State experimental station. As we went through one barn I was shown a new-born calf and informed that within twenty-four hours it would not be alive. In fact, it was doomed to die before it was ever born. The reason for this was that its mother had been fed a certain ration. For twenty years cows fed this ration had not produced a single calf which lived. In every case the offspring would be undersized, abnormal, and, in many cases, blind. The ration was wheat, straw, wheat meal, wheat gluten and common salt.

The interesting thing about the experiment was that in this same barn the cows fed with the same ration plus the bone meal and cod liver oil produced healthy calves which later became large producers of milk.

Results Available.

All through this experiment station similiar tests were being made on various combinations of food. By this means the correct feeding of dairy cattle was being reduced to a science. The results of this scientific knowledge are now available to every farmer, and there is little excuse today for the owner of dairy cattle not knowing how to keep his herd on a profitable production basis.

We have already referred to the dairy cow as an example of a modern machine perfected through the years for the manufacture of milk. I think we will have a greater regard for the humble cow and will be far more considerate of her comfort and surroundings if we know a little more about the mechanism by which she produces milk.

How many times, for instance, are we neglectful, in cold weather, of water for the cattle? We do not realize that their bodies consist of from 70 to 90 per cent liquid. Water performs many important functions in the boly. It dissolves the food, acts as a carrier of food and waste, and is a more important element in the chemistry of the body. Any interference with the normal amount of drinking water may be serious and it should be supplied to livestock in large amounts in all seasons of the year. In the winter time drinking water should not be cold.

Digestive Organs.

The digestive organs of the cow are extremely interesting. As most of us know, the dairy cow chews her food just enough to moisten it before she swallows it. It is held in the paunch until she is ready to bring it back in the form of a cud, when she masticates it and mixes it with saliva. This is the first step in the manufacture of milk. A cud will weigh three to four ounces. Each one is chewed about a minute before it is returned for digestion.

A cow in reality has four stomachs, each one of which performs a certain function. The first stomach acts as a churn where further mastication takes place. The second apparently has no digestive juices but is a sort of policeman to the food, removing stones, nails, and other foriign objects which may happen to be in it. The third stomach has powerful muscles which squeeze the moisture out of the food and prepare it for entering the true stomach. From there on the processes are very similar to those in other animals.

It is a fact that this is a more complicated procedure than the digestive processes in other animals. Therefore, it is very necessary that the cow be quiet and comfortable during the period when she is transforming her food into milk. A cow, when disturbed, immediately ceases chewing her cud, which means that at the next milking period her supply will be greatly reduced if the disturbance continues.

C. ADAMS DIES IN TORONTO.

TORONTO, Ont., April 4 (C.P.).—Charles Adams, president and general manager of the Adams Bros. Harness Company of Toronto, with branch offices in Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton and Calgary, died at his home here in his 75th year.

Mr. Adams was born in Oxford County, Ont., in 1857, and moved to Western Canada in 1880. He was well known in Western Canada political circles, serving as Mayor of Brandon four years and a member of the Manitoba Legislature for eight years.

Fall Wheat, Alfalfa, Clover Winter Well; Maple Syrup Yield Likely to Be Short

Agricultural Representatives of the Ontario Department of Agriculture report fall wheat and seedings of alfalfa and clovers are in much better condition than they were at this time in 1930, due to the covering of snow which has remained on the crops longer than most years. Large supplies of feeder cattle are reported on hand and farmers are in a quandry to know whether to dispose of them at the present time or to hold them in the hope that the market conditions will improve. In practically all parts of Ontario eggs have reached the lowest value in many years. The maple syrup harvest is in full swing and indications are that the yield will not be up to that of previous years. Farm labor is plentiful, there being sufficient local help in practically every county to supply the demands. Vegetable growers have started their planting and reports come from Lincoln, Welland and York Counties that seedings of garden peas have been planted.

KEY TO PROFITS IS LOWER COSTS

In Face of To-day's Market Prices No Man Can Afford Half-Way Measures.

BAN OBSOLETE MACHINES

Study of crop production costs brings to light some o fthe reasons, at least, why certain of America's farmers are more prosperous than others. When all angles of the farm problem are considered, lower costs are shown as the real key to profit. aFrmers who have carried out a practical plan to eliminate all inefficiencies have found that a reduction in costs is equivalent to an increase in price.

The Difference

It is an interesting fact that the difference between high costs and low costs often hinges on one or two time-wasting operations in the crop program. Analysis of crop cost records shows that many farms that are otherwise on the way toward lower costs and fair profits—through the adoption of several efficient machines and modern methods—are kept in the low-profit group because false economy, tradition, or sentiment has caused the owners to cling to a few obsolete machines or methods.

In the face of to-day's market prices no man can afford to be satisfied with half-way measures. Efficiency must be the watchword in every operation. Man labor must be saved at every step, for labor is the single item that adds most to the farmer's actual production costs. No lower-costs program is complete until every time-wasting method or antiquated machine is replaced by better practices and more efficient equipment.

POTATO COST GIVEN BIG CUT

AVERAGE COST $85.32

Merle Stout, a farmer near Pike, New York in the western end of the state, last year trimmed $16.70 an acre off the average cost of growing an acre of potatoes in his section. His acreage was 60, and his crop yielded 194 bushels an acre. A general purpose tractor was used exclusively to handle the crop.

Total acre cost was $85.32. Interest on investment in land was not included in this item, since Mr.Stout figured his income as interest on land investment. Taxes, however, were included. In contrast with this record, the average acre cost of 260 potato growers in the northeastern section was $102.02, as reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In figuring his tractor costs, Mr. Stout assigned a high rate of depreciation, charging one-fifth of the purchase price for the first year's use. He used the tractor only 60 days on his 100 acre farm, all of this time being employed in caring for the potato crop. The daily charge for the tractor was $8.69, and the total annual cost $52.41. Labor, excepting for harvest, cost $258. Other costs were for seed, amounting to $900; fertilizer, $1300; taxes on land, $200; insurance, $70; overhead, $500; machinery other than tractor, $520; extra harvest labor, $850. The machinery costs were arrived at by adding the total purchase cost and dividing by four. A motor truck was included.

If Mr. Stout had sold his 11,640 bushel potato yield on December 15, 1930, at the price of 90 cents which prevailed in New York state on that date, his bushel profit above the production costs would have been 46 cents. Total profit, exclusive of land charges, would have been $5,54.-40.

TIME TO CLEAN YOUR HEN HOUSE

Put in Clean Litter, Whitewash Walls, Use Disinfectant Unstintingly.

RESULTS—EXTRA EGGS

A thorough cleaning of the laying house at this time will freshen up the surroundings for the hens and will keep them happier through the summer months. If you wait until later to clean the hen house, other more important work may come along and force you to leave the house all summer without cleaning. A dirty hen house makes an ideal place for parasitles and disease germs to live and breed.

When cleaning the hen house everything movable should be taken out, cleaned and disinfected. Walls and ceilings should be brushed and all the litter taken out. Dirt stuck to the floor should be scraped loose and taken out. Then the walls should be given a coat of whitewash to which add a pint of disinfectant to the gallon of whitewash. This will make the house lighter, cleaner in appearance, and aid in disinfecting the place.

Your hens will return to you in eggs just what you put into them in the way of care and feed. Just because the hens will be running outdoors is no sign that they can do without egg mash. The range will supply a limited amount of certain food nutrients but will be completely lacking in others. And egg mash should be kept before the hens the year round. The extra eggs you will get from the flock will pay for what mash they will eat and give you a nice profit besides.

APIARY LOCATION IMPORTANT ITEM IN MANAGEMENT

Study Surrounding Country to See How Many Colonies It Will Support.

SEED WASTE PLACES

Site Should be Sheltered With Hives at Least Five Feet Apart.

Location is a word in a beekeeper's vocabulary that is very much abused, for many of the failures to secure a crop of honey are attributed to location that should rightly be placed under the term mismanagement. Location, however, is an important factor and should be carefully considered before commencing operations as a beekeeper.

It is true that there are great differences in location, some will support far more colonies than will others, and furthermore, there is a great variation in the quality of the honey produced. While the beginner is usually limited in the choice of a location to the vicinity of his home, the man who has proved successful in managing bees and wishes to go more extensively into the business of honey production may find it more profitable to move to a new location or to establish out-apiaries at considerable distances from his main apiary. The advent of the motor truck has made this procedure quite possible and profitable.

Good Location

A good location is one that will yield a fairly continuous supply of nectar and pollen from early spring to late fall, and in which one or more of the major nectar secreting plants, such as Aslike and White Dutch Clover, Sweet Clover, Alfalfa, etc., are plentiful within a radius of two miles from the apiary. Most locations can be improved by sowing the seeds of the above mentioned plants in waste places, and this has been done on more than one occasion.

The site chosen for the apiary should be sheltered from high winds, outside, protection from the wind is extremely important. The apiary site shoud not be placed near a public thoroughfare or where children are likely to pass in front of the hives. It should also be well fenced so as to exclude horses or cattle. The apiary site should be easy of access and free from danger by flood or fire.

The arrangement of the colonies is a matter of taste. Colonies standing singly in neat rows or in groups have an orderly appearance, but some prefer to scatter them, claiming there is less drifting of bees by doing so. No matter whether the colonies are standing singly or otherwise, there should be at least from five to six feet between each colony or group of colonies.

PLANT ONLY BEST IN RASPBERRIES

Stock Not Govt. Certified Likely Be Full of Disease—Produce Inferior Fruit.

INFORMATION FREE

(Experimental Farms Note)

In order to avoid disappointing results in new raspberry plantings, growers are strongly urged to use Government certified raspberry stock for setting out. This recommendation is made because it is realized that certain diseases of the raspberry are commonly spread through planting canes from diseased parent plants. These diseases, mosaic and leaf curl are known to cause reduced yields, inferior quality fruit and in addition, are contributing factors to killing back and death of plants.

From a study of these diseases over a number of years it has been repeatedly demonstrated that the prevalence can be greatly reduced by the use of certified stock which is known to be free from disease. Such stock has received rigid inspections during the growing season and found to be free from mosaic or leaf curl and when used for planting out will produce vigorous, healthy plantations which will remain profitable for a long time.

Get Reduced Yields

On the other hand, where stock for planting is secured from an unknown source the possibility is that the new plantation will contain high percentages of disease. Such a plantation has at best a poor start. Diseased plants will be stunted and weak, eventually dying or producing reduced yields. In addition they provide a source of further infection to remaining healthy plants and as the spread is quite rapid in a plantation a short time will see its production unprofitable. Avoid such results by using certified stock, thus insuring a healthy start to a plantation which will continue profitable a greater number of years.

The inspection and certification of raspberries is carried on annually by the various branches of the Division of Botany. This service to the growers is free of charge and full information concerning its features will be furnished on request to the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, St. Catharines, Ontario, or to the Division of Botany, Centra. Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Nearly $34,000,000 worth of American sound-film apparatus was imported into the United Kingdom last year.

EDITION ON FARM MANAGEMENT FULL OF VALUABLE EXPERIENCES

Killing Wild Oats; —How It's Done

Superintendent W. A. Munro of the Dominion Experimental Station at Rosthern, Sask., pointing out that wild oats germinate only in the spring and early summer under favorable conditions of soil moisture, advises their eradication by letting them sprout and then discing in. He states "As soon as the crop is taken off shallow plough the land or double disc it, and as early as possible in the spring harrow it and leave until wild oat plants show above the ground—from middle to end of May. Plough to a depth of three or four inches sowing barley or oats for green feed. Very few wild oats are likely to appear in the crop.

USE HOTBEDS FOR STARTING EARLY PLANTS

Careful Watching Necessary as Heat Mounts Quickly and May Do Harm.

KEEP SOIL MOIST, NOT WET

Place Plants in Cold Frame to Toughen Up Before Setting Out.

(Experimental Farms Note)

The hotbed should be located in a sunny exposure, preferably on the south side of a building. Fresh horse manure is the most satisfactory heating material. This is left in a pile for five days, when it is forked over evenly, a layer at a time, shaking it out well and tramping it. This is continued until the desired height is reached, usually two feet, and the pile is made two feet wider and longer than the frame. The frame is placed on the manure, and banked on the sides.

The Frame

The frame is usually made to support 4 sashes, 3 feet by 6 feet in size, or to carry 18 lights of 10 inch by 12 inch glass. The frame is usually 2-inch plank, 13 inches high at the back and 8 inches at the front. The sloping end pieces are spiked to these, and three cross pieces of 2 inch by three inch lumber are spiked from back to front, level with the top of the plank, to carry the sashes. If flats are to be used two inches of cinders are usually placed over the manure to set the flats on. The sashes are set on, and after a few days a rather violent heating will take place, when the bed should be ventilated to allow the gases to escape. When the temperature of the bed falls to about 80 degrees it can be used for seeding, or for the holding of flats.

If flats are not used soil to the depth of 4 to 5 inches is used. The hotbed can be used to better advantage with flats, and less soil is needed. The flats can be taken inside to be transplanted and may be shifted to cold frames as desired, and their place taken by other plants requiring more heat. The most convenient flat is 12 inches by 22 inches, and 3 inches deep. The end pieces are of ⅝-inch lumber 12 inches long, and two side and four bottom pieces are of ¼-inch lumber 22 inches long and 3 inches wide. If properly cared for these flats will last for many years.

Careful watching during bright days is necessary as the space in the hotbed is small and the temperature may quickly run up and cause injury to the plants. Ample ventilation, by shoving the sashes back a few inches, is necesary. With the bottom heat a low temperature on top is not a disadvantage, although cold winds blowing on the seedlings may cause injury. During very frosty nights a blanket or old carpet should be placed over the frame. This is rarely necessary, however.

Water Carefully

The watering should be carefully done, keeping the soil moist and not wet. Excess moisture and high temperature favour the development of damping-off fungi. It is wise to water about noon so that the surface of the soil will dry out before night, and the air in the bed contain less moisture. High temperature and moist air may cause considerable loss.

The cold frame is the same as the frame for a hotbed, but is placed on the ground and has no bottom heat. It is wise after danger from frost is past to place plants in a cold frame for a week or ten days to harden up before setting them to the open.

Prepared by Hon. D. Marshall After Tour Over Ontario and Prairies.

SUCCESSFUL MEN'S VIEWS

Like the books which have preceded it in the series, "Farm Management," published by the Imperial Oil Limited, and written and compiled by Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture, Province of Alberta, is a contribution to Canadian agriculture from another industry.

The Honorable Duncan Marshall prepared the book after making a trip over the prairies, lasting about six weeks, and also spending considerable time through Ontario visiting farmers and discussing the results of their farm operations covering a period of years.

Everything in the book has been gleaned from men who make their living on the land, and names of prominent farmers along with pictures of the farms and equipment, make it doubly interesting; while a few farmers even gave their financial statements, which will prove invaluable as guidance to others engaged in the basic industry of the Dominion. This is the first effort that has been made to publish a book on farm management, and while it does not claim to be the last word, it certainly is a useful collection of farm experiences from men who have successfully operated on the land in Canada.

Farming is a business in which a knowledge of the experiences of others is extremely valuable. There are weather and other conditions, over which the farmer has no control, from which he has suffered greatly. Aside from these circumstances Imperial Oil Limited has published "Farm Management" for the sole purpose of serving agriculture.

The financial statements are naturally from men who have made a reasonable success of their business, because, after all, the object of farming is to achieve success, and the book gives some idea how these men have achieved it.

This book forms the third volume of a series—the first and second, "Field and Farmyard" and "Weed Control" being at present used to a large extent as text books in a great many schools.

Author's History

The author of the book was born in the Township of Elderslie, Bruce County, the son of John and Margaret Marshall. He was educated at Walkerton High School and the Collegiate Institute, Owen Sound. After spending twenty years on his father's farm, he taught school from 1890-1894 and then joined the staff of the Toronto World and Toronto News. The Hon. Mr. Marshall was one of the best known workers of the Patrons of Industry Movement in Ontario from 1891-98.

Some years later he bought the Union-Standard, Thornbury, Ontario; the Clarkesburg Reflector and the Bracebridge Gazette. He moved to Alberta in 1905 as editor of the Daily Bulletin, Edmonton.

He now owns and operates a large farm in the Olds district of Alberta, and is well-known as an extensive breeder of pure-bred Shorthorn cattle. He is also proprietor of the Olds Gazette.

Elected to the Alberta Legislature for Olds in 1909, he was appointed Minister of Agriculture during the Rutherford administration, re-appointed during the Sifton regime and established the Alberta Provincial Schools of Agriculture in 1913 for the training of farmers' sons and daughters.

He resigned office with the Stewart Government in August 1912 and was appointed Commissioner of Agriculture for Canada in February 1922, and resigned December 1923.

He is also a past president of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association and a member of the Canadian Records Board.

Talking pictures will be shown on a new transatlantic liner.

WORLD FEELING UNION MOVEMENT

Rev. J. Endicott Claims Lambeth Conference Stand Encouraging to Churches.

START ON MISSION FIELDS.

LONDON, Ont., April 4 (C.P.). — Addressing a meeting of the Protestant ministers of the city here yesterday Rev. James Endicott, Toronto, former Moderator of the United Church of Canada, said the movement toward church union is being felt throughout the entire world and the need for greater unity of the Christian church is being recognized by thinkers everywhere. Dr. Endicott stated the recent Lambeth Conference was daring in the stand on union taken which was greatly encouraging to other churches and all who believe in the idea of a united Christendom. Dean Norman Tucker, of St. Pauls Cathedral, expressed the belief that if a re-united Christendom was to be brought out it will originate in the mission fields rather than in the established Christian countries where prejudices had grown up and divided the church.

Rev. C. C. Waller, Principal of the Huron Anglican College, declared a re-union of the various Protestant churches on anything less than a catholic basis would be futile and agreed with Dr. Endicott in that any re-union would also need to include some form of episcopacy.

EASTER DAWN BRINGS REVIVAL

it differenity. It falls on "the first Sunday after the full moon which happens on or next after the first day of spring. March the twenty-first. If the full moon happens on a Sunday, Easter falls on the following Sunday."

But why all this fuss about rabbits, bunnies, chicks, eggs, Easter lilies, flowers, fashions, hot cross buns, and other peculiar rites which all combine to make up Easter Day?

The presence of the rabbit has already been explained. It is a part, and a very sacred part, of the rite of the ancient Saxon. In fact the rabbit, or the hare is still looked upon very superstitiously by people in parts of Germany and neighboring countries. But what connection have they with eggs?

That is a question to which you'll have to supply your own answer. Even learned mythologists, who have spent years of study, can't find out how a rabbit could lay an Easter egg. They have unearthed many myths about it, but nothing that will show that it was once physically possible for a hare to fulfill a hen's part in the scheme of things.

The chick probably entered into the play because people couldn't associate the egg with the bunny. Of course, chicks don't lay eggs either, but the picture wouldn't look pretty with a straggly old hen in it, so they showed the little chick breaking out of the egg. The egg itself, is descended from the ancient Persians, who firmly believed the world had hatched from an egg on the first day of spring. The Christians came along and took away this rite, tossing out the idea that the egg hatched the earth, saying that the egg was sacred to them because the priests placed the egg on their table, colored red as symbolic of the blood of Christ. This probably started the custom of painting eggs the various colors we see them to-day.

Origin Not Apparent.

The origin of the Easter lily is no so apparent. A great many people blame it upon the florist, but it is generally supposed that the lily, being a symbol of purity, is therefore a symbol of Christ. The giving of flowers on Easter Day is a sign that the giver forgives all the sins that have been committed by the recipient. This is directly opposite to what many people think, and is likely to cause some embarrassment amongst those who think they are showing their adoration and love by sending flowers.

To get the story of Easter fashions, we are again indebted to the heathens. In those days, when they celebrated the feast of Ostara, Eostre, or Easter, they believed it unlucky unless they wore something new. Most girls now, think the same thing. But these heathens were a little more moderate. With them it didn't entail new clothes, hats, shoes, etc. It only meant a new ribbon, or a bit of lace (or perhaps a new fig leaf). But nowadays the "gentler" sex demands a whole new outfit.

Of all Easter legends, perhaps the Hot Cross Bun has the most romance. First of all, the word "bun" is supposed to have been derived from the old word "boun", and in case it is not clear, a "Boun" was a sacred ox of the ancient Druids, who have so much to do with the legends of Hallowe'en and Thanksgiving. In those days, a "crude mark was made on the top of the bun to signify the horns of the ox." Later, in the days of the Christians the mark was changed to a cross. The bun was supposed to have marvellous curative powers, and many are the tales of miracles told about it. They even used to wait until the bun got stale, then grind it up and mix it with water, using the potion as a salve.

Thus is Easter. Bright with legend, joyous with the new freedom it brings—freedom from winter's long bondage—and sacred in the hearts of all true Christians.

Because of the heavy cost of operating automobiles in South Africa, many travellers are buying motorcycles.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright.
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass.
No envy sour the mind.
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind.

MILLBROOK

"The Choice and Use of Silver" was a pertinent topic discussed at an Institute gathering the speaker emphasizing that the correct service in connection with silver is " an adjustment between certain accepted laws and our own individual expression of them. Hence the only rule we need to remember is that we must have a good reason in our own minds for each arrangement we accept for use."

"Covers" laid for so many persons is a term frequently used and all the silver necessary for the comfort of an individual at a meal really constitutes a 'cover,' each should not occupy less than twenty inches to avoid crowding—that is a good rule to remember. Indeed, unless at a round table, or if only a limited number are to eat, thirty inches are correct for a single 'cover,' "but do not exceed this as too much expanse of bare cloth, or of polished surface, gives an inhospitable effect, and is an actual deterrent to enjoyment."

"Do not overdo the amount of silver allowed for personal convenience, lest your table look like an arsenal of complicated weapons; so three forks is a limit for this particular piece of flatware. Have all the silver at each 'cover' compact, but not crowded, and see that the arrangement in each case is exactly alike, and flawless—meaning that covers opposite each other should be exactly in line, distances accurately spaced, and all handles a scant inch from the table edge."

When a bread-and-butter plate is used, the butter spreader should be laid upon it in a line with the rest of the silver for the cover, and on the right hand side of the plate with the blade away from the guest.

Obviously, the proper place for the knives is at the right side of the service plate, with blade turned inward toward the plate, while on the left is equally obviously the place for the forks, laid tines up. Spoons may either go at the right with the knife, or knives, (outside these pieces of course), or be laid bowls up above the service plate, handles to the right, as is the English custom.

However, a good rule to remember is that all silver is placed in the order in which it is to be used, beginning at the outside with the piece to be used first.

CAVAN

Recently a splendid speech by Mrs. H. Fallis to a Women's Club in Peterborough was reported in The Examiner. In her speech Mrs. Fallis stressed the necessity at this time to be patriotic in our buying—to buy made in Canada goods. We conclude this would mean also "grown-in-Canada" goods, and thus benefit the market gardeners and farmers as well as the manufacturers.

Rural people are hoping that this speech and the sound ideas of true patriotism advanced will bear fruit during this spring season.

Now is the time when imported vegetables and fruits are appearing in the stores, while potatoes and vegetables are still in the hands of Canadian producers. If the ladies who are heads of homes in Peterborough refuse to buy the imported vegetables they will not be brought in; the farmers will be able to sell their surplus supplies and the money received or the major part of it will be spent in Peterborough and benefit the homes and community. Surely the business men of the city realize that when farmers are able to buy and receive a fair price for what is grown, immediately prosperity follows for factory employees and business men.

If the use of imported fruit and vegetables is persisted in while Canadian grown cannot be sold, then rural women, almost all Institute members should put on a campaign "no buying of things not grown on the farm."

Instead of buying so much sugar, buy honey and maple syrup from their producers. Instead of buying raisins, currants, dates and etc., either do without them or substitute home-canned fruit.

If we really studied the question, there is much that we would eliminate from the list which we take to town to fill each week, and this could be done without the health of our families being impaired. Good clean wheat, carefully ground, makes just as palatable, healthy porridge as the vareties of cereals in packages, which are sold at many times the value which the producers received for the ingredients which formed the basis of these prepared foods. It is just the same in other lines, many things home grown could be used on the farms in place of manufactured articles.

In normal times farmers enjoy buying liberally of these things, but if our goods are being left on our hands, and preference being shown for imported articles, then it is our duty to seriously consider the question of curtailing buying along every possible line.

We will note with interest how this works out, whether imported potatoes at a high price will soon be offered for sale and bought in preference to the Canadian grown, or will the merchants and urban dwellers realize, that if prosperity is to be brought back, all these things must be carried out along practical lines, not merely enthusiastically applauded in meetings.

Then, and only then, when all parts and sections of our country grasp the vision and help to carry out its import, so that our great Canada will be a united people, working in unity for the common good of all, will prosperity come in both rural and urban centres.

WARSAW

The April Institute meetings bring the year near to its close. Branch reports of the various special activities should be with the district convenors in April so that they may hand them to the district secretary and she in turn have them ready for the district annual, which is to be at Trent River. Mrs. George Weller, Warsaw, is the district secretary. The convener for agriculture is Mrs. Weller. The convener for health and education is Mrs. David Miller, Warsaw. Mrs. Cameron of Lakefield was convener for legislation and for Canadian industries, but resigned. Mrs. Weller would be glad to have any reports on either of these topics sent directly to her. What comes in one these reports now is what is reported from East Peterborough district at the convention in Toronto. While we do not work to be noticed, still, when certain lines have been taken up, it is often an aid and an inspiration to other branches to hear of it. We all like if we have worked to have it noticed when general work is being summarized.

Anything your branch may have done or studied about legislation, any lectures or discussions, any resolution your branch would like brought up at the Toronto convention, any change in methods your branch would like, should come in under legislation.

Have you studied, had lectures on, or in any other way had anything bearing on Canadian industries or your home centre, send under the head of Canadian industries.

For agriculture it is a large order, but if you have had any special lectures on any of the many lines of agriculture, if you have aided the school fair, or the local fair, has any special gardening been done, report it.

Lectures, talks, lessons, classes, distribution of literature bearing on either health or education come under these heads, and should be reported. Various classes have been held during the past year. These with any visible direct results should come in.

Junior Institutes as well as senior should report. There are now twelve branches in East Peterborough, four of these are juniors. In Keene there is a junior but no senior branch. A good deal of relief work has been done during the past year. This should be reported and the methods of carrying it out.

As the conveners for agriculture, health and education are in Warsaw and other conveners are unable to act, it might save postage to send all reports together to either address, only see that the reports on agriculture go to Mrs. Weller.

Arranging these reports means much work for the district secretary, so she should not be burdened with primary reports other than her own.

Preparations should be made in good time by branch secretaries to have a full report of all meetings and work done by the branches and by the treasurer to have her reports clear, correct and audited in good time. Things left until the last minute are often not well prepared. There should be an itemized report as well as the general summary.

The Examiner goes to branches in other districts besides East Peterborough and the same regulations hold for all. In many districts throughout Ontario district secretaries cannot get reports in as promptly as they should come.

The district annuals, the Summer Series Lectures and the O.R.E.C. conventions come along about the same time, and it requires planning to avoid clashing. If know in time some of the dates can be altered.

FASHION SERVICE

Here's one of the smartest dresses of the new season in simple good taste for day wear.

And into the bargain, it's slimming too.

It's a dress that will give excellent service for all spring.

Jersey, tweed and flat crepe silk also suitable.

Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39-inch material with 3-8 yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Our large Fashion Book shows how to dress up to the minute at very little expense. It contains most attractive Paris designs for adults and children, embroidery, etc.

Price of book, 15 cents or 10c when ordered with a pattern.

Mrs. William Johnston Reads Society Topic

FAIRMOUNT, April 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The W.M.S. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Hooton on Wednesday, when Mrs. William Johnston very ably took the topic, "Rural Life and Conditions in Japan." She related that the farmers of Japan have been brought, by means of education and of an enlightened government, to the present conditions in which we find them: industrious, thrifty, intelligent, enjoying the franchise and with the younger generation looking forward to better things.

Their farms are very small, the average size being two and one-half acres. About one-third of the farmers own their own farms and houses in which they live; while others rent a field o rtwo in addition. Rice is the principal agricultural crop which s rather difficult to cultivate and requires a great deal of labor. Raw silk is Japan's largest single export.

Mrs. R. C. Hanbidge and Mrs. C. W. Seymour contributed a duet. Arrangements were made to hold a pancake social on Friday evening, April 17. Lunch was served after the meeting, Mesdames R. C. Hanbidge, James Seymour and Robert Hooton being hostesses for the occasion.

INSTITUTE PLANS NURSING CLASS

Regular Monthly Meeting of Young's Point Women Held at Home of Mrs. A. Wilson.

ELECT OFFICERS IN MAY

YOUNG'S POINT, April 4 (Examiner Correspondence)—The monthly meeting of the Young's Point Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Andrew Wilson with an attendance of eighteen members.

Mrs. Wilson, vice-president, occupied the chair. The roll call was answered with the exchange of plant and flower seeds.

A letter of resignation from the president, Mrs. Tedford was read and it was moved by Miss Kearney, seconded by Mrs. F. M. Young that the secretary write Mrs. Tedford and ask for an explanation before her resignation be accepted.

The nursing class which was postponed owing to sickness in the community will now be held in the dinning room or the Carlton House, commencing on Monday, April 13th, with Miss M. Cunningham, R.N., of Toronto in attendance. It is hoped that as many women and girls both in the village and surrounding country as are able will attend these classes.

The May meeting at which the election of officers for the coming year is to be held, will be held in the school house on May 6th at 8 o'clock in the evening. It was decided to ask Mrs. A. Davis of Lakefield to preside at our May meeting.

The secretary was asked to write Mr. Putnam concerning a judge for the Girls' Garment Making Club.

Mrs. Thomas Davis who has charge of the Blanket Club displayed the blanket purchased by the Institute and it was decided to have tickets made and distributed among the members of the Institute for sale as soon as possible.

When the business of the meeting was completed, Miss Muriel Brooks gave two pleasing solos. Mrs. Adrian Brooks gave a very interesting paper on the cultivation of flowers. Mrs. Wilson was given a hearty vote of thanks for her hospitality and the meeting closed with the singing of God Save The King.

District Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dunford of Lakefield visited with friends in the village on Sunday.

Mr. Walter Hocksday of Smith visited at his home on Sunday.

Rev. E. C. Moore, Mr. F. M. Young and Mr. Andrew Wilson were in Peterborough on Tuesday in the interest of the Hydro Power.

Messrs. Robert Dever and William Dever were in Peterborough attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Harry Nugent on Thursday.

REPLY TO "FED UP"

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Sir,—It is not usual to reply to a man who has not pluck enough to sign his own name, but possibly no one would know it if he did.

I said that Baldwin is to put a duty on foodstuffs for the benefit of the British farmer and that it true. Surely even "Fed Up" can see that that shuts out Canadian produce to that extent, even if it gave a preference to us over other countries.

Mr. Bennett when asked in the House said that no regular delegation would be sent to Rome but that Mr. Ferguson, the High Commissioner would go. Mr. Ferguson, like the sensible man that he is met and shook hands with Russia and invited her here which is the very opposite of what Mr. Bennett declared Canada's policy to be. I used the words "it would appear" that Canada was not represented and if Bennett repents Canada then Ferguson does not, and when Mr. Bennett was asked about it in the House he had more sense than "Fed Up" and kept silent.

J. H. Burnham.

WHAT THE AMORC IS.

Editor of The Examiner,

Sir: In response to "Enquirer" writing in your columns expressing the wish to know something about the Rosicrucians, and their present-day activities.

The real history and purpose of the true Rosicrucian Order are entirely different from those commonly explained by persons who have only read carelessly written references to this ancient brotherhood.

The organization dates back to the very dawn of history. It first came to America in 1694, and is the oldest humanitarian and educational movement in America, and in foreign lands. World-wide in scope and operation it is the oldest form of advanced education (using the word in its real sense, "educo," to bring or lead forth) known to civilization. The Order operates as a fraternal body conducting a number of colleges, academies and schools, in which various courses dealing with the arts and sciences are taught without any fanaticism, sectarianism, politics, or commercialism. The Rosicrucians do not deal with any of the ancient or modern superstitions, nor are they a religious sect, or cult of any kind.

The strange word "Amorc" referred to by "Enquirer" is composed of merely the initials of the full name, "Ancient Mystical Order Rosae Crucis."

The national headquarters of the Order in America are located at Rosicrucian Park, San Jose, California, and throughout this continent there are hundreds of branches, and many hundreds of branches in foreign countries.

An international body, the Amorc is devoted to aiding men and women to improve themselves, and to attain the highest degree of happiness, and well-being in this earthly life. Leaders in every professional walk of life, regardless of their business or religious associations, support the work.

Many of the erroneous statements made about the Rosicrucians that appear in some books, etc., are either a blind to hide the real organization or else refer to a number of small American groups that are trying to imitate the real Order, and have misapplied the word "Rosicrucian" to cover their activities along lines of fads and fancies in religious or spiritual matters.

Hoping that will prove helpful to "Enquirer" and suggesting that if he desires more information he may write to the headquarters at San Jose for further definite and authentic statements. I am, sir, FRATER R.

ROADS IN COUNTY.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir: Having returned from Peterborough district through which I have been travelling the past few weeks, I could not refrain from expressing my opinion on the systems of road making I have observed since our recent storms.

I may say that not in my life's history have I observed conditions similar to those in your district. Most districts have some system by which a traveller can get somewhere, and pride themselves in being a help to travellers, but I travelled roads that should have been marked "closed" by red lights. On observing a trace of a track I tried to wend my way as best I could but returned in dismay and would advise that you might publish my experience, and if proper equipment is not available in the district, that is if anyone cares, some one should write both Dominion and Provincial governments, seeking aid.

Yours respectfully,
A TRAVELLER.

WHY?
An Easter Question.

Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir: "Why," said the brave Apostle as he stood before Agrippa, "should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God should raise the dead?" And to-day at this glad Eastertime we re-echo: Why should Christ's resurrection be unbelievable? If we postulate God all things are possible. Surely it is easy to believe that God, the Creator of all things, would bring back again from the realm of death His only begotten Son, our Lord. Postulate God and Jesus, and reasonable minds the world over must realize that it was only natural for the supernatural to be in everything that Jesus was, and said, and did. We Christians hold the faith to-day that Christians ever held that Jesus was the Son of God. We do not think it a thing incredible that as the Son of God He should come into this world in circumstances entirely transcending human experience, and we believe that when He died for our sins and was put in the tomb that His glorious resurrection on the first Easter dawn was as natural as our rising after a night of sweet sleep. As Peter said, with that common sense so characteristic: "God raised Him up to life and ended the pangs of death because it was not possible for Him to be held fast by death." (Acts 2:24.) If we are asked for evidence, we have, as St. Luke says, (Acts 1:3) many infallible proofs, proofs indubitable and clear. The truest of men saw Him with their eyes. They touched Him with their hands. They spoke to Him, and He spoke to them. Why the idea that the story of the resurrection was an artfully planned fraud that was perpetuated by a number of unprincipled men or hallucinated women is unthinkable. To-day it is fashionable in many quarters to question the fact of Christ's resurrection. But the rationalistic explanations of the modern critics, the myth theory, the vision theory, the fraud theory, the swoon theory, all of which are absolutely fanciful and have no foundation in fact, remind one of the story of the king who said to a man in the court who was airing his infidelities, "You're a queer fellow. You believe everything but the Bible." It looks to-day as if some modern thinkers are prepared to abandon the fundamental principles of causality and the most elementary principles of psychology in order that they may champion the theory of an Atheistic and Rationalistic criticism. But, of course, the grandest proof of Christ's resurrection is the Living Church, the Living Body of the Living Christ, the countless millions who to-day are walking in newness of life and daily drawing joy and peace in believing in Him Who overcame death and rejoicing with joy unspeakable and full of glory in the Living Lord.

The rallying centre of the Christian world to-day this Eastertide is the fact of facts that Jesus Christ is living, not dead. O never doubt it, ye believers. O never tremble Christian heart as if that rock could be shaken. Plant your whole being upon it with the exultant joy of the morning. Be yourself an incarnate argument for the resurrection, and if ever the clouds of doubt emerge from the blind despair of death and the tomb, dispel them in the glory light of that message that ten thousand times ten thousand voices have chorused and will chorus: Christ is risen from the dead. Never think of Christ as belonging to a bygone past. Think of Him as the Beginning and the End, as the First and the Last of every movement, of every achievement, of every mission, of every life in the Christian body. He is the Living One. For the power of Easter is not in the realm of mere sentiment. A Christian was asked, "How do you know Christ is risen and alive to-day?" "Why, I spent half an hour with Him this morning," was the irrefutable answer. And, as in the gathering night of the waning Roman Empire the only star of hope was the bright and dauntless religion of Jesus, so to-day the Christian and the Christian Church goes forth, conquering and to conquer through faith in Him Who said: "Fear not; I am the first and the last, and the Living one; and I was dead, and behold, I am alive for evermore." (Rev. 1:17-18.)

Jesus Christ is risen to-day,
Alleluia!
Our triumphant holy day,
Alleluia!

1 lemon and few grains of salt
1 cup of milk.

Cream together the sugar, flour and butter; add the juice of lemon and salt, the yolks of eggs and milk. Mix and fold into the stiffly beaten egg whites and pour into unbaked shell. Bake in oven hot at first and cooled to moderate until the filling sets.

OBITUARY

JOHN BORLAND

Although in poor health for some time past, death came with shocking suddenness to John Borland, who was taken seriously ill last Thursday and died at his home on Saturday. He was in his 63th year.

The late Mr. Borland was born in Peterborough County, at Keene, and came to Simcoe about 17 years ago where he was employed with the J. B. Jackson Company as a buttermaker. An active worker in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, he was also a member of the board of managers.

Surviving him besides his widow, is one daughter Jean, of Ingersoll, and one son, J. Harold Borland, now attending the University of Toronto. He also leaves three brothers, brothers, Thomas, Robert and William Borland of Peterborough and Brookdale, Manitoba, respectively.

The funeral was held from his late residence, 160 Head street north on Monday at 2.30, Rev. Mr. Budge of the Hagersville Presbyterian Church conducting the service. During the service Miss J. Hunter sang "The City foursquare." The bearers were: L. C. Gibson, A. E. Gracey, John Francis, A. E. Slater, H. M. Jackson and Dr. A. B. Jackson. The flower bearers were Harvey Evans and Angus Hall.

Relatives and friends were in attendance from the following points: Ingersoll, Woodstock, Aylmer, Lakefield, Peterborough and Hamilton. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.

Among the floral tributes were the following: Wreaths from the teachers of the Ingersoll schools, from Ward school and Miss Cotty; sprays from St. Paul's Young People's Society, Ingersoll, from the Simcoe Bowling Club, the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's, and the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Church, Simcoe; basket from the staff of J. B. Jackson, Ltd.

KING GEORGE SENDS MESSAGE.

LONDON, April 4 (C.P.). — The King to-day sent the folowing message to President Moncada, of Nicaragua:

"I have learned with deep distress of the terrible disaster which has befallen the city of Managua and ask you, Mr. President, to accept my most sincere sympathy and condolences."

"You certainly get on my nerves"

It is impossible to avoid Irritability and Worry when the Nervous System is Run Down

IRRITABILITY like worry wastes the nerve force at a tremendous rate. Fits of anger and excitement put an unbearable strain on the heart and nerves especially when these organs are already in a weakened condition.

Disorders of the nerves do not right themselves but tend to become worse because of the exhausting effect of sleeplessness, loss of appetite and indigestion.

New nerve force must be restored to the system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. By this means the building up process is established and health and vigor are gradually and certainly brought back.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food
Restores tired, sleepless nerves

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The Examiner has been receiving complaints that patterns ordered were not received and on investigation, it has been found that many of the orders were never received in the office.

• • • • • • •

In each case the sender pointed out that the coins were wrapped carefully and inserted in the letter together with the number, size and the address of the sender.

• • • • • • •

But I wonder what is considered "wrapped carefully"? Perhaps in some cases the coins were not wrapped just as well as they should have been and so to-day we will discuss the best and safest ways of enclosing coin up to an including quarters.

• • • • • • •

This subject, I know, will interest the majority of the readers because there is always a time when one wants to send coins away and it is more convenient and always agreeable to a recipient to get them rather than stamps.

• • • • • • •

Coin cards are made especially to solve the problems of mailing currency in this form, and the cards may be purchased at book stores and stationers.

• • • • • • •

A coin card is just a strip of cardboard with a hole in it of the right size to fit the coin, whatever it may be, whether nickle, dime or quarter.

• • • • • • •

The coin is held in place by a strip of adhesive paper at the back and a flap of this same paper partly attached on the other side, and ready to be pasted down after the coin has been inserted.

• • • • • • •

Some cards have a post or strip of the cardboard left across the hole and the adhesive paper is pasted to but one side of the card.

• • • • • • •

It takes but a moment or two to make a coin card at home. Use any kind of cardboard, part of an old pasteboard box will serve the purpose. Lay the coin on it, trace around it with a pencil and cut out the circle.

• • • • • • •

Slip the coin in it and paste strips of paper across the coin filled hole. This is just as adequate and safe as the coin cards that are bought ready made.

• • • • • • •

Then sometimes two slits in a strip of cardboard are cut with a knife point and the coin run beneath this post, thus securing it firmly.

• • • • • • •

And while this way does very well, it is not so good as the other ways because the surface of the card, when the coin is in place, is uneven.

Our Mail

Conducted by ANNE WILCOX

Dear Anne:

I sincerely wish you a very Happy Easter! Easter-tide is a season which means so much to me. It seems a fulfilment of promises and makes us feel surer of things; it is an incentive to carry on; the Light will always follow darkness.

Spring is here, though the snow is on the ground to-night. I wonder where the poor robins and other dear little Spring birds are? There was such a terrific wind that I wondered how they were managing. Not a squirrel nor a chipmunk was to be seen out in the sugar bush this afternoon. Did you ever sit on a log in a maple bush on a calm evening in a sugar bush when the pails have just been emptied and listen to the music of the dropping sap? It has many notes. I sometimes wish the trees or buckets could be arranged for our music, but it might not be so wonderful. The air is so delightful. The work may be hard but the pleasure and delight of being there is worth it, let alone the sweet product.

We can watch the snow disappear and look for young green things. We know it will not be long ere the little Mayflowers lift their little grey bonnetted heads, ready for a warm day to show their lovely little white or pale blue faces. Soon along come the Jacks-in-the-Pulpit (did you ever try to eat the root?) Trilliums, Adders' tongue, Blood Root, and oh, so many other beauties one dreads getting into the house to do the necessary work.

There is now the garden to be attended to and I seem to get better flowers in the vegetable garden than in the front garden. That is where I plant practically all the annuals. If people see them all good and well, if not, I have them and always have blooms to give away. Last year I had French Marigolds and Dwarf Nasturtiums added to my list and they were a joy. I could not live and enjoy the garden where there was no mignonette—just the old-fashione kind. Oh, I love it all and wonder more women do not give more attention o gardens, both flower and vegetable. There is a great satisfaction in having all kinds of fresh vegetables just when and as we want them, from the early asparagus on and to have a good supply stored in the cellar for winter use. It cuts down expenses too, to have a good garden and not have to buy. It also saves expense in promoting health.

I like some big Russian sunflowers too. Why? just because it is beautiful to see little birds come and peck off the seeds. I have seen seven canaries on one head. An oriole has her nest in an elm tree every year and young blue birds are hatched in a hole in a post. I must stop talking about birds but soon the Scarlet Tanager will flit around.

In my garden I make rows from on end to the other, but the whole row does not often have the same plants. There may be mignonette, pansies, sweet peas, lettuce and potatoes all in one row, but in parts of the row alongside there are other flowers so that there is a block of flowers, perhaps two blocks, then potatoes and several of those things of which there is a good deal are in blocks. Then things that are done with soon, such as green peas and beans, I plant in rows that will later be covered with growth that requires much space. Of course I remove the vines when vegetables are done.

I look and wonder, God makes all these various flowers for beauty and vegetables for food; grow out of the same soil with the same sun and rain. Do not imagine that my gardens are perfect—they are about as far from that as possible.

Yours sincerely,
Quid Est.

Thank you, Quid Est, for your good wishes. As I read your letter I pictured your garden in my mind and wished that sometime I might be permitted to see it. You express such beautiful thoughts, Quid Est, that I am sure you are a remarkable woman and hope that some time I might know you personally.

Anne Wilcox

GOOD ADVICE

While "The City Beautiful" and "Beautify your homes and Help Make Peterborough more Beautiful" are excellent horticultural mottos, another slogan of the Horticultural Society "Grow Vegetables this Year," is very timely and appropriate.

In these times of depression when food is an important item in most homes, many people in our city can help the finances materially by using the gardens and vacant lots to advantage. By planting the available space in those background gardens and adjoining areas, with potatoes, carrots, beets, turnips, spinach, cabbag, tomatoes and other vegetables, much can be grown for summer and winter use. It will help to give worth while enjoyment and employment during the spare hours of the day, help to keep down the weeds and make the home surrounding more attractive, help to make use of opportunities right at hand to add to our income and have something to give to others, and help provide that which is most healthful for our daily sustenance.

Let us all who can do so to advantage, grow vegetables this Year.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

INSULIN A HEART AND STOMACH STIMULANT

When Banting discovered insulin, he had only in mind trying to get something that would take the place of a juice manufactured in the pancreas that controlled the use of sugar in the system. When the pancreas was damaged, and there was thus not enough of this juice in the system, much of the sugar so helpful to the system in supplying energy, was thrown away in the urine. Hence the presence of sugar in the urine regularly, gave the diagnosis of diabetes.

And now all over the world insulin is saving and prolonging the lives of thousands of men, women and children.

But it would seem that in discovering this cure for diabetes that Banting gave to the world in insulin a substance whose powers for good in the body are just being discovered. From various parts of the world research physicians are reporting some new use for insulin in overcoming certain defects and deficiencies in the body.

For instance, just a few weeks ago three French physicians reported the successful use of insulin, combined with dextrose (sugar) in the treatment of heart disturbances. They found that insulin used alone, relieves a failing heart, and that it reinforces and prolongs the action of the heart stimulants. It acts as a strengthener of heart muscle itself.

Then in Sweden, Dr. R. Roholm, studied the action of the stomach juice in 27 normal persons, 9 of whom received no insulin, and the other sixteen received injections of insulin.

What did he find?

That in those who received the injections of insulin there was a considerable increase in the amount of stomach jiuce manufactured. Not only was the amount increased but the amount of pepsin and hydrochloric acid in the stomach jiuce was also increased.

We have spoken before about other uses of insulin and now it has been shown that insulin stimulates a failing heart, and increases the flow of the stomach juice, thus aiding digestion.

When we remember that the knowledge of insulin is less than ten years old, we can only speculate on what new uses will be found for it.

Further, the discovery of insulin has stimulated an interest in the glands of the body many times greater than ever before. You and I and our descendants will reap the benefits of these investigations.

CHURCH CHOIR SINGS CANTATA

"Penitence, Pardon and Peace" Rendered Under Direction of Frederic G. Mann.

IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

The annual commemoration of the Passion of our Lord was effected last evening by the rendering of the sacred cantata "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," by the choir of St. John's Anglican Church, under the direction of Frederic G. Mann, L.Mus., organist and choirmaster. The words of the cantata are selected from Holy Writ by Rev. W. J. Bettison, M.A., and the musical setting is the composition of J. H. Maunder, and is written for soprano, tenor and baritone solo and chorus work.

The solo part in the first section of the rendition was taken by Victor Coleman ("O That I Knew"). The hymn "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," divided the firts from the second part, and was done in harmony by the full choir. In "Pardon" Jack Trotter sang the baritone solo at the beginning ("O Cast Thy Burden Upon the Lord"). Stuart Roberts sang the bass solo, "For Though Your Sins"; Roy Pitchford sang "I Sink in Deep Mire"; Gerald Perks took the solo, "Fearless and Trembling"; Herbert Rush sang the baritone solo, "As One Whom His Mother"; another baritone solo, "Behold, Now Is the Accepted Time," was taken by Stuart Roberts; Harold Spencer sang the bass solo, "Oh Cast Thy Burden." The hymn, "Lord in Thy Mercy's Day" was sung kneeling, and was done in different effects. The solo parts in "Peace" were taken by Stuart Roberts, "Come Ye Blessed" (baritone solo) Harold Spencer, and "God shall Wipe Away" (bass solo), and "Aleluia" was taken by all of the sopranos.

Mendelssohn's motet, "Hear My Prayer," was well rendered by the full choir, with the solo parts taken by Victor Coleman, and the obligato parts by Gerald Perks (first part) and Jack Trotter (second part).

During the taking of the offertory Frederic G. Mann played an organ selection, Andante in G by Edouard Baptiste. At the close of the service the hymn "How Bright These Glorious Spirits Shine" was sung by the choir in procession.

Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave conducted the prayers at the opening and the close of the cantata service. The largest congregation for many years listened intently and showed their appreciation of the music.

The choir consists of 50 members, 28 of them were boys. The choir is what it is to-day because of the untiring work of the choirmaster, who for eight years has labored to bring the standard of the choir up to that of his old place of worship, Norwich Cathedral. The success of his undertaking was well noted last evening by the choir's rendition of the catata.

UNDERGO ANOTHER OPERATION

TOKYO, April 4 (C.P.).—Premier Hamaguchi, who is still suffering from the effects of a stomach wound received when fired at by an assassin last November, to-day re-entered the hospital here for another operation, probably to-morrow.

For TEETHING troubles

FUSSY, fretful . . . . of course babies are uncomfortable at teething time! And mothers are worried because of the little upsets which come so suddenly then. But there's one sure way to comfort a restless, teething child. Castoria — made especially for babies and children! It's perfectly harmless, as the formula on the wrapper tells you. It's mild in taste and action. Yet it rights little upsets with a never-failing effectiveness.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given to tiny infants—as often as there is need. In cases of colic and similar disturbances, it is invaluable. But it has every-day uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever older children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset, a more liberal dose of this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

TRADER HORN IS EIGHTY AND STILL GOING STRONG

Alfred Aloysius Smith

TRADER HORN, born Alfred Aloysius Smith, and better known to his intimates in Africa as Zambesi Jack, whose work of mingled fact and fiction won a place among the best-selling books of recent years, on a recent visit to New York gave his opinions about the traffic situation.

Rolling smoothly through the congested traffic of Fifth Avenue in a sedan, the old trader, whose adventures, recorded on film, are being shown in Toronto, said in his inimitable fashion:

"This traffic, as you'd call it, is merely a case of civic indigestion. Man can't go on piling up mountains on either side of his roadways without expecting a touch of indigestion now and again. The belly of your city is too full of men, buildings and automobiles to allow free passage from one place to another.

"I, for one, can't understand such a situation. With all the millions of miles of free and open country, and good roads and automobiles—like this one—to get a man from one place to another in a hurry, I can't see why they all want to herd together in the city.

"Some men, I guess, like zebras or hartebeest, just have the herding instinct. They aren't happy unless they're in a crowd. Other men, fellows like myself, would rather hunt alone like the tree leopard. You can see more and do more when you're alone—way out somewhere where there isn't so much indigestion on the roads.

"But, I will say that even the herd men, the fellows that like to rub noses and elbows every time they turn about, are clever about some things. They manage one way or another to surmount the very same difficulties that they build up for themselves.

"Take this car, for instance, the very same fellows that have made the traffic situation so bad—the fellows that like to always be in a crowd—have also seen to it that their autos should be so constructed as to get away with the difficulties that they themselves have created by their desire to be together. Now this car seems easy enough to handle in a crowd. It's like an antelope in certain respects—it gets under way before you can say Jack Robinson, and it stops just as fast and without straining.

"That's what makes men superior to the brutes. He can use his headpiece to make something like this car to get him to and from a place in a hurry, no matter how much indigestion there is in the civic body."

Trader Horn, who was in New York to confer with the moving picture people about the filming of his first book, "Trader Horn," used a big sedan automobile during his entire stay in the city. The old gentleman, who has just circumnavigated the globe in his eightieth year, covering a distance of more than forty thousand miles, remarked that during this entire trip he never travelled as comfortably as he did in New York.

While in New York, Trader Horn took side trips through the suburbs, going out along by way of the new Hutchinson River Parkway to Portchester, and following the Bear Mountain bridge route to West Point, where he watched the cadets at the United States military academy at drill as the guest of Major-General Smith, commandant of cadets. He isn't missing much, despite his years.

HE HADN'T PASSWORD BUT HE GOT AN ANSWER!

THE hundredth anniversary of the famous Highland Show is to take place in Scotland this summer, and among those planning to revisit the land of heather for the occasion is Hon. Duncan Marshall, former minister of agriculture for Alberta. Mr. Marshall is to head a party of Scots and Canadians of Scottish ancestry, and "mony a guid crack," it is anticipated, "wull they hae" during the journey and amid the "banks and braes."

There is no ex-politician in Canada whose retirement from political activities for the equally strenuous round of business has been more regretted than this genial Ontario-born Scottish-Canadian's. On the rare occasions when he is scheduled to appear, Mr. Marshall commands attention from excellent audiences, whether in east or west, both for his unsurpassed knowledge of agriculture throughout the Dominion and for his flashing wit.

"I have belonged to pretty nearly every farmers' organization that has ever been started in Canada," Mr. Marshall told the Canadian Railway club in Montreal recently. "I remember a good many years ago—I don't know if the name got as far as Montreal—but some of you may have heard of the Patrons of Industry. I was a member of a Patron lodge at Paisley, Ont. We met on alternate Friday nights, and the Knights of the Maccabees met on the other Fridays.

"One of my fellow-Patrons, Neil Reid, came in on the wrong Friday and went up to the lodge room and knocked on the door. Someone slid back the panel, and Neil gave him the passwords, 'We plow, we sow, we reap.' The man on the other side answered, 'The h—— you say,' and shut the panel. Neil rapped again, but there was no reply.

"Disgustedly, he came downstairs, where he met me at the foot of the stair. 'Duncan,' he said to me, 'I was up at the Patron lodge and they would not let me in.' I told him it was the wrong Friday and that he had tried to crash the Maccabees.

"Neil replied, 'My goodness, and I gave them our passwords!—but never mind, I got their reply.'"

From more recent western experience, Mr. Marshall recalled another illuminating personal anecdote. "There was an old rancher," he said, "who lived near Carstairs Alberta. I was sitting in the hotel there and a lot of the boys were discussing the latest world inventions, and one of them was telling for the enlightenment of those around him of the great things Edison had invented and what a marvellous inventor he was.

'Nobody thought the old rancher was paying any attention, but at last he took his pipe out of his mouth and said, 'Boys, this fellow Edison may have been a great inventor, but he has nothing on the fellow who invented eight per cent!'

"Times have changed," Mr. Marshall continued, "since I was a boy, when we walked three miles to church and sang when we got there, 'Work for the night is coming.' Now we drive there in limousines and we hire a paid quartet to sing, 'Art thou weary, art thou languid, art thou sore distressed?'"

Even since his political retirement agriculture and the farmer still intrigue Mr. Marshall. "Just the other day in Toronto," he remarked, "I saw a man disputing with a farmer and telling him that the chickens and eggs and other farm truck he was selling were too dear. I'm going to tell you that farmer's reply. He said, 'In these days when the farmer is required to know the botanical name of every plant he grows, the entomological name of every bug and insect that feeds on it, and the pharmaceutical name of every poison that it takes to kill the bugs and insects, then somebody has to pay for it!'"

Italian Army Veteran Has Made Mark Here

WHEN young Luigi Belmonte—recently graduated as civil engineer from the University of Turin, Italy—was tunnelling under the Alps towards the Austrian lines, as a soldier in the engineering corps of the Italian army, he little thought that a few years later he would be a Canadian citizen, married to a French-Canadian girl and comfortably settled as a pere de famille in the new world's old city of Montreal. Still less did he dream that in the year of grace 1931 that he—a professional man—would be guiding the destinies of a body of merchants and traders in the metropolis in question—that, in short, he would have the honor of being selected as the first president of the first Italian chamber of commerce in Canada.

Luigi Belmonte

But the whirligig of time brings its changes and when the youthful Belmonte arrayed himself in the gray uniform of the land forces of King Victor Emmanuel and signed on "for the duration" (which turned out in his case to be three and a half years) he laid the train of all the subsequent moves which were quite unforeseen in his student days.

When the war ended, Belmonte's experience in construction work over war-scarred areas recommended him to the French government as a man having experience of a sort valuable in post-war reconstruction projects; and, of course, the ravaged areas of France were extensive. But when that work ceased two or three years later, and conditions were rather depressed both in Italy and France, Belmonte thought, rather vaguely at first, about emigrating to newer lands, somewhere in the western hemisphere.

Not to the United States, however, for he could not speak the American language But he was fluent in French, and so cast his eye upon Canada, and more specifically upon the old province of Quebec. He decided at once to "take a chance," especially as he had the wherewithal in the way of capital to tide him over for a few years, if need be, before starting out in business for himself.

In three months' time, during which he was making tentative efforts at speaking English, he decided to take a job with a contractor for a time in order to get the hang of things; and then started in "on his own" as a contractor in the business which he still runs.

In the course of time—that is to say in the latter part of 1930—the Italian consul-general at Ottawa, who had found a growing burden of work at his offices in the matter of answering trade inquiries relative to trade between Italy and Canada, inspired the formation of the Italian chamber of commerce in Montreal, which is now an accomplished fact, with Mr. Belmonte in the chair.

Mary Pickford Struggled To Be Heard in New York

THE struggle for recognition of one of Toronto's most illustrious daughters, Mary Pickford, was in distinct contrast to the meteoric rise of a great many of the screen stars of to-day. At the tender age of five she made her stage debut, playing two separate roles in "The Silver King," in Toronto.

When still just a child, Mary Pickford, then known as Gladys Melbourne, was playing on Broadway, in a dilapidated old playhouse called the "Thalia." Her associate actors and actresses were stars of another day, whose fame was forgotten, and who were glad of the chance to make enough to exist upon.

The audiences were, as a rule, made up of a noisy, ill-bred motley crowd whose practice it was to shout and jeer as the play went on. Sometimes the actors were unable to make their lines heard, due to the din; and the play stopped until order was restored. Little Gladys Melbourne was the only one who could get a hearing promptly.

"I would turn my back on the audience and refuse to go on," she says. "Occasionally I would glare over my shoulder. When there was absolute silence the play would proceed; but not before."

Famous Wild Animal Expert Met Real Man-Eater at School

IN the book which brought fame to Ernest Thompson Seton a generation or so ago, the author omitted a vivid incident which may or may not have been the cause of these thrilling reminiscences getting into print. Ernest Thompson Seton, whose name was, of course, E. Seton Thompson, spent his boyhood in Toronto and began his primary school education in that celebrated seat of learning known for over a half a century as Victoria Street school.

The presiding genius of the establishment at the time was an Irish schoolmaster named William Spotten who, following the traditions of the old land at that distant period, seldom allowed his teaching to interfere with his discipline. He was a confirmed believer in that tenet of Solomon, "spare the rod and spoil the child," and he fearlessly and persistently manifested his faith by his works.

His methods, however, were not based on caprice or cruelty, and he conscientiously followed the doctrine that punishment should ever fit the crime. For instance, latecomers were compelled to 'toe the mark,' a well-defined semi-circle placed immediately in front of his desk. Those without an "alibi," or who had not learned how to fake one, had their "uppers polished." The process afforded considerable amusement to the rest of the class as the master went smartly over the toes with the curved end of his cane.

Those who failed in their recitations either had their jackets "dry cleaned" or were ordered to remain in at recess and, seated on a low form, their knees were tickled in much the same way as the toes at the morning seance. The squirming added immense interest, of course, to the operation as far as the school was concerned.

In the case of Ernest Seton Thompson, the master, whom the boys, by the way they called "Spottie," left the room one morning for his regular visit to the girls' department on the upper floor and the interval of fifteen minutes was naturally improved by impromptu foot races, boxing bouts and dart throwing. Ernest Seton Thompson, at the age of sixteen was tall for his years, quiet, and not given to what is called "rough house." He was, even then, clever and fast with his pencil and had begun to indulge in self-expression, as psychologists would say. He stepped up to the blackboard and busied himself in the rapid execution of a cartoon, the centre piece of which was a fierce-looking bull-dog covered with large spots. The latter had playfully possessed himself of a mouthful of the hinder part of a hobo's nether garments and the farmer who had him in leash was pulling back on him, yelling, "Whoa, Spottie!"

This artistic gem had been completed and Thompson was about to erase it when the master gum-shoed upon the scene. In the words of the immortal Caesar, "He came; he saw; he conquered."

"Who did that?" he asked tensely as he pointed to the picture on the blackboard. "I did, sir," said Thompson. "Come up here!" The lad came and stood impassive while the irate Spotton slivered the cane on his shoulders.

Ernest Seton Thompson used to say, somewhat ruefully, he never could quite understand why the old master developed such a pronounced dislike to bull-dogs.

Visitors to parliament and the legislatures often wonder at the lack of attention—sometimes affected but not in this case—that members often pay o speakers on the opposite side of politics. An amusing case of this happened once in the New Brunswick legislature when Hon. J. D. Hazen was premier and Hon. Clifford W. Robinson, now a member of the Canadian Senate, was leader of the opposition.

Hon. J. K. Flemming was delivering his budget speech and Mr. Robinson was making copious notes. It looked as if he was getting ready to reply vigorously to the finance minister. His neighbor nudged his arm and made a reference to the speech.

Mr. Robinson's reply was astonishing. "I have just figured," he said, "that if lumber goes up, and I expect, I will make $80,000."

Press Photographer Trained for Butchery

ENGLISHMEN have made most of the frontier life of the west picturesque, and now as a sort of application of poetic justice, an English born lad is making our lost frontier famous for picturology and picturography. W. J. Oliver was born in Dover, that old English port in Kent, where the islanders so frequently take off for the continent. Early in life he was apprenticed to a butcher, which means in England that he had to develop an intimate acquaintance with live bullocks, as well as to deliver roasts and chops to a discerning clientele.

W. J. Oliver

Butchering was not wholly to his liking. The chance winning of a camera in a guessing contest started him in pursuit of a hobby, but if he had to follow butchering in order to harbor a hobby he would go where they grew the biggest and best butchers. This brought him in 1909 to the P. Burns plant at Calgary. To his astonishment, Mr. Burns was not in search of an understudy. Necessity pointed a finger toward work, any work, specifically to the kind of work for which the least number have a warm attachment, namely carrying potatoes in sacks from the car door to the warehouse. In idle moments he exposed plates, developed them, and observed a gratifying improvement in his technique.

Then a daily paper advertised for a photographer. Friend Oliver placed his foot upon the first rung of the ladder leading to photographic fame. It was soon revealed he had an instinct for news pictures. For twenty years now he has been focussing his lenses upon every conceivable object of interest in Alberta and British Columbia. Pictures of range life, mountain scenery, stampede struggles, aeroplane stunts, racing, Indians, big game, prairie landscapes, or what have you, have gone from his camera to every country of the world by every conceivable vehicle of display. Picture supplements of magazines and papers, news reels of cinemas, tourists' advertisements all are carrying almost daily illustrations of Canada's scenic grandeur or industrial activity.

Making many of these pictures is of endless and intense interest to one whose heart is in his work. To steal from mountain goat and bull moose and grizzly bear a record of their daily lives involves all the effort and skill of the big game hunter plus the patience and endurance of the prospector or explorer and the courage and coolness of the most experienced mounted policeman.

It is a strange medley of names one meets in Oliver's correspondence files. Knowing the butcher's raw material, he is persona grata with the clannish cattlemen, and being a maker of the best of pictures, he has intercourse with the world's most enterprising purveyors of publicity.

AN aged negro, taken ill, called a physician of his own race, but the doctor's treatment did no good, and the old man grew weaker and weaker until a white physician was called.

"Did the other doctor take your temperature?" asked the new M.D.

Wealthy Young Duke of Norfolk is the Chief Butler of Old England

THE youthful Duke of Norfolk, a tall, slim, manly boy of twenty-two, is the owner of vast wealth and great estates—some 50,000 acres altogether. He is keen on sport of all kinds, especially polo, and he spends a good deal of time travelling around seeing the world. London does not appeal to him very strongly and he soon tires of the gay life; in fact, Norfolk House, his great town mansion in London, with its priceless staircase and wonderful ballroom, recently came under the auctioneer's hammer. Marriage has not yet been seriously thought of, although he is one of the most eligible of bachelors. Being the head of the foremost Roman Catholic family in England, his choice is somewhat limited, but for some time his name has been coupled with that of the Infanta Maria Cristina of Spain.

The Duke of Norfolk's main occupation in life is the performance of his duties as hereditary earl-marshal of England, an office that came into existence about the time of Henry I, and was originally granted to his ancestors in the year 1316. He was thus born to be the upholder and jealous guardian of the splendors of state functions and royal ceremonial. His job would appal most young men of his age, but ever since childhood days his education has been designed to prepare him gradually for the great position he was to occupy as soon as he reached his majority. Besides being earl-marshal he is also chief butler of England and premier duke and earl of the realm.

Possibly with as little natural liking for ceremony as the average boy, the duke performs his duties conscientiously and thoroughly. His office ranks eighth among the great offices of state, and he carries many responsibilities on his youthful shoulders. He is automatically head of the college of arms and so is responsible for appointing the kings-of-arms, the heralds, the pursuivants and other picturesque medieval dignitaries to be seen in royal processions. He arranges all state ceremonials and processions, and at the opening and closing of parliament he walks at the immediate right hand of the sovereign. He arranges and directs royal marriages and funerals, and yet another duty he performs is that of assisting the lord great chamberlain when new peers are introduced in the House of Lords.

Although his duties when the King and Queen are at Buckingham Palace keep the Duke of Norfolk pretty busy, he still finds time now and again to steal away to the quiet of Arundel Castle, the home where his childhood and youth were spent. The little model town of Arundel is one of the most beautiful spots in England, and there the duke reigns supreme. Looking at it from a distance it is a panorama of houses rising one above the other on the side of a steep hill. Above all stands the mighty castle, the foundations of which were laid centuries ago, but whose walls look fresh and fair. A church, like a cathedral in its proportions, towers high above the house tops. Trees here and there among the buildings and on the outskirts of the town, hint at more beyond. Green fields spread out at the foot of the hill and lead down to a wide stream. Over and around all is an air of restfulness and security.

Arundel itself consists of three parallel streets and an intercepting thoroughfare and is a strange mixture of humble cottages and shops squeezed in between pretentious edifices built after the fashion of Norman and Jacobean days. The current of life flows as calmly as does the neighboring river. The few industries carried on cause no stir, and even the bustle and commotion of the market place are as much things of the past as the the comings and goings of knights and men-at-arms.

Arundel Castle is the only one of the forty-nine mentioned in Domesday as having been in existence in the reign of the Confessor, and it disputes with Crondel in Hampshire as being the place mentioned by King Alfred in his will. The castle has withstood three great sieges. The first took place in 1102 and was conducted by Henry I in person. The second was during the reign of Stephen. The third great siege occurred during the civil war, when the castle was laid in ruins by a parliamentary force. It was only partially repaired until the closing years of the eighteenth century, when the tenth Duke of Norfolk undertook its complete restoration. Towards the end of last century the structure was again put into the hands of restorers. For twelve years enormous works in the style of the thirteenth century were carried out under the best architectural advice, with the result that today Arundel Castle is more glorious than ever, and is only exceeded in grandeur by the royal residence at Windsor.

CARDS ON WAY HOME

With the Bradenton, Fla., training grind, save for a handful of exhibition games, behind them, the St. Louis Cardinals will start their homeward journey to-night. Manager Gabby Street was happy over the condition of his National League champions.

"We've had all kinds of weather, and we'll undoubtedly get all kinds of it up north, so we'll be ready for it and also for the National League opposition," he said.

FAMOUS CLOWN IS DEAD.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., April 4 (C.P.). — Edwin Smith, once internationally known as a clown, died at his home here to-day at the age of 82.

A career that began in the music halls of London, his native city, carried him to every continent during nearly 50 years of appearances with the James J. Bailey, Cooper & Bailey, and Barnum & Bailey Shows.

SOFTBALL AT COBOURG

COBOURG, April 4.—A meeting is to be held in St. Peter's Parish Hall Thursday evening next for the purpose of discussing the organization of a Church Softball League.

Teams are expected to enter from St. Peter's, Trinity, St. Michael's and St. Andrew's Church. Friday, May 15, is the tentative date for the opening of the schedule, and there is a possibility that there will be six teams in the league.

SHIBE PARK REOPENED

The Philadelphia Athletics, after closing Shibe Park last Fall with a World Series tussle, have reponed the place with the annual city series with the Phillies. The first battle went to the Phils, 7 to 5, much to the surprise of Connie Mack and some 8,000 fans who could not wait any longer to see a ball game. The series will be resumed to-day.

BRAME AGAINST CUBS

Ervin Brame will pitch the first game for the Pittsburgh Pirates against the Chicago Cubs when the National League season opens April 4, according to word being passed about as the Bucs prepare at San Francisco to start eastward. Brame's performances have been the best of the entire staff this Spring.

BRINTON WINS SOCCER TUSSLE

Two Well Balanced Teams Opened the Season in an Exhibition Game.

BRINTON 2, CALEYS 1.

The local soccer season was opened on Friday afternoon, when the Brinton and the Caledonians played an exhibition game on the Brinton Ground, before a good attendance of spectators, that finished in favor of the Carpet boys by the score of two to one.

Many new faces were in evidence on the field. The executive of both teams taking advantage to test out the qualities of new men. Rogers, at inside right for Brinton, has the perfect qualities of a prolific scorer and combination manipulator. Another man of prominence in the person of Sweetman, at inside left, for the Caleys came in for very favorable comment.

First Half.

From the kick-off, the forwards paid visits to the respective goals, but found a stubborn defence that allowed no privileges in the goal area. In the early raids led by Mitchell, the Caledonians found the net through N. Downer with a fast drive. The Brinton boys, not acquainted with the partnership in the front rank, were unaccustomed to the individual play of each other. Play ran from end to end with the halfback line consolidating to prevent any break away which ultimately slowed up the game. A few minutes before the interval, Dave Best gave away a penalty which was converted by Atkinson from the spot kick, on behalf of the Brinton, to even up the count at half-time. Brinton 1, Caledonians 1.

Second Half.

A short respite terminated in Preston exchanging places with McPhate in goal. This gave the Scots a very strong attacking force. Both goals were visited in rotation, but marksmanship was far off the mark although Preston's lightning drive from twenty yards out caused Curtis some difficulty as he picked the ball up in between himself and the upright. It was pleasant to watch the newcomers show up so well on the attack. Time and again Rodgers, playing at inside right for Brinton, made splendid openings for his partners on each side of him, but they failed to be aware of his presence. From one of his well-maneuvered plays he deceived the full backs with a feint move to place Hotson in an excellent position to beat the Scots custodian from close range. The Caleys endeavorel to even up the count in the closing minutes No matter what they tried, the opposing halves would nullify their efforts whenever they would get inside the shooting distance. Before the last kick had taken place many of the boys showed the lack of the necessary training. Brinton Athletic 2, Caledonians 1.

Goal scorers — Brinton, Atkinson and Hotson; Caledonians, Downer.

The teams:

Caledonians — I. McPhate, goal; A. Mitchell and N. Downer, backs; D. Best, R. Clyde, and A. Bromley, half-backs; W. McCracken, N. D. Downer, R. Preston, J. Sweetman, and J. Grant, forwards.

Brinton — W. Curtis, goal; J. Cross and D. Green, backs; J. Taylor, T. Westwood, and S. Laidler, half-backs; E. Nokes, J. Rodgers, H. Hotson, J. Atkinson, and J. Boon, forwards.

Referee—Jack Hodson.

AT THE CAPITOL

"CIMARRON

If you want to know how to pronounce it, you can take your choice. In the picture itself, they pronounce it just in the same way as the letters in "cinnamon" are handled, while Edna Ferber, the author of the book from which it is taken, calls it "Simmer-oon." Its derivation also is cast in mystery. Some have it as an Indian word meaning "bad lands," or wild and rough sections, and "The Big Trail" picture spoke of nearing the "Cimarron country." Stewart Edward White, in an entertaining series of stories in The Saturday Evening Post, entitled "The Long Rifle," speaks of the cimarron, or bighorn goats, which were supposed to leap down cliffs and land on their horns—none the worse, and which tenderfeet tried to chase over precipices in an effort to see them do this same stunt. They were natives of the Sangre de Cristo mountins in the state of Colorada.

The picture is quite a stupendous one and requires much longer than the usual feature to unfold in its entirety. While it is very real in its fashioning, it has a quality of artificiality projected, possibly by the character of its hero, Yancey Cravat, whose temperament is as fantastic as his name. Richard Dix has this spectacular role and handles it well. Cravat is not one person, but a whole series of them, a swashbuckler, a crusader, a fore loper of the type that Kipling raves over, an espouser of lost causes, a forerunner of empire.

There are two strong characters in the tale—very different in type. They are Yancey and his wife, Sabra (Irene Dunne) and each fashions his life to suit himself. Yancey never steps in line. He carves his own destiny and takes the consequences. With his wife and little son, Cimarron, he makes his way into the bad lands, the wilds of Oklahoma, when the land is released for settlement. He establishes the Oklahoma Wigwam, a daily paper with a yearning to clean up the community it serves. He is the minister and the two-gun fighter who reads a text of Scripture, "The lion is in the path," an . then proceeds, in the twinkling of an eye that elapses efore the other man can pull his own six-shooter, to clean up the town by sending into eternity th. "lion" bad man of the district. Yancey supervises the disposal of the body,then escorts his wife home.

His is a picturesque figure and he never stands still. When he tires of Osage, he moved on into the oil lands—alone, for Sabra prefers to stay behind and make a living for their children, Cimarron and the baby Donna. Then, five years later, he returns unexpectedly to embrace his wife rapturously and, in the same hour, to stride out to the defence of a scarlet woman whom Sabra, with other women of the town, is trying to banish from Osage. He espouses another lost cause with the same ardor that marks all his efforts, when he refuses to line up with wealthy oil interests and accept the Governorship of the State.

Colorful, masterful, adventurous, courageous—Yancey Cravat dominates the story. You may tire momentarily of his theatricalism, but he never loses out in interest. Expediency is an unknown word to Cravat.

There are high spots of fun in the stuttering printer, in the little black lad with his hero death, in the hilarious bonnet and dress of the queer Mrs. Wyatt, and there is plenty of action throughout, from the moment when they aquare away for the land rush, to the finale, when Cravat once more does the dramatic and courageous thing and once more spouts a theatrical line.

"Cimarron" is a tale of absorbing and dramatic values. It must be seen to be appreciated.

—Jeanette.

A REAL SCRAP FOR THE FIGHT FANS.

Tom Heeney of New Zealand and Johnny Risko of Cleveland have been signed to fight at Toronto on April 6. Heeney who was the last man to fight Tunney before his retirement defeated Risko at Detroit in 1928 to a $78,000 gate. It is said that Playfair Brown will match the winner of this bout with Larry Gains who recently made a succesful tour of European fight centres.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

We have with us to-day, gentlemen, none other than the delegates to the annual convention of the Ont. Baseball Association, along with the executive and the whole caboodle of the officers. We're glad to say "Welcome" to a good bunch of sportsmen from all parts of this fair Province, and to tell them that the whole town is theirs, including Jas. Stevenson Park, although they'd better be careful how they handle the latter. If they try to take it away with them its liable to fall to pieces. The O.B.A.A. ain't an old institution compared to some others, but it has developed on safe and sane lines, and right now ranks in point of membership, etc., with the best of Canadian sporting organizations. It's done a lotta good work for baseball, and this here town, which has a fine record in the same sport, is sure glad to act as hosts for the annual convention. All we hope, lads, is you like us well enough to come back again some day.

Well, Mac, I gotta hand it to the Flying Frenchmen for keeping my hockey prophesies from being a complete wash-out. The Leaves and the Maroons left me holding the bag, but Mister Morenz and his fast-gonig play-boys come through with a spectacular win over the Boston Bruins. I want to rise right up in meeting and tell the world that that was a serious. The Canadiens win, but they didn't need to be told they'd been in a battle. They knew it, and how, for they come out of the Boston serious with a casualty list that sounds like they been hit by a truck. When it comes to heavy checking them Bruins don't mess with it, what I mean, and although the Frenchmen's speed finally carried them through to a final victory, believe me, Mac, it was as close to a dead heat as you could imagine. The figgers tell their own story. Canadiens took 3 games outa 5, but they was 3 overtime games, 4 of the 5 was won by only 1 goal, and on the total score of the 5 games the 2 eams was tied with 13 goals each. You can't get them much tighter than that. Of course, they's the wise birds what claim the whole serious was in the bag before they started and that the Bruins and Canadiens carried the serious to 5 games for the gate money. Oh, yeah! The way the Frenchmen was carved up during the 5 clashes sounds like a frame-up, eh Mac?

Now comes the battle for the Stanley Cup. On condition the Chicago Black Hawks look to have a big edge, for they start with a fresh, strong, fast squad in the best of shape, while the Canucks is battered, sore and lame. But the Frenchmen has the old fighting spirit, and they'll lash themselves into the defence of the Stanley mug like nobody's business.

Well, Mac, they ain't time for nothing more to-day.

A. WISE CRACKER.
Sportfully yours,

O. B. A. A. Moguls Convene Here To-day

PETERBOROUGH HEADS SMALLER CITIES IN TITLES

Has Won More Championships Than Any Other City Except Toronto.

SENIORS DO WELL

Much of Early Local O.B.A.A. Activities Due to Enterprise of Jake Soloman.

That Peterborough should have the opportunity of acting as host for the annual convention of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association is a fitting recognition of this city's prominent connection with the Ontario body.

As a matter of fact although Peterborough's name does not appear in the list of the charter members of the O.B.A.A., her association with the organization dates back to 1918, the opening year of O.B.A.A. activities, due to the enterprise of J. J. Solomon, who had his City League winners of that year apply for and receive membership in the senior series of the Ontario Association. They went down before the redoubtable Hillcrests, but Peterborough was placed on the baseball map and has been there ever since.

The O.B.A.A. records tell their own story of how effectively this city has been represented in the various Ontario series in the past decade. Only Toronto can show a better record of championships won—for Peterborough teams on eight different occasions have captured provincial titles and half a dozen other times have been in the fight until the last ditch.

The senior championship of Ontario has never come to Peterborough, but twice local teams have carried the battle into the final round—on each occasion succumbing to a Hamilton entry. Then the Peterborough Central Ontario League champions of 1920 were runners up to the Hamilton Plowites, who were the provincial title-holders of that year while the 1927 Peterborough team qualified by winning the Lakeshore title were only eliminated in the final series, the Hamilton Oskies taking the championship.

Won Intermediate Title

In the intermediate series Peterborough has won twice and come close on several other occasions. The Canadian General Electric team brought the provincial intermediate title here in 1922 and repeated the feat in 1923.

By the way 1923 was a notable year for all Peterborough's O.B.A.A. teams for in that year the Lakeviews won the Ontario championship while the Curlers flashed home in front in the series for midget honors.

The Maple Leafs had the previous year won the same title while the Lakeviews followed up their 1923 win of the junior championship by repeating in 1924, defeating Irish Rasson and his Toronto McCormicks in a memorable four-game series.

Recently the Peterborough representatives in the youngest series of all, the bantam division, have brought honor to their home city, the Grafton team winning the Ontario championship in 1929 and the Maple Leafs coming through with the title in 1930.

Eight Championships

Eight championships is a record that no other city but Toronto can approach.

Peterborough's connection with the O.B.A.A. has not been entirely confined to representation on the field for this city has contributed men whose counsel and judgment in baseball matters made them valuable officers of the Ontario Association. Thus the late Ward Patterson served as second vice-president of the O.B.A.A. in 1919 and as first vice-president in 1920, while J. J. Solomon had two terms as second vice-president of the organization. Last year Wm. Kay, one of the untiring workers for baseball in this district, served as a member of the O.B.A.A. executive.

It can, in fact, be said that Peterborough has been a bulwark of strength to the O.B.A.A. ever since its organization and has pulled more than its fair share in the boat, both in the executive and playing end of the game. No small city can duplicate its record of achievement and none has shown a greater interest in or a greater loyalty to the Ontario Association.

POSSIBLE TIE KING PLAY-OFFS

Indians Leading Post Season Series With Three Victories, One Tie and One Defeat.

NEED TWO MORE WINS.

TORONTO, Ont., April 4 (C.P.).—While only three games more are scheduled in the International Hockey League's round-robin championship series, there is a strong possibility the championship round will be tied after to-night's scheduled fixtures.

These matches bring together the well-balanced Buffalo Bisons and Cleveland Indians in the Ohio City and the high-scoring Windsor Bulldogs and the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets in the Smoky City.

The Indians are leading the post-season event with three victories, one tie and one defeat. To-night's game is their final scheduled tilt and victory will give them nine points and the Bulldogs will have to win both their remaining games to secure the Oke Trophy, the King circuit's championship emblem.

Bisons and Indians Tie

Cleveland and Buffalo clashed in Fort Erie on Thursday and while the Bisons dominated play throughout they were unable to do better than draw with their opponents at one-all. Should the Buffaloans succeed in downing the Ohio city puck chasers at Cleveland, it is possible for a three-cornered tie to be created.

Like the Bulldogs the Bisons have another tussle to decide after to-night and victory in both will give them the crown. Next Tuesday they meet the Bulldogs, who are strongly favored to win the honors. The Bisons have played four games, winning two, tieing one, and losing one. The Bulldogs, however, have won three and lost one.

In their first play-off tilt with the Smoke Eaters, the Windsorites left little doubt as to the better team in that particular game by handing their opponents the short end of an 8 to 2 score.

While victory will not be so easily attained in the Smoky City the Bulldogs are expected to pull through with a win and this will give them four triumphs. If the Indians win to-night the Bulldogs will only need a tie with the Bisons on Tuesday next to tie up the series. But should the Bisons win in Cleveland and the Border City squad win at Pittsburgh, the Bulldogs will be the new titlists.

The French team for the Schneider Trophy air race is to be composed entirely of bachelors, the French Government having barred all married men from participation because of the risks.

Executive Meeting Opens Thirteenth Annual Convention of Ontario Baseball Association Here Last Night—Financial Statement Shows Body Has Enjoyed Most Successful Year With $800 Increase Over Last Year's Credit Balance.

REINSTATEMENT OF CHATHAM TEAM IS REFUSED AS ALSO McFADDEN OF THE WALLACEBURG CLUB

W. J. Snyder Complimented For the Success of His Patient and Prolonged Negotiations in Windsor Case—Regret Expressed Jake Solomon, Former Local Promotor, Unable to Attend Gathering.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association opened at the Empress Hotel this morning with a registration that was not complete until the noon trains brought the last of the delegates.

The officers and executive members with quite a number of the representatives of the constituent leagues and associations arrived last night, and with the renewal of old friendships of the diamond recollections turned back to memorable battles on scattered fields throughout the province and to colorful personalities who have helped make the splendid and accumulating history of the O.B.A.A.

This is the first time the provincial association has met in Peterborough, and it may be the last, if the conventions in future are to be held in Toronto.

Bill Kay and his reception committee had a warm welcome for the officers and delegates, and the hotel hummed last night with a "fanning bee" that can be imagined when such a company of baseball enthusiasts get together and reminisce over the high lights of their many campaigns and exciting climaxes. Assisting Mr. Kay in the reception duties were Max Swanston, Edgar LeBarr, Alex Kay, Jack Deannard, Jim Coursey, Bill Prindible, and M. O'Brien.

Mayor Denne joined the informal assembly for a while, and added a cheery welcome to the visitors. The executive of the association held a final meeting last night, reviewing the agenda for today's convention, and disposing of a number of applications from players for transfers and reinstatement.

R. A. Elliott Presided

R. A. Elliott of Deloro, president of the O.B.A.A. during the year now concluding, was chairman of today's sessions and also of last night's executive preliminary. With him last night were the following officers: 1st Vice President, C. K. Jutten of Hamilton; 2nd Vice President W. A. Smith, Galt; Secretary W. J. Snyder, Hamilton; Treasurer A. Hillmer, Oakville; W. J. Smith, Toronto, a life member of the association; G. S. Martin, London, a past president and member of the Advisory Board, and the following members of the executive committee: A. J. Walsh, Toronto; H. C. Maguire, St. Catharines; J. W. Scott, Kitchener; N. A. Taylor, Rodney; R. G. Fraser, Toronto and Wm. Kay, Peterborough.

The financial statement presented by Mr. Hillmer shows a credit balance on March 1st, 1931, of $2,876.88, an increase of $800 over last year's balance. The receipts from the championship games last year amounted to $3,323.97. The total receipts last year were $6,662.23, including $490 membership fees and a grant of $200 from the Ontario Athletic Commission.

The expenses include $790.60 disbursed as grants and for umpires for the minor leagues, $511.40 for medals and trophies and $700 in honorariums.

The executive discussed the finances of the Ontario Athletic Commission as shown in their annual statement, and passed on to the applications for transfers.

Transfer's Delt With

Claude Herdman was granted a transfer from Harrow to Dundas. The request of Tel Johnston of Leamington to play with Guelph was also approved, but on condition that Johnston establish Guelph as his place of residence.

Chas. Haley of Flint, Mich., formerly of Toronto, was given permission to play in Toronto subject to the approval of the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association.

The transfer of Rich. Curwin from Trail, B.C., to Copper Cliff was granted. Reinstatement of the Chatham team and McFadden of Wallaceburg was refused.

The application of Ed. M. Compeau of Kingston for reinstatement was rejected.

Approve Reinstatement

The most important item in this business before the committee was the case of twenty Windsor players whose amateur cards had been cancelled. The committee recommended their reinstatement, except three players, Stewart, Kenny and Girard. By this action it was hoped that the O.B.A.A. would stimulate the encouragement the Association has already given to amateur sport in the Border Cities. And incidentally, Bill Snyder was complimented for the success of his patient and prolonged negotiations in this case.

Although Jake Solomon has been gone from Peterborough quite a few years his old friends and associates on the executive expressed regrets last night that he was not with him. And incidentally they paid tribute to him as one of the promoters of the O.B.A.A., who in the words of Joe Walsh, "had done more for baseball in the province than many of those now associated with the game can realize."

TORONTO DELEGATES FINALLY GAIN POINT

Small Ball Adopted By Ontario Softball Association—Officers Elected.

PARIS, Apr. 4.—Sixty-nine delegates from all parts of the Province were representnted at the annual meeting of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association held here yesterday, and the President reported that 25,000 players are registered with leagues affiliated with the association.

By a vote of 35 to 27 it was decided to adopt a 12-inch ball in place of the 13-inch ball, which has been the regulation size for all championship competitions in the past.

A series will be played between Senior B and senior champions before the Ontario championship is determined. The next annual meeting will be held in Toronto.

The following officers were elected: President, Major G. C. McArthur, Guelph; First Vice-President, F. C. Grant, Toronto; Second Vice-President, George Spooner, Galt; Secretary, V. McIlwraith, Guelph; Treasurer, W. J. Innes, Paris; Executive Committee, elected, V. Collett, Toronto; W. M. Shaw, Windsor; E. Smith, Hamilton; Art Pennell, Brantford; appointed, Homer Frezzell, London; T. Sales, Welland; W. G. Shaw, Kitchener.

A new rule book will be drafted, and it was decided that umpires will not alternate, but the plate umpire will remain at the plate. The first baseman was granted permission to use a glove. The protest fee move has been raised to $25. Jly u15 will be the last day to sign players.

DR. F. H. BRENNAN ELECTED FIRST VICE - PRESIDENT

ORGANIZED IN 1893

Dan McCabe Actively Interested in Summer Pastime for Number of Years.

Thirty-eight years ago this Eastertide, the game of baseball in Ontario received a decided impetus with the formation in Toronto on Good Friday in the year 1893 of the first Canadian Amateur Baseball Association, with Dr. F. H. Brennan of Peterborough, who passed away some short time ago in South Africa, as first vice-president.

The game had been introduced to Canada some years previously and had advanced to a stage, when it was found necessary to get the various leagues together to form the group which could play-off for the Ontario championships.

Recalling these facts in an interview with The Examiner Dan McCabe, one of the early enthusiasts of baseball in this province, and who played professional ball in Quebec with the Eastern Internationals, and is now living in retirement on Burnham street, Asburnham, reminiscently brought to mind the fact that at this period he was pitching ball for Peterborough.

This veteran remembers that in the year 1893 Cobourg, the district champions, played off with the London Alerts for the Ontario championship—and won out. Pat Mulhall was pitcher for the Cobourg outfit, with Malone catching. Art Mitchell, a former proprietor of the American Hotel here, and who met his death after a fall downstairs at that hostelry, was also on the victorious team, and also was Pete Duncan who played third base, with R. W. Edwards, now a curling enthusiast with the Millbrook Curling Club, at third base. Dr. Andrews of Orono and a pro. played second base and also coached, while Pearce and Brown made up the complement. Pearce has a brother living in this city at present and employed by the Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. McCabe is of the opinion that the first Canadian Amateur Baseball Association did not look after the interests of the youngsters as it should have done, and after functioning more or less successful for two seasons, turned out and out pro in the third season.

Peterborough Team 1891-3.

At the time he was playing with the Peterborough team, in the years 1891-3, Dr. Brown was manager and captain, with the following personnel: C. H. Allerton of the Examiner staff, who recently died in Chicago, outfielder; late F. D. McKie, City Editor Peterborough Review; Sam Ray who has lately retired from the tobacco business; Harold Dumble, son of the late Police Magistrate; Jim Graham, uncle of Chris Graham of the Empress Hotel; the late R. A. W. Hay; Ed. Pearson, who was later to become pastor of George street Methodist (now United) church and Morley Lyle of the Canadian Canoe Company. There were also several young men on the team from time to time who had come here to work from the United States.

Following some years with the Peterborough team, Mr. McCabe went to play with the Montreal and Farnum, Quebec teams in the Eastern International League. That was in the year 1896 and thereabouts.

"It was a sort of pro ball," said Mr. McCabe modestly, "the game not having reached the high standard which it now holds."

Piloted East City Team.

In 1915 he was manager of the East City team, who were champions of the City League that year, while in 1919 his active ball career came to an end after he had successfully piloted the Matthews-Blackwell team through to the championship of the City League.

Since that time he has functioned in the interests of the game on several committees, among them being on a protest committee with F. D. Craig, concerning some dispute in the City League.

His ball days over, he now watches the game in which he has taken a lifetime interest, from the grandstand seats. Asked if he would be present at the convention today, he wistfully replied, that he had received an invitation to the luncheon, and would probably be present, but he added, "I don't know whether I would know any of them now. Even the ranks of the old-timers are beginning to thin out, while their places have been taken by the young fellows."

O.B.A.A. FIRST ORGANIZED IN SUMMER 1918

Association Really Had First Beginning in 1915 as Ontario Branch of A.A.U. of C.

W. J. SMITH IS FIRST HEAD

Body Has Spent $8,000 in Past Six Years to Encourage Baseball Among Youth of Ont.

While the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association only dates back to 1918 it really had its beginning in 1915 when the Ontario branch of the A.A.U. of C. appointed a commission with the duty of organizing amateur baseball throughout the province.

This commission laid the foundation for the O.B.A.A. by first organizing baseball in Toronto and Hamilton. For three years inter-city championships were played between these two large centres with great success.

Baseball heads, urged on by the success of the initial step, soon decided that the time was ripe for the big venture which would give organized baseball to cities, towns and villages throughout the province. The Central Y.M.C.A., Hamilton, on May 4, 1918, saw the O.B.A.A. launched.

Smith Is First President.

Leadership is the first need of every project and it in this the O.B.A.A. has always been favored. Men of ability in organizing, managing and of irreproachable character have down through the years given to Ontario baseball their best efforts. W. J. Smith of Toronto was elected the first president of the association and so well did he do his job, that a few years later he was honored with a life membership.

Progress has been the keynote of the O.B.A.A. Each year has seen it growing, broadening and bringing more teams into the fold. Last year saw it make further strides, when there were 58 leagues in its camp with 279 clubs and 7,800 players. The records show that 133 games were played in the playdowns and 1,400 league games throughout the season.

The O.B.A.A. puts the lion's share of its revenue right back into the development of sport. Particular assistance in money and guidance is directed toward the minor series were the future ball players are developed. In the last six years, $8,000 has been given out by the commission to encourage the summer sport among Ontario's youth. This was mostly spent in assisting the clubs in their expenses in the Ontario finals and for providing umpires.

Emphasis is placed on sportsmanship by the O.B.A.A. and nothing smacking of professionalism, crookedness, or bad conduct among the teams and players is tolerated. No scandal has ever touched the O.B.A.A.

Senior champs since 1918 are:

SIX ONTARIO TITLES WON BY MINOR TEAMS

PETERBOROUGH BASEBALL CLUBS HAVE WON TWO CHAMPIONSHIPS IN EACH DIVISION OF THE MINORS

Two Bantam, Midget and Junior Titles Make Up Total of Six Ontario Championships Brought to This City by Younger Teams During Past 8 Years.

JUVENILE SECTION IS THE ONLY DIVISION IN WHICH LOCAL ENTRY NOT REPRESENTED

Curtis' Maple Leafs Won Initial Honors in 1922 by Capturing First Evening Telegram Trophy — Prospects Bright for Another Successful Season Again This Year.

Baseball fans in Peterborough have grown so accustomed to seeing their minor league teams copping off O.B.A.A. championships that they are liable to take it for granted. They may not realize the fact that in the last ten years, no other city in Ontario with the exception of Toronto has won provincial honors in the minor series so often as Peterborough.

There has been no less than six championships brought to this town by the youngster outfits in the past eight years. Two of these have been Bantam titles, two Midget and two Juniors. No Juvenile team ever won the finals for Peterborough, though several came pretty close to it.

In 1922, Charlie Curtis' Maple Leafs won the midget championship for the first time and the first Evening Telegram Trophy. But the year 1923 was the big baseball year around this town. Two out of a possible four provincial minor league trophies came here that fall. Rotary won the bantam championship of the city, but there was no provincial winner that year. Curlers cleaned up in the midget section, and Lakeviews copped the junior honors. Only in the juvenile division did the Petes fail to come through, although the Maple Leafs put up a desperate bid before being eliminated.

Lakeviews repeated again in 1924, winning the Junior O.B.A.A. Trophy with almost the same team as the previous year. From then till 1929, no Peterborough team won out. Several times they went right through to the finals but failed to cop the silverware. However, in '29 Grafton's bantams brought the Carls-Rite Trophy here again. The same cup was again won by a Peterborough team last year when the Maple Leafs, after a mighty fight with Toronto bantams, emerged victorious.

And prospects are bright for another well-rounded out City League this year. There will be plenty of entries into the bantam, juvenile and junior sections when the City League meets next week. The O.B.A.A. executive discontinued the midget division in 1927.

While the minor leagues here have not always had much financial support from the fans, they have been fortunate in that so many live baseball men have been connected with the City League the last ten years. The executives of this league have invariably worked hard from the first meeting each spring till the last one late in the fall, attending all games even though it meant neglecting their businesses. Not enough can be said for men of this type who gave all they had for the summer sport in Peterborough and finally had the satisfaction of knowing this was one of the best baseball towns in Ontario.

It is of course impossible to mention every man who contributed so much, directly or indirectly, toward the success which has been achieved around here. All the officers of the City League have been well-chosen and certainly did their share. But the very term "City Baseball League" instantly recalls the names of such men as Alex Kay, Jack Sullivan, Charlie Curtis, Bill Prindible, the late Lou Lebarr, Sr., Jack Deannard, and a number of others.

Looking back to 1922, we find four teams, Lakeviews, Adanacs, H.N.S. and Lock Works, in the junior section of the City League. In the juvenile division, there were the Maple Leafs, Lakeviews, Holy Name and Sacred Heart. The Adanacs won here but failed to go through the finals in the junior race. Lakeviews and Maple Leafs fought hard to represent Peterborough in the play-offs, "Chuck" Bradley pitching hitless and runless ball to give the Maple Leafs the first win 2-0 over Lakeviews, and emerging the victor 3-2 in the second game in another pitchers' battle.

Charlie Curtis dropped three of his players who were over seventeen, and with the permission of the O.B.A.A., played in the midget playoffs and went right through to the Ontario championship.

The Petes' big year, 1923, found two teams in the junior section, Lakeviews and Adanacs; four juveniles, Maple Leafs, Sacred Heart, Hillcrests and Lock Works; four midgets, Curlers, Sacred Heart, Maple Leafs and Hillcrests; and four bantams, Curlers, Kiwanis, Rotary and Belmonts.

The Maple Leafs lost out in the finals in Toronto, but the Lakeview Juniors, the Curler Midgets and the Rotary Bantams all won provincial honors to make Peterborough the outstanding city in the province that year.

Repeat the Next Year

The next year, practically the same Lakeview team under Lou Lebarr, Sr. again won the junior championship of Ontario. It was not until the year before last that the Petes' were able to bring home another trophy. They came close more than once but didn't quite make the grade. But in 1929, the local bantam winners, Grafton's, went all the way through to cop the Carls-Rite Trophy. And last year, the Maple Leafs repeated the bantam chase to keep the cup here.

Kiwanis and H.N.S. were the only junior entries in the City League last year, and the former won here. They also defeated Belleville in the semi-finals but lost out to Toronto Kiwanis. The Kiwanis Juveniles beat out Browntown in the City League play-offs, but they also bowed to Toronto in the finals. There were four entries in the bantam division, Maple Leafs, Classics, Daredevils and Kiwanis. Maple Leafs won here, and played a great final series with Toronto to win the O.B.A.A. championship. The local team lost the first game 4-3 in eleven innings, but won the second 2-1 in ten innings. The extra game went to the Maple Leafs 5-1 in nine innings.

So now fans have got into the way of expecting Peterborough to have at least one Ontario champion every year in the minor series. And with the warm sun rapidly drying up the baseball diamonds, and the O.B.A.A. convention here bringing up thoughts of singles over second and fast double plays, the young players will soon be out there again beginning another championship race.

The stellar first sacker of local senior squad came to the team in 1920 where he played continuously until 1929.

Interested in local sports for a number of years. He served as manager of Lakeviews, Ontario champions and also on executive of senior C.O.B.L. entry.

FRANK WHITEHOUSE
One of the few local ball tossers who turned pro. He pitched the Lakeviews to O.B.A.A. championship in '23, later doing mound work with the seniors for a period of two years.

MICKEY MURRAY
Played his last year of Central Ontario baseball in '22 after which he went to the Leaside squad in Toronto. Later joining the Providence club in Canadian-American hockey league.

'GEARMEN WIN SOCCER HONORS

Defeats Machine Shop 4-3 in C.G.E. Inter-department Series.

ON GOOD FRIDAY.

The soccer season opened on Friday forenoon when the Machine Shop and Switchgear battled down on King Edward Park, to settle the question of supremacy on the field of sport. Many old players participated in the game, namely Arthur Pagett and Henry Turner who displayed some of the finer points of the code to the younger element, Pete Hutton and Ed. Hardie enjoying the activities to the limit. Switchgear on four goals to three.

The game

The spin of the coin went in favour of the Switchgear and they hammered away at Machine Shop citadel to get the first counter when Pete Hutton dribbled his way toward goal and lifted the sphere into the corner of the upright. Five minutes later, McMaster Brothers opened up an attack that proved fruitful to the Machine Shop to get the equalizer. Both goals withstood many bombardments until Paget relieved the pressure and sent his wing man away towards the other end where Wade broke in between the full backs to put the Switchgear ahead again. Just before the interval, Ben McMaster balanced the count again with a low drive that the custodian had no chance to stop. Half time—Switchgear 2, Machine Shop 2.

Half Time

On resuming, the players set up a fast pace to get the advantage of the other but the honours fell to the Switchgear again through a well planned attack led by Paget who always looked to see how his forward line was placed and kept swinging the ball from one end to the other, thereby giving the Machine Shop full backs any amount of running to stave off the onslaught. Eventually Hutton gained possession to make the game more interesting as he scored again. The Machine Shop replied in an energetic fashion to be successful through Sherrett. Ten mintried they found the C.G.E. shop put the Switchgear ahead with a close in shot. No matter what losers tried, they foun dthe C.G.E. shop champions giving no opportunities around the goal area and the score remained in their favour as follows: Switchgear 4, Machine Shop 3.

Machine Shop—S. Clark goal; Chamberlain and Young full backs; Carmichael, Robb and Sanderson halves; J. Cooper, B. McMaster, J. McMaster, B. Bolam and J. Sherrett forwards.

Switchgear—Hayter, goal; Whatley and Ed. Hardie full backs; Cordery, A. Pagett, Whalen, half backs; Davey, J. Quinn, P. Hutton, J. Wade and H. Turner, forwards.

Girl Pitcher "Fans" N.Y. Yankee Sluggers

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 4—Miss Verne Beatrice Mitchell, pitching for the Chattanooga Lookouts against the New York Yankees, yesterday "fanned" Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

The Bambino, as though angered, threw his bat down as the umpire called the third strike. Miss Mitchell then proceeded to deal with Gehrig, and retired without having pitched a full inning.

It had been widely advertised that Miss Mitchell would pitch agaist Ruth, and the novel feature helped to bring 5,000 fans to the stand.

Ruth, at bat, let the first ball go. It was wide. He swung at the second and missed it, with plenty to spare. The next was wide, and the Bambino again swung at the fourth, missing it still further. He passed up the fifth ball, and the umpire called him struck out. He argued for a moment, and then threw his bat down.

Commentators declared the affair looked staged.

Marty McManus, Detroit Tiger third baseman who led the American League last year in stolen bases, served notice yesterday that he is out to retain his honors, despite a game leg. He stole third in an exhibition game with Oakland, Calif., then raced home with the lone Tiger tally.

CASUAL COMMENT

GREETINGS TO O.B.A.A. DELEGATES

Welcome O.B.A.A. executive and delegates, we're sure glad to see you here, and hope you have a swell visit. And that goes, too, for many other visitors who are here to attend the convention. This is a big day for Peterborough.

* * * * * * *

You've got the key to the city, but you won't need it. The place is wide open to you, so just help yourselves. And if you want to go anyplace or see anything in the town, ask anybody. That's all that you have to do. So don't be bashful.

* * * * * * *

FIRST CONVENTION EVER HELD HERE

This is the first O.B.A.A. annual convention ever held in Peterborough, and we want to make it a noteworthy one. So that you wont forget it for some time. We know we'll remember the occasion. It's not every day that a bunch of real sportsmen meet in a real sporting town.

* * * * * * *

The talk around town to-day is all baseball. And the Empress Hotel is the focus of all eyes. And all Ontario is interested in what is going on to-day at the Peterborough convention. So, naturally, this city can think of nothing but baseball this week end.

* * * * * * *

Well, ball players will have their innings soon. They will be in the limelight all summer and well into the Fall. So let's forget them for the present. This is your inning and you'd better make the most of it.

* * * * * * *

UNSUNG HEROES OF BASEBALL

You're the fellows who run things, and whom the public never hears of. You make the rules, draw up schedules, decide on protests, and devote a tremendous amount of time and energy to make amateur baseball in Ontario the success it undoubtedly is.

* * * * * * *

But your work is all done in offices, and the players are the ones who get the applause, as well as the fun of playing out there on the diamond. You never get closer to the attention of the spectators than the dugout.

* * * * * * *

Of course, we know that you do not expect or wish for applause. You are in there working for baseball because you love the game. Still, it's nice to know your efforts are not altogether forgotten. And they should never be forgotten whenever baseball is mentioned.

* * * * * * *

GLORIOUS RE-UNION OF FANS AND OFFICIALS

But don't think this convention means all work, because it shouldn't. It should mean a mixture of work and pleasure. After all, isn't it a re-union for most of you? An annual get-together which you can have a lot of fun at, besides cleaning up the work on hand.

* * * * * * *

Baseball has flourished in Ontario since the start of the O.B.A.A. and the game will continue to go ahead rapidly under the guidance of you who are the O.B.A.A. This year will find more and better baseball throughout the province than ever before.

* * * * * * *

And just a word for all baseball fans, the rabid ones and those who suffer in silence. They are right there game after game, shouting advice, roaring applause or booing lustily depending on how the favorites are doing. We feel sorry for anyone not interested in the game.

* * * * * * *

EPITAPH TO "PARLOUR SHEIK"

Here lies the body of a man,
For him life held no terrors,
He never was a baseball fan:
No hits, no runs, no errors.

* * * * * * *

Once again, let us say we are delighted to have you here today, and hope you take us at our word and have a heck of a time. If you don't, that's your fault because the town is yours, so hop to it.

Bengals Will Arrive Home At Sunday Noon

WINNIPEG, Man., April 4 (C.P.).—Just plain Allan Cup runners-up, Hamilton Tigers left Winnipeg for home last night. Hopes for the ancient emblem of Senior Canadian hockey supremacy and a trek to the 1932 Olympics for the Dominion lay blasted behind. Winnipegs downed the burly Bengals in two straight games here.

Tigers will arrive home at noon Sunday. With them travelled most of the Eastern delegates to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association annual meeting.

BIG LEAGUE ON COAST

If the results of the Spring exhibition game played by major league baseball clubs mean anything of importance, the San Francisco Seals have a strong argument to back up the occasional talk of a third big league on the Pacific Coast. But the Seals must share the honors among minor league clubs in their games against the majors with Atlanta of the Southern League and Indianapolis of the American Association.

Playing against three strong big league organizations, the Pittsburgh Pirates, Chicago Clubs and Detroit Tigers, San Francisco has won eight games so far and lost but two. Atlanta, however, has done even better, winning all of its three games against major league clubs, while Indianapolis has won four out of five to equal the Seals' average.

BLACK HAWKS DEFEATED 2-1 OPENING GAME

Weakened By Injuries and Absentees, N.H.L. Champoins Take First Game.

FOR STANLEY CUP.

Canadiens Open Play With Fast Offesive to Secure Early Lead.

CHICAGO STADIUM, CHICAGO, Ill., Apr. 4.—A fagged and fading team from Montreal—Les Canadiens, National Hockey League champions—put on one of the greatest displays of grit and grim stubbornness last night to hold a slender lead and snatch the first game of the Stanley Cup series from the Chicago Black Hawks by a 2-to-1 score.

Their team weakened greatly by injuries and absentees, the Canadiens played the style of game that was to be expected. Undoubtedly worn and tired from their strenuous series with the Boston Bruins that brought the Montrealers the league title, Canadiens flashed their prettiest early tonight, rang up a goal in the first period, held it grimly throughout the middle session, and then with opportunity before them, bagged another tally in the third. But almost that entire third period was a fight to hold what they had so hardly earned.

Many Substitutions

Unable to match the swift front line substitutions that dropped in a veritable procession over the boards, Canadiens dropped back behind their blue line and battled minutes on end. New Hawk faces came and went before a Red Shirt could get a relief. From wild scrimmages deepin the Canadien defensive zone, a swirl of pucks rolled about, went sailing netward or banged into one of the swarm of players that fought for possession.

Throughout the storm George Hainsworth saved his team time and again. The time-honored system of relieving the attacking pressure held forth at least three quarters of that hectic final twenty minutes. At one time Hainsworth himself, unable to find a mate to whom he might safely pass, dropped the puck and swatted it all the way to "Chuck" Gardiner in the other goal.

Young George Mantha, who drew down two penalties in a clean, but terrifically fought game, sent the Flying Frenchmen soaring victoryward with a well-timed shot in the first period. Scarcely had the crowd of some 17,000 settled down after a few opening minutes of continuous roars, than Mantha planted himself in front of the goal. He had spotted Gagnon speeding down the right boards. Gagnon made no effort to swing in toward centre. He went deep in a corner, turned quickly and passed perfectly in front of the net. It was all up to Mantha and the youngster made no mistake. He carefully fired as Hawks swooped down upon him, and as Chuck Gardiner dropped suddenly to the ice the puck whistled in under his outstretched leg. With a goal advantage, the Red Shirts played cautiously, but no less weakly They took few chances, but not yet were they driven back to a desperate defense. They held off the Hawks throughout the remainder of the period and stuck strictly to their plans in the middle period.

The Hawks held back the first few minutes of the second frame, evidently waiting for the play to be brought to them. Canadiens obliged but the home team checked closely and Gardiner was unbeatable.

WINNIPEGS WIN SENIOR HONORS FOR DOMINION

Second Successive Victory Gives Westerners Allan Cup and Second Championship.

FINAL SCORE 3-1.

Winnipegers Set Record By Coping Two Hockey Crowns—Winners Qualify for 1932 Championship.

WINNIPEG, April 4—Emblem of national amateur hockey supremacy, the Allan Cup, came back to the West Thursday night. Red-shirted men of Winnipeg won the Canadian title by defeating Hamilton Tigers, 3 to 1, for the second successive time in the East-West combat. Winnipegs won the first game of the series, 2 to 1.

The triumph in senior hockeydom gives the Manitoba Capital a "grand slam" in amateur competition. Just a week ago the Memorial Cup and the Canadian junior championship were won for Winnipeg by the tolling Elmwood Millionaires. The Allan Cup victory, too, names the Winnipeg seniors as Canada's hockey entry in the 1932 Olympic games at Lake Placid.

Goal Per Period for 'Peg

Three sudden goals, one at the outset of each period—carved out Winnipeg's niche on Canada's hockey. Hamilton, outspeeded as they played a defensive game in the first of the two series contests, adopted an aggresive attacking system for the second contest, but they were able to score only in the closing minute of the game with five men beseiging the Manitoba net.

Tolling Romeo Rivers, sturdy left winger, scored two of the three goals for the red-clad henchmen of Jack Hughes. His shot screaming on the corners, his skates flashing with speed, he was the most spectacular player in a spectacular game.

It was Vic Lindquist who notched the other goal. He scored in the first minute of the game on a low drive from his wing-line, far out on the right boards.

Rivers lifted the Manitoba six two goals ahead in the second minute of the middle period when he picked up a wobbly pass from his towering centre mate, Hack Simpson. The last period had gone less than four minutes when Rivers scored again. He gathered in a rebound from a shot by Lindquist which had sent Howsie Marsh flopping in the goal, fumbled with it coolly for a moment then pushed it in.

Hamilton's solitary goal was the product of a five-man attack centred on the 'Peg goal in the waning final period. As Cockburn kicked out shot after shot, Alex Litzen, relief centre, hammered into the net a pass from "Hurry Kane, right winger, who had burrowed in behind the goal. Muir McGowan, hard-working Tiger centre and "Red" Farrell, husky defense man, were most consistently threatening of the Tigers.

Winnipegs held Tigers even in the second and third periods after taking a margin on the play in the opening period. Hamilton ranged in continually on the net but were unable to foil cool Bill Cockburn until the close.

BOWLING GOSSIP.

The Ladies' City League is still breezing along in high gear and every battle shows the keenest of rivalary as the teams are entering the home stretch and a few more weeks will see the finals. Last night the Columbians hit rough sailing when they hooked up with the peppy West Ends who took three out of four points as well as turning in one of the nicest performances of the season. Mrs. (Dot) Prest put the skids under the league records for high single when she collected a solo score of 348, bowling for the winners. The Columbians got their only break in the first game by the close margin of 8 pins. The West Ends, however, came back strong in the second game to take it by 45 pins, and the third game by a majority of 20. Mrs. H. Davis with 221, 165, 195 and F. Riley with 155, 179, 187 were the high scorers for the Columbians while Mrs. W. Prest with 178, 204, 348 led the winners with G. O'Connell 148, 165, 187 next in line.

N.H.L. Leaders.

TORONTO, Ont., April 4 (C.P.) — With low scoring marking the majority of Stanley Cup play-offs, the splendid point scoring record established by Cooney Weiland, Boston's clever pivot player, continues to remain a target for other snipers to shoot at.

Playing in five games Weiland notched 6 goals and gave 2 assists for a total of eight points. Chicago and Canadiens of Montreal are the surviving teams in the Cup final and Howie Morenz and G. Mantha are the closest rivals of the Bostonian. Neither of the flying Frenchmen can beat his five game record as thy have already played in six games and have only four points apiece, but as the series with the Hawks is a three-out-of-five affair, marksmen on both teams have a chance to pass the eight-point mark.

BURNS GIVEN CHANCE

First base to-day was causing Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns no little worry. Irving Burns, Wichita Falls rookie, will be given until the team reaches St. Louis to make the grade. Burns has committed too many mental errors to suit Skipper Bill, but he has no idea who will get the job if the youngster fails to improve.

MERTHIOLATE FOUND IDEAL AS ANTISEPTIC

Chemical Which Kills Bacteria But Promises Cell Growth Described by Scientists.

MANY GERMICIDES HARMFUL

NEW YORK, April 4.—Merthiolate is an almost ideal antiseptic. Not only does it kill the bacteria, but it also stimulates the growth of the healthy tissues, thus aiding in recovery of infected parts.

This statement was made by Drs. H. M. Powell and John H. Waldo, of the Eli Lily Research Laboratries, at the Indianapolis meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Many Germicides Harmful

According to Powell and Waldo, most germicidal chemicals used to kill germs also injure healthy body tissues. The aim of hygienists is to discover antiseptics to destroy the infectious germs, without harming cells and tissues.

Powell and Waldo explain:—

"Merthiolate has been shown to be an effective germicide in various media approaching the tissue proteins in nature. It has a low toxicity (power to injure normal tissues). What is more, it has the property to stimulate directly the growth of the healthy cells of the body.

Other Compounds Good

"Other thio compounds, chemically akin to merthiolate, also promote cell growth. Thio cresol is another similar chemical. By use of merthiolate the healthy granulation of the tissue is increased and epithelial (skin lining) coverings are promptly produced."

Horace A. Ohonle, also of the Eli Lilly Laboratories, revealed some new forms of hypnotic drugs used in producing surgical anesthesia. By modification, or newer combinations of certain substances, amyl, ethyl, barbituric acid, such drugs can be prepared as will put the patient to sleep.

VICTIM IN JAIL PROVES PUZZLE

U. S. Immigration Authorities Work Four Weeks in Vain on Kegel's Case.

SON IS HELD.

DETROIT, April 4 (C.P.)—Deprived of his property by one country, termed a pauper by another and listed as a deportee by a third, Paul Kegel is spending his fourth week in the Wayne County jail here while immigration authorities are seeking to determine what is to be done with him. His 16-year-old son, Wilfred, is held in the Juvenile Detention Home.

Kegel has quite a record of international travel. He was born in South Africa, the son of a German missionary and was educated in Germany, but chose to be a British subject. In 1905 he went to Russia as an engineer and two years later was married to a resident of Lutz, Poland. He acquired a factory in Riga but lost it after the second Russian revolution. His son was born in Esthonia but chose to be a British subject like his father. The family went to Stockholm, Sweden and later to Liverpool. Four years ago they came to the United States by way of Saint John, N.B. Mrs. Kegel died in Chicago.

Recently Gegel sought to go to Montreal, where he had been promised a job, but Canada rejected him on the grounds that he was "likely to become a dependent". The United States says he entered illegally and should be deported.

Kegel says he isn't so much interested where he's going as in when he is going to start. The part of the journey he looks forward to is that which will take him past the outer door of the Wayne County jail.

MAUNDY PENNIES TO GLADDEN POOR

St. Paul's Cathedral Will Observe Custom Started in Charles II Reign.

SPECIAL COINS MINTED.

LONDON, April 4 (C. P. Cable).—The ancient ceremony associated with Maundy Thursday, the presentation of "Maundy Pennies" and gifts of clothing to poor men and women, was carried on Thursday by officials of the Royal Almonry in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The number of "pennies" and the number of recipients is governed by the age of the King. He will be 66 on June 3, and accordingly 66 poor men and women to-day received 66 pence in the form of specially minted silver pennies, two-pences, three-pences and four-pences.

The coins are of course legal tender, but are worth much more than their face value, for they are eagerly sought by collectors. They were first coined in the reign of Charles II.

In olden days Royalty, as well as prelates, marked Maundy Thursday by kissing the feet of the poorest of people. Queen Elizabeth performed this rite but the last King to follow it was James II. William II. delegates the custom to his almoner, and this practice was followed until the middle of the 18th century. The presentation of 'Maundy Pennies" dates from 1754.

Elliott And Gastle Remanded To April 9

BARRIE, Ont., April 4 (C.P.).—Robert J. Elliott and Gordon K. F. Gastle were to-day remanded till April 9 when they appeared before Magistrate Jeff for preliminary hearing on charges of slaying Mrs. David Hisey of Midland, Ont., who was killed when her automobile plunged into a forebay at Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 18. The proceedings to-day occupied a few minutes. The Crown authorities asked as a matter of record that the preliminary nearing be held at Barrie. Hugh Cleaver, counsel for Gastle objected. Accused were then taken back to the county jail.

Pola Negri Is Given Divorce From Prince

PARIS, April 4 (A.P.).—Pola Negri motion picture actress, was granted a divorce to-day from Prince Serge Mdivani. She sailed yesterday for the United States.

Miss Mary McCormic, opera singer, told friends in Paris last January that she and Prince Serge would be married as soon as the decree was granted.

Before sailing Mlle. Negri said, "I am going to make my first talkie. I want to be free and stay free."

Prince Serge, a member of the former Russian nobility, and Pola Negri were married at Serrainocurt, France, 1927. She sued for a decree in October, 1930.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES ARE BROUGHT TO FITTING CLIMAX

Dr. McLachlan Speaks at Mark Street and Trinity Churches.

SPLENDID SERMONS.

Mark Street United Church was the mecca to which the many interested members of the six uniting churches of this city gathered on Thursday night for the final evening service of Passion Week.

Presiding was the pastor, Rev. A. E. Thornley, who was supported by the Rev. David Wren of Trinity Church, with Rev. Dr. McLachlan in the pulpit.

The service opened with the doxology and prayer by the pastor. Adding greatly to the spirit of worship manifested at these meetings were the beautiful vocal selections sung by Albert Greenlaw, the soloist. By request, two of his numbers were Negro spirituals: "Were you there?" and "Lord, I want to be a Christian." His first offering "He lifted Me" was followed with prayer led by Rev. Mr. Wren.

The splendid congregational singing was led by Mark Street choir, with Mrs. W. A. Greenslade at the organ.

"He took a towel" was the arresting theme of the preacher, Rev. D. N. McLachlan, who chose this phrase from his scripture lesson, the 13th chapter of John.

The words of this text have a special interest for us in these days of intense scrutiny of the gospel. Every deed that Jesus did, speaks to us with a new and powerful tongue.

The setting for these words was found in the "upper room" where Jesus had met with his disciples, only a short time before His crucifixion. Yet here the disciples were thinking only of their place in His kingdom. Jesus tells them that God has a new and strange method of measuring grace—by service; exemplifying this truth by taking a towel and washing their feet.

When Peter objected to Jesus performing this humble duty, the Master pointed out that if love, justice and mercy are ever to come to humanity, it must be through just such lowly service.

We rate a man to-day by his ability to do things and to acquire material wealth, while willingness to be nothing is the only thing that counts.

Jesus, by the "spirit of the towel" won Matthew from his dissatisfaction to a life of service. In this manner, He also won Zaccheus, the hated rich man. He did not speak to him of his meanness or contemptibleness but showed him the picture of perfect manhood. No one had ever spoken to Zaccheus in this way before. It was the spirit of the Man with the towel.

The same spirit was at work in the woman at the well. First, Jesus touched her sympathy, then aroused her curiosity and led her to confession, prayer and testimony. Thus gradually, He brought her to faith in God.

Another reacher by this spirit was Mary Magdalene, who was last at the cross and first at the tomb. Jesus exhibited the same tenderness toward the children of that day, when His disciples would have sent them away.

There are five hundred thousand children in Canada to-day, who have never been inside a Sunday School. There is something wrong with a country that provides secular education for its children, while it denies them spiritual enlightenment.

It is the "spirit of the towel" which must remedy this condition. This same humble spirit will operate anywhere, in the home, church or in business. Nothing else will do. This is God's method of dealing with His children. Some may say that it takes a Christ "to take the towel"; it is so hard for us to take a secondary place. But Jesus' answer to this is found in His words "Take my yoke and learn of me." When we come to Him and acknowledge that the task is beyond us, He will steal into our lives making the task easy, and touching other lives so that the whole is leavened. Is the spirit of the towel worth-while? Let us try it until the whole is transformed and we see the Kingdom of God in our midst.

At Trinity Church

The climax to this wonderful week of preparation for the Eastertide, came on Good Friday morning, when the adherents of the six United churches assembled en masse in Trinity church for Communion service, which was administered by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wren and Rev. William McDonald of Knox church, assisted by representative elders from the various churches.

"We come to-day with only one thought uppermost in our minds and hearts and that the thought of the Cross" said Rev. Dr. McLachlan, in introducing his impressive Easter message.

The week which these meetings commemorate, closed very differently from what was expected by those who saw Jesus enter Jerusalem as a King, with palms strewn before Him. Now they see Him nailed to a cross between two malefactors. These three crosses have a great significance for us. The cross in the centre is the redemptive cross, signifying that Jesus is always at the centre with sinful and suffering humanity, as typified by the penal and purgatorial crosses.

The remembrance of two thoughts was urged. First, is the thought of Hope, of which Jesus spoke to the repentant sinner. He came to be the sinner's companion and surety. When the cry goes up to Him He is willing to accompany, to redeem and to restore.

The second thought is one of warning to the thief who had the same opportunity but failed to see any hope. It is strange that we can be so close to Him and never know Him, as Judas did.

We may kneel at His feet as did the rich young man, yet not know Him and even on the cross, we might fail to recognize our Redeemer.

In remembering Christ at the table of the Lord, we as His children perform the greatest act that it is possible for us to do. Before coming to His table have we examined ourselves in preparation. Have we honestly given ourselves to God? Have we consecrated our entire personalities? Is He with us in public and priate life? Do we hold sacred what belongs to Him? His Name, His Book, His Day and His House? Have we cherished malice or hatred in our hearts? Are we pure in Thought, in Word and Deed? We must acknowledge that there is none righteous, we have all failed and come short. Our presence here is a prayer to God for forgiveness and we may hear Him say "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do."

The solemnity of the beautiful service was impressed upon the congregation by Mr. Albert Greenlaw who paid tribute to the Master in his vocal numbers "He died of a broken Heart" and "I come to the Garden." The organist, Miss Mabel Clarry, presided at the organ, while the splendid choir also assisted in the singing.

The altar, banked with ferns and a profusion of mauve tulips made an ideal background for this Easter service, which was brought to a conclusion with the benediction by Dr. McLachlan.

THE SON OF TARZAN No 30 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Days passed, and with traveling, hunting and climbing, the boy's muscles developed and his agility increased until even phelgmatic, Akut marveled at his pupil's prowess. The boy, realizing his great strength, became careless. He strode through the jungle, his proud head erect, defying danger. When Akut took to the trees at first scent of Numa, the lad laughed in the face of the king of beasts and walked boldly past him.

Good fortune was with him for a long time. The beasts he met were well-fed perhaps, or his very boldness so filled them with surprise that often he passed within a few paces of some great lion without arousing more than a warning scowl. But one day he met a lion who had not dined. They were walking across a little plain on which grew small clumps of bushes. The boy was the first to discover the lion's presence.

"Rum, Akut," called the boy to the ape who was a few yards to his right. "Numa has hid in the bushes. Take to the trees, Akut! I, the son of Tarzan, will protect you," and the boy laughing, kept straight along his way which led close behind the brush where the lion lay concealed. The ape shouted to him to come away, but the lad only flourished his spear and executed an improvised war dance to show his contempt for the king of beasts.

Closer and closer he approached until with a sudden angry growl the lion arose from his bed not ten paces away. He was a huge fellow, with a shaggy mane and blazing eyes about his great jaws. The boy, with only his pitifully inadequate spear, realized quickly that this lion was different from the others he had met. The nearest tree was several yards to his left. The lion would be upon him before he could make it. Escape seemed cut off.

WEDDINGS

COWAN—CLEGG

A very pretty wedding took place on Thursday, April 2 at St. Paul's manse, when the Rev. Wm. Allan, united in marriage Blanche Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clegg, Homewood Ave. and Richard Lawrence, third son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cowan.

The bride was attired in mauve flat crepe, with small black hat and carried Easter lillies. She was attended by Miss Helen Turner, and Mr. Gordon Richardson was the best man.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony on a motor trip to Buffalo and Niagara. On their return they will reside at the Fligg Apartments.

OBITUARY

AARON RICKNER.

The death of a former resident of this city took place in Rochester, N.Y., on April 1 in the person of Aaron Rickner, after a short illness. He leaves to mourn three sons: Walter G., William J., Harold V.; two daughters, Mrs. Chester Swan, all of Rochester, and Mrs. Joseph Trussler of Toronto.

This is the third death in the family in three months, his wife and daughter passing away recently.

MRS. DAVID C. HUBBS.

The funeral of the late Mrs. David S. Hubbs of 414½ George street who passed away after only a short illness on Thursday took place from Belleghm's Funeral Home at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. E. J. Millyard of George Street United Church officiated and interment was made in Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Hubbs, (nee Irene Henderson), was born 23 years ago in Otonabee township, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Henderson. She has lived in Peterborough for the past three years. Surviving her are her sorrowing husband, an infant daughter, Irene, a son, William, her parents, three brothers and five sisters.

FRED C. FORSTER

Word was received in the city this morning of the death which occurred in Toronto of Fred C. Forster, a native of North Monaghan Township.

The late Mr. Forster was 67 years of age and had been employed for the past forty years with the Gurney Company in Toronto. He was one of their oldest mechanics.

He leaves his wife and one son and one daughter in Toronto; also brothers John Herbert of this city, William S. of Ottawa, and a sister, Mrs. Steer of British Columbia.

The funeral service will be held on Monday from his residence, 122 Park Mount Road, Toronto, at 2 p.m. Arrangements are being completed for the attendance of four brother members of the I.O.O.F. No. 111 Peterborough, of which the deceased was an early member.

MRS. EMMA LOUISE BATES

The death of Mrs. Emma Louise Bates occurred last evening in this city. Mrs. Bates was 81 years of age, and was born in Jersey City, N. J. She resided for eight years in North Bay, and during the past year has lived in this city with her daughter, Mrs. N. J. Wootten, 512 Dixon street. Her sole survivors are Mrs. Wootten and Mrs. Isaac MacDonald of Philadelphia, her husband having predeceased her two years ago.

The remains will be taken to North Bay, where service will be conducted by Rev. H. A. Simms of St. John's Anglican Church. Interment will be made in St. John's Cemetery.

BIRTH

WELCH—On Wednesday April 1, 1931 to Mr. and Mrs. H. Welch, 609 Lock street, a daughter (Mildred Marian).

MARRIAGE

COWAN—CLEGG—On April 2, by Rev. Wm. Allan, Blanch Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clegg, 525 Homewood Ave. to Richard Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cowan, 292 London St.

IN MEMORIAM

SIMPSON—In loving memory of our son, Frank Simpson, who was killed in action at Vimy Ridge, fourth of April, 1917.

Just fourteen years ago to-day since our great sorrow fell,
But in our hearts we mourn the loss of him we loved so well.

—Sadly missed by father, mother, sisters and brothers.

IN MEMORIAM

LOUCKS—In loving memory of Mrs. John Loucks who departed this life April 5th, 1929.

In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.

God saw that she as suwffering
And the hills were hard to climb,
So He closed her weary eye lids
And whispered "Peace be thine".

—Sadly missed by her son and family.

SPRING SALE OF MONUMENTS

We have a large stock of monuments, finished and partly finished, also granite in the rough from the world's best quarries. There are many different shades of red, grey, pink and black, imported direct from European and American quarries, also from Scotland and our own Canadian granites.

Now is the time for intending purchasers to place their orders. It gives us ample time to finish and erect them before Decoration Day; and more important still, for all orders given us in the early Spring we will make a on our regular manufactured prices. We can make any style of memorial—large or small, as we have a fully equipped plant and expert mechanics.

At present, we have a number of the usual size monuments, in the newest artistic designs, reduced for early spring delivery. Our staff are also engaged in making a memorial fountain costing $4000. Our design, made right at our factory, was chosen from those of the leading firms of Canada and the United States.

We guarantee all our granite and workmanship to be the best, and our prices are the lowest.

We invite you to call and inspect our stock, and we will be pleased to give you further information.

Two Young Girls Perish in Tenement Fire

BLAZE STARTS AS RACKETEERS BOMB BUILDING

Victims Overcome By Smoke As Family Rushes to Make Escape.

SIX OTHERS INJURED.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Apr. 6.—Racketeers who planted a bomb in the grocery store of Sebastian Giarussio in Shabby Avenue were responsible for a tenement fire in which two small girls were burned to death last night. Six other persons were injured.

The bombarding brought to an end a quiet warfare which the grocer had been waging with racketeers over a period of weeks. They badgered him with demands for protection money, and refused to accept his explanation that he was unable to raise it. The demands gave way to threats, and the bombing came as a punishment.

Although the explosion wrecked Giarussio's store on the ground floor of the tenement, the tenants in the dingy rooms above suffered most. They were thrown from their beds and ran, panic-stricken, into the halls. But the fire spread so quickly through the torn walls that after the first minutes it was impossible to escape through the street entrance and they scrambled down the back stairway.

Charles de Prena, a laborer, herded his wife and three daughters into the corridor only to find that the escape which he had planned was cut off. In the confusion and smoke Mary, 11, and Lillian, 9, were cut off from the rest of the family and their bodies were found on the landing at the second floor.

EUROPE HOLDS EASTER MONDAY

Banks, Exchanges, Gov't and Public Offices All Shut in England.

PICK UP WILL BE SLOW.

LONDON, Eng., April 6. (AP) — Easter Monday finds virtually the whole of Europe a dead continent as far as ordinary activities are concerned, a great share of the population still being on vacation.

In Great Britain business still is at a holiday standstill with banks, exchanges, Government and other public offices and shops all closed.

The same conditions prevail in France, Germany and most other continental countries where the observance of the Easter holidays is a thorough going practice and the outdoor joy is as unconfined as weather conditions will permit.

Business as usual will be resumed tomorrow, although it probably will be slow in picking up owing to matters which accumulated during the prolonged holiday extending from last Thursday afternoon until Tuesday morning.

Mayor Walker Back To Battle Critics

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 6 (C.P.). —Mayor Walker was back home today to begin his counter-attack on the critics of his administration.

Tanned and energetic, he returned yesterday from his vacation in California and spent the day resting at his apartment.

Speaking of his critics, Mayor Walker remarked:

"They've asked for this fight. We'll give them all we've got. There's not a doubt in my mind of the outcome. It's a political attack, nothing more. Tammany has nothing to fear."

Rescuing Picture Costs Man Life

MARION, N.C., April 6.— Because Charles E. Ivey, 60, wanted to save his invalid wife's picture from flames that were destroying their home he was dead to-day.

He was found dead after the house burned with his wife's picture clutched to his breast. He apparently had escaped from the house, gone back for the picture and been overcome by smoke. Mrs. Ivey was in a hospital when the fire broke out.

23 Drifters Spend Night in Lock-Up

Twenty-three men in jail and yet not one a prisoner was the paradox presented Saturday night in the local lock-up. A stranger, looking at the crowded quarters behind the barred door, might have been pardoned had he concluded that a riot had been quelled.

The men were all drifters who had sought the police station as a haven of rest. They had begged to be locked-up so that they might dispose themselves on a little strip of the big bed in the station.

CAMPBELL HAS CLOSE ESCAPE AT BROOKLANDS

World's Motor Car Speed King Looks Death in Eye for Few Seconds To-day.

CONNECTING ROD BREAKS.

Car Becomes Unmanageable Travelling 100 Miles Per Hour in Making Turn.

BROOKLANDS Eng., April 6 (AP) Sir Malcolm Campbell, world's motorcar speed king, looked death in the eye for a few seconds to-day while an almost unmanageable racing car carried him along steeply banked track at Brooklands at 100 miles an hour.

Competing in a handicap event at the opening day of racing on the Brooklands auto racing program, Sir Malcolm was just completing the first lap of a 12-mile race when the rod holding the front wheels in position broke. As the spectators lining both sides of the track gasped in horror, Sir Malcolm fought the careening car along the steeply banked track as the other competitors roared past, and brought it to a halt without mishap. If the car had gone off the track it probably would have meant death both to himself and many spectators.

Sir Malcolm said it was one of the closest calls he'd ever had.

"I was braking preparatory to taking a turn" he said, "and suddenly I heard a terrific crash and the front wheels locked. I was doing well over 100 miles per hour and I don't know how I held the car on the track. Somehow I managed to pull her in. It was a ghastly experience. I suppose my luck holds good.

The broken rod lashed about, as Campbell fought the car to a standstill, tearing the spokes out of one of the wheels.

QUALITY STONE IN NEW QUARRY NEAR MARMORA

Exceptionally Fine Body of Marble to be Quarried in Hastings County.

UNIQUE DEPOSIT.

Immediate Development is Announced in Despatch From Hamilton.

HAMILTON April 6 (Special) — Present indications point to the immediate development of an exceptionally fine body of marble situated in the Township of Marmora, near Marmora.

Recently through the efforts of R. Bloomfield G. M. Doolittle and associates have become interested, and have signified their intention of immediately and vigorously proceeding to operation, if the evidence as at present obtainable is confirmed. A core-drill is on the way to the property to check existing cores and preparations are in progress to quarry marble as soon as indications are definitely and unmistakably proved.

The deposit is somewhat unique in that it is remote from intrusions and lies against Huronian limestone. It analyzes 98 per cent. calcium carbonate, is readily quarried, easily worked, takes a very fine polish, and in colour is white, shading to pink, green and black.

The history of the discovery is interesting. In 1913 the property was optioned by United states parties for the prospecting of iron. It was diamond-drilled to a depth of 500 feet, and disclosed marble all the way. The idea of the iron was abandoned, and the interest in marble was inspired. A core-drill was introduced and six cores to a depth of 130 feet removed, disclosing a very fine grade of marble throughout. The optioners desired to exploit the marble, but the owners conceived the property to be of tremendous value, and possessed very extravagent ideas of price. The Great War terminated negotiations and the proposition has remained dormant until the present.

The property lends itself to easy and economical quarrying. The C. N. R. and C. P. R. is quite adjacent, so that transportation can be accomplished over both lines. The overburden is not excessive and is easily stripped. All the existing cores show that it is remarkably free from seams and other imperfections.

Mr. Doolittle is particularly well-qualified to successfully exploit this proposition, as he has devoted his energies to quarrying since his youth. One of the earliest operators in crushed stone in the country, the undertaking at Dundas has developed to immense proportions, as well as other quarries in the district, until in 1930 the aggregate of stone crushed and shipped for operations under his control exceed 1,000,000 tons.

Queenston Quarry in the few years it has been under Mr. Doolittle's direction has come to the front very

Clerk Locked in Cellar as Lone Bandit Loots Montreal Store and Bank of $1,258

MONTREAL, Que., April 6 (C.P.). — A bold thief robbed a Branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale and a hardware store simultaneously over the week-end. Entering the Cachon Hardware Store on Belanger Street he asked the clerk for a pane of glass, which he apparently knew was kept in the cellar. He turned the cellar door key on the clerk and took $580 from the till.

Then he turned his attention to the bank branch in the same store and robbed the teller's cage of $678. The clerk was not freed till some time later when a woman customer entered the store and heard his shouts.

$1,000 in Money Taken From Car

TORONTO, Ont., Apr. 6.—(C. P.)—Theft of $1,000 from a suitcase in a rumble seat of his car was reported to local police last night by William A. Stephenson of Havelock, Ont. Stephenson and his wife have been visitors here for the past week-end en-route to Cobalt, Ontario. The loss was discovered when Mr. Stephenson went to his car to remove some luggage from the rumble seat which had been locked.

DON WOOD HURT IN COLLISION

Motorcycle Crashes Into Rear End of Automobile on Port Hope Highway.

REMOVED TO HOSPITAL.

Colliding with a motor car on the Port Hope Highway yesterday afternoon, Don Wood, 273 McGill Street, well known as a sea flea racing driver and hockey player, suffered several broken bones in his right foot and is now in Nicholls Hospital.

Wood was riding a motorcycle and had just crested the Water Trough Hill when he crashed into the right rear of a car, driven by Leo Crough, 14 Aylmer Street. Crough was turning left on to a side road, known as the Dobbin Line, and was all but clear of the highway when the accident occurred.

The motorcycle hit the car with such force as to crumble the right rear wheel. Wood's right foot was squeezed and twisted between the car and the motorcycle, and several small bones were severely fractured. Dr. G. S. Cameron attended him.

CREW BEING HELD BY COAST GUARDS

Canadian Rescued After Vessel Sinks in Collision With U. S. Patrol Boat.

SUSPECTED RUM-RUNNERS.

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 6 (C. P.). — The crew of the Nova Scotia motor vessel Symor, sunk in a collision with the U.S. patrol vessel Legare, were still held at coastguard headquarters to-day.

The Symor went down on Friday night, the crew being rescued by the patrol boat and conveyed to Coastguard Base 4 here on Saturday. It was reported the Symor carried a cargo of liquor.

Those held here under the alien restriction law were the captain of the Symor, Aubrey Bachman, Lunenburg, N.S., and eight others whose names are being withheld by coastguard officials.

Attempts by the Canadian Press to learn details of the collision or the names of the crew were thwarted by Commander Ryan of the coastguard base to-day. He refused to give the names or to allow newspapermen on the reservation.

The crew of the Symor were held for investigation by immigration authorities and it was improbable any charge would be laid against them. Their release was expected to-night.

The Weather

With rare exceptions, Easter is generally favored with bright, sunshining weather, and yesterday was no exception. The temperature was up to 51 degrees in the shade; the sky was blue, and everything conducive to the display of the proverbial Spring "toggery." Lowest temperature last night, 27 degrees. Robins have been numerous for some days, and yesterday blackbirds were around. Thick ice is still in Chemong and Rice Lakes. Warm weather can never be looked for until it moves.—W.F.

SERIOUS CRASH IS AVERTED BY DRIVER OF BUS

Bus and Four Other Automobiles in Tie-up on Port Hope Highway.

AT KENDRY STATION.

Cars and Bus Are Damaged But Not One of the Passengers is Injured.

Only the presence of mind of Samuel Calladine, driver of a Peterborough Bus Line chartered vehicle prevented what might have been a serious accident this morning, when to avoid a tangle with four other vehicles he fearlessly steered his huge vehicle, laden with 25 passengers into a ditch this side of Kendry crossing. So deftly did he handle his bus, that it remained on all four wheels. The passengers themselves paid him tribute, for when another bus came to complete the journey to Toronto, they insisted that Calladine pilot it, which he did.

Leaving from the Royal Bank here at about 9.30 this morning, the bus which was chartered by W. Pratt and Company, real estate brokers of Toronto and Peterborough, was preceded by a large car driven by Alec McLeod and containing his wife and two children. Approaching the Kendry crossing at about 9.45, the two vehicles followed in the wake of a truck owned by the Peterborough Cereal Company. The truck came to a stop at the crossing, the driver intending to turn left to the elevators, while the McLeod car and the bus pulled out to pass it.

A car driven by Martin Holland of Lakefield, travelling north, caused Mr. McLeod to jam on his brakes and make an attempt to pull in again at the rear of the truck. It was too late, however, the bus struck the rear of the car, while the other vehicle also came into collision. Acting with great presence of mind Calladine, the bus driver, realized that to pull his large vehicle around suddenly would probably result in a spill and headed for the ditch, landing on all four wheels.

The rear of the McLeod car was battered, while the Holland vehicle had the left rear fender and running board ripped off. The bus was damaged badly enough to require that it be towed in to the garage. It arrived in Peterborough about 2 p.m.

Traffic Officer Edward Hornick rushed out to the scene of the smash, conducted an investigation and supervised the clearing up of the damaged vehicles.

Plane Crash Victim Shows Improvement

SUDBURY, Ont., April 6 (C.P.). — The condition of Murdoch (Buck) Smith, who was seriously injured on Sunday afternoon in an aeroplane crash at Ramsay Lake, is reported to be much improved this morning. Smith spent a good night and is cheerful to-day. He will undergo an X-ray examination for possible internal injuries. He sustained a broken leg and fractured jaw, together with several minor hurts.

Teachers Gathering For 70th Convention

TORONTO, Ont., April 6. (CP)— Approximately 4,000 public and secondary school teachers, inspectors, university professors and trustees are gathering in Toronto to-day for the seventieth annual meeting of the Ontario Educational Association which opens to-morrow.

Premier Henry, as Minister of Education, McGill University will be the chief speakers to-morrow when the delegates will also be welcomed by Sir Robert Falconer, President of the University of Toronto.

On Wednesday evening an address will be given by Principal Pyfe, of Queen's University and the election of officers will take place.

GANDHI DECIDES TO DISPENSE WITH COLLEAGUES' AID

Will Take to London Only Three or Four Cabinet Members and Several Financial Experts.

ACT AS ADVISERS ONLY.

New Move By Mahatma Takes India and Indian Gov't Entirely By Surprise.

BY JAMES A. MILLS

NEW DELHI, Apr. 6.—(AP)— Mahatma Gandhi has decided to dispense with the aid of erstwhile colleagues at the forthcoming Round Table Conference at London and will represent the Nationalist cause there by himself.

His decision has taken India and the India Government entirely by surprise and has added fuel to the flame of his critics who have complained increasingly recently that he was assuming the role of a dictator of the Nationalist movement.

It was Gandhi's first intention to take twelve persons with him to Great Britain for the Round Table Conference, at which a future constitution for India is likely to reach well rounded form, instead of the fifteen delegates to which the All India National Congress is entitled.

Quebec Legislature Closes 17th Session

QUEBEC, Que., April 6. (CP)—After a long, and at times, stormy session, the fourth assembly of the Seventeenth Legislature prorogued late Saturday night with no announcement from Premier Taschereau as to dissolution or the date of the Provincial general elections expected this summer.

The session saw legislation enacted relieving the situation of married women in the matter of control of their own and common property, as recommended by a Royal Commission but failed to encourage the women in their annual fight to secure the Provincial franchise. Another measure sought annually by women and a small portion of the Assembly, the right for women to practice law within the Province, was also turned down.

EDDIE BROWER, GRANITE RINK SKIP, IS VICTIM IN HIS HOME AT TORONTO SHOTGUN ACCIDENTALLY GOES OFF

Only Last Month He Skipped His Crew to Second Place in MacDonald-Brier Contest.

THIRD TIME TO ENTER.

Has Captured Many Trophies as One of Canada's Foremost Curlers.

TORONTO, Ont., April 6 (C.P.). — Eddie Brower, the well-known curler, was killed this afternoon when the shotgun he was cleaning in his home accidentally discharged.

He was one of Canada's foremost curlers, and only last month skipped the Toronto Granite rink to second place in the Macdonald Brier Contest, emblematic of the single rink championship of the Dominion.

Third Time to Enter.

This year's competition was the third time he had entered the Macdonald-Brier since it was instituted five years ago. He qualified for it this year by having, along with Charlie Bulley, won the Ontario Tankard.

Last year Mr. Brower took a rink to the Manitoba Bonspiel and brought home one of the leading trophies.

Survivors Protest When Listed Dead

MALAGA, Spain, April 6.—(A. P.)— Ettore Vicenzio and Uyest Koubanec, two survivors of the collision of the steamer Florida and the aircraft carrier Glorious last week, saw their own funeral yesterday.

To-day they were visiting the offices of ther respective consuls protesting against being listed as dead. Yesterday as they walked along the street they saw the burial of two bodies which were supposed to have been theirs.

MANUFACTURERS ABLY DEFENDED BY J. H. VERNOR

Speaker Shows How Management of Industries Contributes to Community Welfare.

ADDRESSES ROTARY.

Idea That New Machinery Causes Unemployment Vigorously Refuted.

An eloquent defence of the profits system in industry and an emphatic demand of the oft-heard statement that the development of new machinery has been responsible for unemployment, featured an unusual address by Rotarian John H. Vernor at to-day's luncheon of the Peterborough Rotary Club.

Declaring that those who were in the business of manufacturing had too often been maligned and that it was fitting that once in a while they should say something in their own defense and show how the management of their industries contributed to community welfare, Rotarian Vernor launched out into a vigorous address on the place of capitalism in the present scheme of things, that held his listeners in close attention until he concluded his eloquent remarks. So masterly was the speaker's analysis of conditions much in the public eye to-day, that it was felt that the benefit of his address should be extended to a larger circle.

Accordingly, at the end of Rotarian Vernor's effort, it was suggested by Rotarians W. R. Morris and Fred L. Roy, that the speaker should give the same talk at the Rotary District Conference this year.

It is not possible for The Examiner to publish the address in full to-day,

SIX ARE DROWNED TRAPPED IN AUTO

Driver Approaching Ferry Dock Loses Control and Machine Plunges Into River.

TWO RESCUED.

CHESTER, Ill., April 6.—A coroner's jury was called to-day to investigate the drowning of six persons, including an entire family of father, mother and three children, here last night when a motor car in which they were riding plunged down an embankment and into the Mississippi River. Two other occupants of the car were rescued.

John Maness of St. Louis, driver of the car, started down the embankment, which leads to a ferryboat landing, but had gone only a short distance when he discovered the boat was in the middle of the stream. Upon seeing the car, attendants of the boat signalled they would return to the Illinois side, but Maness appeared to lose control of the vehicle and it plunged ahead at rapid speed.

Attaches of the ferry rescued Maness and Allen Brooks, who managed to free themselves from the car, a coach, and made futile attempts to pull Mrs. Maness and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cerney and their three children from the water. Early to-day all of the bodies, with the exception of that of one of the Cerney children, had been recovered. All occupants of the car lived in St. Louis.

Death Penalty Being Settled For Michigan

DETROIT, Mich., April 6 (C.P.).— The question of whether Michigan is to re-establish capital punishment for murder is being decided to-day by votes of the Senate.

The State has not had the death penalty for any crime except treason for more than 80 years, and it has been a century since there was a legal execution. The issue before the voters to-day was placed on the ballot by the Legislature in the form of a referendum on a bill providing death in the electric chair for first degree murder. A State-wide campaign has been conducted on both sides of the issue.

Other issues in the State-wide election to-day were of a minor nature.

Former U.S. Official Gets $100,000 Fine

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 6. — (CP)—A sentence of one year in jail and a fine of $100 000 against Albert B. Fall, former Interior Secretary, was affirmed to-day by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

At the same time the court upheld the decision of a lower court under which Harry M. Blackmer was fined $60,000 for contempt of court in refusing to return from France, to appear as a witness in the oil trials of Harry F. Sinclair and Fall.

Fall was convicted of accepting a bribe from Sinclair for a lease granted the California Oil and Naval Oil Reserves while Fall was Secretary of the Interior.

THREAT OF STUDENTS' COUNCIL BLUFF SAYS EDITOR OF VARSITY

Board of Governors Might Discontinue Compulsory Fee Towards Paper.

FORM STOCK COMPANY.

Recent threats of the Student's Administrative Council of the University of Toronto that if it does not get its own way regarding the appointment of next year's editor of "Varsity" it will recommend to the Board of Governors the withdrawal of the compulsory fee which supports the paper, were termed a bluff by A. E. F. Allan, editor-in-chief, in an interview with The Examiner. He did not deny the possibility that the Board of Governors themselves might discontinue the compulsory fee in which case he mooted the probability that the "Varsity" staff would form a joint stock company, which would aim at conducting an independant paper along virile lines and not a paper of platitudes and apologies.

"If the Board of Governors discontinues the compulsory subscription fee," said Mr. Allan, "the S.A.C. would either have to sell subscriptions themselves or drop the "Varsity" altogether, but if they attempt to sell subscriptions for the kind of eye wash they want, they will not be able to do it. Boa Constrictor Plays Stowaway

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 6.—A South American boa constrictor came to town today with a load of bananas. The bananas had been ordered; the snake was a stowaway.

While Charles Gaglione was unloading the fruit, the five-foot reptile came out and went for a crawl. Mr. Gaglione was very much upset and when he got his breath several blocks down the street he telephoned for advice and aid.

The society for the prevention of such things sent a fellow around, and finally Mr. Gaglione returned to the job of unloading bananas.

IMPERIAL, Cal., April 6. (CP)— Joe Petrali, Chicago, claimed a new cycling record yesterday after winning a three mile race in two minutes, 15 2/5 seconds with a motorcycle powered by a 21-cubic inch engine. In winning the race at the Imperial county fair ground track Petrali defeated Miny Waln, Springfield, Mass.

FOUR MURDER CASES FACE JUDGE AS SPRING ASSIZES OPEN TUESDAY

Brockenshire to Come Up For Constable's Death—York Townsthip Bribery Case Listed.

Solloway, Mills To Appear.

TORONTO, Ont., April 6 (C.P.). —Four murder hearings will face Mr. Justice McEvoy when he opens the sitting of the Spring Assizes here to-morrow afternoon. The highlights of the coming Assizes will be the trial of Jack Brockenshire, of Windsor, jointly charged with Harry Clarkson, for the murder of a local police officer last December. Brockenshire, who was shot when he tried to elude police officers, was taken to a local hospital, where he remained for more than two months before being removed to the local jail hospital.

The two other men who face charges of murder are William Scotty Milne, alleged to have killed his wife, and Ambrose Greenhill held for the death of Montague J. Hamilton, a former fellow-workman Eight Bribery Charges.

Four manslaughter cases are also listed on the docket, while other cases include eight charges of bribery as a sequel to Judge Denton's investigation into York Township engineering affairs. I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills, former partners in the now defunct stock brokerage firm bearing their name, will also appear before the Assize Court on charges of theft.

C. W. Bell, K.C., of Hamilton, Ont., will act as special Crown prosecutor during the sitting.

Fishermen Rescued After Drifting 9 Days

LOS ANGEDLES, Cal., Apr. 6. — Coast Guardsmen yesterday rescued two Japanese fishermen who had been at the mercy of the sea for nine days and were without food or water in a disabled fishing boat.

The rescue was effected near Anacapa Island where the fishermen, J. Mura and M. Mayedon dropped anchor March 27 when the crank shaft in their 36-foot craft broke.

Physicians said they would recover.

Noted British Actor Hubert Druce Is Dead

NEW YARK, N.Y., April 6.— (A. P.)—Hubert Druce, British actor, who for more than 40 years has been associated with the theatre, both as a producer and a player, died of pneumonia to-day. He was 61 year old.

Mr. Druce first appeared on the stage in London at the age of 17 in "The Blue Bells of Scotland." He made his New York debut two years later, in 1889 in "Richard III," in support of Richard Mansfield. One of his best known roles was that of Giabrio in "The Sign of the Cross." He toured the United States, Great Britain and Africa, playing the role 987 times.

Among the more recent plays in which he appeared were Deburau, Manhattan, and Seventh Heaven. In 1912 he appeared with John Drew in the Perplexed Husband.

U. S. OFFICER IN CHARGE OF SURGERY SPLITS WITH PRESIDENT MONCADO, LEAVES BY SPECIAL MARINE PLANE

Searching Inquiry Under Way Into Saturday Night's Events.

FEELING RUNS HIGH.

Shooting Occurs When U. S. Sergeant, Believed Demented, Reprimands Guards.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Apr. 6.—(AP)—A searching inquiry was under way today into events of Saturday night which culminated in the shooting of a United States Marine Corps Sergeant and a subsequent dramatic contact between a United States naval surgeon officer and the President of Nicaragua.

The Marine Corps Sergeant, W. H. Pigg, who also was a Second Lieutenant in the Nicaraguan National Guard, is understood to have become slightly demented as a consequence of the severe strain to which everyone here has been subjected since last Tuesday's quake.

Guards Shoot

In the course of a reprimand to members of the Guardia Nacional he was shot and killed, and was taken to a house nearby where President Moncado and members of his staff had established their residence. Intense excitement prevailed and feeling outside ran high.

Lieutenant Commander William Hatfield, who has been in charge of the herculean surgical task which followed the earthquake, heard of the shooting, and understanding that a marine was wounded, rushed to the house.

He was stopped at the door by two Nicaraguan officials, supposed to be Anastacio Samoza, acting Foreign Minister, and Antonio Floces Vegan, Minister of Public Works who does not speak English.

Lieutenant Commander Hetfield demand entrance and when it was refused forced his way into the house.

Undiplomatic Answer

Inside he found the Marine Sergeant dead instead of wounded as he had expected. President Moncado appeared and reminded the United States naval officer that he was President of Nicaragua, a reminder to which Hetfield made what was understood to be an undiplomatic answer.

Lieutenant Commander Hetfield left for Corinth, seaport on the Pacific coast, by a special United States Marine Corps aeroplane at noon Sunday, leaving the surgical work which he has directed in the hands of others. No official statement has been made by Colonel F. L. Bradman, commanding marines, other than an inquiry to develop the facts in Pigg's death was underway.

Managua spent a sad Easter Sunday. The city's churches all were destroyed in the quake which levelled the city and took 2,000 lives last Tuesday but masses were said at several improvised chapels. Martial law of the strictest type prevailed and to most of the inhabitants remaining in and about Managua the day was merely another in an endless quest for food.

The correspondent driving in from Puerto Zuelo after dark last night, found Managua deserted and dark, with the atmosphere of a cemetery at midnight. United States Marines and Guardia members stood on every corner, watchful for looters, of which 20 or more are understood to have been shot in the past few days.

Affair of Honor Decided by Guns May Prove Fatal

MEXICO CITY, April 6 (C.P.).—Two Mexican men chose Easter Sunday to fight a duel and iron out an affair of honor.

Two men drove up the greyhound racing track just outside the city in a taxicab, descended from the cab, and after walking out onto the track and separating themselves by a few paces, started firing at each other.

One fell, probably mortally wounded, and the other got into the taxi and departed. A frightened track employee called an ambulance, which took the wounded man to a hospital.

MEN DROWNED WHILE HUNTING

Two Trenton Men Loose Their Lives in Bay of Quinte.

BOAT CAPSIZED.

BELLEVILLE, April 6—Arthur Lamorre, 25 years old, single, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamorre, and Henry Williams, aged 32, married, both of Trenton, were drowned early yesterday morning in the waters of the Bay of Quinte near their home. Despite repeated dragging operations all day Sunday, the bodies were not recovered.

The first report of the drownings reached the police station at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, when Vernon Carter said he had heard two men shouting for help while he was out setting muskart traps near the town. The police hastily reached the scene, but there was no sign of the men, and the only evidence of the double tragedy was an empty rowboat found floating near the scene.

Boat Capsizes.

Carter stated that he had talked with the two men about 2 o'clock when they pushed off in the boat, he believed to shoot ducks. Apparently the boat capsized. Lamorre was associated with his brothers in the butcher business. He was formerly a hockey player on the Trenton team. He was a Roman Catholic and a member of the Knights of Columbus. Williams, whose widow does not live in Trenton, had been a resident of the town for some years. The two young men were fond of hunting, and reports state that they sought wild ducks which frequent a marsh west of the town. They were also efficient oarsmen.

Boy Plunges to Death.

PORT COLBORNE, April 6.—John Paul, 13 year old son of Gaspar Paul, Port Colborne, was drowned yesterday afternoon when he fell into Lock 8 of the Welland Ship Canal at Humberstone. The boy was walking along the edge of the lock wall with a companion, Frank Simons, 10 years of age, and, according to the younger boy, the first intimation he had of the tragedy was when he heard a splash, and saw Paul struggling in the water. He ran to the other end of the dock, where a number of men were seated in a car, but by the time grappling irons had been obtained the boy had been in the water more than half an hour. When the body was removed from the water it was taken to a lock-house and artificial respiration was applied for seventy minutes, without effect. At the point where he fell in there was only about eight feet of water, and from the wall to the water there was a drop of nearly forty feet. The boy was the oldest of a family of six children, the others being girls varying in age from 11 to 2 years.

THE MODERN MAN BURNS HIMSELF UP.

Excepting trained athletes, we moderns are puny creatures compared with our forefathers. Even athletes soon burn out eating acid-forming foods, the great cause of modern physical inferiority. From 32 to 50 Dr. Jackson was one of the unfit. At 50 Dr. Osler gave him four months to live, dying from acid-forming foods. He then invented alkali-forming Roman Meal. Before that he had lived on the ground floor, unable to climb stairs. Four years afterwards he climbed the fifty storeys in Washington's Monument, up and down, solely due to the alkalinizing properties in Roman Meal. In September, 1928, when seventy, he ran five miles in forty-five minutes—was not even winded; again due to Roman Meal. PRAIRIE GOVT'S TURN TO OTTAWA WITH TROUBLES

LITTLE COMMENT.

Premier Brownlee Only Prime Minister From West to Attend Parley.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 6. (CP)—Prairie Governments turned toward Ottawa to-day for the next steps in two important matters—selection of the Governments' representative on the grain-futures Royal Commission and reaction to the decision of the Alberta Supreme Court's Appellate Division that the Alberta Security Frauds Prevention Act is ultra vires in part.

Though Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, and Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan, are still at the provincial capitals, they leave comment on both matters to the provinces' delegates who left Winnipeg yesterday for Ottawa where they will attend an inter-provincial conference opening to-morrow. Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta, is the only prairie first minister journeying to the meet.

Security Frauds legislation in several provinces, passed following the Attorney-General meeting at Toronto more than a year ago, is regarded as being endangered at least to some extent by the new Alberta ruling. The decision finds the Alberta Attorney-General's department may not continue its proposed probe into Mercury Oils Ltd., and Mill City Petroleums Ltd., since they hold Dominion charters.

Attitude a Question

Attitude of the western governments to the suggestion that an appeal to the Privy Council might be the basis for a settlement will not be known immediately. The suggestion was advanced last night by Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General of Ontario, following announcement of of the Alberta ruling. Hon. J. F. Lymburn, Alberta's Attorney General reaches Ottawa to-day in the van of the prairie contingent.

Intimation that a new interprovincial parley of anti-fraud laws may be necessary is expected by Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General for Manitoba.

Sir Josiah Stamp, noted British economist, and W. Sanford Evans, independent Conservative Member of the Manitoba Legislature for Winnipeg and prominent grain statistician have already been named by Premier Bennett as chairman and grain-trade representative on the three-man oard, respectively. The prairie governments were granted the privilege of naming the third member.

Want But Afrikaans, Not English Tongue

Movement Against Bilingualism and in Favor of Afrikaans in Africa Growing.

CAPETOWN, South Africa, April 6 (C.P.).—Discussing a growing movement among the Dutch in South Africa against the English language and in favor of Afrikaans The Cape Argus editorially says in part:

"It will be a great pity if the cultural movement in favor of Afrikaans, which in itself deserves a great amount of sympathy, should simply degenerate into a sordid fight against the English language. Recent developments are distinctly disquieting, if not without a saving spice of humor. For some time past special correspondents of leading Nationalist newspapers have been paying surprise visits to country places in order apparently to discover who dares to speak, write or read English. One enterprising gentleman conducted an investigation at the Union Buildings, Pretoria, afterwards naming and putting in the pillory certain officials who had been found guilty of the unforgivable crime of using English in their daily conversation, they being by birth Afrikaans.

"Unquestionably enthusiasm of the wrong kind is getting the better of good sense in this delicate affair of language rights. As a clinching proof of this there is the ludicrous sequel to the recent complaint of R. B. Saayman, with the backing of the local Nationalist organ, The Burger, that the Afrikaans version of the papers set for a nurses' examination at Bloemfontein were open to severe criticism on the score of linguistic inaccuracy. It has since turned out that the papers were translated by no less distinguished an authority than Dr. C. Louis Leipoldt, who, besides editing a medical paper, is one of the foremost Afrikaans authors of the day. After this public servants who claim to be bilingual need not be discouraged if, loke poor Dr. Leipoldt, they are solemnly assured that their Agrikaans is not really up to the mark.

Huge Trade Credit To Be Given Soviet

MOSCOW, April 6. —(C.P.)— The Soviet Commission which will leave here after Easter under the leadership of George Piatakov, for Berlin to sign the final agreement for a $75,000,000 trade credit for 1931 is seen here as one of the first steps by the Russian Government to break what it believes is an economic blockade plot.

It is also a move to obtain finances which are much needed for the completion of the five year plan.

Outfit Located in Winnipeg Had Capacity For 1,000 Gallons.

OPERATORS ESCAPE.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 6 (C.P.).—Police to-day guarded what they they termed the largest illicit whiskey still ever seized in Western Canada. Secreted behind a baffling maze of concealed passages, the still was discovered in the Canadian United Products Building, Weston, late last night by W. H. Stubbs, special Excise Customs officer, and men of the City Morality Squad.

Deserted in a high-ceilinged compartment, its owners evidently having departed hastily before the raid, police found a copper still, which they described as having a capacity of 1,000 gallons. It was still warm, apparently having been used until a short time before the raid. Police are seeking to ascertain ownership of the huge distilling plant.

GANDHI DECIDES

who would go to five, explaining that more would make an unwieldy group. Since then he has informed his Congress co-workers that since he had so much success as sole Nationalist representative in dealing with Viceroy Lord Irwin in connection with the recent truce ending the civil disobedience campaign he might repeat his success at London.

Moreover, he has argued, his hand would be strengthened at the second Round Table Conference if most of the Nationalist Cabinet, or working committee, remained in India to carry on the Congress program, thus convincing the British Government that the independence movement has come to stay and would increase in strength despite his absence.

He also has pointed out that this second Round Table Conference will deal only in fundamentals and that the usual doctrine of strength in numbers will not hold since there is no question of a majority vote.

Associates Disappointed

Several of Gandhi's associates, especially Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, are understood to be greatly disappointed at the decision which will deprive them of place at the London Council Table. Gandhi will take along Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of an English Admiral as his personal attendant and secretary and probably will take also, as advisers only, three or four members of the Nationalist Cabinet and four or five experts of finance, constitutional law and the Indian States.

Mrs. Gandhi will be left in India to attend to her knitting and spinning.

Parleys Continue.

Despite a doctor's injunction which forbade him receiving any visitors, in view of the growing precariousness of his health Gandhi over the Easter week-end continued his conferences with Lord Irwin regarding the Moslem-Hindu relationship problem.

The solution of this vexatious question is no nearer than it has been for centuries, and recent sanguinary Communal rioting at Cawnpore has not helped matters. The two leaders hope fervently that they can announce a settlement before April 29, when the Moslems celebrate the Feast of Bakrid. Tens of thousands of cows, sacred to the Hindus, are slaughtered for the feast, the event almost always bringing Communal rioting.

The principal point of differences between the Hindus and the Moslem minority is on electorates, the Hindus being willing to establish joint electorates and the Moslems holding out for separate electorates. The Viceroy Sunday made an impassioned plea to a score of Moslem leaders asking a compromise on the question, stating that if one was not forthcoming chances of succes of the second Round Table Conference would be jeopardized.

Shipping Companies Compromise In Japan

TOKYO, April 6 (A.P.).—Two of Japan's largest shipping companies, the Nippon Ysen Kaisha and the Osha Shosen Kaisha, signed an agreement to-day providing among other things, for a regulation of spheres of influence on certain routes.

Under the arrangement, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha will operate on the run to Puget Sound, while the Osaka Shosen Kaisha will monopolize the trade with the eastern coast of South America.

LARGE BLAST AT ONTARIO QUARRY IS ARRANGED FOR WEDNESDAY NEXT

Twenty-five Tons of Dynamite Will Be Used to Displace 125,000 Tons of Rock.

847 FT. OF TUNNELLING.

HAVELOCK, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence).—The plant of the Ontario Rock Quarry in Belmont, about four miles east of the village, is to be the scene of spectacular blasting operations on Wednesday morning between ten and eleven o'clock, when one of the largest blasts in the history of the quarry will be made.

Twenty-five tons of Forcite dynamite are being used on this occasion and it is expected that about 125,000 tons of rock will be displaced at one huge blast.

The hill has been undermined by approximately 847 feet of tunnelling, the main drift being about 290 feet long, and running in an easterly direction turning north. At intervals of twenty-five feet, this main tunnel is crossed by eleven shorter drifts, varying in length from twenty-five to one hundred feet. Five of these cross-cuts are run in an easterly direction. Each drift contains pockets at intervals of twenty-five feet, and the dynamite is placed into these pockets, which are tamped with quarry screenings, to keep the force of the blast in the required space. There is an average overhead displacement of eighty feet in the contemplated blast.

This particular plant has won the reputation of carrying out their blasting operations with a mathematical precision which is unexcelled by any similar concern. At present twenty-two men are employed placing the explosive, and tamping in place. Each packet of dynamite is being doubly wired by the plant electricians, to obviate the danger of unexploded

BEWDLEY HALL IS DESTROYED

L.O.L. Building is Burned to Ground—Believed Burning Grass Ignited Hall.

CONTENTS DESTROYED.

BAILIEBORO, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence). — A fire which completely destroyed the L.O.L. Hall broke out at Bewdley at noon on Friday. Some of the residents hao been doing their spring cleaning, and it is generally considered that the burning grass ignited the building, causing it to burn to the ground.

When the fire was first discovered it had gained too much headway to be extinguished, and although the men quickly formed a bucket brigade nothing could be saved.

The building was a neat white frame structure in which the Bewdley Lodge have held their meetings for many years.

The Lodge papers, fife, drums and other equipment, including the furniture, were all consumed in the flames.

The loss sustained was quite heavy, as no insurance was carried on the building or furnture.

Three Jews Are Slain In Ambush At Haifa

JERUSALEM, Apr. 6.—(AP)—Two Jewish men and one woman were killed and four injured when a party of eleven Jews returning in a cart Easter night to Yagvour, near Haifa, were ambushed.

The jews were proceeding quietly it was reported here when suddenly a heavy fire was opened at them from both sides of the road.

Jerusalem was like an armed camp over Easter, with machine guns placed about the city and armored cars patrolling the streets because of expected riots between Mufti and Anti-Mufti forces during a procession of 2,000 Moslems. The parade however was concluded without disturbances.

Could You fill Your Husband's Shoes?

TOMORROW — could you "carry on" in your husband's shoes? Could you earn his income, in addition to caring for your home and children?

Probably not—and it is just for contingencies like this that Life Insurance was created. No one can accurately foretell the future, but everyone can provide for it. The earnings of the breadwinner need not suddenly stop—they can be continued with the aid of Life Insurance.

Perhaps you have discouraged your husband from providing the protection necessary for you and your children. If so, you would be wise to reflect on this fact:

"If every wife knew what every widow knows, every man would have adequate Life Insurance."

In literally millions of cases, Life Insurance has proved "The Love That Never Dies". It is the means by which every man can make certain that his family will be cared for—always.

Today is not a day too soon to talk over the future with your husband—or, better still, call in a Life Insurance Representative to discuss your mutual problem.

Right breakfasts start you on the Road to things you want

ENJOY your meals. Join the I-can-eat-most-anything folks. Quit the ranks of those who have to murmur, "Well, I wish I could." These are things that everyone wants to do. Don't you?

Well, you can, if you don't neglect constipation. You can attain to many things now denied by first thoroughly eliminating waste matter daily through eating more roughage. Prove this for yourself. Start a two weeks' test. Eat Post's Bran Flakes every morning as a cereal with milk or cream.

With berries or fruits these crisp, golden flakes are delightful.

You'll find a difference. You'll feel a whole lot better — on the road to things you've wanted to do, but couldn't. Don't stop at the end of two weeks. Eat Post's Bran Flakes regularly for health and enjoyment. Made in Canada.

now you'll like BRAN

Ordinary cases of constipation, associated with too little bulk in the diet should yield to Post's Bran Flakes. If your case is abnormal, consult a competent physician at once and follow his advice.

FASHION SERVICE

3019

Youth and jauntiness expresses this accommodating little bolero dress for all occasions.

It's neither fussy nor too sportive to span over the needs of an entire day.

The softly falling bolero in a subtle way diminishes the width through the waist, and gives prominence to the flatness of the hipline. The gores of the slightly circular skirt are length giving and slenderizing.

A printed crepe silk in Algerian blue tones made the original of today's frock.

And this fascinating Style No. 3019 may be had in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years 36 and inches bust.

Other schemes equally wearable are navy blue flat crepe silk, a roman stripe wool crepe and grey canton crepe.

Size 16 requires 3 5-8 yards of 35-inch.

Our large Fashion Book shows how to dress up to the minute at very little expense. It contains most attractive Paris designs for adults and children, embroidery, etc.

Have you ever noticed that every family has as many different personalities as there are members of it?

• • • • • • •

No doubt you have found that it lends interest to that household.

• • • • • • •

From the earliest infancy, traits of character begin to show, and these are widely diverse. Born of the same parents, no two children are of like individuality.

• • • • • • •

Parents have to realize this and not be looking for identical good traits in each little one.

• • • • • • •

Broadly speaking, however, there are two great divisions into which all people can be grouped, the positive and the negative.

• • • • • • •

There seems to be something electric about such elements as expressed in personalities. They have nothing to do with assertiveness or lack of it. Frequently it is said of an individual that he or she is a very positive character, when what is really meant is that the person is highly assertive.

• • • • • • •

The assertive person may have a strong conviction back of an assertion or he or she may merely speak in a decided and determined way to convince himself, as well as others of the value of what he is saying.

• • • • • • •

It is a mistake to consider the person to be negative who agrees to what others say. Very often such a member of the family is called "easy going."

• • • • • • •

Often the dread of a heated discussion makes an individual assent or keep silent which is interpreted to signify consent. It not infrequently happens in such cases that the person recognizes the futility of expressing contrary opinions.

• • • • • • •

The classification of individuals into positive and negative natures stated earlier goes deeper than arguments, agreements or silences.

• • • • • • •

A mother whose mind and heart are both alert recognizes these elements in her children and is helped thereby to understand how to handle them to bring the finest qualities to the fore.

• • • • • • •

She seldom analyzes her understanding but she knows how to appeal to the best in each child in ways often curiously different, but appropriate to each individuality.

HEADMSTRESSES VISIT CANADA

36 DAY TOUR.

HALIFAX, April 6 (C.P.).—Under the leadership of Dame Muriel Talbot, a party of 12 British headmistresses of girls' schools in the Old Country arrived in Canada during the week-end aboard the C.P.R. liner Duchess of Bedford.

They will make a six weeks' tour of the Dominion, and will visit every scholastic establishment of note in every big city from Montreal to Vancouver. Arrangements have been made so that every day a program can be carried through which will enable them to make use of the 36 days at their disposal.

"We are explorers in the real sense of the term," said Dame Muriel Talbot in an interview before she left the ship. We are going to explore the educational system as far as it relates to girls in Canada, so that we can advise parents on the advisability of sending their girls to Canada to complete their education."

"Nowadays, the girl going to school thinks of the future, and maps out a career for herself. There is not much scope in the Old Country, and, like her brothers, she must cast around for some other country where she can earn a living.

"Canada is a young country, and girls' educational facilities have been brought up to a high standard, and therefore we are also here in the capacity of learners.

"We wish to see what Canada is doing for its girls, so that we can adapt any new ideas which we can make use of.

"If a girl is coming to Canada to earn her living, then she should fit herself for that purpose by completing her education here on the ground."

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

LIME IS NECESSARY FOR THE BODY'S NEEDS

I often speak about lime and of its importance to the health of the body; every cell needs lime.

While 99 per. cent. of all the lime in the body is found in the bones, it has recently been learned that this lime in the bones may be used by the other tisues in the body when the need arises.

As you know, the liver stores up sugar from the bread, vegetables, and sugars eaten, and when the system is deprived of vegetables for any time, the liver gives up some of its sugar to keep the body tissues and the processes of the body in good working order.

Similarly the bones are a storehouse for lime and give up some of their lime to the body when the need arises.

Now you can see that in growing children and even in adults, that if insufficient lime is being taken into the system in the foods eaten, that some of the lime from the bones and teeth will have to be used to make up this need. Thus a few years ago you saw many youngsters with bow legs, pigeon chests, and a gangling walk, all due to a lack of lime in the system. Now these cases are not seen so often, because research physicians discovered that it was lack of lime and lack of sunlight that was responsible for rachitis or rickets as it is called.

As milk is the simplest and most effective method of getting lime into the body the drinking regularly of a considerable quantity of milk has been the means of lessoning greatly the number of "rickity" children.

It has also been discovered that lime is just as necessary to the soft tissues of the body as it is to the bones and teeth.

Small quantities of soluble lime salts have been found to increase the energy of the heart. Small quantities also have been found to stimulate and strengthen the action of the muscles and nerves of the body.

When the blood is not "sticky" enough, bleeding easily starts, and is often hard to stop. It has been found that small, regular doses of the lime salts increases the "viscosity" or stickiness of the blood, and prevents the tendency toward bleeding.

I've spoken before about the wonderful results obtained in some hospitals in treating old varicose vein ulcers, by chloride of lime taken internally well protected by Syrup. Sajows recommends about 7½ grains to the dose—always well diluted.

If youngsters, and adults also, would drink plenty of milk, they would get all the lime necessary. However, as adults grow tired of milk, meat vegetables and ordinary drinking water will supply the necessary amount.

Remember the body needs a daily supply of lime.

PRINCE OF WALES SPRINGS SURPRISE

Cousin of Mrs. R. N. Stuart, City, Accompanies Royal Princes on Tour.

Recently when the Royal Princes paid a visit to the Buenos Aires Exhibition, they were accompanied by Mr. Bellasis, general manager, and two or three other officials. The visit was unexpected and was made during the lunch hour.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Bellasis is a cousin of Mrs. R. N. Stuart, 701 Stewart Street, this city.

A telephone call a few minutes before the Princes arrived at the ground was the only notice the officials received, states a news despatch. The reason for keeping the visit secret was that Their Royal Highnesses desired to see the show unhampered by crowds, an object which was successfully achieved.

At the conclusion of the tour the Prince of Wales expressed his pleasure at the remarkable progress that had been made in the preparations even in the short time since his last visit.

Favorite Recipe

EGGS BAKED WITH CHEESE.

Into a buttered baking dish break the required number of eggs. Sprinkle with grated cheese, salt and pepper, and cover with a little cream. Place in a hot oven (350 degrees to 400 degrees) till whites are set (about 15 to 20 minutes). Serve with toasted rusks or toasted brown bread buttered.

SCRAMBLED EGGS AND PEAS.

Mix six eggs with half a cup of milk. Season with salt and pepper, then add one-half cup of peas. Scramble slowly in buttered pan. Instead of peas, corn, chopped meat, parsley or green peppers may be used. Also, instead of scrambling, this dish may be made in omelet form.

PULPIT CHAIRS ARE PRESENTED

Family of Mrs. Margaret Telford Present Chairs in Her Honor to Church.

AN EARLY PIONEER.

The services at Bethany Tabernacle yesterday proved a real blessing to all present. In the morning the pastor gave an inspirational message on the resurrection of Jesus speaking of its importance, the proofs of resurrection and some of the blessings of resurrection.

An added feature of the service was a simple but expressive memorial to one of the oldest members of the church, namely, Mrs. Margaret Telford, who passed away six months ago. The memorial took the form of a gift by her children of a beautiful set of three pulpit chairs. On the behalf of the family, A. J. Johnston, one of the elders, made the presentation. Mr. Johnston, in his remarks spoke of the consistent Christian life of the deceased that she had been an inspiration to the other members and to many outside of the church. The pastor, Rev. G. H. Johnson, responded to this presentation as follows:

"On behalf of the members of this fellowship, I gratefully acknowledge our heart felt thanks for this most fitting and appropriate memorial to the late Mrs. Margaret Telford. We wish to convey our sincere appreciation to the Telford family for their generosity and their wise choice in the selection of that which will perpetuate the memory of their dear mother. These pulpit chairs shall greatly enhance the beauty of the church and I believe that I repeat the prayer and innermost longing of every heart when I say "May God grant that none shall ever sit upon them save those who shall be true to every oracle of God and who shall stand firmly for an unmutilated Bible."

Mrs. Telford was one of the early pioneers of this work in the city of Peterborough, and though at the time of your pastor's coming to this city, her active days of service were at an end, being confined to her home through sickness, still it was my pleasure on a number of occasions to enjoy prayer and fellowship with her. She always manifested a deep love and reverance for the Word of God and keenly appreciated spiritual fellowship.

Her interest in the missionary program of the Christian and Missionary Alliance was very keen and her name is remembered by a number of foreign workers, who are even now proclaiming the gospel in lands where Christ is so little known. It was the privilege of a number of them to enjoy the hospitality of her home."

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BEE

"Be careful, Uncle Wiggily! Be careful!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy to Mr. Longears one morning as he statred to hop away from his hollow stump bungalow to have an adventure.

"Be careful about what?" asked the rabbit genltleman. He paused on the steps, thinking, perhaps, he had forgotten to bring with him the twinkle on the end of his pink nose. But as he looked he saw that the twinkle was there so everything was all right. Except for what Nurse Jane had said.

"Be careful about getting wet," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "You know it is April now and showers may fall at any time. The March winds have stopped blowing."

"And the winds couldn't blow off my hat for it was stuck on with molasses!" chuckled Mr. Longears.

"No, but you can get wet in April showers just the same, if you don't take an umbrella," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

Carefully he picked up the bee

Uncle Wiggily looked up at the sky. It was as blue as baby's eyes and not a cloud was to be seen.

"I am not going to bother to carry an umbrella," said Uncle Wiggily with a jolly laugh. "I don't believe it will rain. Why, it showered yesterday afternoon you remember, Nurse Jane."

"Yes, I know it did," answered the muskrat lady. "It rained just in time to April Fool the Fox, the Wolf and the Bob Cat who were hiding in the hollow stone vases to catch you. But even though it rained yesterday it may shower again today and you have no umbrella. Better take one, Uncle Wiggily!"

"No, he answered, "thank you. I don't believe it will rain."

Away he hopped, over the fields and through the woods looking for an adventure and also looking up at the sky to see that it kept as blue as baby's eyes with never a cloud.

At first everything was lovely. The sun shone, the April wind blew sweetly and softly and Uncle Wiggily was happy. It was too soon to look for May flowers or he would have searched for some to take home to his wife. Then, all of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping past a little clump of trees he heard a voice saying:

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! Oh, dear! Now I can never fly home!"

"Ha! Perhaps this is a little fairy who has lost her wings and so cannot fly home," murmured Mr. Longears as he heard the voice but could see no one. "Yes, it must be such a little fairy I can't find her."

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" sighed the sad voice again.

"Who are you and what is the matter?" asked the rabbit gentleman, still peering about for a sight of some tiny creature. "Are you a fairy who has lost her wings?" he asked.

"No," was the answer. "I am not a fairy, but I have hurt my wings. I have not exactly lost them but they are all crumbled from bumping into a tree. Oh, what shall I do?"

"I will help you if I can," Uncle Wiggily said. "But though I can hear you I cannot see you so I think you must be a fairy, especially as you say you have wings."

"Fairies are not the only creatures that have wings," the voice went on. "Birds have wings but they are not fairies. And the reason I am so smal lis that I am a honey bee."

"Oh, then I can see how it is!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Tell me where you are and I will pick you up and put you in my soft pocket and take you home since you cannot fly. Were are you?"

"Down on the ground near your paw," was the answer. Looking down, Uncle Wiggily saw a poor Honey Bee with crushed and bruised wings that had been hurt when the tiny creature zoomed against a tree. "I flew away from my home hive in the hollow tree," buzzed the Bee. "I was looking for some early flowers and did not see the tree until I bumped into it. If I can get back to the hive the Queen will mend my broken wings for me."

"I will carry you back to the hive tree," kindly offered Uncle Wiggily. Carefully he picked up the poor bee and put it in his pocket. Then he started to hop through the woods, going the way the bee buzzed to tell him, so he would reach the hollow tree where many thousands of the insects had their home or hive.

All of a sudedn there was a loud, booming noise.

"What is that?" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"Thunder!" buzzed the bee. "I think it is going to rain."

And then, all of a quickness, it began to April shower very hard.

"I am getting all wet!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"Haven't you an umbrella?" a ked the bee.

"Alas! No! I didn't bring one!" said the rabbit. "Oh, what shall I do?"

"Hop to the tree hive and we bees will make you an umbrella," was the answer. So Uncle Wiggily hopped very fast through the shower.

COLD CONFINES KING TO ROOMS

Physicians Take No Chances of His Majesty Taking Another Bronchial Attack.

RAINY WEEK-END.

LONDON, April 6 (C.P.)—Inconvenienced by a slight cold, King George is remaining in the Royal Apartments at Windsor for the present in order to minimize likelihood of complications during one of the nastiest Easter seasons Great Britain has known in years.

Indicative of the lightness with which the monarch's illness is regarded, is physicians decided not to issue a bulletin regarding his condition. He is being attended by one of the nurses who took him through his serious illness of two years ago, but one of these has been attached to the Court since that time and no significance is attached to her present care.

His Majesty remained up and about most of Easter Sunday, but did not attend the service in the Castle chapel, which would have involved a walk through the drafty, unheated corridors and passages of the old building.

Since the almost fatal illness which resulted from the King's standing bareheaded in the bad weather at the Armistice Day celebration of 1928 every effort has been made to minimize the exposure to which he is subjected. Although fully recovered from the illness another bronchial attack would put a severe strain upon his physique.

His Majesty was but one who remained shut in over Easter. Intermitten squalls kept many subjects

E. R. CLARKSON DIES IN TORONTO

Pioneer Canadian Accountant and Outstanding Financier Passes.

BUILT UP ORGANIZATION

TORONTO, April 6. — Edward Roper Curson Clarkson, pioneer Canadian accountant, and an outstanding figure in the financial and commercial life of the Dominion for half a century, died yesterday. He was in his 79th year.

Born in Toronto, August 11, 1852, Mr. Clarkson was head of the firms of E. R. C. Clarkson & Sons, and Clarkson, Gordon, Dilworth, Guilfoyle & Nash, and the most widely known figure in his profession in Canada. His firms had acted as trustees and auditors in the largest financial undertakings within their sphere during the past quarter-century.

Mr. Clarkson had been in ill-health for several months and underwent an operation recently in an effort to regain his strength. The strain proved too great for his weakened constitution and he died in the Private Patients Pavilion of the Toronto General Hospital late last night.

Widely known because of the scope of his organizations, Mr. Clarkson was more widely known for the principles which he had always upheld and upon which his professional reputation was based. Th name of his firms was synonymous with thorough administration of weakened financial structures.

Built Up Organization.

"Mr. Clarkson was the first chartered account in Canada. I believe, and his organization is the monument to his ability and integrity," commented Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General, last night. "His loss will be keenly regretted by the Bench and the Bar of the Province and the Dominion.

"Starting his business over half a century ago, he so conducted it that the courts of the time were glad to be able to gain his counsel and appoint him trustee or auditor," continued Col. Price. "He maintained the high standards all his life and he gained the confidence of the courts to an extent seldom extended any person. On any question involving trusteeship or auditing his word was always sought.

"His name in the legal profession was symbol for outstanding integrity and honesty. The large firm he built up during his lifetime, to-day, I believe, the most constructive organization of its kind in the Dominion, was evidence of the respect in which he was held. It was almost sufficient assurance to the public to say that Clarkson was in charge in any matter involving financial search or examination.

"His character, integrity and principles were widely known," concluded Col. Price. "His death is a great loss to his profession. I am very sorry he is gone."

ITALIAN FLIER'S BODY FOUND.

LEGHORN, Italy, April 6 (C.P.).—The body of Captain Fausto Cecconi, who with Colonel Umberto Maddalena and Lieutenant Damonte, was killed in a seaplane crash near Pisa recently, was recovered to-day by a fishing boat.

END PILES QUICK

No Salve—No Cutting

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this City, that McDermid & Jury, Boyd's Drug Store, says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile agony or money back.

THE NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

The official greetings tendered Canada's new Governor-General and the warmth of the welcome extended him by the people of Halifax on Saturday voiced the sentiment of the whole country toward the Earl of Bessborough.

Canadians welcome the coming of a new incumbent of Rideau Hall because they see in him the strengthening of the bonds of loyalty and love between the Dominion and the Motherland, and because they expect to find him a worthy successor of Governor-Generals whose personality has stamped itself upon the hearts of the people of this country.

Everything that has been heard of the new Governor-General and his charming consort confirms the impression that they see in the responsibilities to which they have been called a very real opportunity for service, and that they have consecrated themselves to the task in a spirit that is bound to achieve success.

They come to a wide-flung country with many local problems and difficulties, but with a people keenly conscious of the possibilities of the Dominion and loyal to the Empire of which it is a part.

And because of that loyalty Canadians in all parts of the land will look forward to the time when they will have the privilege of welcoming to their own particular district the representative of the Empire's most beloved King.

A SPLENDID ORGANIZATION.

The coming of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association to Peterborough on Saturday was an excellent thing both for baseball's governing body and for the host city.

The association brought its work before a representative gathering of local citizens at Saturday's civic luncheon and sold itself as a progressive, alert and enthusiastic organization of sportsmen, while the convention at the same time served to introduce Peterborough to such a body as an up-and-coming community with a strong love for athletic games and a spirit of appreciation for those who further the interest of clean sport.

The Ontario Baseball Amateur Association starts out on a year of fresh activity spurred on by the knowledge that last season's campaign was one of the most successful in the organization's history.

Guiding the destinies of an association that controls the activities of some 979 clubs, comprising 7,700 players, is a heavy responsibility, and sport is fortunate in the calibre of the men who have given so unsparingly of their energy and experience to the task of governing baseball in Ontario.

It is a matter of great satisfaction to baseball enthusiasts of this part of the Province that the honor of heading this splendid organization has again been given to a sportsman from this district, R. A. Elliott, of Delaro, and that Peterborough has again a hard-working member of the executive in the person of Wm. Kay.

RELIEF TO CONTINUE.

A few days ago The Examiner pointed out in these columns that Labor representatives in Parliament were only living up to their responsibilities when they urged that the House should not adjourn for the Easter recess before making provision for continuing unemployment relief.

Their impression at the time was that March 31 had been definitely fixed as the date beyond which relief would not be given.

Fortunately, however, for the sake of the unemployed, the Labor members' conception of the situation was based on an erroneous idea, and the final meeting of Parliament before the recess confirming a statement previously issued by the Minister of Labor shows that relief will be continued for the present.

The Minister's statement, which is as follows, clears up the situation:

"No portion of the moneys appropriated for the carrying on of improvement works throughout Canada, amounting to $68,980,999, will lapse until June 1 next in Ontario, and July 1 in all other Provinces, by which time it is expected the public works authorized by municipal, provincial and federal authorities will have been carried to completion," says the Minister.

With reference to direct relief, the sum of $4,000,000 was specifically appropriated by Order-in-Council on September 26, 1930, to pay one-third of the expenditures of municipalities for direct relief where suitable work cannot be provided for the unemployed.

On March 3, 1931, another Order-in-Council set aside $4,000,000 for direct relief.

"The estimated expenditure for direct relief to March 31, 1931, is about one and one-half million dollars," continues the statement. "There, therefore, remains available from the Federal Government's contribution for direct relief the sum of two and one-half million dollars, which, it is intended, shall be used for the purpose outlined so long as the municipalities and Provinces who are under agreement with the federal authorities to each bear one-third of the total cost, consider conditions of relief measures necessary."

SOME OBSERVATIONS.

Entering his 85th year, former Chief Justice Richard M. Meredith of Ontario gave utterance at London to some penetrating remarks on things as they are today, viewed from the vantage point of more than eight decades of experience. With all of his views we cannot quite agree and some of them run counter to those of the majority, but they are, none the less, provocative of thought, and this is always valuable.

It is particularly as regards the Ontario school system that the judge's remarks are interesting. He suggests that the entire "antiquated, overlapping and wasteful school system needs a thorough overhauling." The disparity he finds too great between city and country schools and there are entirely too many dawdling through the higher schools, learning mainly idleness and distaste for work. Foreigners, he believes, work hard and get ahead of the British-born. And while he declares the world is better than in his younger days, in one respect it is worse—there is too much talking and not enough working.

There is certainly something in the former Chief Justice's comparison of city and country schools. The contrast between such palaces as have been built in the Border Cities, for example, during the last few years and the average country school is very great, but just what is to be done about it without a further extension of the paternal policy of the Provincial Government, which funds will not permit, we do not see.

His criticism of the high schools is well founded. There are far too many boys and girls attending high school who are there to keep them off the streets, not because they have either the inclination or the ability to obtain much from the rich courses offered them. The taxpayer, of course, holds the bag and has to pay even more for the tuition of such unsatisfactory students than for those who appreciate and make use of their opportunities. Educationists are well aware of this and many of them are coming to the conclusion that eventually, for the relief of the taxpayer, it will be necessary to restrict free tuition in the upper schools to those who indicate ability and willingness to learn. This is being done increasingly in the universities, not many of which are actually free, although they offer tuition at a fraction of its real cost.

Justice Meredith's remarks about foreigners are certainly true and this fact is continually being commented upon. Nevertheless native Canadians continue to distinguish themselves in the scientific, educational and business worlds. As to the plethora of talk of which he speaks, that is a matter of opinion. People always did like to "gab" and probably always will. — Border Cities Star.

NEWSPAPERS.

The passing of The New York World, which died not from attack without, but from decay within, has caused a wealth of comment in the press of the United States and Canada, as to the revolutionary change which has come over the publishing business in the past two or three decades. Years ago there used to be newspapers which were regarded as "personal" ones, because they reflected the individuality of some brilliant person who commanded the adherence of a large following. Such a thing now would be an anachronism in the business. Brains are no guarantee of the success of a newspaper, nor are money, expensive equipment, cheapness of service nor any other one factor. A whole combination of circumstances is essential, the community itself being a factor. And above all, first and last, the enterprise must be based on business principles. Neither sentiment nor political affiliation cuts any figure, which is largely where the change has come in since other days in Canada.

Commenting on the failure of The New York World, Mr. Henry A. Wise Wood, writing in "Editor and Publisher," a New York trade paper, remarks:

"We have had an unpleasant reminder that even the greatest of newspapers must make money or die. The newspaper is not exempt from economic law. In the Atlantic Monthly for March, William Preston Beazell well says: 'Manufacturing costs have mounted until a variation of 15 per cent. in the volume of advertising means the difference between profit and loss for most of the newspapers of the country. . . . It is not to be supposed from this that American newspapers are not financially successful as a whole. Their income is substantially more than a billion dollars a year, and their net earnings probably are nearer $150,000,000 than $100,000,000 a year. The new factor in the problem is that the ratio between gross and net earnings has become so much more narrow and more fixed. It is no longer merely desirable that a newspaper should make money; it MUST make money.'"

And that is a serious reminder to those engaged in the newspaper publishing business in Canada. The Border Cities Star of Windsor, which charges $8 per annum for mail delivery, sees the day coming when subscribers must pay higher for their daily newspaper rather than let the advertiser bear the load, as is now the case, according to that paper. The Star looks for further newspaper mortality, because it is well nigh impossible to maintain and improve service, which the public demands, unless there are readjustments. The Star, in this connection, says:

"One of these readjustments, undoubtedly, will be in an increase in circulation prices. At present the advertiser carries practically the whole load, a situation that is manifestly unfair, despite the excellent return he receives for his expenditure. The public pays a ridiculously low price for its newspapers, a price that in practically all larger city cases, at least, does not represent the bare cost of production. Indeed, the sale of a modern city newspaper at three cents per copy is, on a basis of comparison, as if butter were reailing at 10 cents a pound, small motor cars at, say two or three hundred dollars, and so on.

"The day of the five-cent newspaper, with perhaps a 25-cent rate for weekly home delivery, is rapidly approaching. Rates of this kind are already in effect in some parts of North America and we believe that it will be the situation generally within a comparatively short time. Twenty-five cents a week for a modern daily newspaper is a modest charge indeed—just half, for instance, of what it costs to purchase one ticket for a motion picture theatre."

Comment is hardly necessary. The border Cities Star occupies the field to itself in the Windsor district, and is one of the best evening papers in Canada, certainly giving a community service excelled by few, if any, newspapers anywhere. But that service costs money, and the cost is increasing; hence the need for readjustments as pointed out.—St. Catharines Standard.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The O.B.A.A. and Peterborough made a good impression on each other on Saturday.

The submarine speed record would seem to be the only mark left for the British to shoot at.

Probably Big Bill Thompson looks upon the Canadiens as a bunch of King George's hirelings out to down Chicago.

Unfortunately, as the roads dry up, the speedometer starts to climb and the casualty list starts out to make new records.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

Synopsis of Preceding Instalments.

David Innes, who with his scientific friend, Abner Perry, had years before penetrated the earth's crust to discover an inner world at the earth's core known as Pellucidar and had established himself as Emperor of this strange new region, finds himself in trouble. A horde of savages, calling themselves Korsars, have invaded his empire from across an unknown sea, and though repulsed, have sailed away with many prisoners, including Tanar, son of David's friend, Ghak, King of Sari, a David, taking with him Ja, the King of Anoroc, and a Korsar prisoner to guide them, has set out in a small boat to follow the enemy in order to locate their stronghold.

Meanwhile, Tanar, aboard one of the enemy ships, is summoned before The Cid, chief of the Korsars, whose second in command is the brutal Bohar, the Bloody. He sees for the first time Stellara, a very beautiful girl, whom he assumes to be The Cid's mate. To display his power and to intimidate Tanar, The Cid makes one of the other prisoners walk the plank. The man goes bravely to his death.

Tanar turned his eyes away as his fellow prisoner dove from the end of the plank head foremost into the sea, and it chanced that he turned them in the direction of the girl. To his surprise, he saw that she, too, had refused to look at the last moment and in her face, turned toward his, he saw an expression of suffering.

Could it be that this woman of The Cid's brutal race felt sympathy and sorrow for a suffering enemy? Tanar doubted it.

"Now," cried The Cid, "you have seen a man walk the plank and know what I may do with you, if I choose."

Tanar shrugged. "I hope I may be as indifferent to my fate as was my comrade," he said, "for you certainly got little enough sport out of him."

"If I turn you over to the Bohar we shall have sport," replied the Cid.

The girl turned angrilly upon The Cid. 'You shall not do that!" she cried. "You promised me that you would not torture any prisoners while I was with the fleet."

'If he behaves I shall not," said The Cid, "but if he does not I shall turn him over to Bohar the Bloody. Do not forget that I am Chief of Korsar and that even you may be punished if you interfere."

Again the girl laughed. "You can frighten the others, Chief of Korsar," she said, 'but not me."

"If she were mine' muttered Bohar threateningly, but the girl interrupted him.

"I am not, nor ever shall be," she said.

"Do not be too sure of that," growled The Cid. "I can give you to whom I please; let the matter drop." He turned to the Sarian prisoner. 'What is your name, son of a king?" he asked.

"Tanar."

"Listen well, Tanar,' said The Cid impressively. "Our prisoners do not live beyond the time that they be of service to us. Some of you will be kept to exhibit to the people of Korsar, after which they will be of little use to me, but you can purchase life and, perhaps, freedom."

'How?" demanded Tanar.

'Your people were armed with weapons far better than ours." explained The Cid; "your powder was more powerful and more dependable. Half the time ours fails to ignite at the first attempt

"But what has it to do with me?" asked the prisoner.

"If you will teach us how to make better weapons and such powder as your people have you shall be spared and shall have your freedom."

Tanar made no reply—he was thinking—thinking of the supremacy that their superior weapons gave his people—thinking of the fate that lay in store for him and for those poor devilsin the dark hole below deck.

"Well?" demanded The Cid.

'Will you spare the others, too?" he asked.

'Why should I?"

'I shall need their help," said Tanar. 'I do not know all that is necessary to make the weapons and the powder."

As a matter of fact he knew nothing about the manufacture of either, but he saw here a chance to save his fellow prisoners, or at least delay their destruction and gain time in which they might find means to escape.

'Very well," said the Korsar chief; 'if you and they give me no trouble you shall all live—provided you teach us how to make weapons and powder like your own."

'We cannot live in the filthy hole in which we are penned," retorted the Sarian; "neither can we live without food. Soon we shall all sicken and die."

"You shall not be returned to the hole," said The Cid. "There is no danger that you will escape."

"And the others?" demanded Tanar.

"They remain where they are!"

"They will all die, and without them I cannot make powder." Tanar reminded him.

The Cid scowled. "You would have my ship overrun with enemies," he growled.

"They are unarmed."

"Then they certainly would be killed," said The Cid. "No one would survive long among that pack an' he were not armed"; he waved a hand contemptuously toward the half-naked throng below.

"Then leave the hatches off and give them decent air and more and better food."

"I'll do it," said The Cid. "Bohar, have the forward hatches removed, place a guard there with orders to kill any prisoner who attempts to come on deck and any of our men who attempts to go below; see, too, that the prisoners get the same rations as our own men."

It was with a feeling of relief that amounted almost to happiness that Tanar saw Bohar, depart to carry out the orders of The Cid. Presently The Cid went to his cabin and Tanar, left to his own devices, walked to the stern and, leaning on the rail, gazed into the hazy upcurving distance.

Far astern a small boat rose and fell with great, long billows. But this Tanar did not see, for the mist hid it. He would have been heartened to know that his Emperor was risking his life to save him.

As he gazed and dreamed he became conscious of a presence near him, but he did not turn, for who was there upon that ship who might have access to this upper deck, whom he might care to speak with?

Presently he heard a voice at his elbow, a low, golden voice that brought him around facing its owner. It was the girl.

"You are looking back toward your own country," she said.

"Yes."

"You will never see it again," she said, a note of sadness in her voice.

"Perhaps not, but why should you care?"

"I do not know why I should care," replied the girl. "What is your name?"

"Tanar."

"Is that all?"

"I am called Tanar the Fleet One."

"Why?"

"Because in all Sari none can outdistance me."

"Sari—is that the name of your country?"

"Yes."

"What is it like?"

"It is a high plateau among the mountains. It is a very lovely country, with leaping rivers and great trees."

"Have you no enemies? You are not a warlike people as are the Korsars."

"We defeated the warlike Korsars," he reminded her.

"I would not speak of that too often," she said. "The tempers of the Korsars are short and they love to kill."

"Why do you not kill me then?" he demanded. "You have a knife and a pistol in your sash, like the others."

The girl only smiled.

"Perhaps you are not a Korsar," he exclaimed. "You were captured as I was and are a prisoner."

"I am no prisoner," she replied.

"But you are not a Korsar," he insisted.

"Ask The Cid—he will doubtless cutlass you for your impertinence; but why do you think that I am not a Korsar?"

"You are too beautiful and too fine," he replied. "You have shown sympathy and that is a finer sentiment far beyond their mental capability. They are—"

"Be careful, enemy; perhaps I am a Korsar!"

"I do not believe it," said Tanar.

"Then keep your beliefs to yourself, prisoner," retorted the girl in a haughty tone.

"What is this?" demanded a rough voice behind Tanar. "What has this thing said to you, Stellara?"

Tanar wheeled to face Bohar the Bloody.

"I questioned that she was of the same race as you," snapped Tanar before the girl could reply. "It is inconceivable that one so beautiful could be tainted by the blood of Korsar."

His face flaming with rage, Bohar laid a hand upon one of his knives and stopped truculently toward the Sarian. "It is death to insult the daughter of The Cid," he cried, whipping the knife from his sash and striking a wicked blow at Tanar.

The Sarian, light of foot, trained from childhood in the defensive as well as offensive use of edged weapons, stepped quickly to one side and then as quickly in again and once more Bohar the Bloody sprawled upon the deck to a well-delivered blow.

Bohar was fairly foaming at the mouth with rage as he jerked his heavy pistol from his gaudy sash and aiming it at Tanar's chest from where he lay upon the deck, pulled the trigger. At the same instant the girl sprang forward as though to prevent the slaying of the prisoner.

It all happened so quickly that Tanar scarcely knew the sequence of events, but what he did know was that the powder failed to ignite, and then he laughed.

"You had better wait until I have taught you how to make powder that will burn before you try to murder me, Bohar," he said.

The Bloody One scrambled to his feet and Tanar stood ready to receive the expected charge, but the girl stepped between them.

"Enough of this!" she cried. "It is The Cid's wish that this man live. Would you like to have The Cid know that you tried to pistol him, Bohar?"

The Blood One stood glaring at Tanar for several seconds, then he wheeled and strode away.

"It would seem that Bohar does not like me," said Tanar, smiling.

"He dislikes nearly everyone," said Stellara, "but he hates you—now."

"Because I knocked him down, I suppose."

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES."

If April 6th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:10 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. and from 7:45 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 1:30 p.m. and from 6:10 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The planetary aspects of April 6th predict variable conditions and perplexing moods. Only those who can rise superior to environment and who can maintain equilibrium in spite of oscillation, should tempt Fortune by fresh endeavor. All others should remain quiescent.

Children born on this April 6th will be just, faithful, and capable of great self-sacrifice. Their happines will consist more in doing for others than in pursuing selfish interests. They promise to become deservedly popular and their friends will be legion. They will be affectionate and loyal.

If your were born on an April 6th, you are quite clever, self-wlled, persistent and determined. In spite, however, of exceptional strength of character, you often deprive yourself of final victory by passivity, when, in order to achieve your purpose, action is essential. This rather contradictory temperament is not a result of weakness or lack of vision, but it is only attributable to natural kindness of spirit, and an inborn fear of hurting others.

You, although willing to sacrifice time and pleasure for the sake of a pet plan or project are always careful to surround yourself in your home with everything that provides ease and comfort. After any strenuous effort, you needs must have a peaceful shelter in which to create your own environment, instead of permitting environment to influence you.

You possess a strong personality—more compelling than persuasive. You are loyal only to those who are loyal to you. Your nature is a grateful one, and though rather independent of favors, only accept them when they can be generaously repaid. Life holds in store for you many successes and few disappointments.

LEAVE FOR JAPAN

LONDON, April 4 (C.P.).—Hundreds of Japanese to-day assembled at Waterloo Station to bid farewell to Prince Takamatsu of Japan and his Princess as they left to embark on the Aquitania for New York, en route home. The Japanese Ambassador, and Lord Colebrooke, representing the King, were among the prominent persons on the platform.

ILLUSTRATED TALK HEARD AT LAKEFIELD

Mission Work in Japan and Canada Fifty Years Ago Subjects of Pictures.

LAKEFIELD, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Monday evening a very interesting illustrated entertainment was given under the auspices of the A.Y.P.A. in the Parish Hall.

The first picture was a tour of Japan under the direction of Taro Sario, a Japanese Christian youth. The pictures were delicately colored and were extremely pretty as well as intensely interesting. It is more than three hundred years since the first Christian missionary, St. Francis d'Assisi, visited Japan and for a time was permitted to exist, but later the missionaries were driven out and the doors of Japan barred against all foreigners. About 1849 the ban was lifted and the Church in England, United States and Canada, has sent missionaries to Japan and flourishing missions exist now. The Canadian Church is responsible for the diocese of mid-Japan, and we have our own Bishop, Bishop Hamilton, stationed there.

The Russian Orthodox Church also sent missionaries there.

Pictures shown included the sacred Mountain of Fuji, which is revered by the Japanese; the School for the Blind at Gifu; the headquarters of Rev. and Mrs. Waller, who have visited this parish on more than one occasion, at Nagano; and the Girls' School at Matsumoto.

The second series of pictures were entitled "Canada Fifty Years Ago," and were divided into three groups: Industrial, House Furnishing and Costumes. The industrial showed the contrast between hand-made articles and their mode of manufacture, in striking contrast to the mass production by machinery of to-day; it was shown in cabinet making, spinning, weaving, glass cutting, engraving, shoe making, tailoring and many other ways.

The house furnishing contrasts were striking as one mentally compared the ornate and cumbersome ornamentation of 1880 with the modern home. The stuffed owl was apparently a household necessity and the old-fashioned clock, "tidies" and antimacassars and heavy furniture. The dresses were really amusing as one saw the "leg o' mutton" sleeve, the bustle, the frills, flounces, tight waists and, to us, oppressive modesty of the ladies' dress of "yester-year," perhaps in another fifty years the sports clothes and pyjama effects of 1931 may seem as ridiculous to the youth as 1880's styles do to us in this decade.

GRAPHITE IN CANADA

Graphite is found in Canada in the provinces of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and British Columbia, and in the northern parts of Canada, in the Northwest Territories and on Baffin Island. Nearly all the production, however, comes from Ontario and Quebec, where graphite has been mined for more than sixty years, most of the producing mines and all of the graphite concentrating mills being situated within a radius of 150 miles of Ottawa.

Hon. G. N. Gordon Will Attend Reception

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6. (Special to The Examiner)—Among the members of the King's Privy Counsel for Canada invited by Premier Bennett and Miss Mildred Bennett to meet their Excellencies the Governor General and the Countess of Bessborough, at a reception given on April 8th, at the Chateau Laurier by Premier Bennett and Miss Bennett, are the Honourable G. N. Gordon, K.C., and Mrs. Gordon, of Peterborough.

ALBERTA STUDIES POWER PROJECT

Hercules Company Would Create 70,000 Horse Power From Waste Gas.

SPEND $10,000,000.

EDMONTON, Alta., April 6 (C.P.).—If approval is given by Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta to the proposal for an immense power project in Southern Alberta by the Hercules Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, whereby all the waste gas from Turner Valley would be utilized for generation of power, construction of a plant will be commenced within 90 days after the granting of approval. Seventy thousand horsepower will be generated within a year, according to R. Crowes-Swords, representative of the Hercules Company.

"We plan at the outeet to spend not less than $10,000,000, and ultimately within a period of about 15 years to spend approximately $100,000,000 on this project," Mr. Crowes-Swords stated. "The company is abundantly financed by European capital."

The plan, as outlined by Mr. Crowes-Swords, is to force all the concentrated waste gas in Turner Valley into one pipeline. The gas under tremendous pressure, would be forced against a specially designed wheel. Released, the gas would then be carried on to another station. For the generation of power, the gas would be used over and over again, Mr. Crowes-Swords said.

All Hope Abandoned For Missing Air Liner

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 6 (A.P.)—Not even the faintest clue has been found to the fate of the air liner Southern Cloud, which disappeared between Sydney and Melbourne over two weeks ago.

The plane belonged to a company directed by Wing-Commander Charles Kingsford Smith, who led a search which was continued until all hope was abandoned.

It is taken for granted that all seven persons who were aboard the plane are dead, as even if the plane landed in some isolated district it is believed any survivors could have reached civilization by now.

GETS FORTUNE, WILL CONTINUE TO WORK

SHREVEPORT, La., Apr. 6. — It was a real Easter Sunday for Mrs. J. E. Griffin, office employe and wife of a barber. She received a telegram from the Gulf Refining Company that oil had been struck on her 66-acre farm in Rusk County, Texas, and was flowing 27,500 barrels daily. Mrs. Griffin said she intended to go right on working and her husband would return to his barber shop as soon as he recovered from an illness

UNCERTAINTY OF STEEL CASTS SHADOW ON NEW YORK TRADING

PULLMAN DROPS 4 POINTS.

(By Claude A. Jagger, Associated Press Financial Editor.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 6.—Uncertainty over the outlook in the steel industry cast a shadow across the path of advancing stock prices today.

Saturday's rebound was continued into the new week for a time in the morning but the courage of the bear faction was restored as U. S. Steel failed to follow the advance. Selling of shares in which adverse dividend news is expected, turned the trend downward by midday. Trading, however, was in meagre volume.

Pullman and Columbian Carbon both dropped about 4 points, the former to the lowest level yet reached by the present stock, which was created by a split-up four years ago. Dividend rates on both issues are regarded as insecure. U. S. Steel fell more than 2 points to a new low for 1931, reflecting disappointing estimates of ingot output in the Youngstown area.

Early advances of about 2 to 4 points in American Can, Case and Allied Chemical were lost. Auburn fluctuated erratically, shooting up 16 points in the early dealings. Eastman, Dupont, and New York Central were among issues losing 2 points or so.

LABORITE PARTY MODIFIES PLANS

Policy in New South Wales Reversed Only After Extensive Lobbying.

LANG BACKS NEW MOVE.

SYDNEY, Australia, April 6. (C. P. Cable via Reuters).—The Easter conference of the New South Wales Labor party to-day reversed its decision on the drastic three-year-plan, which modelled somewhat on the Soviet Russian five-year-plan, had been adopted on Saturday.

After extensive lobbying, the conference to-day reversed this decision, by a vote of 63 to 35. Instead it adopted a milder motion sponsored by Premier J. T. Lang, in favor of a further period of Socialistic policy.

The three-year-plan first adopted called for establishment at the end of three years of Government control of industrial ownership, all specified property, administration of industries and all the functions of Government including banking. It was also proposed to establish compulsory pools to handle the entire national production. These powers would be vested in a people's government.

Two Dead, 1 Wounded As Sailor Runs Amok

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Apr. 6. — Police summoned by the Captain of the steamer Helen, lying in midstream in the Delaware River today took from the freighter two dead seamen and one wounded man. It was reported to the police that one of the seamen shot two of the crew and then killed himself. The wounded man was taken to a hospital.

The Helen arrived here April 1 from Jobos, Porto Rico, laden with sugar, and is waiting to dock at a sugar refinery.

Resident Of Cressy Found Dead In Well

BELLEVILLE, Ont., April 6 (C.P.)—William Powers, 50, of Cressy, in Prince Edward County, was found dead there yesterday. On Thursday the man disappeared from his home and a search was continued until late Sunday, when his body was found in an unused well. The man apparently lifted off the top of the well, climbed in, pulling the top over the well again. There was little water in the well at the time.

Despondent Farmer Kills Son, Suicides

HOMER, Mich., April 6.—Apparently despondent over financial affairs, a 56 year old farmer yesterday killed his 10 year old son and took his own life at his home near this village.

The farmer, Myron C. Littlebrandt, called the boy, Richard, who was playing with his brother, Leslie, 14. Do you want me, too? asked Leslie.

No, just Richard, answered the father and led the boy to the rear of a woodshed. A few minutes later two shots were heard by Mrs. Littlebrandt, who found her husband and son dead.

A note in Littlebrandt's billfold said he feared he would lose the farm and that Richard was too young to face a hard world.

The city is judged by its civic activities and the Chamber of Commerce is the organization where such work is put in motion and then carried to a successful conclusion for the benefit of all.

MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, April 6.—(Special to Examiner.)—Canadian mining stocks were firm to somewhat higher on the New York markets to-day, indicating no cessation in the interest in these issues across the border, with local markets closed prices did not move far but continued to display that strength which has caused considerable comment on Wall Street of late.

According to advices from New York increased demand for Teck Hughes gold mines is said to be caused by reports of profits of 30 cents a share for the six months ended February 28th, which compare with earnings of 31 cents in the previous six months. This news, if authentic, has not come out here as yet, but is expected to reach shareholders with the May dividend cheques.

Word from Kirkland Lake states a small crew of men have already started work on the Macassa property under the direction of A. J. Keast, and it is expected actual shaft sinking will commence this week. The new shaft which will be 17 by 7 feet in size and have three compartments, will be sunk without interruption to a depth of at least 2,000 feet and possibly 2,500 feet.

Warm Welcome Ready Upon Canadian Visit

Archbishop Matheson Says British Teachers Sure of Hospitality in Dominion.

LONDON, April 6.—(By the Canadian Press)—Assurances of a warm welcome in Canada to British school teachers visiting the Dominion this summer are extended by Most Rev. Dr. S. P. Matheson, Archbishop of Rupert's Land, Anglican Primate of all Canada, in a letter to The Times. Archbishop Matheson writes in his capacity as President of the Overseas Education League, and refers to the fact that in 1925 it was his privilege as head of the League to extend an invitation to the teachers of the British Isles to visit the Dominion. The Archbishop in his letter says:

"As soon as Major Ney, (Major Fred J. Ney, educationist, Winnipeg), our vice-president and honorary organizer who has been responsible for the work of the League during the 21 years of its existence, suggested the possibility of a repetition of such a visit, I deemed it a pleasure to repeat my invitation to another group of educationists, and this I do most heartily. Those of us who recall the very pleasing impression created by the former visit and the extremely happy and profitable intercourse which we enjoyed with the 'happy band of pilgrims' who came to us then cannot refrain from desiring a repetition of the experience. Moreover, we feel that it was a mutualy helpless incident in the lives of all who took part in it.

"I first visited the Motherland in 1876; from the experiences of a long life and from what I have seen of the results upon Canadian teachers, I know the well-nigh incalculable benefits of travel. It induces growth and wider vision; it counteracts any forces that might imperil, in its development, the integrity of this great, widespread Commonwealth, of which we should be proud, and which we should all do our best to safeguard. Comradeship and personal contact between individuals and groups of individuals furnish the best guarantee of a good understanding between peoples and nations. That is what we need in order to preserve and safeguard the integrity of our Commonwealth—in short, we need understanding of viewpoints, and that can be best obtained by meeting together as we can.

"Visits, then, of a group of travellers, whose function is intelligently to mold and color public opinion, to various parts of our far-flung Commonwealth, thus coming into personal touch and contact with representatives of its various sections, can be of untold benefit. For that reason, we extend the warmest of welcomes to educationists of both sexes from the Homeland who will be good enough to visit once again our vast Canadian heritage, and we hall do our very best to make their sojourn among us both pleasant and profitable."

but a verbatim report of Rotarian Vernor's able talk will be given in tomorrow's issue for the benefit of Examiner readers in general.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian T. H. Gillespie, while Rotarian Claude H. Rogers expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker.

Fruits of the O.B.A.A. convention here on Saturday were in evidence at to-day's luncheon when the Rotarians gave hearty approval to a suggestion that the Rotary Club should sponsor a team in the juvenile series.

Enthusiastic support for the plan was voiced by Rotarians H. R. H. Kenner, Chris. Graham, Ross L. Dobbin. W. R. Morris, and "Jack" Glaspell, and by President Robert Abbott and the backing of the whole club was urged for the Rotary ball club.

Building construction programs being started throughout the world will involve a total expenditure of $8,000,000,000.

VICE REGAL TRAIN WENDS ITS WAY TOWARD CAPITAL

Wealth of Scenic Grandeur Viewed Along St. Lawrence Valley.

ENTIRE TRIP BY DAYLIGHT.

Earl of Bessborough's Party Halts Overnight at Coteau Junction.

RIMOUSKI, Que., April 6 (C.P.)—The Earl of Bessborough and his family, travelling by special train, resumed their leisurely journey from Halifax to Ottawa at nine o'clock this morning, but it will not be until late tomorrow morning that the Capital City will have an opportunity to greet Canada's new Governor General. In accordance with His Excellency's desire to make the entire journey from Halifax to Ottawa by daylight, the train will lay over to-night at Coteau Junction, an hour's journey from Montreal, and tomorrow will conclude the last short stage of their trip.

The Vice-Regal train left Rimouski after His Excellency had held a brief reception for the Mayor and Town Council members of Rimouski. Brilliant Spring sunshine flooded the historic valley of the St. Lawrence and promised a wealth of scenic grandeur for the distinguished visitors. They will have a brief glimpse of the storied heights of Quebec City and citadel which contains the Governor General's second residence, as the train passes through Levis on the opposite side of the St. Lawrence, but no stop at that point was scheduled.

Pass Montreal Outskirts

The train will pass through the outskirts of Montreal early this evening and proceed to a quiet siding at Coteau Junction, where it will be halted for the night. No program of any description was planned for to-day.

Following the colorful ceremonies at Halifax, where His Excellency landed from England Saturday morning and was at once officially sworn in as Governor General, the Vice-Regal party travelled as far as Newcastle, N.B., where the train halted for the night. Yesterday morning, the family of the new Governor General and members of his party attended Easter Sunday services in the little church there, afterward resuming their journey, reaching here last evening.

The train is expected to reach Coteau Junction at ten o'clock to-night, and the final two hour run to Ottawa will commence tomorrow morning.

ALL ARCHITECTS MUST REGISTER

Registration Before July 1 of All Those Who Are Practising Architects.

NO EXAMINATION.

Having passed the various stages in the Legislature, the Architects' Act becomes Ontario law July 1. All architects practicing in the province will apply formally for registration during the ensuing three months. The formality of Royal Assent was effected Thursday in the attaching of the signature of His Honor Lieutenant-Governor W. D. Ross.

All practising architects will now be required to register before July 1, but no examination will be required if any person of good character gives evidence of having practiced architecture for one year prior to July 1, 1931, or gives evidence of satisfactory experience and qualifications to the registration board. The board will also account for the control and discipline of registered architects, will investigate any complaint of misconduct or incompetence on the part of a registered architect and may cancel or suspend his registration if found guilty, although he will have the right to appeal. No one practising architecture will be allowed to designate himself as "architect" unless registered.

Pacers Working Out on Exhibition Grounds Track For Summer Schedule.

PETER DIRECT IN STABLE.

Louie Bennett of Port Hope has brought his stable of seven horses to the local exhibition track to train for the harness racing season. Two Peterborough men are also working their horses out daily, and more, both from here and throughout Central Ontario will be arriving from time to time. This track is one of the best east of Toronto, and every Spring finds trotters and pacers from all parts of the province warming up here for the various meets.

Among the horses Bennett brought are St. Charles, the four thousand dollar stud, and the famous Peter Direct. This last one is said to have won more races and more money than any harness-racer in Canada. Louie expects to have several entries in the opening meet on May 24th in Uxbridge. Another meet follows early in June in Belleville, and later the same month in Napanee.

The Grand Circuit Meet in Toronto early in July will be the outstanding harness-racing meet ever before seen in Canada. The finest thorough-bred trotters and pacers on the continent will race there. Entries are from all over the States and Canada, and from as far away as Mexico. Other smaller meets in Ontario keep the stables moving all summer, and the Fall fairs go pretty late. There is racing going on at Dufferin Park until January. It is not likely there will be any meet in Peterborough this summer before the exhibition in the Fall.

There was a small number of railbirds at the local track this morning looking them over and clocking the odd horse as it stepped around the hard packed turf. Five horses were being warmed up on the track at one time, and probably from now on, there will be a much larger number.

FIRST PETERBOROUGH TROOP

On Friday the scoutmaster took the boys of the First Peterborough Troop into the country. There was a good turnout of boys to make the tramp to Bear's Creek. The boys left the city about 10:30 in the morning.

After reaching their destination the boys prepared a hearty dinner. Several boys passed fire-fighting and cooking tests.

During the afternoon several stalking games were played.

For the first time the troop held an out-of doors investiture, when at this hike Arthur Lomax, Allan Bradshaw, Ernie Smith and John Bannister were invested.

Former A.S.M. Reg. Howden and Mr. Bud Holman were visitors with the boys.

Towards the close of the afternoon, the party planned to return. However, a number of the boys under P. L. Perks came prepared for two meals and accordingly remained until the rest of the food was consumed.

PAISLEY PIONEER IS 102 YEARS OLD

Thomas McBeth Came to Canada From Scotland in 1852.

TOOK HOMESTEAD.

PAISLEY, Ont. April 6 (C.P.) — Easter Sunday marked his 102nd birthday for Thomas McBeath, Paisley's Grand Old Man and one of its pioneers.

Born in Castleton, Scotland, Mr. McBeath came to Canada in 1852 and first worked for a short time at Scarboro, near Toronto. Later he walked to Paisley, there to secure a homestead.

Time and the multiple difficulties of life as an immigrant tiller of the Canadian soil, has told little on Mr. McBeath and his present condition of health leaves him able to read newspapers and otherwise occupy a mind still alert.

The annual birthday party had to be postponed this year on account of the unexpected illness of one of Mr. McBeath's sons.

SOCCER NOTES

A special meeting of the P. and D.F.A. will be held this evening in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, at eight o'clock. Club executive members are requested to attend the stipulate their entry for the coming season. In all probability the season will start immediately with four league games in a row, then the cup ties will be introduced.

The clubs will register the playing colours, the secretary, the club representative on the board and deposit their fees for the season.

All members of the Brinton F.C. are hereby notified that a practice game will be held on Tuesday evening, on the playing pitch at six o'clock.

UNITED STATES RUBBER

Notwithstanding that the year 1930 was one of the poorest in unit volume and of dollar sales in the history of the United States Rubber Co. the new management went ahead with reorganization plans and made drastic cuts in inventories and book values, placing the company on a sounder foundation for future building. Expenses of reorganization were incurred in a year when sales in all lines were low.

It is understood the drastic reorganization of financial and business structure, with its extraordinary charges, now is almost completed, and that benefits to be derived will be evident with return of better business. Manufacturing operations were concentrated during the year in the more modern units, resulting in the closing of 11 factories. In addition, $8,162,284 was expended for new buildings and machinery.

IMPERIAL ARMY VETERAN DIES

TORONTO, Ont., Apr. 6.—A veteran of the Imperial Army, serving under Kitchener at Khartoum, and in Egypt and Africa with the Imperial Garrison, Sergeant-Major Henry Tattersall died here yesterday, at the age of 66 years.

Sergeant-Major Tattersall, who was born in London, England, joined the 59th Battalion C.E.F., in 1915 and served with that unit until the armistice.

EASTER SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

Large Congregations Present Sunday at All Church Services in City.

SPECIAL MUSIC

The largest number of church-goers for many years attended the Easter services in some twenty churches of this city. The services of every church were marked by special music which was particularly adapted to one of the greatest festivals of the Christian year.

Several thousand attended the Masses held in the Roman Catholic churches. Rev. P. Costello celebrated at the 7:30 Mass in St. Peter' Cathedral, when over 1,300 received Communion, one thousand of whom were men. Rev. J. T. Finn took the 9 o'clock Mass, when some 900 communicated. Pontificial High Mass took place at 10:30, when Bishop O'Connor celebrated and was assisted by Father Costello as High Priest, Father Finn as Deacon Father Masterson as sub-Deacon, and he wo Fathers Courtney as Deacons, of Honor. The choir, under the direction of Joe Minnecola and with Lillian Hurley at the organ, rendered Regina Coeli." The Holy Hour took place from 7 to 8 p.m. Over 1,600 people received Communion at Sacred Heart Church at the three masses—8 o'clock when Father O'Brien celebrated, and at 9:15 and 10:30 when Father Malone celebrated. There were a large number of communicants at the Immaculate Conception Church, where Father Sullivan celebrated at 8:30 a.m. and Father Carroll at 10:30 High Mass. At 7 p.m. there was Benediction.

The Anglican Churches in the city also report large numbers of people receiving their Easter Communion, and special music. Rev. E. R. James celebrated at the 7 o'clock Eucharist at which 156 received. Rev. Dr. Blagrave took the 8 o'clock celebration and 207 communicated. The Rector and the Assistant took the Choral Eucharist at 11 a.m. The special music was as follows: Introit—Humphrey; Communion Office—Adlam in F; "Awake Thou that Sleepest"—Maker (Roy Pilchford and Stuart Roberts, soloists). There were 225 communicants at this service. The 3 p.m. service for children was conducted by Dr. Blagrave, and E. Brakefield. Moore preached the Easter sermon. The boy choir sang "Why Seek Ye the Living"—Cook. The Choral Evensong was conducted by Dr. Blagrave and Mr. James preached. Special music included: Magnificet and Nunc Dimittis—Smart; "Ye Choirs of New Jerusalem"—Smart; "Grant us Thy Peace"—Troman. All Saints' also reported large numbers in their 7, 8 and 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. celebrations of Communion. Rev. J. D. Paterson preached at 11 o'clock and Rev. Canon G. O. Troop at 7 p.m. The morning's special music was as follows: "I Know that my Redeemer Liveth"—Handel (Mrs. J. Howard); Introit—Humphrey; Te Deum—Jack on; "They Have Taken away my Lord"—Stainer. In the evening, Simper's Magnific at was used; "Awake Thou That Sleepest"—Maker; "Hallelujah Chorus"—Handel. St. Luke' had three Communion service—7, 8:15 and 11 o'clock all of which were well attended. Rev. G. J. Bousfield preached at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. In the morning "King of Kings" (Simper) was sung and in the evening "Easter Flowers are Springing." At St. George's there was Matins at 7:10 a.m., and celebrations of Communion at 7:30 and 11. Festal Evensong was held at 7 p.m.

Rev. William Allan preached at both morning and evening services at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. "This is the Day" (Cooke) and "They Have Taken Away My Lord" (Stainer) were sung in the morning. Several selections from Handel's Messiah were rendered in the evening, with Martin Chenhall at the organ.

The United Churches of the city also had several well attended services. George Street United Church's Sunrise Prayer Meeting at 7 a.m. was taken by Dr. J. E. Middleton. Rev. J. E. Millyard preached at the morning service, at which two anthems were sung—"Open the Gates of the Temple" and "Christ is Risen" (Turner). The evening service was one of musical numbers of a religious nature. The guest soloist was Albert Greenlaw, the powerful negro baritone, who sang two negro spirituals, "Were You There," "Heaven, Heaven," and "Up From the Grave," "Bless the Lord, O My Soul" was rendered by the full choir, and "The Lord is Risen," by the male quartette. Mrs. Ford Turner sang "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears."

The services at Trinity United, in charge of Rev. D. Wren, were also of an inspirational nature. The special music was: Morning—"Hail the Day That Sees Him Rise," "As it Began to Dawn," "The Knight of Bethlehem" (Miss A. Blanchard, soloist), "Resurrexit"; evening—"Lo, the Tomb is Empty," "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" (Mrs. R. Cowan), "From Out of the Grave" (M. Park), "We Declare Unto You Glad Tidings."

St. Andrew's United held services at 11 a.m. and 7:00 p.m., which were marked by Easter music in which Mrs. R. A. Williamson was soloist. Rev. C. V. McLean preached at both services.

The special music at St. James' United was: Morning—"King of Kings," "Lead Me to Calvary" and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth"; evening—"Why Seek Ye the Living," "O Sun of Righteousness," "Low in the Grave" and "The Stone is Rolled Away." In the morning there was a baptismal service and several new members were admitted to the church. Rev. A. E. Moorhouse presided at both services. Knox United held two Easter services at which Rev. Wm. McDonald preached, and in which the choir rendered hymns and anthems of glorious praise. Rev. A. E. Thornley preached at two well-attended services in Mark Street United.

The two Baptist churches of the city also report well attended services. Murray Street heard Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe preach both morning and evening. In the evening the choir rendered "The Resurrection and the Life." The morning service at Park Street was conducted by the B.Y.P.U. and at 7 p.m. the choir held a musical service.

The Salvation Army, Bethany Tabernacle, Legion Hall Mission and the Pentecostal Assembly all had special services of particularly inspirational natures.

TRENT WATERWAYS EXHIBIT WELL RECEIVED AT DETROIT

160,000 ATTENDED.

Peterborough and the whole Trent Waterways system is in for the biggest tourist season this summer that this district has ever experienced.

This is the message brought back from the Detroit Motorboat and Sportsman's Show by Fred L. Roy, Peterborough publicity emissary to the show. Mr. Roy bases his promise of highways crowded with American tourists travelling to the Kawartha Lakes this summer upon his experience at the big Detroit show.

Visitors to the show showed insatiable interest in Ontario, and the Trent Waterway and Ontario exhibit was besieged by thousands who desired more information upon holiday playgrounds and fishing centres in this province. Business men who were formerly too occupied to get away for a real holiday in previous years will be able to take a rest this summer because of the slump, Mr. Roy stated in explaining the interest the Americans are showing in Ontario. Further, he said, many who previously took their holidays by voyaging to Europe will this summer come to Ontario.

20,000 Attend Daily.

Mr. Roy, who has attended five of the continent's great shows, stated that the Detroit show was the finest in his experience. It lasted for eight days, and the attendance averaged 20,000 per day. At times, he said, the Ontario exhibit was swamped with the crowd seeking information. They eddied about the exhibit and the four attendants, of which Mr. Roy was one, had difficulty in answering the questions eagerly asked.

This exhibit was the finest ever shown, and the Trent Waterways earned a prominent position in the exhibit. The Provincial Government, through Kenneth Cockburn, secretary of the Highways Department, went to a great deal of expense in increasing the attractiveness of the exhibit.

New Air Record Set to Cape Town

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 6.—(A.P.)— Commander Glen Kidston arrived here to-day completing a six-day flight from England.

Kidston left England last Tuesday with two companions. He set out to prove that a six day air-mail schedule could be maintained between England and Cape Town instead of the twelve-day schedule which had been projected.

The previous record from England to Cape Town was 9½ days. Kidson is a millionaire sportsman who has had several narrow escapes from death both in the air and in automobile races.

QUEENSBORO W.M.S. HAS OPEN MEETING

Several Splendid Addresses, Readings and Solos Feature Program.

QUEENSBORO, April 6.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—A very successful open meeting of the United Church W.M.S. was held in the church on Friday evening. Programs had been prepared and were placed in the hands of each person so that it was unnecessary for anyone to preside.

Mrs. Bruce Leslie gave a paper on "Japan and Western thought," in which it was pointed out that the people of Japan had accepted Western ideas and methods as a means of enhancing their own position in a world of so-called christian powers and not because they really had come to value Christian civilization for its own sake. The Japanese are apt mentally and within seventy years have passed from being among the illiterate to the literate, practically every person in Japan can read and write and a daily newspaper enters one out of every two homes in the Empire. There are between four and five thousand public libraries in Japan. The United Church has a mission school at Kwansei Gakuin, between Koke and Osaka with over 2000 students all boys and men, while Victoria College Toronto does not accommodate 1000 students counting men and women. Christian missions in Japan has so raised the status of womanhood and promoted the education of womenuntil to-day the wives of several ministers of state are graduates of the mission schools, of which there are 857 for girls and women Christian Japanese say they were won to Christ., not by doctrinal teaching, but by the disposition and life of the missionaries and teachers with whom they came into contact. There are over 700 men in training for the christian ministry in the 21 theological colleges in Japan and over 400 women training to become bible women and deaconnesses in fifteen schools.

Mrs. John Alexander gave a short paper on Temperance in which it was stated that the British Admiralty have decided to abolish the rum ration from the navy and Sir Frederick Treves was quoted as saying, 'A young man cannot possibly be fit if he takes alcohal" and Admiral Jellicoe as saying, 'Liquor drinking causes a loss of efficiency in our gunners amounting to thirty per cent."

A paper entitled "My Easter Thankoffering," was given by Mrs John O'Rourke. This was a story of a dream by an enthusiastic W.M.S. worker in which she was passing through an Easter Thankoffering meeting, the singing and the prayers were stirring and inviting and found their way to the hearts of the listeners who came along with their gifts, one of sacrifices, one of gratitude, another of sanctified sorrow and another of joy and lastly one with a gift of consecration. Each added her word of explanation and testimony expressing regrets that the gifts were not larger and then there arose the one who was considered to be the gayest of all the crowd, she testified saying, "Friends I have no offering to make but must confess I have spent much time calculating how little I could give and when I left for this meeting I bravely tucked a tiny coin into my pocket, calling it my offering. I brought it because I thought it would not look well to give nothing. I am going home to sweep my house and search for the Lord's money and my offering this year shall be all that I can spare, including something that I shal miss for I must balance my accounts with the Lord. This testimony led one young woman to offer herself for service on the mission field

Work in Africa.

Rev. J. F. Everson gave a chalk talk on the "Work of the United church in Africa" this was illustrated on the black board by a drawing of the continent of Africa which was described as the dark continent. The speaker stated that reports from the hospital in Johannesburg show that 78 per cent of the black babies born, die before reaching one year of age and in Inhambane over 60 per cent die before reaching one year of age. The great need outside of christianity is education in hygiene and the laws of health. Drunkness and witchcraft are the great foes of morality, sanity, health and right living.

Disease is believed to be the result of evil spirits, and the way to health is by burning out, cutting out or pounding out the disease. Great suffering results and often death for a person who becomes very ill is absolutely deserted as the people believe that at death the evil spirit passes into the person who may be waiting upon the sick. The United Church has 18 missionaries and 150 native workers employed in three central stations and 150 out-stations in Angola about 700 miles south of the equator and 300 miles inland.

Mr. F. Elmer Dixon, of Belleville gave two readings, one the' 'Prince" a story of the American war, telling how the "Prince" a nobleman had given himself in exchange for the small, curly haired brown little fellow who was doomed to die: and a second reading entitled 'The first settler's story" showing how that angry words once spoken can never be recalled and go on doing their deadly work to the end of life.

Mrs. Robert A. Sager sang a solo, "The Holy City" and Mr. Bruce Leslie sang, 'He Knows" these were both splendidly given and were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Everson thanked those who had helped so cheerfully with the program and invited any ladies not members of the society to join assuring them of a welcome.

The scripture lesson from Matt. 28: 1-10 was read and explained by Mrs. C. B. Hamm.

The offering was taken by Misses Marion Hamm and Margaret Leslie.

The hymns used were, "There is a green hill far away," "I gave my life for thee' and 'When I survey the wondrous Cross."

A delicious lunch was served by the ladies at the close.

EASGER CHURCH SERVICE

MARMORA, April 6. (Examiner Correspondence.)—Goodly congregations assembled at St. Paul's on Sunday in celebration of the festival of Easter. The chancel of the church looked exceedingly well with its decoration of tulips and Easter lilies.

Celebrations of Holy Communion were held at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. with the rector officiating. At the former, the communicants numbered thirty-two, while at the midday celebration fifty partook of the sacrament. This service was fully choral. The anthem was "Christ our Passover" by Sir John Goss and the solo part was ably taken by Mrs. T. S. Pearce. The Easter message was based on the subject "Christ above us and about us." At evensong, the service was again unusually musical. Mr. S. B. Wright played violin accompaniment for the bright hymns and also contributed two appropriate violin solos. Mrs. S. B. Wright was heard to good effect in the solo "Angels, roll the Rock Away."

The sermon was based on the words from Revelations I, "I have the keys of hell and death." Rev. A. B. Caldwell, also addressed the scholars at the morning Sunday School, when the mite boxes were presented by them.

Mr. Edmunds is one of the successful business men of the community, and is interested in any undertaking that makes for community betterment.

Miss Francis Turner, B.A., is the guest of her parents, Dr. H. A. and Mrs. Turner, for the Easter week-end.

Appetite Jaded?

It's probably the result of sluggish elimination. A teaspoonful of Kkovah Salts in a glass of water before breakfast will clean away the waste and assist in bringing back a healthy appetite.

pockets, and on Wednesday morning, at a given signal the switch will be thrown, which will set off these charges, and the whole appearance of the quarry will be altered.

Used for Building

The finely crushed rock, product of the quarry, is used largely in the building trades and for road surfacing. Most of the output is shipped to Toronto. For a number of miles east and west of the quarry, the roads to Havelock on the west, and Marmora on the east are made up largely of this splendid road building material. They wind in and out, white ribbons of almost cement hardness, a sheer delight to the motorist. They stand up under hard usage, as evidenced by the splendid condition of the roads to the east of the village.

The spectacle of a huge blast such as the forthcoming one, is well worth seeing, and there is no objection to spectators. The best location from which to survey the operation is from the elevation to the west of the quarry plant. It is thought the blast on Wednesday morning, will be on a par with, or even more spectacular than those in the past.

Three years ago, a special train was run from Ottawa, carrying officials of the company, and friends, to witness a similar blast.

rapidly, until today its product is regarded as one of the best building stones on the continent. This is due largely to his resource and energy.

There is an ever growing demand for Canadian marble. Conceiving that Marmora marble will complement the exterior building stone with a Canadian supply of high-grade interior material, Mr. Doolittle is enthusiastically entering upon this promotion. The product holds every promise of utility, beauty and economy, and under his able direction it seems destined that the development of the natural resources in the Province will further expand.

MANVERS FARMER SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

Barn, Together With Contents on Farm of A. Kane, Destroyed Last Night.

PONTYPOOL, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence).—A. Kane, residing one mile south of this village, suffered a heavy loss from fire last night when his barn together with its contents was completely destroyed by fire. The total loss is believed to be around $5,000. Twenty head of cattle were destroyed, also all stored hay and grain with harness and a few farm implements.

The fire started around nine o'clock after the family had retired for the night; the cause is unknown.

WEAK AFTER INFLUENZA— COULD NOT DO HOUSEWORK

Could Feel Strength Coming Back After Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (Tonic)

"I took a severe attack of influenza," writes Mrs. John Fraser, 2019-5th Ave. East, Owen Sound, Ontario, "and when I was able to get out of bed I was in such a weak condition that I thought I would never get my strength again. I could not do my housework. So a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I did, and after taking a few doses I could feel my strength coming back. After taking six boxes I was completely well and as strong as I ever had been, and I haven't taken a severe attack of influenza since."

"Now Strong as Ever"

Danger ahead! Look out . . . if you've had the flu and can't get back to normal. That is the dangerous part of influenza—the after-effects. Influenza weakens the blood—makes further sickness likely.

The iron and other elements in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) increase the blood count—that is they multiply the number of red corpuscles in the blood. Through these pills thousands of persons weakened by influenza, overwork, worry or other causes, have been helped back to health, strength and happiness.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) at any druggist's—or from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario—50 cents a box. Don't wait. It's dangerous to continue in a run-down condition.

CANADIAN PEOPLE POSSESSED OF DEEP RELIGIOUS FEELING

Says Julius Caesar Nayphe, Oriental Lecturer With Chautauqua.

ON SPRING TOUR.

MARMORA, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence)—Good Friday, being an off day for Chautuqua entertainers, afforded The Examiner representative ample opportunity for an interview with Julius Caesar Nayphe, noted Oriental lecturer, who is giving his amazing lecture, "By the Peaceful Pastures of Palestine," to audiences throughout Ontario in course of the Canadian Chautauqua's Spring circuit. Incidentally, Mr. Nayphe was celebrating a birthday and so perhaps with the added thought of no evening exertion before him, was in the best of moods for more than an interview, for conversation resolved itself into an heart-to-heart talk.

First of all, it was discovered that he was not christened Julius Caesar but Julius Sirhan.

When, in 1916, he commenced a tour for American Chautauqua, a publicity agent advertised him as Julius Caesar Nayphe. "Let it be a non-de-plume" though Julius, and so the name was unaltered. In the 12th century his family name was Navie. His ancestors then ruled the principality bearing that name, which was situated between the rivers Tigris and Euphrates. They were Assyrian Christions and the Assyrian historians hold to the tradition that Christianity was brought to their race by St. Thomas.

The advent of Islamism drove the Assyrian Christians out of their own countries westward. Many Assyrian noblemen and their families left their cherished possessions rather than remain and submit to Islam. They moved into Turkey then known as the Byzantium kingdom. Mohammed II or Mohammed the Great, took Constantinople in 1453 when Constantine the last Grecian emperor, fell defending his capital. Through the great massacre which took place in the Church of St. Sophia, Constantinople, on Easter Sunday, 1453, the Christians were dispersed and the Navie family, whose name now had changed to Nayphe, were almost wiped out.

Two boys, who were brothers, had been left orphans through the massacre. Georgius, the elder, was taken by his nurse to her home at Athens while Julius, the younger, was taken by his nurse to Damascus, as she was a native of that city. Later Georgius moved eastward to Syria. Fifty-two years ago at Cairo, Egypt, the marriage of Sirhan Nayphe and Mazaha Nayphe was solemnized. Sirhan was a direct descendant of Georgius Nayphe, and his bride was a direct descendant of Julius, brother of Georgius.

Sirhan and Mazaha Nayphe took up residence in the Nayphe castle at the foot of Mount Hermon. This castle is north of Galilee, with the Mediterreaneaan to its west. Here 10,000 sheep were cared for by ten shepherds and their twenty hirelings and the harvests of olive groves and vineyards were also gathered in. Before marriage Sirhan Nayphe became the first Christian ambassador to represent Turkey in Greece and later after marriage, represented the Greek Consulate at Damascus.

So it happened that Julius Sirhan Nayphe, his son, was born in Damascus, four blocks removed from the house of Ananias on the street called Straight. At the age of 13, he was baptized in the River Jordan. Following two years' studies at Sidon College, he took up preparatory work at Louisville, Kentucky, which was succeeded by terms at the University of Kentucky and finally Harvard University. After two years with American Chautauquas, in 1918 he linked up with Canadian Chautauquas, making his headquarters since in Vancouver. He says that he has discovered the outstanding characteristics of Canadians to be true patriotism for country, hospitality to the stranger within their gates, and the possession of deep religious feeling without camouflage.

Speaking of Damascus, he referred to seven rivers upon which the city stands. His own birthplace is situated between the rivers Abana and Barada. The waters of the latter river are cool and refreshing, and have been chosen for the city's whole water supply.

"How do you explain the verse of the Psalm which runs 'Like as the dew of Hermon which fell upon the hill of Sion'?" he was asked. He explained that the dew of Hermon travels like a blanket. On its account the rays of sun are not visible before 9 a.m. It travels southward between 80 and 90 miles in its blankety form to Jerusalem to fall upon the hill of Sion and intermediate country. The native Christians have a saying concerning this dew, to the effect that because from Hermon our Saviour and the Apostles did not travel north so does the dew not travel in that direction, but instead southward.

Julius Caesar Nayphe remembers as a lad, having seen the manna fall while he was travelling from Egypt to Palestine. He describes it as resembling a small mushroom without a stem. It falls when the dew is heaviest. Druggists have asked him why he has not referred to it in his lectures, because they have been taught in their chemistry lessons that it still falls; to which his reply has been that there is a scepticism in Occidental lands concerning it that is difficult to remove.

He, like Dr. Hsieh, likes being interviewed and does not mind the writing of autographs. He finds that Europeans are keener on autograph collecting than Americans. He was interested in having his autograph desided by some elderly Scandinavians in an Ontario town recently visited by him. He is shortly publishing a book on the subject matter of his present lecture, and in the summer season will be lecturing in Peterborough on a new subject, "The Soul of the Holy Land."

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 6. — Surprisingly broad export business from North America put wheat up with a rush on Saturday 3 cents a bushel. The rise was general for all new-crop deliveries and the close was at the topmost level reached. Overseas purchases from Canada totalling a million bushels a day for the last four business days were announced and predictions were made that Europe would need plenty of wheat the next three months, especially with Asiatic buying also large enough to be a factor.

Wheat finished strong, unchanged to 3c up; corn, 1c to 2½c advance; oats, ⅝c to ¾c higher; and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, April 6.—Egg, butter and cheese prices were lower and potato quotations advanced on the produce and dairy market here last week. Saturday prices were unchanged.

On the butter market fresh Eastern Townships No. 1, in cartons, was quoted at 32c a pound and regraded at 32½c a pound to retailers; solids were 34c and prints 35c a pound. Receipts last week were 3,382 boxes, of which 1,873 boxes were Australian butter.

Ontario colored cheese was quoted at 13c a pound and receipts last week were 685 boxes.

Ontario and prairie fresh eggs, in cartons were quoted at 24c for extras, 22c for firsts and 19c to 20c a dozen for seconds. British Columbia fresh extras were quoted at 25c, firsts at 23c and seconds at 20c to 21c a dozen. To retailers, quotations were unchanged. Last week's receipts were 10,788 cases.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes, in carlots, were quoted at 90c per 80-lb. bag and to retailers $1 per 80-lb. bag.

REVOLT SPREADS INTO VENEZUELA

Rebel Chief Gen. Cedeno Routs Gov't Troops at Guasdualito.

PLANS BIG DRIVE.

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 6.— (A.P.)— A Venezuelan revolutionary movement, apparently authentic reports said, has gained a foothold on the western frontier.

El Tiempo, Bogota daily, published a report from Arauco, Colombia, which stated General Arevalo Cedeno, had led a successful attack against Guasdualito, village just across the border from Arauco. Many Government soldiers were said to have been wounded and horses and arms were taken by the insurgents whose leader styles himself chief of the Venezuelan revolutionary forces.

General Cedeno, who three times before has figured in a revolutionary attempt, announced that he would gather forces on a march across the hundreds of miles of mountain and marsh to Caracas to unseat President Gomez, secretary of war and Venezuela's strong man.

SMOKE OVERCOMES FIREMEN

WINNIPEG, Man., April 6.—Several firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke while fighting a fire early this morning that destroyed the confectionery store and home of Stanley Malec, in Weston, a suburb. The fire blazed for 2½ hours before firemen could extinguish it. Origin is being investigated by the Provincial Fire Commissioner.

ANCIENT CITY UNEARTHED.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 6 (C.P.). —On a lonely plain near the Anatolian town of Tyre, situated on the Smyrna-Aiden Railway, Turkish archaelogogists have discovered the ruins of an unknown ancient city.

Vast mosaic floors evince the opulence of the city, whose history may be revealed by a study of an inscribed stone which has been transported to the Smyrna Museum.

RED ACRE FARM.

WESTWOOD, April 13 (Examiner Correspondence). — The three act comedy drama, "Red Acre Farm," presented in the Town Hall on Thursday evening, under the auspices of St. Andrew's United Church Choir, was a splendid success.

The players, although amateurs, are to be congratulated for the very efficient manner in which the play was presented. That the play was well received was amply testified by the applause and laughter of the large, delighted audience. The specialties for the evening were appropriate and entertaining and included music furnished by the Comstock Orchestra; a duet entitled "The Auction Sale," sung by F. C. Warr and W. Morris; and a duet, "I'm a Happy-Go-Lucky Boy," by Wilbert Graham and Sandy Ross.

The cast of characters was as follows: Josiah Armstrong, owner of Red Acre Farm, S. C. Warr; Amanda Armstrong, his wife, Mrs. R. C. Brackenridge; Nellie Armstrong, Mary Brackenridge; Laura Armstrong, Lillian Mortlack; Colonel Barnaby Strutt, a friend of the Armstrongs, William Brackenridge; Mrs. Barnaby Strutt, his wife, Miss Elizabeth Davidson ;Junior, an adopted daughter of the Strutts, Virginia Lobb; Squire Harcourt, who holds a mortgage, R. C. Brackenridge; Harry Harcourt, his son, Aubrey Wood; Dick Randall, who seeks his fortune, Wilbert Graham; Tom Busby, a travelling merchant, Ernest Pearson; Jonah Jones, a farm helper, Sandy Ross.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

R. A. Elliott Re-Elected O. B. A. A. President

WILLIAM KAY IS RETURNED TO EXECUTIVE

O.B.A.A. Delegates Close Convention Impressed With Heartiness of City's Hospitality.

UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS.

Tribute Paid to R. A. Elliott Upon His Re-election as Association Head.

R. A. Elliott of Lieloro was re-elected president of the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association for a second term at the concluding session of the convention here Saturday.

The other officers were also returned by acclamation, the only election being for the executive committee, which consists of eight members, four of whom are appointed and the other four chosen by ballot.

The O.B.A.A. officers for 1931-32 are as follows:

President—R. A. Elliott.

1st Vice-Pres.—C. K. Jutten, Hamilton.

2nd Vice-Pres.—W. A. Smith, Galt.

Secretary—W. J. Snyder, Hamilton.

Treasurer—A. Hillmer, Oakville.

Executive (the four elected)—A. J. Walsh, Toronto; Wm. Kay, Peterborough; H. C. Maguire, St. Catharines; J. W. Scott, Kitchener.

Governor of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada—P. M. Kennedy, Toronto, re-elected.

The invitation of the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association to hold next year's annual meeting in Toronto was accepted.

The delegates instructed the secretary to telegraph to Jake Solomon of Philadelphia, former vice-president of the Association and manager of the Peterborough Club, their appreciation of his remembrance and good wishes for the success of Saturday's convention.

Delegates Grateful

And it was an unqualified success. The local committee headed by Bill Kay, and composed of Jack Deannard, Max Swanston, Edgar LeBarr, Charlie Curtis, M. O'Brien, Bill Prindible, Jim Coursey and assisted by Mayor Denne and the members of the city council, and especially Alderman Mel Turner as chairman of the city's Reception Committee, deeply impressed the visitors with the heartiness of Peterborough's hospitality. They were all highly pleased with the administrative success of the convention, and, beyond that, with the friendly spirit that surrounded them in Peterborough and the deep local sentiment for amateur baseball as conducted by the O.B.A.A.

Bill Kay's committee handled the arrangements in great style. They anticipated every detail, and they were strongly assisted by the city council and by citizens whose co-operation was decidedly helpful and effective. Max Swanston was chairman of the entertainment committee and he received plenty of aid, especially from Jack Deannard.

The delegates to Saturday's meeting said they would always remember Peterborough with the agreeable association of the 1931 convention; and Saturday afternoon they placed on record their appreciation of the work and attentions of Bill Kay and his local committee; of the cordial reception and the splendid dinner given by the City Council; of the personal hospitality of George N. Graham, proprietor of the Empress; and also a vote of thanks was passed to the press of the province for its encouragement of amateur baseball, with a special appreciation to The Peterborough Examiner for what Bill Snyder, secretary, said was a "wonderful edition dedicated to baseball and the O.B.A.A."

A resolution of condolence to the widow of the late "Lol" Soloman was adopted, and the secretary was instructed to send a copy of it to Mrs. Solman.

Tribute to R. A. Elliott

The unanimous re-election of 'Bob' Elliott was a stirling tribute to his active and capable leadership last year when the O.B.A.A. regained in one long, swift stride the membership which had rather sharply declined during the previous year. Mr. Elliott accepted the honour in a brief acknowledgment in which he promised to give the Association his best efforts again and also asked the officers the executive and the representatives of the constituent leagues for their continuel sympathetic help.

The discussions Friday night and Saturday clearly outlined two preoccupations of the men who are guiding the Association. One of these concerns is to eliminate the "tourist" ball player, and the other is to afford the minor leagues all the support which can be directed to them. The ball players who in good faith makes a change in residence obviously meets with no obstacle from the provincial Association, but the drifter will be carefully watched and after listening to an executive discussion including Bill Martin of London, Elliott, Walsh, and Bill Smith and the others, the visitor would be convinced that the players are figuratively tagged and card-indexed.

Making Good Citizens

Another objective of the Association is the cultivation of good citizenship by creating the best possible atmosphere and general conditions under which the various league games are played. This was touched upon by President Elliott on Saturday in the following speech accepting the new gavel presented by W. J. Smith of Toronto, a past president and lifem ember of the Association.

"Mr. Smith,—Due in large measure to your vision, the O.B.A.A. was organized 13 years ago (1918) with a membership of seven leagues; today we are an organization having jurisdiction over sixty leagues, but during this period you have seen amateur baseball flourish and then slump. To-day it has made a comeback, and through this period of years you have had faith. You have given without fear or favor of your time and talents, until to-day we men think of you as the Father of Amateur Baseball in the Province of Ontario.

"The founders of this organization had in mind, I feel sure, two objects:

"First—That of fostering amateur baseball and provincial competition.

"Second—The thought that in doing this they would also be developing character among our boys and young men, so that they would be better prepared to take their place as future citizens.

"To-day we feel that the youth of this Province owe you a debt of gratitude.

I feel very proud to be president of this association at this particular time and to have the honor of accepting on behalf of the association this gavel, which is just one more tangible proof of your continued interest in the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association. We sincerely thank you for this gift, and hope that you will continue to help in the future as you have in the past."

Amendments Adopted.

One of the amendments adopted on Saturday alters the residence rule as affecting any player living in a city, town, village, or rural area where there are no organized clubs in affiliation with the O.B.A.A. Such player may play with the affiliated club nearest his home unless he has registered in good faith with a club that was nearest his home prior to the organization of any new association, league, or the formation of a new club admittad into affiliation with the O.B.A.A. In that event the player must complete the season with the club holding his certificate in good faith, unless released by such club.

"Where any such player procures a release, in writing, from the club closest his home by reason of such club's inability to use such player, he shall then play for such club only as shall be next nearest his home, it being the intent of this regulation that no player may play for a club which is not his home club, unless a release or waiver is procured, in writing, from such home club. Notwithstanding this provision, however, the executive of the association reserves the right to deal with any exceptional or extenuating case."

The addition of the last sentence in this amendment gives the provincial association control over any appeals that may arise in the specified circumstances.

Another amendment requires that if any player previously playing under the O.B.A.A. should change his residence after August 1 of the playing year, he must notify the secretary of the association before January 10 of the following year."

The previous date in the constitution was February 15. Th's clause was further amended providing that a player applying for a change of residence must fill in and sign a complete questionnaire submitted by the association before his case will be considered.

An amendment respecting certificates was adopted to the effect that no player shall sign a certificate with any association, league, or club after July 15 of the current year.

This regulation was formerly confined to any league.

Another amendment says: "Athletic organizations operating clubs in more than one series shall notify the O.B.A.A. secretary on or before June 15."

The following amendment was also carried: "No senior or intermediate player after playing six league games with his club, and no junior, juvenile, or bantam player after playing four league games with his club can be released and signed by another club in the same league."

An amendment also states that memberships in the association or leagues are the property of the association or league and cannot be bartered or sold."

That prohibits commercialism in O.B.A.A. franchises.

Chicago Evens Stanley Cup Series

PLA-MORS BEATEN BY TULSA OILERS

Latter Takes First Game of American League Finals By 2 to 1.

TULSA, Okla., April 6.—Tulsa Oilers skated to a 2 to 1 victory over Kansas City in a thrilling overtime battle last night and won the first game of a play-off series for the American Hockey League pennant. The winning goal was rapped home by Moffat on an assist from Sheppard twelve seconds after the extra period got underway.

Tulsa had gone ahead in the first period on Marker's goal, but Mitchell evened the score in the third.

SETS WATER RECORD

COACHELLA, Cal., Apr. 6. —(CP) —The world's speed record for outboard motorboats was bettered yesterday by Fred Gilbertlos, who drove his Randall Comet at an average speed of 51.032 miles per hour on two straight-away runs over the mile course at Salton Sea.

The former record was held by Ray Precenzer, Antiochill.

INDIANS ARE ELIMINATED IN OKE PLAY

Thundering Gets Four Goals in First Period of Cleveland Game.

IN SECOND PLACE.

Windsor Defeats Yellow Jackets to Take Play-off Lead With 12 Points.

TORONTO, Ont., April 6. (CP)—The International Hockey League championship to-day rests between Windsor Bulldogs and Buffalo Bisons. Cleveland Indian squad hopes of a second title shottered when they lost a rugged duel to the Buffaloians, 6 to 4 and dropped into a second place tie with the Bisons in the round-robin post season series. The Thundering Herd have another game to play while the Indians have not.

Windsor strengthened their position at the top of the championship series by defeating Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets for the second straight time, 2 to 1, and they now have 12 points compared with 10 for the Bisons. The teams meet in the final scheduled fixture at Buffalo on Tuesday in a postponed tussle. A tie will be sufficient to give the Windsorites the Oke trophy and the King loop honors.

Last Thursday, Buffalo and Cleveland battled to a one-all tie at Fort Erie, the Bisons home rink, but the score hardly indicated the trend of play as Mickey Roach's team held a clear cut margin of superiority over the Indians. The spectacular goal-keeping of "Sonny-Boy" Baxter prevented the Bisons gaining victory on that occasion but he could not halt the terrific Bison onslaught Saturday. Four times the puck found a resting place behind him in the first 20 minutes and when the Bisons added another marker early in the middle frame the large crowd of Indian supporters realized the Indians were not strong enough to retain the championship.

The Indians fought back doggedly and tallied two clever goals within two minutes of the Bison counter in the second chapter. They added two more in the final session but the Indians managed to sandwich their sixth tally in between to clinch the verdict.

Lloyd Gross, hard shooting left wingman from Kitchener, proved the scoring ace of the Bisons. He notched a brace of goals while Ronnie Martin got two assists. Mike Brophy registered two of the India tallies and gave one assist while Captain Alex Gray scored once and assisted with two others.

As usual Earl Robinson, league leading point scorer, led the Bulldog attack against the Smoke Eaters.

Fighting hard to break into the win column for their first victory in six-play-off games the Yellow Jackets held their opponents scoreless for three periods. This in itself was quite an achievement as the Bulldogs chalked up an 8 to 2 win when the teams met in the Border City last Thursday.

Minus the services of several of their players due to injuries the Smoke Eaters were unable to keep up the torrid pace and though they did manage to score the first goal early in the over time they were unable to stave off the furious Bulldog attacks. Robinson made the play for the tieing marker at the four minute mark when he passed to Jack Arbour. Less than three minutes later the Montreal Maroon farm hand won the game when he hammered Paul Haynes perfect pass into the Pittsburgh cage. The game was exceptionally clean throughout, only one penalty being meted out.

The standing follows:

	P	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Windsor	5	4	1	0	20	11	12
Buffalo	5	3	1	1	13	8	10
Cleveland	6	3	2	1	17	17	10
Pittsburgh	6	0	6	0	6	20	0

Note: Play-offs a win counts three points, tie one.

CUP SERIES EVENED.

(By W. R. Wheatley, Canadian Press Staff Writer).—CHICAGO, Ill., April 6.—Wings spread wide, Chicago Black Hawks to-day had found the Stanley Cup trail from dark clouds of defeat that threatened ominously to obscure that rough path to the hockey title, the Hawks swooped last night and caught up with the tiring Canadiens from Montreal. But it took nearly an hour and a half of dashing, open, hockey before the Hawks could align themselves in victory formation and snatch a 2—1 victory overtime prize from the gallant fighting Frenchmen.

There were times when they swirled over the struggling Montrealers in full fight, to be beaten back and it was then the Red Champions, a hockey weary team if every there was one, rose to superhuman effort and scattered the Hawks in utter confusion. In a strikingly figurative sense, Johnny Gottselig led the flock to victory. The very presence of the black-haired Westerner seemed to instill the greatest co-ordination among his companions.

Chicago fandom, loyal to a man in support of their team, roared an acclaim when Gootselig drove in the winning goal four minutes and five seconds after the second overtime period had started. The eighteen thousand who jammed the great Stadium rose en masse in wild excitement and sent up cheer after cheer even after both teams had left the ice.

Gottselig was their hero. Long before the sharp-shooting wingman broke up the battle with startling suddenness he had earned their cheers more than any other individual player by his dashing, spectacular play. The climax was a fitting one. From between centre ice and the Canadian blue line Gootselig began his rush. The puck was his after a scrimmage in which Hawks and Canadiens fought desperately for possession. Straight for the Montreal defence he streaked. Big Sylvio Mantha took in the situation with a hurried glance, backed in toward Goalie Hainsworth as if to keep in front of Gottselig, and then lunged desperately in an effort to block him; it was too late. Skating at full speed, Gootselig let drive a blinding shot that caught the net high behind Hainsworth.

Nick Wasnie, rugged wingman of the Canadiens, kept his team in the hunt and brought about the long overtime after Stewart Adams had put the Hawks in the lead with the Hawks down one game after Friday night's opening struggle, when the Flying Frenchman fought their way to a 2—1 decision, much hinged on last night's battle.

MILLBROOK CURLERS HOLD GET TOGETHER

Trophies Won By Successful Rinks Presented at Enjoyable Gathering.

MILLBROOK, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Millbrook Curling Club closed its activities for the current season by an enjoyable 'get together' supper and social hour held in the I.O.O.F. dining hall on Wednesday evening, the majority of the members being present, and the president, C. C. Garside, occupying the chair.

The trophies won during the year were presented to the winners, the Allen Cup for highest place in the inter-rink games going to the rink skipped by G. W. Sayles, the other members being, R. J. Scott, J. Gordon Armstrong and E. C. Richards.

The donor, H. B. Allen, presented this cup, Mr. Sayles making appropriate reply on behalf of his rink and himself. The Waddell Trophy for the Scotch doubles was won by Walter Sayles and H. B. Allen, J. Steele, the veteran skip of the local club, making the presentation, and the recipients responding briefly.

Sherin Brown held first place in the thirteen point games, winning the Gillott Cup, the donor, W. J. E. Gillott, presenting him with the trophy. Mr. Brown expressed his appreciation in a few brief sentences.

Others who spoke during the evening, emphasizing their personal pleasure in the good sportsmanship which curling affords its devotees, and mentioning in particular the good times enjoyed in connection with the local club and in the friendly competition with visiting curlers, at home and also at outside points, were the president, C. C. Garside; the vice-president, P. I. Bentley; the secretary-treasurer, T. H. Collins; Reeve P. Stinson; J. Steele; W. E. Ball; J. E. Allen; H. B. Allen; G. W. Sayles; Russell Smith and others.

C. C. Garside catered for the supper in his usual capable manner, and assisting him on the committee in charge were: E. Mitchell, T. W. McCamus, J. Steele, R. Smith and S. Sloan.

The thanks of the curling club were extended to the members of Millbrook Lodge, I.O.O.F. No. 308, for their courtesy in granting the use of the dining hall for the supper hour, and social occasion.

Stanley Cup Briefs.

CHICAGO, April 6 (By W. R. Wheatley, C.P. Staff Writer). — Through last night's game Johnny Gagnon played in ignorance of his father's death in Chicoutimi, Que. Word reached the Stadium over the Canadian Press special wire and was conveyed to Referee Alexander Romeril. Manager Cecil Hart withheld the sad news from Gagnon until the team entrained for Montreal.

As Canadiens hurriedly changed from uniforms to street clothes after the long overtime game, a bus waited outside to rush them to the station.

"They're holding the train for us" shouted manager Hart as he hurried his boys along. The train was scheduled to leave at 1.45, and it was that hour when the players began clambering into the bus.

"Not a bit less confident," was Hart's parting remark as he climbed aboard. "The boys have done wonderfully here. We surprised everybody by winning the first game considering the shape we were in, and we threw a scare into Chicago tonight. There's a good rest coming and the boys will be ready to go."

If Johnny Gottselig were a candidate in the mayoralty election here to-morrow, he could count strongly on 7,573 votes. There were that many cash customers at the second Stanley Cup game, and Johnny was popularly acclaimed the hero of the occasion.

A woman spectator was slightly injured by a flying puck last night. She refused to retreat from a seat along the rail.

In the midst of the game last night the referees called a halt in the play and announcement was made over the loudspeaker that both teams had complained of a "foreign" whistle in the house. Warning was given that a repetition would mean forcible ejection for the offender—in other words, an absolute game penalty.

Last night's game was the last Chicagoans will see this season. No sooner had the teams quit the ice than workmen were setting up equipment for the performers of a circus that moves into the stadium next week.

A throng of spectators hung about to bid the Montrealers farewell outside the Stadium. There were good-natured farewell calls back and forth, many of the boys heard themselves being addressed by their first names familiarly from total strangers. "See you next year," was the final shout from the crowd."

Wood Is Preparing To Recapture Record

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 6 (C. P.). — Gar Wood turned to-day to the task of tuning the motors of his Miss America IX. for an attempt to bring back the world's speedboat record to the United States.

Wood arrived here yesterday from New York and went immediately to his home on Indian Creek, where he will prepare his craft for the assault on the mark of 103.49 miles an hour established by Kaye Don of England at Buenos Aires last week.

The Detroit manufacturer said he would go over the Miss America IX. point by point and check every detail before he makes his trial for the record.

'NEATH SUNNY SKIES

Spicy Bits of Baseball Gossip From Majors' Camps.

With Chuck Klein, their big hit and run man, back in the fold the Phillies were somewhat optimistic over the outcome of the city series with the world champion athletics the third game of which was scheduled at Philadelphia to-day.

Without Klein the Phils have flattened the "A's" twice in a row and with him they keep right on winning. Klein, who had been holding out for a $14,500 contract for 1931, signed yesterday for three years. Figures were not announced, but it is understood the papers call for a total of $40,000 for the three years.

Getting out of town yesterday for Sunday exhibition games, the Phillies lost to Newark, and the first and second teams of the Athletics lost to Baltimore and Jersey City, respectively.

Dizzy Dean has been a good boy for more than a week, and manager Gabby Street of St. Louis Cardinals believes the sensational young pitcher has decided at last to take his baseball seriously unless Gabby and Dizzy have another misunderstanding about the proper time to sleep or something else Dean will have an opportunity to show the customers in St. Louis next Sunday whether he is as good as he says he is.

Just as the Pittsburgh Pirate brigade set out for the east to-day, Jewel tossed three young members of his crew overboard, Bivin, Johnson and Kennedy, right handed hurler, were farmed to Wichita. That cuts the squad to 30, including 11 pitchers.

Catcher Finney, infielders Piet and Gelsseberger, outfielder Dugan and southpaw Venusek will walk the plant next.

A habit of failing to hit when hits mean runs has became conspicuous on the part of the Cleveland Indians the last two weeks and is beginning to worry their followers at New Orleans, La. That fault cost one squad a 12-inning game with New Orleans yesterday. The same squad contributed five errors to the Tribe's unhealthy total of exhibition misques.

The Detroit baseball team has departed from California after a successful training period against class AA teams of the Pacific Coast League. Favorable weather has helped the Tigers toward rapid development of the flaming youth element which is expected to boost the club's chances in this year's American League pennant race. First stop on the trip to Detroit will be Kansas City, where the Pittsburgh Pirates will furnish opposition in an exhibition game.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to your druggist, and get 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

WOOD AND HIS SPEEDBOAT AIM TO OUTDO DON

Detroit Driver on Way to Miami and Miss America IX.

FORMER MARK 102.56.

Will Have to Better 103.49 M. P. H. Record Set By Kaye Don.

NEW YORK, Apr. 6.—Gar Wood, who has twice regained for the United States the world's speedboat record, yesterday buckled on his racing armor to repel the latest thrust of the British lion now king of speed on sea and land and in the air, the Associated Press reports.

Confronted by the new world's speedboat mark of 103.49 miles an hour, set Thursday at Buenos Aires by Kaye Don, Wood left last night for Miami Beach, where Miss America IX waits the master's hand on the throttle.

Only thirteen days ago, on March 21, Wood drove his broad beamed racing craft over the placid waters of ndian Creek at 102.56 miles an hour breaking the record of Sir Henry O. D. Segrave by a little over three miles an hour. Now, he must try it again.

"We didn't run our fastest mile," he said, in commenting on his previous record-breaking trials.

"The boys are working on her right now. I'll be there Sunday, and we'll see how things go. No, I wouldn't want to say what speed I hope to make. We'll run our trials and let the timers do the talking."

"Beef Trust" Bouts At Toronto Arena

TORONTO, Ont., April 6 (C.P.).—Following a lengthy spell of fistic inactivity, heavyweights open the spring boxing season here to-night. Two second-raters, Tom Heeney, once styled the "hard-rock from down under, and the Cleveland baker boy, Johnny Risko, headline a program catering principally to the "beef-trust."

Heeney and Risko have completed several days' training here and announce themselves ready to put on a show on a par with the "rasslers" who have been getting all the patronage, both fist'c and otherwise, in these parts for some time past. Just what the fans anticipate to-night in this ten-round brawl which causes them to flock to the box office in such large numbers is beyond interpretation. The heavyweights have never been popular here, yet a capacity house is almost assured.

In addition to the main bout potential slug fests are carded. Risko's sparring partner, George Pavlick, promising light heavyweight, will meet Art Weigand, Buffalo, in the semi-final. Two six-rounders complete the program.

Can.-Amer. Finalists Play To Another Tie

SPRINGFIELD, Apr. 6.—Battling for 110 minutes to a 1 to 1 deadlock, the Springfield Indians and the Boston Bruins Cubs halted their hectic struggle here Saturday night in the Eastern States Arena at midnight due to the Sunday sports law. A crowd which taxed the arena watched the two sextettes struggle for supremacy in the fourth game of the three out of five series for the championship of the Canadian-American League.

Coach Frank Carroll's combine registered their tally in the final minute of the opening period when "Obs" Heximer, on a difficult shot pushed the rubber past Grant, the Boston goalie. The second session saw neither outfit scoring, but found the Indians missing several opportune chances. With only five Indians on the ice in the early minutes of the third canto, "Yip" Foster counted for Boston to tie the score which re-

CHICAGO, Apr. 6. — George Trafton, who weighs down the center of the Chicago Bears football line with his 230 pounds and pummeled the "great" Arthur Shires in his prize ring debut, asked the courts to divorce him from his 110-pound wife today because she is cruel to him.

Trafton lost a ring battle to Prime Carners and informed the court he had also lost to Mrs. Alyce S. Trafton, charging that she beat him with a ginger ale bottle, kicked him and tossed a chair and a charving knife at him.

They were married June 14, 1929, at Winona, Minn., and separated last December.

CASUAL COMMENT

The Stars and Sea-horses, winners and runners-up respectively in the City Hockey League, are being entertained to-night at a Capitol Theatre party. They'll attend the nine o'clock show.

* * * * * * *

And H. C. Jay, manager of the Stars, will entertain his team at a fowl dinner to-morrow night at his house. It will begin at eight bells. The boys had better be on time for that.

* * * * * * *

Before we leave hockey, we might say that there is a lot of talk that Tweed may leave the Trent Valley League next winter and join some O.H.A. intermediate league. That would be just too bad for the T.V.L.

* * * * * * *

Still Tweed would have a good intermediate team. They would have their regular goalie, the Geraldi brother, Bill Cripps, Johnny Marchand and others. The last two are Peterborough boys, but are now living in Tweed.

* * * * * * *

See where the C.A.H.A. has adopted a rule which permits all amateur hockey teams in Canada to carry four subs as well as an extra goalie. It will speed the game up, but it may prove tough on small towns.

* * * * * * *

The City Baseball League meets at Duffus' Wednesday night at eight o'clock and there should be a good turnout. The election of officers and the entering of bantam, juvenile and junior teams will take place at this time.

* * * * * * *

A big crowd is expected to be at the Armouries Friday night to see the boxing tournament which starts at eight. About ten bouts and a wrestling match should satisfy the customers.

* * * * * * *

Two scrappers from Toronto and six from Lindsay will meet some of the local biffers, so it's a cinch there'll be no stalling. Two judges and a referee will vote on each winner.

* * * * * * *

There used to be some great boxing shows put on in this town seven or eight years ago. A flock of good boys from Toronto used to come down regularly to mix it with the home talent, and the cards would pack 'em in. Generally at Victoria Hall.

* * * * * * *

This last while, the manly art seems to be somewhat neglected. But Gord Garwood, who used to box professional out west, has a bunch of smart mittsers all set to take on anyone. They'll all be seen in action on Friday night.

* * * * * * *

Bill Kay, chairman of the Reception and Entertainment Committee at the O.B.A.A. convention at the Empress Saturday, wants to express his appreciation to all those who helped make it a success.

* * * * * * *

He thanks the Lock Works for the huge key they made, J. J. Turner & Sons for the "Welcome" banner, the many local business men for their co-operation, the speakers, members of his committee, and any others who helped in any manner.

* * * * * * *

Bill himself deserves a lot of credit for the way he and his hard-working Entertainment Committee did the'r stuff. It's no cinch to pull anything off like a big convention and make it such a successful affair. That's just what those fellows did.

* * * * * * *

We think the visitors all enjoyed themselves a lot. They looked happy, anyway. Many of them said it was the best convention they had ever attended. Well, Peterborough enjoyed having them, and they are always welcome to come back.

Chicago Bowlers Win Annual 5-Pin Classic

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 6.—(C.P.)—S. and L. Motors, Chicago, are team champions of the 1931 American Bowling Congress. The last of the 2,639 teams entered passed by the board last night, winding up the five men competition in the National pin classic. Five diamond medals and first prize of $1,000 go with the title. The Chicago five scored games of 992 and 941 in topping the country's best teams to total 3,013. The same five finished second at Cleveland last year with a mark of 3,082. The score is the lowest to annex the crown in 15 years.

The doubles and singles schedule will be concluded to-night.

ST. CATHARINES WIN SENIOR TITLE

Defeat Assumption in Overtime Play-off Battle at London 33-31.

LONDON Ont. April 6.—St. Catharines Scarlets won the Ontario Basketall Association senior crown and the right to take a jaunt to the Pacific Coast in an effort to take the Dominion laurels in the week of April 19-25. The final of the Assumption-St. Kitts feud was played at the local Technical School gym on Saturday night, and it was only in the last 30 seconds of the necessary overtime period that Newman sunk two free shots in a row to take the game 33 to 31.

Saturday night's tilt was the most terrific cage battle that has been witnessed here for years. Both teams started at a mile-a-minute clip, which they maintained up to the final whistle. It was a battle between champions who played just that way. It was only sensational blocking by the guards on both teams that prevented the score from reaching the century mark. Beautiful sniping from every part of the floor at both baskets was a big feature, and was rivalled by the work of the defence men, who stopped a lot of sure-fire baskets in midair.

The man-to-man style of play was used successfully by both teams without slowing up the game in any way. In the first period the St. Kitts boys got their quota of long-range shots and went into the last half with the idea of breaking right up to the basket. It worked.

When a woman smuggler at the frontier near Palenberfi, north of Aix-la-Chapelle Germany, recently disregarded the order of a customs officer to halt, she was shot and fatally wounded.

CANADA NEED HAVE NO FEAR CONCERNING OLYMPIC HOCKEY

Winnipeg Allan Cup Winners Will Be as Strong as in Former Years.

SPEED TO BURN.

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright, 1931)

WINNIPEG, Man., April 6—Following the convincing two-game victory of Winnipeg Seniors over Hamilton Tigers in the Allan Cup finals by 2 to 1 and 3 to 1, much speculation has arisen in hockey circles as to Canada's chances in the Olympic winter games to be held at Lake Placid, N. Y., early in February, 1932.

There has been an impression abroad that present day Canadian amateur teams are not up to the old-time standard but this idea was virtually dispelled by the display in this year's cup finals especially in the second game when the Hamilton team played up to their very best form and were practically outclassed by the victorious Winnipeg team.

There need be no fear for Canada in the Olympic games if the Winnipegers can show the same brand of hockey they displayed against Hamilton. They looked like a high-class hockey team from goal to centre with two of the speediest wings that have appeared in the amateur game in some years. With Romeo Rivers and Viv Lindquist, the entire team played with machine-like co-ordination and showed unexcelled combination and team work of other forwards.

The superior back-checking covered up what might be their only weakness a rather slow moving defense, but otherwise, the team looked high-class in every respect.

Frank Frederickson, captain of the first Canadian Olympic team, gave it as his opinion that the Winnipegers measured up to the Falcons of 1920 and that team was good enough to win the world's championship at Antwerp. Others shared the opinion expressed by Frederickson. The Winnipegers are certainly great skaters and back-checkers and while they are not good scorers themselves they won't allow their opponents to get very many.

The intention is for the Manitoba A.H.A. to strengthen the Winnipeg team for the Olympic games with a good defence man from one of the other teams in that city and with Kenny Moore, the boy with the broken arm, back on the string forward line, they will have a combination that should worthily uphold the prestige of Canada in the Olympic competition.

The help which their wings were able to give the clever McGowan was a big factor in the Tigers reaching the Allan Cup finals, the help which Louch, Kane, Schwab and Hayhoe were unable to give. McGowan was a big factor in Winnipeg's victory.

Tiger railmen were completely blanketed by the terrific speed of Lindquist, Rivers, Crowley and Garbutt in the second and final game of the series just as they were in the first.

Tiger forwards tried everything they knew to break loose from the relentless checking but to no avail with the result that McGowan was forced to carry the brunt of the offensive work.

And his luck in trying to get anywhere was not so good. He made the mistake of trying to stick-handle his way past tall Hack Simpson but almost always the feet, knees and stick of the Winnipeg centre were in the way. Simpson covered plenty of ice territory.

McGowan however played a fine game of hockey for the Tigers and along with Red Farrell put fight into his team. The speed of the opposition was too much for Beef McKay and Jackie Kane was the Tiger disappointment of the series. However, Kane gave everything he had, never stopped trying but he probably more than any other player on the Hamilton team, was worried by the Winnipegs powerful checking.

Not only did the Winnipeg wingmen give a finished display of back-checking but always they were up for a pass and they knew when to go into the corners and right for the puck and when to quickly drop back to their side of centre.

Canadians everywhere are striking forward on the rising tide of a fresh and vigorous prosperity. And General Motors pays tribute to Canadian achievement with "Canada on Parade", an all-Canadian radio hour every Friday evening. We invite you to listen in.

"More important than all the deliberations of the industry are the family councils on the performance of cars, the atmosphere of service stations and the courtesy of salesmen. Millions of daughters, mothers, sons and fathers are writing the future of the automotive business around the fireside—with no one there to plead the case of the manufacturer, car or dealer. And the verdicts are final."—Motor Magazine.

The verdict, with relation to cars priced between $1290 and $2900, is clear-cut and conclusive: . . . HASTINGS STAR IS CELEBRATING 52ND BIRTHDAY

This Week's Edition Will Mark Anniversary of Village's Weekly Newspaper.

ESTABLISHED IN 1879.

W. W. Knights is Present Owner of Plant—Carry On Flourishing Business.

HASTINGS, April 6. — (Examiner Correspondence.)—The Hastings Star, the village's weekly newspaper, is celebrating its fifty-second anniversary with this week's edition.

The Star was established in 1879 by the late Major John A. Howard, its first issue being printed on an old-fashioned letter copying press and was a four-page sheet 8 x 10. Each page had to be printed separately and for the first three numbers the type had to be distributed after each page was printed. Major Howard first got the idea of starting a printing office when he was in the undertaking business. It was at that time necessary to go to Norwood or Campbellford to get his funeral notices printed, and it was while in Norwood watching Tom Burke, then proprietor of the Register, printing one of these notices for him that he decided to get some type and do the job himself. He secured a font of script type, a heading letter, a brayer for an ink roller and one pound of ink.

Thus from a small beginning, and from the fact that the merchants came in and wanted dodgers printed that the Star had its origin. The name Star was taken from the Cobourg Star, which had just amalgamated with the Sentinel and became the Sentinel-Star. The plant of the Cobourg Star was purchased by Mr. Howard and brought to Hastings on waggons. The issues of the Star were then printed on a Washington hand press, in the upper flat of an old building on New Street, then used by Mr. Howard as a carpenter shop and later by the late Mr. P. M. Howard as a garage. This building was burned down a few years ago. The Star remained in this building far a few years and was then moved down town to a small frame building near John Hawkins' shoe shop. Later the plant was moved to the upper flat of a brick building on Front street, owned by Mr. Jas. Fife next to the Coughlan House. All these buildings, along with the printing plant, were completely wiped out in the big fire of May, 1882. No time was lost in installing a new plant in the upper story of the post office, but for two or three weeks the paper was printed by the Peterborough Review.

As Mr. Howard, senior, had no experience in the printing business, his two sons, Patrick M. and Robert, went to Toronto and learned the trade in the office of the James Murray Printing Co. Robert died in 1889 and J. C. Howard took up the business. Mr. P. M. Howard went into the undertaking and livery business about 1892. In 1893 Mr. J. C. Howard was appointed to a clerkship in the government printing bureau, Ottawa. Both Mr. P. M. and Mr. J. C. Howard have since died. Soon after this Major Howard disposed of the business to the late James H. Scriver. For several years the Star was printed in the post office building. The plant was later moved to the Howard block on Front street, where some years later fire again destroyed the plant; all that could be salvaged was moved to the present building.

About the year 1902 or 1903 Mr. T. E. Scriver, now proprietor of the Wolseley News, Wolseley, Sask., succeeded his mather, the late James H. Scriver. In 1905 Mr. Scriver sold out to Mr. F. S. Hubbs, who carried on until the war broke out, when he enlisted and went overseas. In 1906 the present editor entered the employ of the Star staff, where he spent some few years. During the years of the war the Star was edited by Mr. Knight and Mr. J. C. Wilson, both who learned the business in the local office.

In April, 1919, Mr. C. P. Doughty took charge, carrying on up to February of this year, when he disposed of the plant to Mr. W. W. Knight to accept a good position in the government bureau at Ottawa. During Mr. Doughty's term as editor he installed new presses and much new type to bring the office up to the standard of any weekly in the province.

Several of the graduates of the Star include Mr. Harry Howard, who went to Toledo, Ohio, where he became managing editor of the Toledo News Bee. He died in 1920; Mr. T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., proprietor of the Havelock Standard, and Mr. T. E. Scriver of the Wolseley News.

The only business man remaining form the days of the Star's infancy is Town Clerk Alex Wilson.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of year's standing.

Mr. Alex. Krenbrenk, Clavet, Sask., writes: "Constant indigestion and cramps just about doubled me up. I lost weight; nerves were on edge; felt tired all the time. TANLAC brought back my healthy, vigorous self again; meals digested easily; cramps gone for good."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

The completion of the erection of the 510-foot smoke stack of the International Nickel Company of Canada at Copper Cliff, Ontario, in 1929 gave one of the most outstanding artificial landmarks in Canada. It is visible from hill tops as far distant as 65 miles, while from the air it is easily picked up at 100 miles and will serve as a very helpful point or orientation for travel by both land and air.

STIRLING, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. Robert McLaughlin was the guest of honor at a gathering held in the Town Hall recently, when she was presented with a purse of gold prior to her departure for Toronto where she will reside, the presentation being made by Mrs. Clarence Holmes.

Short speeches were made during the evening by Mrs. Clarence Holmes, Charles Massey, Sam Nicholson, C. Holmes, C. Bowers, Mrs. Donald Longwell, T. H. Ketcheson, Rev. E. B. Sexsmith and others.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

So Sick She Was Unable To Move

Then Dodd's Kidney Pills Brought Relief

"I once had Lumbago so badly that I could not move in bed," writes Mrs. A. W. McCoy, MacLennan, Ont. "I decided that I would try Dodd's Kidney Pills so my husband drove six miles one Sunday evening for a box and the next day I could almost raise up in bed. Before the box was half finished I was able to be around. I therefore say that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy of any kind that I have ever used."

The reason Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to occupy such a prominent place in the home is that so many ordinary everyday ills come from sick kidneys. ase

GOOD FRIDAY MUSIC AT CHRIST CHURCH

Cantata "Penitence, Pardon and Peace" Presented By Anglican Choir.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 6 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Christ Church, Campbellford was filled to capacity on Good Friday evening when an augmented choir under the direction of the organist and choirmaster, William Pearson, A.L.C.M. presented the sacred cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," (Maunder), and other sacred numbers befiting the church season.

The short service preceding the cantata was conducted by the rector, the Rev. N. Clark Wallace. In the place of the Magnificat, Mrs. C. J. Windrim, in her rich soprano, sung pleasingly and with perfect interpretation and expression, "I Love to Tell The Story," and in the place of the Nunc Dimitis the anthem, "There is a Green Hill Far Away" by Gounod was rendered, Miss Emma Meiklejohn singing the soprano solo part with perfect ease and splendid vocal ability.

The cantata, which comprised the second portion of the service, was a musical treat. Well balanced and with perfect expression, the choir handled a very difficult composition tastefully and artistically. The soprano leads and solos were taken by Mrs. J. C. Windrim, who excelled herself in the grand art. The alto leads and solos were sung by Mrs. F. deFree, who in a very accomplished manner sang with feeling and expression, handling difficult parts with the ability of the artist. Major J. M. Bygott was the tenor soloist of the evening, who in his own well recognized style and with perfect ability sang very exacting parts. The bass solos were taken by Walter Henson, who is well known in the district as a bass of merit and fine quality. He gave a splendid account of himself, using his voice to perfection.

CHICAGOANS CHOOSE THEIR MAYOR AS CAMPAIGN CLIMAXES TUESDAY

Both Thompson and Cermak Confident of Recording Record Polls.

RESULT BE UNUSUAL.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 6 (C.P.). — Who is going to be Chicago's World's Fair Mayor?

One more day of a bombardment of words and the voters will decide the question to-morrow, choosing between William Hale Thompson Republican, and Anton K. Cermak, Democrat, immigrant Czechoslovakian, who came up from coal mining to a position of power in politics.

Confidence radiated from both sides as the rival candidates pushed their campaigns without pausing for Easter Sunday. Cermak told his audiences that he felt he would win by the largest vote ever given a mayoralty candidate in Chicago. At the same time he announced that if he is elected he would resign from his office as chairman of the County Board before becoming mayor. The Thompson headquarters issued a statement in which Mrs. Bertha Baur, Republican National Committeewoman, was quoted as saying he would be re-elected by from 100,000 to 125,000.

Unusual Result.

Whatever the result, it is bound to be unusual in Chicago politics.

If Thompson wins it will give him a longer term than any of his predecessors, as he already served twelve years as mayor.

If Cermak is victorious it will put into the mayor's chair for the second time, a man who was not born in the United States.

Cermak, born near Prague, Czechoslovakia, came to the United States as a child, worked as a young man in downstate Illinois coal mines; came to Chicago and built a cartage business in firewood; entered politics and rose to head of the County Board

The mayor who was not born in the United States was Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune, and one of the sponsors of Abraham Lincoln's presidential campaigns. He was born near St. John, New Brunswick, and became Mayor in the post-Civil War days.

Explosion in Canton Power Plant Boiler Room Throws City in Darkness.

CANTON, Miss., April 6.—Two unidentified men were missing to-day as result of an explosion of undetermined cause last night that wrecked the city's $50,000 power and light plant.

Six men, including Allen McBroom, night superintendent of the plant, were hurt and two of them are expected to die. Most of the injured as well as the missing comprised a group of unemployed brick-masons from Mississippi cities who had been given permission by McBroom to sleep in the plant.

The explosion was in the main boiler and was felt two miles away. The city was thrown in complete darkness and the only water supply left was that standing in the municipal reservoir.

Great Football Mentor Is Borne To Final Rest

SOUTH BEND, April 6.— Beneath the spreading branches of Council Oak, a sentinel of peace for centuries, Knute Kenneth Rockne peacefully slept last night.

As the setting sun died in the western sky, streaming its shadows like one last salute on the famous golden dome of Notre Dame, all that was mortal of the greatest fighter of the "Fighting Irish" was lowered last night into the grave.

It was a simple farewell that the world of sport, the boys who fought for him, and the holy fathers with whom he worked and worshipped, gave him yesterday. Yet, it was impressive.

Rockne was carried to his final resting place in Highland Cemetery, by the self same group of "boys," who carried on for him on the football fields of his glory. Firm of step, but heavy of heart, these boys—Tommy Conley, Tommy Yarr, Marchmont Schwartz, Frank Carideo, Marty Brill and Larry Mullins — tenderly took their chieftain to his last earthly home and wept as they watched, with the multitude of thousands, the descent into the grave.

CANADIAN PARTY TOUR TRINIDAD

Delegates Returning From South America Enliven Day By Staging Pet Show.

SHIP RESEMBLES ARK.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, April 6 (By Claude Melancon, C.P. Correspondent).—The large Canadian goodwill and trade mission to South America reached Trinidad to-day on board the S.S. Prince Robert, on their return journey to Halifax, N.S. They spent the day sightseeing in this ancient port, which they had visited more than a month ago on their outward voyage to South America.

Easter Sunday afternoon was enlivened on board by a pet show. Before departure from Pernambuco, Brazil, the party had bought out the stocks of parrots, marmosets, monkeys, parrakeets and honey bears offered by the wharf merchants. The survivors were paraded yesterday and judged. Captain Brown, harbormaster of Montreal who joined the party at Santos, won the first prize for parrots. Prof. W. A. Parks of the University of Toronto was awarded the first prize for marmosets; Miss Jean Robertson, Toronto, took the first prize for monkeys exhibited.

More pets were being bought by the Canadians at Trinidad to-day, and when the Prince Robert docks at Halifax she will probably resemble the Noah's Ark. In the daytime the parrots screech in Portuguese and in the night-time life on shipboard is made interesting with monkeys running loose and visiting strange staterooms, on the hunt for fruits and delicacies.

TROOPS RUSHED TO MADEIRA

LISBON, Portugal, April 6. (AP) Two batteries of light artillery and 600 men from the Lisbon Garrison were dispatched to-day to Funchal, Madeira, to put down the revolt which Saturday night succeeded in wresting power from the military governor there.

The cabinet, after a two hour discussion, ending at two a.m., decided to take stern methods, employing all means at its command to regain control of the island.

MODERN SYSTEMS

A Most Prominent Cleansing and Laundry Establishment

Located on Lansdown street, in Peterborough, is one of the leading Dry Cleaning and Laudry Establishments in this section, featuring a most modern, complete scientific service in all essentials. Five different Laundry services. Phone 3040.

This well-known house has enjoyed an ever increasing patronage because of the reasonableness of charges, the general excellence of work and reliability.

This establishment is popular with all who have tried it and that they put forth their best effort is shown in satisfaction given in each case. The establishment is splendidly equipped for all classes of dry cleaning and no work is too difficult to handle in the satisfactory manner. A speciality is made of the cleaning of ladies' garments, while they have a list of men for whom they do this same class of work that includes almost every man in town who cares anything at all about his personal appearance. The pressing of garments is always correctly done and promptly called for and delivered.

The dry cleaning system used not only cleans your clothes, but thoroughly renovates them in the most sanitary manner. It also turns them out in the most approved styles without the disagreeable ordor that accompanies the work of so many cleaning establishments. The latest cleaning renovating machine in their plant makes it possible for them to handle the most delicate fabrics and turn them out so they look like new.

The business of this house is spreading all over this part of the country and is by no means confined to the city. The rapid increase in the business is due to the management who has displayed more than ordinary ability in the conduct of the affairs of this institution.

It is suggested that if you can't take your work in personally, you take advantage of the parcel post service, or one of the trucks. Phone 3040, Modern Systems. 1d (advt.)

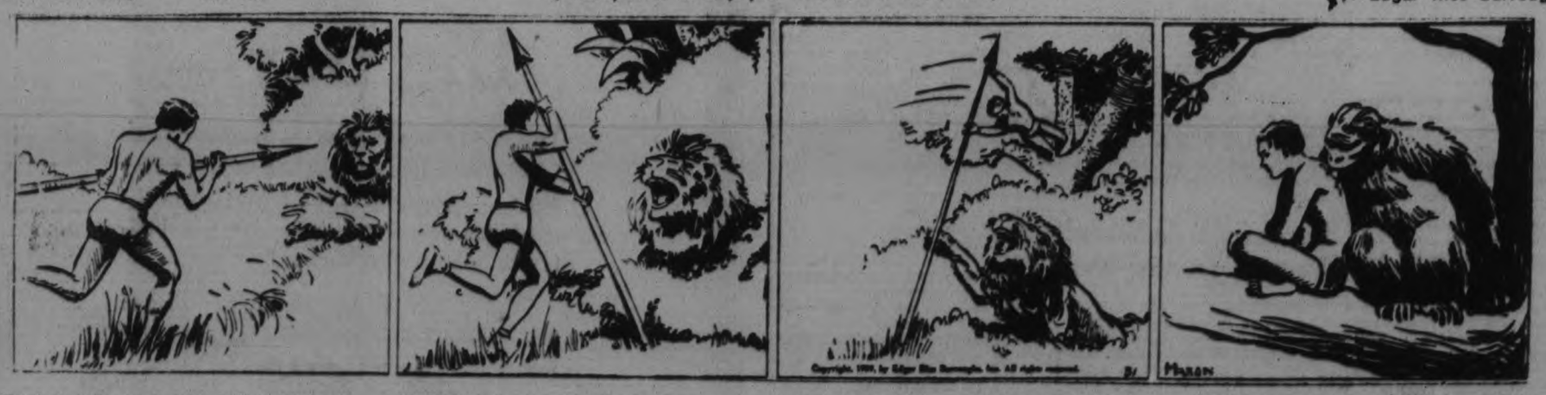
THE SON OF TARZAN No. 31 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs



The feel of the long spear shaft in his hand and the sight of the thorn tree beyond the lion gave the lad an idea. It was a forlorn hope, but his only chance. So, not waiting for the beast to charge, to the astonishment of Akut, he leaped swiftly toward the crouching lion. For a brief second was the lion motionless with surprise, and in that moment the son of Tarzan used an accomplishment of his school days, this time to save his life.

Straight for the savage brute he ran, his spear held butt foremost across his body. Akut shrieked in terror and amazement. The lion stood with wide, round eyes awaiting the attack, ready to rear upon his hind feet and receive this rash creature with blows that would crush a buffalo's skull. Just in front of the lion the boy placed the butt of his spear upon the ground. Before the bewildered beast could guess the trick it was too late.

For the boy gave a mighty spring and sailed over the lion's head into the thorn tree—safe, but bruised. Akut had never seen a pole vault. Now he leaped up and down within the safety of his own tree screaming taunts and boasts at the discomfited Numa. The boy, torn and bleeding, waited a full hour before the angry brute gave up his vigil and strode majestically away. Then he came down from his painful position.

Several days the boy and the ape rested. The great anthropoid licked the tortured flesh of his human friend, lacerated by the tree's sharp thorns, and it soon healed. But never again did the son of Tarzan uselessly tempt fate. When he felt fit once more, they continued on to the coast and at last his much-dreamed-of moment arrived. Passing through the tangled forest he discovered something that set his heart leaping for joy.

EASTER DANCE.
The Easter Danceof The Examiner Social Club on Friday night of this week promises to be a big event. An energetic committee is in charge of arrangements, with Fred Scats as Master of Ceremonies. Fred has arranged a lively program and has some beautiful decorative effects in the club's colors of purple and mauve.

COLOR IN THE THICKETS
There was more color in the thickets throughout the countryside yesterday than on George street, despite the fact that the warm sunshine brought out the ladies in all their Spring finery. The birds gave a real Easter parade. Blue birds, red-wing blackbirds, and high-holders vied for honors in their bright plumage, and all the while the song sparrows piped and trilled heartily for Nature's fashion show.

NO POLICE COURT
Again today the grist of the city police court was still, and Peterborough continues to run up almost unprecedented record for freedom from all forms of crime and lawlessness. Not even a drunk graced the docket this morning. The quietness around the city is apparently getting somewhat boring to the gossips, who have no sensation to relate, but the police force is not complaining.

WEDDINGS

SEIF—FOY.
A very pretty wedding took place on Friday, April 3rd ,at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Foy, Rubidge street, when their eldest daughter, Olive Myrtle, was united in marriage to Robert Oliver Seif, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Seif, of Grand Rapids, Michigan. The ceremony was performed by Staff Captain W. Buntin, of Toronto.

The bride came in on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March. She wore white georgette and radium lace, with white slippers and hose and bouquet of pink roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Clara Foy, wearing pink georgette with radium lace, black satin slippers and carrying pink roses.

Mr. Sidney Shephard, of Toronto, acted as best man.

The gift of the bridegroom to the bride was a white gold wrist watch and the bride presented her attendant with a necklace of crystals.

The young people, who were presented with many useful and beautiful gifts, will reside, after their honeymoon trip, in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Search Fails To Reveal Drowned Trenton Men

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Apr. 6.—(CP)—The bodies of William Damorre and Henry Williams, Trenton, drowned in the Bay of Quinte, early Sunday have not as yet been recovered. All day yesterday and today, a number of boats have been at the scene, dragging the bed of the bay but at this point there is a strong current and it is believed the bodies have shifted. In order to facilitate the finding of the two corpses a plane, owned by Leavens Brothers, of Belleville, has been commissioned to scan the shore line and the outer bay in the hope that the bodies have come to the surface.

OBITUARY

MRS. HARRY NUGENT
The home of Mr. Harry Nugent, London street, was deeply darkened on Monday last when a loving and devoted wife was called away. Deceased, whose death came as a great shock to her husband and friends had been in her usual health and upon retiring Sunday evening was suddenly seized with a hemorrhage and paralytic stroke. She was taken to Nicholls' Hospital and despite all that medical care could do, she passed peacefully away on Monday evening at 6 o'clock, she, never having gained consciousness.

The late Mrs. Nugent, whose maiden name was Ethel Armstrong, daughter of the late Wm. J. and Jane McMaster Armstrong was born in Perth, Ont., and was in her forty-fourth year. She was of a cheerful disposition, home loving, and affectionate, never happier than when she was doing acts of kindness for home and loved ones. She was a friend to all who knew her. On August 27, 1913 she married Harry Nugent of this city and has spent practically all her life here. Theirs was a happy union. The funeral which was largely attended took place from her late residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, The Rev. Dr. Blagrave of St. John's Episcopal church of which deceased was a member, took charge of the solemn and impressive service at the house and grave.

Interment was made in Little Lake cemetery. Left to mourn her loss are her loving and devoted husband, four brothers and six sisters, Sadie, Pearl and John K. of Perth, Mrs. Everett Paden, Kemptville, Wilfred, Montreal, Joseph, Moosejaw, Sask., Harold Wasesa, Sask., Mrs. Franklin Woodcock, Fruitland, Wash., U. S. A., Mrs. Harold McCabe, Stauffeur, Alta., Mrs. Thos. Clarke Calgary, Alta. The beautiful floral offerings which showed the esteem in which the deceased was held were: pillow, husband and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Paden; wreath, Mrs. James Nugent and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Duggan and family; wreath, Wilfred and family, Montreal; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McKerchers and A. Duggan, Oshawa; basket of roses, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Goheen; spray, Mr. and Mrs. W. Elliott and Dorothy; spray, Mr. and Mrs. W. Eason; spray, Mrs. M. McCabe; cut flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Duggan; wreath, employees of the Wm. Hamilton, Mfg. Co.; cut flowers, Mr. and Mrs. R. Portsmouth.

The pall bearers were, Everett Paden, Art Duggan, Earl McKerchers, Will Duggan, Allan Armstrong and Charles Wright. Friends from a distance: Mrs. James Nugent, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McKerchers, Art Duggan, Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Will Duggan, Lakehurst; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dever, Hall's Bridge; Robert and William Dever, Mr. and Mrs. George Cummings and Wilfred, Young's Point; Mrs. Si Blewett, Mrs. Walter Trude, Hall's Bridge; Pearl Armstrong, Perth; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Paden, Kemptville; Allan Armstrong, nephew, Montreal.

MISS M. I. CUNNINGHAM
After a severe illness, the death occurred this morning in Montreal of Mable I. Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cunningham, of Peterborough and formerly of Millbrook.

Miss Cunningham was assistant directress of the Philadelphia Hospital Nursing School. Educated at the Millbrook High School, also gold medalist of McGill University, Montreal, she was formerly well known in this district.

Surviving are her parents, four sisters, Mrs. S. G. Mcdeland, of Montreal; Mrs. Paul Rooney, of Battleford; Mrs. Hugh Rose, of Toronto; and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, of Peterborough; and two brothers, Robert Cunningham of Toronto, and George of North Battleford, Sask.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. from the home of Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, 599 Homewood Avenue. Rev. Wm. McDonald, of Knox Church, will officiate and interment will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. WILLIAM JOHN HUTCHINSON
The death occurred Sunday evening of Mrs. W. J. Hutchinson of 597 Bolivar street after an illness of about two years. Mrs. Hutchinson, formerly Ethel Mirrion Keeping, was born January 22, 1883, in Kent, England, daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. Josiah Keeping. She has resided in Peterborough for the past 20 years. The deceased is survived by her husband; four sons, Albert, George, Cyril and Maxwell; and one daughter Mrs. Kenneth Shadgett, all of Peterborough; her father, three brothers and three sisters in England.

The funeral service will be held from her late home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. William McDonald of Knox United Church will officiate and interment will be made in Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM
WRIGHT—In fond and loving memory of Helen Ann Wright, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wright, who passed away two years ago to-day, April 6th, 1929.
In the graveyard softly sleeping
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly
In her lonely silent grave.

She was too pure for this cold earth—
Too beautiful to stay,
So God's holy angels
Bore our darling away.

All is dark within our dwelling,
Lonely is our home to-day,
For the one who smiled to cheer us has forever passed away.
—Ever remembered by mother, father sisters and brother.

IN MEMORIAM.
JOHNSON.—In loving remembrance of George A. Johnson, who died one year ago to-day:
So quiet, mild, so loving, kind,
His concept of our journey here
Was not for self—his active mind
Brought rich reward. He had no fear.

native will be for the "Varsity" staff to form a joint stock company to carry on the paper along strongly independant and virile lines, and to say what it wants. I am convinced that the red blooded public is a large one."

Allan recalled the fact that the "Varsity", founded in the year 1880, was carried on for ten years by a joint stock company.

Be a Different Paper
"Of course," he continued, "the critics will say conditions are different. Certainly! It would be a different paper too—a paper free from platitudes and apologies."

He explained that the Board of Governors comprises two factions. One says we will discontinue the "Varsity", while the other says let them go ahead.

"I have the feeling that it would not take much to turn the balance in favour of those who wish to discontinue the fee" he observed.

"The fee is the seal of the Board's official approval and I have heard it expressed in effect as follows," said Allan: "We are making ourselves responsible for the views of the paper but in light of developments during the past year or so, we are not to be held responsible for such irresponsible views of undergraduates."

"I say this, that if the Board of Governors feels that an institution which fosters the free expression of opinion which provides a forum for open discussion among undergraduates is not an institution which is worthy of the seal of official approval, then the Board of Governors has not the faintest conception of the role of the University in the contemporary scene" argued Allan.

Recommendations Overridden
The present impasse has arisen over the action taken by the S.A.C. in overriding the recommendations of "Varsity" staff regarding the appointment of an editor. Three staff candidates were refused: A. C. Cochrane, University College; W. S. Johnston, Victoria College; and G. G. Brooks, University College, while the A.A.C. contrary to the expressed wishes of the staff, have appointed W. F. Payton of Wycliffe College to the editorship of the paper for next year.

"If Payton attempts to carry on next year he will not have the support of a single experienced member of the staff," declared Allan. "We have no personal quarrel with Payton but in view of the fact that he was turned down when he ran against me for the position last year we cannot feel any confidence in, his ability to successfully fill the position."

"Furthermore the paper has almost invariable been carried on by undergraduates, and in my opinion Payton will be a graduate next year."

"Cochrane is supported by the "Varsity" staff for the editorship because we think he is best suited and last Tuesday at a meeting of the joint executive of the S.A.C. I spoke in his favour. We are confronted with an unusual situation. The S.A.C. have a new system, whereby they state they can produce a paper which will please the Board of Governors—a paper which they will conduct along safe and sane lines and feel Payton is the man to do it. Cochrane they consider a more of a firebrand as the other recent editors have been" Allan contended in summing up the situation.

No Reports On Probe Into Smuggling Ring

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6 (C.P.).—No report has been received by the Department of National Revenue from Oscar Gagnon of Montreal, who has for the past two weeks been conducting an enquiry into the operations of an alleged smuggling ring in Montreal.

It was declared here to-day that due to the magnitude of these operations, and having regard to the individuals involved, the enquiry had gone beyond the powers of Mr. Gagnon to deal with. A much wider investigation is now contemplated. For this purpose Mr. Justice Gibsone of the Superior Court of Quebec was on Thursday last appointed a commissioner to probe the whole situation.

The Chamber of Commerce is the only organization that has continuous existence. It can maintain a policy and carry it out over a period of years.

GOVERNOR GENERAL ARRIVES IN OTTAWA

Council Holds Up Pumper Repair Bill

PUMPER REPAIRS TOTAL $1,538.53 COUNCIL OBJECTS

Further Storm Drain Work Is Planned by the City Council.

GRANT REFUSED.

Rotary Club is Granted Permission to Use Market Square June 17-18.

Strong suspicion that the city was being overcharged by the La France Fire Engine and Foamite Company, Limited, was expressed last night by the majority of the aldermen when that companys bill for repairs to the fire pumper came up before the City Council. The bill totalled $1,538.53, and most of the councillors were unreserved in voicing their opinion that it was a gross overcharge, despite the fact that Ald. Cotton, chairman of the Fire, Water, and Light Committee, and Alderman Phelan, chairman of the Finance Committee, stated that they studied the company's itemized bill, and thought that it was correct.

Alderman Cotton admitted that he had been surprised at the amount and had requested the forwarding of the detailed account. The bill showed that the mechanics on the job had been paid $1.50 an hour and the helpers $1 an hour. The number of hours given to complete the work was also questioned, and Alderman McNabb suggested that because it was a municipal job the company might be of the opinion that they could overcharge.

The repairs to the pumper were made necessary because of the collision it was in last month at the corner of Reid and McDonnell streets with the Lindsay bus.

"I can't see where the few repairs the bus needed could ever amount to that" stated Alderman Stocker. "Why it wasn't a total wreck, they drove it away under its own power."

The bill was held up for consideration by the Finance Committee and to secure more details.

East City is not going to be Peterborough's dumping ground if Alderman Holland can prevent it. The East City member expressed his objection to the continuance of allowing persons to dump garbage, ashes, tin cans and old cars in the gravel pit on Armour Road. Besides the unsightliness and offensive odour from such dumping, Alderman Holland maintained that some day the pit may prove valuable as a site for a

Arabs Are Arrested For Slaying Of Jews

HAIFA, Palestine, April 7.—A. P.)—A number of Arabs in villages near Nablous, not far from here, have been arrested by officers investigating slaying of three Jews and wounding of four more Sunday night as they were returning to the town.

Ten thousand Jews followed the coffins of those killed to the cemetery where they were buried.

Police learned to-day of an alleged similar attack on seven Arab merchants travelling south from Hebron. The assailants, who may have been brigands killed one merchant, wounded another and robbed all of them.

All Palestine has been shaken by the slaying of the three Jews, who were understood to be returning peaceably to their homes. Jewish colonists are again feeling insecure.

Uninvited Nobles Throng to Wedding

PALERMO, Italy, April 7. — (C.P.). — Uninvited 1,000 aristocratic and noble guests were gathered here to-day from all Europe to attend to-morrow's wedding of Prince Henri, Count of Paris, heir to the supposed French throne, and Princess Isabelle Marie D'Orleans and Braganze, descended from the Royal Houses of France and Brazil.

This gathering of Europe's aristocrats has been one of the strangest social events of years. They came in answer of a general broadcast saying that all those of certain rank who wanted to come would be welcome.

FATHER PERISHES WITH 7 CHILDREN AS CABIN BURNS

Victims Asleep in Log Structure Have No Chance to Escape.

BESIDE OHIO RIVER.

One Son, Badly Burned, Rushes For Aid, Which Arrives Too Late.

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio, Apr. 7. — A father and seven of his children were burned to death early today when fire destroyed the log cabin home at Swan Creek, ten miles from here. The father was James White, 59.

The cabin located on the banks of the Ohio River, burned quickly and the victims had no opportunity to escape. In addition to White, the dead are: Mary, 20; James, 18; John, 14; Ina, 9; Mae, 5. Twin daughters, Nora, and Dora, 3.

One son, George, 12, although seriously burned, succeeded in reaching a neighboring cabin and sounded an alarm. The neighbors rushed to the scene, but by the time they arrived the tinder-like log cabin was an inferno, and they could do nothing to effect a rescue.

The cause of the blaze was undetermined.

PETERBORO' GIRL AIDED IN RESCUE OF VIKING CREW

Adjutant Pearl Payton Was One of the Nurses Who Went to Assist Survivors.

RELATES EXPERIENCES.

Picked Up Three Men Floating on a Small Ice Pan.

A Peterborough girl who assisted in the rescue of the survivors of the sealing vessel "Viking" which was wrecked and sunk by an explosion in its stern Sunday night, March 15, off Horse Island, White Bay, Newfoundland, relates her harrowing experience in the current issue of "The War Cry", the Salvation Army's weekly published in Toronto.

Adjutant Pearl Payton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Payton, 320 King street, is head nurse in The Army's Grace Hospital at St. John's, Newfoundland. She was one of three nurses, two of them from Grace Hospital, who responded to the Newfoundland Government's emergency call immediately on receipt of news of the Viking tragedy. Adjutant Payton was dispatched with three doctors aboard the relief steamer "Sagona" carrying food and medical supplies.

Press reports recounted the details of the loss of the "Viking" with a score of its crew in the ice pan off the east coast of Newfoundland. The gripping chapter of the "Sagona's" rescue of survivors is reproduced from "The War Cry" as follows:

Three Men on Pan of Ice

What of the rescue party, composed of Drs. Moores, Patterson and Martin with Nurse Berrigan and Adjutant Payton? On reaching the open sea, they were, for twenty-four hours the victims of the awful roll of the boat. "By this time," says Adjutant Payton, "we had struck floating ice. All hands were on the lookout for any survivors who might be on the ice. On Tuesday a small black spot was sighted in the distance, and as we got nearer a frantic waving of flags convinced us that these were survivors. Soon we discovered three men on a little

Will Gandhi Wear Native Garb?

MISS MADELINE SLADE SPINNING FOR GANDHI GARMENTS • PREMIER MACDONALD IN FORMAL ATTIRE

The impending visit of Mahatma Gandhi, India's national leader, to the second Round Table Conference in London, may bring forth complications which will tax the ingenuity of Premier Ramsay MacDonald. The self-devised spinning wheel on which is spun Gandhi's sparse wardrobe, by the hand of Madelaine Slade, daughter of a former British Admiral, will accompany him on his trip, as will also his tin pans, cups, and pails. If he should visit King George, he will, it is certain, appear before His Majesty in his customary garb of the now famous loin cloth.

SEVEN INJURED AS CAR COLLIDES WITH FIRE TRUCK

Firemen Crossing Against Red Light Hurled From Vehicle By Impact.

Kingston Rd.-Woodbine Ave.

Father and Son Removed Unconscious From Sedan—One May Die.

TORONTO, Apr. 7.—(CP) — Seven persons were injured, one it is feared fatally, when a fire truck, northbound on Woodbine Avenue was hit by a west bound automobile at Kingston Road early this afternoon.

The injured include five firemen who were thrown from their truck by the force of the impact and the two occupants of the sedan who were removed from their overturned machine in an unconscious condition.

Albert Hoflick, driver of the sedan was removed to the hospital and is reported to be suffering from serious internal injuries, while his son Albert Hoflick, Jr., who was a passenger in the sedan is suffering similar injuries

The five firemen injured include District Chief George Henderson, back injuries; Fireman John McClusky, foot injury; Lieut. William Shannon, back injured; Fireman Robert Barrett, head and facial injuries, and Fireman James Kennedy who was not seriously hurt.

Crossing Against Light

According to an eye witness the red light at the intersection was against the fire truck and the automobile started to cross the street. The collision occurred in the middle of the intersection the car crashing into the centre of the hose truck.

When the collision occurred, all the firemen were thrown from the truck by the force of the crash. The car tumbled towards the northside of the street and turned completely over and came to rest on its side.

The fire truck out of control after the accident, circled madly to the side of the road where it crashed into a cement pole.

High Dignitaries of State Extend Official Welcome

Station Platform is Riot of Blooms as Earl and Countess of Bessborough Step From Special Train—Cheering Throngs Line Route, Gay With Bunting, to Gov't House.

SALUTE OF NINETEEN GUNS FROM PARLIAMENT HILL GREETS THEIR EXCELLENCIES UPON ARRIVAL IN CITY

Mayor J. J. Allen Reads Address of Welcome Replete With References of Felicitation and Loyalty—Message From St. George's Society President Follows Same Lines.

OTTAWA, Ont., Apr. 7. —(CP)— In no way fatigued by their arduous journey from the Atlantic coast, and manifesting every pleasure at the enthusiasm which marked their reception in the Capital City, Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Bessborough arrived in Ottawa at 11 o'clock today.

The city was en fete. Flags and bunting streamed everywhere along that section which the Vice-Regal party traversed on their way to Government House; at the station the grey sombreness of the interior was relieved by a riot of bloom which banked the platforms where their Excellencies disembarked.

All the high dignitaries of state were present. The Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, and members of the Government were joined by the Premiers or other representatives of the nine Provinces whose conference with the Dominion Government coincided happily with the arrival of the Governor General.

On behalf of the city, Mayor J. J. Allen read an address of welcome, replete with references of felicitation and loyalty. "During Your Excellency's term of office," said His Worship, "you will be called upon to visit all sections of this far-flung Dominion; but Ottawa will be your home and we shall thus have the high honor of co-citizenship with you. Perhaps we may, therefore, be privileged to express a deeper and more personal interest in Your Excellencies and bid you a wlcome that we can assure you is most sincere and friendly.

"We are aware of the distinguished services which your family has rendered to the Empire for many centuries, and we note with pride that you have well upheld the traditions of your family in this respect. It is accordingly gratifying to the citizens of Canada, and especially so to the residents of this Capital city of Canada that His Majesty King George V, has been pleased to recognize your services and your ability by appointing you as his representative on one of his most important dominions."

Pledges Allegiance

"We take this opportunity," continued His Worship, "to reaffirm our fealty and devotion to His Majesty King George V. and to pledge to His Majesty's representative in Canada our loyal allegiance.

The citizens of Ottawa are already captivated and charmed by the gracious reputation which has preceded Her Excellency, and I have the honor to extend to the Countess of Bessborough the same cordial greeting that is accorded to Your Excellency.

"It is the earnest hope of all our citizens that Your Excellencies will find our city a pleasant one in which to reside, our country one of opportunity for distinguished service to His Majesty and its people worthy of your esteem."

Striking a similarly high note of loyalty and affection was the address

CARDINAL ROULEAU IMPROVING

QUEBEC, Que., April 7. (CP)—The condition of Cardinal Raymond Marie Rouleau, who entered the Hotel D'ieu Hospital last Thursday on the advice of his physician, was reported to-day to be very satisfactory.

The Cardinal, who was injured in an automobile accident late last summer, was advised by his doctor to rest for a few days.

MISS M. BENNETT WEDS APRIL 14

Premier's Sister to be Canadian Hostess in Washington as Major Herridge's Bride.

Travel To England, Europe.

OTTAWA, Ont., Apr. 7. — The marriage of Miss Mildred Marian Bennett, only sister of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, to Major William Duncan Herridge Canadian Minister plenipotentiary to the United States, will be solemnized at 3:30 o'clock on Tuesday, April 14th, at Chalmer's Church here. Rev. Dr. John W. Woodside will officiate.

Invitations have been issued by the Prime Minister for a hotel reception to be held immediately following the ceremony and both the service and reception are planned to be of as quiet a nature as is possible.

The couple will leave for New York following the reception and will sail from there on Thursday for England where Major Herridge will appear in several cases before the Privy Council. Major Herridge and his bride will also visit Denmark

DOMINION PROVINCIAL CONFERENCE GETS UNDER WAY AT CAPITAL CITY

Gov't Favors Parley to Discuss Ways of Amending Constitution Bennett States.

PRIVATE SESSION.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 7 (C.P.).—The Dominion-Provincial Conference for discussion of proposed legislation growing out of the Imperial Conference met here in brief opening session this morning. Called to order a few minutes after ten o'clock, the conference adjourned at about a quarter to eleven in order that those attending might be on hand to welcome Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough on their arrival in the Dominion capital.

The meeting this morning was featured by the statement of Premier R. B. Bennett that the Dominion Government favored a conference within the next two or three years to discuss methods of amending the constitu-

Fog Covers Paris; Day Becomes Night

PARIS, April 7.— (A.P.) —A blackish pall of fog enshrouded Paris this forenoon, transforming daytime into night. As the authorities failed to put on the street lights a number of minor collisions took place. The combination of darkness and slippery asphalt over which automobiles zigzagged bumping into others made a phenomenon such as Paris has not seen in years.

FORMER O.H.A. PRESIDENT DIES

Charles Farquharson Passes Away Following Major Operation in Toronto Hospital.

PROMINENT HOCKEY PLAYER

A former president of the O.H.A. in 1913-14-15, and one time star hockey player for the City of Stratford in amateur hockey passed away in Toronto last night in the person of Charles Farquharson, prominent furniture manufacturer and president of the Farquharson-Gifford Company, Limited of Stratford. The deceased underwent a major operation in Toronto, but failed to rally.

Born in Stratford of a pioneer family, Mr. Farquharson received his education there, and then started to work as a bookkeeper with the McLagan Furniture Company. Some twenty years ago he went into partnership with F. M. Gifford of Stratford and they formed the Farquharson-Gifford Furniture Company, which firm has steadily grown to occupy a position of prominence in furniture circles.

UNPAID TAXES IN PETERBORO' TOTAL $55,566

$37,622.33 IN 1930.

Every Effort is Being Made By Tax Collector to Get Unpaid Taxes.

There is still $55,566.38 of the 1930 taxes that Tax Collector Green has been unable to collect. Last year to the same date the amount of uncollected taxes on the 1929 rolls totalled $37,622.33 or $17,943.95 less than now outstanding.

The city's overdraft at the bank at the present time is $408,592.25, an increase of $73,859.70. This overdraft will not be wiped off and a balance placed in the city's favor until the second instalment of the 1931 taxes have been paid.

"The amount of taxes unpaid is much more than usual at this time of the year, and there is no prospect that the collector's rolls will be ready to be returned before May 1," stated City Treasurer Frank Adams, in reporting to the Council the city's financial standing. "The collector's rolls for 1931 will be completed by May 15, and I would recommend that they be given to the collector when ready, so that he may have ample time to get the tax bills made out and ready for delivery by June 15".

It is not customary for the collector's rolls to be accepted until the taxes for the previous year have been collected, but in the past several years the prospect of collecting some of the outstanding taxes seemed so slim that in order to speed up the tax rolls the Council has passed a motion accepting the next year's roll when ready. A motion to this effect was passed by the Council last night.

Telling of the uncollected taxes in Council, Mayor Denne stated that Tax Collector Green was making every effort to secure those unpaid.

It is understood that a large part of the $55,566.38 outstanding in taxes was made up of some half dozen merchants in the downtown area.

In the last 12 months unsuccessful attempts were made to close 2,000 footpaths in England.

Two Indian Wizards To Die for Murder

PATNA, India, April 7 (C.P.).— Two local wizards to-day were sentenced to death for having made a living sacrifice of a young boy in the practice of their black magic.

Evidence showed that the sorcerers first kidnapped the boy, an unusually handsome fellow, and then murdered him on Shasti night, which is considered auspicious for sacrifices.

The head of the boy was severed with one stroke of the knife, as is the case in goat sacrifices. The remaining part of the body was then thrown in a well.

SUSPECT TAKEN AFTER LONG RUN

Youth Captured in Woods Near Guelph Wanted For Attack on Police Officer.

SIXTH ARREST.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 7.—After a long chase through a woods bordering the Guelph Highway, police to-day captured Thomas Costello, aged 16, on charges of assaulting a police officer. This is the sixth arrest made in connection with the brutal beating given Motorcycle Officer John Arro just a week ago, when he attempted to arrest a group of men in a stolen car.

The police received word that Costello, whose brother is already in the toils, was on a farm near the Guelph Road. Provincial Constable Maguire, accompanied by Detective Howard, went to the farm, but Costello spotted them from a distance and fled to the woods. He was finally located and placed under arrest.

FLIER AHEAD OF KINGSFORD SMITH'S TIME.

RANGOON, Burma, April 7 (C.P.). — Charles William Anderson Scott, British aviator, who is attempting to break Wing Commander Charles Kingsford Smith's nine-day record from England to Australia, arrived here to-day, refuelled and took off again for Victoria Point.

When he left Calcutta this morning he was six hours ahead of Kingsford Smith's mark, although a half-day behind his own planned time.

APPOINTMENT OF BISHOP O'CONNOR TO LONDON DIOCESE IS FORECAST

Three Names Have Been Forwarded to Rome For Consideration By Vatican.

NEED EDUCATIONALIST.

LONDON, April 7.—The appointment of Rt. Rev. Dennis O'Connor, Bishop of the Diocese of Peterborough, to be Bishop of London to succeed the late Bishop Fallon, is believed assured by one here close to the powers that be.

As in the case of appointment of bishops of the Roman Catholic Church, three names have been forwarded to Rome for consideration by the Vatican, it was learned to-day, and the name of Dr. O'Connor was first. Second, was that of Msgr. A. P. Mahoney, Principal of St. Peter's Seminary and administrator of the diocese since Dr. Fallon's death, and third that of Rev. Fr. Hubert Dignan, of Windsor. This was known before, but it is now learned that after the funeral of the late bishop, Msgr. Cassulo, the papal delegate to Canada, suggested that the position go to Bishop O'Connor if he desired it, and the latter said he would come to London if the Vatican thought it

Twins Are Born In Two Counties To Same Mother

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Eng., April 7 (A.P.).—The birth of twins in different counties and on successive days set the old wives' corner a-huming to-day.

Mrs. C. D. Purvis became a mother of a girl at New Harrington, County of Durham, last night. Her condition became so serious that doctors ordered her removal to a maternity hospital here, about fourteen miles distant in the County of Northumberland. The other twin—a boy—was born to-day.

Not a Radio License To Be Had In City

Several radio owners in the city went out to-day to buy a radio license, so that they might remove the dread of an inspector visiting their homes and hailing them before Magistrate Langley for failure to comply with the law which requires every set owner in the Dominion to have a radio license before April 1. The fear of the inspector and a fine is still with them, because strange to relate there wasn't a radio license for sale in the city.

The Examiner decided to check up on the story and inquired at the Post Office and radio stores where licenses are usually kept for sale. Everywhere the answer was the same, "Sorry, but we are out of licenses to-day. But we are expecting some within a few days."

The Post Office clerk offered the information that already nearly 1,000 licenses had been sold in Peterborough, but fails to cheer the set owner who is inclined to imagine that every football on his veranda is the tramp of the prying Government inspector.

Traveller Who Knows Chicago Badmen Goes Armed, But Prefers Field Glasses

EVANSTON, Ill., April 7 (C.P.). — A small car slipped along the dimly lighted boulevards of Evanston early to-day. A squad of officers sighted it, became alarmed at the great show of firearms, chased it several blocks, and finally managed to bring it to a halt.

The police levelled their pistols at the heavily armed driver, and ordered him to surrender. Which he did.

My name's Clyde O. Genter, he explained, his teeth chattering. I'm on my way from Winter, Wis., to my home in Scottville, Mich. I've got to pass through Chicago. I ain't taking any chances with gangsters and hold-up men. That 12-gauge shotgun and .45 calibre revolver is to fight it out with them if they attack me—

Yeh? said the police sergeant, but what's this pair of field glasses doing in your car?

That's it, said Genter. If they get to chasing me I intend to get so far ahead of them I'll have to look through the field glasses to see if they're still following me.

They wished him Godspeed.

Circus Girl Falls—Lies at Death's Door; Husband, True to Tradition, Carries On

.....LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 7 (C.P.). — True to circus tradition, Alexander Acezvo carried on with his aerial acrobatic act last night while his wife, Aurora, 30, lay near death from a plunge to earth a few hours before.

Acezvo, aided by others, pulled his wife to the top of the Al. G. Barnes tent yesterday. She and three others, suspended on by rubber mouthpieces clamped between their teeth, began to spin rapidly in a "butterfly" set. Suddenly, as hundreds gasped in horror, Mrs. Acezvo dropped. Her hubband ran forward to break her fall with his body, but she crashed Limp at his feet.

Acezvo walked across a slack wire high above the ground in perfect balance at the night performance. Mrs. Acezvo was still unconscious at the Hollywood Police Emergency Hospital early to-day. Attendants said her skull and pelvis apparently had been fractured. It has not been determined whether she lost her grip or a swivel broke.

RESTING IN BARN VISITOR EXPIRES NEAR BELLEVILLE

Unidentified Man Succumbs at Farm on Belleville Outskirts.

TIRED AND WORN OUT.

Inquest is Opened by Coroner Dr. W. W. Burgess—50 Years of Age.

BELLEVILLE, April 7.—A man unidentified by the police is at a local undertaker's parlor, having been found dead in a barn owned by Fred McDonald on the outskirts of the city, yesterday afternoon. An inquest was opened under Dr. W. W. Boyce, Coroner, and adjourned for one week. Coroner Boyce has ordered a post-mortem, but the cause of death is believed in police circles to have been malnutrition and heart failure. The man is past 50 years of age, hair quite grey, height about 5 feet 10 inches, all his teeth being missing. This man early yesterday inquired of Mr. McDonald if he could rest in the barn for a short time, as he had walked far, and was tired. Mr. McDonald gave him permission, and he streched himself out on the floor, while Mr. McDonald went about his occupations on the farm. Late yesterday afternoon, not seeing the man leave, he went into the barn, and was horrified to find the visitor lifeless. He notified the police, and High County Constable Bert Hammer went to the scene. Apparently the man had tramped some distance, for his boots showed excessive signs of wear, while his clothing was scant.

Crown Counsel Named For Judge E. Gibsone

MONTREAL, Que., April 7. (CP)—Noel Belleau, K.C., of Quebec City, and Oscar Gagnon, K.C., Montreal, have been appointed Crown Counsel for Judge G. F. Gibsone who has been appointed commissioner to investigate alleged liquor running operations along the St. Lawrence river, the Gazette says to-day in a despatch from Ottawa. While no particulars have been given out it is understood that this inquiry, which was started originally with Oscar Gagnon as investigating officer, will centre mainly in Quebec City. It will report on allegations that the Dominion Department of Internal Revenue has been mulcted of millions of dollars yearly by the smuggling of liquor into Quebec Province.

114 GO ON TRIAL IN BURMA.

PYAPON, Burma, April 7 (C.P.). A trial on a wholesale scale opened to-day when a special tribunal began hearing the cases of 114 persons including one woman, accused in connection with the December rebellion in the Tharawaddy district.

The prisoners are charged with attempting to wage war against the King and kindred offences. Approximately 2,000 are expected to be tried on similar charges.

PROMINENT HYDRO MAN DROPS DEAD.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 7 (C.P.).—Internationally known for his construction work in various Canadian and United States Hydro construction projects, George H. Angell, 64, superintendent of the harbor Hydro project, a $30,000,000 enterprise, dropped dead while at work yesterday.

King Despite Illness Attends Daily Tasks

WINDSOR, Eng. April 7. (AP)—Despite his illness, the King has kept right up with the official tasks which are his as Britain's Monarch.

In his private rooms, while the wind outside beat rain against the grey walls of Windsor Castle in one of the most dismal London Easter seasons on record, he has gone through lengthy reports, signed a large number of documents, and transacted other official routine.

As long as the present dismal weather lasts it is almost certain that he will not leave his rooms, but with a change to warm sunny weather he would venture outside to seek the benefit of sunshine.

WINDSOR MAYOR SCORES MINISTRY

Government is a Party in Gas Monopoly Declares Chief Magistrate.

TO TAKE VOTE.

WINDSOR, April 7. (CP)—Windsor ratepayers are to have an opportunity to express their opinion on a franchise for the Southern Ontario Gas Company in competition with the present service of the Windsor Gas Company.

Following that vote the Council will decide whether or not to ask the Minister of Mines, Hon. Charles McCrea, to sanction a franchise under the powers conferred upon him at the last session of the Ontario Legislature.

It is the ratepayers and gas consumers, and not the Government, who should have the decision on the matter, Mayor Croll declared yesterday in announcing plans for a special vote on the franchise question, regardless of the new legislation which gives the Government the final word.

Inconsisten, He Says.

Accusing the Government of inconsistency, the Mayor declared: "They prosecuted the A.B.C. and may send some of its members to jail, because they said it was a monopoly. The Federal Government broke up the Proprietary Articles Trades Association, sponsored by the druggists, for the same reason. They said it was a monopoly and in restraint of trade. They have brought the Combines Act into action against these two associations.

"The City of Windsor and the people of Windsor are not interested greatly in the reasons for the fight between the gas companies, which we understand originates in a struggle for territory at Hamilton. We don't care about that at all. We are interested, and we are greatly interested, in a chance to get cheaper gas.

"What is behind the Government's action in this?" he wanted to know. "We are no more the friends of the Dominion companies than we are of the Union, but it is difficult to escape noting that this legislation, if carried into final effect, shuts the Dominion out of Windsor and London, while, on the other hand legislation was granted a couple of weeks ago which lets the Union compete against the Dominion in Hamilton territory previously held by the Dominion, but bars the Dominion from entering the part of Hamilton which the Union has held.

MAN IS WOUNDED IN THE SHOULDER BY RIFLE BULLET

Cecil Fowler of North Monaghan Was Admitted to Nicholls Hospital.

NOT THOUGHT SERIOUS.

Rifle Discharged While Lying on Wagon Between Bags of Chop.

Cecil Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fowler of North Monaghan, was admitted to Nicholls Hospital yesterday, suffering from a gunshot wound, the result of the accidental discharge of a .22 rifle. He is under the care of Dr. J. Malcolm McCulloch, who declined, when asked by The Examiner, to discuss the young man's condition. It is understood, however, that the wound is not regarded as serious, and that the patient is resting comfortably.

Interviewed by The Examiner, Mrs. George Fowler, the young man's mother, was unable to throw much light on the affair.

She stated that Cecil had left home accompanied by his cousin, Hiram Moncrief, aged eleven or twelve years, with a load of chop, yesterday forenoon. They were proceeding to Mount Pleasant and had taken along with them a .22 rifle, which was placed on the load. The rifle did not lock properly, said Mrs. Fowler.

Describing the wound, she answered that the bullet had penetrated through the front of the righ arm, and had come out at the back of the right shoulder.

Following the accident, Mrs. Fowler stated, her son and the younger boy returned home; Cecil was faint from loss of blood, and following the arrival of the doctor, he was removed to hospital.

Briand Will Attend London Conference

PARIS, April 7 (C.P.).—Aristide Briand will attend the conference of European statesmen called by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, to meet in London, it was admitted in official circles to-day.

It was also stated that the conference probably will be held early in May, and that it is expected to develop into a sort of preliminary session of the Council of the League of Nations.

The only possible impediment to Briand's attending, his friends said, would be the possibility that Parliament might elect him President of the French Republic at the coming election.

FARMERS MEET ON SATURDAY

Right of Way Association Will Be Formed at Court House.

SAFEGUARDING OF RIGHTS.

Farmers in this district whose properties are traversed by the high tension line of the Hydro-Electric Commission from the Ottawa River to Toronto are reminded of the meeting at the Court House Saturday, April 11, for the organization of a Right-of-Way Association which is proposed for the protection of their interests.

Reeve Fred McIntyre of Otonabee has received letters of approval from farmers in Peterborough, Hastings and Durham county who have expressed a wish to align themselves with this organization which will likely be patterned after a similar association of farmers in Pickering township, Ontario county.

As a result of representations to the Hydro-Electric Commission by the Pickering Association, the Commission agreed to give the farmers better treatment generally in regard to the use of their properties for the erection of the necessary power line towers; to give consideration individual cases of damages, frontages, etc.; also increased tower payments to be made retroactive; no more telephone lines to be erected; some consideration to be given the farmer in his farm layout in respect to the placing of towers; also to keep Hydro workmen off other parts of the farms; prompt advice as to the route of new tower lines; also to pay for the two proposed new tower

BOUNDARY CASE TO BE REVIVED

International Commissional Will Report on Rainy Lake Watershed Levels.

EXPECT NO DECISIVE ACTION

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 7.—(By Ken Clark, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)—The International Joint Commission will assembly here to-morrow for an executive session during which reports on the levels of the Rainy Lake watershed on the International Boundary between Ontario and Minnesota will be received and discussed. No decisive action will be taken.

The question of what shall be done with the waters between International Falls and the height of land at North Lake extending for 200 miles through the Superior National Forest and the Quetico Reserve, has been under consideration by the Commission since 1925 when it held the first hearing on the subject of International Falls. The question is whether this territory shall be conserved as a natural park or whether it shall be developed for its water power.

The Minnesita Ontario Power Company, Backus and Brooks Company, and other interests have already made some developments in parts of the area.

Residents of the section, the Isaac Walton League and conservation organizations have demanded that no further dams or works should be put into these waters.

The oint commission some years ago delegated Major P. C. Bullard of the United States' army engineers, and S. S. Scovil, a Canadian engineer, to make a complete survey of the situation not only with respect to water levels but also having consideration for the economic aspect. Further reports will be received at to-morrow's session.

British-German Meet Is Being Arranged

LONDON, April 7 (A.P.)—Discussions affecting the future of Europe are expected to take place in a projected visit of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening of Germany and the Reich's Foreign Minister, Julius Curtius, to London, probably next month.

The two Germans will come at the invitation of Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, who also has asked Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister. Since a date convenitent to all may be difficult to arrange, the meeting may be simply a British-German affair.

During a recent conference of Mr. Henderson and M. Briand in Paris, the Foreign Secretary expressed regret that German representatives were not present, since there were several matters that he wished to discuss with them.

BELLEVILLE HOLSTEIN BREEDERS HOLD 21ST ANNUAL STOCK SALE

Sixty-Two Animals Offered on Block, Twelve of These Being Yearling Bulls.

KEEN BIDDING

BURNBRAE, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—An important event in Holstein history of Central Ontario was held on Wednesday, April 1, when the twenty-first consecutive annual sale of the Belleville Holstein Breeders was held in the tables of the Belvidere Hotel.

In his opening remarks, the popular veteran sales manager, James Caskey, commenting on the fact that the organization had attained its majority, recounted a little of the history of Holsteins in the district. R. B. Faith, director of extension for the Holstein Association, commended the work of the Belleville breeders and expressed a strong belief in better times ahead for the cattle industry.

Norman Montgomery, auctioneer for the day, has achieved something of a record in that he has sold for the Belleville club on eighteen of the twenty-one years. The only other men to wield the hammer have been George Tice of Belleville, and George Jackson and Son, of Port Perry.

Some sixty-two animals were offered for sale on Wednesday, twelve of these being yearling bulls. Some keen bidding marked the appearance of the favorites. M. C. Reynold's first prize bull at the morning judging class went to C. Cole of Wooler at $80. J. V.Lochlin's second prize animal was too black to suit the crowd and dropped at $50. D. H. Dick and Son secured $105 for their third place bull, while A. Parks' fourth prize winner topped the bulls at $125 to Milton Maybee, former M. P. for Northumberland. He was exceptionally well bred with good butter-fat backing. His stable mate won eighth prize and sold for $115, while A. T. Sirett with $100 for his fifth prize bull was the only other entry in the select class. The others ranged from $40 to $80 each.

B. C. Bishop, of Wellington, topped the sale with his nine-year-old cow, Johanna Myrtle Wayne. James Caskey secured her at $200 after a keen contest with Dunham Foster. It is believed that Mr. Caskey will resell her at the National sale in Toronto on April 18. She was a cow of splendid conformation with a top-line beyond compare, and unusually good record backing.

Archibald Parks, of Napanee, who has sold 106 animals through the Belleville ring, had a splendid string of five females from two to four years of age which sold at $130, $140, $150, $155 and $160 for the best average of the sale.

Most of the other forty-odd females of milking age sold from $80 to $130, with one yearling heifer for $45. Mr. Harvey Grimmon, of Picton, was a heavy buyer of the medium priced stuff for shipment to Eastern Canada. Mr. J. J. Wilmott, of Kingston, was also a keen bidder on many of the good ones and secured a number.

While the average for the sale and the top figure are much below last year the breeders in general feel that their offerings received very fair treatment at the hands of the buyers.

Up to the Minute

The Earle family prided themselves on being in tune with the times. They were modern to their finger-tips. So when they decided to become "suburbanites" they arranged about their summer cottage by Long Distance. It was, said Mrs. Earle, "the only sensible way to do it!"

HOME TOWNERS

Tidbits, Interesting and Humorous CAMPBELLFORD

A very delightful and profitable sale of home cooking was held on Saturday by the members of St. Mary's Parish, in the store recently occupied by the Shannon Millinery, Front street. A large number patronized this project, which is an annual Easter Saturday event.

Mrs. H. Young of Peterborough was the guest over the holiday of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Riendeau, Rear street.

County Magistrate Floyd of Cobourg was a business visitor to town on Saturday.

Mrs. M. P. Cairns is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Goheen at Simcoe.

Mr. C. H. Davidson was a business visitor to Oshawa on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Craighead, Mrs. McMurtry and Mrs. Margaret Brodie were visitors to Cobourg on Sunday, the guests of friends there.

Mrs. C. J. Windrim was host to a few friends on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Brown spent the Easter holiday in Lindsay, the guest of the latter's mother, Mrs. Ringland.

Mrs. W. A. Whitthun of St. Catharines was the Easter guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wood and his wife, Mrs. Whitthun.

Mr. Carl W. Maguire of Toronto was the holiday guest of his father, Mr. S. A. Maguire.

The Misses Nellie and Irene Davidson of the Toronto teaching staff spent the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Davidson.

Miss Dorothy Kingston, B.A., of the College of Education, Toronto, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kingston, over the Easter holidays.

Mr. John Callaghan and Mr. Max Watters, both of the Bank of Montreal staff, Kingston, spent the holidays at their respective homes.

Mr. T. B. Horkins of Toronto is the holiday guest of his parents, Mr and Mrs. T. J. Horkins.

Girl Falls 40 Feet At Circus May Not Live

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 7.—(CP)—Hurtling forty feet to the ground when a leather mouthpiece to which she was clinging by her teeth suddenly gave way, Auroria Acezvo, 30, a performer with the Al G. Barnes circus, was probably fatally injured here yesterday.

Miss Acezvo was suspended with two other girls in a "butterfly" act the climax of which was reached by spinning their bodies rapidly.

Hundreds of spectators screamed as the young woman fell. Many rushed to aid the performer.

Emergency hospital surgeons said Miss Acezvo had a basal skull fracture and held little hope for her recovery.

"Unbelievable as it may seem, these men were blown off the ship when the explosion occurred, and found themselves on this large pan of ice. When able to look around they discovered tinned milk, canned beans and other foods with which they kept themselves alive. There were also pieces of clothing and blankets which they used to protect themselves from the cold, and pieces of wreckage with which they were able to build a fire. These had all been driven from the boat by the explosion.

"Our dining saloon very quickly became a real hospital ward. The men were examined, splints were put on and something administered to alleviate their excruciating suffering. Features could not be discerned because of the burns from the explosion. At first it was feared that in two cases eyesight was gone, and it took days of faithful and exacting treatment to clear the faces of these men ere, underneath the blood, oil and soot, we could discover the serious injuries which were then treated. There followed days of nursing in the most trying circumstances.

A Perilous Journey.

"By this time the 'Sagona' was jammed in a solid pack of ice stretching for miles around. Horse Island, on which about 116 men had found shelter, looked very near and yet seemed impossible to reach. After vainly hoping the ice would break and make it practicable to reach the shore it was decided that a party should attempt the perilous five-mile journey over the ice.

"Men from the nearby sealing vessels joined the party and, as we leaned over the side of the ship and watched them march in single file pulling a dory in which were food and medical and surgical supplies, we thanked God for brave hearts. Especially touching was the sight of Dr. Patterson, not nearly so young and fit as the rest of the party, and yet so stalwart of heart that he overruled all advice and went. We turned back to face our duty in the same spirit.

"Two other men had been added by this time, to our list of patients and the same day 106 of the uninjured men arrived, having walked the span of ice from the Island to our ship.

They reported that the people on this isolated spot had been wonderfully kind to them, having practically shared their last bit of food supply with them. So isolated are the islanders they only receive food from the mainland once a year.

"Diligently and religiously we worked and eagerly we waited for the return of the relief party, and after what seemed a year to us the whole of the party arrived bringing the missing eight men. Once again, however, the human was helpless. Unless the wind should change we were powerless even to turn. The condition of two of our patients was so serious that every day meant a lessened chance for them to live. It was Sunday and we were reminded that in hundreds of churches prayers would be going up on our behalf. We could do nothing but wait. Suddenly, at 11 p.m, the wind veered and the ice began to break up. It appeared miraculous. So rapidly did the ice break that, in half an hour, the ship had turned and was following in the wake of the two sealing vessels, which had also been jammed.

"Two hours only did it take to plough through those miles of ice yet, by the time we had reached the open sea, the wind had changed and was blowing east again sending the ice back to practically the same position as before we moved. My mind reverted to the miracle of the Red Sea, when the waters rolled back and the Israelites crossed in safety.

Heart-Moving Scene.

"The rolling of the ship in the awful storm now began adversely to affect Navigator Kennedy, who had been fighting pneumonia, and had appeared to be improving. We had been hopeful that with good hospital care he would make the grade, but acute mania set in. After several attempts to get out of his bunk, which considerably weakened his condition, he at last, fighting with super-human strength, got to the side of the deck. Stalwart men could not hold him. In his delirium he seemed to hear the call of duty and was fighting his way to the bridge, where he was sure he was needed. Tender hands carried him into the dining saloon. Nurse Berrigan, who was of the same faith as himself, in the absence of a priest, tried to give him religious comfort. It was a heart-moving scene. Six times in his long seafaring experience had this brave man been threatened with death, but now his hour had come, his eyes closed and his spirit winged its way into the unknown. Captain Kennedy had left the sea for ever.

"With sad hearts we finished the rest of the journey and as we glided into St. John's harbour, our flat half-mast, our one comfort was that the best had been done for all on board.

"Our duty was done, but the experience, although harrowing and distressing, is one that will forever remain with us. We were privileged indeed to be allowed to render service to these dear, brave fellows."

Adjutant Payton was a member of the Peterborough corps of The Salvation Army. Deciding to dedicate herself to the cause of religion and humanity she sought a commission and from Peterborough she went to London, took a nursing course in The Army's maternity hospital, then went to St. John, N.B., and a year later to St. John's, Nfld. He work there so impressed her superior's that she was sent to Windsor for a complete training as a nurse and on the completion of her preparation she returned to Grace Hospital, St. John's, Newfoundland.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, April 7.—There was a fair activity in butter on the local market yesterday, but buyers did not show any great need, such as might be expected after a week-end holiday period. Sales, however, were sufficient to hold the market on a steady to stronger keel, and there were reports of week-end deals at prices higher than previous levels. Trade on Monday was mostly on a basis of 32¼c to 32½c for No. 1 creamery solids, and 31¼c to 31½c for No. 2. There was a specially good demand for No. 2, with offerings of this grade continuing scarce. Western supplies were selling well at current quotations mostly, but with some touching slightly higher levels.

Cream.

Cream prices were steady at last week's advance to 32c for special, 31c for No. 1, and 28c for No. 2 f.o.b. country points.

Cheese.

The cheese market was weaker, with prices down ¼c per pound at 13¾c for new large, 14c for twins, and 14¼c for triplets. This reduction made a ¾c drop since the first of last week. Prices to retailers were steady at 15½c for new large, 15¾c for twins, and 16c for triplets.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 7.—Despite the first reduction that the United States wheat visible supply has shown in many weeks, grain prices took a downward course yesterday. The weakness was a result of increased selling pressure ascribed largely to Winnipeg traders, and was in striking contrast with Saturday's lively advance here when the Winnipeg market was closed. Auspicious crop reports from domestic winter wheat territory, the southwest in particular, tended further to give a constant advantage to bears.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to 1¾c lower; corn, 1c to 1½c down; oats, ¼c to ¾c off, and provisions unchanged to 5c up.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Ont., April 7.—(By The Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts 1,700. Trade was slow at the opening but with a promise of later activities. Bids were steady and early sales were also firm at $6 to $6.50 for choice cattle with a few heavy steers up to $7. There were no early sales on cows. Choice fed calves made $7 to $7.50.

Steers up to 1,060 lbs. good and choice $6 to $6.50; medium $5.50 to $6; common $5 to $5.50; steers over 1,060 lbs. good and choice $6.50 to $7; medium, $6 to $6.50; common $5.25 to $6; heifers good and choice $6 to $6.25; Medium, $5.50 to $6; common $4.50 to $5.50; fed calves good and choice $7.50; medium $6.50 to $7; cows good $4. to $4.50; medium $3.50 to $4; common $3 to $3.50; canners and cutters $1.50 to $2.50; bulls good $4 to $4.50; common $3.25 to $3.75; stocker and feeder steers good $5 to $5.75; common $4.50 to $5; milkers and springers $5 to $75.

Calf receipts 74. Good veal calves were steady from $8.50 to $9.50; common grades were weaker from $5 to $7 per hundrewe'ght according to quality.

Good and choice veal, $8.50 to $9.50; common and medium $5 to $8. grassers $3.50 to $4.50.

Hog receipts 556. Hogs were unsettled with the packers bidding $7.50 to $7.75 f.o.b. for bacons or $8.15 to $8.50 weighed off car.

Sheep receipts 207. Good yearling lambs made $10 per hundredweight and good spring lambs brought $9 to $12 each. Sheep were firm from $6 to $6.25 for the best light ewes.

Good ewe and wether lambs $10; medium $9 to $9.50; bucks $8; culls $7 to $8; good light sheep $5.50 to $6.25; heavies $4.50 to $5.50; culls $2 to $4.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., April 7.—(C.P.).—Hogs 9600; draggy; earlier sales 10 under Saturday's average; packers inactive; desirable 120-210 lbs. 8.40-8.50; plainer kinds 8.10-8.25; 230-260 lbs. quoted 7.90-8.20 many unsold.

Cattle 1,015; rather slow; mostly steady; good light weight steers and yearlings 8.75-9.25; heifers 9.00; several loads 1,250 to 1,450 lbs 8.25-8.65; medium steers and heifers 7.50-8.50; common 6.60-7.35; fat cows 4.75-5.50; cutter grades 2.25-3.75.

Cattle 1,800; vealers 50 lower; fairly active at decline; good to choice 10.00 to mostly 10.50.

Sheep 3,600; lambs active; unevenly higher; mostly 25-50 higher; good to choice woolskins leniently asserted 9.75-10.10; extreme top to outsiders 10.50; medium kinds 9.00-9.50; better lots shown lambs 9.00-9.35; some held higher.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 7. — Wheat prices shot up more than 2 cents on the Grain Exchange yesterday, but eased off slightly to close 1¾ to 2 cents higher for the day. Strength at Chicago on Saturday was responsible for the spurt here.

Spreading operations between here and Chicago, involving the buying of Winnipeg futures against sales in Chicago, also gave strength to prices. Trading, active at the start, became dull near the close.

May wheat closed at 58¾c; July, 60c to 60¼c; and October, 61¾c.

Advances of ⅛ to ½ cents occurred in cash wheat, and coarse grains were also firm.

PACK SURROUNDS CAMP IN WOODS

Dreadful Night is Spent in Northern Woods By Two Boys and Hunter.

NIGHTMARE OF SUSPENSE.

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright, 1931)

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 7—Lake a thrilling tale from the wolf-haunted wastes of Siberia, comes the story of an all-night vigil in a lonely northern lake of a trapper and two small boys, who frantically burned pine boughs pack which surrounded their camp.

The incident was revealed co-incident with startling increase in the depredation of northern wolf packs. Wise with all the cunning of the woods, the wolves are eluding hunters and trappers. The carcasses of slain deer now being found throughout the bush give evidence of the growing daring of these outlaws.

On a 50-mile trip through heavy snow, the trapper was taking two boys out to the settlement, it was learned from J. L. McEwen, who has had 50 years' experience in the bush in lumbering and construction work.

Forced to spend a night on the trail contrary to original plans, the party took every precaution to guard against wolves which had been reported to be very active on their route of march. Large quantities of pine boughs were heaped up in readiness to set fire.

Pack Congregates

Startled shortly after midnight by the dismal howl of the gray marauders, the trio were terrified as the surrounding woods seemed packed with wolves. At first the howls were scattered, but they gradually converged into one mournful chorus.

Boughs were heaped on the night fire. Crackling and spurting flames shot up. Swiftly the yapping of the pack came closer. The two boys crouched shivering by the fire. Their little camp was surrounded. They could see, beyond the light of the fire a circle of dim forms with balefully staring eyes.

Nightmare of Suspense

Throughout the night, the three besieged piled the fire high. No sleep came to them. At any moment, as they waited for daylight, they expected to see a rush of wolves upon them, feel the fangs of the pack. It was a nightmare.

At the first streak of dawn, the wolves drew back. They slunk away into the brush, leaving in pairs or threes or singly.

The travellers broke camp and hurried on to their destination where their story was told.

"In spite of all that trappers and hunters are doing to-day, it seems impossible to kill off the wolves," it was learned from Mr. McEwen. "They are fast breeders. I have had plenty of experience with wolves, yet this is the worst year that I have ever seen. It is impossible to trap them, poisoning is not recommended method because it destroys other animals. Shooting is about the best means of getting them, but they are too sly for the average hunter."

CRASH VICTIM DIES IN GODERICH

STRATFORD, Ont., April 7 (C.P.)—Irwin Robertson, Tiverton automobile dealer, who was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when the car in which he was riding overturned on the Bluewater Highway near Goderich, died early to-day in the Alexandra Marine and General Hospital, Goderich. He had suffered a fractured skull. James Sinclair, also of Tiverton, is still in the hospital in a serious condition.

The two men were on their way to East Windsor yesterday when the accident happened. The car was almost completely demolished.

A STARTLING INDICTMENT.

It is difficult to imagine a more striking indictment of conditions in the United States than that involved in the statement of the New York Crime Commission that racketeers extract $96 per capita every year from the people of the Republic.

All kinds of fraudulent schemes, the commission's report declares, are used in making this tremendous levy upon the public, and it is impossible for Canadians to realize how law enforcement could get into such a condition that organized robbery of this nature should be possible on the grand scale.

It is surely self-evident that this racketeering could not continue without the co-operation not only of many of those responsible for enforcing the laws but also of those who make them.

In fact, the whole social fabric must be rotten to permit of the development of conditions such as have never existed in any other country in the world.

The American public, especially in the large centres of population, is simply being looted by organized crooks who, with the protection of the supposed-to-be guardians of the people and their property, are carrying on a systematic system of robbery and extortion for which Americans are paying at the rate of $96 per head every year.

SEEING THEM FROM THE INSIDE.

Tours of important local industries are being carried on this week under the direction of Jas. C. McClenaghan, boys' secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and large numbers of local boys have been taking advantage of the opportunity to see some of Peterborough's manufacturing plants from the inside.

Off-hand it is impossible to think of a much more useful purpose to which school boys could devote at least a portion of their Easter vacation.

In Peterborough we have a large number of splendid industries, varied in their output, about which the general public knows all too little.

If you asked the average citizen to make a list of the products manufactured locally his total would undoubtedly fall far short of the real total, while if you went further and suggested that he outline the processes entering into the manufacture of some of these articles he'd probably be completely stumped.

It would be a fine thing if our citizens as a whole were interested enough to take the same method of learning more about Peterborough products as is being followed by these groups of boys.

If they were there would be less difficulty in securing effective co-operation in promoting that sale of Canadian products that means so much to this country.

THE RADIO SITUATION.

Canadians generally, for this country is well to the fore in the possession of radio receiving facilities, should be deeply interested in the controversy over the control of radio broadcasting which will shortly be heard by the Supreme Court.

The opponents are the Federal Government on the one hand and certain of the Provinces on the other, the latter contesting the right of the Federal Government to assume full control of this branch of administration.

Eventually, of course, whatever the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada may be, the matter will be decided by the judicial committee of the Privy Council to which it will ultimately be appealed.

The arguments to be used by the federal authorities are that the Dominion should have control of radio because the latter relates to the peace, order and good government of the country as a whole, because Canada has already been a signatory to treaties and conventions in respect to radio, and because the British North America Act assigned "telegraphs," held to belong to the same category, to the federal administration.

Premier Taschereau of Quebec is leading the provincial fight.

The Provinces declare that radio transmitting stations are properly classified under "civil rights," which the B.N.A. Act specifically delegated to provincial control.

In the meanwhile any definite radio development as far as the Federal Government is concerned is being held up, and radio facilities will not be improved until the situation clears.

THE ST. JOHN'S AMBULANCE BRIGADE.

The sacred concert announced to take place in the Grand Opera House on Sunday evening next in aid of a fund to secure uniforms for the members of the Peterborough division of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade should have the whole-hearted support of the citizens.

This organization, which now comprises in its membership two dozen men who are fully qualified in first aid work is a community asset that deserves encouragement and help.

Their services are always at the disposal of the citizens, wherever first aid methods are required, and since the formation of the local division members have been on duty at every public gathering of any size, ready and qualified to help in time of need.

It is purely a voluntary work, with no pay or financial reward for those who participate in it.

Their only return for the time they so unselfishly give to the study involved and to the duties they assume as members is the satisfaction of knowing that they can be of some service to fellow-citizens.

Outside of some much appreciated donations from citizens and a grant of $100 from the City Council, the organization has no financial backing, and up to the present it has been impossible to uniform the division.

It is hoped that the response on Sunday evening will make it possible to provide uniforms and put the local division on a footing with others throughout the country.

It is already equal to them, it may be added, in efficiency.

FINANCING CITIES.

It becomes very apparent that there are many municipalities in the Dominion who are being hard pressed financially. Their fixed charges have grown in recent years, based on times of prosperity, so that they have turned to be a heavy load in a lean year.

Winnipeg, according to the view of the chairman of the finance committee, should run its tax rate up at least five mills in order to wipe out existing liabilities, but it cannot be done. It is even intimated that in order to produce a clean sheet an increase of ten mills might be necessary.

Cities with fixed liabilities are somewhat like individuals who have been doing too much installment buying. As long as there is ploenty of revenue they can get along and meet their payments, but when a slack season comes and earning power is diminished, it becomes a different matter. The payments keep on coming due just the same, but the means for meeting these payments are not to be had.

The experience which municipalities are meeting should not be lost. They cannot keep on spending money in the way of deferred payments, because in that way they are incurring debts that will have to be met regardless of the earning power of the ratepayers, which is subject to variation from year to year.

The individual who has an abhorrence of debt generally gets along better than the person who has small objection to contracting obligations. When he comes to a slack period he has no line-up of creditors pressing for settlement.

Cities are much the same. Those with the least standing debt can go through a period of depression with less hardship on the taxpayers, and their credit will stand higher.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS.

Transportation problems in the smaller centres these days, especially where an attempt is still made to maintain a street car service, are decidedly grave.

Electric railways have disappeared from the streets of more cities than Peterborough in recent years, and there are signs that other centres will have a similar experience before long.

In Brantford, for example, the street railway department is having a very hard time in keeping going, and the system finished last year with the neat deficit of $30,000 and little hope of reducing it during the current year.

The Brantford Expositor covers some phases of the situation in the following editorial reference:

"Sooner or later, and probably sooner than later, this city will have to face a very serious problem in connection with its street railway. At the present fare it apparently cannot pay its operating costs, including depreciation, and meet the interest and sinking fund charges on its debenture debt. When increased fares have been suggested, vigorous opposition has been encountered, though most cities are charging more for street railway tickets than does Brantford. In the meantime, deficits are a yearly occurrence, and no adequate provision is being made financially for replacing the cars and other equipment as they become obsolete. Some years ago the Council became sufficiently exercised over this situation to ask for expert investigation and, as a result, a report was submitted by Engineer A. E. K. Bunnell which contained many very valuable suggestions calculated to make the railway self-supporting. These recommendations included an increase in the fare and a reduction in the mileage, but no action has been taken by the commission in regard to them, though it is patent to anybody that the lines to the golf clubs and to Mohawk Park are being operated at a great loss.

"For a city the size of Brantford there is an excess of mileage, and the cost of its maintenance is out of proportion to the available revenue. If there was reason to anticipate any considerable improvement in the situation, there would be no cause for grave concern, but with the steady increase in the number of automobiles and the constant extension of the paved roads in the city, which facilitate bicycling, the future of the street railway is a very uncertain one. Busses may be the solution. At the last municipal election authority was given the commission to purchase one for use on Market street and, as the cars become obsolete, more will probably be added, especially for the branch lines. However, these are questions which can be intelligently decided only in the light of experience, and it is well that the City Council should become more actively identified with the operation of the railway system by having representation on the commission."

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Synopsis of Preceding Instalments:—

Tanar is a young warriar of Sari, a country in Pellucidar, a strange inner world somewhere beneath the earth's crust. A horde of savages, calling themselves Korsars, and coming from across an unknown sea, invade Pellucidar, and though repulsed, sail away with many prisoners, including Tanar.

Tanar is summoned before The Cid, chief of the Korsars who offers him his freedom if he will teach the Korsars how to make the superior weapons and gunpowder that had been used against them by his countrymen. Tanar, seizing the chance to gain time to find means of escape for his companions and himself, accepts The Cid's bargain. Stellara, a very beautiful girl, supposedly the daughter of The Cid, make friends with Tanar and is talking to him in the stern of the ship when Bohar the Bloody, The Cid's brutal second in command, suddenly appears and threatens Tanar with a knife. Tanar knocks him down. Bohar goes off in a rage, and Stellara tells Tanar that he will now surely kill him.

"That is not the real reason," said the girl.

"What is, then?"

She hesitated and then she laughed. "He is jealous. Bohar wants me for his mate."

"But why should he be jealous of me?"

Stallara looked Tanar up and down and then she laughed again. "I do not know," she said. "You are not much of a man beside our huge Korsars—with your beardless face and your small waist."

To Tanar her tone implied thinly veiled contempt and it piqued him, but why it should he did not know and that annoyed him, too. What was she but the savage daughter of a savage, boorish Korsar?

When he had first learned from Bohar's lips that she was the daughter and not the mate of The Cid he had felt an unaccountable relief, half unconsciously and without at all attempting to analyze his reaction.

"Perhaps it was the girl's beauty that had made such a relationship with The Cid seem repulsively, perhaps it was her lesser ruthlessness, which seemed superlative gentleness by contrast with the brutality of Bohar and The Cid, but now she seemed capable of a refined cruelty, which was, after all, what he might have expected to find in one form or another in the daughter of theChief of the Korsars.

As one will, when piqued, and just at random, Tanar loosed a bolt in the hope the it might annoy, her "Bohar knows you better than I," he said; "perhaps he knew that he had cause for jealousy."

"Perhaps," she replied, enigmatically, "but no one will ever know, for Bohar will kill you—I know him well enough to know that."

Upon the timeless seas of Pellucidar a voyage may last for an hour or a year—that depends not upon its duration, but upon the important occurences which mark its course.

Curving upward along the inside of the arc of a great circle the Korsar fleet ploughed the restless sea. Favorable winds carried the ships onward. The noonday sun hung perpetually at zenith. Men ate when they were hungry, slept when they were tired, or slept against the time when sleep might be denied them, for the people of Pellucidar seem endowed with a faculty that permits them to store sleep, as it were, in times of ease, against the more strenuous periods of hunting and warfare when there is no opportunity for sleep. Similarly, they eat with unbelievable irregularity.

Tanar had slept and eaten several times since his encounter with Bohar, whom he had seen upon various occasions since without an actual meeting. The Bloody One seemed to be biding his time.

Stellara had kept to her cabin with the old woman, who Tanar surmised was her mother. He wondered if Stellara would look like the mother or The Cid when she was older, and he shuddered when he considered either eventually.

As he stood thus musing, Tanar's attention was attracted by the actions of the men on the lower deck. He saw then looking across the port bow and upward and, following the direction of their eyes with his, he saw the rare phenomenon of a cloud in the brilliant sky.

Some one must have notified The Cid at about the same time, for he came from his cabin and looked long and searchingly at the heavens.

In his loud voice The Cid bellowed commands and his wild crew scrambled to their stations like monkeys, warming aloft or standing by on deck ready to do his bidding.

Down came the great sails and reefed were the lesser ones, and throughout the fleet, scattered over the surface of the himing sea, the example of the Commander was followed.

The cloud was increasing in size and coming rapidly nearer. No longer was it a small white cloud that had first attracted their attention, but a large bulging, ominous, black mass that frowned down upon the ocean, turning it a sullen gray where the shadow lay.

The wind that had been blowing gently ceased suddenly. The ship fell off and rolled in the trough of the sea. The silence case a spell of terror over the ship's company.

Tanar, watching, saw the change. If those rough seafaring men blenched before the threat of the great cloud, the danger must be great indeed.

The Sarians were mountain people. Tanar knew little of the sea, but if Tanar feared anything on Pellucidar, it was the sea. The sight, therefore, of these savage Korsar sailors cringing in terror was far from reassuring.

Some one had come to the rail and was standing at his side.

"When that has passed," said a voice. "There will be fewer ships in the fleet of Korsar and fewer men to go home to their women."

He turned and saw Stellara looking upward at the cloud.

"You do not seem afraid," he said.

"Nor you," replied the girl. "We seem the only people aboard who are not afraid."

"Look down at the prisoners," he told her. "they show no fear."

"Why?" she asked.

"They are Pellucidarians," he replied, proudly.

"We are all of Pellucidar," she reminded him.

"I refer to The Empire," he said.

"Why are you not afraid?" she asked. "Are you so much braver than the Korsars?" There was no sarcasm in her tone.

"I am very much afraid," replied Tanar. "Mine are mountain people—we know little of the sea or its ways."

"But you show no fear," insisted Stellara.

"That is the result of heredity and training," he replied.

"The Korsars show their fear," she mused. She spoke as one who was of different blood. "They boast much of their bravery," she continued as though speaking to herself, "but when the sky frowns they show fear." There seemed a little note of contempt in her voice. "See!" she cried, "It is coming!"

The cloud was tearing toward them now and beneath it the sea was lashed to fury. Shreds of cloud whirled and twisted above the angry waves. And then the storm struck the ship, laying it over on its side.

What ensued was appalling to a mountaineer, unaccustomed to the sea—the chaos of watery mountains, tumbling rolling, lashing at the wallowing ship; the shrieking wind; the driving, blinding spume; the terror-stricken crew, cowed, no longer swaggering bullies.

Reeling, staggering, clutching at the rail Bohar the Bloody passed Tanar where he clung with one arm about a stanchion and the other holding Stellara, who would have been hurled to the deck but for the quick action of the Sarian.

The face of Bohar was an ashen mask against which the red gash of his ugly scar stood out in startling contrast. He looked at Tanar and Stellara, but he passed them by, mumbling to himself.

Beyond them was The Cid, screaming orders that no one could hear. Toward him Bohar made his way. Above the storm Tanar heard The Bloody One screaming at his chief.

"Save me! Save me!" he cried. "The boats—lower the boats! The ship is lost."

It was apparent, even to a landsman, that no small boat could live in such a sea even if one could have been lowered. The Cid paid no attention to his lieutenant, but clung where he was, bawling commands.

A mighty sea rose suddenly above the bow; it hung there for an instant and then rolled in upon the lower deck—tons of crushing, pitiless, insensate sea—rolled in upon the huddled, screaming seamen. Naught but the high prow and the lofty poop showed above the angry waves—just for an instant the great ship strained and shuddered, battling for life.

"It is the end!" cried Stellara.

Bohar screamed like a dumb brute in the agony of death. The Cid knelt on the deck, his face buried in his arms. Tanar stood watching, fascinated by the terrifying might of the elements. He saw man shrink to puny insignificance before a gust of wind, and a slow smile crossed his face.

The wave receded and the ship, floundering, staggered upward, groaning. The smile left Tanar's lips as his eyes gazed down upon the lower deck. It was almost empty now. A few broken forms lay huddled in the scuppers, a dozen men, clinging here and there, showed no signs of life. The others, all but those who had reached safety below deck, were gone.

The girl clung tightly to the man. "I did not think she could live through that," she said.

"Nor I," said Tanar.

"But you were not afraid," she said. "You seemed the only one who was not afraid.

"Of what use was Bohar's screaming?" he asked. "Did it save him?"

"Then you were afraid, but you hid it?"

He shrugged. "Perhaps," he said. "I do not know what you mean by fear. I did not want to die, if that is what you mean."

"Here comes another!" cried Stellara, shuddering, and pressing closer to him.

Tanar's arm tightened about the slim figure of the girl. It was an unconscious gesture of the protective instinct of the male.

"Do not be afraid," he said.

"I am not—now," she replied.

At the instant that the mighty comber engulfed the ship the angry hurricane struck suddenly with renewed fury—struck at a new angle—and the masts, already straining even to the minimum of canvas that had been necessary to give the ship headway and keep its nose into the storm, snapped like dry bones and crashed by the board in a tangle of cordage. The ship's head fell away and she rolled in the trough of the great seas, a hopeless derelict.

Above the screaming of the wind rose Bohar's screams. "The boats! The boats!" he repeated like a trained parrot gone mad from terror.

As though sated for the moment and worn out by its own exertions the storm abated, the wind died, but the great seas rose and fell and the great ship rolled helpless. At the bottom of each watery gorge it seemed that it must be engulfed by the gray green cliff toppling above it and at the crest of each liquid mountain certain destruction loomed inescapable.

Bohar, still screaming, scrambled to the lower deck. He found men, by some miracle still alive in the open, and others cringing in terror below deck. By dint of curses and blows and the threat of his pistol he gathered them together and though they whimpered in fright he forced them to make a beat ready.

There were twenty of them and their gods or their devils must have been with them, for they lowered a boat and got clear of the floundering hulk in safety and without the loss of a man.

The Cid, seeing what Bohar contemplated, had tried to prevent the seemingly suicidal act by bellowing orders at him from above, but they had no effect and at the last moment The Cid had descended to the lower deck to enforce his commands, but he had arrived too late.

Now he stood staring unbelievingly at the small boat riding the great seas in seeming security while the dismasted ship, pounded by the stumps of its masts, seemed doomed to destruction.

Gandhi Considering United States Visit

NEW DELHI, India, April 6 (A.P.)—Mahatma Gandhi is considering a visit to the United States, either before or after the second Round Table Conference in London, it was announced to-day. Gandhi believes, it was said, that India's liberation movement will receive greater world support if he visits the United States.

If Gandhi decides definitely to visit a formal invitation.

Two Convicts Plead Not Guilty To Murder

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—Hugh Gibson and Clinton Grate, Ohio Penitentiary convicts, who confessed they were responsible for the fire of a year ago when 320 prisoners perished, today pleaded not guilty to three indictments charging first degree murder.

The pleas were heard by Judge C. J. Randall after he had named four attorneys to defend the men. Both prisoners said they were without counsel and without funds with which to employ attorneys.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES."

If April 7th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and from 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., from 1:45 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 9:16 p.m.

The astrological indications of April 7th are very favorable for all those engaged in professional work, and success, possibly despaired of yesterday, is assured. For all others, the signs are not so propitious, and no valuable material awards can be anticipated. I will only be possible to report slow progress.

A child born on this April 7th will always be distinguished by an affable attitude and a generous spirit. It does not promise to be particularly clever although it will labor at its studies. Its disposition will be the one great asset on which it will have to build its career.

If you were born on April 7th, you are indefatigable in pursuit of knowledge. This was very much in evidence in your youth, and the learning you have acquired, only seems to convince you that you know very little, and you are avid to satiate yourself with proven facts. Your laudable curiosity is not confined to any particular subject. In your office, in your home, and in social life, you are never content with superficiality You always probe the depths.

Your interests are, possible, too diversified to bring you any great measure of success. On the other hand, your painstaking efforts make you reliable and dependable. You, unfortunately, lack imagination, and only delve into what is or has been, and never dream of what might be. You do not evince much interest in social attractions. You prefer solitude, where, to your own satisfaction, you can solve the problems that perplex and worry you. You are not, however, a curmudgeon, and when with others you have a graciousness all your own that charms and pleases.

If a womna, your home is scientifically managed and you are thrifty. It would be better, possibly, if you did not suppress emotion quite so much. In the long run, a man sets more value on demonstrated affection, than on a house run like clockwork.

LAKEFIELD LADY IS 81 YEARS OLD

Four Residents of Lakefield Celebrate Their Birthdays Together on April 2.

LAKEFIELD, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. Samuel Edwards celebrated her eighty-first birthday on Thursday, and received the good wishes of scores of friends. Four ladies of the Regent Street Church, who have birthdays on April 2, have for years made a practice of celebrating the happy occasion together. This year, the occasion was marked by a delightful afternoon tea given by Mrs. S. A. Kemp at the Regent Street parsonage. Mrs. Kemp is one of the ladies who shares a birthday with Mrs. Edwards, the others are Mrs. Aoel Hendren and Mrs. John Hendren. The quartette will be broken this year as Mrs. Kemp leaves in the summer for her new home in Havelock and Mrs. Edwards expects ot make a trip to Medicine Hat to visit her daughters; nevertheless, in Thursday's celebration there were plans made for future re-unions, and there were many happy memories of past re-unions.

Services Well Attended.

The services in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday were exceedingly well attended. There were two celebrations of Holy Communion, one at 8 a.m. and a choral celebration at the 11 o'clock service. The anthem was "Lord of Light and Glory" by E. H. Nichol. The Te Deum and Benedictus were by Simper, and the Kyrie and Gloria Tibi by Bennett, and the Sanctus by Brewer. A festal setting of the Gloria in Excelsis was given and the sermons at the 11 o'clock and evening services were in accord with the spirit of the great feast of the Resurrection.. The number of communicants was especially large. The flowers on the altar were in memory of deceased members of the parish, Mr. and Mrs LeFevre and the Tully family.

Old Lakefield Boy to Wed.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Frank Doble Butchart to Laura Virginia Mears, the marriage to take place in Trinity Episcopal Church, Portland, Oregan, on Wednesday, April 22. The bridegroom was born in Lakefield, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Butchart, and his early life was spent in the village.

Illustrated Lecture.

A very interesting illustrated lecture was given in the Baptist Church on Good Friday evening, "Bethlehem to Calvary,' 'telling i.. word and picture the story of the Saviour of mankind during his life on earth. Rev. J. S. McCormack was the lecturer, and the entertainment was of a very high order.

Junior Institute.

The monthly meeting of the Junior Institute will be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, April 8. The president, Miss Pearl Mullen, is especially anxious for a good attendance.

Passenger journeys, exclusive of those of commuters, in England in a recent month totaled nearly 93,000,000.

Hamtramck Voters Block Super-Highway

DETROIT, Mich., April 7 (C.P.).—The politically stubborn subrub of Hamtramck yesterday blocked at least temporarily, plans to buil'd an elevated super-highway from Detroit to Pontiac.

Hamtramck voters gave the proposed franchise a majority, but the vote, 1,644 to 1,595, fell short of the 60 per cent. required under its charter. Since the highway which private interests propose to build above the right-of-way of the Grand Trunk Railway, must pass through the suburb, the enterprise will have to be abandoned unless the voters reverse themselves in a later election.

TOKYO GREETS KING OF SIAM.

TOKYO, April 7 (C.P.).—Twenty-one guns boomed a salute of welcome to-day to the King and Queen of Siam when they arrived at Yokohama on the liner Empress of India, en route to the United States, whence the King will consult an eye specialist.

INTER-LISTED STOCKS DECLINE

Only Issues Which Felt New York Influence Show Any Degree of Activity.

C.P.R. OFF TO 40.

TORONTO, April 7 (CP).—Inter-listed stocks reacted in the second hour of trading to-day, giving the market an appearance of softness. The market as a whole was quiet, with only those issues which felt New York influence showing any degree of activity.

Brazilian Traction sold off approximately one point as the millers weakened again. International Nickel at 17 was down nearly 1-2 point, Noranda dipped to nearly 26 for a loss of the major portion of a point and C.P.R. sold off to 40 after opening firmer.

Walkers was down 1-4 point at 7 1-4. The oils were practically all unchanged in a slow listless market. Canada Gypsum was somewhat better above 9 and Loblaw issues indicated underlying strength. Service Stations dipped to a new low at 22.

LIGHT DECLINE NEW YORK LIST

Almost Uninterrupted Shrinkage of Share Values Progresses Well Into Third Week.

IN MEAGRE TRADING.

(By Claude A. Jagger, Associated Press Financial Editor.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 7.—The almost uninterrupted shrinkage of share values progressed well into its third week to-day, although its pace was slow and faltering.

The decline was moderate, and the volume of trading was again meagre. The volume of stock for sale was too small to be encouraging to the bears, but fresh dividend cutting and expectation of a dismal display of fiurst quarter earnings statements left the bull camp all but deserted. Short covering, however, caused a sluggish rally in the early afternoon.

There were numerous declines of 1 to 5 points. U.S. Steel sagged a point to a new 1931 low at 136, then recovered. Last year's minimum was 134 3-8. Rails were conspicuously weak again. Union Pacific dropped 4 and Northern Pacific more than 2, to new lows. Fox Film dropped 5 points on the announcement of new financing. Issues off 2 or 3 points included American Telephone, Public Service of N.J., Johns Manville, Missouri Pacific, Homestake Mining and McKeesport.

The market has now lost virtually all of its February gain and, as measured by price indices, is withing a few points of its January low.

WELLAND CANAL PROBE IS CLOSED

Report on Actions of Two Suspended Engineers to be Sent to Gov't.

JEWITT EXPLAINS.

ST. CATHARINES, April 7. (CP)—The Welland ship canal investigation concerning F. O. Jewitt, division engineer, and W. H. Addell, in charge of Forestry and Maintenance Branch of the canal, was concluded to-day. The sitting to-day was presided over by E. H. Lancaster, K.C., who has had charge of the brief investigation. A report of the findings will be sent to the Government by Mr. Lancaster.

Evidence heard to-day centred about the accusation that the men, who are under suspension, had had work done for them by workmen who were being paid by the Government.

Mr. Jewitt explained that he personally instructed Waddell not to spend time on his garden at Port Weller, which is Government owned but to have workmen in the employ of the branch do it. He said he considered that Waddell's time was too valuable.

In connection with his own case Jewitt declared any benefit he received was outweighed by an account whih the Government owed him for garage rental.

At one time, he explained, he used a Government garage for the car with which he was provided. Later this building was required for other purposes. He attempted unsuccessfully to rent a garage and finally used a garage at his own home. His wife being a joint tennant he submitted an account for rental in her name. The first account was not approved. At the time of his suspension the amount he considered due him had reached $150.

Woodstock Worker Has Arm Amputated

WOODSTOCK, Ont., April 7—When his right arm caught in the gear mechanism of an elevator at the plant of William Stone Company, Ingersoll, fertilizer manufacturers, Monday afternoon, John Bruce, an employee of the firm, suffered injuries which necessitated the ambutation of the arm at Alexandra Hospital last night. Bruce was standing on a ladder oiling the gears when the ladder slipped, throwing his arm into the mechanism. In addition to a severe mangling of his arm, Bruce suffered a broken rib, and was cut about the face, scraped about the body before fellow workmen could shut off the machinery. His clothing was practically torn from his body.

Falconer To Resign In June Next Year

TORONTO, Ont., April 7 (C.P.).—The resignation of Sir Robert Falconer as President of the University of Toronto will be handed to the Board of Governors in June of this year, but it will not take effect until June, 1932, Sir Robert definitely announced to-day, following rumors that he was to retire at the end of the present term.

Next year Sir Robert will have reached the age of 65 and completed a quarter of a century in office as the head of the University.

The resignation will be handed to the Board of Governors this year so they will have a year in which to select a successor, Sir Robert stated.

PLAY SAINT JOAN BIG ATTRACTION

Sybil Thorndike Resumes Name Part in Shaw's Greatest Work.

MANY NEW PRODUCTIONS.

LONDON, April 7.—(C. P. Cable.)—His Majesty's Theatre, Beerbohm Tree's Great Playhouse, returns to its true tradtion this week with a revival of Bernard Shaw's greatest work, Saint Joan. Sybil Thorndike resumes the name part, with Lewis Casson, her husband, and most of the original players with her. The play was first introduced at the new theatre in March, 1924.

Critics to-day were unanimous in declaring that Miss Thorndike's performance was even better than her earlier one and one observer remarks she contrived to shed some mannerisms which she had developed lately.

This week is notable for new productions and revivals. Unfortunately Sir John Martin-Harvey seems to have struck a dud with a piece concerning a Spanish bandit-holding up a train which apparently had only nine passengers. Critics call it a thick slab of melodrama and say he has not the ghost of a chance of success with it.

Security Prices Drop On Montreal Exchange

MONTREAL, Que., April 7 (CP).—Security prices moved downward this morning on the Montreal Stock Exchange. At noon Smelters led the decline with a drop of 4 points to 55. Eastern Dairies fell off 1½ points to 22¾ and Shawinigan sold down 1¼ points to 52½. Dominion Glass appeared on the board and dropped a point to 124 on one sale. Nickel lost 3-8 at 17, Brazilian dropped ¼ to 21¼, McColl Frontenac lost ½ at 16½, while Montreal Power eased off ¼ to 52 and Power Corporation was down ¼ at 59½. Canada Cement gained ½ at 17. Dominion Bridge and Canada Car and Foundry each lost ¼ at 48 and 16½ respectively.

"STRATEGIC RETREAT" OF POOLS IN STOCKS

Failing to Attract Public, Because of Disappointing Business Results Thus Far in 1931, Speculators Forced to Sell.

NEW YORK, April 7. — One almost certain result of the stock market's latest setback will be a revival of pessimism, but this will not extend into the very highest financial circles. In the latter, the early rise in stock quotations this year had been recognized as foredoomed to failure unless an unusually brisk recovery occurred in the mercantile world. Not even the extremists among bulls claim more than moderate, less-than-seasonal betterment is evident.

The persistence of the recent decline in stock prices is merely an expression of the keen disappointment following the buoyant expectations in purely speculative quarters. Failing to detect measurable improvement in business, the public refused to participate in the stock market's rise. This left the pools and syndicates hung high and dry with sizeable blocks of stock without new buyers to relieve them of their load.

The decline in the market therefore can best be described as a "strategic retreat" of the pools.

Although this column thus far has never become attuned to the widespread enthusiastic broadcasts of the optimists, there is indisputable evidence of continuation, perhaps at an accentuated rate, of those adjustments which seemingly are essential to the inauguration of a sustained upward movement in business and the stock market. The public clamor over the wage question, with the futile protests against the extension of the wage-cutting movement, but hides the more important fact that in numerous industries the wages and salaries have been sharply lowered. If as many of our prominent bankers have so loudly proclaimed, lower wages are prerequisite of business improvement, then the more than two hundred wage cuts, averaging over 10 per cent., made during March, represent a distinct step toward the hoped-for upturn in industry and trade.

$3,157,876 EARNED BY THE FORD MOTORS

Total Sales and Other Income For 1930 Aggregated $45,858,087.68.

WINDSOR, Ont., April 7.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Net profits of the Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited, during 1930 totalled $3,157,876 after deduction of all charges for manufacturing, selling and general expenses including reserve for depreciation and provision for income tax, according to a report presented to-day at a meeting of the directors.

Total sales and other income aggregated $45,858,087.68. Output, including sales to affiliated companies in British overseas territory reached 70,259 cars and trucks and 2,186 tractors.

A reduction in inventory of $1,031,439 at the close of 1930 was reported. The total inventory then stood at $,733,648.

The company's surplus is given at $28,436,965. There were outstanding at the close of the year 1,588,960 shares of class "A" non-voting stock and 70,000 shares of class "B" voting stock.

Net earnings of the company were equivalent to $1.90 per share of outstand ing stock, the report indicated.

Injunction Is Granted To Lansing Corporation

TORONTO, April 7 (By The Canadian Press).—On the application of Durant Motors Corporation, of Lansing, Mich., Mr. Justice Logie at Osgood Hall to-day granted an injunction until April 13, 1931, restraining Durant Motors of Canada, Ltd., from ratifying, approving or dealing in any way with the proposed sale of the assets of Durant Motors of Canada, Ltd., including the good-will to a company to be known as Dominion Motors Ltd., or to any company, person or firm.

The interim conjunction also restrains the Canadian company from doing any act or duty inconsistent with the provisions of the agreement between the plaintiff and the defendant dated November 17, 1921.

WINNNIPEG TOILERS LEAD REGINA CAPS

Snatch 24-22 Victory From Capitals in First of Two Game Series.

REGINA, Sask., April 7.— (By the Canadian Press.)—Toilers of Winnipeg, perennially prominent in the Canadian basketball playdowns, face a hard task if they are to add to their domination of the Manitoba-Thunder Bay area, twice Canadian title-holders. The Toilers hold a bare two-point edge as they enter the second match of a two-game series tonight with Regina Capitals, Saskatchewan winners.

Down four points at half time and nine points a little later, Toilers rallied last night in the first match of the total-score round to snatch a 24-22 win from the Capitals, Rangy Paul McKinnon, captain of the Caps, was the outstanding player of the night, grabbing a dozen points. Lauder Phillips, Toiler forward, was the best of the invaders, notching nine points.

and probably other parts of the continent, returning to Ottawa some time in May.

Major Herridge, who was recently appointed Canadian Minister to Washington, will be accompanied by his bride when he takes over his duties there, some time during the summer. Miss Bennett has been a most popular and charming hostess for her brother ever since he was chosen leader of the Conservative Party and it will be with regret, as well as with wishes for her happiness that the women of the Dominion will bid her au revoir when she goes to Washington to assume her duties as the official Canadian Hostess.

More can be accomplished by working together than by individual efforts. United effort accomplished more than individual enterprise.

MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, April 7.—(Special to Examiner.)—Mining market followers to-day were very evidently pleased with the performance given by Canadian golds in New York yesterday. In the face of a generally soft feeling several of the dividend payers moved upward in firm independent action with the strength reflected on the opening of the local boards to-day. A well known mining broker, who was in New York over the week-end reports "They certainly are interested in the golds over there."

According to a wire from Mutch's Mining Service, Aldermac is building a railroad spur to its property prior to starting. This is understood to refer to commencement of construction of the 500 ton mill financing of which is being gone through a bond issue recently authorized by shareholders. The mill will treat the company's relatively low grade copper ores. Producing pyrite for use in the Freeman sulphur process and copper concentrates. The property consists of 750 acres in Bois Chatel township, Rouyn area.

The Wall Street Journal reports that Dome mines production for March amounted to $258,635 compared with $271,750 in February and $361,767 in March, 1930.

Word from unofficial but supposedly relative sources is that Wright Hargreaves has intersected on the 700 foot level an important ore body giving high value. Gossip around the board rooms has it that 65 feet of $18 ore has been opened up on one of the lower levels, with sections up to 10 and 12 feet running $30 to the ton.

Preliminary estimates for the first three months of 1931 indicate that Hollinger is realizing net profits of approximately $1,000,000 quarterly. The regular dividend of five cents per share every four weeks amounts to $3,198,000 annually. It is suggested that as earnings are about $800,000 in excess of requirements, further bonuses may be expected. A bonus of five cents half yearly could be taken care of without difficulty, it is pointed out.

Officials of Columario gold mines report word was received to-day from the property that drifting on the No. 7 vein had continued for 60 feet from the portal with the last 30 feet showing an average width of over three feet of high grade ore. The vein is still in the face of the drift which will be pushed ahead for 200 feet before cross cutting to Nos. 5 and 6 veins is undertaken.

Word of assembling the first dredge of the McLeod River Mining Corporation is going ahead steadily, according to officials, and the plant should come into production on schedule some time in May or early in June. The dredge is being assembled at Peers, Northern Alberta, and will work on placer ground in the McLeod River. Completion of present financing will cover erection of the dredge at the company's obligations and leave some $28,000 for working capital, it is stated.

First Secession Move Is Made In N. S. Wales

SYDNEY, N.S.W. April 7. (AP)—The first concerted move for secession of the northern sections of New South Wales where there is bitter opposition to Premier Lang's policy of debt repudiation, took place at the Maitland town hall to-day.

One hundred and fifty delegates, representing the affected territory, met and adopted a draft constitution for a new federal unit to be called New England.

An equally strong campaign is being waged in the Riverina district of the State for secession of that area.

Brockville Cellar Yields Human Bones

BROCKVILLE, Ont., April 7 (C.P.). — Excavations for a cellar in the northern part of the town resulted in the uncovering of human bones believed to be those of a Brockville pioneer who died in 1839. No trace of the original coffin had disappeared, but a plate was found bearing that date and a name that was illegible except for the word Thomas. The property was an early burying ground for the community, and the bones were ordered placed in another box by Dr. E. B. Moles, Medical Officer of Health, and reinterred in the Brockville Cemetery.

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

Wheat prices opened about two cents higher yesterday morning based largely on the sharp bulge in Chicago on Saturday when this market was closed. The market held very steady during the first period with a mixed trade going on. The best support was coming through commission houses which absorbed the offerings from longs who were taking profits. The market turned dull after the first hour, locals pressing which caused prices to decline about 3-4 from the early high mark, but these offerings were well absorbed by commission houses and on some spreading between here and Chicago, and when the market refused to sink lower, the previous sellers covered up and prices were again brought back to the high mark, but this upturn was difficult to hold. While some export business was reported over the holidays, the amount was reported as small, being principally confined to durums, local exporters and seaboard houses were doing very little. The market yesterday was largely a local affair. Chicago held the Saturday bulge of about three cents fairly well and yet there was no real reason given for the strength, unless the market had become a little oversold. There was a very good demand for cash wheat, but offerings were quite small, and spreads were 1-8 to 1-2 better for some grades. Shippers are picking up the top grades which are better for opening of navigation about ten days hence. There was little or no change in the flour situation which is very quiet. North American shipments last week: Wheat and flour were less than five million bushels, total world shipments being 13,887,000 bushels. The Canadian visible supply decreased 882,000 and the United State visible decreased 665,000 bushels, very small decreases for this season of the year.

Coarse Grains.—These markets were all higher in sympathy with the strength in wheat; oats closed 5-8 to 3-8 higher, barley 5-8 higher, and rye 7-8 higher. Flax market was strong, closing 2 3-8 to 1 3-4 higher.

Liverpool cables due 1 1-8 to 1 1-4 higher based on Winnipeg.

German Bank Rate May Be Cut In April

BERLIN, April 7.—Berlin banks consider reduction in the Reichs-bank's official discount rate during April by one-half of 1 per cent a possibility. The reasons adduced for this belief are the fall in Reichsbank discounts during the third week of March to the lowest level reached in many months, followed by an increase last week which was smaller than normal. The prospect of a lower bank rate is also encouraged by the steady although slow increase of the Reichsbank's reserves and the fall of interest rates on the open market which has resulted from the continuing inflow of foreign short-credits.

Mortgage Foreclosure Brings Death To Two

HOUMA, La., April 7. (CP)—Two were dead, a woman was widowed, and five children were orphaned here to-day because of the foreclosure of a mortgage on the home of Aurestile Hotard, 80-year old fisherman.

Hotard, depressed by the foreclosure, propped a shotgun on a fence and shot himself to death. He is survived by his widow and five children.

His half-brother, Wilfred Dupre, heard of the suicide and started to the scene in an automobile. En route he struck and killed Bessie Bourd, a five-year-old school girl who ran into the path of his car too quick for him to dodge her.

Electrification of the main railways line between Stockholm and Malmo, Sweden, is to be started this year.

SEVERAL ADVANCES ARE MADE IN CANADIAN GOLD SECTION

Canada-Brazil Trade Relations Foreseen

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, April 7 (By Claude Melancon, Canadian Press Correspondent). — That commercial exchanges between Canada and Brazil are possible nobody among the Canadian Trade and Goodwill Mission doubts. It is only a matter of finding out the ways and means; but it can be said a momentous step has been made in that direction.

While touring Pernambuco, or rather Recife, as the Brazilians call it, on their brief stay here, the Canadian delegation did not forget their mission. By questioning their courteous and benevolent Brazilian guides — in French generally — they found out a few interesting things. For example, that the State of Pernambuco, with a population of two million inhabitants, buys only 15 per cent. of its wheat and flour from Argentine. The other 85 per cent. is imported from the United States. From the latter country it also buys 90 per cent. of its canned goods and a large quantity of the fruits grown in temperate climate.

In front of each grocery store in Recife are large stacks of New Zealand or Californian apples, a delicacy which apparently enjoys as much popularity in the tropics as the orange in Canada, and which should be still more in demand once the lusciousness of the Canadian grown is revealed to the southern consumers.

In return for Canadian wheat, canned and manufactured goods, and fruits, Pernambuco could export to the Dominion, among other things, delicious pineapples, candied fruits and high-grade tobacco, all products which could readily satisfy the exacting Canadian taste.

KING IS VICTIM OF BRONCHITIS

Attending Doctors Say Patient Progressing Favorably Although Slowly.

KEEN PUBLIC INTEREST.

WINDSOR, England, April 7 C.P.). — Great Britain got something of a shock at noon to-day when it was learned from the issuance of an official statement that the King, who the country was comforting itself by believing, was only suffering from a slight cold, was a victim of bronchitis.

The attack, it was stated, was of a sub-acute nature, and the patient, it was said, was progressing satisfactorily, though slowly.

The statement brought sharply home to the nation, however, that it is barely two years ago since the King was hovering between life and death from a chest disorder which originated in a cold caught on Armistice Day, 1928. The King's health has been a matter of keen public interest ever since his recovery the following spring.

The national dismay that he was again in need of doctor's care from a bronchial attack was tempered by the reassuring statement of satisfactory progress, which was accompanied by the announcement that the King was not even confined to his bed.

Lord Dawson of Penn, the King's physician, visited him during the week-end, and motored to Windsor again to-day. Sir Milsom Rees, laryngologist to the Royal household, has also seen the King, in addition to Dr. Henry Martin, who is in residence at Windsor Castle.

The Chamber of Commerce is the bulwark against community and business selfishness.

NO ELECTRIC CHAIRS IN MICHIGAN VOTERS DECIDE AT SPRING ELECTION

Life Imprisonment Will Remain as Most Severe Punishment For Murder.

REPUBLICANS VICTORIOUS.

DETROIT, Mich., April 7.—A proposal backed by Governor Wilber M. Brucker to re-establish the death penalty for murder in Michigan was defeated overwhelmingly in yesterday's Spring election.

The death penalty was abolished in the State 84 years ago, with life imprisonment remaining as the most severe punishment for murder. There has not been an execution in the Commonwealth for 100 years. Treason is the only offense punishable by death.

No Electric Chair

The proposal that an electric chair be set up in the State Prison at Jackson was defeated in a Statewide referendum by a majority which probably will reach 55,000. With 1,771 precincts out of 3,407 reported, the vote was: For 137,573; against 163,168.

In contests for State office, Republican candidates won over their Democratic opponents by large majorities. Former Mayor Charle Bowles, of Detroit, was defeated in an attempt at a political come-back. He ran against Judge John P. Spallen for Judge of the Recorder's Court. Bowles resigned from the Bench to run for Mayor 18 months ago. He was selcted and then was recalled from office after serving six months. In yesterday's election he sought to regain his place on the Bench.

Cayuga Hydro Worker Drowns Out Fishing

CAYUGA, Ont., April 7 (C.P.) — Blake Kohler, an employee of the Cayuga Hydro-Electric, met his death in the waters of the Grand River when fishing to-day.

Kohler called for Otto Smith, who was to accompany him on the fishing trip, and as his companion was not ready, Kohler got into the boat alone and started out. It is believed he suffered a sudden seizure, for when Smith arrived, the man was lying head downward in the shallow water. Deceased leaves a wife and a young daughter.

HEADMISTRESSES VISIT SAINT JOHN.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 7. (CP)—The party of 12 British headmistresses touring Canada made early morning arrival in Saint John to-day.

The visitors were guests at a number of functions held in their honor.

BLIND SEEK RELIEF.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 7 (C.P.).—Appeals to Premier R. B. Bennett and Hon. John Bracken, Premier of Manitoba, have been forwarded by the United Blind Pensions Committee of Manitoba, urging establishment of a Dominion-wide measure of pensions to afford relief for needy blind persons in Canada.

Balance of Standard List is Irregular With Base Metals Somewhat Easier.

OILS FIRM IN TONE.

TORONTO, Ont., April 7 (C. P.).—Advances established by the Canadian gold stocks in New York yesterday were well maintained on the opening of the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange today, with several issues adding to their gains. Balance of the list had an irregular appearance with oils firm and base metals somewhat easier in tone.

Wright-Hargreaves and Sylvanite were active features, the former moving up 9 from Saturday to $2.99 at mid-day and the latter showing a gain of 6 at $1.13. McIntyre was up three-quarters. Teke Hughes, 20, Granada 5 and Hollinger and Dome 10 apiece. Lake Shore sold off a few cents and Mining Corp. dropped 16 to $2.25. Macassa, Tashota and Moss were strong spots in the cheaper golds. Liquidation in Eldorado carried the price down to a low of 90 from whih it rallied to 95, off 10 at noon.

Continued softness of metals in London was reflected in quiet trading and easier feeling in the base metal section. Noranda lost three-quarters to $26.25 and Nickel was down a quarter to $17.

Homestead and Olga advanced a few cents each, showing the only significant changes in a firm oil group.

Westinghouse Company Directorate Returned

HAMILTON, Ont., April 7.—(CP)—The 27th annual report was presented at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian Westinghouse company in this city to-day.

The statement showed the current year's net earnings from all sources, including investment returns, royalties, etc., to be $2,873,535.47 after deduction of $379,000 written off various property and plant accounts for depreciation, $100,000 transferred to the employees pension fund. Dividends amounting to $1,620,000 were paid during the year and the remaining balance, $1,253,535.47 has been carried forward to the credit of profit and loss account.

DOMINION

tion. No immediate variation in procedure was contemplated.

Proceedings In Private.

Proceedings of the conference this morning were in private, but at adjournment it was announced that preliminaries occupied the short period of sitting. Premier R. B. Bennett opened by indicating that the conference had grown out of the Imperial Conference of 1926, which set out the well-known declaration of status as between the Mother Country and the Dominions. At that conference a commission was named to consider ways and means for bringing the laws of Great Britain and the Dominions into line with the changed status; and subsequently a conference on Dominion legislation had been held in London in 1929, at which certain recommendations as to changes were drafted. The Imperial Conference of last year had approved the recommendations made by the 1929 gathering in London.

The question of the position of the Provinces of Canada, in the event of the proposed legislative changes being made, had been raised, said Mr. Bennett, and he had communicated with the Premiers at the time of the last Imperial Conference. Subsequently it was agreed to leave it to Canada to draft the clause in the proposed statute of Westminster relating to this Dominion.

Informal Draft

The Prime Minister laid before the conference an informal draft of the proposed statute of Westminster, together with some suggestions by the Dominion Government as to how questions raised by the Provinces with respect to proposed amendments to the British North America Act might be dealt with.

One of the Provincial Premiers raised the question as to whether or not a definite method of amendment to the constitution could not be worked out, with provision for Provincial participation.

In answer to this, Mr. Bennett stated that it was the considered view of the Dominion Government that a conference to discuss this question should be held within the next two or three years, but at present it was not proposed to make any variation in the procedure of amending the constitution.

A brief discussion, dealing with matters of procedure, etc., followed the statement of the Dominion Prime Minister. To this, Premier Taschereau of Quebec; Premier Henry of Ontario; Premier Baxter of New Brunswick, and other contributed. At its conclusion the conference adjourned and its members went down to welcome His Excellency the Governor General. Following the ceremonies of welcome, delegates were luncheon guests of Premier Bennett.

The afternoon sitting, which will be in private, is scheduled to open at three o'clock.

MAXTON BREAKS WITH MOSLEY PARTY.

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., April 7. — (C.P.).—James Maxton, Independent Labor Party leader, announced to-day that the executive committee of the party had decided that the membership in the new Mosley party was incompatible with membership in the Independent Labor Party.

Members of the Independent Party, he said, who are also members of the Mosley party, will be expelled. The conference of the party, he said, had endorsed unanimously the action of the executive committee.

JOHN KELLETT IS FINED $100

Haliburton Resident is Convicted of Having Liquor Illegally —In Lindsay Court.

CONSTABLE APPOINTED

LINDSAY, April 7. (Special to The Examiner). — A fine of $100.00 and costs on the charge of having two liquor permits, were imposed on John Kellett alias "Larry O'Brien" of Haliburton by Police Magistrate today.

Kellett had already served about three weeks in the county jail.

Constable Appointed

The village of Fenelon Falls, which dispensed with the services of a constable several months ago, has appointed Maurice Irwin, of Buckhorn, to that position at a salary of $75 per month. It will be recalled that after the village had dispensed with the services of Constable Gordon, the latter launched two actions in the court, claiming salary for a certain period and also claiming remuneration for acting as assessor. Both actions were dismissed.

Old Resident Dead

One of the best known residents of the town, in the person of Albert Coleman Babcock, pased away at his home, Oakwood Road, on Good Friday, in his seventy-fourth year. The deceased was a former employee of the old Grand Trunk Railway, and for a number of years was a merchant in Lindsay. For two years he was Deputy-Reeve as well as a member of Victoria County Council.

May be Former Resident

It is believed that one, Lloyd Jackson, who with two other men, met death in a truck collision near Niagara Falls left Lindsay a couple of years ago to reside in Brantford, his friends not having heard from him during that period. Mr. Jackson has been in touch with the authorities, but has received no definite information.

WHEN JOINTS

Are Stiff Or Inflamed Creaky Or Swollen

Rub In Joint-Ease And Rub It In Good

Here's a wonder working substance that soaks right in thru skin and flesh right straight down to the ligaments and joints and swiftly drives out pain and agony and reduces the swelling.

Joint-Ease has often been called the magic emollient because of its uncanny power to bring quick comfort to the most obstinate cases of rheumatism, neuritis and sciatica.

Without waste of time it knocks out lumbago and ends stubborn backache that nothing else seems to help.

You'll like Joint-Ease because it's good for so many ailments—stiff neck for one thing and sore muscles and also feet that are so sore that to walk means agony.

Joint-Ease is made in Canada and sold by all stores that sell good medicines—A generous tube for 60 cents —and rigidly guaranteed.

REGULAR MEETING TRENT RIVER L.A.

Mrs. William Preston Presides at United Church Society Gathering.

TRENT RIVER, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held on Wednesday afternoon in the United Church, with an attendance of sixteen.

The president, Mrs. William Preston, had charge of the meeting, and after the opening exercises, for which Miss Bessie French was organist, the deaconess reported having sent flowers to three friends who have been confined to their homes through illness. Material was distributed to some of the members who were willing to make it up into cushion tops for sale.

It was decided to hold a ten-cent tea at the May meeting and four from each district to take their turns in providing the lunch at each tea. Mesdames Wm. Preston, Jame: Longmuir, John Scott and James Mann were appointed to be responsible for the tea hour in the May meeting.

One new name was added to the list of membership of the society, which now numbers over forty.

Some discussion was entered into concerning the holding of a bazaar and sale of home-made cooking during the summer.

The roll call was answered by each member responding with a verse of Scripture, and this will be repeated at each regular meeting.

Y.P.S. MEETING HELD AT BETHANY

Interesting Program Provided Under Leadership of Christian Fellowship Society.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MEETS

BETHANY, April 7.—(Examiner correspondence.)—The weekly meeting of the Young People's Society was held in the United Church on Wednesday when the meeting was under the leadership of the Christian Fellowship committee.

The President was in charge of the meeting for the opening exercises following which Miss Hazel Jackson had charge for the following Easter program: solo, Mrs. Scott, scriptural reading, R. Carlton; lesson explanation, Miss Cochrane; duet, B. Monk and Miss M. Jackson "Alone the Saviour Suffered", topic, Rev. Mr. Scott, speaking on the joining of the church and what is achieved by so doing; solo, "Easter Bells" Miss Doris Driver.

W. A. Meets

The members of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church held their April meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Emily Preston, with 19 members present.

Mrs. Fierheller, president of the Association, was in charge of the meeting when letters were read from the Executive of the annual convention to be held in Toronto, Commencing May 11 and two delegates are appointed to attend the Toronto annual from the Bethany branch.

Dorcas work was discussed and planned. A bale will be prepared for sending to the Northland where Miss Hamilton spent one and a half years and is at present home on furlough. Miss Hamilton has given the Auxilary a very pleasing address on life at the Northland.

After the business part of the meeting work was commenced at the various tables and continued until five o'clock when the meeting was brought to a close when a delicious supper was served bythe hostess Miss Preston and Mrs. Carscadden.

Good Friday Service

Service was held in the United Church on Good Friday morning at 11 o'clock, when Rev. Mr. Scott delivered a fine address on the words, "And they compelled one Simon, a Cyrenian, who passed by coming out of the country, the Father of Alexander and Rufus to bear his Cross."

The choir gave special music and a trio was given by J. J. Clarke, Mrs Scott and Miss Hazel Jackson, entitled, "What More Could Jesus Do."

At the close of the sermon a beautiful quartette, "The Old Rugges Cross" was given in very pleasing manner by Miss Driver, Mrs. Scott, Mr. Clarke and Mr. Preston.

Evening Service.

A Good Friday evening service was held in St. Paul's Anglican Church when the choir contributed special music and the rector, Rev. Mr. Fierheller ably spoke from the text found in John 18:11, "The cup which my Father hath given me shall I not drink it."

BETHANY.

Miss Jean Thorndyke, of Toronto, is spending the Easter vacation at her home here.

Miss Washington left on Friday to visit her sister, at Enniskillen, for a few days.

Mrs. Ross, of Toronto, spent the week-end with her mother, Mr. McKinley and Miss McKinley.

Miss Laura Morton, of Deloro, is home for the Easter holidays.

Mr. O. H. Magill and Miss Mae were visitors to Peterborough on Saturday.

Mr. Deyell, of Peterborough, was the guest for a couple of days, of Mr. and Mrs. Flack.

Mr. Frank Hamilton, who is attending University in Toronto, spent Good Friday at his home here, returning to the city on Saturday.

Mrs. Ross Carr, of Toronto, spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Jackson.

Mr. H. Cross, of Toronto, was a guest at the parsonage of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Scott, over the week-end.

Mr. Carl Monk has recovered his health and was able to preside as organist of St. Paul's Anglican Church.

Miss Gladys Rogers, of Lindsay, is a guest of her grandmother, Mrs. William Davis.

Misses Mildred and Dorothy Sisson, of Toronto, are home for the Easter vacation.

Mr. Aubrey McCarthy, of North Bay, who spent the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McCartney, has returned to resume his duties at North Bay.

Bryon Rogers, of Lindsay, is holidaying with friends at Manvers Station.

Mr. Fred Grey, of Ballyduff, spent Sunday with friends in the village.

Rev. Mr. Fierheller held service at St. Paul's Anglican Church, preaching from the text, St. Luke 24:8.

Russia bought last year three times as much construction machinery in Germany as in 1929.

CAMPAIGN ENDS IN BITTER FIGHT

Chicago Voters Go to Polls Today to Elect Thompson or Germak.

ALDERMEN ELECTION.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7 (C.P.).—Chicago was deciding to-day whether Mayor William Hale Thompson can be toppled from the mayors chair.

With perfect weather promised for the entire day, preliminary estimates fixed at more than 1,000,000 the number of persons voting to decide if "Big Bill," the self-styled builder, or Anton J. Cermak, immigrant miner, shall rule American's second city.

Thompson carried the Republican banner, and Cermak the Democratic.

Both candidates told the voters that Chicago's future was the big issue, Thompson charging that the influence of Cermak, who is chairman of the County Board, has besmirched the name of Cook County, while Cermak demanded that the voters clean out the City Hall and free the city from gangsters.

Thompson had the support of the non-partisan Better Government Association which asked, "Shall we establish a Chicago Tammany?" a cry which was reiterated by Thompson's followers.

Starting out mildly, the campaign wound up last night with bitter words coming from both sides, but in spite of this officials were not looking for any outburst of election disorders.

"Big Bill," sometimes referred to as Chicago's cowboy mayor, and regarded as a master showman of United States politics, said it was his last campaign, regardless of whether he is elected as the World's Fair Mayor.

Carrying their fight right up to the last minute, the supporters of both candidates gave downtown Chicago the atmosphere of a political holiday.

If Thompson is elected it will be his fourth term as Mayor.

In addition to picking a Mayor, Chicagoans were selecting aldermen in 21 wards.

FARMER'S MEET

lines at once whether both are erected now or later; and in cases of disputed settlements the Commission agreed to consult the Pickering committee.

In brief, this is a union of farmers for the safeguarding of their individual rights.

Mr. McIntyre points out that not only are the farmers whose properties are utilized by the Commission financially affected, but also all other farmers in a municipality, whose farms would have to bear the increased assessment caused by depreciation of the properties over which the Hydro lines are laid. For example, in Otonabee it has been estimated that the proposed lines would cause a shrinkage in assessment of $25,000, and this would have to be recovered by spreading it over the other properties in the township.

Farmers and especially the municipal representatives are requested to attend Saturday's meeting. So far there has been no organizing committee at work, but the response to Reeve McIntyre's suggestion has been so general that he was encouraged to proceed with securing the County Council Chamber for the purpose of getting the farmers together. Townships which are expected to be represented are Manvers, Cavan, South Monaghan, Otonabee, Asphodel, Belmont and Marmora.

However, residents of other townships who may be interested in this movement are just as welcome as those of the sections mentioned above. The success of this effort will depend upon the farmers themselves, and as "in union there is strength" it is hoped that many of them will attend the organization meeting next Saturday.

In attempting to escape from German customs officials, near Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany, recently, a woman caught smuggling goods across the border ran on to the railway track and was instantly killed by an express train.

PORTUGAL SENDS FORCE TO SUBDUE MADEIRA REBELS

Bitter Battle Expected Before Troops Will Be Able to Land on Island.

REVOLTERS WELL ARMED.

All Warships and Troops Being Mobilized—Political Deportees Blamed for Outbreak.

LISBON, Apr. 7.—(AP)—An expeditionary force headed today for Funchal, Madeira, where revolters have usurped the Portuguese authority, may have to fight bitterly in order to land on the Island. Anywhere but at Funchal will be of little use since the city is shut off from the remainder of the island by a mountain wall 4,000 feet high and deep ravines make progress toward the city impossible.

Funchal itself is defended by strong natural fortifications and high calibre United States naval guns left there during the Great War. A strong rebel force might be able to repel a much larger attacking force.

Practically every seaworthy warship in the Portuguese navy is being rushed to the island, with 600 infantry and a contingent of light artillery due there Wednesday. The coastal gunboat Zaira set out for Funchal last night and the Vasco da Gama is leaving today. Naval airplanes are being taken along.

Cavalry Objects

During embarkation of troops yesterday the Fifth Light Cavalry regiment refused to leave for service in Madeira on the plea that they were unwilling to fight their countrymen. They were ordered to return to their barracks and their places were taken by the Seventh Cavalry.

To meet the emergency, authorities have cancelled all army leaves, and naval officers and sailors are under orders to join their ships within 24 hours. The Lisbon garrison is known to be loyal to the regime, but in some quarters doubts are expressed as to the garrisons at Coimbra and Oporto.

A Government communique last night announced insubordination of forces at Funchal and said that since Colonel Silva Leal, sent there during the February bread rioting, had been made unable to carry out his duties, Colonel Fernando Borges had been appointed special delegate commandant and commander in chief of the expeditionary force. Political deportees were blamed for the rebellion.

The gunboat Tamega, doing duty at Funchal, has gone over to the rebels.

COUPLE FOUND DEAD IN HOME

Five Burners Were Found Wide Open in the Gas Range.

BOTH HAD BEEN ILL.

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., April 7 (Special to The Examiner).—Seated side by side, their hands clasped tightly, Frank A. and Bertha Cadwell Crane, 65 years of age, were found dead here to-day in their home.

Five burners were wide open in the gas range which they were facing. They had launched themselves into eternity as they had lived during 43 years of wedded companionship—together.

A farewell note, containing their obituaries in tabloid form, with instructions where to find their wills and where to bury them, was found in a Bible on the table behind them. They left the front door off the latch so it wouldn't have to be forced open, and in a postscript to their note asked a neighbor to put on the night lock and take the key, after the bodies were removed.

The couple were fairly well-to-do, Crane being a retired merchant, but both had been ill. "Forgive us, but we are so blue," they wrote in their farewell to the world.

Last night they had asked Mrs. Conlon to call them if they seemed to be sleeping late. She went to the back door and could not get in, and so notified their physician, Dr. E. H. Judd, who entered the front door and found the bodies. The couple, who came here about 40 years ago, had no children and there are no known relatives.

Fenella

Miss Ruth Knox of Peterborough Normal School and Miss Gertrude Knox of Toronto University are with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Knox for the Easter holidays.

Miss Elva Bowen has gone to her home in Castleton for the Easter season.

The sad news was received here recently, of the death of Mrs. Isaac Montgomery of the State of Oregon. Mrs. Montgomery was formerly Miss Euphemia Waldie, whose girlhood days and early married life were spent in this community. Archie Waldie, Fenella, is a brother of deceased.

Charles Childs, an employee of Cephas Brisbin, while rolling logs in the mill yard of F. J. Slade, had the misfortune to meet with an accident, whereby two small bones in his foot were broken. After medical attention he is resting easily at the home of his employer.

Miss Florence Macklin has returned home from Port Hope where she has been visiting friends and relatives for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Macklin and Clark Jewell, attended the sale at Cobourg on Wednesday and Thursday of the farm stock, implements and household furniture of Edward Budd.

Those from this vicinity who attended the funeral on Wednesday afternoon, of Mrs. Thomas Williamson, Hastings, were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mouncey and Miss Mildred Lean, Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Cephas Brisbin, John Herrington, Mr. and Mrs. A. Nill and Mrs. Clark Jewell. Mrs. J. H. Mouncey and Miss Mildred Lean are daughters of the deceased.

Mrs. Lily Turner, Roseneath was a recent guest of her cousin, Mrs. G. Montgomery.

Mrs. Cephas Brisbin has returned from Port Hope where she was guest of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Graham for a few days.

Miss Ruby Warner is spending her Easter holidays with relatives in Cobourg.

HIGH DIGNITARIES

presented by John Barlow, President of the St. George's Society.

"This society, established 87 years ago, has for its primary objects the upholding of the high traditions of the motherland," said Mr. Barlow, "the fostering in this great Dominion of the principles of justice, humanity and service, which have made our glorious Empire the bulwark of Christian civilization, and rendering of assistance, moral and when necessary financial, to our fellow-countrymen when first they arrive as strangers within our borders.

Mr. Barlow declared that His Excellency's predecessors having been enrolled honorary members of the society, it would be most gratifying to our entire membership if Your Excellency would allow your name to be entered upon our roster."

Station Thronged

The station was thronged. A guard of honor from the Governor General's Footguards was drawn up in the concourse, while a detachment from the Ottawa (Cameron) Highlanders contributed further color to a dazzling scene. His Excellency passed down the ranks, followed by members of his entourage, and entered the large waiting room where, decorated with gorgeous blooms, a platform had been reared on which the Governor General would receive members of the Privy Council, the diplomatic corps, the justiciary and other notables.

To the strains of martial music, the Vice-Regal Party proceeded to their state carriage outside the station, where awaited an escort of the Princess Louise's Dragoons. The streets were lined with enthusiastic citizens as Their Excellencies drove slowly along Mackenzie Avenue and down by the banks of the Ottawa River to Government House.

PUMPER REPAIRS

factory, since it would remove the necessity of excavating.

Permission was granted George W. Mulligan of the Gospel Hall, to hold religious services on Sunday evenings in Confederation Square.

When the Finance Committee report was read, Alderman Tuggey requested that the bill of $1,538.53 for the repair of the Fire Brigade pumper be held up until the Council received an itemized bill, "I understand that $900 of this amount went out as wages" stated Alderman Tuggey.

Alderman Cotton, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, said he had an itemized bill and Alderman Phelan, chairman of the Finance Committee, said he had been all through the bill and it was all right. "They had to tear the whole pumper to pieces," explained Alderman Cotton.

Alderman Tuggey's motion carried and the bill will be considered by the Finance Committee.

The selection of the 70 tons of coal for the Fire Station was again referred to Alderman Cotton. Inquiries as to a cheaper grade of coal to be used with the blower in the station fixed the price at $6.30 a ton delivered in the station. The Conger Lehigh Coal Company in the tenders received by the Committee was the cheapest, and will probably be accepted.

It was moved by Aldermen McNabb and Turner that the following streets be added to those to be storm drained: Bethune street from McDonnell street to London street, London street from Aylmer street to Stewart street.

John Edgar of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, appeared and sold each Alderman a membership in the society.

Roy A. Wainman was appointed caretaker of the city clock in the Market Hall tower at a salary of $50 a year. "His duties be to keep the clock well oiled and greased and wound and to make such changes as to have the clock showing the correct time" read one paragraph in the agreement.

A bylaw was passed to prohibit the storing of gasoline, oil and naptha in the city without the permission of the City Council. This applies only to buildings that may be used in the future for the storing of these inflammable fluids and not those in present use.

Aldermen Phelan and Cotton moved that 100 printed copies of the auditor's report be printed. The auditor, F. J. A. Hall, reported that he had examined the city's books and found them all correct.

Aldermen Stocker and Macdonald moved that a sidewalk be constructed on Albertus street from Homewood Avenue to Charlotte street. The motion carried.

The Peterborough Automobile Club in a letter asked for a grant of $225. The club said that they planned to maintain the tourist information bureau at the outskirts of the city and also repair and revarnish the sign on the Port Hope Highway. Alderman Hamilton stated that in his opinion the Automobile Club had received a sufficient grant. The request was refused.

The Rotary Club requested permission to use the Market Square on June 17 and June 18 for a fair such as held last year; receipts to be used for charitable purposes in this district. The request was granted.

The Horticultural Society's request for permission to erect signs on the streets included in the proposed scenic drive about the city was granted.

A letter was received from J. A. Ellis, secretary of the Provincial Relief Committee, giving notice that the city's relief had been extended to the end of April. Mr. Ellis said there could be little hope that relief would be extended past April.

Plans are going ahead for the International Plowmen's meet to be held in the Fall. Alderman Turner, chairman of the Reception Committee, requesting that he be given power to complete arrangements for the civic welcome and banquet to the visiting plowmen.

WEDDINGS

KINGDON—HILL.

LAKEFIELD, April 7.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Regent Street United Church parsonage on April 4, with Rev. S. A. Kemp officiating, when Eva Helen Hill, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington J. Hill was united in marriage to Melville Orville, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Kingdon.

The bride, who was becomingly attired in a jacket frock of daffodil georgette crepe combined with blonde radium lace, with blonde hat, shoes, hose and gloves to match. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and carnations.

Miss Leona Kingdon attended the bride, wearing a gown of robin's and gloves to match and carried a egg blue flat crepe, with hat, shoe bouquet of carnations.

Mr. George Graham attended the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left by motor for Peterborough where the wedding dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon will take up their residence in Lakefield.

YOUNGER—MEIKLEJOHN

CAMPBELLFORD, April 7.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride, Sebastopol street, Campbellford, on Thursday, April 2, 1931, when John Henry Younger was united in marriage to Mrs. Victoria Meiklejohn, the Rev. R. C. Tait, pastor of St. John's United Church, Campbellford, officiating. The register was signed by William F. Scott and Orpha Meiklejohn.

HUYCKE—LEAN.

NORHAM, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence). — A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. C. H. Curtis, on Saturday noon, April 4, when his niece, Miss Lucille Lean, was married to Mr. Ewart Huycke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Huycke. The bride entered on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Curtis, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Amy McNeilly, and took her place under an arch of evergreens. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. R. Clare, B.A., B.D. The bride looked charming in a gown of shell pink silk moire, and carried red roses. A dainty buffet lunch was served. The girl friends who assisted were the Misses Mildred Curtis, Claire Curtis, Marjory Booth, and Vivian Huycke.

A unique feature of the occasion was the fact that April 4 was the thirty-first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Huycke, the groom's parents; also that among the guests were four generations, namely the groom's grandmother, Mrs. McNeilly, his mother, Mrs. Huycke, his sister, Mrs. Locke, and her son Murray. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Huycke motored to Toronto, the bride wearing a blue suit and small black hat.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Curtis, Misses Mildred and Claire Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. William Huycke, Miss Vivian Huycke and Mr. Edward Huycke, Misses Madeline and Frances Lean, Mr. Rex Lean, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huycke and Austin Huycke, Mrs. Menelly, Sr., Mr. Frank Menelly, Miss Amy Menelly, and Mr. Arthur Menelly, Mr. and Mrs. John Osmond, Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Clare of Norham, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buchanan and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Booth of Warkworth, Miss Marjorie Booth of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Locke and son Murray and Mrs. Glover of Campbellford.

Instead of preaching a sermon, Rev. E. Priestley Swain, of Putney, England, devoted an evening service recently to answering questions put by the congregation.

IDEA THAT NEW MACHINERY CAUSES UNEMPLOYMENT REFUTED BY VERNOR

How Management of Industries Contribute to Community Welfare Shown.

ADDRESSES ROTARY

Addressing the Rotary Club yesterday J. H Vernor of the Western Clock Company delivered a most striking defense of the profit system in industry which The Examiner has pleasure in publishing in full to-day as follows:—

Those of us who are in the business of manufacturing have too often been maligned and perhaps it is fitting that once in a while we say something in our own defense and show how the management of our industries contributes to community welfare. I shall therefore attempt to speak for and of that group to-day. It is, perhaps, peculiarly apt at this time when world-wide depression faces us.

Within the memory of all of us there was the time when the capitalist was always "soulless" "rapacious," an "oppressor" and even an "octopus reaching its slimy tentacles out to steal the fruit of the workingman's toil" and this sentiment still exists to some degree.

A few weeks ago I listened to a sermon from the Salem Evangelical Church, Buffalo, given by Rev. Dr. H J. Hahn.

His thesis ran somewhat like this:

"Manufacturers are responsible for unemployment to-day because they have displaced hand labor with machines—regardless of their employees the wheels of industry must not turn unless there are dividends. Management is responsible for unemployment to-day because of unbrotherly handling of factories—industry never is enlisted to alleviate misery because under the profit system the fruits of workman's labor are monopolized by the few and the workers victimized—machinery the potential liberator of man becomes his nemesis—unemployment is here to stay unless we change our social order—we should socialize industry based on human needs and not profit for the few "So says Dr. Hahn "Truly this wisdom descendeth not from above but is devilish."

Is this thesis true? Most of us own some stock in some corporation and if we do not we have only to read the financial sheets of our papers to know that profits are but a small fraction of wages. If profits did not exist, the unemployment problem would not be solved.

Communism No Solution

Communism or opposing what the Rev. Dr. Hahn so magnificently calls the "profit system" offers no real solution—it only offers a negation of profits and a control of production which is just as liable to err as it is now under our capitalistic system.

We hear a great deal of pedantic statements nowadays to the effect that machinery is the cause of world-wide distress.

It is difficult to understand how any honest man, much less a minister of the gospel, can talk such utter balderdash. Assuming that the Rev. Dr. Hahn does not wish to precipitate a revolution (which I doubt) every one knows that labor is not the whole story. That goods which sell as Dr. Hahn says, for 68 billion dollars and pay 11 billions in wages are not made with 57 billions of profits unless materials and buildings can be had free of cost. And further the intelligence of a child is all that is needed to grasp that elemental fact that corporations to-day are owned by millions of stockholders, including the very workman who helps produce the goods.

It reminds me of Pope's couplet and Squire's reply.

Nature and Nature's laws lay hid in night
God said "Let Newton be" and all was light

It did not last long—the devil howling "no!"

"Let Einstein be" restored the status quo.

Dr. Hahn would doubtless like to restore the brotherly affection of 2 000 years ago which knew no machinery and which crucified Christ.

Let me quote a little from that great leader, Mr. Charles M. Schwab.

"Students of the world's progress have long recognized that science as reflected in electrical mechanical power has made possible a civilization for the whole people. It was mechanical power which undermined the institution of slavery and made it obsolete.

We have telephone and telegraphic communication. We have air, motor, rail, and water transportation in ever-improving efficiency.

No one has benefited more from our laboratories than the common laborer. Many of the readers of the present day can recall, without looking back many years, the long hours of labor and the heavy physical toll in our industrial plants. In fact this was the practice for so many years that the public at large may not yet realize the changed conditions.

Cranes and other automatic devices have replaced heavy lifting by human power. Ventilating and blower-systems have mitigated the intense heat. Ample lighting and safety devices have made for healthier and safer working conditions. Industrial accidents have declined in the past decade. Not only has labor gained with respect to better working conditions, but likewise wages have more than doubled and are at levels considerably ahead of the increase in the cost of living. In fact, many products which generation ago were available only to the rich are to-day within the range of the working man's income. Automobiles and electric light are two notable examples of the products which large scale enterprise has placed within the range of the worker's income.

Looking to the future, I see in the further acceleration of science continuous jobs for our workers. Science will cure unemployment. That is the basis of our progress. Many of our most active businesses at the present time are the results of recent inventions. Electrification, cellulose products, and new developments in the oil refinery field are examples. Our industrial expansion will continue as long as the scientists develop new processes and products, creating new demands for employment."

Not Victimizers

For the most part, however, corporations to-day cannot justly be called "victimizers." We have proof of this statement in every hand during this depression, for very few of them have unfairly taken advantage of the unfortunate condition of the world in general to reduce wages.

"He profits most who serves best" is a clear statement of management which realizes that wages which remain constant, help in greater degree to produce the cure for bad times than reduced prices for their products—for simple common sense would seem to say that low prices for manufactured goods are of no advantage when the purchasing pocketbook is empty.

It is a self-evident tribute to the manufacturing group in general that now-a-days there exist few who regard their being as separate and distinct from the welfare of their employees.

Our system of democracy is definitely and admittedly committed to the principle of capitalism. Capitalism does not mean exploitation of the individual but rather independent welfare of the individual. It has been not untruly said that this is a country where communism makes slow progress because each individual is a potential capitalist. We save money, buy stocks or bonds or property and thus become capitalists.

Such capitalism is beneficient, not destructive. It provides us all with the incentive to work for—it is the solid principle upon which our economic structure has been developed throughout the centuries.

The only known alternative is the doctrine of communism now being experimented with in Red Russia. I shall not attempt to detail the ideas of radicalism—it is all based upon centralization of authority in the state even to the physical and moral independence of the individual, as you know.

In theory, all work is you might say, dumped into a common bin from which each draws his needs—as determined be his rule of thumb. Theoretically this idea of the brotherhood of man maybe very fine. It masquerades in diabolical cleverness in this hemisphere sometimes in the schools and colleges and in the pulpit as I have said—it is represented as the teachings of the Saviour of Mankind by the International Bible Students' Association and other sinister organizations. What is the result of the adoption in part of these principles by the state?

Australia's Experience

Come with me for a few moments to Australia. See a wonderful country, rich in everything to make life happy—untold acres of waving grain, vast herds of cattle grazing under sunny skies—the earth rich in minerals to supply every need—gold—iron—copper—diamonds — coal — a country whose very animal life spells romance.

Where the kangaroo sportively graces the hills—where the spider orchid grows—land of the baronia and the leshinalda—where the happy kookoburra lifts its raucous voice in one great laugh at humans.

See the eucalyptus trees gracefully waving you welcome—or if you will, see that wonderful Southern Cross like great luminous thumb tacks pinning the lesser heavens to the azure dome of the infinite. Picture the sapphire blue of the tropic sea breaking with rythmic regularity into pearly foam on a coral beach. Hear the sibilant swish of the lengthening rollers lulling the senses to quiet while the sensuous breezes cool the perfume laden air as they sigh through the fronds of the feathery bamboo or rustle the stately cocoanuts into sinuous motion.

But Australia, unfortunately, has not only listened to the Sirens, but, apparently while carelessly sailing her ship of state along the coast line of expanding, happy industrialism has almost wrecked her economic structure. What they might term the Charybidis of profit they have attempted to avoid and in doing so, have steered too near their Scylla who has reached out and nationalized the sturdy crew of railways, telephones, telegraphs, power and public services, put steamships into competition with dividend paying privately owned lines, built houses, handled grain, subsidized exports and in short, committed commercial hari kari by degrees.

True, she has avoided having corporations making profit, from them, but she has at the same time disregarded sound financial laws and impaired efficiency to such an extent that her credit suffers. It is worth serious thought when one man in every nine becomes a government employee. A time quickly arrives when expenditures exceed income and the bleak spectre of bankrutcy faces the nation.

"My candle burns at both ends
It will not last the night
But ah, my foes
And ah, my friends
It gives a lovely light."

Russia well knows what is going on in Australia. She has maintained an active propaganda there for many years—and doubtless her leaders have chortled with glee as they have seen the government depart from its correct function of controlling industry and enter into the field of production—a narcotic none the less deadly because it is so pleasant to take.

In my opinion the best answer to the doctrines of the "Third International" is the doctrine of "Rotary International" and it seems that is the reason why Rotary does not exist in Russia.

Rotary could supply Russia with the ideal which they need—but it is too big to be confined to dictation from Moscow.

"He profits most who serves best" may be taken to mean that we realize that industrial pensions are to-day a necessity—that it is not fair to fail to make those who purchase our products pay not only wages, but also to provide for the old age of the faithful employees rather than to ruthlessly discharge them when the silver cord is about to be loosed or the sound of the grinding is low.

That our whole hearted support be given to our very excellent compensation law—which we believe in Ontario is the best and the fairest on this continent.

Life insurance is not compulsory but the largest and most progressive industries have already provided it for their employees.

As Rotarians we can have no objection to old age pensions. They are wholly compatible with our aims and objects.

These are some of the examples of either government or voluntary control of industry—but they are not production by the state.

Let this beautiful country beware lest the state enter into production instead of remaining as a legislative body.

I am no friend of state ownership—to me it spells ruin, complete and abject—inefficiency, higher taxes, stifling of our greatest asset—ambition—and loss completely of the opportunity of the individual.

The only real exception I know, and it is the more striking because it proves the rule, is our power development in Ontario. The principle however, remains.

The movement from sane capitalism to certain Socialism is slow—like the movement of an ice pack from the shore—it begins with nationalization of such things as telephones for instance—and the end is not in sight.

It is like the faith healer from Deal who said "Although pain isn't real—if I sit on a pin—and puncture my skin—I dislike what I fancy I feel."

There is no point, so to speak in blindly closing our eyes to the obvious and trying to say it doesn't exist, like an ostrich burying its head in the sand.

Machinery's Place.

With those who decry the advent of machinery as being the cause of our troubles I differ greatly.

When I was a boy I remember very distinctly hearing of the wonders of a generator, which was to be installed in our town to light the streets. It took old arc lights to do it.

In 1894 we had a tremendous money panic, and there was proportionately more suffering than to-day. There were no telephone systems, such as we have now—no fine highways, no automobiles.

Let me ask—had these things not been invented would we have as much employment as we have to-day? I think you will agree we would not.

Time does not permit an elaboration of the idea. It is far from new and far from original. But it serves to illustrate the point I am trying to make—that machinery gives us our high standard of living and places within our reach those things which we want most.

I once spent some time in India. There I saw a people who were to all intents and purposes slaves.

The man who was well off may perhaps own a small piece of ground on which rice could be grown but only at the expense of hard labor. Machinery? Oh yes—he had a machine for irrigating his land. It consisted of a rope which ran over a pulley on a derrick made by dint of much hard labor, and it had a bucket on one end and an ox on the other. Thus was water lifted to be quickly soaked up by the thirsty soil. At the end of the season the owner was lucky if he had enough rice stored to feed him another year. His luxury consisted of his derrick, his ox and his bucket. Slaving days on end to provide food enough to eat.

A Bombay merchant who sold things to foreigners from a shop smaller than the smallest one in our city (and neater than the neatest) said to me "What is it makes your country great and your people prosperous? We have in India a country whose population was greater than yours hundreds of years before America was discovered—we are as intelligent as you are—we work harder and yet my people are terribly poor and always nearly starving."

Gentlemen, I would have liked to have told him it was our religion—but he had one which was larger and which is practiced more universally than ours. I would have liked to have said "our government." Yet he had a government which antedated ours. I think it was our machinery which has raised our country from virtual slavery to virtual prosperity.

Compared With India

As I look around this room to-day I can see in my minds eye, a duplicate of nearly every classification in the Orient where machinery does not exist and in every case you would regard the man who does your kind of work for his fellow men as very much your inferior.

Yes, I saw a clock maker whose lathe ran with a contraption like a bow string—a milk merchant who led his cow through the street— a purveyor of light who sold candles—a meat merchant who sold pieces of meat one inch square, a clothing merchant whose stock was locked in a box each night—a tobacconist who sold smokes by the puff and human beings who were glad to pull you around in a rickshaw for a few cents—and all because there was no money for better things.

Let me ask the doctor where his science would be without the machinery to produce the microscope—the farmer without the iron plow—the lawyer how much he could learn without the printing machine—the merchant without the mechanical loom—the coal dealer without his air hammer in the mines—and all of us without the thousand and one things, mechanically made to-day, which are making employment by their very being.

Machinery which reduces toil, showed raised wages and lower costs. Often we hear the expression that something would be done if it pays. Critics of our "profit system" thoughtlessly or else deliberately turn this phrase into meaning that it must make more money for the owner, but this is not the meaning. Competition takes care of excess profits and the public reap the large returns in the lowering of prices.

Must Improve

That factory which fails to improve becomes as archaic as the Hindus irrigation scheme, and ere long occupies the same relative position in the sun. The manufacturer endeavors to live up to his ideals. And manufacturing has ideals, just as much as any other field of human thought or endeavor. In his relations with his customers the manufacturer tries to be fair and just and to develop ethical practices. He tries to see that his products reach the consuming public as cheaply and in as good shape as conditions will permit. In his relations with employees he finds the greatest efficiency is produced by paying the highest rates he can afford rather than the lowest he can get men to work for, and he establishes departments for welfare on which he spends large sums of money, and does his best to help make the community better, knockers and wisecracking critics to the contrary notwithstanding.

Further, he pays taxes locally, nationally and provincially and his contribution to the cost of municipal administration is a very large portion of the whole.

The services naturally cost money and add to the price of goods sold. Years ago they did not exist in such degree at least, and so far as imported goods are concerned, they do not exist in them to-day, for the benefit of this country.

And still we hear it said that improvement in methods throws men out of work. It does not do so—it changes individual work, just as the advent of the electric light hurt the gas or kerosene burner business—but it is the very thing that keeps us in the vanguard of civilization to-day.

It is the manufacturer, who by his eagerness to be of service to mankind, encourages and demands education in science and invention, spurring on and on to a greater and more glorious future.

District Churches

MADOC, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—A bright, beautiful Easter Sunday morning brought large congregations to all the churches in Madoc village on the 5th of April. Trinity United Church had an unusually large congregation assembled for the quarterly Communion service. Rev. G. W. Rivers conducted the service, and a good attendance of choir members were assembled to take part in the songs of praise and rejoicing. In the absence of the organist, Miss Ramsay, the organ was presided over by Mrs. L. Ashley. The morning anthem was "Easter Morn," and a beautiful solo was contributed by Mrs. W. Hulin. "We'll Never Forget."

Easter hymns were chosen, and the subject of the morning's discourse was "Easter and the Commonplace." The church was beautified by Easter lilies, and the morning's worship was closed with the Communion service in which a large part of the congregation took part.

The Easter subject was continued in the evening service, with Easter hymns and Easter message, "The Living Saviour." Special music was well rendered by a large choir. The Anthem was "Christ Arose," and Mr. Scrutton contributed a beautiful violin solo. The Ladies' Quartette, Mesdames, Whytock, Hulin, Ashley, and Miss Fair, sang "Now the Day is Over," and after the Benediction, instead of the Vesper hymn, "Christ the Lord, is Risen Today," was sung.

At St. John's.

Easter services at the Church of St. John the Baptist, Madoc, were made bright and gladsome for the celebration of the Festival of the Resurrection of the Christ, as a conclusion to the series of services of Lent which were closed with the morning and evening services of Good Friday, and the long hours of intercession and Litanies during the hours of one, two and three o'clock of Friday afternoon. The subjects chosen for the Good Friday sermons, morning and evening were, "And sitting down, they watched Him there: Matt. 27:36; and "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me," John 12:32.

For Easter Sunday, the altar of the church bore the beautiful Calla Lilies, and reading desk, Lectern and pulpit were surrounded by Easter lilies, and bright scarlet and crimson geraniums, with their typical colors, and glorious promise of nature's resurrection. Potted plants were also used to decorate the windows, so the glow of color, the wonderful strains of music and the earnest Easter message all told of the living Saviour, and the glad and thrilling gospel of the Risen Lord.

The congregation was the largest gathered there since the Easter of 1921. All the hymns were telling of Easter, and the lessons were from Col; 3, and St. John's Gospel 20: 19:38. Rev. P. Gatley Reynolds took for his text, Mark 16: verses 3 and 4. "And they said among themselves, 'who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?' and when they looked they saw that the stone was rolled away, for it was very great."

The Hallelujah Chorus was used by the organist as the organ prelude, and a full choir joined in the swelling processional hymn as they marched to their places. After the Communion Service, the recessional used was the "Nunc Dimittis" and the congregation retired to the strains of St. George's March.

Evening Service.

Evening service found a good congregation, and again the processional hymn was of Easter "Christ, the Lord, is Risen Today," sung in the clear, sweet notes of the younger choir. Easter Psalms were used, being Ps. 113 and 114, responsively. The Rector, Rev. Mr. Reynolds, used the text, "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things that are above." Col. 1:3.

TRENT RIVER UNITED CHURCH.

TRENT RIVER, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—Rev. W. R. Archer preached to a large and appreciative congregation on Easter Sunday. The interior of the church was prettily decorated in keeping with the occasion. Pretty potted plants were placed around the minister's desk, organ and in the windows. The choir was out in full strength and rendered appropriate numbers.

The order of service was as follows: Opening hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen To-day"; prayer by the pastor; selection by the choir, "Hear the Easter Bells," by C. Austin Miles; Psalm 147 read in concert; Rev. Mr. Archer gave a short address to the children on the "Life of Joseph" (his troubles down in Egypt).

Sermon with topic, "He Saved Others' Himself He Cannot Save." On opening the subject the pastor referred to the "sunrise service" at Davis' Mount in San Francisco. "It is an interdenominational service representing great numbers of great churches all over the Dominion. The radio is indicative that people of to-day want the best." The pastor also gave illustrations regarding "The Passion Play." In closing his address he prayed that we may all have the privilege of bearing the Cross of Christ before the setting sun.

After the offertory the choir rendered "Who Shall Roll the Stone Away," by J. Lincoln Hall, Mrs. Bert Robson taking the solo part in a sweet clear voice. A hymn, "Come Ye Saints, Look Here and Wonder," was sung. At the close of the service, Mr. Archer expressed appreciation of the contributions by the choir.

Don't Be Misled In Buying SILK HOSIERY

Prices of silk hosiery have decreased so considerably that an entirely new standard of values has been created. Many manufacturers, to meet this situation, have lightened the weight of their stockings, used a smaller number of threads to the inch, and are depending upon the stretch of the boarding operation to produce the size.

Buy "Puritan Maid" And You Buy The Best

Faced with the same price adjustment, our mill experts have produced an entirely different range of Stockings. Qualities have been improved, even though prices are lessened. Our mills are running day and night.

Prices are about 1/3 less than last year. Our Chiffon Silk Stockings are of better quality silk and are finer in weave than ever. Puritan Maid Stockings in service weight will give even more wear than before.

PURITAN MAID

MOST SOLEMN EASTER SERVICES HELD IN MILLBROOK CHURCHES

Lovely Easter Lillies and Spring Blossoms Decorated Each Church.

SPECIAL MUSIC BY CHOIRS

MILLBROOK, April 7.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Appropriate Easter services were observed in the three local churches on Sunday, with special music by the choirs in each case, and with lovely Easter lillies and other spring blossoms within the altar railing, their beauty and fragrance adding definitely to the spirit of worship that was in keeping with the resurrection story.

In Grace Presbyterian Church the service was in the evening, with the hymns chosen especially for the Easter Day, and a duet by Mr. Vernon and Miss Eileen Hunter as the special feature of the music for the occasion.

Among the beautiful flowers within the altar railing was a basket of lovely blossoms, presented to the church for the Easter services by the Misses Alberta and Marguerite Russell and their sister, Mrs. W. W. Kennedy in memory of their mother, the late Mrs. Harry Russell. At the conclusion of the service this basket of fragrant blooms was given to Mrs. J. R. Eakins, who has been ill for some weeks, and who for many years has been a faithful and capable worker in the church and its several organizations.

Need of Resurrection.

The minister, Rev. John Riddell, chose his text from Romans 6:8, "Now if we be dead with Christ we believe that we shall also live with Him."

Developing his theme, the speaker showed that Apostle Paul was struggling to express to the Roman Christians the meaning of the resurrection, and that to participate in it they must have the blessed experience of abiding in Christ here and now.

"Abiding means staying with Him, not leaving, but living continuously with Him. It involves a continued separation from anything that would separate from Christ. And then it means a fullness of life coming from Himself into us, a rich ripeness, a rounded maturity, a depth of life, and a continual growing riper, richer, deeper."

The resurrection in its relation to the life that is lived in this present world, and with that of the world to come, had also a place in the sermon theme. As Stanley Jones has put it, "The fact of the resurrection puts an unconquerable courage at the heart of life, so that whenever the real gospel is accepted life lifts up its head, refusing to be beaten, it finds in it moral courage to live."

SAINT THOMAS' ANGLICAN

Special Easter services were held in all the churches of the Anglican parish of Millbrook and Cavan on Sunday, early morning communion being celebrated in Saint Thomas' Church at 8 a.m., and again at the regular morning worship at 11 o'clock, the rector, Rev. William Simpson, B.A., being assisted by Rev. P. B. deLom, of Cobourg, with the work of the parish throughout the day.

Both clergymen were at the early communion, Rev. Mr. deLom taking the morning service here at eleven, while the rector went to Saint John's Church, Ida, where worship was at the same hour, with Holy Communion and sermon, while at 3 p.m. the service was at Christ Church Bailieboro, with corporate communion and special music by the choir.

Trinity Church the Marsh, also had service on Sunday at three o'clock, with sermon, and the celebration of the Sacrament.

The Easter selections by the choir at Saint Thomas' Church in the evening included Bunnet's Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis in F; and an anthem "Why Seek Ye the Living among the Dead" (Clare), with solo by Mrs. W. McKee Bingham. Miss M. L. Collins presided at the organ, playing as the opening voluntary the Prelude in G by Edwin W. Reid.

The flowers on the altar were largely given by members of the congregation in memory of departed loved ones, Miss M. B. Turner, secretary of the Chancel Guild, having their purchase and arrangement in charge. The congregation was large, and the entire service peculiarly in keeping with the spirit of the Easter occasion.

The rector, Rev. Mr. Simpson, conducted the service in the evening, his text being chosen from the words, "Woman why weepest thou? She saith unto them, because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid Him," (John 20,13).

The sermon laid emphasis upon the joyousness of Easter, with its message of comfort and of hope, and its assurance of a living Lord, and of a life beyond the grave.

Saint Andrew's United.

The Easter Sunday morning service at Saint Andrew's church was marked by the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper administered by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones B.D., at the conclusion of the sermon, which was based upon the apropriate text, "Jesus saiith unto them, come and dine." John 21:12.

Pointing out that the disciples had evidently felt the pull of the old life and so had gone back, seven of them, to their fishing in the Lake of Galilee, the speaker stressed the fact that the abundant success that attended their obedience to the instructions from the stranger on the shore, brought to John the spiritual intuition to see that it was none other than Christ.

"We might sing the Doxology for Peter, who was not ashamed to show his loyalty by being the first to reach the Saviour's side. Peter had had a bad fall, but he was facing the right way when he got up again, as his action in casting himself into the sea that he might the sooner reach the feet of Christ, clearly showed. Like him, we should never be ashamed to publicly show our loyalty to the One who redeemed us."

A natural reticence kept the disciples from asking Jesus as to His identity, and He was hoping to inspire faith in His spiritual personality, that they might see Him ,and embrace Him, and declare Him as the same miracle-working Christ whom they had known before His death, understanding that there was a continuity of personality as though there had been no intervening separation.

The Saviour's intense longing that His sheep should have good shepherding and good pasture was brought out by the questioning of Peter, and the scene closes with Peter and the other six obeying His call, Follow Me. "All following has as its foundation a personal love for Christ, a willingness to go in service even at the cost of sacrifice." The sermon closed with an urgent invitation to realize that the Saviour's tender care and anxiety for His flock is unchanged, and that a determination to follow Him might well be shown in "the opportunity to celebrate the Holy Communion this glorious morning."

The choir sang as an opening anthem, "Awake Thou That Sleepest," with solo by Mrs. G. W. Sayles, and "This is the Day Which the Lord Hath Made," with solos by Messrs. M. McDowell and W. H. Coombe, as their second offering, the recessional hymn being, "Christ the Lord is Risen To-day."

The elders assisting with the communion service were: T. H. Aiken, G. E. Burnham, J. A. Brown, W. Fred Fallis and W. E. Ball. There were a large number of communicants.

Knox Church W.M.S. Holds Monthly Meet

On Thursday afternoon the members of the W.M.S. of Knox United Church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. F. Morrison, Dalhousie street, when the first part of the meeting took the form of a memorial service for a beloved member, the late Miss Helen Morton, whose death occurred suddenly on March 25.

During this service, the hymn, "Shall We Gather at the River" was sung and the 14th chapter of Joan was read. The remainder of the meeting was the Easter thankoffering. After the business transactions, Mrs. McDonald read the Easter leaflet and prayer was given by Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Laing. Mrs. Stevens, secretary of Christian Stewardship and Finances read a very interesting paper on "Count your Blessings" and Miss Hazel Huffman took the temperance topic. The thankoffering was taken and proved to be a liberal one.

Mrs. Mackenzie offered the dedicatory prayer and the meeting was brought to a close. A very pleasant social time was enjoyed concluding with dainty refreshments served by the hostess.

CHURCHES IN CAM PBELLFORD OBSERVE TH E EASTER SEASON

Special Sermon Themes Emphasize Spirit of Season in All Churches.

FINE EASTER MUSIC HEARD

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 7. — All churches of Campbellford were filled on Easter Sunday when special services were held both morning and evening to celebrate the festive season. Preachers of all denominations took for their sermon subjects of Easter themes, while choirs rendered special and befitting music for the occasion.

At Christ Church

At Christ Church the Rev. N. Clark Wallace preached on both occasions. There was a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a.m. and at 11 a.m. the latter service being choral. Evensong was sung in the evening. At the morning service the anthem took the form of a solo by Mrs. F. deFree, "Easter Hymn", a 17th Century air arranged by Frank Bridge, while the choir under the direction of W. Pearson rendered special musical settings for the service. Large congregations attended both services. At the evening service the anthem was the last portion of the Good Friday Cantata, "Peace," with the same soloists, and a soprano solo by Mrs. C. J. Waldrim, "Day of Days", (Van-de-Water.") Children's service was held in the afternoon.

Collossions II, verse 12, "Ye are risen with Christ", was the text taken by the Rev. Clark Wallace at the morning service. He based the theme of his subject on the truth that the Christian message to the world was based on the fact of Christ's Resurection, pointing out that it was only this fact that made it a message worth proclaiming at all. Everything depended upon the truth of it he stated, for without it there was not Gospel to preach. For this reason the indespensible qualification for an Apostle was to have been a witness of the Resurection, this fact being emphasized in a stury of the first sermons preached, found the Acts. It is also the underlying assumption of the teaching of the New Testament.

"The Jesus Christ of the Epistles is a Risen Christ," the preacher stated, declaring that what was not always clear was the reason for the importance of the Lord's Resurection. It was because from times past, there had been a desire for survival after death.

"We need a strong right hand that can stretch out to save us from drowning in this troublesome world," declared Mr. Wallace. The Christian faith in Christ's Resurection offers us such a hand and we should grasp it, otherwise we are like the drowning man who grasps the hair on his own head to save him. "That is the position in which we are left if the Christian faith that Christ is risen from the dead is a mere delusion—or if the hope that it holds out to us does not begin until after we are dead—Ye Are Risen with Christ".

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church the Rev. J. C. Robinson had charge of all services, preaching two splendid sermons. The choir under the direction of W. A. Newcourt rendered special music. At the morning service the anthems were, "They Have Taken Away My Lord", (Stainer) and "Conquering Kings Their Titles Take," (Maunder) and in the evening, "Send Out Thy Light," (Gounod), and a solo by Mrs. Chas. Milne, "Come Thou To Me".

At the evening service the Rev. Mr. Robinson took for his text, Colossians III, verse I, "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God" preaching a splendid sermon on the Resurection, pointing out that the word itself has the power the stir the mind, charm the sphere of imagination, attractiveness to draw the human heart and is in reality a great sacred thought. It not only expresses the experiences that belong to the past, he said, but deals with the happenings of the present. For the Resurection was triumphant over death in this life. Paul had felt this fact and knew himself to be a risen man by the belief he had in the things eternal. The preacher continued by pointing out that the risen life was subject to a law, which could be seen in the natural life around us, and teaches a lesson, that the Resurection lifts us upward to a better life.

There are two courses in every sphere of life he stated, one that leads us upward and one that travels downward. In the world in which we live we see this. The lower life leads to the satisfying of the senses, and caters to the animal man, while the higher life is the spiritual, that looks at and interprets life and nature as a fine poem. The same law applies in the sphere of human relationship. There is a base friendship and love which leads to lust and passion, and a holy and spiritual contact which deals with purity, honor and celestial ideals.

Again this is found in the world of music. There is the music which has for some time been very popular which tends to play on the human passions and is mean, while on the other hand there is the noble music which cleanses the heart and fills the mind with high and holy thoughts.

And with literature it is the same. There are the books and plays that speak of heroism and virtue and are uplifting, and there are those that perpetuate the trivial and vile and glorify indecency and unfaithfulness. And in the world of labor this is also good work for the mercenery advantages and work of the love of the ideal and nobleness that is in it, the divine vocation.

And in conclusion Mr Robinson said, the same law applies to the spiritual life. There is the over emphasis on the form of worship and the ritual, which sometimes trys to make these things the reality in life. The reality in life was Christ, he said. Form of worship was a part of all worship, but "the motto of every Christian should be to live the upward life for Christ, with Christ and to Christ."

ST. JOHN'S UNITED

At St. John's United Church the pastor, the Rev. R. C. Tait, was the preacher of the day, delivering two splendid sermons to large congregations. At the close of the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. Special music was rendered under the direction of Albert Hezell. At the morning service this took the form of a bass solo by Walter Henson; a quintette, composed of the Misses N. Forde, F. Bibby, Nellie Hoover, Dr. H. O. Richardson and Mr. G. Godden, "He Was Nailed to the Cross," and an anthem, "Awake Thou That Sleepest" (Maker). In the evening Miss Emma Meiklejohn sang a soprano solo, "Hosanna" (Grainer).

Mr. Tait took for his text at the evening service, Eccles. III, verse 2: "He hath made everything beautiful in its time; also He hath set the world in their hearts," preaching a very fine sermon on Immortality. Commencing his theme, he pointed out that it is the beauty and glory of the festivals of the Christian Church that bring to us the most solemn and infinite ideas, which means that God, through His work in nature, of releasing it from the tomb of Winter, is fully equal to the task of lifting men out of the winter of death into the summer of immortal life.

In the first place we must remember that there are two opposites in life. Time and Eternity. By our bodies we are tenants of Time, but by our souls we are tenants of Eternity, for we carry Eternity in our hearts. "That being so, let us consider our rational discontent," said the preacher, who went on to say that the reason of this really lies in the heart of God. So long as eternity is locked up in our hearts it is impossible for us to be contented with pleasure or business. Wealth, fame, pleasure, profit; these are the shrines at which we worship, as though a soul could feed on these ashes and live with a lie in its right hand. St. Augustine spoke the essential truth when he said, 'Lord, Thou hast made us for Thyself, and our hearts are restless until they rest in Thee'."

Of God's love for man, Mr. Tait declared that the hope of immortality must rest ultimately on the soul's intrinsic worth to God. This was exemplified by Christ, who welcomed the prodigal and turned even to a thief on the cross. Now, if Christ is, as our philosophy assures us, the key to the universe, to God, is it conceivable that God will be careless about the destinies of Persons? In Him, Jesus, men are sure that they have heard from heaven. "It isn't what He owes us, but what he thinks of us, that makes us sure of that," said the preacher.

This leads us to a kindred thought, he said; if God must live for others, He must have others for whom to live, pointing out that the Christian faith speaks of a fellowship that death is powerless to put out. "And finally, we count on the fairness of God," declared Mr. Tait. "God is not the god of the dead but of the living. What Jesus says really means, that God does not go back on His friends. If one is really dear to Him and loved by Him, then one's life is assured for ever and ever! Man is the worshipper, the only créature capable of lifting up his face without spot to God. He alone shares with the angels that mystic impulse which waits and wonders, worships and adores. It is the faculty of worship that sets man apart, with God's seal upon our foreheads and a consciousness of sonship within our hearts.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the Baptist Church the Rev. L. M. Smith preached to two large congregations. Special music was rendered by the choir at both hours of worship with the Rev. Mr. Smith as soloist. At the close of the evening service Communion and reception of new members was held. The Rev. H. Twigg assisted the pastor in the evening.

At the morning service Mr. Smith preached from Col. III, verse I, "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God," taking as his theme "The Practice of Immortality."

"The Resurrection of Jesus," he said, "is the explanation of the Christian church. It was the certainty of that fact that sent the disciples out into the world proclaiming the Master as the Saviour of mankind. There theme was not merely Jesus, not even Jesus crucified but Jesus crucified and risen. And in all the centuries men have clung to the eternal hope of the Resurrection.

There is one question we seldom ask at this time. Are we immortal? Are we fit for immortality? Do we really wish these lives as we have lived them to remain? No. What then? We must strive to make these lives of ours worthy of immortality. The New Testament speaks of conversion as a death, a cutting off from the old. "Ye die and your life is hidden with Christ in God." "Was there that finality about our conversion as there is about death," the preacher asked. Was there compromise? Are we Christians after our own ideals? or have we ordered our lives according to the will and spirit of Christ?

Paul thought and taught that there is an immortal quality in life that may be realized and experienced here and now. "By practicing immortality, aim at immortal gratitude," Mr. Smith declared. To feel that one is indeed a son of God one must live like a son of God. Paul's formula for the life restricting the fear of death, is to push out the borders, enlarge the horizon and practice daily immortality. "Ye have been raised with Christ." "This," said Mr. Smith, "is our assurance of immortality."

Sunshine Clas sof Norham Sunday Scohol Holds Regular Monthly Meeting.

NORHAM, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Sunshine Class of the Norham Sunday School held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Palmateer on Wednesday evening, April 1st. There were twenty-five members present.

The devotional period was led by Wesley Clare assisted by Mildred Palmateer who read the scriptural lesson. The devotional topic was on Pentecost.

Gordon Mitchell, the president had charge of the business. This meeting closed the 3 months' contest among the groups for attendance at Sunday school and the monthly meeting. Group 1, led by Wesley Clare had the most points. Group 2, led by Lucille Lean stood second and Group 3, led by Will Thatcher was the lowest. The losing sides decided to entertain the winning side at an outdoor party and taffy pull in the near future.

The leaders of the groups for the next three months are Bernice Campbell, Mildred Palmateer and Lorne Mitchell.

Will Thatcher was the chairman for the program. Several musical selections were given by Misses Lucille and Dora Palmateer on the guitar and autoharp. Miss Bernice Campbell gave a reading. Mrs. Clare gave an interesting reading "Easter in Ukraine."

The main item of the program was a geography game, "Do you know Canada?" Each person was given 3 cards with a question on Canada. If they could not answer the question, they forfeited the card and the correct answer was read by the leader. The person holding the most cards won the game.

At this point Miss Lucille Lean and Ewart Huycke were called to the front and Gordon Mitchell read an address and presented them with a clock.

Miss Lucille Lean was in charge of the social hour and had planned two splendid contests. The winners were Wesley Clare and Rex Lean.

After a dainty lunch, a vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Palmateer and her daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyd, Omemee, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Greta May, to Mr. Gordon Aubrey Bland, only son of Mr. Harry and the late Mrs. Bland, Mt. Pleasant. The marriage to take place quietly, the middle of April.

Under the auspices of the Peterborough Ski Club, a jolly Easter Monday dance filled the big hall of the Conservatory of Music last night with a crowd of over three hundred young people, who danced until the early morning hours to splendid music played by Mowry-Steer and their Silver Collegians. The committee in charge provided an evening's entertainment that made a happy opening for the gay holiday season that follows Lent. The dancing program included a number of favor and novelty events and the prizes for the spot dance went to Miss Mayme Grose and Mr. Stan Elliott. Refreshments were dispensed with and the intermission in the dancing was taken up with the showing of moving pictures of local skiing events, by Mr Fred L. Roy. Decorations of the hall and stage followed out the idea of the club's efforts, with skils and evergreens that recalled the background for their sporting events during the season. A wall of uptilted skils formed a background for the orchestra on the stage and crossed skils, centred by poles used in the sport, were wall motifs, caught with boughs of evergreens that also decorated the top of the doorway and of the windows with their long curtains of blue and white paper. The door and the electroliers also sported these blue and white fringes in the club's colors, while an illuminated moon in the corner provided additional light. The dancing programs were done in blue and white, with the emblem of the club on the cover. These were the work of Miss Lahring Parsons. Patrons and patronesses for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Roy, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Parsons. The dance committee included Messrs. D. M. Hall, B. Johnston, K. Duffus, the Misses Jean Fraser, Jean Duffus, Edythe Cottrell, and Dorothy Couper. Officers of the club are Mr. W. A. Richardson, honorary president; Mr. C. H. NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, as I help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the color of a dress or stockings as soon as the things become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes for the work—using them as dyes for dresses and as tints for stockings. I have always gotten such perfect results that our neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have.

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dyes—and they deserve to be."

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

No doubt you housewives have found that picturesque food plays an important part at this season of the year and particularly so around Easter.

• • • • • • •

Dishes may be pictorially intriguing or they may feature Spring in color and variety.

• • • • • • •

Now that food is so marvelously transported from great distances in refrigerator cars, the kinds of foods obtainable at this season are not so widely different from those we have been enjoying during the winter months.

• • • • • • •

And it is important, today, to couple color with kind to supply the desirable spring elements.

• • • • • • •

Have you ever made Trundle Hoops? I am sure the children will be interested in the name and no doubt they will like the dish which is made as follows.

• • • • • • •

Cook unbroken sticks of macaroni until they are tender and flexible. From the longest sticks form as many trundled hoops as there are persons to be served.

• • • • • • •

The ends of the hoops must be held together with wooden toothpicks until the rings are cold and "set."

• • • • • • •

Then fill a platter with freshly cooked hot green string beans. Edge the platter with hot macaroni. On top of the beans place the hoops.

• • • • • • •

Just before serving cross each hoop with a thin strip of cheese to supply the sticks for the hoops. For each helping serve beans topped with a hoop and stick.

• • • • • • •

Serve the macaroni in another mound and over it pour a hot tomato and cheese sauce.

• • • • • • •

Spinning tops may be made from mashed potato. Use a very small funnel for a mold and press into it servings of potato. Press a sliver of carrot into each tip end to supply the spinning point and a rounded bit of carrot into the centre of the opposite end for the "button" top.

• • • • • • •

Cut uncooked young cabbage into thread-like shreds to suggest the string needed to make the tops spin. Put the tops on the cabbage. Mix a little finely chopped onion, green sweet pepper and capers into mayonnaise and serve with this and you will have a dainty potato salad.

Hailstorm Sweeps District in France, Leaving Stones Piled Nine Inches Deep

MONTPELIER, France, April 7. — A hailstorm which swept across the Department of Herault on Saturday, left nine inches of hail in the foothills, and swelled streams into torrents which invaded the ground floors of houses in villages and carried off domestic animals. The hail blocked traffic in the hill towns, and stripped vines in the lowlands. A landslide at the Village of Ars opened a subterranean stream.

Five feet of water rushed through the Village of Lamalou and destroyed ancient walls two feet thick. At Bochequebun, hail, driven by the wind, filled wine cellars.

LOW BACK AND HIP PAIN

Claims agents for accident companies tell us that the quickest way to cure victims of accidents is to make a satisfactory settlement with them; that as soon as they receive the settlement money their disability disappears almost instantly.

Now this is likely true to some extent because the worry of getting a settlement with the insurance company might easily keep a sick or injured individual depressed and thus lacking in courage to attempt to help himself.

However, there is one condition that is not usually helped by a cash settlement and that is pain in lower back, hip and leg. These painful backs may be due to so many things that it is often difficult to locate the exact cause.

I speak feelingly about lower back pain because I have had four attacks. The first attack was so severe that I was unable to stand on my feet without the most intense pain. Lying down caused the pain to disappear almost immediately. The cause was due to an injury that pushed the right "wing" of the last bone of the small of back against the side of the bone below it, causing pressure on nerve supplying the hip and leg. A leather and steel brace gave me instant relief by keeping the bones apart I wore the brace nearly four years.

A second attack of back and right hip pain while not so severe as the first, was most severe when I was lying down—not so painful when walking. This was found to be due to infection from two teeth; their removal cleared up the pain.

The third attack was on left hip and leg which, while not so painful, caused the leg to drag. The removal of the tonsils cleared up the pain in less than 48 hours and the leg recovered its full strength in about a month.

The fourth attack, again on left side, disappeared with removal of another tooth. There have been no attacks for a number of years and no damage to back or legs.

Thus I've had four attacks of lower back pain one due to injury, and three to infection.

Why do I talk about low back pain and leg or sciatic pain?

Because hundreds of these cases exist and the sufferers feel that all they can do is to take some pain-killing medicine

If you have pain in your lower back and hip and you get no relief from your family doctor, ask him to recommend an orthopedic physician and surgeon. Sometimes putting on too much weight across abdomen will pull the small of back forward and cause trouble.

Lifting is the cause of most cases due to injury.

Teeth and tonsils cause most of infective cases.

Don't suffer with low back pain; it will wear you out mentally and physically.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP GIVEN MISS MIGHT

Faithful Member of George Street Missionary Society is Honored.

The Easter thankoffering meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of George Street United Church was held in the board room with an attendance of over 50 members. The president, Mrs. C. Coon, presided and the program was in charge of the life members of the society, with Miss Bryce presiding at the piano. The Scripture lesson, taken from St. John, 17th chapter, was read by Miss Might, followed by prayer by Mrs. Rowe and Mrs. Fairbrother. A very interesting Easter service leaflet was then read. Miss Bryce rendered a delightful solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," accompanied by Miss Elcome.

A very interesting event followed, when Mrs. S. R. Armstrong, on behalf of the society, presented Miss E. L. Might with a life membership certificate. She referred to the many years of faithful service which Miss Might had given to the society as its corresponding secretary for a period of 14 years, and also spoke of the assistance given by her mother, who was remembered with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers.

Mrs. J. Forbes Allan was the speaker of the afternoon, her subject being "Voice of the People." Mrs. Allan reviewed the missionary situation in the different countries and referred to the fact that the voice of the people was not always the voice of God, but to serve their own selfish desires. Jesus said, "Go unto all the world and spread the Gospel." If we do not believe in the missionary cause we are not Christians.

A hearty vote of thanks was voiced to the speaker by Mrs. A. I. Brown and Mrs. Knox.

CHOCOLATE PIE.

(Contributed by Mrs. L. J. S.)

This season of the year, when fruit is becoming scarce and poorly flavored. Housewifes resort to the making of pies from some other source. The following recipes are tested and proven to make delicious pies.

Chocolate Pie.

Four eggs.
1 cup of sugar (white or brown),
Butter the size of a walnut,
Two tablespoons of grated chocolate or cocoa, dissolved in a little tablespoon or more of hot water,
3 cups of milk,
Two tablespoons of flour.

Method.—Beat the egg yolks, add the sugar, flour butter and chocolate dissolved in hot water, all to the heated milk and cook in double boiler, pour into baked pie shells and cover with whites of eggs, beaten stiff with sugar to taste. Brown in a slow oven.

JOINT MEETING HELD IN CAVAN

Members of W.M.S. and W.A. Holds Regular Gathering in Basement of Church.

INTERESTING PROGRAM

CAVAN, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Wednesday afternoon the Cavan W.M.S. and W.A. held a joint meeting in the basement of the church.

Mrs. Whithame had charge of the Devotional period which opened with the hymn, "Jesus Saves."

Mrs. D. J. Hunter read the Scripture lesson, Luke 6, commencing at verse 27, Mrs. R. Matchett led in prayer. Mrs. Hunter read an article on "Faith," and Mrs. C. Carr, one on, "The Hand of God," both of which were helpful and interesting.

During the business session it was decided to purchase lilies or cut flowers for the church for Easter Sunday, and after the evening service to send them to a member who is in poor health. The president, Mrs. D. J. Hunter, was requested to attend to the matter of having them purchased. The repeating of The Lord's Prayer, in unison, led by Mrs. Whithame, formally closed the W.A. session.

Mrs. Richard Matchett then took the chair for the W.M.S. The Easter responsive service was used.

It was reported that Mrs. Duncan MacLeod, a returned missionary from Formosa, would be the special speaker for the W.M.S. morning service in Cavan United Church, the Sunday after Easter. The choir was requested to prepare special music. Heralds who responded were: Mrs. Ray Syer, for India; Miss F. Hunter, for the Canadian work; Mrs. Rowen, for Japan; Mrs. Hunter or China.

Mrs. Hunter's reading, "The Church Grandmother," was of special interest as it was written by a missionary, Miss Rorke, daughter of a former pastor on Cavan Circuit, and personally known and esteemed by the ladies of he church.

The first part of chapter 3 of the Study Book was given in an interesting manner by Mrs. A. B. Kennedy. It was on the social life and social problems of Japan.

The last part of chapter III. will be given at the next meeting by Mrs. R. Matchett, and the first part of chapter 4 by Mrs. F. M. Staples.

"Jesus" will be the Scripture topic in response to the roll call at the May meeting.

The reasurer, Mrs. J. E. Whithame, gave the financial report for the quarter showing $11.55 sent away. Further arrangements were made for the special W.M.S. service. The collection was $1.45. The closing part of the special Easter programme which was a prayer in unison closed the meeting.

EAST CITY BAZAAR TO OPEN TO-NIGHT

Supper Will Be Served on Three Evening From Five to Eight.

The annual bazaar conducted by the ladies of the East City parish is a much anticipated event of Easter week. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week will see the usual sale of articles in the Community Hall of Ashburnham, where many pretty and useful things are on view. The ladies specialize in making quilts and working aprons and frocks, as well as children's clothing and fancy work of all sorts.

Supper on the three days will be served from five to eight o'clock, with a menu composed of home-made cooking throughout. There are sales also of light refreshments; ice cream, soft drinks and home-made cooking, cigars and cigarettes. And the little horses' game will provide amusement for the patrons.

Special Easter Music Given At Mark Street

Special Easter music was rendered throughout Sunday services at Mark Street United Church under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Greenslade, organist and choir leader, while adequate sermons for the occasion were preached by the pastor, Rev. E. A. Thornley, M.A.

At the morning service Mr. W. Binks sang Grainger's "Hosannah," with Mrs. Ed. Wand and Miss Jean Hurl taking solo parts in the two special anthems.

In the evening Mrs. M. Braund sang "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth," from Handel's Messiah, while a quartette rendered "Go So Loved the World," from Stainer's Crucifixion. The quartette was composed of Mrs. Wand, soprano; Mrs. Binks, contralto; Mr. Greenslade, tenor, and Mr. W. Smith, bass.

Disturbing Noises Being Frowned On

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 7.— A man's home is his castle, and disturbing noises have no more right to enter than a burglar.

This principle is proclaimed by the Noise Abatement Commission. It had reference to the interruption of church services Sunday by a plane broadcasting from its flight above Manhattan.

The private citizen has as much right to freedom from noise in his home, the Commission declared, as others have in public places.

WEDDINGS

BATTEN—SOWARD

The following wedding is of local interest, as the bride is a granddaughter of the late Canon Soward, who was for several years a minister in Peterborough. Her father also resided here and at Kinmount. Mr. and Mrs. A. Stinson of Brock street are relatives.

"On Saturday at 3 o'clock at the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, a lovely Easter wedding took place, when Mary Kathleen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Soward, became the bride of Jack Hubert Batten of Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Campbell Batten of Toronto. The altar was banked with palms, ferns and Easter lilies. Four tall standards of gay spring flowers stood at the front of the church and four standards of flowers stood at the back. The guest pews were marked with white satin bows. Rev. Canon Armstrong officiated. The organist, Mr. Otto James, provided the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Cora Stinson sang. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in ivory satin, fashioned on princess lines. The close-fitting bodice displayed dainty insets of Brussels net in lover's knot formation, edged with seed pearls. The skirt was long and fell in graceful folds to the floor, where it was finished with a tiny edging of Brussels net. The triple train fell from the waist and in the centre was a large lover's knot of Brussels net edged with lace. The whole train was edged with the net, as was the neckline. The sleeves were long and tight, having the sleeve puffed at the elbow and tightening to the wrist, where it was finished with a series of buttons. Her veil of ivory net was arranged in cap effect and held in place with a triple strand of pearls across the back and with gardenias at each side of the head. Her only ornament was the gift of the groom, a diamond and sapphire ring. She wore ivory satin slippers and carried a bouquet of orchids and lillies of the valley.

Mrs. John Wetherill of Oakville was matron of honor. She wore a dress after the Kate Greenaway style of tucked yellow net with groups of narrow ruffles on the skirt and on the shoulders. She wore yellow lace mittens and yellow satin slippers. Her hat was a poke bonnet of yellow mohair, with large bow of taffeta placed at the side back. Her bouquet was pink and yellow roses and forget-me-nots. The bridesmaids Miss Margaret Jackson and Miss Margaret Ross, were attired similarly in ciel blue net and rose pink, respectively. Their bouquets were Ophelia roses. Little Joyce Soward was a dainty flower girl. She is the niece of the bride. Her frock was a Kate Greenaway of ivory net and she wore an ivory satin bow on her hair. She carried a tiny bouquet of pink roses and lily of the valley. Little Master Campbell Batten, nephew of the groom, was page. He wore an ivory satin page's suit. The best man was Mr. Roger Wilson and the ushers were Mr. Reginald Batten, Mr. Reginald Soward, Mr. Stanley Swan and Mr. Lawrence Hessin.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception in the roof garden of the Royal York Hotel. Mrs. Soward mother of the bride, received in a gown of aquamarine chiffon with jacquette and gray panamalac hat, gloves and slippers. She carried Sweetheart roses. Mrs. Batten, mother of the groom, received in a French model of chartreuse crepe with jacquette of black chiffon velvet. She wore a black picture hat, and gloves and charteuse green satin slippers. Her flowers were Templar roses and maiden hair fern. Later, the bride and groom left for their wedding trip to New York, where they will embark on Wednesday on the Duchess of York for Bermuda. For travelling, the bride wore a smart costume of navy and grey crepe dress with navy coat finished with grey squirrel. Ascot tie and navy accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Batten will reside on Victoria Avenue, Westmount, Montreal.

Haliburton County Councillor Vigorously Opposing Banning Dogs.

WOLVES KILL 80 DEER

LINDSAY, April 7.—Benjamin J. Sawyer, a member of Haliburton County Council, and a hunter with years of experience, vigorously opposes the proposal to prohibit the use of dogs in hunting for deer. Such a procedure, in his opinion, means an increase in hunting accidents, more lost hunters as well as the loss of the real thrill of the hunt, the bark and howl of the hound while the hunt is under way.

Mr. Sawyer contends that the dog is blamed for conditions which are really brought about by the wolf. In one spot in Haliburton County, he points out, he found that eighty deer had been destroyed by the wolves. This slaughter keeps up every year, and Mr. Sawyer states he is surprised that the deer has not been entirely extinguished.

Some years ago the farmers in the north were urged to go into sheep raising. The County of Haliburton is close to Algonquin Park where wolves accumulated very fast, and where the deer received every protection. The result was, Mr. Sawyer contends, that the wolves swooped down in Haliburton County in great numbers and practically wiped out the sheep.

Mr. Sawyer comes to the defence of the American tourist, who is blamed for the reckless slaughter of deer, Haliburton is the mecca of a large number of Americans during the summer and fall months, and Mr. Sawyer claims that they have the greatest respect for the law and always have licenses in their possession.

Indian Chief Passes.

The death is announced at Scugog Island, Port Perry, of Thomas Marsden, Chief of the Indian Reserve. The deceased, who was sixty-seven years of age, was one of the best known Indians in this section of the Province, and had been Chief for the past five years. He is survived by two brothers.

REV. DR. DENOON DIES IN HALIFAX

Brother of Mrs. A. H. A. Robinson, Gilmour Street, Passes Away.

PROMINENT LEADER.

HALIFAX, April 7.—Rev. A. H. Denoon, D.D., one of the outstanding ministers of the United Church, and well known throughout the Dominion, died here yesterday, after an illness of two years. Born at Stellarton, Pictou County, N.S., he was educated at Pictou Academy and Dalhousie University. He was ordained in 1899 at New Glasgow, N.S., and married Miss Ellen MacGregor in the following year.

Mr. Denoon served the Church not only in his native Province, but as a chaplain overseas during the war. He held a charge also at Lethbridge, Alta., and while in Alberta he received his D.D. degree from Robertson College, now St. Steven's College at Edmonton. In 1921 he went to Toronto as pastor of Avenue Road United Church, where he served until 1925, when he left to accept a call to Trinity United Church, New Glasgow, N.S. He served there for four years, when he was forced to resign on account of ill health.

Mr. Denoon was 57 years old, and is survived by his widow; two sons, John of Halifax, and Allister in Toronto, and one daughter, Nan (Mrs. Gilbert Patterson) of Lethbridge, Alta.

Mrs. A. H. A. Robinson, 494 Gilmour street, Peterborough, is a sister of the deceased.

International Hockey League Title Hangs In Balance

WINDSORITES MEET BISONS ON TUESDAY

Tie Decision Would Give Bulldogs Oke Trophy, Emblematic of Loop Honors.

HOLD 12 POINTS.

Lloyd Gross Likely to be Assigned to Hold Robinson From Further Scoring.

BUFFALO, April 7.—One the eve of the International Hockey League championship game to be played at Fort Erie to-night between the Windsor Bulldogs and the Buffalo Bisons, the one call is for tickets and more of them. Undoubtedly the crowd will be the largest that ever attended a game at the Peace Bridge Arena and many would-be spectators will be disappointed.

The Bulldogs, led by Herb Mitchell, have given the locals all kinds of trouble this season, and in poitn of games won and lost lead the Roachmen. The latter, however, led the big parade by remaining in first place throughout the race and in the recent series against Pittsburg and Cleveland showed a punch that would not be denied.

Windsor enters the conflict leading in the play-off series by 12 points to Buffalo's 10 and can therefore capture the title by holding the locals to a tie score. On the other hand, the Bisons need a victory to take the title by the narrow margin of one point. A tie would only give them second place money, while a reverse would force them to share second and third money with the Cleveland Indians.

Robinson Leads All

The Bulldogs are prolific scorers and have in Earl Robinson the record-setting, goal-getter of the International. In fact, Robinson, with 44 goals and 19 assists, far surpassed any other mark ever established in this league. Frank Carson, right wing with Windsor last year, had set the previous record at 45.

Robinson will be watched closely by the wily Bisons. It is expected that Manager Roach will assign the task of checking this potential National Leaguer to Lloyd Gross, than whom there is no better in the loop. Gross has speed to burn and few opponents ever get away from him.

Windsor led the league in getting goals because Robinson is not their only shining light, but the Bisons presented the stronger defense and it will be interesting to see which will triumph. Buffalo's team-play is a byword in professional hockey, but the locals use it mainly for defensive purposes, relying for breaks to give them goals.

Son Of Jack Miner Tries Out With A's

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 7. George Miner, 19-year-old catcher from Kingsville, Ont., joined the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday. He is a protege of Ty Cobb, who watched him in several games last year and tipped him off to Connie Mack. Miner got into practice before the Phillies-A's game yesterday and was given a thorough trial. As the A's are well equipped with catchers, Miner will be farmed out for seasoning.

The final summing up in the Men's City League five pin loop finds Fred Hickey still perched on the top rung of the average list with an average of 233 for fifty-four games. Together with this imposing record, Fred has found a place for himself in both the high single and triple columns, being third high in each with scores of 359 and 892. Nels Routley, the most consistent and reliable pinspiller among the old-timers, is second on the average roll with 230 in fifty-one battles, while Tom Curvin and Joe Marsden with 229 and 228, are third and fourth respectively.

John Playford of the Rangers holds the centre of the stage in both the high single and the high three classes for the reason, having secured both of the outstanding scores in the same evening. His single of 410 is the only league game over the 400 mark which has been bowled in the city this season, but in the triple score, the record being 909, the competition was much keener, and in this league alone Joe Marsden secured a three-game total of 905.

As far as prize money in the City League is concerned Playford with the 909 triple will take that place, but as a bowler can only take one prize, his single of 410 doesn't count. The most likely prize-winner in the singles is Charles Cummings of the Big Five, who crashed the pins one night for a single of 364, however a technicality may disqualify him as the league rules state that a bowler must participate in at least 75 per cent. of the league games in order to qualify as a prize-winner. It appears that the bowler in question is just one game short of the required total, and a decision will have to be given by the league executive.

To-night the Big Five and the Canadians, first and second half leaders respectively will clash in a three-game series for the city five-pin championship, the handsome silver trophy and first money in the league prizes. The battle is slated for eight o'clock, and the followers of the five-pin sport who attend the duel are assured of an enthusiastic display of bowling competition.

Thursday night of this week at the same hour the Lucky Strikes and Rangers, runners-up in each half, will smoke up the maple aisles to decide third and fourth money takers. The latter team are more consistent on the alleys than their opponents, although the Lucky Strikes are the holders of the high team total and high pinnage record for the entire season, the scores being 1,477 and 3,677 respectively.

Tulsa Oilers Win Over Kansas City

TULSA, Okla., April 7. — Tulsa Oilers, first-place winners in the American Hockey League last night took a strangle-hold on the circuit title by defeating Kansas City Pla-mors, 2 to 1, for their second straight win in the three-out-of-five-game playoff. First match of the series also ended 2 to 1. Playmors, 1930 champions, who won second place and a position on the playoffs, have the advantage of home ice for the remainder of the series.

The city is judged by its civic activities and the Chamber of Commerce is the organization where such work is put in motion and then carried to a successful conclusion for the benefit of all.

SOCCER CLUBS RECEIVE FORMS

Next Monday Evening is Last Day For Registration.

REFEREES INVITED.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough and District Football Association was held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, with President Vincent Stewart in the chair. All members of the executive were present, along with the clubs that will be participating in the game during the season.

Brinton Registered

Official notification was received by the secretary of the association from the Brinton club that they wished to be registered. They paid their guarantee fee and their entry monies. Sixteen registration forms were given them. Any club can sign as many players as they desire.

William Downer, representing the Canadian Packing, received twelve registration forms on behalf of the forenamed club. The official member being absent.

Registered players must sign two forms—original and a duplicate—when they will be registered by the local secretary, who will forward them to the secretary of the O.F.A., who sends the duplicate to the D.F.A.; the stub being returned to the local association. Both forms must be signed.

Expect Four Clubs

In all probability there will be four clubs—C.P.C., Brinton Athletic, Canadian General, and The Caledonians. The Electric Boys have formed a very live committee and by next Monday evening will have their official representative and monies paid. As usual, the Scots wait until every other club is organized, then they get busy. A special meeting of the Caledonians will be held on Thursday evening at the home of Robert Gilmour, 208 Perry street. All supporters or players will receive a hearty welcome.

Referee Invited

A very delicate argument was brought up when the question of referees was discussed, which failed to bring out the correct interpretation of the ruling as to whether a knight of the whistle must register with the Ontario F. A. or not. The Provincial rule states distinctly that they must pay a dollar fee.

Next Monday evening is the last day for any club to be registered. The league schedule will be drawn up next week. Referees are urgently requested to send in their application.

Every man ought to have an interest outside of his business and the biggest and the best interest he can have is the improvement of the city in which his business is located. This is the view of the Chamber of Commerce.

5TH PETERBOROUGH TROOP

Between 8.30 and 9.30 Good Friday morning, passers-by might have noticed a number of boys gathering at the Troop headquarters—All Saints Parish Hall—with knapsacks and satchels fully loaded for an impending hike. By the end of the hour interest among tthe boys was rife and anxiety ran high as to what the others had for their dinner and where they were to encamp for their meal.

Finally 14 boy scouts set out in the direction of Jackson Park and followed around the track north of the park until they came to a satisfactory spot. The boys arrived at this location at 11 o'clock, and so great was their hunger that noon seemed all too far away for their appetites. To while away the time a few games of "seize the flag" were played. During the preparation for dinner, several of the young lads passed their fire-lighting test. Following the well-earned meal, the hikers washed up the dishes and amused themselves with more camp games until 4 o'clock until they set out for home.

The next meeting of the troop will be held this evening in All Saints' Parish Hall, Sherbrooke and Rubidge streets, at 7.15. All boys interested in joining the organization are requested to be present at this meeting.

TORONTO FIGHT FANS FAIL TO APPROVE OF "HEAVY GO"

Cleveland Baker Boy Outpoints Australian in Ten-round Bout.

IS SLOW AFFAIR.

TORONTO, Ont., April 7 (By the Canadian Press).—Despite the speed and more spectacular boxing exhibitions given by men of lesser weight, local fight fans failed to approve of the 10-round bout here last night between Tom Heeney, the one-time "hard rock from down under," and Johnny Risko, Cleveland's baker boy. Risko won the unanimous decision of the three judges after 10 rounds of hard body punching. The men fought at close quarters throughout, and while they put plenty of steam behind their punches and fought doggedly at all times, their display lacked the colorfulness necessary to win. Toronto's fistic faithful. The pair fought practically the entire route amidst a chorus of boos and stamping of feet.

The Shamrock Athletic Club chose this pair to headline their first boxing show in some week, in the hope it would bring the fistic art from the depths of depression. More than 5,500 attended the fight, and from this standpoint the bout was a success, but the reaction of the fans indicates heavyweight milling will never be appreciated here, particularly if slow plodding mitt artists of the Heeney-Risko type are matched very often.

Heeney held a slight advantage over Risko in the early rounds. The Clevelander, however, after being warned by the referee for his holding tactics, opened up more after the fifth round and clearly outpointed the man who had beaten him soundly in 1927. Heeney had a weight advantage of 18 pounds, tipping the beam at 209½, while Risko scaled 191¼.

An illustration of what the fans wanted was given in the semi-final when the slim and fast George Pavlick, Cleveland, sparring partner of Risko, gave a splendid exhibition of boxing to avoid the sledge hammer southpaw smashes of Art Weigand, Buffalo. The latter was given a split decision due to his aggressiveness, but Pavlick won the applause of the fans by his skill. The loser weighed 171¾ and was forced to give plenty of weight to Weigand, who scaled 188.

NEW CLUBHOUSE PLANNED FOR BALL PARK AT TRENTON

TRENTON, April 7.—The C.P.R. Recreation Club is laying plans for the erection of a fine new clubhouse this season at the entrance to their ball park off Brown Street in this town. It is intended to use the main floor of this building as a lounge and assembly room.

The club intends also to make many improvements to their grounds. The ball dismond will be levelled where necessary just covered with cinders and then with sand, and rolled. This is expected to furnish a splendid surface for ball games.

FIRST SCHOONER ARRIVES IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Que., April 6 (C.P.).—The Maisonneuve, a 107-ton schooner with an auxiliary engine, arrived from Sorel to-day and tied up in this port earlier in the season than any vessel apart from Government ice-breakers in the last 50 years.

It is anticipated that she will be followed by two ships coming from Quebec City, the Saguenay Trader and the Miron L.

The Maisonneuve, containing a general cargo, made the 45-mile trip from Sorel in good time, and tied up at Victoria pier.

Fights Last Night

Philadelphia— Lew Massey, Philadelphia, outpointed Ray Miller, Chicago, (10); Tommy Paul, Buffalo, outpointed Phil Zwick, Cleveland, (10).

Toronto—Johnny Risko, Cleveland, outpointed Tom Heeney, New Zealand, (10).

Pittsburgh —Billy Jones, Philadelphia, outpointed Maxie Rosenbloom, world lightweight champion, (10), (non-title).

Columbus— Bushy Graham, Utica, N.Y., stopped Johnny Farr, Cleveland, (8).

Winston-Salem, N.C. — Frankie Winegn, Akron, O., knocked out Jeff Carroll, Biloxi, Miss., (7).

Cleveland— Joey Ross, New York, outpointed Ollie Bartlett, Detroit, (6).

Wichita, Kans.—Arthur Dekuh, New York, outpointed Babe Hunt, Ponca City, Okla., (10). (Newspaper decision).

MEMORIAL THEATRE TO OPEN NEXT YEAR

Fine Building at Stratford-on-Avon Will Be Ready For Bard's Birthday, 1932.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England, April 7 (By The Canadian Press).—Shakespeare lives in Stratford-on-Avon today as he lives nowhere else in the world. Here on his birthday, April 23, when the flags of all nations are unfuried in the High Street and a notable celebration takes place, the Shakespeare Festival Company opens a season of the great plays, right through summer, with a brief interval during which the company performs in Oxford, Cheltenham, Malvern and other nearby cities, this remarkable body of players presents annually and week by week eight of the plays.

It is hoped that the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre under construction here will be completed in time to be formally opened on Shakespeare's birthday next year. The building, which is of brick, of tone chosen to harmonize with the surroundings, was begun last August and has now risen to a height of 45 feet. The main approach to the new theatre faces the north, and the east front runs along the west bank of the Avon River. The design of the auditorium has been carefully studied with the object of forming a setting for any type of production. Detail which would be of any special date is avoided. The stage is to be 121 feet wide at the front and 55 feet at the rear, and will be 45 feet deep.

The council of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford states that after meeting all building costs there is a sum of $461,570 available for endowment purposes. With accumulated interest the balance towards endowment is expected to reach $500,000 before the theatre is opened next year, but as more subscriptions are needed the fund is being kept open.

The British Fund, including John D. Rockefeller's $250,000 has reached $749,095, of which $150,000 has been invested in property and securities, the Council states. The amount in the hands of the American Committee at the end of last year was $629,975, making a total sum available of $1,379,070. The estimated cost of the theatre, including building contracts, architects' and consultant's fee, terraces, roads and approaches, is $917,500.

Japan is launching several irrigation projects.

Rangers Invited To Attend Lindsay Meet

LINDSAY, April 7 (Examiner Correspondent). — The Peterborough Rangers, it has been announced, will be invited to visit Lindsay on Victoria Day and participate in the big military program being arranged for that day. The event is under the auspices of the 45th Victoria and Haliburton Regiment, and will take the form of a re-union of the 109th Battalion, which was recruited in Lindsay during the war.

The celebration will be opened on Sunday, May 24, with a military service. The program proper will be staged on Monday, ending with a tattoo.

Rumanians Demand Unchanged Parliament

VIENNA, April 7 (A.P.). — The opinion was expressed in circles here in close touch with the Cabinet situation in Bucharest, that the formation of a new Cabinet hangs largely on the question of the maintenance of the Peasant Party's control of the Rumanian Parliament.

The Peasants now hold a five-sixths majority in the Chamber of Mandates and a two-thirds majority in the Senate. Party leaders, it is believed here, have declared themselves to be willing to sanction a new Cabinet only on condition that the complexion of Parliament remains as it now stands.

CANUCK TEAM ARRIVES HOME

Morenz and Leduc Suffering From Injuries—Mondu Not Likely to Start.

MEET AGAIN TO-NIGHT.

MONTREAL, April 7.—The same crowd which on Thursday night will crowd the Montreal Forum to the rafters to see Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks clash in their deadlocked series for the Stanley Cup, last night gathered at the station to welcome Canadiens home from Chicago, where they won one and lost one of the first two games in the best three out of five series. The Black Hawks will arrive this morning, and both teams will take things easily until Thursday night.

The Hawks will be at full strength and ready to follow out Coach Dick Irwin's plans of carrying more and more speed in on the Canadien defense. The type of play which proved so successful at Chicago Sunday night will be pushed to the limit.

Canadiens' chances depend upon the ability of "Howie" Morenz, Albert Leduc and Johnny Gagnon to be ready Thursday. "Howie" was caught heavily on the shoulder in Sunday's game by "Taffy" Abel, and suffered considerable pain on the journey back. Leduc is still in hospital with a concussion sustained in the series in which Canadiens put Boston Bruins out of further competition. Gagnon left late last night for Chicoutimi to attend the funeral of his father, who died while Johnny was in Chicago. It is not expected that Armand Mondou will be in action for the first game, although he may possibly play later in the series.

No Militia Camps This Summer Feared

OTTAWA, April 7.—(C.P.)—Probabilities of a drastic reduction in the summer training of the non-permanent active militia are causing some concern in military circles in Ottawa. The need for effecting economies in all branches of administration embraces also the Defense Department, and the fear is expressed among militia officers that the summer camps may be sacrificed this year, and no training of this character proceeded with.

Inquiries at the department failed to elicit any information as to administrative intention. It is understood the estimates make provision for the usual training, but whether the Treasury Board has eliminated or retained that item could not be ascertained.

Personnel of a number of units in the Capital have been warned that indications are the customary period of summer training may be dispensed with.

The British Ministry of Health has just estimated that to provide pensions of $2.50 a week for wives of old-age pensioners would cost $15,000,000 the first year, rising to over $20,000,000 in ten years.

LEACH DOING GREAT WORK WITH GIANTS

Uncle Wilbert Robinson Says He Has Best Hitting Club in Country.

McKECHNIE DISGUSTED.

Myril Hoag Threatens to Outshine Yankee Twins, Ruth and Gehrig.

Despite the fact his Brooklyn Robins haven't been hitting to suit him so far at Macon, Ga., Uncle Wilbert Robinson is convinced it is the best club he has had in his long span.

"I've got the greatest hitting team in the country and the best Brooklyn ever saw me cart up north" he declared. We may not win the pennant, but if we don't the team that beats us will.

Herman and O'Doul are going to be the headache twins for the pitchers this summer. Wish someone could tell me which to let hit first.

For several seasons now, Giant fans have been referring to Freddie Leach sourly, as the guy they got for Lefty O'Doul. But if Freddie Keeps up the pace he has been setting this spring at Jackson, Miss., he is likely to make them forget all about the illustrious O'Doul.

Off to a good start for the first time in three years, Leach is hitting the ball hard and covering the outfield like a blanket. Some determined opposition from the fleet Ethan Allen might have had something to do with Leach's great form.

If his batting form in exhibition bouts may be taken as a promise, Myril Hoag, expensive youngster from the west coast, will make Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig hump to retain their status as the home run twins of the Yankees. He has taken most of the play from them so far at Nashville, Tenn.

Three homers in two days is his record against Nashville pitching, an he has thrown in a nice number of hard singles for good measure. In addition, no fault has been found recently with his work in left field.

Manager Bill McKechnie of the Braves won't leave St. Petersburgh, Fla., so soon another year he said at Greensborough, N.C., to-day.

"We left St. Pete nearly a week too soon," says McKechnie. "Our stay at Macon ws profitless and our visit here ill advised. I want practice for my players; we could have stopped at Waterfront park and drawn more money daily from our scrub games but here we are in Greensboro with the skies still weaping."

The first and second Red Sox squads joined forces at Columbus O., to-day to await Manager Shono Collins' promised shakeup. Shono is tearing his hair over the showing of his first squad at Indianapolis and Tom Winsett is certain to be one of the objects of his wrath. Scarritt is scheduled to take Long Tom's place in left field.

CARDS HAVE LOST PUNCH, SAYS STREET

National League Champions Collect Only Nine Hits From Semi-Pro Team.

PIRATE FIELD QUESTION.

Chicago Cubs Start Northward With Smallest Squad in Years.

Manager Gabby Street of the St. Louis Cardinals wondered to-day at Birmingham, Ala., what had become of the teams punch. In fifteen innings, six of them agains; semi-pros, the National League champions were able to collect only nine hits, which caused Gabby no joy whatever.

Except for brilliant pitching by George Blaeholder recently, Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns had little to be happy over to-day at Kansas City, Mo. The rest of the pitchers, with the exception of Southpaw Walter Stewart, have been doing little to indicate they belong in the American League; the batters have not been hitting and the infield has compiled an average of three errors a game.

As the Pittsburgh Pirate train rolled eastward to-day, Manager Jewel Ends made up his mind about two reserve jobs. This summer, if anything happens to any of his star outfielders, the Waners and Comorosky, it will be Pete McClanahan or Forest Jensen who will be called from the bench he said to-day at Inlay, Nev. Both these youngsters have banged the ball hard and have demonstrated that they are above the average in fielding ability.

Eddie Roush has notified Dan Howley, Cincinnati Red pilot, who is now at Louisville, Ky., that he will join the club in Cincinnati on Thursday, prepared to resume his old position in centre field. Roush, who was idle last season because he and the New York Giants management could not reach a salary agreement, has been working out with the Hartford Club of the Eastern League.

Eddie Morgan, Cleveland's star first baseman a year ago, is to be tried out at third in an effort to do something for the Tribe's disappointing infield, according to a report from New Orleans, La.

The Chicago Cubs are within three men of war strength, and the squad of 28 now starting its northward journey from El Paso, Texas, is the smallest band carried on the return trip since they started training on the Pacific Coast.

Jack Hayes may get the call as regular second baseman for the Washington Senators when the season starts.

"It's up to Jack,' said Manager Johnson at Chattanooga, Tenn., today. "I've been giving him plenty of chances and unless he slumps mighty badly I'm going to use him instead of Buddy Myer in the remaining exhibition games and to start the season.

CASUAL COMMENT

Bob Elliott wants to get the C.O.B.L. lined up this Saturday. He hopes to get "Hank" Cohen of Oshawa and a representative from Kingston to meet him in Belleville on that day and talk it over.

* * * * * * *

There's be a representative from the Petes and one from Belleville there, too. Both these towns have already signified their intention of entering the league. Kingston is anxious too, but Oshawa has made no statement so far. However, they are expected to come in.

* * * * * * *

Point Anne has decided to throw its lot in with the Belleville seniors so the Nats should have a great team again this summer.

* * * * * * *

Gordon Mathews has the right idea. In his speech after the O.B.A.A. banquet last Saturday, he said the local factories should not begrudge senior ballplayers a half day once or twice a week. It creates a spirit of harmony and makes for more loyalty in the employees.

* * * * * * *

The Oshawa sports writer has somehow got the idea that it is the Raybestos team that is representing Peterborough in the C.O.B.L. this year, with "Shiner" Johnston managing them. He says it is the same Rays that played last year with Oshawa in the Lakeshore Loop.

* * * * * * *

But the Rays have no intention of playing senior ball. They will stick to intermediate and probably line up in the East Peterborough League this summer. They should have a snappy intermediate outfit.

* * * * * * *

The Garrison Softball League has finished its schedule at the Armouries. It created quite a bit of interest among the followers of the indoor game. Artillery won out, going through without a loss. Cavalry and Machine Gunners were the runners-up.

* * * * * * *

Another baseball rumour, but this one doesn't concern any local team. It is to the effect that Madoc, Deloro, Belleville and Tweed are going to form an intermediate league this summer. We haven't heard anything definite about it yet, though.

* * * * * * *

Rotary is sponsoring a juvenile team in the City League this year. The club will back the boys vocally and financially. This entry comes about as a direct result of the O.B.A.A. convention here.

* * * * * * *

The Kinsmens' Club will discuss entering a team at the next meeting of the executive. We hope it won't be too long. The Johnson Motors will be asked to run an outfit in the league too. And there will be a number of other clubs and companies invited in.

* * * * * * *

Our old friend Mickey Murray was in Peterborough over the week-end, visiting Jim Coursey and many other friends. Mickey is figuring on a little rest after the strenuous finish of the "Reds" of Providence. He did great work between the goal posts, but his team lost out. Mickey left here for Galt where he spends the summers.

* * * * * * *

The big City Baseball League meeting is being held tomorrow night at eight at Duffus' and everyone interested is urged to attend.

* * * * * * *

Thanks to J. A. Stewart of the Capital Theatre, the Stars and Sea-horses of the City Hockey League enjoyed the nine o'clock show last night. There was a full turnout of the young athletes.

* * * * * * *

The All Saints' Boys' Club banquet at Hooper's Thursday night is called for 6:30 o'clock. They'll go from there to a theatre party.

* * * * * * *

"Cack" Rogers will probably attend the Lakeshore Baseball League meeting in Port Hope on Thursday night. He will represent the Rays, but our guess is that the latter team will play in the E. P. L. this summer.

Baseball Season Oens In Coast League To-day

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The 1931 baseball season opens officially to-day, in four Pacific Coast League parks, where eight teams will begin the annual 26-week pennant drive.

Advance reservation sales have indicated even large crowds than attended opening day last season, officials said.

Optimism was especially apparent here, where 7,500 persons have purchased box seats in the new $1,250,000 San Francisco Stadium. Tyrus Raymond Cobb, noted major league record-maker, will do the official dedication act. More than 100,000 fans have attended exhibition games at the Stadium in the last two weeks. Its seating capacity is 25,000.

Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento and San Francisco weather bureaus promised fair, mild weather for the games.

The season starts with Hollywood's Stars, pennant-winners for the last two years, and the San Francisco Seals, outstanding favorites.

When Miss Gwendoline Day was announce prize-winner for original costume at a ball at Dunbar, Scotland, because her dress was covered with onions, the orchestra played "I'm Dancing with Tears in My Eyes."

ANDERSON TO FILL ROCKNE'S POSITION

Assistant Coach "Hunk" Anderson Will Carry on at Notre Dame.

CHICAGO, April 7.—There are two very good reasons why Notre Dame isn't likely to name Knute Rockne's successor until after the 1931 football season:

(1) The capable coaching staff he assembled.

(2) The excellent material available for next season.

The Notre Dame coaching staff is composed of Hearty (Hunk) Anderson, Tim Moynihan, Jack Chevigny, Ike Voedisch, Clarence Kaplan and Manfred Vezie, all of whom learned their football under Rockne.

Anderson, guard of the 1920 team, was line coach and Rockne's chief assistant last year. Although Anderson has said that he doesn't want to be considered for Rockne's place, it seems inevitable that he will be asked to carry on for him until a successor can be named

In this connection it is well to remember that when Rockne was confined to his bed with illness in 1929, Tom Lieb, then his chief assistant, guided the Notre Dame team through several tough games

TEN BOUTS ON BOXING CARD

Peterborough Rangers Sponsoring Smoker on Friday Night at Armouries.

TORONTO BOXERS HERE.

Ten boxing bouts and a wrestling match will make up the card put on Friday night at the Armouries for the Rangers and fight fans in general. Gord Garwood, local instructor, who is staging the tournament, has obtained two scrappers from Toronto, and six from Lindsay as well as a wrestler, to meet his own bunch of biffers.

Len Post, welter, and Reg. Lesurf, lightweight, will meet the Toronto boys in the main bouts of the evening. Garwood has been promised the 145-pound and the 135-pound Central "Y" champs for these bouts. The two local boxers have been training hard the last month, doing roadwork, gym exercises and boxing, and are in perfect condition right now. Both Post and Lesurf are well known here, and each has a large following of fans.

The Lindsay Post says about Lesurf: "Some of the Lindsay mittmen remember Lesurf quite well. He made quite an "impression" on his last visit to the local club."

Harris vs. Wilman

Charlie Harris, the 160-pound Peterborough wrestler tackles Art Wilman of Lindsay in the second go of the evening, sandwiched in between the two main boxing bouts. Both grapplers are in good condition and are confident of throwing the other. They will mix it for two ten-minute periods if neither one gets a fall. A good local referee, fully acquainted with the mat game, will be obtained for the match.

The curtain-raiser will feature two Peterborough paper-weights, the Clark brothers, Grant and Allen. These kids are well versed in the manly art and put on a lively bout.

Some of the other bouts are arranged, subject to change, in this manner: Max Gilbert of the "Y" against "Bat" Vinette of the Rangers; Percy Houzer, Lindsay, against Gord Chapman, Rangers; Art Gaskell, Lindsay, against George Minto of the Rangers; Jack Chamberlain of the "Y" against Adam McCabe of Lindsay; Hank Noakes of the Rangers against Art Hamilton, Lindsay; George Cassie of the "Y", opponent not named yet; Fred Brand, Rangers, opponent not named yet.

The bouts will go three rounds to a decision, each round lasting three minutes and with one minute's rest between rounds. Two judges and a referee will vote on the winner. The show starts at eight o'clock and lasts from two to two and a half hours. No time will be lost between the different bouts, and the Rangers' Band will be in attendance.

The tournament is being held on the main floor in the Armouries, with the ring raised to the right height to permit the circles of spectators to see everything. Pretty much the same card will be staged in Lindsay the following week.

Garwood has been working hard with the local boxers and says they are in the pink and anxious to go. Peterborough fandom has had few opportunities in recent years to see a good ring battle featuring home talent, and plenty of extra seats are being installed for Friday's tournament.

Dunlap Takes Lead In N. And S. Touraey

PINEHURST, N.C., April 7. (CP) An 18-hole score of 72, made up of a 38 and a sizzling 34, gave George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, Princeton star and intercollegiate champion, a five-stroke lead to-day at the half-way point of the 36 hole qualifying round of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

T. Suffern, Tailer, Newport, R.I., and Richard S. Tufts, Pinehurst, were tied for second place with 77's. The best Eugene Homans, Englewood, N.J., the defending champion, could do, was to card a 79 to tie with M.P. Warner, Chicago, for sixth position.

Robert G. Morrison, Pittsburgh, and Sidney W. Noyes, Jr., Dobby's Ferry, N.Y., bagged 78's and tied for fourth place.

The final 18 holes of the qualifying play were scheduled for to-day.

CRICKET NEWS

The first practise of the season of the Peterborough Cricket Club will be held on Saturday afternoon at the Oval. All members and cricket players are asked to attend.

Dempsey Will Take Two Months Rest

COLUMBUS, O., Apr. 7.—(CP)—After refereeing a bout at Wheeling W. Va., last night, Jack Dempsey will retire from public life for at least two months on the order of his physicians.

The former heavyweight champion, who refereed the Bushy Graham - Johnny Farr match here last night, announced that doctors at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., examined him recently and advised him to rest in order to recuperate from nervousness and persistent loss of weight.

Although he appeared robust, Dempsey said he felt the strain of continuous traveling to referee bouts in various parts of the country. After leaving Wheeling, the ex-champion said he would cancel the remaining 95 engagements on his schedule and go into seclusion.

Believed Sharkey Is Matched With Carnera

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 7.—(C.P.)—The American says to-day it has learned on excellent authority that Jack Sharkey will fight Primo Carnera, the vast Venetian, on June 10, at Ebbets Field, providing Carnera ca gain reinstatement by the New York State Athletic Commission. Jimmy Johnston was named as the promoter.

Such a match has been under discussion for several weeks, despite the apparent obstacles. Carnera is under contract with the Madison Square Garden Corporation to meet the winner of the Schmeling-Stribling bout, but Bill Duffy, United States' representative of Carnera and his manager, Leon See, contends the Garden contact was broken when the Hearst Milk Fund withdrew from the Schmeling-Stribling match last week.

The American says Duffy is prepared to go to court to force Carnera to fight for Johnston.

Gus Sonnenberg Easily Beats Russian Grappler

MONTREAL, April 7. (CP)—Gus Sonnenberg, former claimant of the world wrestling title, won two falls in three over George Zarynoff, Russian grappler, in the opening event of the local wrestling season last night. Sonnenberg used his famous flying tackle to pin the giant Russian to the canvas in the winning fall. Zarynoff took the first fall after a 32 minute struggle. Eleven minutes later Sonnenberg threw his opponent out of the ring and when Zarynoff returned a quick tackle enabled Gus to take the second fall. The successful flying tackle was applied after five and a half minutes of wrestling for the third fall.

Henri Deglane of France and Lee Wycoff, former St. Louis University star wrestled a full hour to a draw in the semi-final.

Boston and Springfield Resume Struggle To-night

BOSTON, April 7.—The Boston Bruins-Cubs and Springfield Indians, who have played 150 minutes overtime during the five games they have waged for the Fontaine Trophy, emblematic of the Canadian-American Hockey League championship, will clash here again to-night at the Boston Garden.

These teams have broken all records for overtime play in a championship series and since the Cubs have won two games and the Indians one, they can break another mark, if Springfield wins, by stretching their play-off series up to seven games.

Two tie games have been played.

Both of these deadlocks were played at Springfield, the game on March 28 lasted for 160 minutes and last Saturday's struggle was halted after 110 minutes of play.

For many years the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with members of Parliament, has pressed for improvement to colonization roads leading from the north country. This has broadened Peterborough's sales area and helped the merchants. As a merchant, are you a member of the Chamber and if not, why not?

CHANCELLOR'S WIFE VEXES NEIGHBOR

Mrs. Philip Snowden Brings Action Against Widow For Damage to Fence.

LONDON, April 7 (By The Canadian Press.).—Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, recently brought an action in the County Court at Farnham, Surrey, against a neighbor, Mrs. Tarratt, an 80-year-old widow, claiming $35 for damage done to a fence. She also applied for an injunction restraining Mrs. Tarratt from further alleged trespass on the Snowden property.
The lawsuit was the outcome of differences between the two neighbors over the fence which separated their grounds, Mrs. Snowden being the owner of Eden Lodge, Tilford, and Mrs. Tarratt claiming ownership of the land adjoining Eden Lodge. Mrs. Snowden acquired her property in 1923, and put up a wire-and-post fence in the middle of a ditch which divided the two properties. The fence remained undisturbed for nearly seven years.
In 1930 Mrs. Tarratt's son pulled the fence down, and proceedings were taken in the police court for alleged malicious damage. The magistrates, however, held that they had not jurisdiction in the case. The fence was re-erected, and was pulled down again last January, this time by an employee of Mrs. Tarratt.
In the County court Mrs. Snowden, in giving evidence, said that Mrs. Tarratt offered for sale the land which she claimed, and they were willing to buy. They asked her is she had any title deeds. She could not produce any, so they did not buy. Mrs. Tarratt said the land was bought by her father in 1868. She had not broughtproof of ownership to court.
The judge declared the ditch to be the property of Mrs. Snowden. He gave judgment for $5 in respect of trespass, and granted an injunction restraining Mrs. Tarratt, her servant, or agent entering on Mrs. Snowden's land, and in any way interfering with the fence erected by Mrs. Snowden thereon.

DUMB DORA

Appetizing... and a Natural Corrective as well

A new Recipe for BRAN MUFFINS
(Makes 1½ doz. Muffins)

¼ cup Butter
½ cup Sugar
2 tablespoons Molasses
2 Eggs
1 cup Milk
2 cups Flour
4 teaspoons Baking Powder
½ tablespoon Salt
2½ cups Quaker natural Bran
1 cup Raisins

Method—Cream the butter; add sugar. Cream thoroughly together. Beat eggs; add molasses and milk. Add to butter and sugar mixture. Add bran and raisins, then flour, baking powder and salt, sifted together. Bake in well-greased muffin pans in hot oven—about 425° F.—reduce to 375° after 10 minutes.

MUFFINS made with Quaker Tillson's natural Bran are delightfully appetizing. They are lighter than muffins made of other bran. Invaluable as a preventive to faulty elimination.

The natural roughage of Quaker Tillson's natural Bran stimulates the intestinal muscles to get rid of waste, regularly and completely. Constipation is banished . . . headache, bad breath and consequent mental depression disappear. When you sprinkle Quaker Tillson's natural Bran liberally over your regular cereal you add a valuable health factor to your breakfast.

But use natural bran only—and be sure it's Quaker. Your doctor will tell you that Quaker Tillson's natural Bran is the most effective laxative cereal, because made of the finest wheat, milled to a softness to guard against undue irritation.

REMUNERATION CUT 50 CENTS

Resolution is Adopted by Ops Council Because of Economic Conditions.

OPPOSE ROAD BUILDING

LINDSAY, April 7.—(Special to The Examiner).—At the last meeting of Ops Township Council held in Lindsay, the members unanimously decided that their remuneration, inspecting and working on roads, as well as the pay for laborers and teams be reduced 50 cents a day for the current year. This resolution was adopted because of economic conditions.

A resolution was also passed urging the reduction of freight rates on farm commodities. The resolution was forwarded to T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., and to the Minister of Railways and Canals.

Cameron (Victoria County) U.F.O. Club has gone on record as being opposed to any further building of permanent paved roads in Victoria County. It was decided that such work, in its opinion, should be discontinued during the period of depression, especially in farm revenue. Furthermore, the resolution reads, "if such roads must be built, they be constructed of stone or macadam, and be constructed of local labor."

Seeding Backward

In the opinion of M. H. Winter, District Agricultural Representative, it will be some time before seeding operations commence in this county. In referring to Lambton County, where isolated bits of seeding have taken place, Mr. Winter remarked that it was a case where farmers had a field of sandy land and where there was not much snow. In this county the snowfall has been heavy, although there has not been a great deal of frost in the land.

Painters, who have been scraping off the kalsomine, etc., on the corridor walls at the county jail, made an interesting discovery a few days ago. When the kalsomine, which had been on the walls for years, was removed, five hand-painted scenes were disclosed to view. These paintings, which were the work of an artist, included a splendidly executed portrait of the late Queen Victoria. The other paintings—all done in colors—depicted lake, mountain and wood scenes. On the corner of one picture was the word "Scotty" as well as the initials "D.T.R." The scenes are all surrounded with a grilled gold border to represent a frame. Who the artist was is a mystery to the jail officials as well as the old timers about town.

Two Cars Collide On Park Hill Road

Cars driven by Max Comstock, 211 Sherbrooke street, and William Matthews, 62 Connaught Avenue, Hamilton, collided at the corner of Park Hill Road and Water Street about 1 o'clock this morning. Both cars were damaged in the crash, but no one was injured.

Comstock, driving a party home from a dance, was proceeding north on Water street, and Matthews was driving west on Park Hill Road. Comstock alleges that Matthews failed to stop at the stop sign before proceeding across the intersection, while Matthews maintains that Comstock was going at a high rate of speed and failed to apply his brakes.

MURDER SYNDICATE IS FEARED TO EXIST IN CITY OF VANCOUVER

Deaths of Some 20 Japanese Will Probably Be Looked Into.

WANTED INSURANCE.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

VANCOUVER, April 7.—Possibility that a "murder syndicate" existed in the Oriental section of the city, with the purpose of benefitting from insurance policies on its victims, is being investigated by police following developments in connection with the death of Mastichi Watanabe, aged 40, whose body was found on Railway Avenue on March 30. His head had been crushed and mangled, apparently with a hand-axe. Three men —T. Hiteni, Shinkihi Sakurada and Bunshino Eugino—have been charged with the murder.

Police brought a man from another city who, they say, made a statement that he had taken money from the alleged "syndicate" to kill three persons whose lives were insured, but that he fled the city without carrying out his assignment.

"Hospital" Operated

Police investigators state they further discovered the existence of a private "hospital" where insured persons were given treatment by a man without medical qualifications. Two patients of this "institution" had died, it was stated, and a third had disappeared.

Several days ago a Japanese was found near death in a downtown hotel. He had entered the hospital suffering from a slight cold, and his condition grew steadily worse after he received hypodermic injections.

According to police reconstruction of the murder, Watanabe was lured to the scene of his death. While one man engaged him in conversation another crept from behind and hit him with a hand-axe. The attacked man fought desperately, but was felled to the ground and his face and throat hacked.

Pumping operations in a water hole in False Creek Flats revealed a weapon fitting the wounds on the body of the dead Watanabe.

May Probe 20 Deaths

Possible existence of a "murder syndicate" has thrown the Japanese colony into a furore. The deaths of some twenty Japanese may be looked into, it is said.

Insurance companies are taking an active part in the investigations.

It is alleged that there were suspicious circumstances in connection with the three deaths in one Japanese family.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 32 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

That which filled the lad with excitement was the fresh spoor of men—of white men, for among the prints of naked feet were the outlines of shoes. The trail marked the passage of a good-sized company headed north, probably toward some coast settlement, the boy thought. He was all eagerness to be off in pursuit. The old ape objected. He wanted nothing of men. To him the lad was a fellow ape, for he was the son of the king of apes.

He tried to dissuade the boy, but without success. A few hours later they came upon the rear guard of the white men's caravan he was so anxious to overtake. Stumbling along the tangled trail of those ahead, a dozen heavily laden blacks were being proded mercilessly forward. On each side of them walked two giants, blond white men, both using heavy whips on the naked backs of the poor natives. The boy's cry of greeting died on his lips.

Even the great ape growled beneath his breath at the useless torture being inflicted. "So these are the creatures you would go with?" he muttered to the lad. "They ARE fiends," replied the boy, "but I will ask them where is the nearest port, and then, Akut, we can leave them." So saying he swung to the ground, starting at a brisk walk toward the "safari." He was a hundred yards away, perhaps, when one of the whites caught sight of him.

The man gave a shout of alarm. Instantly levelling his rifle upon the boy and firing. The bullet struck just in front of its mark, scattering turf and leaves against the boy's legs. A second later the others were firing hysterically at him. Jack leaped into a tree, unhurt, the ape climbing excitedly after him. As the two disappeared, so quickly and in such manner, the white men and natives huddled together to determine just what to do.

Quickest and Best

Spring is a time of activity—of moving, of travelling, of weddings. There are so many times when one wants to talk to persons out of town. Nothing is so quick, so easy, so satisfactory, as Long Distance. The voice is always the best.

NON-JURY SITTINGS OPEN IN LINDSAY

Only One Case is Set Down to be Heard by Judge Swayze.

The Spring non-jury sittings of the County Court of the County of Victoria open to-day with only one case on the list to be tried by His Honour Judge Swayze. This is a case between Harold Thorn of South Monaghan and Mr. S. W. McCabe of Peterborough, in respect to a motor accident which happened on the Lindsay-Peterborough highway. Both parties blame each other for the accident.

Gordon and Elliott are acting for Mr. McCabe and McLaughlin, Fulton, Stinson and Anderson are acting for Mr. Thorn.

BOYS ARE VISITING CITY'S FACTORIES

Tours Are Being Conducted Under Auspices of the Boys' Work Board.

Under the auspices of the Boy's Work Board two hundred and thirty-four teen age boys have been conducted through Peterborough factories since yesterday forenoon and up to this noon.

Another large crowd of boys is expected to avail themselves the opportunity to visit the Westclox factory this afternoon, and the Quaker Oats Company and C. G. E. Company plants tomorrow.

Commencing with a visit to the Nashua Paper Company on Monday morning, under the supervision of James McClenaghan, Boy's Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., a party of 63 teen age boys had the opportunity to closely study the various processes carried on at that factory, while another party of 86 boys was conducted through Stocks Limited Bakery in the evening. Again this morning an interested group of 85 boys were shown through the Bell Telephone Company's hive of industry.

To Leo Copp, President of the Boy's Work Board and the committee of three representatives of prominent local industries, do the boys owe their thanks for the wonderful experience afforded them. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Messrs P. W. Johnson, (DeLaval Company); H. W. Tranter (Western Clock Company); and Larmer Browne (Bell Telephone Company.)

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

The Easter Danceof The Examiner Social Club on Friday night of this week promises to be a big event. An energetic committee is in charge of arrangements, with Fred Scats as Master of Ceremonies. RELIEF FUND.

The total to date of the fund for the Peterborough Relief Association amounts to $12,991.76, with actual cash received of $11,234.04 and the balance pledged.

HORSEMEN RETURNING TO TRACK

Another evidence of Spring is the return of the horsemen to the Exhibition Park. Fifteen horses are already stabled in two of the barns. Lou Bennett of Port Hope has a string of seven and Dick Walsh of Hastings has eight. The track is in excellent condition, and the blue sky and glorious sun with a faint shade of green showing in the lawn leave no discontent when some one mentions Atlantic City or Pinehurst. Other horses are expected before long, and the Spring workouts will probably be just as brisk as last year.

GRASS FIRES OUT OF CONTROL

Grass fires which get out of control are causing the firemen of this city some trouble now. Several calls for assistance have come in some fifteen minutes after permission has been given to burn the grass because the wind has carried the flames towards either buildings or fences. At 1.04 p.m. yesterday a call of this nature came in for a fire at the rear of 408 Monaghan Road, and at 3.33 another came in from the corner of Aylmer and Antrim Streets. Two or three grass fires on Hunter Street hill in East City required the attention of the firemen at 1.40 this afternoon.

CARS COLLIDE ON GEORGE STREET.

It was one of those minor little mishaps that will sometimes happen to the best of drivers, but it created a mild diversion for the numerous pedestrians on George street, shortly after noon to-day.

A jaunty little green roadster driven by Kenneth Thompson was proceeding north, when another larger car piloted by B. B. Gillespie commenced to back away from the parking area outside Primeau's store. There was a slight impact and both cars suffered some damage, the former as was to be expected being damaged about the front right fender and bumper, while the other sustained injuries to the rear end.

Work Has Started On New Creamery

Excavation work, which marks the preliminary stages of a new two-storey dairy, was commenced this morning, on the site of the old Swanston property at Driscoll Terrace and Hunter street, and which was recently acquired by J. H. Matthews of this city.

The contract has been let to T. C. Ephgrave, who stated to The Examiner that immediately excavation work is through, the erection of the building will be rushed forward. It is to be completed in six weeks' time if possible, while ten weeks has been stipulated as the limit of time.

Over one hundred men were on the scene early this morning, out of which only ten were required at this stage. There are three trucks engaged in carting away the excavated material.

Sweepstakes Winner In Legal Squabble

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 7 (A.P.).—Emilio Scala, London cafe owner, who won first prize in the Grand National Sweepstakes, appeared to-day to claim his money—more than $1,500,000—but was balked by a legal injunction.

He and his counsel conferred at length with sweepstakes officials, but declined to disclose his plans for combatting those who have held up payment on the award on the ground they bought a share of his ticket.

TEACHERS BEGIN 70TH CONVENTION

President Campbell's Address to be Followed by One From Hon. T. L. Kennedy.

MANY NOTABLES PRESENT.

TORONTO, Ont., April 7. (CP)—Teachers, trustees and inspectors from many parts of the Province assembled here this morning for the 70th annual conclave of the Ontario Educational Association which opened at University of Toronto.

With preliminary ceremonies disposed of yesterday the convention settled down to-day to a routine of business, addresses and discussion of many problems.

In the trustees and ratepayers' section, grants county libraries and school attendances will be considered. The presidential address of M. A. Campbell will follow and then Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, will speak to the rural delegates. The address of the Commissioner of Education for Saskatchewan, will be one of the highlights of activities in the teachers' section. Other speakers will be Hon. W. G. Martin, Provincal Minister of Public Welfare, Principal Hamilton Fyfe, Queen's University, Kingston, and W. Prendergast, Principal of the Normal School, London.

Principal M. W. Wallace University College, University of Toronto, welcomed the delegates who arrived last night.

REV. J. J. O'BRIEN RESUMES DUTIES

Pastor of Sacred Heart Has Recovered After Seven Weeks' Illness.

After an illness of seven weeks Rev. John J. O'Brien, pastor of the Sacred Heart, resumed his active duties as parish priest on Easter Sunday, and was celebrant of the early mass at which a large number of the men received communion in a body.

Addressing the congregation prior to the reading of the gospel, Father O'Brien said he was exceedingly happy to be with the people of the parish again, and especially on the great feast commemorating the resurrection c. Christ. He expressed his thanks to the school children for their prayers and to the parisioners for their remembrance of him during his absence. Father O'Brien paid a glowing tribute to the diligence and fidelity of Rev. Father Moloney who as curate assumed the parochial responsibilities, and also acknowledged the kindness of Bishop O'Connor in his visits at the hospital. To priests who assisted Father Moloney during the seven weeks Father O'Brien also conveyed his gratitude.

OBITUARY

EARNEST HENRY LEWIS

The death occurred last evening of Ernest Henry Lewis at his home 507 Weller Street. Mr. Lewis was born in England 67 years ago, but has resided in Peterborough for some years. Surviving him are his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Stanley White of this city, and a son, Ernest of Campbellford.

The funeral will be held from the residence of the deceased at 10.30 a.m. on Wednesday, with Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave of St. John's Anglican Church officiating. Interment will be made in Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. CHARLOTTE A. BURTCH

Mrs. C. A. Burtch passed away at her residence, 183 Dublin Street, on Monday afternoon after a lingering illness of some six years. The deceased was 82 years of age, and in her declining years showed wonderful patience and Christian fortitude, being above all a good mother. Left to mourn her loss are four daughters, Mrs. H. Montgomery and Miss Ida of Peterborough, Mrs. R. A. Dickinson of London, Ont., and Mrs. C. R. Wheaton of Saskatoon, Sask. three sons, Lewis at home, David of Kingston, and Reuben of Watertown, N.Y., 18 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren. Her husband predeceased her28 years ago.

A funeral service will be held from her late residence this evening at 8 o'clock. The remains will be taken to Kingston Wednesday morning for burial in the family plot at Cataraqui on Thursday.

CAWNPORE RIOTS TOOK 500 LIVES PROBE REVEALS

City Transformed Into Battlefield—Depicted as Disgrace to British Rule.

ARMY NEEDED FOR PEACE.

Outbreak at Close of His Rule Deeply Affects Viceroy, Lord Irwin.

NEW DELHI, India, April 7. (C. P. Cable).—A National'st Board of Enquiry, set up by Mahatma Gandhi has reported to him that about 500 persons lost their lives in the recent severe communal riots between Hindus and Moslems at Cawnpore. The city was described as having been transformed into a battlefield illuminated by the flames of burning houses and temples.

Gavin Jones, one of the delegates representing Europeans in India at the London Round Table Conference depicted the seven days of fighting as a terrible disgrace to British rule, and blamed authorities for not keeping the natives in order.

False Report Started Riot

The riots began, according to the report of the Nationalists, when a false report was circulated that a Moslem shrine had been desecrated. Moslems charged that Hindu Nationalists attempted to force Moslem shopkeepers to close in mourning for Baghat Singh, executed revolutionary.

Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, is understood to be deeply affected that such incidents should occur just as signs indicated his difficult five-year term would conclude with brighter prospets of peace in India than before.

Hindus and Moslems generally are belived to be in a dangerous mood after the recent rioting and the foreign communities believe that now, more than ever, the presence of the British army is necessary to maintain peace.

APPOINTMENT OF

best. Before his elevation to the bishopric last summer, Dr. O'Connor was Principal of St. Peter's Seminary here.

In the case of the local diocese it is felt that, owing to the number of French-Canadians, it is wise that the bishop speak that language. This, Bishop O'Connor does. It is also felt that the new bishop be an educationalist to carry on the work started by Bishop Fallon. In this respect, Dr. O'Connor also qualifies. It is pointed out that the vatican is particularly interested in the advancement of Catholic education in Canada. Three recent appointments to bishoprics have been made from the ranks of professors in seminaries. For this reason it is believed that the next bishop of London will be an educationist.

Bishop O'Connor is highly regarded by Archbishop O'Brien of Kingston, who will have much to say in the recommendation for the local See, and it is believed that the archbishop will urge the former Londoner for the post.

Falconer Sees No Reason to Fear For Students Moral Health.

AT TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

Mixed Opinions Greet New Apportionment of Legislative School Grants.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8. (CP)—The 5,000 or more teachers and trustees gathered here from many parts of the Province to attend the Ontario Educational Association Convention in annual session at University of Toronto to-day proceeded early with their deliberations at various meetings.

The delegates experienced a busy day yesterday. High spots included announcement by Hon. Leopold MacAulay, Provincial Secretary, of establishment of a Bureau of Educational Research and a declaration by Sir Robert Falconer, President of University of Toronto, that there was no reason to fear for the moral health of college students as a whole. His remarks were generally accepted as an answer to recent criticisms of rampant atheism in University of Toronto circles.

Mr. MacAulay said the Ontario Department of Education was not lagging in an age of research. Addressing a crowded meeting in Convocation Hall he announced the bureau of research would be initiated during the year. It was not to be a department for phychological tests and pupils will not be placed on microscopic slides, he stated in explaining the functioning of the bureau.

Demand Better Schools

In his presidential address A. E. Culver told rural trustees they should prick up their ears and demand better schools. He also believed rural folk were fully qualified to sit on the committee to select their own textbooks.

Insurance against fire provided a topic which drew a flash of fireworks. It happened there were insurance agents present—rural trustees. A suggestion they copy Saskatchewan's system by means of which the school sections would share in the premiums met with disapproval by the majority. One delegate declared it would soon be necessary to establish a new type of insurance company. He said there was no reason why good risks like schools should have to pay the toll for bad risks like barns.

New apportionment of Legislative school grants in Ontario was greeted with mixed opinions by the trustees and inspectors. Urban trustees expressed approval of the new scheme but rural trustees and inspectors meted it both censure and commendation.

FARM BOARD PLAN OF STABILIZATION PROVED FAILURE

J. C. Murray Claims Operations Resulted in Accumulations Which Are Menace to 1931 Crops.

Free, Open Market Solution.

Chicago Trade Board Suggests Gov't Quit Business of Merchandising Grain.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 8.—President James C. Murray, of the Chicago Board of Trade, declared to-day that the stabilization program of the Farm Board has failed completely in the attempt to maintain the markets on any satisfactory level. In an address before the Chicago Association of Commerce, he said the Farm Board's operations have only resulted in accumulations which are a menace to the coming crops.

Passage of the Agricultural Marketing Act, intended to be of benefit to the farmer, has admittedly failed of its purpose. Ably managed by honest men interested in the working out of a definite scheme of farm relief, the operation of the Act has again demonstrated the futility of interference with the normal action and reaction to supply and demand, he declared.

System Not a Success

Through the Act, he said, the Government has advanced large sums for the purpose of building up co-operative companies, under obligation to market their grain through the single channel approved by the Farm Board. But it has been clearly demonstrated

TWO TEACHERS NAMED TO STAFF OF COLLEGIATE

Appointments Are Made By Board of Education to Vocational School Staff.

GRANT FOR SCHOOL BAND.

Property Committee Refuses Use of School Room For Sunday School.

Subject to the approval of the Department of Education the appointments were confirmed, at a meeting of the Board of Education held in the Library of the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School last evening, of G. R. West of Toronto and J. Carroll of this city to the Vocational School staff at initial salaries of $2,000 each, with increases according to schedule. The appointments will date from September 1st. The former will teach mathematics and science, and the latter Mechanics.

Recommendations were also placed before the Board by I. P. McNab, chairman of the Committee of Appointments, respecting two teachers for the Academic Department. Six names were submitted out of several applicants, with first choice recommended to R. David Brown, B.A., and Hugh D. Baker. It was decided that the final choice should be left at the discretion of H. R. H. Kerr, Principal of the Collegiate and Vocational School, who has already given the matter careful and mature consideration, in collaboration with other teachers in the departments immediately concerned.

A great deal of discussion arose over a request from Albion Lord for new equipment for the Collegiate Cadet Bugle Band, who suggested the purchase of nine bugles at a cost of $18.00 each and a side drum at a cost of $40.00. The request pointed out at length that it has been customary in the past to engage the services of the Peterborough Rangers Regimental Band each year for the Cadet inspection, while the Cadet Bugle Band has been on the side lines, more or less of an ornament.

It was thought by the writer of the letter, that the money expended in engaging the band might be well used in purchasing further equipment for the bugle band, which could thus provide music for both Collegiate and Public School Cadets on inspection day.

The question was argued pro and con, and finally resulted in a motion by James Dutton to the effect that the Supervisory Committee confer with the writer of the letter, with

Ruins Found at Jericho of Royal Palace Burned by Joshua Over 3,400 Years Ago

LONDON, April 8.—(AP)—Sir Charles Marston, backer of an expedition which has been clearing the ruins of ancient Jericho, announced today the finding of the great Royal Palace which was razed when Joshua and the Israelites burned the city 3,400 years ago.

The discovery was made by Prof. John Garstang and members of the Marston expedition.

Excavation of the palace, Sir Charles said, would not be possible until next year because of the heat in the Jordan valley. Prof. Garstang, he said, is publishing a book, the result of the recent discoveries at Jericho, which he believed would revolutionize many present ideas about Bible history.

Prof. Garstang and the members of the expedition left Palestine for England today, it was announced.

WOODS FAMILY MAY LOSE PRIZE

Buffalo Welfare Head, Under Poor Law, Asks for Option on Sweepstakes Second Ticket.

$860,000 AT STAKE.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 8. (CP)—Clayton C. Woods and four relatives who won approximately $860,000 on the Grant National Steeplechase to-day were anxiously awaiting the opinion of the Buffalo Corporation Counsel as to whether they could collect their money and continue to live in Buffalo.

John J. Aeschbach, City Director of Welfare, yesterday asked the Corporation Counsel for an opinion, on a section of the Poor Law providing that the proceeds of lotteries shall be forfeited to the use of the poor. He also asked for an opinion, on three sections of the State Penal Code which appeared to make it his duty to bring legal action to recover from the Woods family the amount of their prize money and to use it for the benefit of the poor in this city.

Clayton Woods and his wife still were somewhere in Canada to-day on a vacation. The other members of the family who shared in the prize declined to discuss the matter, saying simply that they had not made definite plans for collecting the money.

It has been pointed out that the Woods family may evade the provisions of this law by transferring their legal residence to Ireland, where the money is to be paid over the latter part of the week.

Prussian Diet is Now Unnecessary

BERLIN, April 8 (A.P.)—Registration of votes throughout Prussia in connection with the demand of the Steel Helmet organization that the Prussian Diet be dissolved as no longer representing the will of the people, began to-day.

A fortnight has been assigned for collection of signatures. If one fifth of the Prussian electorate, or five and a quarter million, support the demand the Diet will be formally summoned to dissolve. If it should refuse, the next step would be a plebiscite which would require about 13,000,000 votes to succeed.

The Social Democrats predominate in the Diet.

ALL FOREIGNERS BEING REMOVED FROM MADEIRA

Decree States All Taking Posts Under Rebel Junta to be Tried in Special Courts.

GARRISON MADE OFFER.

Powerful Cruiser Speeding From Gibraltar to Protect British Subjects.

LISBON, PORTUGAL, April 8. —(AP)—Evacuation of foreign residents of Madeira was provided for and closing of all ports of the island group was ordered in an emergency cabinet decree published to-day.

The decree, which was approved at a midnight meeting of the Portuguese cabinet, intimates that all residents of the island who have accepted posts under the rebel Junta set up there, will be dismissed and tried in special courts.

The decree affirmed intention of the Government to suppress the revolt which, apparently instigated by political deportees, has overthrown the Lisbon authority in Funchal. An offer will be made the garrison at Funchal and the military Junta there to allow them to return to the Government fold, whereafter, in the event of its refusal, military measures, made possible by a large expeditionary force sent to Madeira, will be undertaken.

Volcanic Upheaval Seen By Hundreds Blast Cost $25,000

Everything Went Off According to the Pre-arranged Plan at the Ontario Rock Quarry in Belmont Township When 125,000 Tons of Earth Were Displaced.

HILL WAS UNDERMINED BY 847 FEET OF TUNNELING MAIN DRIFT 290 FEET LONG—11 SHORTER DRIFTS

Great Care Was Taken by the Company Officials in Setting the Blast and the Whole Hill Was Raised Into the Air—Whole Contour Changed.

HAVELOCK, April 8. (By Examiner Staff Reporter) — A warning shot, which signalled "all clear", to the men at the switch, preceded a mighty and volcanic upheaval of rock at the Ontario Rock Quarry in Belmont Township at 11:18 o'clock this morning, and provided a thrilling and unique spectacle for a large crowd of watchers who were assembled at a safe distance.

It was the annual 'big blast'—the largest in the history of the company, and which is estimated to have displaced about 125,000 tons of rock; a blast which cost the enormous sum of $25,000, and which will keep a gang of workmen busy throughout the summer in clearing up the debris.

"Everything went according to the prearranged plan," stated Harry Scott, superintendent of the Ontario Rock Quarry, "and we are well satisfied".

A Longwall, president of the Company, was down from Toronto, along with officials of the Canadian Industries Limited, including Mr. Hallford of that city and Mr. Cole of Montreal Division, both explosive experts.

Long before the blast sent its echoing reverberation around the peaceful countryside, a crowd had congregated. People swarmed around the crushing plant, and gazed questioningly at the blocked tunnel entrance, which had been sealed after the explosives had been planted within the mighty hill of rock.

Occupied Surrounding Hills

Arrangements approaching completion, sightseers were warned away from the immediate vicinity of the plant and advised to occupy vantage points on a hill to the west. Soon the hill was occupied. Almost the whole of the township populace was there, while many had journeyed from Peterborough and other centres throughout the district. Energetic boys climbed trees, some of their more staid elders got their cameras to the 'ready', and soon patience was rewarded.

The more fearless persons who had occupied positions too close for safety were seen emerging from the thick scrub, as employees of the company carried out their orders to the letter, and presently the superintendent and other officials were seen approaching followed by a bevy of movie camera men. They also took up their positions on the hillside. Mr. Scott very much like a general surveying the battlefield took another look around the countryside, to see that no person was left in the danger zone. He then relayed a message to one of his men, who fired the signal shot. Almost simultaneously the still clear air was split by a terrific con-

GASTRIC ULCER CAUSE IS FOUND BY DR. CUSHMAN

States Malady Results From Disturbances in Diencepahalon Section of Brain.

17 YEARS' RESEARCH.

Usually Occur in Those Overworked and Under Emotional Stress.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8. (CP)—After 17 years' research Dr. Harvey Cushman, foremost authority on surgery of the central nervous system, announced to-day that he has discovered gastric ulcers result from disturbances in that section of the brain known as the diencepahalon, the seat of the primitive emotions and governing the majority of the automatic actions of living.

Gastric ulcer, he stated, is one of the most common of present day maladies and is apparently increasing. It undoubtedly has a relation to the high speed and tension of modern life. Usually it is found to occur in those who are overworked and under emotional stress and the influence of worry. Such emotions have their nervous control in the diencephalon. The same section of the brain also exercises a control over the digestive processes.

In the opinion of Toronto medical authorities who attended the Donal C. Balfour Foundation lecture, the medium through which the announcement was made at Convocation Hall, University of Toronto, Dr. Cushman has given the first coherent and completely tensible answer to the question 'What causes gastric ulcer?'

Red Forces Driven From Hwangchow City

HANKOW, April 8 (C.P.).—Three thousand Reds who attacked and captured Hwangchow, fifty miles east of here, were driven from that city to-day. Hwangchow was reported virtually destroyed.

Six thousand Reds attacked Pungkou, 80 miles west of Hankow, but the military defenders there repulsed them.

The invasion of Hwangchow was short but violent. The attackers began an orgy of looting as soon as the city fell early in the day. Government bombing planes were sent from here to dislodge the invaders.

Hwangchow, situated on the north bank of the Yangtze River, is considered an important centre because of its proximity to Hankow, Hanyang and Wuchang, the tri-cities of Central China. It had a population of 30,000 in 1924.

Perkins Bull Able To Leave Hospital

TORONTO, Ont., April 8.—(C.P.)—After more than seven weeks' confinement in the Toronto General Hospital, W. Perkins Bull, K.C., Toronto and London, Eng., barrister, who was injured in a motor car accident at Coldwater, Mich., in February, will leave the institution this afternoon according to a report issued by his physician to-day.

Although the local barrister is in perfect health it will be some weeks before the cast will be removed from his right leg and thigh, Dr. Gordon Kelly his attending physician said.

Anglo-German Parley Is Set For June 5 to 9

LONDON, April 8.—(A.P.) — The dates of the forthcoming Anglo-German Conference on current problems affecting the two nations were set by Downing street to-day as June 5 to 9.

Chancellor Bruenning and Foreign Minister Curtius will be the guests of Premier Ramsay MacDonald at his country home at Chequers it was said, where discussion of a confidential nature may be held in an atmosphere of peace and quiet.

Although the meeting will be conducted in the utmost privacy, with Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, participating, the results likely will have an almost immediate effect on the general European political situation, inasmuch as they will carry a step farther the preparations for the next Dismament Conference at Geneva.

100,000 WOMEN REQUEST REPEAL OF FINLAND'S PROHIBITION LAW

Alarmed at Continuous Spread of Drunkeness Under Present Statute.

APPEAL TO PRESIDENT.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, April 8. —(A.P.)— A petition signed by over 100,000 women of Finland, asking speedy repeal of the country's prohibition law is to be presented to the President of the Republic during the next few days.

Declaring themselves to be advocates of true temperance the women in their petition express an anxiety over the fate of future generations because of what they alleged to be a continuous spread of drunkeness under the present dry statute.

Feel Powerless.

We feel ourselves powerless, the women declare in the petition, while prohibition, with its destructive moral consequences exists, instead of a sensible law for controlling consumption of alcohol under which it would be possible to begin truly effective temperance work.

The women who initiated the petiing and advocates of temperance. They maintain that the present protion were said to be women of standhibition situation in Finland is growing worse each year and has resulted in smuggling, an increase in murder, and in drunkeness caused among women and children, which were formerly said to be unknown.

Prohibition in Finland, the petition sad, is supported only by fanatics and over a hundred thousand bootlegg

Milkman Held Up; Loses Ten Cents

LONDON, Ont., April 8 (C.P.) — While driving into London, James Letherland, R. R. No. 8, a milkman, was knocked unconscious by a bandit just outside the city limits.

Letherland stopped his truck as he saw a car parked across the road, when he got out the bandit struck him over the head with a monkey wrench, knocking him out.

The robber took 10 cents, all the milkman's cash, and left him lying in the ditch where he was found by a policeman.

Churchill Elevator Be Under Way July 1

THE PAS, Man., April 8 (C.P.). — Two million dollars worth of building material is being assembled and plans are underway for the employment of 1,000 men for work on the 2,000,000-bushel elevator project at Churchill, terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway.

Material is being assembled in Winnipeg and 30 trains of forty cars each will be required for the shipment of steel, cement and general equipment to Manitoba's seaport.

Work on the elevator project will be well underway by July 1, contractors state.

Police Uncover Loot But Burglars Escape

MONTREAL, Que., April 8 (C.P.).—Burglars last night entered the home of Frank Butler while he was at a theatre and removed $2,300 worth of goods. Detectives a few hours later uncovered the stolen property hidden in a backyard. Though detectives kept an all-night vigil, the burglars failed to return to carry away their booty.

The Butler home was entered by the front door, the burglars breaking a pane of glass to reach in and release the lock.

AUTHOR'S RIGHTS TO BE SETTLED

Dreiser Dislikes Film Producers Handling of His "An American Tragedy."

WILL FILE ACTION.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 8. (CP) The Examiner says Theodore Dreiser, well known author, has disclosed plans to file an action in Federal Court shortly to protect authors from the vivisection of Hollywood film producers and directors.

Dreiser admitted, the paper said, that he had parted with Paramount over the talkie adaption of his "An American Tragedy." He said he would demand an injunction to restrain the producing company from showing the picture and a general equity ruling defining the rights of authors unless the completed film was perfectly satisfactory.

They paid $150,000 for the screen and talkie rights to my book, he said. When I read the script I went into a trance.

Jesse Laskey had come to Hollywood from New York to work with Josef von Sternberg, the director. I came, I saw, I was conquered. They laughed at me. They said I was antiquated. They said Hollywood needed no advice or suggestions from mossback authors.

They tell me I'll be crazy over the picture and I believe they're telling the truth, he said.

He added the question of authors' rights might just as well be settled now as later.

STATUS QUO WILL BE MAINTAINED AS REGARDS AMENDING B.N.A. ACT

Repeal of Colonial Laws Validity Act Insofar as Canada is Concerned, Agreed On.

CONFERENCE CLOSES.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 8. (CP) — Agreement on a course of action to be pursued in respect to the proposed Statue of Westminster which embodies recommendations of the last two Imperial Conferences was announced at the conclusion of the Dominion-Provincial Conference here to-day. A brief statement announcing the decisions arrived at by the conference was handed out shortly after noon.

It was agreed that the status quo should be maintained in respect to repealing, altering or amending the Canadian constitution—the British North America Act.

Repeal of the Colonial Laws Validity Act insofar as Canada is concerned was agreed on subject to the provisions of the British North America Act.

Announcement was made by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, that at some future date a constitutional conference for consideration of conditions under which the British North America Act may be amended, will take place.

A section applicable to Canada for inclusion in the new Statute of

Thief Captured; Woman Given $50

WELLAND, Ont., April 8. —(C.P.)—Some time ago Miss Catherien McVey of Crowland, armed with a pitchfork, chased a chicken thief from her premises after throwing a gun at the man. He was alter arrested and convicted.

The sequel came at Welland County Council session yesterday when the woman was rewarded to the extent of $50. Council also decided to reward others capturing or giving information leading to the arest of chicken thieves.

The Weather

To-day at noon the temperature was up to 58 degrees in the shade. This is the highest point this year, although it has been closely approached several times. The thermometer did not get down to the freezing point last night. In large sections of the Praire Provinces quite warm conditions have prevailed, and figures of 70 to 75 degrees have been marked up.—W.P.

Ancient Town is Found in S. India

BANGALORE, Mysore, India, April 8 (C.P.). — A prehistoric deccan town has been discovered by the Mysore Archaelogical Department beneath the ancient Mauryan city of Isila in the Chitaldrug district.

It is regarded as belonging to the prehistoric age, and as superimposed on a stone age settlement which yielded numbers of neolithic and microlithic relics.

Professor Krishna, in charge of the excavations, believes that the further work of excavation of the site will carry back by several thousand years the early history of culture in South India, the origins of which are still shrouded in mystery.

City of Chicago Has New Mayor In Anton Cermak

One-time Immigrant Boy From Bohemia Given Overwhelming Majority of 191,916 Votes, Largest Ever Recorded in the United States' Second Largest City.

ENDING OF 'COWBOY' MAYOR'S HOPES FOR FOURTH TERM HAILED BY OPPONENTS AS NEW DEAL FOR CHICAGO

Bedlam Breaks Loose in Downtown Streets as Cermak's Supporters Celebrate—Mayor-elect States Criminals Will Find No Hiding There After Big Clean-up.

CHICAGO, April 8.—The political career of William Hale Thompson, as Mayor, today lay buried beneath a record-breaking blanket of votes which elevated to the Mayorship, Anton J. Cermak, one-time immigrant boy from Bohemia.

Big Bill, the builder and a past master of the art of United State politics, was swept out of office by his Democratic opponent by the overwhelming majority of 191,916, thus becoming the worst beaten mayorality candidate in the history of the city.

The vote, Thompson, 475,613, Cermak 667,529, was in sharp contrast to the previous record majority of 147,477 by which Thompson won in 1915.

The result by which the "Cowboy" Mayor's aspirations for a fourth term were abruptly ended, was hailed by his opponents as a new deal for Chicago.

"Chicago," said Robert Isham Randolph, President of the Chicago Association of Commerce, has redeemed itself. We've had enough of Nero fiddling when Rome burned. We have told the world that we are prepared to regain our business level and restore our good name."

Takes Victory Quietly

The Mayor-elect, who expects to take office soon—possibly within the next week—took his elevation to the Mayorship of the second city of the United States quietly, declaring the whole world would not be disappointed in the new administration. He took a nap after the close of the poll, awakening to find himself winning.

Criminals, he said, will find no hiding place here. Our streets will be safe. Industry and commerce will find the highest encouragement. We shall at once set ourselves to the task of preparing our house for those who shall visit us at the Century of Progress Exhibition. This truly begins a new day for Chicago.

Bedlam broke loose in the streets of downtown Chicago as shouts of frenzied Cermak supports hailed his victory over the master showman. Bombs and bullets added to the din, but they were fired harmlessly into the heavens. The outburst of enthusiasm exceeded that of Armistice Day. There were no disorders last night or during the day's balloting.

Second Democrat Victory

It was the second big victory for a Democrat within the past year; the other having been that of James Hamilton Lewis, elected to the United States Senate last November over Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican nominee.

What Campbellford Council Did

Granted $325 to Campbellford Fair.

Decided to appeal to Railway Commissioners against proposed changes in C.N.R. passenger service.

Proposed by-law for collection, removal and disposal of garbage.

Decided upon new contractural agreement with Chief Constable Bromley.

Renewed municipal liability insurance with Globe Indemnity Company.

Tables an East Windsor resolution favoring the public sale of beer by the glass.

Appointed Councillor Ernest McKeel a director of the Trent Waterways Development Association.

Canada's New Governor General and Lady

The photograph reproduced above shows the Earl of Bessborough, successor to Lord Willingdon as Governor-General of Canada, and Countess of Bessborough, Canada's first-French-speaking chatelaine of Rideau Hall, taken in Their Excellencies' hotel in Halifax immediately after the installation ceremonies at the Eastern gateway town. Their Excellencies, after their trip through the still winter-clad land of Quebec, reached the Capital City, where they were officially received yesterday.

COUNCILS MAKE ANNUAL GRANTS TO SEYMOUR FAIR

Campbellford Council to Protest Change in Train Schedule With R. R. Board.

GARBAGE COLLECTION.

Liability Insurance Policy is Renewed by the Town Council.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—Two grants totalling $625 were made yesterday to the Seymour Agricultural Society. The town council last night appropriated $325, and Seymour township council at their meeting in the afternoon gave $300.

The Agricultural Society's main activity is the annual fair held in Campbellford. Their deputation to the Town Council last night included Dr. S. L. O'Hara, T. J. Horkins and George Kingston. They urged the continuance of the town's financial support to the fair because of its value as a medium of keeping alive the community spirit that has existed so long between the people of the town and country.

Councillor Ernest McKeel opposed the grant, asserting that it would bring no return to the average citizen of Campbellford. Other economies had been effected by the council this year, and Mr. McKee suggested that a further saving could be made by eliminating the fair grant.

T. J. Horkins, a former president of the Seymour Agricultural Society said he paid more taxes than any other man in the council chamber, but he had never objected to any money that was given for the development of the Campbellford fair, although he had "kicked at" some other grants. Mr. Horkins explained how the town's contribution was spent, some of it going to the local band, and more being spent with the Herald Printing Company for the extensive advertising of the fair.

"Besides that, many visitors came to town during the fair days and leave quite a lot of money with the merchants, hotel and other business men. The fair is the best advertising we have. Our prize money amounts to $3,000, and a lot of that stays here or finds it way back into town."

Mr. Horkins pointed out that the president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and other members of the Board were all residents of Campbellford. Twenty-three men and twelve women give their time and efforts as directors of the fair.

Councillor Carr moved that the grant be $325, the same as last year, and Councillor MacColl seconded the motion.

Mr. Kingston told the council that during the last two or three years there had been a decided increase in the interest shown in Campbellford's Fair by local exhibitors and other citizens and also by exhibitors from a distance. More of the prize money was taken out last year than ever before, the total disbursement amounting to 75 or 80 per cent of the aggregate sum of the prizes.

Councillor Long suggested that the "BABY is STARTED on a GOOD ROUTINE....."

Said the Famous Baby Specialist

"HE TAKES his feedings well, and at the proper time. His weight is increasing nicely, and he is otherwise quite normal. As long as he continues that way, there is no need to be nervous about him. After that, the most essential thing is to guard him against skin infection. But if you never let it get started, you won't have to worry over curing it. I always advise the use of Infants Delight Soap. It is pure and mild. It gives a very rich lather, and for that reason is very cleansing."

Try Infants Delight for YOUR baby—ask your doctor to tell you how good and satisfactory it is. Its mildness is a guarantee that it won't irritate. Better still, the boracic in it is a gentle antiseptic, and heals chafes and incipient roughness.

Power and Light Services Crippled—Highway Traffic Hampered.

MANY ACCIDENTS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 8.—Sections of upper New York State, Pennsylvania and New England were covered with snow to-day as a result of a storm which crippled power and light service in several communities and hampered highway traffic throughout the affected areas.

A wet, sticky blanket was laid from the foothills of the Adirondacks to Albany, varying in depth from three to six inches.

Salem, N.Y., was thrown into darkness when a 12-inch fall of snow disabled the lighting system. Many telephone lines were down.

Traffic in the vicinity of Olean, N.Y., was hampered by the storm during which 10 inches of snow fell. Buses from New York and other points were four and five hours behind schedule. The storm extended as far as Port Allegany, Coudersport and Emporium, Pa.

16 Inches Fall

At Towanda, Pa., 16 inches of snow fell in 24 hours. Light and telephone wires were down at Santon.

In New England the heaviest fall was reported from Southern and Western New Hampshire where hundreds of automobile were stalled and light and power lines were out of commission. A number of minor automobile accidents in the vicinity of Rochester, N.H., caused by snow-blinded windshields were reported. Six inches of snow was reported at Keene, N.H., and two inches at Manchester.

Snow fell in Boston and other parts of Massachusetts and in Maine and Vermont. Telephone service was disrupted at Lowell, Mass.

New York City and other portions of the East experienced rain as their share of the storm, which came in on a northeast wind.

KING'S CONDITION SLIGHTLY BETTER

Be Another Week Before Monarch is Back in Good Health if Progress Continues.

THREE PHYSICIANS PRESENT

WINDSOR, England, April 8 (C.P.).—The British public, which had been awaiting not without certain anxiety news from the sickroom of their monarch, was heartened this forenoon by an official statement that there was a slight improvement in the condition of the King.

His Majesty had been suffering since last Sunday from a chest cold, which yesterday was designated in an official bulletin as an attack of sub-acute bronchitis.

In view of yesterday's announcement that his progress, while satisfactory had been slow, to-day's statement from his castle residence that there had been an improvement was regarded as a favorable sign.

Authoritative quarters pointed out, however, that inevitably a condition like that of the King must take some time to clear up, at least several days. Presupposing his continued progress, it should be well in the next week before he can look to restoration to good health.

His Majesty, it was learned, is still up and about his room. He was favored to-day by an improvement in the weather, there being periods when the sun streamed brightly through the castle windows.

His physicians, Lord Dawson of Penn, Sir William Rees, and Dr. Henry Martyn, all attended him today.

U.S. Women Rapped For Buying In Canada

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, New York Democratic committeeman, today was on record as believing women of the United States are contributing to the business depression by spending money in Canada.

Commenting on conditions at Buffalo Mack said:

Every day hundreds of automobiles cross over to Canada, he said.

The tourists, he added, not only spend the day in Fort Erie but all day in Hamilton, perhaps, or a week in Toronto.

If all they did was wine and dine, he explained, I wouldn't object, but every woman who goes with her husband is under the impression that she can save money in buying Canadian goods. The amount of money spent in Canada by American women is tremendous.

DOG'S BARKING SAVES FAMILY

Father Snatches Baby to Safety as Carriage Commences to Burn.

HOME IS DESTROYED.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8 (C.P.).—The furious and almost pleading yelps of a little terrier probably saved the lives of A. G. Kelly and his family here early to-day.

Fire breaking out from an overheated stove in the kitchen roused the little dog, asleep at the foot of a baby carriage containing Mr. Kelly's eight-months-old son, and he scampered to his master's bedroom, barked loudly, scratched him on the neck with his paw and then repeated the performance several times before Mr. Kelly realized something out of the ordinary had occurred. He went to the kitchen just in time to clasp his hands over the baby's foot as the hungry flames commenced burning up the child's stocking. The carriage was all ablaze and Kelly had barely time to snatch the child in his arms and awaken his family before the entire structure was ablaze. It was completely destroyed and nothing was saved of its contents.

BESSBORO' TOURS HIS NEW DOMAIN

New Governor-General and Consort to be Guests of Premier Bennett at Dinner.

TABLES SET FOR SIXTY.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 8 (C.P.).—Their Excellencies the Earl of Bessborough and his consort will be the guests of Premier Bennett and his sister, Miss Mildred Bennett, at dinner this evening. All of the Privy Councillors now in the Capital, and their wives, will be present to meet the new Governor-General and the Countess. Tables will be set for sixty.

The Governor-General spent a part of Tuesday afternoon finding his land legs and, incidentally, having a first hand view of his home for the next five years. The journey of some 3,000 miles from the Old Country was completed yesterday at noon when Their Excellencies and family reached the Capital to be met with a spontaneous welcome. Soon after reaching Rideau Hall, the Earl enjoyed a long stroll around the spacious grounds surrounding the official residence. The sun beamed warmly as he walked vigorously about the grounds, and explored the various buildings.

Her Excellency, meanwhile, was enjoying a well-deserved rest. She appeared much refreshed when, with the Earl, she received the Provincial Premiers at tea in the late afternoon. In the evening the members of the Government House staff and their wives dined with Their Excellencies at a family party.

MEDAL AWARDED TO DR. C. CAMSELL

Deputy Minister of Mines Department Selected for Untiring Zeal and Ability.

SECOND CANADIAN HONORED

OTTAWA, Ont., April 8.—(C.P.)—A signal honor has been conferred on Dr. Charles Camsell, Deputy Minister of the Department of Mines. A cable from London yesterday announced that he had been awarded this year's gold medal by the British Institution of Mining and Metallurgy. One medal is awarded each year and is given to the person, without regard to nationality, whom the institution decided is the most deserving.

The cable stated Dr. Camsell had been selected in recognition of his untiring zeal and great ability in promoting the development of the natural resources of the Dominion and in furthering the general interests of the mining industry.

Dr. Camsell is the second Canadian to be given the medal, the late Dr. W. C. Miller having been similarly honored. Other gold medallists have included Sir Archibald Keikie and Sir Thomas Holland.

The gold medal is the premier award of the institution and was first presented in 1901.

TEAM RUNS AWAY EAST OF OMEMEE

Horses Driven by Charles Mills Are Frightened By Automobile.

CAR NEVER STOPPED.

EAST EMILY, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — while driving along the Lindsay highway about three miles east of Omemee yesterday forenoon, a team of horses driven by Charles Mills ran away when a car coming from behind them either struck the horses or came so close to them that they became frightened and jumped.

Mr. Mills was unable to ascertain the number of the car or what make of car it was as it proceeded on its way at a fast rate of speed and did not stop when the horses became frightened.

The pole of the truck broke, throwing Mr. Mills out on the road and trailing him for two lengths of the truck and the horses were badly cut when the truck ran up on them as they ran down Sherin's Hill. Ralph Curtis, coming west along the highway, saw the horses and turning his car around went back to head them off at the quarter line.

Mr. Mills suffered no serious injury, but the horses are very badly cut about the legs.

Suspect 3 Japanese Victims Of Murder

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 8.—Announcement by police that authority would be sought from the Attorney-General of British Columbia for the exhumation of bodies of three Japanese alleged to have died under suspicious circumstances, and who are believed to have been victims of a murder syndicate, is the latest new development in the case.

In connection with the death of Makichi Watanabe, found dead on March 3., police said that Tsuneo, charged with murder along with Shinkichi Sakurada and Shunkichi Sugino, had made a full confession of his part in the slaying, describing in detail how the victim had been taken for a walk, and how he had been attacked with an axe.

RAPID PROGRESS IN MEDICAL RESEARCH

Outstanding Accomplishments in Various Fields at McGill Reviewed by Dean C. F. Martin.

MONTREAL, April 8 (C.P.)—The vast amount of work that is being achieved yearly in the medical faculty of McGill University in the fields of teaching and research is shown in an article on the accomplishments of this school in the past year by Dean Charles E. Martin, published in a recent issue of the McGill News.

Among the outstanding achievements of the past year has been the work in biochemistry of Prof J. B. Collip in connection with sex physiology and sex hormones. His publications on the ovary-stimulating hormone of the placenta are widely known, as are the clinical observations of his associate, Dr. A. D. Campbell. But the subsequent discovery of an anterior pituitary hormone in the human placenta is a new feature.

In anatomy, the addition of Dr. J. Beattie as an extra professor on a full time basis has done much to stimulate research. The outstanding work has been his investigations on the spinal sympathetic centres in co-operation with Mrs. Brow and Long. A historical study of the machanism of digestive secretion has been carried on in that department.

To meet the special needs of the department of physiology, through the appointment of Professor Babkin as research professor of physiology, two independent laboratories have been created, the one under Prof. John Tait, the director and professor of physiology, and the other purely for research in charge of Prof. Babkin. Prof. Tait and Dr. McNally have studied the sense organs of the inner ear, dealing with equilibrium and other functions. Important conclusions have resulted with respect to oto-sclerosis, progressive deafness, and bone conduction of sound. Progressive deafness has also been studied in sound proof rooms by Dr. Dworkin and Dr. Sutherland, suggesting the existence of a special vibration center in the brain. Prof. Babkin and his research staff have been chiefly interested in the study of the digestive tract, its secretory and motor functions and mechanism.

Following upon a discovery by Prof. Oertel, several years ago, of the abundant distribution of nerve fibres in tumours, he and his staff are continuing these investigations.

The department of bacteriology, with the services of a new professor, E. G. D. Murray, of Cambridge, has undertaken new investigations of several kinds. Research has concerned the action of scillaren B., a new substance, with possibilities as a remedy in heart disease, and of a new anaesthetic (avertin), which in some respects is considered superior to other anaesthetics now in general use. Methods used in the search for new synthetic drugs are also being studied.

A great impetus to surgical research has been given within the last two years through the Rockfeller grant of $35,000 for experimental surgery.

Inquest Is Held Into Death Of James Beatty

COBOURG, April 8.—A verdict returned by a jury last night, inquiring into the death of James Beatty, war veteran, found that death was caused by injuries suffered by Beatty when he was knocked down by an unknown motorist. The accident occurred on the highway west of the town on March 30. The inquest under Coroner Dr. G. M. Ferris revealed no clue as to the identity of the motorist. Dr. F. P. Lloyd declared that Beatty had died from head injuries, and testified that he was subject to severe nervous spasms. Several witnesses told of seeing a car containing two men near the scene of the accident.

"A Toothpaste is not a curative," high dental authority proves

Promises to cure disorders of teeth and gums may cause great harm.

Many well known scientists recently experimented with several leading dentifrices. In their laboratories, they carefully analyzed each. In not a single instance did they discover properties likely to cure even slight dental ills.

Thus people are only fooling themselves when they attempt to doctor or cure by using a particular dentifrice instead of visiting the dentist.

But there exists a very important function which a dentifrice can and must successfully perform. That function is the mechanical cleansing of teeth.

Colgate's has never claimed to do more. However, it does claim to do this superlatively well, because of a unique feature (low "surface tension").

If you could watch the action of Colgate's by means of a microscope, as these scientists have done, you would see how deeply it penetrates. How it reaches the recesses of tiniest crevices. There the active bubbling foam dislodges harmful impurities and washes them away in a detergent wave of cleanliness. On dental advice, more people use Colgate's today than any other dentifrice.

"It tastes fine!" said BILLIE ● age 10 years

● Mothers! See how easy it is to get youngsters to take cod-liver oil now

Do your children hate plain cod-liver oil? Then read this—and find the end of your trouble.

Billie Balfour was very busy with a soccer ball when the Scott's Emulsion reporter snapped the above picture in front of this young man's home, 146 Douglas Drive, Rosedale, Toronto. We had learned from his mother, Mrs. C. E. Balfour, that Billie had no use at all for plain cod-liver oil. And just to see if her boy would take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil more willingly, she asked Billie to try some.

Billie swallowed a spoonful. He grinned. "Say, it tastes fine!"

Pleasanter to take—but that isn't all!

Pale, thin, run-down children need cod-liver oil. Give them the pleasantest form—Scott's Emulsion. Scott's Emulsion hasn't that strong "fishy" taste. It brings you purest, Norwegian cod-liver oil in a perfect emulsion. Easier to take—easier to digest. You get more good out of Scott's Emulsion and feel the benefits quicker.

Scott's Emulsion contains no alcohol. It is rich in vitamin A, the growth-promoting vitamin that helps guard against disease. Rich in vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin that prevents rickets. It contains minerals that help form sound bones and teeth. A special advantage for growing children, infants, nursing and expectant mothers.

Get Scott's Emulsion to-day. See youngsters gain new weight and vigor. At your nearest druggist, in large home size or small traveling size bottles. Sales Agents: Harold F. Ritchie & Company, Ltd., Toronto.

ROADS ARE OPEN FOR CAR TRAFFIC

Victoria County Engineer H. D. Wilford Reviews Road Situation.

PASSABLE BUT NOT GOOD.

LINDSAY, April 8.—According to County Engineer H. D. Wilford, most of the roads in the county road system in Victoria county are opened up and passable now for cars, although the frost, such as it is, has not come out yet. The roads to Fenelon and Bobcaygeon are both passable and the road between the two places can be gotten over. The Downeyville road and eastern roads are passable.

To the western part of the county the road to Little Britain is all right and the cars can get to Seagrave on the road from Manilla. The only part of the county system of which the engineer was not such to-day, was the stretch around Kirkfield in Eldon Township. He said that he had received no recent report on this part but thought that it, too, would be passable.

With regard to the paving to be done in the county this year—the six mile stretch from Fowler's Corners west to Omemee—part of the cost of which will be borne by the county, he said that the Jupp Construction Company who have the contract are already on the ground setting up their plant. It is thought that no actual paving will be done on this stretch until about the middle of May. The only other activity as far as the roads here are concerned is the receiving of tenders for the supply of the material for county road purposes, which closes on Friday, April 10th.

BELMONT COUNCIL FILLS VACANT POST

Robert Marshall Becomes Road Superintendent After Reeve Casts Deciding Vote.

HAVELOCK, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—A special session of Belmont Township Council was held on Monday at the Armstrong House for the purpose of appointing a Road Superintendent, to fill the vacancy caused by the dismissal of the former officer.

After a lengthy discussion of the merits of the several applicants, an open vote was taken and resulted as follows:—

Moved by C. F. Steenburg and R. H. Vansickle, that Harry Anderson be appointed.

Moved by Norris Whitney and Isaac Anderson that Robert Marshall be appointed.

This constituted a tie for the appointment, and Reeve Breckenridge cast the deciding vote in favor of Robert Marshall.

The rate of pay for the road superintendent was set at forty cents per hour.

The necessary by-law was drawn up and put through its several readings. The following is a list of the applicants for the position: Harry Barrons, Ross Hart, Walter Davis, Henry Whitney, J. F. Wiggins, Lameck McGowan, Arthur Coon, H. W. Brown, Douglas Young, Alvin Chard, Edward McCurdy, S. G. Quackenbush, Harry Anderson and Robert Marshall.

The newly appointed superintendent is a young man, and is considered to be a good choice for the position. He was present at the meeting and was instructed by the reeve as to what would be expected of him.

At a recent meeting, the reeve stressed the fact that whoever was appointed to look after the roads would have to work every hour for which he received pay. The rate of forty cents per hour is slightly lower than that received by the past superintendent.

The greatest single contribution made to the merchants of Peterborough city and county by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce has been the increase of the volume of tourist money left in the district, due in a great measure to consistent and intelligent publicity given the vicinity by the Chamber. Many merchants are members of the Chamber of Commerce and more will join. Do it now.

TWO TEACHERS

Mr. Kenner and Inspector Mowat, and be given power to act.

New Machine For Typists

Following on a recommendation from Mr. Kenner that a new Victrola be purchased for the typewriting classes—a machine that is indispensable for the teaching of rhythm. Mr. Dutton moved that the machine be purchased. He had investigated the matter and had located a machine, which could be obtained at a very reasonable cost, and one that would give years of service. The motion was seconded by Dr. Ray Scott.

New Telephones

Mr. Dutton also called to the attention of the Board the urgent need for two additional telephones in the school, one for the use of the domestic science teacher, who had to order supplies of groceries, and who is at present obliged to leave her class and go to the school office to use the phone, and the other for the academic department teachers. He moved that the instruments be installed. The motion was seconded by E. F. Reid.

Property Committee

The Property Committee reported that after further consideration of the matter of allowing the use of a room in King Edward School for Sunday School purposes, they recommended that the former decision of the Board be adhered to, and that the request be not granted.

It was further recommended that in future when a janitor is off duty on account of illness, he shall furnish a doctor's certificate, such certificate to state how long, in his opinion, the janitor is likely to be absent."

Dr. Moir, chairman of the Supervisory Committee, introduced the question of admitting pupils who fail in some comparatively unimportant subject, at the Entrance exams. Inspector Mowat's suggestion, stated Dr. Moir, is that all students of 16 years of age who get over 400 marks at the entrance examinations should be admitted to the Vocational School. The entrance certificate in such cases would be endorsed with writing across the face of it to the effect that the student had been admitted in accordance with Section "so-and-so."

It was decided that the question be left to a joint conference consisting of Mr. Kenner, Mr. Moon, Inspector Mowat and the Advisory Vocational and Supervisory Committees.

On the motion of Mr. Reid seconded by Dr. Moir, M. H. Park was appointed to the Entrance Board.

At the conclusion Mrs. W. R. Morris, chairman of the Board gave a lengthy resume of her attendance at the recent Convention in Windsor, and discussed the Rotary School System as it obtains in that city.

CUNARD LINER RUNS AGROUND

Six Tugs Required to Refloat Berengaria, Stuck Fast Off Spithead.

BLINDED BY FOG.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Apr. 8. — (AP)—The giant Cunard liner Berengaria was anchored in a dense fog off Nab Tower, at the entrance of the Spithead today, after spending 13 hours aground nearby during the night.

Blinded by a heavy fog the liner went aground early in the evening as it proceeded from Cherbourg. There was a jar and a heavy crunching sound, and then the vessel shivered as its engines were thrown in reverse to try to refloat it.

These efforts were continued for about two hours, but in vain. Four tugs went out from Southampton but their efforts were futile until reinforced by two others and a rising tide at 3 a.m. today when the ship, once the German Imperator, was refloated. The fog was still too dense to proceed and the ship anchored nearby.

All but 75 of the liner's passengers were removed by tender shortly after the accident and taken to Southampton. Others remained aboard, electing to spend the night on the ship rather than risk the trip by small boat into port.

It was believed that the Berengaria which left New York, March 31 was enroute here from Cherbourg in completion of its voyage, would have to go into drydock for repairs, although she received only minor injuries in the mishap.

The Berengaria, which was part of Great Britain's wartime spoils from Germany is commanded by E. T. Britton.

TOUR PLANNED BY DOUMERGUE

French President Starts Tonight on Last Official Voyage of 7 Year Term.

WILL VISIT TUNISIA.

PARIS, Apr. 8.—(AP)—President Gaston Doumergue leaves Paris tonight on the last long official voyage of his seven-year term. It will take him to Tunisia, rounding out the series of colonial visits he made last year to Algeria and Morocco.

The chief executive, who is a good, sturdy traveler despite his nearly 68 years, will be received by the municipality of Nice upon his arrival tomorrow. He will embark on a warship from Ville France, in the early evening, saluted by salvos of 21 guns from the naval units in the harbor and from the shore batteries.

A brief visit to the Island of Corsica, on the homeward voyage, is tentatively on the presidential program, and ardently desired by loyal Corsicans anxious to combat the Italian irrdentist propaganda in that island.

CALLS BLUENOSE A FREAK VESSEL

Captain Ben Pine, Doughty Gloucester Skipper, Adds Her Equal Will Never be Built.

HALIFAX, N.S. April 1 (By The Canadian Press)—"If you ask me, the Bluenose is a freak vessel. They'll never build another like her." Thus were the sailing qualities of the famous fisherman-racer summed up by Captain Ben Pine, who was at the wheel of the Gertrude L. Thebaud during part of the series in which the Thebaud defeated the Lunenburg schooner off Gloucester last fall. He is now in Halifax superintending repairs to the Squanto.

"And Captain Angus Walters is the man who can sail her." Here the voice raised itself in the tones trained on the quarter deck and he glared around as if he dared anyone to contradict this eulogy of the skipper from whom he had more than once tasted defeat.

Naturally enough the talk turned to the last racing series which was between the Bluenose and the Gertrude L. Thebaud. "Captain Walters made a mistake, but it was not near as big as some I have made—and he can't be held to blame for that." Of this Captain Pine certainly should know, and as he stoically puts it: "There is more luck attached to racing than enough."

Here is what he had to say about the races. "They brought the best crew to Gloucester I ever saw. We went arm and arm to various functions and you can't beat that for two rival fishing schooner crews."

Here a broad grin passed over his weather-tanned face. "And I could remember times when it would have been a running fight.

"What does age mean to a vessel like the Bluenose? She gets better and better like a rare old wine."

Here he stopped to compare her with the whaleboats they used to race in during the good old days. "We used to grip them by the sides and shake to limber them up, and by jolly, they used to slide through the water after." This, of course, was in answer to some claims that the Bluenose was strained and had weakened herself when she was stranded on the Newfoundland Coast last year.

"Why the Columbia went ashore and knocked her keel out. Another skipper put her ashore again on the opposite tack and near straightened it out again."

"My vessel used nearly always have her keel clipped as I always used to like to go too near the rock is Gloucester."

Of course Captain Pine is glad that the Thebaud won. "But if she had not," Captain Pine raised his voice to impress, "We sure would have built another to take her place as challenger."

Captain Pine believes that the International Series will be renewed this fall and looks forward to the races with keen delight.

THE MISTAKE OF A FAMOUS DOCTOR

Dr. Robert G. Jackson's paternal grandfather, father and eleven paternal uncles and aunts, and his own brother and sister, all died of heart disease. At 50 the great Sir Wm. Osler gave the doctor himself only four months to live, dying from heart disease and "general breakdown." He'd lived five years on the ground floor, unable to climb stairs. Four years after Osler gave him up he climbed the fifty storeys in Washington's Monument, up and down, and was not even tired. All a result of changed living habits—chiefly a change from civilization's disease-causing acid foods to alkali-forming Roman Meal. His 438-page book, "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL," tells the entire story—shows how anyone may be always well, by natural means. Remit $3.00 by P.O. order for a copy, or write for descriptive literature, to ROBT. G JACKSON, M.D., 502 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont., or write for his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and sample of Roman Meal and the new alkaline beverage, "Kofy-sub."

Your financial and moral support is needed that Peterborough may keep pace and be assured of a just share of prosperity in the future. The logical medium through which to work for civic development is the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

OBITUARY

PHILIP ELMHIRST.

HASTINGS, April 8.— (Examiner Correspondence.) — Word was received in Hastings on Tuesday of the death of Philip Elmhirst in Toronto on Monday, in his 74th year. The deceased was a former resident of Hastings.

The funeral will leave the residence of David Walsh, lot 5, con. 6, Asphodel, at 9.00 a.m. on Thursday, April 9th and proceed to the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, where Requiem High Mass will be sung by Rev. Father P. J. Kelley. Interment will take place in the R. C. cemetery, Hastings.

MRS. THOMAS WILLIAMSON

HASTINGS, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—The death of Mrs. Thomas Williamson occurred on Monday, March 30th, after a long and patient illness.

For a number of years she lived in Alnwick Township, coming to Percy some ten years ago, where she made for herself many friends, by her kindly disposition and loving manner.

She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her husband, three daughters, Mrs. J. Mouncey of Fenella, Mrs. Barton Thackeray of Roseneath, and Mildred of Fenella, also three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. W. Richardson, Mr. James McVity, Mr. William McVity and Miss Annie McVity of Warkworth and Mrs. E. Scott of Toronto.

The funeral, which was conducted by Rev. Mr. Battersby, was held on Wednesday afternoon to Merrill's Cemetery and was largely attended, showing the high esteem in which deceased was held by all who knew her.

When it became known recently that a "detector" was being used to find unlicensed radio sets in Leeds, England, there were 1,000 applications for licenses in three days.

FIVE-YEAR PLAN IN GARDEN FAILS

Man Sows Elixir in Form of Ginseng and Reaps Poison Lobwort.

MONTREAL, April 8 (C.P.)—Thaw and hopeful weather had the unusual effect of dashing the hopes of a man who went into the stenographers' department of the criminal courts a short time ago to find out if, on the dismal failure of his five-year gardening plan, he was not actually a criminal.

An Outremont resident, the visitor, who gave his name as Kenny, said he had spent five years raising a crop of ginseng, only to find out with the thaw that the revealed strong young shoots that the cinque-foliate plant he had been cossetting was something very different in genus and species from the valuable plant that Orientals buy at fabulous prices because of its supposed semi-miraculous powers as an elixir.

To the stenographers, who obligingly ransacked their fund of reference books, encyclopedias and statute volumes for his information Kenny confided that five years ago about this time of the year he found in a package of lichee nuts a curious slip of a plant that he immediately identified as ginseng. He planted it under a bell jar and watched with daily pride as the dessicated leaves filled out and new ones budded.

"This morning" Kenny told the sympathetic group, "I found the snow in the garden nearly all melted, and the ginseng where I had set it was sprouting forth in great style. It seemed to have spread all over the place like a strawberry plant.

"I pulled a plant up, and the root was bifurcate. Then I took it to a herbalist on Ontario street to get an estimate of its value. I have read that the wild ginseng of Korea fetches twenty times its weight in silver.

The visitor paused in a ray of spring sunshine to mop his brow.

"Well?" someone asked.

"He said," came the measured reply, "that it was not ginseng but lobwort or catbane."

In a plaintive voice, Kenny said that according to the herbalist the plant was an insidious poison and subject to very strict prohibitary laws throughout the North American continent. One state, he thought it was Kansas, had suffered so much loss when herds of cattle ate the exotic weed and died, that they had had placed a heavy penalty on its importation or even possession, except under a special experimental permit.

"That's why I am here" Kenny said, "Am I a criminal or not?"

Willing hands rifled the federal and provincial statues.

Up to the time of Kenny's leaving in a great state of perturbation no such reference had been found.

THE GROWTH OF LIFE INSURANCE.

It is not surprising to find that despite economic conditions the volume of life insurance in force in Canada is constantly increasing.

The modern conception of life insurance differs widely from the views held by most people a decade or so ago, and the insurance salesman of to-day is sure of a much more cordial reception than his predecessors could count upon when calling upon a prospect.

Nowadays people have learned to look upon life insurance as a desirable investment, and as an efficient and effective method of saving money.

The old saying, "You have to die to beat the game," has lost its meaning, if it ever had any—the public knows that carrying as much life insurance as can be carried without undue strain upon the family exchequer is a sound policy that every sensible person endorses.

Credit for this changed viewpoint should, in part at least, be given the insurance sales forces of to-day, who are trained not merely to sell life insurance but also to study the requirements of the customer and to provide him with the policy that will be of the most service to him—something that many agents of yesteryear failed to include in their calculations.

The growth of the life insurance business is one of the outstanding developments of recent years, and is making a powerful contribution to human happiness.

ACTION IS REQUIRED.

When the Supreme Court of Alberta ruled the other day that the Security Frauds Prevention Act of that Province was invalid the decision threw a monkey-wrench into the machinery set up by the Provinces of Canada to protect investors from exploitation.

The Alberta act is similar to that of Ontario and other Provinces, and the effect of the Alberta judgment is to make all this provincial legislation useless.

It is a matter that requires immediate attention from the Federal Parliament.

As the Globe points out, "There never was a time in the history of Canada when machinery was as necessary as now to guard the public against sharp-selling swindlers or to punish those guilty of perpetrating such swindles in the past."

So far as the efforts of legislators can do it, the public should be protected against fraudulent stock-selling schemes, and it matters not to the people whether the power to deal with the situation is held by the federal or the provincial administrations.

The main thing is that the protection shall be provided and that the present situation, which would seem to leave the public at the mercy of high-pressure salesmen of doubtful stocks, shall be cleaned up as quickly as possible.

The present conference between the Dominion Government and representatives of the Provinces should deal with this most important matter.

THE WASHINGTON APPOINTMENT.

There may be a difference of opinion as to whether Premier Bennett was justified in appointing as the Canadian representative at Washington a gentleman who is about to become his brother-in-law, but surely there is no necessity of referring to that appointment as a desire on the part of the Premier to "have his family fed at the public trough."

From a monetary viewpoint, handing anybody a job of that nature is equivalent to presenting him with a gold brick.

Representing Canada at Washington is anything but a profitable berth for the man called upon to accept the responsibilities of the office.

It is a position that makes heavy demands upon the bank account, demands that the salary paid does not begin to meet.

The scale at which the Dominion's representative is expected to live, the amount of entertaining he is called upon to do make it essential that he should have ample private funds and be ready and willing to dip deeply into them on occasion.

Possibly it might have looked better had Mr. Bennett let somebody else pay for the prestige that goes with the Washington appointment, but at all events in assigning the appointment to a prospective member of his own family he cannot logically be accused of enriching his brother-in-law.

"Feeding at the public trough," in the case of positions of this nature, is an expensive operation—for the man who does the feeding.

RURAL POWER LOANS.

Legislation passed by the Ontario Legislature to provide for the granting of financial aid toward the installation of electrical works in rural power districts does not seem to be well known to many farmers.

It should be understood that any rural consumer who has signed a contract for a supply of Hydro power and who is the owner of the premises which he is occupying may make application for such a loan which shall not be in excess of $1,000 to any one owner and shall be repayable within a period of twenty years.

Under the regulations a loan may be granted for the following purposes:

(a) The erection of service line from roadway to the meter located on the farmer's premises;
(b) Wiring of dwelling;
(c) Wiring of barn;
(d) Wiring of other buildings;
(e) Purchase and installation of utility motor;
(f) Purchase and installation of grain grinder;
(g) Purchase and installation of pumping equipment;
(h) Purchase and installation of milking machine;
(i) Purchase and installation of electric washing machine;
(j) Any other works and appliances within the purposes set out in the act as the commission may from time to time determine.

When a consumer desires to make application for a loan the procedure may be briefly described as follows:

The applicant makes enquiries from the local representative of the commission and receives a preliminary application form. On this form is to be indicated the amount of wiring, if any, which is to be done, with an estimate of its cost, also an estimate of the cost installed of any equipment which the applicant desires to purchase. On the form is also to be shown all the encumbrances against the applicant or property, whether registered or not. After the preliminary application for loan has been approved by the commission, the applicant is notified of such approval.

If requested by the applicant, the field representative of the commission will assist the applicant as far as possible in securing prices for wiring and for electrical equipment. In order to facilitate this work a wiring specification form is available upon which the commission representative can make a wiring lay-out of the premises for submission by the applicant to wiring contractors for tender. Upon request, also, the commission representative will give the applicant information as to the type of equipment suited for his requirements. The applicant himself makes the contracts for wiring and for the purchase of equipment authorized in the application. When the wiring has been done and the equipment purchased and installed, the commission representative will make a final inspection thereof and secure from the applicant copies of the paid bills indicating that everything has been properly installed and paid for. These paid bills will be submitted to head office along with the final certificate of the representative. If all the requirements of the act and the regulations are complied with a loan corresponding to the amount in the final certificate will be made to the applicant.

THE FUTURE IS DULL.

Living on a dole may prevent starvation; it probably does. But that sort of existence is hardly living in all that the word means. There is in every normal person that urge to do something, to be employed at a useful occupation. That angle of the dole question is given interesting treatment by Negley Farson, a staff writer of the Chicago News, who has been making a visit to Wales.

Mr. Farson says there are many in Wales, many of them, who have been used to working; they had done it for years, and it had become an inseparable part of their existence. To be reduced to the point where they had no work to do was intolerable to them, although the dole kept them from starving. He found one place where a Quaker organization had started a series of little gardens in the scraggly soil, and there the miners had built a club house, too, the whole thing being done with the idea of helping these men put in the time and get their minds off themselves.

That is an angle of the dole and unemployment situation of which we have not heard much, and yet it is as real as can be. Idleness that runs like an unbroken thread day after day is not easy to endure. The Welsh folk are industrious; they do not court freedom from work, and yet they can't work because there is nothing to do.

* * * *

The case of one miner in the town of Trealaw was typical of many others. His experience was this: He had been out of work for four years; with a wife and two children he was drawing unemployment insurance to the amount of $7.50 per week. Two dollars and 12 cents went for house rent, "and there thrippence we pay for each of us to bury us with"—funeral insurance. That leaves a little better than $5 per week to feed, clothe and keep four people, just about $1.25 each.

This man gave a few details of the method of living, explaining that his wife got a joint on Sunday—not a real joint, but a pound of pieces—and that keeps them going for several days. He had not bought a suit of clothes for four years, and the Lord Mayor's fund, now fast dwindling, was looked to for shoes for the children. (This is the fund to which people in this district subscribed so freely when it was opened by the Beacon-Herald several years ago.)

"When a tea cup breaks in the house it can't be replaced," was another explanation of conditions in his home.

This man has gone through four years of this, and we imagine one would want to know if he saw anything better on ahead.

The miner thought that over too and his answer was that he did not see anything better coming. He is a man of 37, just about in his prime, but he is convinced that his hands are tied. He can't go away, because if he does he could not support his wife and children. Were he to go elsewhere his chances for work are no better than they are in Trealaw, and the $7.50 per week is the one thing on which he can count.

Even more intimate was the admission of this miner that nearly every day the family stayed in bed late in the mornings so they would not feel the need of three meals a day; in that way they can get along on two, although the children do feel rather hungry at times.

* * * *

Mr. Farson also visited in Tonypandy, and the first place he called was at the home of another miner who had a chance to work at some distance from home. His wife was proud of him. She gave expression to her pride in these words: "There's not a lazy bone in my man's body, mind you. Every morning he walks over the mountain and every evening he walks back. He's a hero, that's what he is. Three miles each way, rain or shine, and he does it because he can't afford to pay bus fare. Last year when the ice was here he had to start before 5 in the morning and go a good distance on his hands and knees, but he never missed."

The next place of call was at the home adoining. Here there was a man and wife and a child. The man was 36, but he had not worked for two years. The family lived in the kitchen because they could not afford to keep the house warm. There was that same note of something approaching despair here. The man said there was no future for him; there would not be another chance to work.

These homes, we read, were at the end of a little row of white-painted shops with empty windows, indicative of the failure that had fallen upon those who used to do business in Tonypandy when the miners were working.

We have often heard the phrase in our own community from men in unfortunate circumstances, "We don't want charity—we prefer a chance to work." That feeling is universal. It is in existence in Wales, and yet the prospect of it becoming an actuality is a dulled thing. —Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Now that a Governor-General is on the job, Ottawa folks doubtless feel that the world is normal again.

Premier Taschereau says he hopes the Opposition will make some gains in the coming provincial election. And Mr. Houde will probably reply that the Premier is going to get his wish.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

From corners where they had been hiding came the balance of the ship's company and when they saw Bohar's boat and the seemingly relative safety of the crew, they clamored for escape by the other boats. With the idea once implanted in their minds there followed a mad panic as the half-brutes fought for places in the remaining boats.

"Come," cried Stellara. "We must hurry or they will go without us." She started to move toward the companionway, but Tanar restrained her.

"Look at them," he said. "We are safer at the mercy of the sea and the storm."

Stellara shrank back close to him. She saw men knifing one another, those behind knifing those ahead. Men dragging others from the boats and killing them on deck or being killed. She saw The Cid pistol a seaman in the back and leap to his place in the first boat to be lowered. She saw men leaping from the rail in a mad effort to reach this boat and falling into the sea, or being thrown in if they succeeded in boarding the tossing shell.

She saw the other boats being lowered and men crushed between them and the ship's aside—she saw the depths to which fear can plunge the braggart and the bully as the last of the ship's company, failing to win places in the last boat, deliberately leaped into the sea and were drowned.

Standing there upon the high poop of the rolling derelict, Tanar and Stellara watched the frantic efforts of the oarsmen in the overcrowded small boats. They saw one boat foul another and both founder. They watched the drowning men battling the survival. They heard their hoarse oaths and their screams above the roaring of the sea and the shriek of the wind as the storm returned as though fearing that some might escape its fury.

"We are alone," said Stellara. "They have all gone."

"Let them go," replied Tanar. "I would not exchange places with them."

"But there can be no hope for us," said the girl.

"There is no more for them," replied the Sarian, "and at least we are not crowded into a small boat filled with cutthroats."

"You are more afraid of the men than you are of the sea," she said.

"For you, yes," he replied.

"Why should you fear for me?" she demanded. "I'm I not also your enemy?"

He turned his eyes quickly upon her and they were filled with surprise. "That is so," he said; "but, somehow, I had forgotten it—you do not seem like an enemy, as the others do. You do not seem like one of them, even."

Clinging to the rail and supporting the girl upon the lurching deck, Tanar's lips were close to Stellara's ear as he sought to make himself heard above the storm.

A sea struck the staggering ship throwing Tanar forward so that his cheek touched the cheek of the girl and as she turned her head his lips brushed hers. Each realized that it was an accident, but the effect was none the less surprising. Tanar, for the first time, felt the girl's body against his and consciousness of contact must have been reflected in his eyes for Stellara shrank back and there was an expression of fear in hers.

Tanar saw the fear in the eyes of an enemy, but it gave him no pleasure. He tried to think only of the treatment that would have been accorded a woman of his tribe had one been at the mercy of the Korsars, but that, too, failed to satisfy him as it only could if he were to admit that he was of the same ignoble clay as the men of Korsar.

But whatever thoughts were troubling the minds of Stellara and Tanar were temporarily submerged by the grim tragedy of the succeeding few moments as another tremendous sea, the most gigantic that had yet assailed the broken ship, hurled its countless tons upon her shivering deck.

To Tanar it seemed, indeed, that this must mark the end since it was inconceivable that the unmanageable hulk could rise again from the smother of water surged completely over her almost to the very highest deck of the towering poop, where the two clung against the tearing wind and the frightful pitching of the derelict.

But, as the sea rolled on, the ship slowly, sluggishly struggled to the surface like an exhausted swimmer who, drowning, struggles weakly against the inevitability of fate and battles upward for one last gasp of air that will, at best, prolong the agony of death.

As the main deck slowly emerged from the receding waters, Tanar was horrified by the discovery that the forward hatch had been stove in. That the ship must have taken in considerable water, and that each succeeding wave that broke over it would add to the quantity, affected the Sarian less than knowledge that it was beneath this hatch that his fellow prisoners were confined.

Through the black menace of his almost hopeless situation had shone a single bright ray of hope that, should the ship weather the storm, there would be aboard her a score of his fellow Pellucidarians and that together they might find the means to rig a makeshift sail and work their way back to the mainland from which they had embarked; but with the gaping hatch and the almost certain conclusion to be drawn from it he realized that it would, indeed, be a miracle if there remained alive aboard the derelict any other than Stellara and himself.

The girl was looking down at the havoc wrought below and now she turned her face toward his.

"They must all be drowned," she said, "and they were your people. I am sorry."

"Perhaps they would have chosen it in preference to what might have awaited them in Korsar," he said.

"And they have been released only a little sooner than we shall be," she continued. "Do you notice how low the ship rides now and how sluggish she is? The hold must be half filled with water—another such sea as the last one will founder her."

For some time they stood in silence, each with his own thoughts. The hulk rolled in the trough and momentarily it seemed that she might not roll back in time to avert the disaster of the next menacing comber, yet each time she staggered drunkenly to oppose a high side to the hungry waters.

"I believe the storm has spent itself," said Tanar.

"The wind has died and there has been no sea like the greak one that stove in the forward hatch," said Stellara, hopefully.

The noonday sun broke from behind the black cloud that had shrouded it and the sea burst into a blaze of blue and silver beauty. The storm had passed. The seas diminished. The derelict rolled heavily upon the great swells, low in the water, but temporarily relieved of the menace of immediate disaster.

Tanar descended the companionway to the lower deck and approached the forward hatch. A single glance below revealed only what he could have anticipated—floating corpses rolling with the roll of the derelict. All below were dead. With a sigh he turned away and returned to the upper deck.

The girl did not even question him for she could read in his demeanor the story of what his eyes had beheld.

"You and I are the only living creatures that remain aboard," he said.

She waved a hand in a broad gesture that took in the sea about them. "Doubtless, we alone of the entire ship's company have survived," she said. "I see no other ship nor any of the small boats."

Tanar strained his eyes in all directions. "Nor I," said he; "but perhaps some of them have escaped."

She shook her head. "I doubt it."

"Yours has been a heavy loss," sympathized the Sarian. "Beside so many of your people, you have lost your father and your mother."

Stellara looked up quickly into his eyes. "They were not my people," she said.

"What?" exclaimed Tanar, "They were not your people? But your father, The Cid, was Chief of the Korsars."

"He was not my father," replied the girl.

"And the woman was not your mother?"

"May the gods forbid!" she exclaimed. "But The Cid! He treated you like a daughter."

"He thought I was his daughter, but I am not."

"I do not understand," said Tanar; "yet I am glad that you are not. I could not understand how you, who are so different from them, could be a Korsar."

"My mother was a native of the island of Amiocap and there The Cid, raiding for women, seized her. She told me about it many times before she died.

"Her mate was absent upon a great tandor hunt and she never saw him again. When I was born The Cid thought that I was his daughter, but my mother knew better for I bore upon my left shoulder a small, red birthmark identical with one upon the left shoulder of the mate from whom she had been stolen—my father.

"My mother never told The Cid the truth, for fear that he would kill me in accordance with the custom the Korsars follow of destroying the children of their captives if a Korsar is not the father."

"And the woman who was with you on board was not your mother?"

"No, she was The Cid's mate, but not my mother, who is dead."

Tanar felt a distinct sense of relief that Stellara was not a Korsar, but why this should be so he did not know, nor, perhaps, did he attempt to analyze his feelings.

"I am glad," he said again.

"But why?" she asked.

"Now we do not have to be enemies," he replied.

"Were we before?"

He hesitated and then he laughed. "I was not your enemy," he said, "but you reminded me that you were mine."

"It has been the habit of a lifetime to think of myself as a Korsar," exclaimed Stellara, "although I knew that I was not. I felt no enmity toward you."

"Whatever we may have been we must of necessity be friends now," he told her.

"That will depend upon you," she replied.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES"

If April 8th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:15 a.m. to 9:45 a.m., from 11 a.m. to noon, from 3 p.m. to 4:15 p.m., and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. The only danger period is from 5 p.m. to 7:10 p.m.

April 8th promises, according to astrological indications, to be stimulating and energizing. An opportunity will present itself, which it will require courage to embrace, but, if seized, will give ultimate success. In the evening, the signs are favorable for lovers—but not for those of faint heart.

Children born on this April 8th will be original, courageous and rather reserved. They will not be very susceptible to control, but they will be reliable—if put on their honor. In maturer years, they will venture much—never foolishly—and reap a reward commensurate with their efforts.

If you were born on April 8th, you are matter-of-fact and phlegmatic. You never puzzle over conditions. You accept them. Romance does not affect your life, nor touch it. You are capable of a sturdy affection, but never the victim of passion. Your temperament is easy-going. Once aroused, however, you let yourself go—as freely and as forcibly as the rest of them. You are not ordinarily emotional, but are very natural. Your naturalness is one of your attractions, and pleases rather than antagonizes.

You, always courteous, never attempt to ingratiate by insincerity or flattery. You call a spade a spade—and let it go at that. Slow to take offence, you are equally slow to forgive an effront or an injury. You are not ambitious, and the philosophy of "sufficient unto the day" seems to satisfy you. In your work, you display conscientiousness, application and perseverance. When the day's work is finished, you forget it. You live in the present, and give little thought of the future. Your horoscope denotes a lack of change and a monotony that would displease many, but will suit you. A contented life, although lacking in thrills; moderate, but not spectacular success is in store for you.

ANDERSON COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

TORONTO, Ont., April 8 (C.P.)—Lorne Anderson, arrested in Ottawa some weeks ago, was committed for trial on charges of shooting with intent to kill when he appeared before Magistrate Jones in Police Court today.

Anderson is alleged to have fired the shot which struck Detective Shields in the mouth when the officer was about to arrest the accused and two other youths who entered a Grace street house. The two other youths, who were arrested by Detective Shields, are now serving seven-year prison terms for their part in the robbery.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Sir,—Permit me to say that I cannot find your usual sound logical reasoning when your editorials deal with the liquor question.

You admit that the Secretary of the Ontario Temperance Union is probably right in his statement that the Dominion liquor bill for the past year is about $200,000,000. You say that the remedy is not in prohibition and that the only cure is to educate the people as to the evil of the liquor traffic.

Has The Examiner observed that the educated class are more abstemious than their less fortunate neighbors? The writer cannot understand how education will make a temperate people in a generation. Certainly not under the L.C.A. where the Government provides every facility for the supplying of liquor for beverage purposes. If we are to have a temperate people the Dominion should have absolute control and prevent manufacture, importation and sale.

At present the brewer and distiller are guaranteed a ready sale by the Government acting as vendor and providing liquor stores for the sale of the product. Can anyone say that the brewer and distiller are an economic asset? The customs probe by the Hon. Stevens proved that they are an economic blight and that they should be denied the right to manufacture.

Yours sincerely,
J. F. Lillicrap.

MAPLE SYRUP

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear sir:

Wishing to thank you in advance for a very limited space in your valuable paper inasmuch as to convey to the apparently misled public certain facts known to be in keeping with the better interests and protection of the producers of the above mentioned.

I sincerely desire, if permitted, to call your attention to the fact that within the issue of The Examiner of March 26, there appeared through one of your correspondents an article pertaining to maple syrup and its production.

The issue has been the outcome of considerable discord among the producers who vigorously protest the appearance of such incorrect and misleading remarks as being conveyed to public observation. There has been no objection to the historical part of such industry but when your correspondent takes it upon himself to inform the public that it takes about four or five gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup, or one pound of sugar, would it therefore not seem inevitable that the writer at the most was merely conveying to the public his very limited knowledge of the subject in question.

It may be that your correspondent possesses a certain weakness for adulterated syrup, about one-seventh normal. But his advocation may not be of sufficient weight to attract an especially large following. Should he prove to be an admirer of standard syrup and by chance get hoodwinked with a quality in keeping with his quotations, then the first thing he would look for would be the law.

In brief, anyone who knows anything about making maple syrup can sight the above as being only a bundle of bunk, but to the inexperienced they are confronted with the idea that a modern sugarbush is a perpetual goldmine and the consumer is charged fabulous prices for such luxury.

Personally speaking, backed up by seventeen years' experience with an average of fifty gallons per year, never have I been able to put up one gallon of standard syrup with less than thirty-two to thirty-five gallons of sap. Lastly, we feel that The Examiner, who has the right, should for the protection of the producer, strictly bar the furtherance of such misleading articles and particularly in view of its past and long enjoyed authenticity.

Thanking you again for the space, I am,

Yours sincerely,
SUBSCRIBER.

THE POLITICAL RACKETEER

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Sir,—A very large majority of people tell me that they are much indebted to me for my discussion of public affairs. A few are irritated by them. They do not understand the magazine world of public discussion but want to be let alone to enjoy their kill without being interfered with. "The Outlook" calls these people "political racketeers." A party wagon must have a dog under it or else who would do the barking to protect the wagon.

Mr. Ferguson's wonderful handling of Russia and the grain conference which the U.S. now proposes to follow was the only way to get us out of the mess into which Mr. Bennett had got us by his boycott.

However, Mr. Bennett could announce the engagement of his sister to the gentleman he very recently appointed to Washington to the disappointment and sneers of those who remember how Sir John A. Macdonald and other prime ministers had said that "feeding the family at the public trough" might be a very natural desire but it was a very contemptible one at any rate for a prime minister.

Mr. Herridge used to be a Liberal but, probably found that the Conservatives were more "Liberal" under certain conditions, at any rate. Now let everybody get his family's feet in the trough. The fashion has been set.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

BRAZILIAN BONDS STAGE RECOVERY

List Prices Given Substantial Boosts as Stocks Brought to Retire Short Contracts.

U. P. AT NEW LOW.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 8.—(Cp)—The crowded bear following found elbow room at a premium in to-day's stock market and share prices were given a substantial boost as stock was bought to retire short contract.

On the whole, the midwell business statistics seemed to be less gloomy than the bearishly inclined had expected. A moderate recovery in Brazilian bonds was an encouraging development in that quarter. Trading in stocks was in light volume, however, and the upward trend was temporarily reversed for a time in the morning.

Such prominent issues as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Electric Power and Light, Public Service of N.J., North American, and American Smelting, moved up about 2 points. The last named was influenced by ordering of the regular dividend. Such issues as Allied Chemical, Johns Manville, Eas man, Worthington and Case pushed up about 2 to 3 points, and Auburn again fluctuated erratically,getting up more than 20 points to a new peak price since 1929. Fox Film was heavy for a time in the morning, selling off more than 4 points before recoverings. Union Pacific dropped about 3 to a new low for the year as did Texas Gulf Sulphur.

FORD PROFITS DECREASE.

BOSTON, Mass., April 8.—The annual statement of Ford Motor Co., filed with the Massachusetts Commissioner of Corporations, indicated net profit for 1930 of $44,460,823, compared with $81,797,861 in the preceding year.

ACTION STARTED TO BLOCK SALE

Durant Motors Going to Have Trouble With Michigan Firm.

SEEKING INJUNCTION

TORONTO, April 8—Seeking to restrain the proposed sale of the assets of the Durant Motors of Canada Ltd. to a company to be known as Dominion Motors Ltd., Durant Motors Incorporated of Lansing, Mich., filed suit at Osgoode Hall yesterday against Durant Motors of Canada Ltd. and the York Acceptance Corporation, the first of Leaside, the second of Toronto.

Against the first defendant the plaintiff seeks a declaration that an agreement between them, dated November 17, 1921, is in force still, and asks for an injunction restraining the York Acceptance Corp. from ratifying or approving the proposed sale of the assets of the Durant Motors of Canada Ltd., to Dominion Motors Ltd.

The action seeks to prohibit the defendant company from "doing any act or thing inconsistent with the provisions of an agreement between plaintiff and the Durant Motors of Canada Ltd."

Against the Acceptance Corp. the plaintiffs ask for a declaration that a promissory note made by them to the corporation on October 30, 1930, for the sum of $1,250,000, and interest, has been fully paid. An order that the note be cancelled and delivered up, is asked together with an interim injunction.

SOFTER TONE BASE METALS

Reduced Trading Volume and Listless Price Action Marks Standard Session.

GOLD IRREGULAR.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8.—(CP)—Reduced trading volume and listless price action marked the foreign session on the mining market to-day. Softening base metal prices were reflected in uncertainty in the metal stocks, while golds developed irregularity.

Wright-Hargreaves encountered selling at the opening, price dropping to a low of $2.75 but rallying to around last night's close. Granada, control of which is reported to have passed to American interests, was up a few cents at $ .15 and Hollinger firmed 5. Teck-Hughes, whose regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents was declared payable May 1, eased 5 to $6.45. Macassa was active and a couple higher, while Kirkland Lake gold lost 2 to 87. United Kirkland Murphy and Tashota wer strong spots in the cheaper golds.

Noranda moved up another 35 to $26.25 and International Nickel was unchanged at $17. Homestead, off 10 to $1.05, and Nordon, down 3 to 45, showed the only changes in a quiet oil section.

Over 1,000 Dividend Omissions In 3 Months

NEW YORK, April 8. — The first quarter of 1931 did not measure up to the corresponding period of 1930 in major industries of this country, but it did show a marked improvement over the last quarter of 1930, and indication of further improvement in many lines encourage those who predict rapid recovery from the business depression.

Accompanying poor quarterly reports in many instances are dividend reductions or eliminations. So far this year hundreds of companies have discontinued dividends. The number for the past year is appalling. Millions of dollars invested in the country's industries are not earning a penny for the investors.

Can. Westinghouse Earns $5.32 Per Share

TORONTO, April 8. — A very satisfactory financial statement was presented at the annual general meeting of shareholders of the Canadin Westinghouse Company, Limited, at Hamilton yesterday. In common with most industrial companies earnings for the year ended December 31, 1930, fell somewhat short of the peak year of 1929, but compare quite favorably with preceding years. Net after all charges was equal to $5.32 per share, against $6.30 in 1929. One of the most striking features of the report is the excellent liquid position of the company at the end of the fiscal year, with net working capital showing a substantial improvement and the ratio of current assets to liabilities better than 7 to 1 and cash on hand up $1,900,000, and investment in bonds, etc., higher by over $1,000,000.

STRUCK BY ROCK, WORKMAN DIES.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 8 (C.P.).—Henry Richards, 50, of West Saint John, was almost instantly killed today when he was struck by a large rock in the sling of a crane while he was working at Sand Point. He died a few minutes after fellow-workmen reached him where he was lying unconscious in the mud at the bottom of the rock pile.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

There was little or no feature to the wheat market yesterday outside of the fact that heaviness prevailed throughout the session with prices finally declining more than one cent, the nearby months being the weakest. Liverpool cables were a distinct dissappoin ment and did not follow the bulge of about two cents in this market on Monday, the overseas market finally closing 1-8 lower to ¼ higher. Buenos Aires was ¼ lower at mid-day. Export business overnight was practically nil but a few loads were worked this morning, the total during the past 24 hours being around 250,000 bushels about on a par with the daily receipts from first hands. The market sank into the daily bids for about half a cent, and working against these comprised the bulk of the business that was passing in the pit. Several attempts were made to lift the market out of the bids but these proved useless the market reaching lowest levels during the last half hour. In the cash market there was very little going on. There was some little demand for certain grades from shippers, but offerings were light and very little was changing hands, while spreads were all about unchanged. There was no change in the flour situation which continues quiet with a moderate domestic demand but nothing doing in export channels. Spring-like conditions exist over the spring wheat territory of North America and seeding has commenced in Western Canada. General opinion is that there is sufficient moisture to start growth, but good general rains will be urgently needed shortly as there is no sub moisture anywhere. On passage supplies showed a sharp decrease of about five million bushels, the figures now being 48,024,000 bushels as compared with 33,800,000 at this time last year. Winnipeg futures closed 1 1-8 lower in all months.

Coarse Grains.—These markets were extremely quiet and featureless. There was no selling pressure in evidence but prices dragged fractionally lower in sympathy with the weakness in the leading cereal. Flax dull and featureless, closing prices unchanged to ½ lower.

Liverpool Cables due ½ to 3-8 lower, based on Winnipeg.

Liverpool Official Against Wheat Quota

LONDON, April 8. (By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Correspondent).—John Westgate of Liverpool, who is an officer of the National Association of British and Irish Millers, is inclined to doubt the report that the Government is considering the imposition of regulations requiring British millers to take 15 percent of their requirements from wheat growers in the United Kingdom. No definite scheme has been submitted to the millers by any political party, he said.

It is perfectly cerain that no legislation is possible without the Millers' agreement, said Mr. Westgate in an interview with the Manchester Guardian. The quota system is far too dangerous to be accepable. And the English wheat supply at present is insufficient to constitute a 15 percent quota.

FARM BOARD PLAN

in the experience of other countries that the unit system of marketing through one national channel is not a success, and that a free and open market, one carrying a wide public interest, is the only sound and safe means of disposing of staple crops.

Mr. Murray said the Board of Trade strongly recommended the following:

That the Government should, at the earliest possible date, divest itself entirely of the business of merchandising grain.

That the market should be relieved of unnecessary detailed Governmental supervision and bureaucratic control.

Durant Motors Show Operating Loss In 1930

Operations of Durant Motors of Canada, Limited, in the fiscal year ended December 31, 1930, resulted in a net loss of $150,344 against a profit of $401,378 in 1929. Payment of dividends of $113,970 left a profit and loss deficit for the year of $264,314 and reduced surplus from $1,155,423 to $891,110.

Current assets are reported at $3,694,384 against current liabilities of $1,209,484, leaving net working capital of $2,484,900.

FIRE IN BARBER SHOP.

At 12.50 this noon the Fire Department made a run to Campbell's Barber Shop at 436 George Street for a small fire in the front of the store. Flames were extinguished before any damage could be done, but all traces of the origin of the fire were swept away.

Mr. Campbell states that he was sitting in a chair reading when the 'phone rang. While answering it he heard a low, roaring sound, and on looking around noticed that the crepe paper at the front of the store was in flames. The fire spread to the curtain, but the quick action of the owner and the firemen prevented a further spread. The only damage sustained was the soiling of the goods on display in the window.

STOCK LOAN RATIO RISES DURING MONTH

Proportion of Borrowings to Market Value Increases .36 to 3.58 P.C.

IN PAST MONTH.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Ratio of borrowings by members of the New York Stock Exchange against stock collateral showed an increase during March, while the total market value of listed securities declined $3,718,371,986 during the month.

As of April 1, the ratio of borrowings amounted to 3.58 per cent of the aggregate market value of all shares listed on the Exchange as compared with 3.22 per cent the month before, an increase of .36 per cent. Ratio of borrowings on April 1, 1930, was 6.12 per cent of the total market value of listed stock.

VALUES TOWER.

During March, however, the market value of stocks listed on the Exchange declined from $57,054,766,481 to $53,336,394,495.

Average market value of all listed stocks on April 1 was equal to $41.08 against $43.96 a share on March 1, an average decrease of $3.88 a share.

LOANS SHOW GAINS.

Total borrowings by members of the Exchange against stock collateral rose from $1,939,756,058 on March 1 to $1,908,810,494 on April 1, an increase of $69,054,436 during the month.

The total number of listed issues on the Exchange remained unchanged at 1,300, but the aggregate number of shares showed a slight increase, amounting to 1,298,492,276 shares, against 1,297,879,293 shares on March 1.

TORONTO LIST 'S INACTIVE

Following New York Trend, Inter-listed Issues Are Chief Stocks Traded.

SERVICE STATIONS UP.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8.—(CP)—Traders were inactive in operations in Toronto Stock Exchange this morning and the market was left to follow the trend set by Nrew York. As a result inter-listed issues were the chief stocks traded, the remainder of the list being noticeably narrow and dull.

Nickel climbed above 17 again, Noranda picked up about ½ point, Brazilian firmed in spite of adverse reports which affected the government securities, Ford of Canada did better following publication of the annual report and the oils were firm, B.A. Oil showing a small gain at 12 and the others holding unchanged.

Service Stations, too, was up slightly. Publication of the annual report to-day showed earnings equal to $3.60 on the combined "A" and "B" stock, compared with $5 last year. Directors have decided to cut the dividend for the next quarter from 65 cents to 40 cents.

Distillers Coporation moved steadily higher throughout the morning session and at noon was up nearly 1 point from the opening.

ALL FOREIGNERS

day's decree says, warships and merchantment may enter and leave the ports in order to evacuate foreign residents. In closing the island ports the order forbids inhabitants communicating with the outside world in any manner.

President Carmona addressed the first contingent of the expeditionary force, which sailed yesterday aboard the transport Pedro Gomez, in a speech aboard the ship exhorting the 600 troops to do their utmost to hold the honor of Portugal. The transport was escorted by the gunboat Zaire.

The transport Jubango is leaving here to-day with three seaplanes, troops, artillery and ammunition, and the Lima will leave Thursday. Both vessels will have a naval escort. The British have sent a fast powerful cruiser from Gibraltar to Funchal to safeguard lives and property of their nationals.

Japan will spent over $7,000,000 for new public works this year.

MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, April 8 (Special to The Examiner).—Softening base metal prices were reflected in evident nervousness among the metal stocks on the mining market. Golds although an irregular appearance, though a few of the lower priced issues were under accumulation.

According to New York advices one custom smelter was offering copper at 9¼ cents a pound, a half cent under the producers' market. London metals were unusually weak, standard copper dropping 5s to £42 11s 3d and electrolitic £1 to £44 10s. Tin hit a new low of £113 17s 6d, off £3 7s 6d from yesterday. Lead was down 3s 9d to £12 5s, zinc 2s 6d to £11 13s 9d and bar silver 1/16 to 12⅝d.

Selling developed in Wright Hargreaves, price dropping considerably below last night's close. Weakness was attributed to a dispatch from D. A. Mutch, well-known mining engineer, who states: "You can expect favorable developments on Wright Hargreaves from level to level as per our report during sinking, but in our opinion present price has greatly discounted actual value. The greatest addition to ore will be west of the fault which has just been reached on each level."

According to reports from Ottawa, Robert C. Gamble, president of Granada Rouyn Mining Company, has sold his control of the company to American capitalists for $1,000,000 and a stock interest. Mr. Gamble could not be reached for confirmation, but as the report follows persistent rumors along the same lines, it has received wide recognition on the street. Identity of the interests purchasing control is uncertain, several companies, including the Homestake gold mine interests, being mentioned in this regard.

Another news item from Ottawa states Arno directors have just received word of a new discovery on their Hurd property in Matachewan and are holding a special meeting to-day to complete financing and arrangements for development the claims on a larger scale. It is expected diamond drilling will be started early next week.

The new find is a 7-foot vein and according to directors trenching at 30-foot intervals reveals an average of from $7 to $14 over a length of 400 feet, with minimum width of six feet and maximum width off 15 feet. The vein has been stripped for 132 feet.

Directors of Teck Hughes gold have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share, payable May 1 to shareholders of record April 16.

An unofficial report was heard to-day to the effect Tassota gold had been financed in Montreal and that operations would be resumed shortly. It is said that 1,000,000 shares of the company's stock has been firmly underwritten to yield the company about $200,000.

E. S. McCarthy, well-known mining man, has been retained as field engineer for the Lake Wood Gold Syndicate. The company's property consists of 80 acres in the Lake of the Woods district on which considerable work has been done. Acquisition of additional properties is under consideration.

Light Losses Shown On Montreal List

MONTREAL, Que., April 8.—The Montreal stock market was quiet at noon to-day, a few fractional losses appearing in some issues. Consolidated Smelting and Mining stock maintained an early gain of one point at 151. Brazilian gained ¼ at 2 3-8, and Nickel old at 17, unchanged from yesterday's close after reaching 17 1-8. Gypsum was up ¼ at 9¼, and Quebec Power was up ¼ at 44¾. Power Corporation fell off ¾ at 69.

The bank stocks were a little weaker. Bank of Commerce sold off two points to 225, and Royal Bank lost two points at 285.

STATUS QUO WILL BE MAINTAINED

Westminster was approved, but its final acceptance was left over until representatives of the Provincial Governments have an opportunity to consult their colleagues.

The official statement

The Interprovincial Conference which was convened yesterday to consider the terms of the proposed Statue of Westminster, adjourned today. It was agreed by the conference:

1. That the status quo should be maintained in so far as the question of repealing, altering or amending the British North America Acts was concerned, and that definite safeguards should be inserted in the proposed Canadian section of the statute of Westminster to ensure that no powers would be conferred on that statute in this respect.

2. That provision should be made that except as to the provisions of the British North America Acts the Colonial Laws Validity Act should no longer apply to Acts of the Parliament of Canada, nor to Acts of the Legislatures of the Provinces.

The Prime Minister stated that at some future date a constitutional conference would be convened at which representatives of the Dominion and of the Provinces might consider the conditions upon which the provisions of the British North America Acts may hereafter be amended or modified.

The final drafting of a new section to be inserted in the proposed Statute of Westminster was submitted at this morning's session, and its purport was generally approved, but its final acceptance was deferred for two weeks in order that representatives of Provincial Governments might have an opportunity to consult their colleagues with respect thereto.

The new section of the proposed Statute of Westminster was not made public, pending its submission to the various Provincial bodies. Presumably it will be given out after it has been approved, assuming that it is approved. Two weeks has been allowed for securing the approval of the provinces.

Satisfaction was expressed at the result of the conference, and this appeared to be general.

Adherence Approved.

The net result of the conference appears to be that the provinces have approved adherence by Canada to the Statute of Westminster, subject to submission to the Provincial Governments, and also providing that there is no interference with the Constitution of Canada. The Statute of Westminster, which has not yet been laid before the Parliament of Great Britain, provides for a very material widening of the autonomous jurisdiction of the various Dominions in the British Empire. It provides that laws passed by the Government of Great Britain shall not be applicable to the Dominions unless they so desire and state. It repeals the Colonial Laws Validity Act. It gives to the Dominion legal authority to pass extra-territorial legislation. It recognizes legally the fact that the Dominions are now grown up.

Assuming the Provincial Governments approve the decisions reached to-day, it will be the function of the Dominion Government to bring down the necessary legislation providing for Canada's adherence to the Statute of Westminster. That will probably be done at the present session of Parliament. A resolution passed by the Imperial Conference fixed August 1 as the date for approval of the Statute of Westminster by the Dominions.

VOLCANIC UPHEAVAL SEEN BY HUNDREDS

cussion, while the sun was momentarily blotted out by the huge cloud of smoke, and the shower of rock which accompanied it. Fragments were pitched in graceful arches for a distance of several thousands of feet, in a northerly direction, and appeared to hover in space before crashing to the ground from whence they had lately been hurled with such mighty force.

The quarry occupies a site a mile or so north of Provincial Highway No. 7, in Belmont Township. The crusher, offices, storehouses, and bunkhouses are in a valley. One of the ridges running for a distance north and south, and which is at present being worked, occupies a position immediately to the rear of the crusher. This ridge was the scene of last year's blasting operations, and also the five big blasts which preceded it. It is being worked from the north to the south, and operations immediately prior to the blast had eaten it away to somewhere on a line with the crushing plant.

847 Feet of Tunnelling.

This hill was undermined by approximately 847 feet of tunnelling, the main drift being about 280 feet long, and running in an easterly direction turning north. At intervals of twenty-five feet, this main tunnel was crossed by eleven shorter drifts varying in length from twenty-five to one hundred feet. Five of these cross-cuts were run in an easterly direction. Each drift contained pockets at intervals of twenty-five feet, and the dynamite was placed into these pockets, which were tamped with quarry screenings to keep the force of the blast in the required limits. There was an average overhead displacement of 46 feet in the explosion.

That everything went off without a hitch is a tribute to the skill with which preparations were made. Had the explosion failed to spend its energy in a northerly direction as planned, the whole plant would have been wrecked. The buildings were dangerously near, but survived the eruption without a scratch.

After the thick black pall of smoke had cleared away sufficiently, officials and members of the general public made their way to the top of the hill—or at least what was left of it.

The explosion had changed the whole contour of that section of the landscape, and the surface of the ground for several hundred feet in all directions gaped open with great deep, wide fissures.

Immense pieces of rock, mingled with ton upon ton of smaller portions were belched out upon the plant yard, while a strong, heavy smell of explosives reeked in the nostrils of everyone.

Twenty-two men were employed in placing the explosive, and tamping it in place. Each pocket of dynamite being doubly wired by the plant electricians, to obviate the danger of unexploded pockets. The amount of explosive used for the occasion was twenty-five tons, which was "fired" by a current of 110 volts, supplied by the Hydro. The men at the switch situated underneath the crushing plant, were Clifford Scott and Lees Yeoman.

Used for Building.

The finely crushed rock, product of the quarry, is used largely in the building trades and for road surfacing. Most of the output is shipped to Toronto. For a number of miles east and west of the quarry, the roads to Havelock on the west, and Marmora on the east, are made up largely of this splendid road building material. They wind in and out, white ribbons of almost cement hardness, a sheer delight to the motorist. They stand up under hard usage, as evidenced by the splendid condition of the roads to the east of the village.

FINANCIAL CLIP SHEET

INTERNATIONAL NICKEL

The Investors' Review, of London, England, is not extremely enthusiastic over the immediate outlook of International Nickel. "Now the shares have fallen to $19, and we say deliberately that they cannot be worth half that price under any conditions likely to prevail during the next two or three years," it comments in regard to Nickel. It admits that drawing on the surplus to pay 60 cents a year might be justified "If there were good reasons to believe that the slump is merely temporary, but there is only too much reason to fear it may continue for a long time." It comments further: "Assuming that 35 cents a share are earned in the current year, the value of the shares on a five per cent. basis would be just $7." It would be interesting to have the Investors' Review to calculate the value on the same basis of a certain U. S. rubber Co. that has lost ten million dollars in the last three years and has a very fair opportunity of adding a few extra millions to its losses this year.—Toronto Telegram.

AMERICAN CAN STEADILY ABSORBED

Resistance displayed by American Can to selling pressure reflects the steady absorption that has taken place for the account of important interests. As pointed out here on several occasions, "Can" is attracting steady buying around current levels for the account of interests close to the company who are impressed with the outlook for the balance of the year. Earnings of the company during 1930 established a new high peak and, while thus far this year they are a trifle lower, informed interests estimate that the 1931 earnings will approximate those of a year ago.

Newton Steel was well bought on official disclosure that operations of the company are the highest in the industry. Current operations amount to 70 per cent. of capacity.

CYNICAL VIEW OF TORONTO SITUATION

A reader takes a cynical view of the Toronto situation and writes in to say that there is only one local stock that he would like to buy, and it is selling far too high. In explanation of his bearish attitude, he states: "Of the Toronto mining market I will say this. The move is entirely artificial with no short interest under it. Teck-Hughes has to extract something like 120 millions in gold to justify its present price, and each dollar represents a cubic foot of quartz in a ton and the ore runs around $1. As the property is only 1,200 feet long they would require a great width of vein even suppose the vein carries to 10,000 feet. Nobody can judge conditions 200 feet below the deepest." Regarding Noranda he comments that "It is a fixed rule in mining that drill cores are not dependable for gold values." The pessimistic view is always refreshing and beneficial through acting as a brake and encouraging the investor or trader to dig for information—in short, to follow the wise old rule to investigate before investing.

A continuation of the slight improvement already noted in a number of industries, partly of a seasonal nature, and a further stabilizing of prices characterized business during March. Construction contracts awarded during the month were higher than a year ago. Another satisfactory feature is the progress being made in mixed farming in Western Canada, as indicated by the dairying returns, comments the Bank of Commerce in its monthly letter.

GENERAL ELECTRIC OFFERED ON BULGES

General Electric is encountering increased offerings on bulges due to estimates that earnings during the initial quarter may not cover dividend requirements. Current estimates place earnings during the first quarter of the year at slightly under the 40 cent dividend, as compared with net income of 50 cents a share in the corresponding period in 1930. In this respect, it is pointed out that earnings of the company this year were affected by the small volume of business carried over at the year-end. In addition, interests in close touch with the affairs of the company are not inclined to anticipate any important improvement in the earnings of the company during the immediate future. This is largely due to the fact that electric equipments companies are usually the last to feel the effects of a recession and naturally are the last to respond to a betterment in business.

Reservoir Lakes Below Normal Level; Power Shortage Feared—Holding Water

Unless this district gets a greatly increased amount of rain within the next two months, Peterborough factories may be short of power. The reservoir lakes to the north are four to five feet below normal for this time of year, and the power situation is admitted to have a gloomy outlook.

The dams north of the city, which are usually miniature Niagaras at this time of year, have but little more water going over than in mid-summer. Every effort is being made to hold the water back and build up a reserve.

Lake residents report that there was no Spring freshets from melting snow, because the ground was so dry that the water soaked in and did not run off into creeks and marshes. Chemong Lake is said to be four feet below normal, and a Lindsay despatch states that rocks are showing in the bottom of Scugog Lake. Authoritative reports from the north state that never have the lakes been so low in any Spring as they are now.

OLD BLACK CROW 5 TIMES CAWS DEATH SENTENCE WITH JUDGE

Sits by Open Window and Chatters as Cadi Pronounces Sentence.

CAWS VOCIFEROUSLY

(Special to The Examiner, Copyright 1931)

SYDNEY, N.S., April 8.—While sentence of death was being pronounced in the usual solemn form, on George A. Beckett, convicted murderer, at Sydney, N.S., a jet black crow fluttered among the topmost branches of a big tree, immediately opposite the courthouse.

There was no vocal disturbance from the crow until the judge, in the course of his sentencing address, came to "and you shall be taken on April 30, 1931, to the place of execution, and there hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul!"

The judge uttered these closing words to a steady accompaniment of deep throated "caws," emanating from the topmost branches of the big tree. Several of the windows were slightly open, and court attaches hurried to close the gaps. The judge started, then resumed his monotone, after a slight pause. The croaking of the crow almost drowned the voice of the judge, so virile was the cawing, and so continued, one caw coming on the heels of its predecessor.

A shudder ran down the figure of the young man, who hitherto all through the trial had affected a spirit of bravado.

Within the courthouse at Sydney, the death sentence has been given on five occasions, and on each the old black crow has croaked his dismal message from the same tree, while the judge uttered the words that ordered death for a murderer. While Beckett was being sentenced, the crow was more noisy than on each of the previous instances.

A Brutal Murder

Beckett was convicted of a brutal slaying, the victim being Nicholas Marthos, a taxi driver, of Glace Bay, N.S., where the murder was committed. The taxi man was attacked from the rear with a metal bar, after being hired by Beckett for a drive. Robbery was the motive, although Beckett would find only about $34, it is believed, on the clothes of Marthos. Suspicion focussed on Beckett, who had a bad character, after he disappeared. He was located in Newfoundland, and extradited to Sydney.

COUNCILS MAKE ANNUAL GRANTS TO SEYMOUR FAIR

grant be reduced from $325 to $300.

Mr. Carr's motion was adopted.

Mr. McKeel asked for an opinion by the town solicitor as to the legality of this grant.

Reeve Stone remarked that the Federal and Provincial Governments as well as municipal councils made grants in aid of agricultural and industrial exhibitions.

Mr. Horkin's parting shot to Councillor McKeel was: "Young man, I sat in this council with your father, and I know you are taking a step in the wrong direction in your attitude."

Insurance Renewed.

The council renewed its liability insurance policy with the Globe Indemnity Company. It provides for claims up to $5,000 by individuals, and up to $10,000 by more than one person; and property damage claims up to $1,000. The premium is $176.33 a year.

Local indemnity claims paid by the company last year totalled $542. Of that total $425 was paid to Mrs. Bromley and $36 to Mrs. Twigg.

Garbage Collection.

A committee composed of Reeve Stone and Councillors Battisby and Carr was appointed to consult with D. J. Lynch, the town solicitor, in regard to the preparation of a by-law for the collection, removal and disposal of garbage. The idea was proposed by Mr. Carr for the public sanitation, and his motion was seconded by Councillor Battisby. The details as to the number of collections a week and other phases of the general plans will be arranged by the committee. Their report will be presented at the next meeting of the council, and at the same time it is expected that tenders will have been received for the garbage collection contract.

The committee was authorized to call for tenders, and if Mr. Carr's proposal is adopted the council will be in a position to set the collection system in motion next month. He emphasized in introducing the subject that he would not give it his final assent if the cost seemed excessive. However, he believed that this feature of it would not be discouraging, and the town would be greatly improved by a systematic disposal of garbage. Mr. Carr said that the present practice of dumping it in the river had created an "eyesore" along the bank. The collector might be expected to have charge of the municipal dump for which the council is now paying $150 a year.

C.N.R. Schedule Protest.

The Council's objection to the proposed change in the local C.N.R. passenger train schedule will be submitted to the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners. This decision was expressed in a motion by Mr. MacColl, seconded by Reeve Stone, and followed Mr. Carr's report that negotiations with G. A. Stokes of the C.N.R. divisional staff at Belleville had been unproductive.

Mr. Carr, Walter Fowlds of Hastings and a Stirling representative had interviewed Mr. Stokes, presenting a joint protest against the changes which are to take effect on April 26.

"Belleville office can't do much for us" said Mr. Carr, intimating that the local grievance would have to be carried to higher authorities.

Theatre Plans Fail.

Two similar schemes for a talking picture theatre in Campbellford have recently dissolved according to reports to the Council last night. They had been suggested separately by H. S. Perry, of Belleville, and Paul Bruyea of Oaswa.

Councillor H. N. Carr reporting on his interview with H. S. Perry of Belleville in regard to a proposed theatre stated that Mr. Perry had estimated the cost of the building at $13,000 to be erected by the municipality and rented at $150 a month.

Mr. Perry could give no assurance of the continuous operation of the theatre even if he did assume the occupation at the outset. Mr. Carr said he had told Mr. Perry that the town could not make an investment of that kind, and because of the financial uncertainties of the proposal it would not appeal to the council.

Mr. Bruyea was present last night, and briefly announced that he could not carry out his original plan of building a theatre here. He said he would have to receive assistance which was practically the same extent of muncipal obligation suggested by Mr. Perry.

The Council did not discuss these tenuous projects beyond Mr. Battisby's motion, seconded by Mr. MacColl, that if theatre negotiations are resumed they be referred to the Industrial committee.

A Chautauqua Echo.

Mr. Kingston's request on behalf of the Chautauqua committee for a refund of $25 of the cost of securing a license for the Regent theatre was left with the Finance committee. He stated that the license had to be taken out for six months in order that the Chautauqua concerts might be held. This was the shortest time for which the local permit was issued, but the theatre was used only four days. The license cost $30.

The Chautauqua had spent $200 in town, and had actually a deficit on the local engagement. The committee had paid the guarantee which had been set at 80 p.c. of the cost. The programmes had provided Campbellford people with excellent entertainment.

Resolutions Merely Read.

Three resolutions from the Municipal Council of East Windsor were tabled. They proposed appeals to the government for public sale of beer by the glass; regulation of gasoline service stations, and the eight hour day on Provincial highway construction with a minimum wage of 50 cents an hour.

Councillor McKeel was appointed Campbellford's representative on the directorate of the Trent Waterway Development Association.

A petition was received for a water main on Naseby street, a distance east of Market Street. It was signed by Alex Nicholls, Geo. Barnum, R. K. Scott, Robt. Black, Henry Redden and others, and was referred to the clerk for verification.

The local branch of the Canadian Legion gratefully acknowledged the council's grant of $100 for relief among ex-service men.

Front Street Sewer.

A request from Irvine Hutcheon for sewer connection on Front street south referred to the Road and Bridge committee and Councillor MacColl as chairman of the Finance committee. Mr. Hutcheon's petition was supported by one property owner but two others were not in favor of it. A tender of $225 was received last fall for the work that would meet Mr. Hutcheon's needs, but nothing was done.

"I don't want to pay more than 60 per cent" he said.

Deputy-reeve Stone urged that some substantial effort be made to provide a sewer connection to the Hutcheon property.

Andrew Oliver asked for 180 feet of sidewalk on the west side of Maple street. This request was referred to the Roads and Bridges committee.

The Finance committee was given power to act on Charles McKelvie's request that the council pay for forty rods of fence wire which was burned by a fire spreading from the town dump.

Dance Hall Hours.

Councillor Long gave notice of a motion to amend a local by-law requiring dance halls to close at 11 p.m.

"That's about the time they get started," Mr. McKeel remarked.

"There's nothing to prevent them starting at 7 o'clock," Mr. Long replied.

Police Agreement.

A new contract will be prepared dealing with Chief Constable Bromley's parquisites. Its main feature will require all court fees and costs to be turned into the town treasury.

Reeve Stone informed the council of a recent meeting of the Police committee at which various matters were discussed with Chief Bromley. To a suggestion of a cut in salary the Chief replied that he would have to hand in his resignation if the Council took that course. His present salary is $125 a month.

The discussion also touched on the reduction of the police force to one man, but that idea did not appeal to the committee because of the modern traffic conditions, especially the possibility of a one-man police force possibly being an invitation to thugs to put Campbellford on the spot.

It was also stated that Chief Bromley receives $25 a month from Seymour township for bi-weekly visits to Trent Bridge, although the Police committee had never consented to him accepting this "side line." The sentiment of the council seemed to be that the Chief should give all his time to the community that had engaged him, and was paying him for that time; also that his salary should not be augmented by any fees or costs collected through the police court.

Last year the town treasury received a total of $1,608 in police court fines and costs, the fines amounting to $1,468.

The only by-law last night fixed the percentage of cost of laying sewers and water mains, 60 p.c. to be paid by the property owner and 40 p.c. by the municipality.

Mayor Bygott presided with all the members present and a large gallery of citizens.

PROSPERITY COMES ONLY BY SPENDING

More Than One Economist Have Given Same Advice to End Depression.

"Spend and bring back prosperity" is the advice given by more than one important economist as a cure for the present economic situation. In spite of the fact that this advice runs counter to the time honoured proverbs about saving for a rainy day, a study of past economic history proves it to be sound. Even in a period of depression a majority of the people have money to spend. But most of them lack courage to spend it. A time comes when needs become urgent, when confidence returns — people start buing, orders filter back to the manufacturer who is able to employ more men. Slowly at first, but with gradually increasing speed, the economic machine gets under full load and most of the evils of unemployment vanish. This is invariably the story of economic recovery. Without a doubt it can be hastened. Agressive manufacturers by the application of strong stimulants can, in their own particular field, accelerate the buying movement with beneficial results all round.

A Canadian manufacturer of linoleums and floor coverings is taking a definite lead in this respect by introducing a contest idea calculated to bring hundreds of prospective buyers into the merchant's store and thereby help him to sell more goods.

This company is spending a goodly sum of money in advertising throughout Canada what they call the "Dominion Inlaid Pattern Selection Contest" in which the public and merchants stand a chance of winning large cash prizes. The contest is designed primarily to stimulate the buying of floor coverings and apart from the self interest of the manufacturer which is natural it is undoubtedly a sincere push to move the sluggish economic machine a little faster which other Canadian manufacturers would do well to simulate.

CAMPBELL RAPS RURAL SCHOOLS

Claims Encouraging of Individualism Cause of Farmers' Failure to Organize.

AT TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8.—Failure of Ontario farmers to organize effectively was a result of individualism encouraged in small rural schools, A. Campbell, of Milton, suggested in his presidential address to about 1,300 delegates to the Trustees and Ratepayers' section of the Ontario Educational Association in convention here to-day.

Individualism is taught, practised and so instilled in the life of the boys and girls in country schools that it is hard for them to see things from a collective point of view, Mr. Campbell said.

Mr. Campbell further declared that disagreement among the religious denominations over the form and extent of devotional exercises in the schools was a disgrace to the Protestant faith.

It is time our religious denominations come to some common basis of understanding with regard to school devotions, the President added.

I STRONGLY RECOMMEND THEM FOR BACKACHES

Says Ontario Lady Of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. John W. Norman Suffered With Pains in Her Back.

Simcoe, Ont., April 8.—(Special).—That relief can be obtained from all kinds of Kidney disorders by using Dodd's Kidney Pills is again evidenced by the following testimonial received from Mrs. John W. Norman, a well-known resident of this place. She writes:

"I used to suffer with my back a great deal. I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and they helped me. The pains in my back have gone. I cannot speak too highly of them and strongly recommend them for Backache."

Dodd's Kidney Pills strike right at the seat of the trouble, the kidneys. They are no cure-all, just purely and simply a kidney remedy. They relieve the work of the heart by putting the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood carried to all parts of the body means new health all over the body.

CHART INDICATES WINTERS MISNAMED

St. John Observatory Shows Snowfall Same as That of Years Ago.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 8—Old-timers who thrill audiences of small boys with their descriptions of "terrific" snowfalls in Saint John half a century ago, are quite snow-blind when it comes to actual facts. The Saint John Observatory Chart supplies these facts, and thereby hangs a different tale.

Official records issued by the Government Meteorological Observatory, Douglas Avenue, compiled from statistics of the last fifty years, proves that snowfall is dropping in waves each year, and that winter is just about the same as it used to be. The largest number of inches of snow is listed 1881-1882 when 147 inches were gauged, but 1922-1923 saw only one less inch. This year seems to be in a valley of the mountain-range trend.

Despite the fact we know March 21 as the first day of spring, the observatory notes that last year experienced 2.50 inches of snow in April; in the same month of 1930, 2.35 inches; in fact, away back in April, 1882, all of 24 inches.

British Guiana Now Nearing Its Centenary

July Will Probably See Celebration of Union of Three Colonies.

PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad, B.W.I., April 8.—(By the Canadian Press)—Elaborate tentative proposals, formulated by the Colonial Tourist Attraction Committee, are now being considered by the British Guiana Government in connection with the celebration of the Centenary of the Union of the three former colonies of Essequibo, Demerara and Berbice which to-day comprise the single Colony of British Guiana, according to the Trinidad Guardian correspondent at Georgetown, the Capital of British Guiana. The suggested celebration, if carried out, will extend over the period from Sunday, July 19, to Saturday, July 25.

The Guardian's Georgetown correspondent says:

"The Government propose to seize the impending unique occasion for the purpose of advertising as widely as funds permit the attractions of British Guiana in the outside world. Already, following the assumption of the reins of Government by the present Administration, there has been a forward movement in this direction. This awakening in a practical manner to the advantages of advertising propaganada it is now hoped to emphasize considerably.

"The final arrangements in connection with the Centenary Celebration are now before the Governor for his approval and have not yet been made public. It is known, however, that these include a two-day race meeting to be sponsored by the D'Urban Race Club at which prizes offered will be sufficiently attractive to encourge sportsmen throughout the neighboring colonies to extend to the meeting their patronage.

Of $3,000,000,000 world expenditures for roads this year two-thirds will be spent in the United States.

DEER HUNTING WITH HOUNDS IS SUBJECT OF HEATED DEBATE

Ontario is One of the Few Places Where Dogs Can Be Used.

"STILL" HUNTERS ARGUE.

(Special to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, Ont., April 8th.—Slowly the hunters who use hounds to run deer are losing ground. It may not be this year that Ontario's game laws will forbid hounds. But it will not be long now.

Ontario is one of the few areas in North America where hounds are still legal in the deer hunt. The reasons why hounds have been banned almost everywhere on the American continent are making themselves felt here. And it is hard to believe that those reasons will not also prevail in this province.

Every fall, some 25,000 men go deer hunting in Ontario's woods. That is a lot of rifles. It is more than half the number of rifles there were in the infantry of the Canadian corps at one time in the war. It is two infantry divisions of any army's force.

With this army of hunters goes forth another army of hounds. The deer of Ontario have a pretty thin time in November.

By no means all of the hunters employ hounds to hunt their deer for them. Perhaps more than half of Ontario's deer hunters are what are called "still hunters"—which simply means deer stalkers. They go out each day from their camps and walk about the woods, searching the hardwood ridges and the margins of tag alder swamps where deer are likely to be found. They stalk the individual deer. They locate one, see it, trail it, if necessary with considerable skill and cunning, and finally get their shot at it.

Not Hunting, but Shooting.

Deer hunting with hounds is not really hunting. It is shooting.

The guide who puts the hounds out might be called a hunter. The hounds themselves are deer hunters. But men of the hunting party using hounds who stand or sit on the "runways" down which the deer will run when found by the hounds are not hunters in actual fact.

They hear the baying of the hounds when the deer is jumped. They see the deer coming down the gully lickety-split. They take their shot as the deer bounds past. As a rule, it takes more skill to shoot a bounding deer ahead of hounds than to hit a deer you rouse whilst walking quietly through the woods. But it is shooting, rather than hunting.

However, it is a sport very dear to thousands of Canadians who know no other method of hunting the deer. Some of the clubs which employ hounds have been going into the Ontario north country for thirty years. They are associations of estimable men who take great pride and joy in their hunting, in their cabins and in their hounds. They breed their hounds with all the care of any live stock breeders, to bring out the qualities of the ideal deer hound.

Passionate Devotees.

Among these thousands of hunters are many elderly men who have never done any still hunting, and who know too little about the wild country in which they hunt to trust themselves to go walking about several square miles of wilderness without paths or guide-mark. Yet they are perfectly familiar with the layout of "runs." They can find their way from area to area, and know their favorite locations. There they stand while the hounds, in care of the guides, are taken by a roundabout route to be set out to scent the deer, and pursue them so that they will run past these riflemen posted along the ridges and gullies.

The quiet of the November woods, the bracing air the tense waiting, sometimes for an hour or two at a time, straining ear and eye for the first sign of the unexpected thrilling and then the faint baying and belling of the hounds, the sound coming nearer and nearer, each hunter praying the deer will choose his particular runway to pass. And then the swelling music of the hounds, the sleek figure of a buck bounding out of the thickets, the taking aim, and the firing—to win or to lose! As a sport, it has thousands of passionate devotees.

Opponents Say It's Cruel.

The opponents of hounds in deer hunting are those who claim that running hounds after deer is cruel, that it disturbs the deer, drives them from their natural areas; that hounds kill any number of deer; that the shooting at bounding deer ahead of dogs results in a very great number of deer being wounded by imperfect shooting, resulting in cruel waste; that in the excitement of the oncoming hounds, an unfair proportion of does and fawns are shot by excited shooters; that, altogether, the method is wasteful, cruel and disturbing.

Naturally, still hunters resent the presence of hound hunters in their vicinity, because they find the deer nervous and frightened and hard to stalk. The still hunter also says the meat of a deer run by hounds is unfit to eat because of the heated condition of the deer when shot. The normal deer does very little running, as a matter of fact. It is a quiet, furtive creature by nature.

Casualties Feared.

To all this, the hound enthusiast replies that if Ontario wants a host of hunting casualties each year, after the manner of the United States, all they have to do is to turn 25,000 still hunters loose in the forests, to creep and crawl stealthily about ready to shoot at everything that moves in the bush.

One thing to be said in favor of deer hunting with hounds is that the game is thoroughly advertised by the hounds, and there are few accidents except to hounds!

But it is a very interesting controversy and it is taking a great deal longer to solve it in Ontario than in any part of the United States.

CENSUS OFFICERS BEING MOBILIZED

Three-day Conference Held In District of Montreal to Discuss Plans.

MONTREAL April 8 (By the Canadian Press)—Census army officers are being mobilized. In general conclave here recently, under the direction of A. J. Pelletier, assistant-chief of demography at the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, and organizer of the census commissioners of the province of Quebec, leading citizens from districts surrounding the city were gathered together to discuss problems, lay plans, and prepare for the onslaught of information seeking which is the prerogative and duty of the censustaker.

These gentlemen are the census commissioners, commanders of an army of enumerators (door-to-door questioners) numbering from 50 to 150 in each district according to the size and population of the area covered. Much of interest and value was to be learned from those three full-day conferences. Although they were strictly "in camera" an outline of the work done was given The Canadian Press.

The census-taker is not only occupied with accurate recording of past events, but gathers a wealth of detail on present happenings and often can thus predict the future. When it is realized that each Canadian has a miniature biography embracing descent, birth, death, marriage, religion, finances and working conditions recorded on a series of graph forms, that each and every detail must be correct, that duplication must be avoided, and that a maximum speed is to be attained, the work which goes into the undertaking will be visualized.

Forms, schedules, records of all kinds were piled high on the little hotel table. Earnest-eyed and intent gentlemen pored over them for hours under the guidance of Mr. Pelletier. And in addition an instruction book covering 100 pages of matter, explaining in detail the workings of each cog in the machine was intellectually digested and absorbed.

The province of Quebec is the first to be organized for this, the seventh Canadian census since Confederation. An added difficulty, inherent to Quebec, is the fact that all enumerators must be bilingual and that instructions at the conference had to be given alternately in English and in French. Bilingual formulas are used throughout Canada but their usefulness is particularly apparent in this province.

When on June 1st next the enumerators go forth on their information quest they will follow traditional footsteps. Each will know that some three hundred years ago Canada mobilized a smaller group for a similar mission, for although the expansion of census-taking methods has been particularly apid and evident in recent years, our country was the first to take a complete nominal census in the modern acceptation of the term, all of which precedes about 135 years the spread of similar endeavors in Europe. Particularly emphasized by the Dominion Bureau representative in a short lecture which preceded the formal meeting was the traditional aspect of the census. He sketched the very beginnings in Babylonia—3000 years before Christ—down through China, Egypt, and other ancient countries, through King David's famous enumeration, the Bible being the authority for the statement that it is supposed to have roused the ire of the Almighty, a sometimes flickering tradition as witnessed by a lapse of 600 years from William the Conqueror's Doomsday Book to the first Canadian census of 1666, and culminating in the enumerative achievement which it is confidently hoped will mark the year 1931.

Greatness Of Botha Recognized At Cape

Fine Tribute Paid to South African Patriotni Bronze Memorial.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Apr. 9—(By the Canadian Press)—In connection with the recent unveiling of the Cape Memorial to General Louis Botha (1862-1920), farmer, warrior, statesman, first Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, and one of the most impressive figures in the history of his country The Cape Argus in an editorial headed "The Great Peacemaker," pays tribute to Botha's memory. The Cape Argus says in part:

"A glow of satisfaction will be felt at the unveiling in this city of the Cape Province statue in honor of General Botha. Durban set the example a few years ago. It is not through any lukewarmness of feeling that Cape Town has lagged behind for the name of Botha is to-day even more revered by the majority of the people of this city and province than it was a the time of his untimely death 12 years ago. If the voice of detraction is still heard, that is hardly surprising. Nor the least of the evils of the bitter racial controversies which for so many years poisoned the public life of this country was that they engendered an unreasoning bigotry which is slow to disappear. The outside world has never doubted for one moment Botha's enduring greatness. It is only in the country of his birth, and among people of his own race, that there are to be found some who would treat his memory as scurvily as the enemies of Washington treated the reputation of that great statesman in his own lifetime."

Venezuelan Rebels Are Gaining Ground

COLON, Panama, Apr. 8.—(AP)—A radio dispatch from Eloiza, Venesuela, via Trinidad to Venezuelan revolutionary leaders in Panama reports General Cedeño as having successfully established headquarters there and that a sharp battle took place on Tuesday during which Colonel Alvarez Vietia, with a strong force, captured City of San Vicente, while Colonel Carlos Julio Ponte took Rincon Hondo.

The dispatch said there was a considerable loss of life on both sides and much cash and supplies were appropriated.

EIGHT-DAY SERVICE FROM ENGLAND TO AUSTRALIA FOR MAILS SHORTLY

Speedy Empire Air Mail Routes Outlined—London to New Zealand.

IN 8 AND HALF DAYS

LONDON, April 8 (By The Canadian Press).—Day and night air mail service, linking London with the most distant parts of the Empire in little more than a week, are, according to authoritative British expert opinion well within the bounds of possibility.

A schedule of regular, business-like operation, dependent on the establishment of high-speed services concerned solely with the carriage of mails, was sketched by Sir Robert McLean, one of the leading men in the British aircraft industry, in the course of an interview with Lord Amulree, the Air Minister arranged for a deputation of the London Chamber of Commerce. It epitomises the possibilities of immediate and dramatic acceleration in all existing air services.

The times quoted were: London to Calcutta, 3½ days; London to Sydney, 7½ days; London to Wellington, N.Z., 8½ days.

Acceleration of this order involves a 24-hour schedule throughout the flight and the efficient lighting for night navigation of the routes. Given this organization there is no doubt that British aircraft constructors are to-day in a position to build immediately fast aeroplanes which could maintain such a schedule with ease, cruising with full load of mails on board at speeds around 150 and 160 miles an hour.

Sir Robert McLean pointed out that the average speed in summer on the Indian air route between London and Karachi, operated by air liners carrying mails and passengers, was about 28 miles an hour taking into account all stops. Mails, he added, should not be kept stationary for 16 hours of the 24 because they had to travel at the same rate as passengers. Passengers and mails should be separated. Where traffic did not justify separate passenger and mail services over a route mail service operating on a 24-hour schedule should be given preference.

Lord Amulree, who expressed much sympathy with the opinion that the development of efficient day and night air mail services was desirable, stated that proposals for extending the England-India service to Australia were being considered by Australia and by the Governments of India and of the Straits Settlements. The advance in speed and efficiency of British military aircraft during recent years has an important bearing on this desired development of Empire air services. The latest British one- and two-seater fighting aeroplane attain speeds of approximately 220 and 180 miles an hour respectively, even when carrying a service load; the latest multi-engined bombers are little behind them. Experience gained in the design, building and flying of these service 'planes is already being incorporated in the construction of civil aircraft capable of much improved performance.

Canada Should Come Closer, West Indies

Trinidad Guardian Says Sir Robert Falconer Favors Nearer Trade Relations.

PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad, B.W.I., April 8.—(By the Canadian Press)—Sir Robert Falconer, President of the University of Toronto, during a visit here recently was interviewed by the Trinidad Guardian on the question of commercial union between Canada and the British West Indies and also on the question of the West Indies having their own University and School of Medicine where diseases peculiar to the tropics could be studied.

Sir Robert said there was considerable talk in the Dominion about the yearning for closer commercial intercourse with the West Indies, and he thought this was a good thing but how far it would involve political modifications was another question. "I have heard the question of West Indian Federation discussed in Canada, also in the West Indies," Sir Robert said. "The question is the more difficult of solution because the West Indies are divided up with Jamaica away off from the other islands. That, I suppose, will always be a difficulty in the way of the federation of these Colonies."

The Guardian quotes Sir Robert Falconer as follows: "I think that our people in Canada should endeavor to bring about a closer commercial association with the West Indies. We produce what you want, and you produce what we want. I have often spoken publicly in Canada about this. Our people are now realizing how much they can get from the West Indies, and how much the West Indies can get from them."

Sir Robert referred to the fine steamers plying between the Dominion and the West Indies and said this was going to assist largely in developing the relations between the two countries.

Speaking of the question of a University and School of Medicine Sir Robert Falconer, according to the Guardian, visualized a West Indian University as an expensive proposition, more so in view of the industrial depression in which all the Caribbean Colonies are sharing. The Guardian says Sir Robert Falconer dreams of a day, not in the distant future, when West Indian students pursuing their medical studies will no longer be elbowed in the packed American and Canadian Universities. They will pursue preliminary scientific work in medicine at the Queen's Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of London.

Sir Robert Falconer left Trinidad for Barbados, B.W.I.

SEES PRESENT AREA GREATEST OF ALL

Prof. W. G. S. Adams of Oxford University Reviews Progress of Man.

MONTREAL, April 8 (By the Canadian Press)—One of the most optimistic messages heard in many years in regard to the progress of man was delivered by Dr W. G. S. Adams, professor of political theory and institutions at Oxford, England, who recently inaugurated the McGill Graduates' Lectureship speaking on 'The New Era."

Speaking on progress Dr. Adams was of the opinion that the development of the state and of the larger international community constituted progress. The idea of progress had become still more dominant in the new era, which Dr. Adams stated began at the end of the last century.

The first period in the new era saw the working out of a new social policy in France, Germany and particularly England. The development of the internal combustion engine and it application in road and air transport had brought both communities and nations closer together, while wireless transmission had been working to the same end.

In this stage there had been brought about a new conception of the worker. An attempt had been made to bring security into his life with social insurance and efforts of mutual helpfulness.

The period of the war did not see the destruction of accomplishments in the first stage. The war even had its ben ficial effects, such as the development of inter-allied co-operation.

The third period was one of reconstruction. It produced a growth of internationalism and at the same time a new estimation of what a healthy spirit of nationalism could do for the nation.

With the necessity to face great econimc problems there was also a growth in sense of loyalty and a desire to get back to fundamentals.

This desire to get back to undamentals had given rise to a greater appreciation of the role that the individual and the home could play in the development of the community, Dr Adams stated.

New Tremor Crumbles Last Managua Walls

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 8 (A.P.)—A few walls left standing by the 'quake which razed this city a week ago were toppled by a short series of renewed tremors yesterday afternoon.

Such of the population as are left hereabout were panic stricken for a while and later appeared more than even convinced that Managua is a city of the past, and can never safely be rebuilt.

Relief work continues under the charge of the Red Cross.

The Chamber of Commerce is in a position to enlist many able men in the service of the city and county.

Zutoo will stop a headache in twenty minutes, brush up a cold overnight, and relieve the monthly pains of women. Used by thousands.

HEALTH ASSOCIATION REPORTS YEAR OF MUCH CHARITABLE WORK

Agreement is Reached Between Health Association and Kiwanis Club.

275 CHILDREN AT CAMP.

"At no time has the attention of any charitable organization or private individual been drawn to a home where dire distress existed without help being promptly and cheerfully given," such is one of the excerpts from Nurse Helen Anderson's report to the Peterborough Health Association at the annual meeting held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce under the presidency of J. J. Turner.

It is a statement which sums up the splendid and charitable work which this association is performing throughout the year in this city, in strenuous efforts to relieve distress and suffering among the sick.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of J. J. Turner as president with George MacDonald 1st vice-president; C. P. Borland, treasurer; Dr. G. A. Cameron, secretary and the following chairmen of committees: Finance, Mr. Borland; Publicity, Charles E. Cooke; Nurses Supervisor Committee, Mrs. R. R. Hall; Camp Clinic, Dr. W. D. Scott.

It was also unanimously agreed that six members shall be elected to the executive of the association by the Kiwanis Club, to be comprised of three women and three men.

The fuller representation of Kiwanians on the Board of the association was explained very ably by Dr. Cameron, who stated, "That for the last several years the Kiwanis Club has made contributions to the Jackson Park Summer Camp. These contributions started in a small way, but have worked up in the past two years so that almost all expenses of operation are borne by the Kiwanis Club. Last year the cost of operation of the camp was about $1,800 although the average cost of operation is from $1,300 to $1,500 per year."

"Earlier this year," proceeded the doctor, "we met the president of the Kiwanis Club and a committee, to discuss the relationship that exists between that club and this organization."

The situation is that the Kiwanis Club is supplying funds for the operation of the camp, while the association is administering the camp, although under existing arrangements the Kiwanians do not get any credit from the Kiwanis International.

The purpose of the joint meeting was to see if the two organizations could come to some agreement to work together to satisfy the Kiwanis International.

"The feeling is that the Health Association inaugurated the camp, sponsored and developed it," said Dr. Cameron, "and it might be against the feelings of the many if we were to give up all contact with it. The Kiwanians certainly do not suggest such a thing, but they do sugest that it should be known as the Kiwanis Camp, and that the Health Association continue to administer it, while their organization be permitted to erect a sign near the camp site pointing out that it was operated by the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough."

After stating his case Dr. Cameron said he felt that the Kiwanis should have a larger representation on the executive of the association also.

Dr. F. C. Neal remarked that it was not local credit that the Kiwanians wished, but that under the present conditions the Kiwanis Club did not get credit for the work they were engaged in from the International Association.

On the motion of Dr. Neal seconded by W. R. Breyfogle it was agreed that the verbal report of the joint conference between the executive of the Kiwanis Club and the Health Association be adopted. The motion was carried.

$1,100 Bequests

It was announced during the course of the meeting that the late Mrs. Isabella Gardiner, a staunch supporter of the Health Association and an active worker for many years had bequeathed the sum of $1,000 to the Health Association and a further sum of $100 to Mrs. R. R. Hall for the Summer Camp work.

Mr. Breyfogle in calling attention to the work which the late Mrs. Gardiner had performed for the association paid high tribute to her memory and moved that the association register their appreciation of her endeavors by recording it in the minutes.

Dr. Neal made a similar motion with reference to the memory of their late 1st vice-president J. John, who passed away last summer.

The secretary's report revealed a satisfactory financial statement which contained the following items. Money raised by the Kinsmen Club, $478.83; subscriptions from the public through the Peterborough Examiner, $985.80; Grant from the City Council, $1,000; Amount collected by the District Nurse, $304.50; Income from investments, $370.

A motion of thanks was recorded to the proprietors of The Examiner for the support which had been given to the financial campaign put on last year by the association, and also to Mr. Cooke, chairman of the Publicity Committee.

District Nurse's Report

The District Nurse's report for the year ending December, 1930, presented by Nurse Helen M. Anderson, stated, "Under direction of attending physicians, 75 homes were visited where patients were given medical treatment; 30 patients received surgical attention—assistance with minor operations, dressings, etc. There were 55 obstetrical cases, care being given mother and babe, while 43 women received pre-natal care. Ten tubereular patients were regularly visited. In all 1,515 visits were made."

"The collections for the year amounted to $304.50."

"Requests came from 21 homes for milk and eggs for the undernourished. Such cases were carefully investigated. Surgical dressings and medicine also were supplied when not otherwise procurable."

"A Mental Health Clinic, established by the Ontario Government, is held in Peterborough every second Thursday, with which we co-operate, arranging through doctors and social workers for examination of patients who are visited before appointments are made for examination. Already a number of people have taken advantage of this opportunity."

Miss Mary Archer, secretary of the Supervision Committee, who has prepared the annual report of the committee for many years now states, "There is nothing new to report. The work goes on month after month in a satisfactory manner.

"We meet on the first Monday of every month with our president Mrs. R. R. Hall in the chair and discuss various cases brought to our attention."

"Before Christmas," Miss Archer's report continues, "every child that had attended the summer camp was visited in its home by some member. Miss Mary Mulholland who did so much at the Children's Camp took a great deal of this visiting off our hands. During the year 1930, 3,468 quarts of milk were distributed and 166 dozen eggs. Thirty-eight families in all were supplied with this produce."

Jackson Park Camp

The report of the work at the Jackson Park Camp during the past year was presented by Mrs. H. A. Morrow, as follows: "The 1930 Peterborough Health Association Camp at Jackson Park sponsored by the Kiwanians was in charge of Miss Vickers as nurse. Miss Mary Mulholland assisted her with Mrs. Jones as cook."

"The camp was held from July 1st to August 23rd. The weather on the whole was excellent with the exception of one wet day. Two hundred and seventy children attended camp with a daily average of 75. The highest number was 87, the lowest was 49."

"Two children developed scarlet fever, while there was one case of infantile paralysis, one child with a small bone broken in his wrist and another child had her head cut open."

Drs. Waite, McCulloch and Ray Scott kindly gave their services and examined 200 children."

"Three hundred children had their tonsils removed through the generosity of Drs. Buchanan and Cragg."

"A clinic was held in June for the undernourished children. Four sessions were held at which one hundred were examined and seventy were recommended for the camp. Dr. Waite was head of the clinic and was assisted by Drs. G. Murray Fraser and W. S. Fitzpatrick."

"The following ladies gave their services for one week, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. G. S. Cameron, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Aylmer, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Morrow.

LIFE OF CHRIST TOLD TO CLASS

Young People of St. James' United Church Hear Splendid Address.

REGULAR MEETING.

The Life of Christ was told in picture and story at the Young People's meeting in St. James' United Church on Tuesday night. The devotional committee was in charge of the service, and the first vice-president, Miss Connie Wagar, presided. The appropriate opening hymn, "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult," was followed by prayer led by Miss Dorcas Nixon.

The business session was dealt with by the president, William Anderson. Feeling that it was fitting just after the Eastertide to review the life and work of our Saviour, the committee arranged for the showing of these slides. In conjunction with the pictures, Miss Muriel Moorhouse read the story, "Hole's Life of Christ." Beginning with the Annunciation these scenes portrayed the boyhood and manhood of Jesus, culminating with the Crucifixion and the Resurrection. The last picture carried the age-old promise "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

"While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks" was rendered in solo by Miss Jean Rose, during the showing of the pictures of the Nativity, where the Angelic Hosts appear, and with the picture of Jesus with the children all joined in singing "When Mothers of Salem."

Prayer was offered that the scenes of our Lord's sacrifice be impressed upon the hearts of each member present, in which Misses Marjorie Hogan and Jean Patterson and Sidney Turner led. Rev. Mr. Moorhouse pronounced the Benediction.

The thanks of the Y.P.S. are due Arthur McLaren for his efficient assistance in operating the lantern.

Because of the failure of an opera company while on the road, the English provinces had no grand opera during the winter.

MILLBROOK Y.P.S. HAS GOOD MEETING

Enthusiasm for Service is Subject of Devotional Period.

MILLBROOK, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Easter service of the Young People's Society was held in the basement of Saint Andrew's Church on Monday evening, with a good attendance of members and visitors, and the chair was taken by Miss Jean Burnham, convenor of the Christian Endeavor committee.

The president, B. B. Dawson, conducted the business period, mentioning a special effort to raise funds, probably by means of a public entertainment, during the present month.

"Enthusiasm for Service" was the subject of the devotional period, led by Miss Jean Burnham who took up the life of Dr. Arthur Jackson, this devoted missionary giving up his life in China in service, through the scourge of the plague. Others who assisted with this part of the service were: Misses Marjorie Skitch, Estelle Hetherington, Dorothy and Madeline McDowell, Francis Jones, and Marjorie Sayles. Mr. Dawson read the scripture lesson and the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, led in prayer.

A reading by Miss Beatrice Jones, "This Just Man," being a legend of the dream of Pilate's wife, was exceptionally interesting and the chapter from the study book, "The Christ of Every Road," was taken up by Miss Burnham.

Next Monday evening the missionary vice-president, Miss Mary Wood, will have charge, and an interesting program is assured.

Donald Lloyd Speaks At Rotary Luncheon

CAMPBELLFORD, April 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent)—The weekly luncheon of the Campbellford Rotary Club was held on Monday in the St. Lawrence Hotel, Campbellford, with the president, H. N. Carr in the chair.

The guest speaker on this occasion was Master Donald Lloyd, champion boy orator of the Peterborough district, who goes this week to Toronto to compete for the provincial championship. He took for his subject, "My County—Northumberland," and in a very able manner showed some real oratory in a descriptive ride through the county to Cobourg, discoursing on the advantages of the country as he travelled behind Old Dobbin the horse.

Contributing to the musical portion of the program, Clark McKelvie rendered a violin number with Albert Hazell as accompanist.

DID JESUS RISE? IS SERMON TOPIC

Most Fitting Easter Message Delivered by Rev. Reid at Stirling.

ORGAN RECITAL GIVEN

STIRLING, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence).—Easter services at St. Andrew's church were most impressionable and were splendidly attended. Rev. A. N. Reid, M.A., the minister, was in charge and for his morning service chose the very appropriate theme "The Empty Tomb."

"Did Jesus truly rise again?—if he did not, then is our faith vain and we are still in our sins and have no Redeemer."

"Until that morning, death had been an unchallenged conqueror.

"Jesus had come to be the world's deliverer. He had conquered every form of evil and human infirmity.

"Now, he had met the last enemy—death. All hopes of the world waited outside the sealed door to see if Jesus would rise again. Did He rise? asked the speaker.

"The scriptures tell us that Jesus stayed on earth 40 days after the Resurrection. He appeared a number of times.

"What beautiful and loyal devotion was shown by the women friends of Jesus. What beautiful sentiment was shown in their regard for the departed, that they wished to honor Him at the tomb filling the place with sweet odors.

"Great perplexity was caused over the rolling away of the stone, yet in this they found that they had suffered needless anxiety.

"This earth would be filled with gloom and darkness were it not for the glorious hope of the resurrection.

"We have proof that Jesus died, and rose again and even so shall all who sleep in Him arise.

"If we dwell in Christ's love we are spared needless sorrow. He abolished death.

The heathen thinks of death as a shattered pillar, a lost rose, a wrecked ship, a broken harp—not the gate-way of a better life.

"The Resurrection is a test of the divinity of Christ. The leadership of a living Saviour at the centre of every influence that stirs us to worthy endeavor.

Joy, deep and living joy,
The stone is rolled away.
The empty tomb
Has lost its gloom
And night has turned to day.

In the evening the subject of his discourse was "A Living Hope."

Special music was given by the choir under the direction of the organist and choir master, Chas. Allen.

Anthems: Christ is risen, Ashford; Why seek ye the Living, Cook; O sing unto the Lord, Heyser; Sun of My Soul, Turner; Now the day is over, Marks. Solos by A. Duncan: The Holy City; There is a Green Hill; Supplication. A quartette: Nailed to the Cross, by Mesdames Eggleton and Meiklejohn, Messrs. Eggleton and Nathan. The organ recital was given at the close of the evening service.

The altar was banked with ferns and Easter lilies, making a very appropriate environment for the Easter service. The cut flowers were placed by the Anderson family in memory of their mother and brother.

JANETVILLE LIGHT QUESTION DISCUSSED

Council Decides to Postpone Special Meeting Until Later Date.

BETHANY, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The members of the Municipal Council met recently with all the members present and the Reeve in the chair when the following communications were received and read: Merchants' and Employers' Insurance Company, with regard to renewal of Public Liability insurance for the township; the Highways' Department, showing amount of grant for 1930 to be $4,049.61; Hydro Electric Power Commission, giving rates and by-law for street lighting in Janetville; Plaxton Hueston and Company, re insurance for public liability.

On motion of Councillor Beer and Deputy Reeve McNeil, the clerk was instructed to write Plaxton, Hueston and Company that the Council is continuing its lability insurance with the Merchants' and Employers' Insurance Company.

On motion, it was decided to postpone the special meeting of the council to consider street lighting in Janetville to a later date, and at the call of the reeve.

The following accounts were ordered paid: Manvers Municipal Telephone System, maintenance, $250; E. B. Shea, trustee's requisition, S.S. 6, Alvin McGill, S.S. 13, $250; W. P. Mulligan, wood for town hall, $24; R. W. Price, supplies Cavan family, $3; F. C. Dawe, supplies for Cavan family, $7; Richardson Bros., supplies, Vanderbilt, $7.70.

The council adjourned to meet on May 2, at one o'clock p.m.

STIMSON OFFICIALS REMANDED.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8 (C.P.).—Fred Johnston, Leonard Clarke, and William Dow, three officials of the new defunct G. A. Stimson Company, were remanded a week when they appeared in Police Court to-day to ask a renewal of their bail. Johnston and Clarke, who are held on charges of conspiracy, were allowed bail of $50,000 each, while Dow held as a material witness, was granted bail of $3,000.

St. John's Ambulance Plans Sacred Concert

Under the auspices of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade (Peterborough Division) a grand sacred concert is to be held in the Grand Opera House on Sunday evening commencing at 8.30 o'clock.

A splendid program has been arranged featuring several well-known local concert hall artists, and the Peterborough Rangers Band, by kind permission of Lt.-Colonel M. H. Park, V.D.

The proceeds are in aid of the fund for providing uniforms, for this splendid corps of voluntary workers.

The chair will be taken by C. A. Salmonsen. The program includes a male quartette under the direction of Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., solo, Mr. Salisbury; reading, Miss Staples; solo Geraldine Collins; while an address will also be given by the District Superintendent, Geo. Debney of Toronto.

MILBURN'S HEART NERVE PILLS

Price 50c a box

Was Weak and Run Down Could Scarcely Do Housework

Mrs. Edward A. Allen, Bezanson, Alta., writes: "I would like to tell you of the great benefit I have received from your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was feeling very much run down in health, and was so weak I could scarcely do my housework, in fact, I would have to lie down in the afternoon for an hour or so. I saw your Pills in the drug store and took a box home with me, and I was delighted with my renewed strength. I have recommended them to a neighbor and feel sure they will help her too."

Sold by all drug and general stores, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

THIRD VARIETY OF SUCCESS IS ACHIEVED BY ONTARIOAN

Marie Prevost is Now "Rolling 'Em Over" as Comedienne.

LOVES HOLLYWOOD

By Flo Marshall)
(Special to The Examiner.
Copyright, 1931)

HOLLYWOOD, April 8.—Marie Prevost, one of the stars of Hollywood beauties, claims that being born in Sarnia, Ontario, had a great deal to do with her career.

But with a twinkle in her eye, Marie remarked to this interviewer that her relatives in Canada are still a little dubious about having a screen actress in the family.

"They ought to be used to me by now, for I've been in pictures so long. I've played the three stages of stars," she laughed. "First was the bathing figure with nothing above the neck. Then somebody had enough faith to believe that I might have a brain, and I played dramatic roles.

"That seemed about the end of things as far as those types were concerned, so I sighed with relief and in the midst of a wildly dieting Hollywood just let out the notches of my belt until—well, you can't exactly call me sylph-like now, can you?"

Well you can't! Marie isn't even just plump. She is five feet four, weighs 138 and like it! And what's more to the point, so do the powers that be, because she has made a third comeback in pictures and has just signed a new long-term contract.

On of the peculiar things about the movie game is that Marie, who is a natural-born comedienne, was never considered for that type of work. It took such a characterization in a small studio's big hit, "Ladies of Leisure" to wake Hollywood up to the fact that one of the cleverest and most original comediennes they have ever looked for was right here all the time. Even if this "awakening" was late it has meant gain to both the studios and Marie.

The time off the screen before her latest "discovery" by the studios did not worry Marie. She is a keen business woman with a good head and she knows how to use it. At the moment she is having a lot of fun celebrating. Her midget motor tears down to Malibu Beach where Marie is putting the finishing touches on a new home.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 8.—In a downhill slide with securities, grain yesterday received special impetus from advices that the crop outlook for domestic winter wheat was almost perfect. Morever, North American export demand for wheat had again come to a halt. Despatches said transatlantic millers were not inclined to follow any advance whatsoever in the wheat market, although European continental stocks of native wheat were small.

Wheat closed heavy, unchanged to 1c lower, corn 3-8c to ¾c, oats 3-8c to 7-8c down, and provisions showing 2c to 12c decile.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, April 8.—Egg, butter and cheese prices were lower and potato quotations were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

On the egg market carlot prices of fresh eggs dropped from ½c to 2c a dozen. Ontario and prairie extras lost ½c to 1c at 23c to 23½c a dozen, firsts declined ½c to 2c at 21c to 21½c and seconds were ½c lower at 18½c to 19c a dozen. British Columbia eggs lost the same amount as Ontario and prairie eggs, extras being quoted at 24c to 24½c, firsts at 22c to 22½c, and seconds at 19½c to 20c a dozen. To retailers quotations were unchanged. Receipts were 2,540 cases.

Regraded No. 1 finest pasteurzed grass butter lost ½c to 31¾c to 32c, and fresh butter was unchanged at the same quotation. To retailers solids and prints were unchanged at 34c and 35c per lb., respectively. Receipts were 192 boxes.

Colored cheese was quoted at 12¼c to 12¼c per lb., off ½c to ¾c, and receipts were 32 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes, in carlots, were quoted at 90c per 80-lb. bag and to retailers $1 per 80-lb. bag.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO April 8.—Trade was not quite so good as previously on the local butter market yesterday and brokers found that the former top price was not easy to secure except for choice lots. Buyers seemed to have filled immediate requirements and were not too interested in offerings on the market. Prices were fairly steady at 32c to 32½c for No. 1 creamery solids and 31c to 31½c for No. 2. The No. 1 had to be of high score to make the top price while No. 2 was probably more in the range of 31¼c to 31½c as this grade continued to be scarce, though not to such an extent as previously.

Cheese

Some sales of new cheese were made at lower prices, but, though this market has been weakening steadily, the majority of sales yesterday were made on a steady basis of 13¾c. Of course demand has been poor and brokers in many cases have been forced to take less money for quick sales. The general range quoted by brokers was 13¾c for new large, 14c for twins and 14¼c for triplets.

Eggs

Prices on the egg market were steady, with a good demand for all grades and receipts well celared. Brokers were offering graded eggs in free cases, at 23c for extras, 21c for firsts and 18½c for seconds. Country shippers were offered 20c for extras, 18c for firsts and 16c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were able to secure supplies at 26c for extras in cartons, 24c for extras loose, 22c for firsts loose, and 19½c for seconds loose.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 8. — Drab and featureless, the wheat market yesterday drifted in aimless fashion for the greater part of the session. At the close values were 1⅛ to 1 cent under Monday's closing level's

May closed at 57⅝ and July at 59, each down 1¼ cents, while October finished up at 60⅝c, down an even cent.

The volume of trade was extremely light and foreign advices offered little in the way of encouragement. Added to this was a disappointing export trade.

Demand for cash and coarse grains was moderate and spreads were practically unchanged from Monday.

Irak Suffers Drought Thousands Are Dying

BOMBAY, India, April 8.—(C.P.)—A Bagdad dispatch to the Newspaper Times of India yesterday said that thousands of tribesmen and their cattle are dying of thirst and starvation in the worst drought in the history of the southern Irak desert.

Women and babies are dying by the scores, the dispatch said, while the shepherd tribesmen resemble living skeletons. The lack of rain has stopped all growth and not a blade of grass is visible anywhere. Many wells are dried up and donkeys, sheep and goats are perishing for lack of water.

In northern Nejd, the correspondent said, the same tragedy is being enacted. Thousands of Bedouins have no chance of surviving.

JUSTICE LOGIE OPENS SPRING SESSIONS.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 8 (C.P.).—Spring sessions of the Surrogate Court of Ontario opened yesterday with Mr. Justice Logie presiding. Justice Rose, who was to have occupied the bench, was unable to be in the city in time for the opening of the sessions. He will assume Justice Logie's place to-morrow or the day after.

On the docket are four manslaughter cases.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND PRAISED BY GORDON

Ralph Connor Claims That the Church is Older Than State or Empire.

WINNIPEG, April 8—Rev. C. W. Gordon ("Ralph Connor") pastor of one of the largest United Churches in Winnipeg, has been preaching a series of sermons on "The Anglican Church."

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Gordon stated that of all the churches the church of England has existed from the early days of the Christian era, and is older than the State and Empire, and for nearly 1,800 years has shown a steady growth. He reiterated the historic fact that the Bishops of the church held their office by the laying on of hands in an unbroken succession from the Apostles, who received their commission from Jesus Christ.

The preacher remarked that it was a popular idea that this church is an outgrowth of the church of Rome. "This is not so," said Mr. Gordon. "The church had been for a period under the influence of Rome, but had always been composed of men who fought against Papal authority."

He said all Nonconformity sprang from the Church of England, while the finest hymns and the most inspiring music in the world came from the members of this communion.

The greatest scholarship has been here. To this church we owe the English Bible, as well as the Prayer Book, which was a work worthy of being placed beside the Bible.

He spoke of the simple faith of the members, and of the beautiful places of worship, the beautiful vestments, and service and hymnal; remarking in passing that the Anglicans had a marvellous emphasis on prayer, and that Non-conformists might well sigh for the atmosphere of a Prayer Book when they hear the extemporaneous prayers jumbled and poorly phrased.

In recapitulating, he emphasized the beauty and dignity of the service of the Anglican Church, stating that in the non-conforming churches much depends on the minister in the pulpit; but in the Anglican Church the people take a large part.

FENELLA UNITED CHURCH

FENELLA, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence). "The first Easter sermon ever preached, was preached by a woman" said Rev. R. W. Paton, delivering an Easter message in Fenella United Church on Sunday morning and basing his remarks on the following passage: "Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that He had spoken these things unto her", John 20:18.

"We cannot realize the significance of Jesus' resurrection as Mary did" said the speaker, going on to tell the old, old story, yet ever new, of the stupendous importance of the first Easter message to the world, concluding with this thought: "What was true 19 centuries ago is true to-day." Mary was chosen to preach the first Easter sermon because she loved Jesus more than the disciples.

An Easter anthem "Hallelujah He Arose" was well rendered by the hhoir, Mrs. Frank Down and Miss Donna Talling taking the duett part.

WARSAW UNITED CHURCH

WARSAW, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—Rev. J. W. Wilkinson conducted a Good Friday service in the United Church. The lesson was from St. Luke's gospel, chapter 23, 13-26. Mr. Wilkinson drew vivid word pictures of the mob demanding Christ's crucifixion; of their wicked joy watching the cross being borne by the Saviour of his falling beneath the weight and being relieved by Simon Cyrene, of the crucifixion itself by the ruthless Roman Soldiers who considered it all part of the day's work. They could sit and play games while Christ was on the cross. The mob were apparently victors. Then he showed that Christianity cannot be without the cross of Christ. The fact that Jesus suffered on that cross is the plan of redemption for men through all eyes. He died for all, and in that the great brotherhood of man exists.

"In the cross God has a share in the cost of sin that he might save us, his children from their sin." The eternal purpose of the cross is the carrying out of God's will, and Christ bowed to God's will. The speaker described the groups present, the Pharisies who had gained their point, those who had realized that Christ was great, and those who had always loved him.

Then word pictures came of the seven times Christ spoke, each in order, and in connection with the earthquake, the darkness, the sending of the veil of the temple, until the great final "Father into thy hands I commend my spirit." The body hung there until sundown, when with characteristic callousness, to make sure of death, the Roman soldier thrust the spear into the Saviour's side.

When removed, the body was placed in a new tomb. To secure it, a great stone closed the opening, it was sealed and guarded, as if God could be kept under, by stone, seal, or human guard.

Every bit of scripture regarding Christ's life and death was fulfilled.

"Oh! That the world may believe in Jesus Christ the Son of God.

The hymns were, "In the Cross of Christ," "There is a green hill far away." The choir rendered "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," and "Christ our Passover. The male voice quartette gave "The Old Rugged Cross."

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sunday evening next.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH

On Friday afternoon Rev. J. T. O'Connor-Fenton conducted the Good Friday service in St. Mark's Church. About twenty-five attended. Holy communion will be celebrated on Sunday morning, April 12.

SPRINGVILLE UNITED

SPRINGVILLE, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—Easter service was fittingly observed at Springville United Church with the pastor, Rev. S. H. Moyer in charge.

Easter music was rendered by the choir assisted by Mrs. Vincent Whittington of Toronto and Mrs. Hanbidge of Fairmount. A beautiful solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," was sung by Mrs. Whittington while Mr. Hanbidge assisted in the quartette.

Another interesting feature took the form of a baptismal service when Eleanor Alena Bowles, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowles was baptized.

Rev. Mr. Moyer's sermon dealt principally with the results of the crucifixion. The first noticable result was the change of mind of the people while Jesus was still on the cross. The "wagging of heads" signifies that some were already admitting that this business was not yet overwith. The centurians said, "Surely this is the Son of God."

Men now knew that this was something more than a quarrel — they knew that it was what Jesus stood for, the struggle between two opposite ideals that were age old. They knew that God hadn't surrendered his position but that men were trying to suppress things that were going on in the heart of God. Something had to happen. What was to be done? Some said, "Let him come down from the cross," but everything was done to make this impossible. Jesus was locked in the tomb making "Resurrection" necessary.

The most important proof of the resurrection was shown in less than a fortnight when Jesus' disciples became strong missionary preachers—their cause was the cross, on which their Saviour died, used in the light of the resurrection. They now declared Christ to be the Son of God with power. The gospel is good news. It is a guarantee that something good and great is going to happen. The blessing and gospel of the resurrection is one in which we may share. It is the assurance and conviction of the living Christ.

SAFETY COMMITTEE MEETS IN DELORO

General Division Wins Star, Flag Shared By All Departments For Month.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, Apr. 8.—The monthly meeting of the Deloro Safety Committee took place at the Hub on Monday evening with R. A. Elliott presiding over a good attendance.

J. Rice reporting for the Suggestions committee, mentioned the receipt of five suggestions. W. Mumby told of two awards being made for worthy suggestions and also stated that the flag would be shared by all departments this month and that the star goes to the general division.

E. Hewitt brought in a good report for the Inspection Committee. C. T. Nicholson will report at the May meeting. Prone method practices given last month by H. O. Loveless and H. Rennie are assigned this feature of Safety work for the current month. C. H. Buskard gave his statement of Benevolent Relief Funds.

W. R. Reynolds in his report of the Publicity committee mainly referred to Simerick No. 2 for which twenty-two entries were received. G. Mantle Junior was the successful entrant, his effort being as follows:

He took a short cut down the track
The dinky came up at his back.
He cared not a hoot,
Though George went toot-toot,
And now he is pushing up quack.

The "George" referred to, is George O'Neill, driver of Deloro's locomotive and the incident referred to in the verse is of course, mere supposition.

At the close of the meeting a joint paper presenting different views as to how Safety Work should be carried out, was given by D. Robertson and C. T. Nicholson. W. L. Rigg in summing up essential points, gave a very able talk.

A BEDTIME STORY by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LAST WIND

In March, as you all know, the winds blow very hard. The reason for this is that the March winds must blow away what is left of winter to make room for spring and summer. At least that's the way it was in Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains where Uncle Wiggily lived.

The March winds are supposed to stop blowing on the last day of that month, and go away, so April can come with its jolly, fooling fun on the first day, and with rain showers on the days that come after.

So it happened that the end of March came in Woodland and Uncle Wiggily twinkling his pink nose got ready to go out and have an adventure. He said:

"Tomorrow will be the first of April."

"Look out that you don't get fooled!" warned Nurse Jane.

"Oh, nobody will fool me!" boasted the rabbit gentleman. "I am going out now and see the last of the March winds that have been blowing about my hollow stump bungalow long enough."

"Be careful that the last March wind

Jackie poured molasses into the hat.

doesn't blow you away!" warned the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"No March wind can blow me away!" boasted the bunny uncle.

"Well, then, look out for your hat!" said Nurse Jane.

"I will," promised Mr. Longears, for he had on his tall, silk hat, like a piece of stove pipe and all winds, even the gentle, summer winds of June, love to blow away rabbit gentleman's tall hats.

So Uncle Wiggily went out on the last day of March to see the end of the blowing winds.

Now it happened that the March winds around Woodland were very teasing, joking, tricky winds. They were full of mischief. And, as it also happened, the March winds, so far, had done nothing to Uncle Wiggily.

"We have never blown off Uncle Wiggily's hat," howled one March wind.

"We have hardly blown any dust in his eyes," sighed another March wind.

"Nor made him sneeze with our cold breath," murmured a third March wind. "I think it is time we played some trick on that rabbit."

"Surely!" agreed the first wind. "Here it is the last day of March and tomorrow we must go away to make room for April showers. If we don't play a joke on Uncle Wiggily now we shall have to wait until next year."

"Then let's do it now!" shricked the second wind.

"I'll help blow off his tall, silk hat and make him chase it!" cried the third wind as it twisted around like a top and raised a cloud of dust.

"That's what we'll do!" shouted the two other March winds. "We'll blow off Uncle Wiggily's hat!"

All through March the winds had been trying that trick but, up to now, Uncle Wiggily had always gotten the best of them. Either he did not go out of his bungalow when the winds were too high or he tied his hat on his head with a scarf. Anyhow, the mischievous March winds had never been able to blow the hat off the bunny's head.

"And now, it we don't do it this last day of the month, the April showers coming tomorrow, will laugh at us!" howled the first wind.

"Come on! Come on!" cried the two other winds. We'll blow along until we see Uncle Wiggily and we'll twist off his hat!"

The March winds blew this way and that and the other way. Uncle Wiggily was hopping along looking for an adventure, but he did not know what the tricky winds were going to do. The rabbit gentleman came to the kennel house where Mr. and Mrs. Bow Wow, the dogs, lived.

"I'll stop in and see them," said Mr. Longears and he did. But while Mr. Longears was talking to Mr. and Mrs. Bow Wow, Jackie and Peetie, the two puppies, were going to the store for their mother. They were going to get some molasses in a jug so Mrs. Bow Wow could make a cake.

"But there is a little old molasses left in this jug," whined Jackie squinting down inside. "What'll we do with it?"

"Pour the old molasses in Uncle Wiggily's hat," whispered Peetie. "That will empty the jug for the new molasses we are going to get and it will be an April Fool joke for tomorrow."

So Jackie poured what was left of the old molasses from the jug into the rabbit gentleman's hat. Then the puppies ran to the store.

Uncle Wiggily hopped out of the kennel house and he was so busy saying good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. Bow Wow that he never noticed the molasses in his hat but put it right on his head. And away he hopped to have an adventure.

"Ha! Here comes Uncle Wiggily! Here he comes with his tall hat!" howled the three March winds. "Now for a last chance at him! Blow! Blow hard, everybody!" The last March winds blew and blew and blew but they couldn't blow Uncle Wiggily's hat off his head for the molasses stuck it on too tightly. "Puff! Wuff! Guff!" howled the March winds.

"Ha! Ha! Fooled again!" cried Uncle Wiggily as he hopped home.

He didn't know until he tried to take his hat off, about the molasses, but he only laughed.

HAVELOCK LADIES PLAN BUSY SEASON

Women's Institute May Lend Aid in Work Started By Dental Clinic.

HAVELOCK, April 8. — (Examiner Correspondence).—The regular meeting of Havelock Women's Institute was held in the Council Chamber on Monday with a fair attendance of the members. The president, Mrs. Huble, occupied the chair.

The roll call was responded to by "Suggestions for the coming year's programmes. A number of helpful suggestions were received.

After a discussion regarding the recent dental clinic, it was decided to procure a list of names of children requiring the attention of a dentist and who had not been attended to and have a committee interview the parents of such children with a view to having the work done if possible. It was thought that where the parents were unable to pay for the work done, the Institute might undertake the financing.

The secretary of the Library reported haing received Mrs. Lang's Book of Law. Twenty-four new books of fiction have been added to the library. These are largely works of modern authors, and are reported to be excellent reading matter.

The matter of sending a representative to the Girls Conference was left over until the next meeting, in order to ascertain if the Juniors are sending a representative, and if they require any financial assistance for the same.

Clean Council Chamber

It was decided to have the Council Chamber thoroughly cleaned before the June meeting. The appearance of the same has been greatly improved since the ladies have been given the privilege of using it for meeting and library purposes, and it is the intention of the members to keep it bright and clean.

The plot to the west of the Town Hall having been fenced and graded in preparation for the planting of shrubs and perennials, it was decided to hold a bee on Thursday, April 23rd, if weather be favorable, or on the 24th as an alternative. The members are asked to come, and bring any shrubs or other plants suitable which they can spare, and help with the planting if possible.

The business of the meeting being concluded the president gave a fine demonstration of mat making, using old silk stockings of light shades and crochetting them into a lovely mat.

A dainty lunch brought the meeting to a close. Hostesses for the day were: Mesdames Huble, McCutcheon, Smith, Bedford and Jones.

HALL'S BRIDGE

Miss Laura Fulton spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Fulton.

Miss Helen Woods is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Woods.

Miss Flora Walker and Messrs. Allan and Leslie Walker are visiting at their parents, the Rev. and Mrs. J. Walker.

Miss Lily Shearer, Mr. Harry Ross and Miss Elsie Elliott visited Mrs. Shaw on Friday last.

Mr. John Elliott was a visitor to the city last week.

Mrs. Shaw and Miss Smith visited Mrs. Elliott on Monday.

On Sunday last Mrs. Elliott and Miss Elsie Elliott were visitors at Mrs. Shaws.

On Saturday last Mr. Harry Shearer and family motored to Toronto to meet Mrs. Shearer, who is visiting relatives there.

Man and Wife Gagged and Robbed at Night

A Finger Print Jails Robbers

Two men broke into a little shop in London, England, one night. They crept upstairs to a bed room where they knew the shopkeeper and his wife kept their money at night.

The man and his wife heard them, but before they could give an alarm or hide their money the robbers overcame them, tied them up with bed clothes and rendered them helpless. Then the robbers rifled the cash box and got away.

Long afterwards the two men were arrested on a totally different charge. Their finger prints were taken and the right thumb of one was found to be identical with a faint finger print that had been found on the cash box of the shopkeepers. Both men were sent down for long prison terms. The finger print had done its work.

Your Finger Prints

Your prints are dangerous in another way. They are not criminal prints of course but they may wreck your health. You leave them on everything you touch. Those prints are full of germs — disease germs of all kinds.

Where did you get them? Everywhere. From things that other hands have touched — a public telephone, a street car strap, dollar bills, books. People touched these things before you did — perhaps they were ill and coughed or breathed germs upon their hands.

So these germs get upon your hands. Then you touch a piece of bread, a candy, cake, or fruit in taking it to your mouth. The germs on your finger prints enter your system and make you ill. According to the Life Extension Institute there are 27 germ diseases that may be conveyed in this way.

It kills germs

We must avoid this danger. We must use a soap that will kill these germs or make them inactive. We should wash with it often—and always before meals. Any good soap will not do. Lifebuoy is the soap that makes us safe. It contains a germicide. Laboratory tests have proved its value.

A safe way — a luxurious way

Washing often with Lifebuoy Soap makes one safe from germs but it does more than that. It is a luxurious soap, based on two palm oils and its creamy lather is a delightful beauty treatment for the skin and complexion. Millions have found this to be true. They get all the joys of an exquisite skin soap. Protection from germs is there too.

Use Lifebuoy in the bath and you will be safe from body odours for many hours. No perfume in it—just a mild, refreshing, extra-clean scent which disappears after use, but tells you that you are safe and protected.

Children need Lifebuoy's protection. At school and at play they cannot escape disease germs.

Keep Lifebuoy on the wash basin so that all the family can benefit by its protection against germs. It will beautify their complexions and keep them healthy. Your dealer has Lifebuoy ready for you. Order a supply today.

Fire Is Threatening Bush At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, April 8.— Fire threatened a large portion of Ferris Woods, on the south boundary of the town. Owners, assisted by others, fought the flames for several hours and though the fire brigade was called at 2 p.m., the flames gained headway. Much damage has been caused to the privately owned extensive woodland tract which for many years has been opened generously to the public. It is one of the beauty spots of the Trent waterway system.

Miss Edith Woolcott, who died recently at Cheshire, England, left $500 to a doctor "who never overcharged" and twice the usual pay to the gravediggers who dug her grave.

Playing Hookey Is Often Step To Crime

TORONTO, Ont., Apr. 8.—(CP)—Playing hookey, often regarded lightly upon by parents, was said to be the first step toward criminal tendency in later life by E. T. Howe, of Windsor, speaking on school attendance at a session of the Ontario educational associations, convention here today.

Parents of this generation, Mr. Howe declared, were too ready to relegate their parental responsibilities to the school or other agencies and institutions.

As a remedy Mr. Howe suggested an increase in the number of school attendance officers which, he said, would mean a decrease in truancy and in crime.

Many large concerns in England are reducing salaries of officials and clerks.

Mattice were in charge yesterday of arrangements for the very pleasant and successful Trio tea held under the auspices of their March and April units of Trinity Women's Association, at the home of Mrs R. J. Kidd, Hunter Street West. The tea took its name from the trio of colors in which decorations were carried out. The table, with its lovely white cloth embroidered solidly in a water lily design, was centred by a silver basket holding mauve and pink tulips and yellow daffodils. The same tints were repeated in the candles and the mints and sandwiches were cut in triangular shape, while cakes were also in pink and yellow colors. The guests were received by Mrs. Kidd, assisted by Mrs. D. Wren and Mrs. Wainman, Sr. The tea room was in charge of Mrs. F. C. Neal and the sale of home-made marmalade and cooking was looked after by Mrs. J. A. Robinson and Mrs. A. R. Hoover. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. C. Switzer and Mrs. C. P. Borland, assisted by Mrs. D. M. Prizes for cards were won by Mrs. J. A. Northey and Mr. James Fulton, and the consolation award by Mr. Donald Sage.

There's a bright side to this story . . .

And two bright sides to this pan—for it's a Bon Ami-cleaned pan. Which means a clean pan, a polished pan and an unscratched pan.

Bon Ami gets things clean in a jiffy—without scratching and injuring what it cleans (remember, scratches make cleaning harder the next time). And Bon Ami won't make your hands get red or "smarty." (You know how important nice hands are today).

Use whichever form you prefer—the soft, snow-white Powder in its convenient, sifter-top can or the handy, compact Cake. Both forms are made of the same, scratchless ingredients—both are utterly odorless.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Very often lately when I have been visiting at homes in Peterborough, mothers with small daughters have said to me: "I don't know what the younger generation is coming to."

• • • • • • •

This remark was made because the daughters had evidently taken a great deal of interest in what was chosen for them to wear. Many of the mothers were somewhat vexed, but they shouldn't have been; indeed they should have been glad to know that the children were thus interested.

• • • • • • •

Modern psychologists, who are doing so much to advance the interests of parents in the development of the child's mind, emphasize the fact that as soon as they begin to show an understanding and appreciation of color and line, they should be permitted to use their own judgment to some extent.

• • • • • • •

Naturally it isn't wise to take a small child in a store and let her have the run of the place, so far as picking her own clothes is concerned.

• • • • • • •

A mother who is really anxious to train her child will do so so that as she matures she will be perfectly familiar with the technique of buying.

• • • • • • •

The wise mother will be happy in teaching her daughter and will get a lot of fun out of watching the youngster adopt a practical point of view.

• • • • • • •

When you take your little daughter shopping for her clothes this spring, it would be a good idea to first acquaint her with the new fashions by showing her the ones that appear in advertisements and style books and ask her whether she would like a green dress or blue one, or any color she might like.

• • • • • • •

As you look about you, no doubt you notice many women who can afford to spend quite a sum of money on clothes and who really do but who never appear well dressed.

• • • • • • •

They are lacking in good taste and it only stresses the importance of developing this sense for selectivity in the young child.

• • • • • • •

Then no matter how limited her earnings or allowance as she grows up, she will be able to serve as an example of that world-famed creature—the well-dressed Canadian woman, whose wardrobe is all style and economy and is entirely lacking in extravagance.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

The Debts I Owe

The bets I owe are many,
I cannot count them all;
Were prisons still for debtors,
For me, a prison wall.

And not alone in money
My obligations lie,
My debts are for strange values,
Sea song and April sky.

That one who came in gaily
To share a cup of tea,
When all my life lay shattered
Brought courage back to me!

The friend who brought red roses
One day of wintry dearth,
Gave more than any flowers
That ever bloomed on Earth.

I cannot half repay them,
The countless debts I owe,
With some among them greatest
To those who do not know.

BAZAAR OPENED IN ASHBURNHAM

Hall Well Decorated For Immaculate Conception Church Bazaar.

HOT SUPPER SERVED.

In the Community Hall of Ashburnham the annual bazaar opened yesterday under the supervision of the ladies of the East City parish of the Immaculate Conception Church. The big hall is bright with decoration in blue and white for the Easter Week event and the ladies have gathered together a quantity of lovely things in useful and pretty pieces of sewing and handicraft.

From five to eight o'clock each day until Thursday night, the ladies are serving a hot supper of home-made cooking, at tables attractively arranged with Easter lilies and other spring flowers. The convenor of the supper room is Mrs. James Flynn.

At the booth devoted to the sale of clothing and fancy work, Mrs. D. Hummell is in charge, and Mrs. R. McAulliffe has charge of the large sale of useful and pretty things in the country store, where anything from a bag of flour to a beautifully turned-out quilt, may be purchased. Mrs. T. O'Brien has the sale of cigars and cigarettes and the young ladies of the Sodality, with Miss Geraldine McAuliffe as head, sell home-made candy and ice cream in a booth arranged on the stage. A ale of hot dogs and coffee is supervised by Mrs. W. J. Moher.

For the "little horses" game which provides amusement, especially during the evening hours, P. J. Devlin and J. Garvey are in charge.

NEW POINT RISES IN RUM SEIZURES

Vessel Seized Claims It Was Forced Into U. S. Waters on Account of Distress.

AGROUND WHEN TAKEN.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 8 (C.P.). — The raising of a new point in legal tangles arising from seizure of foreign rum smuggling vessels is disclosed by the Justice Department in the case of the British vessel Algie.

The oil burner, laden with 2,580 packages of assorted liquors, was seized on February 5 about 200 yards offshore near Montauk Point, L.I.

Its captain and crew of 10 men contended the vessel was forced into United States waters on account of distress. The Algie was aground when seized.

The question will be raised, the Department said, as to whether the claim of distress can legally be made by a vessel under the circumstances indicated when the ship contained liquor intended to be illegally introduced in the United States. The allegation is further made that the Algie has been engaged in liquor activities for an extended period of time.

DESCENDANTS LAST FRENCH KING UNITED IN MARRIAGE AT PALERMO

Aristocracy and Nobility of Europe Attend Wedding of Count of Paris and Princess Isabelle.

RESIDE NEAR BRUSSELS.

PALERMO, Sicily, April 8 (A.P.)—Prince Henri, Count of Paris, and Princess Isabelle of Orleans and Bragance, both descendants of the last King of France, were married here this forenoon in a ceremony witnessed by many of the highest aristocracy and nobility of Europe.

The ceremony was performed by Cardinal Lavitrano, Archbishop of Palermo, who at first had withdrawn from the wedding arrangements in a protest of the Holy See against attendance of two editors considered inimical to the church.

The Vatican withdrew its objections to his participation yesterday, when, it is believed, it was pointed out that the excommunited editors, Leon Daudet and Charles Maurras, would be present only as journalists and not as guests.

The wedding took place in the Cathedral at Palermo, near the Villa d'Aumale, which is the property of the Duke of Guise, father of Prince Henri and Pretender to the French Throne, and was the site of the Louis Philippe's exile at the time of Napoleon's abdication.

Over 1,000 Attend

More than 1,000 persons were present. They included representatives of most of the royal houses of Europe, both those still ruling and those deposed, and of almost every other noble and aristocratic house of the continent.

The bride, who is 18, was given away by her father, Prince Pierre of Orleans and Bragance. After the ceremony bride and bridegroom and guests attended a wedding luncheon in five giant pavilions erected for the occasion on the villa grounds. The Prince is 23.

The marriage took place at Palermo, since French law forbids presumptive claimants of a house which has never occupied the throne of France to live within the country's bounds. The couple will make their home after a while at the Chateau Agimont, near Brussels, Belgium, which was the wedding gift of the bridegroom's father.

ICE ON WINGS BLAMED FOR CRASH

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 8 (A.P.)—A coating of ice upon the plane's wings was blamed officially yesterday for the crash that carried Knute Rockne, football wizard of Notre Dame, and seven others to their death at Bazaar, Kansas, March 31.

Originally the Commerce Department's aeronautic inspectors expressed the opinion a broken propellor caused the crash, but in a statement issued late yesterday this judgment was changed.

Refitting of the Chilean warship Almirante Latorre, which just is being completed at Devonport, England, cost $7,500,000 and gave work to nearly 3,000 men in the last 18 monhts.

At 65 what — Tired or Retired?

WILL any adequate provision be made for your old age except what you arrange yourself?

Here's how you can fix things for yourself:

You can arrange for a guaranteed income of $100.00 a month for life, commencing at age 65. (If you prefer cash there will be a guaranteed sum of $13,020 awaiting you.)

From the moment you make your first deposit, your family has $10,000 life insurance protection.

Present dollars cannot buy future happiness to better advantage. For instance, a man age 34 can procure a $100.00 a month pension by an annual deposit at the rate of $28.25 a month.

Annual dividends greatly reduce the premiums or increase the benefits.

If you have to provide for your own future out of present income, you can get a London Life proposal to meet your particular requirements without obligation.

Windsorites Win International League Honors

BORDER CITY SEXTET HOLDS HERD TO DRAW

International League Teams Battle Through Overtime Period to Scoreless Tie.

CAPTURE OKE TROPHY.

Repeated Bison Attacks of No Avail Against Stubborn Windsor Defense.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8.—(CP)—For the second time in three years Windsor has produced the winner of the International Hockey League. Last night the bulldogs of that city invaded the home rink of the Buffalo Bisons and by holding them to a scoreless draw finished the round robin series with 13 points against 11 for Mickey Roach's clever little team, to capture the Oke Trophy, symbolic of the King loop title.

Cleveland Indians finished third in the series with 10 points while the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets, who finished fourth in the league standing to qualify for the play-offs, failed to win a game.

The final game of the championship series brought together the highest scoring machine in the league—the Bulldogs, against a team noted for an unusually clever defensive system. During the regular 48 game season the Windsorites notched 141 goals and had 114 scored against them. The Bisons, due to the fine work of their clever young goal guardian, Billy Taugher, had only 76 counters chalked up against them while they beat opposing netminders for 115.

However, the Bulldogs showed they could play just as good defensive hockey as the Bisons when the occasion demanded and their close checking and steady rearguard work more than surprised the bewildered Buffalonians, who believed the Bulldogs main forte was offensive play.

This is the second successive year Roach has led his Bisons into the play-off final and the popular coach was bitterly disappointed when his well balanced team failed to net a goal during the 70 minutes gruelling play and take a professional hockey championship to Buffalo for the first time in history.

EUROPE WILL GIVE CANADIANS REAL OPPOSITION IN HOCKEY

Canadian Coach in Poland Thinks Highly of Their Chances at Olympic Games.

EUROPE HOCKEY MAD

By R. C. READE

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright, 1931)

TORONTO, Ont., April 8 — The Winnipeg team has won the Allan Cup and is entitled to be considered the best amateur hockey sextet in Canada, which means in this game, the world.

But does it mean the world?

You would no doubt think it ridiculous to suggest that a team could be got together in Europe to beat them. Yet that is what Harold Farlow says.

Mr. Farlow is a prominent O.H.A. referee who at the invitation of the Polish government went last year to Poland to become hockey dictator and prepare the Polish team for European tournament. While he was in Poland his picture was on every movie screen and on the front page of every newspaper and he stole the publicity limelight from Pilsudski, the political dictator.

His pupils, though beaten by Canadian and American teams, defeated every other European team. Mr. Farlow's fame as a hockey pedagogue and that Hungary has engaged him and strategist became so great in the next year to be the hockey maestro at Budapest.

"Hockey in Europe," said he, "is not the comic strip variety which most people on this continent imagine it to be. The Manitoba Grads and Boston team won by small scores and had to fight hard for every goal they got. I would not hesitate to say that from the Poles, Czechs, Hungarians, Germans and Austrians I could pick a team which if three months together, could beat any senior team in Ontario and beat them decisively."

For instance there was Sokolowski, or "Soke" the best player in Europe, a Polish Howie Morenz, 180 pounds in weight, as strong as steel and as swift as a swallow. "If he were here for two years he would make any professional team."

And there was Molliczeck, the Czecho-Slovakian cyclone, who could skate backward faster than other men could skate forward, and stealing the puck from the sticks of attacking forwards, break away like a sprinter from starting blocks.

Like Robinson Crusoe

"Blake Watson of the Manitoba Grads called him a second Hughie Plaxton. And he's right."

When Mr. Farlow reached Poland on December 10th, he was a little like Robinson Crusoe. He had to start from zero and until he found a Man Friday he could not communicate with his pupils. One of them had a few words of English and through him he managed to give instruction to the others.

"I was told," said Mr. Farlow, "that it takes at least 6 years to learn Polish and I was there two months."

Sixty of the elite of Polish athletic youth had been gathered from all over the country to the hockey capital, Katowice, which possessed an artificial ice arena that could seat over 5,000 people.

"One of them," said he, "was the champion tennis player and he proved to be as good in front of the net as behind the net. But the majority of the sixty had scarcely the slightest notion of the game. They had skates of every description, including the old-fashioned variety with spring clasps. And they had only one hockey word which was "shoot."

"I put the whole 60 on the ice together. That was the maddest scramble you ever saw. I then began to weed them out and got them down to thirty. I'd blow my whistle and my man Friday who would break the sad news. My final squad numbered 20. All those who went home were given a list of questions and answers and they set up as hockey instructors."

They were heroes even though they had not made the team. The Polish government declared hockey a major subject in the schools and caused a series of motion pictures to be made for instructional purposes. The right way to make a play was shown and also the wrong way. These pictures were thrown on the screen in all the schools of Poland.

Quick on Body Check

"What do they call the game?"

"It's hockey," said he, "but of the other teams they only had "shoot" to start with. When I taught them to pass they called it "podai." They were quick to pick up "body check." When a forward started a rush the crowd would keep shouting "body check," "body check." They also used the word goal.'

Referees have often been publicly berated in Canada for moronic incompetence. But Mr. Farlow had a word of consolation for all Canadian bell ringers. He declared the European referees easily the world's worst.

Honor to be Referee

It is a great honor in Europe to be a referee. There is only one and he is a sacrosanct person. No player ever thinks of disputing his decision.

"Once in Berlin a French-Canadian on the Boston team lost his head and actually assaulted the referee. The crowd was intensely indignant. And yet they knew he was a poor referee."

"Does hockey appeal to European women?" I inquired.

"I should say it does," he replied. "They are the most ardent fans."

Are Ecstatic Over Hockey

And then his face saddened. He was reminded of the greatest tragedy of his Polish experience. He could confirm the opinion of Napoleon and Balzac as to the beauty of Polish women. Nowhere had he seen girls more graceful in form and feature and they had for a hockey hero and particularly for a trainer of hockey heroes the cult that Spanish senoritas have for a matador.

But though a whole feminine world smiled at him he could not speak a word of their language.

"They are a wonderful people," said he, "and I think they get more fun out of life than we do. They certainly extract more ecstacy from hockey. The game has made a complete conquest of Europe. The ambition of every boy is to be on an Olympic team, preferably a hockey team, and the Winnipeg Allan Cup holders must not imagine that they are going to have a walk-over in the Olympic tournament at Lake Placid next winter."

One of the proofs of devotion to a sport is willingness to pay for it. Hockey in Europe is not a sixpenny affair like English cricket.

"At the tournament," said Mr. Farlow, "the average price of admission for the six thousand spectators was $1.50, and in Berlin the best seats are $6.

Toilers Crush Caps On The Round 53-40

REGINA, Sask., April 8.—(By the Canadian Press.) — Lynn Sinclair's Winnipeg Toilers trekked onward last night toward their third Canadian basketball title. The Manitoba champions, who eliminated the Thunder Bay winners, crushed Regina Capitals, Saskatchewan titlists, by 39 to 18 in the second match of a two-game round. Toilers won the round 53 to 40.

They now proceed westward into the western semi-final against Raymond Jacks, Alberta champs, for the right to meet British Columbia University in the western final. Toilers meet Raymond Friday and Saturday.

RECRUIT WILL OPEN SEASON FOR ST. LOUIS

19-year Old Hurler From Western Association Picked By Brown Management.

MICKEY HEATH O.K.

Bambino Kid, Babe Ruth Connects for Double and Single at Ashville on Tuesday.

Out of a maze of uncertainty about the St. Louis Browns, two certainties appeared at Wichita, Kas., today. Walter Stewart will open the season against the Detroit Tigers at St. Louis next Tuesday and Wallace (Lefty) Hebert, recruit pitcher, has made the grade.

Stewart, in essaying the opening role, is cast instead of Sam Gray, to whom the assignment has been given for the past three years. Hebert, only 19 years old, was a semi-pro at Lake Charles, La., two years ago, and last year pitched for Springfield, Mo., in the Western Association.

The fear that Mickey Heath, Cincinnati Red first baseman, might not be in the opening day line up next week, because of an injury to his leg, suffered in an exhibition game in Florida, has been dispelled by an x-ray picture.

An examination made at Louisville Ky., showed no serious injury. Heath will take prescribed exercises to speed his recovery.

The Cleveland Indians, last of the major leaguers to break camp, were on their homeward jaunt to-day from New Orleans, La., jubilant that they finally found their batting eyes in their final with New Orleans yesterday. They were due at Birmingham for a two-day stand.

The prodigal bambino finally has returned to Asheville, N.C., after six years to make his peace with Asheville fans.

It was just six years ago that the Babe, scheduled to display his home run technique at the local park, collapsed in a big way at the railroad station and was rushed to the hospital with a stomach ache that was felt around the baseball world.

As if to make up for the disappointment he caused on that occasion, Ruth belted a double and single yesterday to help lick the Asheville Tourists, 5 to 2.

Lefty Grove was Connie Mack's probable starting pitcher in to-day's continuation of the Athletics-Phillies city baseball series. Manager Shotton, Phillies' pilot, intimated he might send Ace Elliott back for another shot at the champions, in view of his success against them last week. The series stands 2 to 1 in favor of the Phils.

The A's have been without the services of Earnshaw and Simmons, both of whom are still in Hot Springs. Mack has told them to report by Friday as he is anxious to learn Earnshaw's condition at first hand. H has been told that the big right-hander was in great shape and ready, but there have been rumors that Earnshaw had not fully recovered from a recent illness.

I think George is all right, Mack said, but we'll know for sure by the end of the week.

First League Games Of Baseball Season

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 8.—Baseball received a tumultuous welcome yesterday as the 1931 Pacific Coast League season opened with games in four California cities.

Nearly 50,000 fans turned out for the contests, played at San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento and Los Angeles. Warm weather prevailed.

San Francisco's Seals dedicated their new $1,250,000 stadium with an 8-to-0 win over Portland.

Tuesday's scores:

At Oakland—Missions, 0; Oakland, 2.

At Los Angeles—Seattle, 3; Los Angeles, 1.

At San Francisco—Portland, 0; San Francisco, 8.

At Sacramento — Hollywood, 6; Sacramento, 1.

SHARKEY TO BOX PRIMO CARNERA

New York Commission to Recognize Bout as For World's Title.

Situation Again in Muddle.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Apr. 8.—(CP)—Unless something happens to upset the current dope, it appears that there will be two fights for two heavyweight championships of the world this summer.

Max Schmeling is slated to defend his title against "Young Willie" Stribling in Cleveland, probably in July, and now it develops that lumbering Primo Carnera of Italy and Jack Sharkey has been matched for a bout at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn on June 10 and the winner probably will be recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission as champion.

Reports current for some time that Jimmy Johnston, who shifted his role from manager to promoter, had opened his battle against the Madison Square Garden Corporation by signing up a rival heavyweight attraction were crystallized yesterday with the definite news of the date for the 15 round scrap. Several kinks in the program still must be straightened out but unofficial word from the boxing solons indicated that the commission would lend a hand at this business.

Officially the commission announced that Carnera, suspended after his famous fungo hitting tour, will be reinstated sooner or later. Unofficially it was made known that he reinstatement would be in time for a meeting with Sharkey and that the contract the Ambling Alp has with the Garden for a meeting with the winner of the Schmeling-Stribling bout would be overlooked by the commission. Half the profits of the Ebbets Field show, it is understood, will be given to New York charities.

There still remains the chance that the Garden will attempt to hold Carnera to his agreement to meet Schmeling or Stribling. The giant Italian posted a $35,000 binder which stood until the New York milk fund withdrew from the western show. The New York commission is not likely to recognize his claim, however, as Schmeling is under suspension here and the garden is in the bad graces of the boxing authorities because of its connection with the Schmeling-Stribling go.

Mills Goes Route, But Leafs Lose 4-2

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 8. — Pitcher Arthur Mills went the route against the Indianapolis Indians here yesterday afternoon, but the Toronto Leafs could not do any effective hitting behind him, and he had to accept a 4 to 2 defeat. It was the first of three exhibition games which the Leafs play at Washington Park here this week.

Mills permitted the Indians eight hits, four of which were bunched in the second inning for two runs. A clever double play in this frame aided Mills, for following it, Emmet McCann, making his first appearance in an Indianapolis uniform, clouted a home run over the left field fence. Mills yielded four hits in the last six frames, but the Indians clustered two hard singles behind an error by the usually reliable Rogell to get the winning runs in the fifth.

The Leafs collected only five hits off the combined offerings of 'Lefty' Hall and Leslie Barnhart. Hill, the starting pitcher, is a sturdy youngster obtained from Quincy in the Three I. League. The Leafs bunched three of their hits off him in the fourth for their only counters. Barnhart, a right-hander, worked the last four innings and held the Leafs to one hit, a single by Mills.

Saint John Trojans Win Maritime Title

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 8 (C.P.)—The Maritime Province senior basketball championship was won by the St. John Trojans here last night by their defeat of the St. Francis University, Antigonish, N.S., squad with a score of 54 to 17. This, with the score in the first game gave the locals a total of 109 points to their opponents' 48.

The Trojans now invade Montreal to stage a two-game series with Nalacs, Quebec-Ottawa champions.

The winner of the Montreal series will proceed into Ontario, where St. Catharines hold sway as senior champions.

PROMINENT LACROSSE OFFICIALS MEET

MEN OF PROMINENCE IN NATIONAL GAME

Many notables in the lacrosse world were in attendance at the annual meeting of the Ontario Lacrosse Association, which was held on Good Friday, at Toronto, when much of importance to the game generally was discussed. Three presidents are shown in the above group; No. 2, W. J. Blainey of Toronto, O.A.L.A. chief; No. 3, A. E. Lyon of Brantford, president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association; and No. 4, Len Smith, Toronto, president of the Amateur Lacrosse Federation of the World. No. 1 is Gene Dopp of Toronto, perpetual secretary of the O.A.L.A. and a worker from away back.

Betty Dix Perkins Qualifies For Round

SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, Greensboro, N.C., April 8.—(C.P.)—Miss Betty Dix Perkins, dashing young British linkswoman, whose 18-hole 85 won the medal, faced Mrs. J. C. Witcher, Danville, Va., to-day in the first round matches of the Dogwood golf tournament.

Miss Perkins defied a wet course to finish one stroke under 86 of Miss Helen Waring, Pinehurst, and Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City veteran, who tied for second place in the medal play yesterday.

Steady-shooting Peggy Wattles of Bufalo, N.Y., was next with an 87. She was paired with Mrs. J. T. Gold, of High Point, N. C., for to-day's match round.

Miss Waring met Isabell Smith, Mount Airy, N.C., and Mrs. Hill was matched with Elizabeth Wattles, Buffalo.

CANADIENS FAVORED TO WIN THIRD GAME

Injured Players Responding to Treatment—Howie Morenz to Play.

MONTREAL, Apr. 8.—As the Chicago Black Hawks will not arrive until this morning, principal interest today in the forthcoming renewal of their Stanley Cup tussle with Montreal Canadiens centred around the physical condition of the present Stanley Cup holders.

The teams will clash on Thursday night, again on Saturday, and if a fifth game is necessary it is tentatively set for next Tuesday. Each team won a game in the first two games at Chicago on Friday and Sunday last.

The chief worry in the Canadien camp centres around "Howie" Morenz, cyclonic centre player, who was hard hit by Taffy Abel on Sunday, sustaining a wrenched shoulder. His condition, however, was reported as improved, and he is a certainty to play. Morenz feels affronted that he has not scored a single goal in seven play-off games.

Pete Lepine, who suffered a fractured finger Friday, is responding to treatment, while Armand Mondou and Albert Leduc, who have been in hospital since the Boston series, were out for skating practice today. Both appeared wobbly, but will probably be in uniform for Thursday night, even if not used much.

The future success of Peterborough depends upon the whole-hearted support which the citizens give and the definite program of work outlined by the Chamber of Commerce.

LARGE NUMBER OF DELEGATES IS EXPECTED

City League Annual Meeting to be Held in Duffus' Bowling Academy.

POPULAR IN BASEBALL.

League Has Done Much to Put City in Limelight of Sports World.

Once more the City Baseball League prepares for another summer's activities. To-night, the regular annual meeting takes place. It will begin at 7.30 in the Board Room of the Duffus Bowling Academy and a large representative gathering is expected to be present.

The City Baseball League has become quite a sporting institution in Peterborough, and has done much to put this city on the baseball map the last eight years. During this period, the City League has brought six championships here, and have always had teams in the semi-finals. No other town in the province with the exception of Toronto has duplicated this. And so this league deserves the backing of local fandom in this summer's race. Already, a number of teams have signified their intentions of entering the league and to-night's meeting will find several new entries in the different divisions. Kiwanis will have a junior team and probably a bantam one also. Rotary is entering a juvenile outfit, and the Kinsmen's Club may do the same. All Saints' Boys Club will likely have a team in one of the classes, and the Star Athletic Club should have a junior entry. Pat Calladine has a juvenile aggregation all lined up, and another East City entry will be Choates', probably in the junior section. And the Duffus' crew may possibly get into the City League also. Besides these, several other sportsmen have been thinking of rounding up teams for this year. Some of the other local clubs and factories have been, or will be, approached and invited to enter this league, and they will likely be heard from soon.

The O.B.A.A. convention here last week stimulated interest in baseball in Peterborough, and is directly responsible for several of the entries. The league hopes to get off to an earlier start this Spring than usual, and with the number of entries rapidly increasing, there should be no difficulty on this score.

To-night at the meeting, the election of officers and the entering of teams will take up most of the time. However, the matter of playing fields and other questions pertaining to the City Baseball League will also be discussed.

CASUAL COMMENT

To-night the City Baseball League meets at the Duffus Bowling Alleys. Starts at 7.30 and that shouldn't mean eight. Officers for the year will be elected, and entries into the various divisions made. Everyone interested is urged to attend.

* * * * * * *

See where the softball this summer will be one inch smaller than formerly. There was considerable discussion over it at the Paris convention last Friday, and those in favor of the smaller ball just won on the votes, and that's all.

* * * * * * *

In view of the new ball, first-basemen are permitted to wear gloves in future. Of course, that means a finger-mitt.

* * * * * * *

Gene Hurtubise has promised to referee the Harris-Wilman wrestling match at the Armouries Friday night. Well, they couldn't have got a better man. Gene knows the rassiin' racket inside out, having been quite a grappler himself for a long, long time.

* * * * * * *

And we have a hunch that the powerful referee can still throw a mean hammerlock when he cares to. It was only a few years back when touring midway wrestlers developed surprising cases of bashfulness when confronted by the same Gene.

* * * * * * *

The way the tickets are going it looks like that boxing card was just what a lot of people were waiting for. They'll see a smart pair in the headliners with the two Toronto scrappers. Len Post is an aggressive, hard-hitting welter, and he knows the game, too.

* * * * * * *

Reg. Lesurf has a stance like old Bob Fitzsimmons had. His feet are in close to his opponent, but his head is back out of range. And can he hit? Like a ton of brick, with either hand.

* * * * * * *

All in all, it has all the earmarks of a nifty boxing card. And that means for the ladies, too. There's quite a number of the fair sex who enjoy good bouts, and they're invited as well as the men to this tournament.

* * * * * * *

The Stars, City Hockey League champs, were out in force last night, but it was not for a game. They fork-handled and back-checked their way to an easy win over a fowl banquet down at Manager H. C. Jay's house.

* * * * * * *

What a feed it was! Anyway, a large evening was had by them all. The boys want to again thank Mr. Jay for the enjoyable time.

* * * * * * *

Wonder what the girls around here are going to do in softball this summer. There should be a few good teams organized and play some of the teams in the district, if there is not enough local competition.

* * * * * * *

Fraserville, Keene, Norwood, and Warsaw will all likely have girls' teams again this year, and what about Peterborough? The girls at the Westclox may enter a team, having a number of smart players, and surely a few more local outfits can be organized.

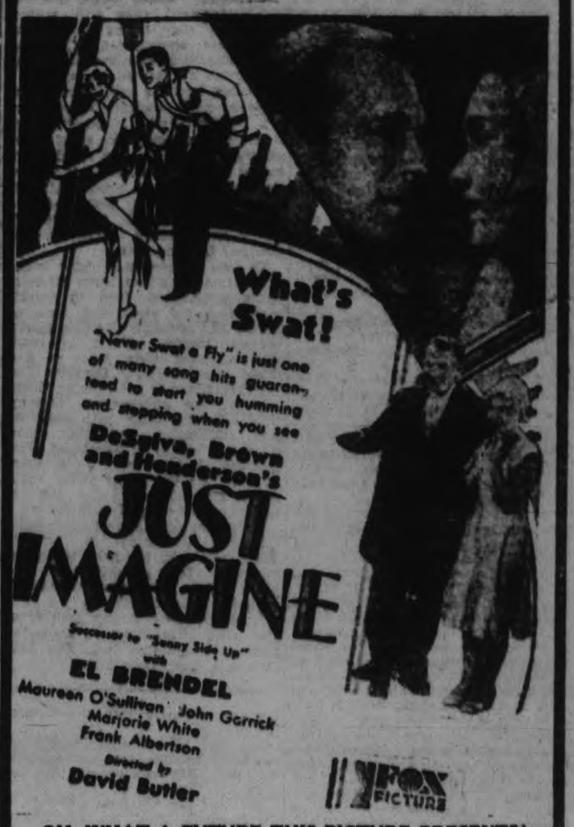
* * * * * * *

How come girls' softball is such an almost unheard of sport in this town, now? It was very popular not so long ago, and drew a great deal bigger crowds than men's games. It's about time someone got busy and did something about it.

* * * * * * *

The girls should call a general meeting of softball enthusiasts in a week or so, and see what's what. No use of putting it off too long. Get squared around now and maybe a local league could be organized. At any rate, a district league could easily be formed. It's worth thinking over.

Regent TO-DAY
Thursday & Friday



OH, WHAT A FUTURE THIS PICTURE PRESENTS!

Remember the old family album? Uncle Charlie's sideburns and Aunt Hattie's hips? You'll find more laughs in 1980 than you get out of 1890—all of them in "Just Imagine," with lively dances, tuneful songs and lots of romance. Biggest novelty of the year, it reveals future past present belief.

THEATRES

"JUST IMAGINE."

If you ever happen to take a journey to Mars and are confronted by one of the giant humans that grow there, seize him by the lobe of the ear and all will be well. The heel of Achilles may have been the vulnerable spot for the earth-dweller, but the ear-lobe stunt does the trick on that famous planet that we hear so much about.

That is just one of the hilarious bits of wisdom that may be gleaned from the picture, "Just Imagine," here for four days this week at the Regent Theatre.

Instead of treating the life of the future in the grim mechanical fashion that obtains in some of these glimpses into distant days, the producers have chosen some fantastic comedy into the affair by giving much of the central attention to a comedian, a gentleman with a strong Teutonic accent who arrives in 1980 via a peculiar route—from a casket. He was buried in this year of grace, 1930, but the scientific medicos of the future galvanize him into life again and he does a lot of helpful work, particularly on Mars.

The journey to this planet by three adventurers is made in a rocket plane and the life of that terrestrial world is pictured in the most engaging fashion. It has been said that Mars is red, in contradistinction to the green earth on which we live, but that is not indicated in the picture. Vegetation like a hanging garden—people who come in pairs, one good and one bad, identically alike—metallic clothes and Satanic eyebrows on the ladies—a grim idol with rolling eyes whose worshippers dance madly before him—these are features of Martian life.

Alas, the women of 1980 appear to be little, meek morons. The producer does not care for feminine wisdom, perhaps, and the ladies have certainly deteriorated. The clothes are peculiar, to say the least. The women wear geometrically patterned gowns, when they are not appearing in uniforms that are a combination of a slit apron and a pair of step-ins, and the men are foolish-looking in little hats like those of an Alpine guide, minus the feather, and evening dress that runs to stripes.

The cause of the whole affair and of the Martian journey is the marriage law of half a century hence, when people are paired off by the state, and are supposed to like it. Because J21 (they go by numbers in that enlightened time) wants to marry LM 18, a pretty but inane little creature (Maureen O'Sullivan) and because his rival, MT 3, wishes likewise to wed her, the former suitor takes the journey to Mars and wins the lady. The value of women, even if they are not very wise, seems to increase in the next fifty years.

The hero has a nice baritone voice that he uses to advantage in several likeable songs and there is plenty of merriment in the capers of the comedian before mentioned. As a piece of good entertainment, besides giving just a glimpse of what things might very well have turned to, in another five decades, "Just Imagine" is a splendid production.

—Jeanette.

AT THE CAPITOL

RADIO ENTERTAINERS

George Wade and his Corn Huskers, the regular Saturday night feature over Radio Station CKGW, appear in person at the Capitol Theatre to-night. Last night, for their first appearance, they had large crowds of admirers to welcome them.

This music, the very opposite to its opposing favorites, the classical and jazz compositions that have their appeal for differing elements among music-lovers, seems to have a universal appeal. It is something like that smell of new-mown hay that drifts along behind a laden wagon, to hear the toe-tickling, jolly music of an old barn dance, with its insistent rhythmic beat and the merriment of its happy measures.

This gay sextette, sawing away at their fiddles, plunking along on their banjos and guitar strings, whistling through the reeds of their mouth organs, with the piano banging away in the background, wear checked shirts and overalls, braces and cow-breakfast hats. George Wade is their leader and announces the solo performers: Sid Jackson with his silver accordeon and its smooth music, playing "Dixie" and other favorites, and then forsaking his instrument to do a step dance and a series of lively somersaults; George himself with his harmonica; Bill Martin playing "The Mocking Bird" on his fiddle; and George Urquhart singing "My Gal, Sal" and then coming on again to do a kiddy song stunt. For this, George wears an engaging outfit in half hose, a pink panty dress and some golden curls, and he sings, in falsetto imitation of a five-year-old, in a manner to bring the house down, winding up with "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles" to the echo of resounding applause.

As an ensemble, the Corn Huskers opened their program with "Memories," followed by "A Hot Time" and the tapping music of the "Aerobat Reel."

GRIDIRON GOSSIP GETS EARLY START

Several Changes in "Big Four" Coaching Appointments Likely.

MONTREAL, April 8. — Football gossip is already astir in Montreal now that the snow has disappeared. The report is that Lionel Conacher, one-time "Big Train" of Canadian football, and now a star defenceman with the Montreal Maroons Professional Hockey Club, is mentioned as a possible coach for the Ottawa Senators in the Big Four football group.

It is also said that Frank "Shag" Shaughnessy will return to Montreal to coach either McGill University or the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association Winged Wheel squad.

Bill Hughes, one-time coach of Queen's, and last season mentor of the Winged Wheelers, is mentioned for Mike Rodden's job, coaching the Hamilton Tigers. Rodden has definitely severed connections with the Tigers, and is said to be headed for University of Toronto, where he will coach the Blue team in the Intercollegiate loop.

CONACHER FOR SENATORS?

OTTAWA, April 8. — Officials of the Ottawa Club in the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union have been in touch with Lionel Conacher, seeking his services as Senator coach for the coming season, but a definite settlement has not been reached. Eddie Emerson, president of the Senator Club, made this statement yesterday, adding that further negotiations would be carried on with Conacher, one-time peer of Canada's football fields and now of the Montreal Maroons Club in the National Hockey League.

Dr. "Andy" Davies coached the Ottawa squad last season, but he has let it be known he does not again wish to take up the duties owing to pressure of his professional business.

Drivers And Dogs Set For All-Alaska Race

NOME, Alaska, April 8.—(C.P.) — The pick of the Northland's dog teams and drivers were ready here to-day for the starting gun to send them off to Golovin and return, a distance of 158 miles, in the annual All-Alaska championship dog derby.

The course is over a rugged trail which is frequently swept by sudden Arctic storms and the race in the past has often become a battle with the elements as well as a test of speed.

Among the entries was Joe Stickman's string of Farbanks prize winners. A new leader for Stickman's team was brought here from Nlato by plane a week ago.

Baseball to Pay College Expenses Of Miss Mitchell

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 8 (A.P.)—An ambition to go to college is the main reason Miss Jackie Mitchell, organized baseball's only girl pitcher, signed a contract with the Chattanooga Lookouts, of the Southern Association.

In a letter to C. J. Kellem, secretary of the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce to-day, the 17-year-old girl who fanned Babe Ruth here last week, said:

"It is my intention to go to college and my contract with the Lookouts is a big financial help."

FROM POLITICS TO BASEBALL

GOVERNOR, SENATOR, DOCTOR, AND NOW BALL PLAYER

With the young man at the left in a Cleveland Indian uniform, it looks like that team will win the American League pennant, sure. The young man is Governor Huey P. Long, senator-elect from Louisiana. He is being welcomed as a member of the Indians by President Alva Bradley of the club.

ARSENAL LIKELY TO WIN LEAGUE

West Bromwich Has Good Chance to Advance to First Division.

SEASON ENDS MAY 2.

LONDON, April 8. (C. P. Cable). With the heavy Easter program of league soccer matches ended yesterday, English clubs started on the last stretch. The season ends on May 2. In the first division Arsenal have a five-point lead in the championship table and as their remaining four matches are with teams they should beat the laurels already look to be theirs. The Villa have a mathematical chance to win the league cup, but Arsenal's lead looks safe. Leeds United and Manchester United are expected to go down into the second division.

Everton has already won the championship of the second division and promotion to the first division, which section they left last season. The second team to be promoted has not been decided yet, as Tottenham Hotspurs and West Bromwich Albion both have a chance. Just now the Albion seem to have the edge as Tottenham failed miserably against Cardiff, the poorest team in the division table, in holiday matches, while, West Bromwich did much better. Cardiff and Reading are likely candidates for demotion.

In the southern section of the third division Notts County have won promotion into the second division.

The championship of the northern section is still undecided. Lincoln City and Tranmere Rovers being tied on points in first place.

Outside of the Saturday fixtures games were played during the holidays for the most part in a dreary drizzle.

SPRINGFIELD WINS FROM BOSTON 3-2

Indians Even Series For Canadian-American Hockey Series.

BOSTON, April 8.—The Springfield Indians evened the hockey play-off series for the Canadian-American League championship by a 3 to 2 victory over the Boston Bruins Cubs before 15,000 in the Boston Garden last night. The game was tied at two-all late in the third period, when Carrigen, Springfield spare, cornered the puck at mid-ice and lined a long shot in the general direction of the Boston goal. The puck caromed off Pratt, Cubs' defence man, into the net catching Goalie Grant unawares.

The series is now two victories each. The deciding game will be played at Springfield.

Quebec Election Seen Between May 18-June 1

MONTREAL, Que., Apr. 8.—In a despatch from Quebec City today the Gazette says that unless unforseen developments occur in the political situation in this province, electors will go to the polls to choose members of the next Legislature between May 18 and June 1.

It is most likely that on his return from Ottawa, where he is attending the interprovincial conference, the Quebec Premier and his colleagues will start making the necessary preparations to start immediately the vast construction program ahead, which includes millions for bridges, highways and public buildings, and also to put in force several of the new laws which were passed at the last session of the Legislature, the despatch says.

SCIENTISTS OPEN FOUR DAY MEET

Many Whose Names Are Internationally Known Gather in Montreal.

300 PAPERS TO BE HEARD.

MONTREAL, Que., April 8 (C.P.) —Leading scientists of North America, numbering nearly 1,000, assemble in Montreal to-day for the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for experimental biology, which is to last four days. Many whose names are internationally known will be among the visitors and several hundred papers are to be read.

To-day will be devoted to council meetings at headquarters, the Mount Royal Hotel. To-morrow the scientific meetings will begin at McGill University.

About 300 papers will be summarized in the course of the meetings, many of these by McGill research workers. Professor J. B. Collip, whose brilliant work with placental horomones has received much attention recently, has, in collaboration with others in his department at McGill, compiled a paper on this subject.

One of the outstanding papers to be read is that by J. J. Pfiffner on the crotical horomone of the adrenal gland. It is reported that a cure has now been discovered for diseases attacking the adrenal gland, which were formerly fatal. These cases, known as Addison's disease, have already been treated successfully, it is understood, and the paper to be read will be the first published on account of the work which led to the discovery of this new treatment. Scientists have accounted it no less spectacular as a cure than the discovery of insulin.

Plan Memorial Park Where Rockne Crashed

STRONG CITY, Kan., April 8 —A national movement to erect a monument and lay out a small park at the exact spot where Knute K. Rockne Notre Dame football coach, and several other persons were killed near here recently in an airplane crash, was started to-day.

New government buildings are to be constructed in Madagascar.

PARIS IS PRESSING FOR FOREIGN LOANS

Efforts By Market, Bank and Press to Remove Obstacles in the Way.

PARIS, April 8.—The addition to the bank's gold reserve shown by Thursday's statement, which was only 13,000,000 francs, or less than half a million dollars, indicated the extent to which gold imports have been arrested since sterling rates moved against Paris. At the end of last week sterling rose for the first time in many months above par, reaching 124.21 per cent. It fell only slightly this week, when French banks were drawing on their London funds to meet month-end requirements at Paris.

So long as the London discount rate is maintained above 2½ per cent, the sterling market will remain firm, reflecting investment of French funds in short-term loans at London. The Bank of France, far from disapproving such investments, encourages them. In line with the announcement by the governor of the bank at the recent annual meeting, the bank is already preparing to allow free export of gold if the exchange market situation were to warrant it. The bank realizes that the enormous volume of its present gold reserve confers certain obligations on the Paris market and indicates that Paris, following the example of New York, should give progressively wider opportunity for the flotation of foreign loans in this market.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

W.M.S. MEETING IS HELD AT FENELLA

Mrs. G. Montgomery Hostess to Members of Missionary Society.

FENELLA, April 8.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—Mrs. G. Montgomery was hostess to the Fenella group of the W.M.S. on Thursday afternoon, April 2, when there was an attendance of twenty.

For the opening exercises, special leaflets "An Easter service of Worship" were used. This leaflet contained the scripture reading in responsive form,as well as special Easter hymns and prayers In the absence of the secretary, Miss Florence Macklin, Mrs. Fred Falling acted as secretary pro tem, Mrs. W. H. Sandercock, baby band superintendent, reported eleven baby band members. The next meeting will be a union meeting of the Roseneath and Fenella groups of the Roseneath circuit W.M.S. and will be held in Fenella United Church on May 12.

Mrs Clifford Leach gave a very comprehensive report of the Presbyterial held in Cobourg United Church, on March 26.

Mrs. Clark Jewell, had charge of the following devotional program.

The devotional leaflet on temperance was read by Mrs. M. Adams. This article sets forth the high ideal of Paul, before the followers of Jesus. He implies that, while with impunity we might do certain things and not suffer spiritually, to others these things would be a certain snare wherefore if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no fish, while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend," Cor. 8:13.

"A hole in the wall" was the title of a number of leaflets dealing with the temperance question." And when I looked behold, a hole in the wall" Ezekiel 8:7.

The liquor traffic to-day is compared to,or called the "hole in the wall" of our national life, and although it has royal sanction and is well covered yet, to all good citizens and parents, the command is still insistent to "dig in the wall." These leaflets were read by the following ladies: Mrs. Clark Jewell, Mrs. S. Leach, Mrs. C. W. Macklin, Mrs. C. Leach and Mrs. W. H. Sandercock, followed by a short talk on temperance by Mrs. Fred Talling, the temperance superintendent. The high spot in her comments was: "In spite of business depression, liquor sales have increased in Canada. If any allowance is made for illegal sales, it is fair to say that expenditures for liquor in Canada are still approximately $200,000,000, "This statement was made by Rev. Dr. A. J. Irwin, acting secretary of the Canadian Temperance Federation.

An instrumental piano solo by Mrs. Frank Down completed the program.

Rev. R. W. Paton opened the devotional program with prayer and after the closing hymn, pronounced the benediction. Mrs. A. Nill, president, presided over the meeting. At the close, the hostess, assisted by the lunch committee served tea and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Nobody Loves a Skinny Woman

Gain pounds of weight in few weeks with new IRONIZED YEAST—a special combination of dried brewer's yeast plus iron—or pay nothing

Thousands are amazed at quick benefits of new Ironized Yeast. They gained pounds of good firm flesh in few weeks. Tired, weak, nervous people became peppy and strong. Blemished complexions changed to clear, rosy smoothness. Constipation, indigestion disappeared. Why does Ironized Yeast work so quick?

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—special weight-building dried brewer's yeast and blood-enriching, strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured and concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value. Double-tested for strength, purity and potency. Used by doctors and big hospitals.

To this concentrated dried brewer's Yeast is added three kinds of easily assimilated Iron to quickly make rich, red blood and tone up nerves and muscles. By this special process Ironized Yeast is made more effective than yeast or iron taken separately. Contains no starches, flours or gas-forming fillers.

If you are underweight, nervous, tired—if you suffer with constipation, indigestion, and your complexion is muddy or blemished, start Ironized Yeast to-day. Pleasant little tablets—no nasty taste, never upset stomach or cause gas or bloating. Never spoil, safe for all.

Go to any drug store to-day, get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast, and take the little tablets as directed. If not delighted with quick results, your money promptly refunded by manufacturer.

If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.25 direct to Canadian Ironized Yeast Co., Ltd., Box 1323, Montreal, Que., Desk 2101.

TO ATTEMPT ROUMANIA-AFRICA NON-STOP FLIGHT

A non-stop flight from Bucharest, Roumania, to Cape Town, Africa, will soon be attempted by Prince Jean Chica, of Roumania in his plane, King Carol II. The proposed flight covers a distance of 5,800 miles. The plane is seen at Bolling Field, in Washington, D.C., whence it will be shipped to Europe for the long air journey.—Photo by Acme.

Health! The glorious ability to laugh and be happy even when the world throws you further than Dad used to!

THIS business of being well, is not as difficult as most people make it. According to the doctors, the rules for most of us are few and simple; eat, exercise, and sleep right; keep yourself internally clean.

Doctors pretty well agree that (barring germ diseases) most illness and headache, are due to failure or inability to keep "clean inside."

In blaming this condition for most of our sickness, so they agree on the safe way to relieve it—keeping clean inside by the Nujol type of treatment. Crystal clear Nujol is not a medicine. It contains no drugs.

Two things you have to remember if you want to enjoy "Nujol health."

One: Don't expect results overnight.

Two: Be sure you get Nujol. Your druggist has this drugless product in a sealed package, trade-marked "Nujol" to protect you.

Nujol Here's a way to get a result you know is good for you, without using drugs you know are bad for you. Why don't you try Nujol tonight?

CAMPAIGN QUIET OVER WOOLWICH

Contest Straight Labor-Conservative Battle Between Geo. Hicks and Shrapnell-Smith.

TO REPLACE LORD SNELL.

WOOLWICH, Eng., April 8.—(C. P. Cable.)—Very little of the high explosive which is made in this famous arsenal town has so far shown itself in the by-election campaign to replace Harry Snell, whose seat in the House of Commons became vacant on his recent elevation to the peerage.

Lord Snell was elected for East Woolwich in 1922 and re-elected in the succeeding general elections. In 1929 he had a majority of 8,541 in a straight fight with E. S. Shrapnell-Smith, Conservative.

The candidates on the field at present are George Hicks, Labor, and Mr. Shrapnell-Smith, Conservative. Both are fighting strongly for the Arsenal workers' work vote, but both are content with the issue of the Government's record, giving the promise of a clean straight political fight in contrast to some of the recent by-elections when personalities figured larger than politics.

Trade Union Figure.

George Hicks is one of the biggest figures in the English Trades Union movement. He was president of the General Council of the British Trades Union Congress in 1926 and 1927, and is general secretary of the Amalgamated Union of Building Trade Workers of Great Britain and Ireland.

Mr. Hicks is 52 years of age, started work as a boy or 11 in the building trade. He climbed upwards in the Bricklayers' Society until he became its national organizer in 1912 and was assured of a front rank position in the Trades Union world. He is also one of the foremost authorities on building materials.

The Conservative candidate is not conceded a very bright prospect of victory, despite the shrapnel in his name. Mr. Shrapnell-Smith in his way is as important a personage as Mr. Hicks, being an authority on transport and commercial motors, and until recently president of the Commercial Motor Users' Association. He has served the Government many times as an expert on transport. He was made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire in 1918 for valuable services during the war, especially as Chief Economy Director of the Petroleum Committee.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 33 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Days of panic-ridden flight through the jungle had filled Jenssen and Malbihn with jangling nerves and their native boys with unreasoning terror. Each new noise behind them sounded to their ears like the coming of the Sheik and his bloodthirsty followers. So, when the naked white warrior stepped silently out of the jungle, the shock had been enough to loose in action the pent nerves of Malbihn and he had fired the first shot.

But it developed that none of the caravan had seen clearly what they were fighting. One of the blacks even insisted the thing had been eleven feet tall, with a man's body, and an elephant's head! After they had conquered their nervousness and came to investigate the enemy's position, in the gathering twilight, they found nothing. For by this time Akut and the son of Tarzan had retreated far from the unfriendly guns.

"The lesser beasts flee from me, the greater ones are ready to tear me in pieces," the boy murmured, half to himself. "Black men would kill me with spears. White men, men of my own kind, shoot at me and have driven me away. Has the son of Tarzan no friends?" The old ape drew closer to the boy. "There are the great apes," he said. "They only will be the friend of Akut's friend. You have seen men want nothing of you. Let us go to the great apes—our people!"

The two proceeded in silence for some time after Akut spoke. The boy was deep in thought, bitter thoughts in which hatred and revenge were uppermost. Finally he spoke: "Very well, Akut. We will find our friends the great apes." Akut, who had long sensed that the boy wished to return to civilization, and was sorrowful because of that, now was overjoyed. A grunt of approval, however, was his only response as he busied himself searching for food.

EASTER DANCE

Don't forget that there are card games as well as dancing for the big Easter hop of The Examiner Social Club on Friday night. If you don't want to dance, you can play bridge or euchre in the upper hall.

REGIMENT PARADES

The initial parade of the 1931 training season was held by the Peterborough Rangers Regiment, under the command of Lieut.-Colonel M. H. Park, V.D., at the Armouries last evening. Following squad drill, uniforms were issued to all ranks, and informal discussions were held between the officers and N.C.O.'s at a later period, concerning the intensive training which the Battalion has now entered upon.

NEW PLUMBING FIRM.

The new plumbing firm of Cassan and Hutchinson has been launched this month by two local young men, Harold Cassan and George W. Hutchinson, both of whom have had ten years' experience in the trade. This firm has taken over the business of the late Bruce Gardiner, and have located an office at 135 Lansdowne Street.

RELIEF TOTAL $12,991.76

The total to date of the fund for the Peterborough Relief Association amounts to $12,991.76, with actual cash received amounting to $11,252.54 and the balance pledged.

PLENTY OF ADVISORS

Labor in the form of willing advisors is plentiful in this city. As a matter of fact it was found this morning that for every pick-and-shovel man at the corner of Driscoll Terrace and Hunter Streets there was at least two well meaning advisors. With the combined efforts of these two classes of workers, the excavation work for Jim Matthews' new creamery is progressing very satisfactorily.

HOUSE IS MOVED

Although no one has seen a house fly as yet because the times are not far enough advanced, yet this morning visitors to Rogers Street had an opportunity of seeing a house run. A small one-storey structure, some 12 feet in width and 16 feet in length was being moved on a heavy truck down towards Douro Street. Little difficulty seemed to be experienced in moving the house, although the truck proceeded at a slow pace owing to the slight irregularities of the pavement which might throw the conveyance enough to deposit the load on the middle of the street.

GRASS FIRES CONTINUE

Grass fires are continuing to worry the Fire Department. Permission to burn the grass is being given by the Chief, but in many cases instructions have been but half followed. The result is that such fires often get out of control, causing material damage. A call was answered at 8:53 this morning for a fire at the rear of 585 Chamberlain Street, when the flames spread rapidly and threatened a nearby fence. Another alarm was sent in at 10:14 for a similar fire on Maria Street at the C. P. R. right-of-way.

RUSHING THROUGH LIGHTS

With the advent of Spring and the consequent renewal of life, it has been noticed on several occasions that motorists are sharing this additional energy. More than once a car has been seen speeding down George or Water Street in a vain attempt to beat the red light at one of the street intersections. Some have got half way across when the danger signal flashes, but continue on. Some, however, have had to back up some fifteen feet.

A little incident at the junction of Water and Hunter streets this morning proved the danger of this latter practice. A car attempted to back up, but failed to notice a wagon load of earth waiting for the green signal. The car backed into the horses, which of course frightened the animals. However, apart from the spilling of some earth and the attitude of the irate teamster, no damage ensued.

OBITUARY

EDMUND D. CARVER

The death occurred in San Francisco, California, on March 21 of Edmund D. Carver at the age of 78 years. He was the son of the late Postmaster S. J. Carver, but left this district more than fifty years ago. Surviving are his three brothers, Henry M., of Caledonia, Ontario, Hubert, of Malaga, and Samuel D., of North Mcnaghan.

JOSEPHINE MENOGUE

Josephine, daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. John Menogue, 495 Rogers street, passed away Tuesday evening. Miss Menogue was born March 2, 1910, in the city and has lived here all her life. Left to mourn her loss are her sorrowing father, two sisters, Margaret and Mary, and six brothers Frederick, Patrick, John, Stephen and Michael, all at home, and Dennis of Indian River. Her mother died 11 years ago.

The funeral Mass will be said at the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 o'clock Friday morning, and interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

MRS. MARY CRAIG.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Craig, who passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital on Monday, took place from Comstock's Funeral Home on Tuesday at 3 p.m. Interment was made in Little Lake Cemetery.

The deceased was the widow of Joseph B. Craig of this city. She was born in Russia, but lived in Peterborough for the past 29 years. Mrs. Craig is survived by one daughter, Mrs. E. A. Hartley, of Seattle, Washington, and two sons, Frank and Edward Lachance of Ottawa.

JAMES ROBERT DOUGALL.

MONTREAL, Que., April 8.—(Special to Examiner.)— A colorful and popular figure in the mining, farming and railway life of Canada passed away yesterday afternoon, with the death at his home in Ste. Anne De Bellevue, after a brief illness of James Robert Dougall, special representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in his 60th year.

Born in the old country, of Scotch parents, Mr. Dougall came to Canada and entered the service of Western Canada Colliers Limited at Blacemore, Alberta in 1900. In 1902 he married Miss Alice Walker of Georgetown, Ont., who survives him. In 1911 he became manager of the Davinport coal mine in the Crows Nest district and also engaged extensively in ranching in neighboring territory. Entering the Canadian Pacific Railway in Winnipeg on Sept. 6th, 1915 as general agricultural agent. He served in that capactiy in the west until March 1st, 1919, when he was transferred to Montreal, in the same capacity. He held this appointment until January 1st, 1930, when he was appointed special representative and was a well known figure throughout Canada, whether in Montreal, Ottawa, or in the broadlands of the Canadian west, which he knew so well. He was Jimmie to his friends and a host of people with whom he was not personally acquainted knew him by that title in preference to all others. His acquaintances were legion and his friends many. In addition to his widow, he is survived by four sons and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Munson (Margaret) of New York City and James, Robert, Isabel, Defalt and George, all of St. Anne de Bellevue.

IN MEMORIAM

WILSON—In loving memory of my dear grandfather, Herman Wilson, who passed away April 8, 1929.

Lads Exhausted Plunge to Death With Aid at Hand

VIENNA, April 8 (C.P.).—For twenty hours three youths maintained a precarious perch 6,800 feet up on the glassy, slippery slope of Grossen Buchstein, while they shouted to make their voices heard to a rescue crew climbing to aid them.

Before dawn to-day, exhausted, they gave up the fight, released their hold, and slid to death at the foot of a rocky crevasse-many thousand feet below.

The relief crew, which had been nearly up to them, recovered their bodies.

WEDDINGS

RYE—NICHOLLS

An interesting event of Easter week was the wedding at one o'clock to-day at St. John's Church, of Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Nicholls of 583 Bethune street, to Edmund H. B. Rye, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rye of Sherbrooke street. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. R. C. Blagrave, D.D. The wedding music was played by F. G. Mann, L.Mus.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of cream chantilly lace, its hem touching the ground, its sleeves long and tight fitting. Her tulle veil had a band of lace across the front and was caught at the back, in cap fashion, with orange blossoms. Her slippers and hose were in cream tones and she carried a shower bouquet of lily of the valley, Premier roses and forget-me-nots. Her only ornament was a string of pearls.

Attendants were two sisters, Mrs. Sidney Rooke as matron of honor and Miss Gladys Nicholls, as brides-maid, also a niece, little June Ballard, the flower girl. Walter Rye acted as best man for his brother.

Mrs. Rooke wore pale blue chiffon and Miss Nicholls was in rosewood chiffon. Both wore matching slippers and hose and large matching picture hats. They carried bouquets of Madam Butterfly roses.

The dainty little flower girl's frock was of pale blue crepe de chine. She wore a wreath of white violets and green leaves and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of sweet peas.

A pleasing innovation in the ceremony was the singing, in clear treble voices, by a trio of small boys: Fred Hooper, Roy Pitchford and Gerald Perks. During the ceremony, they sang the 128th Psalm and, during the signing of the register, each sang a verse of the hymn, "O God of Bethel, by Whose Hands Thy People will be Led" all uniting for the final verse.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Decorations were carried out with spring flowers.

Mr. Rye and his bride left later by train for a honeymoon trip to Toronto and New York State. On their return, they will reside in Peterborough.

The bride's travelling costume was of blue throughout. Her dress was of blue crepe with a coat of basket weave in the same shade, trimmed with lapin fur, and a small navy hat of Baku straw, trimmed with matching grosgrain ribbon. Her slippers and hose were in matching tones.

Armour Hill Almost Scene Of Bad Fire

Armour Hill was almost the scene yesterday of another grass fire which, if the wind had been favorable for a fire, would have done a great deal of damage to the growing trees which have become a great deal of value to the property. The fire was evidently caused by a cigarette butt and the public is kindly asked by the members of the Ashburnham Patriotic League while the grass is so dry to be very careful so that fires may be avoided.

There is a barrier erected at the entrance of the drive to the top of the hill which was put there for the purpose of keeping out automobiles for a few days so that the road could be graded, but on Sunday the barrier was taken down an a number of cars proceeded to the top of the hill. This cuts up the road and makes it more difficult to grade.

The League appreciates the interest taken in the hill and the evidence of appreciation on the part of the public to view the city from this magnificent point but if visitors will only refrain from using the road for a short time it will be open to them without fear of damage to the road.

CHINESE FIRE ON BRITISH GUNBOAT.

PEIPING, China, April 8 (C.P.).—The British river gunboat Gnat was fired upon above Ichange, Yangtse Kiang, to-day. The incident was attributed to Government troops of the Patung garrison, who are reported to have mutinied. Troops have been sent from Ichange to suppress the mutiny.

ACCIDENTS
Almost daily we read about someone being injured or badly shaken up because of an accident. It is almost impossible to get a bad jar or twist without causing a strain to the spinal column. This may produce a slight derangement of spinal joints or tightness of spinal ligaments and muscles which will result in nerve constriction.
PAIN
stiffness, backache, stomach trouble or headache may develop. These discomforts are frequently the direct after-effect of an injury, and it has been our experience that Chiropractic spinal treatments do afford genuine relief.

GORDON MURDER CASE BELIEVED SOLVED

House Of Representatives Speaker Dies

N. LONGWORTH FALLS VICTIM TO PNEUMONIA

Death, After 6 Year Term, Narrows Republican Majority to One.

ATTENDED 73 CONGRESSES.

Was Elected to 58th Congress in 1902 When Only 33 Years of Age.

AIKEN, S. C., Apr. 9. — Nicholas Longworth, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, died here at 10:52 a. m., E.S.T.

Longworth's amazing vitality, physicians said, alone kept him alive during last night and until his death. He was taken ill last Monday of pneumonia in one lung.

At his bedside was his wife, the former Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, and his friend, Mrs. James P. Curtis, at whose home he contracted the disease. His daughter, Paulna, was not with him.

Taken sick Monday, physicians diagnosed his illness as pneumonia Monday night. He steadily grew worse and 8 hours later they admitted his condition was desperate.

Attended 13 Congresses.

A six year term as Speaker culminated the service of Nicholas Longworth in the House of Representatives during thirteen Congresses.

But three Speakers in the history of the House occupied longer the chair to which Mr. Longworth was elevated by his Republican colleagues after 20 years' apprenticeship as a representative from Ohio, distinguished service on the powerful Ways and Means committee and one term as majority floor leader.

He was the Republican candidate for Speaker of the next House in which that party now holds a majority of only one. Prophetically, Mr. Longworth told the last Assembly of the Seventy-first House:

Perhaps this is the last time I will address you from this rostrum. It is only an all-wise providence who is going to determine which of the two major parties will organize the next House.

His gavel then adjourned the Congress.

Born with wealth and position on November 5, 1869 in Cincinnati, his home ever since, Mr. Longworth studied law in his younger days. Although admitted to the bar, he did not practice to any extent. Instead he became interested in civic affairs, and soon was immersed in politics in Cincinnati over which Boss Cox the

Gandhi Decides to Wear Pants in London, But Balks at Starched Shirts, Banquets

AMRITSAR, India, Apr. 9.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, making his plans today for his forthcoming visit to London for the second Round Table Conference on an Indian constitutional status, said that he had decided to wear pants in the British Capital after all.

Discarding his first intention of appearing there attired only in gossamer loin cloth and dhoti, he said that if the weather is sufficiently cool he will clothe himself in ordinary European trousers.

He indicated that it was even possible that he would appear at the Round Table Sessions with his pigtail or chutia shaved off. The chutia is a long tuft of hair worn religiously by Hindus, whose popular interpretation of the mode is that it enables friends, when the wearer dies, to pull him out of hell. Gandhi wears a chutia habitually although otherwise he is bald.

Although deciding to wear trousers in London, Gandhi declared that he would not submit to a torturous white starched shirt and would decline to attend any formal public banquets.

HEARING OPENS FOR PRELIMINARY OF MURDER TRIAL

Elliott and Gastle Appear Before Magistrate Jeffs in Barrie.

SCORE OF WITNESSES.

Two Men Are Charged With the Murder of Mrs. David Hisey, Midland.

BARRIE, Ont., Apr. 9.—(CP)—The court room of the Simcoe County Court House was crowded to the doors, for the preliminary hearing before Magistrate Compton Jeffs of Robert J. Elliott and G. K. Frank Gastle, charged with the murder of Mrs. David Hisey, of Midland, Ont., who met death when her car, driven by Gastle, plunged into a forebay at Niagara Falls, Ont., on the night of Feb. 18.

More than a score of witnesses occupied the two jury boxes while many more of the thirty eight crown witnesses helped to swell the crowded room. Among them were officials of the Barrie and Niagara Falls branches of the Bell Telephone Company, present to give evidence regarding telephone calls in connection with the case.

Both Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Gastle occupied seats in the petty jury box obscured from the gaze of curious spectators.

The case against Gastle was the first to be heard.

The charge read that on Feb. 18 he did kill or slay one Elizabeth Hisey.

Counsel Objects

Before the hearing began Hugh Cleaver of Burlington, counsel for Gastle made formal objection to the jurisdiction of the court in the hear-

Six Sailors Rescued From Sinking Vessel

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 9 (C. P.). — Rescue in the South Atlantic of six men from the disabled schooner Harry and Verna, out of St. John's, N.F., was reported in a radio message received here to-day at the offices of the Tampa-Inter-Ocean Steamship Company.

Captain A. J. Johansen, of the steamship Sapinero, out of Seville, Spain, bound for New Orleans, said he had taken the men off the schooner which was found in a sinking condition. He gave the location of the rescue a latitude 28.20, longitude 51.55.

The Sapinero is due here on April 18.

SUSPECT WOMAN IN MURDER CASES

Vancouver Police Believe Japanese Holds Key to Sensational Details.

NEW DEATHS PROBED.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 9. (CP) Police are seeking a woman who, it is stated, might reveal further sensational details of activities in the alleged murder factory in East Cordova Street, brought into prominence by the waterfront murder of Naskichi Watanabe on March 30. This woman, it is said was a friend of Shinkichi Sakurada, Japanese medicine man, jointly charged with Bunshiro Fugino, insurance agent, and T. Hitomi, as being the slayers of Watanabe.

It is intimated that the woman is a native of the same province in Japan as Sakurado, and came to Vancouver shortly after his arrival here nine years go.

While news of this hitherto unmentioned figure in the case spread through the downtown Japanese quarter, detectives also began investigation into the recent deaths of a Japanese boy and girl and into the death of seven-year-old Japanese girl who died a short time ago in St. Paul's hospital from a cause which has not been determined by doctors.

TRAIN HITS AUTO DRIVER MAY DIE

Albert Northcott Terribly Injured at North Oshawa Crossing.

DRAGGED 150 FEET.

OSHAWA, On., April 9. (CP)—Albert Northcott, well-known Oshawa man, is in the General Hospital here in a critical condition, as a result of an accident at the North Oshawa crossing of the C.N.R. last night, when his car was demolished, and Mr. Northcott terribly injured. He is suffering from a fractured skull, fractures of both legs and the left arm bad cuts on the head and other injuries, and it is very doubtful if he will recover. Mr. Northcott drove his car on the track in front of a slow moving train, and the car and wreckage were dragged for 150 feet along the track before the engine came to a stop. The crossing is not considered dangerous, as it has good vision, and eye-witnesses are at a loss to explain how the victim failed to observe the approach of the train.

Foreign visitors seeing a new drama in London are supplied with summaries of the play in French, German or Spanish.

GRANDDAUGHTER HAS BEEN WILLED MELBA'S JEWELS

Gems Presented Diva by Crowned Heads of Europe Valued at £14,000.

LEAVES £200,000 ESTATE.

Residue Goes to Son, George Armstrong—Many Bequests.

MELBOURNE, April 8 (A.P.) — Twelve-year-old Pamela Armstrong, granddaughter of Dame Nellie Melba, Australian diva who died recently, is one of the beneficiaries of her will, which is to be filed shortly for probate.

The will will dispose of an estate of £200,000—about $1,000,000—most of which lies overseas, but $200,000 of which is in the State of Victoria.

After the payment of various bequests all income from the residue of the estate will go during their lifetime to Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong and thereafter to their children. Armstrong is Dame Melba's son.

In event of ultimate failure of residuary income to take the direction provided by the will, its income shall be spent on promotion and encouragement of music in Victoria. Dame Melba once expressed the wish that a fund should be spent on grand opera in Melbourne; perhaps the purchase or building of an opera house.

Estate Suffered in Depression

Dame Melba's estate suffered severely in the prevailing economic depression, particularly in the United States, where holdings were reduced from a much larger sum to $500,000.

One of the largest bequests in the will is that of $40,000 invested in perpetuity for the Albert Street, Melbourne, Conservatory of Music. It will be used for scholarships.

Jewels given Melba by the crowned heads of Europe and valued at $70,000, go to 12-year-old Pamela Armstrong. Other bequests include an annuity of $1,250 to John Lemmone, her accompanist; $2,000 to her nephew, Gerald Patterson, the tennis player; $5,000 to a Children's Hospital at Melbourne, and $5,000 for the upkeep of Melba Park, Lilydale, where she was laid to rest.

The diva bequeathed several friends amounts ranging from $500 to $10,000.

5 NEGROES GIVEN DEATH SENTENCE

Youths 16 to 19 Years Convicted of Attacking Two White Girls.

ONE CASE UNDECIDED.

SCOTTSBORO, Ala., April 9. — A Jackson County jury to-day convicted five negroes ranging in age 16 to 19 years of attacking two white girls hoboing on a freight train, and fixed their punishment at death in the electric chair.

The crowded court room, warned to make no demonstration, received the verdict with restrained silence, and the negroes were stoical.

A second jury, considering the case of Roy Wright, 19 year old Chattanooga, Tennessee negro, still was out, but indications were that it would report before noon. The State agreed not to ask the death penalty in his case.

Those convicted to-day are Olen Montgomery, 17, Monroe, Ga.; Andy Wright, 17, and Eugene Williams, 19, Chattanooga; Willie Robertson, 17, Columbus, Ga., and Ozie Powell, 16, of Atlanta.

Others already convicted are Charles Weems, 21, Atlanta; Clarence Noris, 19, Chattanooga; and Heywood Patteron, 17, Chattanooga.

$160,000 Is Charged Against 1931 Taxes

While the city's overdraft at the bank is $408,592.33, Alderman Phelan, chairman of the Finance Committee, explained to-day that only about $160 000 of this can be charged against 1931's taxes. This has been run up by current expenditures of the city since January and will be wiped away and a balance place in the city's favor when the second instalment of the taxes are in.

Nearly $250,000 by far the larger part of the $408 592.33 overdraft, has been made necessary by work on roads and streets, and debentures will be issued to cover the amount. In some instances, the road paving in East City for example, the debentures can not be issued until the whole job is completed.

1931 ESTIMATES TO BE TABLED NEXT MONDAY

Fraction Must Be Voted on Before Wednesday or Public Officials Will Go Unpaid.

DRASTIC CUT EXPECTED.

Executives Warned to Keep Within Votes or Lose Their Positions.

TORONTO, Ont., April 9 (C.P.)— It is understood that Premier R. B. Bennett will table the estimates for the current fiscal year on Monday. The House of Commons resumes its session that day, and the expectation is that Mr. Bennett will present the estimates before the Commoners again take up the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

A fraction of the estimates—either one-sixth or one-twelfth—will have to be voted by the House before next Wednesday, on which date the Civil Service receives its bi-monthly salary cheques. Should the House fail to do so, there would be no credits available for the paying of the public officials.

That the estimates will disclose drastic reductions in the current year's proposed expenditure is taken for granted. All departments will enjoy smaller appropriations than heretofore, and such appropriations will be the limit permitted to those departments. The Prime Minister announced before the rising of the House for Easter recess that Departmental executives would have to keep within the limits of the votes, or some gentlemen would lost their positions.

Police Confiscate Bread Under Weight

Police to-day confiscated close to 100 loaves of bread from local bakeries. The bread was said to be at least two ounces under the required weight.

Whether or not charges will be laid under the Bread Act, Chief Newhall was not prepared to say this afternoon when interviewed by The Examiner. "If there is anything to show that the bakers were deliberately making the bread under weight, charges will be laid," he said. "But if it is shown that it was merely by accident or through some fault or slip in the weighing machinery that the weight deficit occurred, I think a warning will be sufficient.

Police made the check-up of several of the larger bakeries in the city this morning. Loaves were picked from the supply of fresh bread on hand and weighed. Those found underweight were seized. It could not be learned what percentage the underweight loaves made to the number examined.

The bread was taken to the Police Station, boxed and sent out to charitable institutions in the city.

Oliver Judgment Is Reserved April 21

HAMILTON, Ont., April 9 (C.P.)—Although I feel that I could give my decision now, in view of the huge amount of evidence and the immense amount of work put on the case by both the Crown and the defense counsel, I prefer to reserve my judgment and deliver it with written reasons on April 21 at ten o'clock in the morning.

So the trial of Charles and Mary Oliver, charged with fraud and conversion in connection with the affairs of the defunct McKinnon-Oliver Syndicate ended this morning. Judge Thomson was highly complimented by Norman Sommerville, K.C., who acted for the Crown.

25 MAKE TRIP.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Ger., Apr. 9. —(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin set out at dawn today on a Mediterranean jaunt to Egypt and Palestine with the intention of doing what was forbidden in March 1929.

The Graf this trip has permission to land at Cairo and let its passengers look around a bit, but two years ago when a similar trip was projected it was understood that the British Government had entered tacit objections to passing over Egypt.

There were 25 passengers aboard today, among them Flight Lieutenant R. S. Booth, who commanded the R-100 on its flight to Canada. Dr. Eckener, who is in command, plans to land at Cairo Saturday, then cruise over Egypt and Palestine and return to Germany Monday.

The Zeppelin's departure was at 6:10 a.m., M.E.T., (12:10 a.m., E.S.T.) It passed over Basel and at 9:35 G. M.T. (4:35 a.m., E.S.T.) flew over Saint Vallier sur Rhone, headed southward toward Marseilles.

The Graf flew over Valence at 9:50 (4:50 a.m., E.S.T.) at less than 1,600 feet altitude. The Weather was calm and there was a slight north wind.

BABY BOY ABANDONED.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 9. — (C.P.)—Wrapped in an old drape, a baby boy, fifteen to twenty months old, was found on a local verandah late last night and taken to the Children's Shelter. Inspector Jones is working on the case, but so far without clues. The baby is described as poorly nourished, brown eyes, auburn hair, wore voile dress, bearskin coat, and hat.

This is the third unidentified baby to be abandoned on local doorsteps in eighteen months.

New York Police Stage Round-Up 5 Held; 1 Accused

Officials Claim Motive of Strangling Was Robbery and Not as First Suspected, to Prevent the Woman Testifying as Vice Inquiry Witness.

THREE IDENTIFY STEIN AS MAN WHO HAD ARTICLES, DAY AFTER MURDER, SIMILAR TO THOSE STOLEN

One of Four Witnesses Detained is Jack Holdcroft, Who Served in Royal Canadian Mounted Police From 1920-22 When He Was Invalided From Force Through Illness.

NEW YORK, Apr. 9.—Harry Stein, who went to prison in 1921 for attempting to strangle a woman, was held today for the February 26 murder of Vivian Gordon, strangler victim.

Four others were arrested as witnesses. Police said the motive of the murder had been robbery and not, as first suspected, to prevent her testifying as a vice inquiry witness.

Police produced three persons who identified Stein as the man who on the day after the Gordon murder was in possession of articles similar to those stolen from Vivian Gordon — a mink coat, a wristwatch and a chain.

Records revealed Stein was convicted ten years ago and sentenced to ten years imprisonment for robbing Mary Glickman at her Bronx apartment after he had bound gagged and attempted to strangle her.

The arrests were made simultaneously last night in various parts of the city. Besides Stein, those arrested were:

Samuel Greenhauer, alias Greenbear and Greenie, 30 years old; occupation, tailor.

Morris (Doc.) Lenine, 36; occupation, electrician.

David Butterman, 30; occupation, jobber.

Jack Holdcroft, 29, former Canadian trooper.

Skeleton keys and a pistol were found in Holdcroft's room.

Mentioned in Diary

Stein, Levine and Greenhauer are three of the men mentioned in Vivian Gordon's diary—the diary in which she set down her affairs of love and blackmail and fear.

The three—Stein, Levine and Greenhauer — denied knowing the Gordon woman. They could not explain their names in her diary.

Reference to Stein, Greenhauer, and Levine in the slain woman's diary was to the effect that they were looking over a bank in Oslo, Norway. Stein told police he went to Oslo on a bootlegging expedition, and Greenhauer and Levine admit-

OPINIONS DIFFER ON HANDWRITING

Expert For Defense Claims There is Nothing to Show Bouchard Changed Papers.

CIVIL SERVICE CASE.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 9 (C.P.)—A handwriting expert was called by the defence in opening its case this morning in the trial here of J. Leo Bouchard and Lionel Chartrand, Dominion Government employees, charged with conspiracy to defraud in connection with alleged racketeering in Civil Service examination papers.

Alonzo Payne, handwriting expert of this city, declared there was no conclusive evidence that writing on certain examination papers was that of Bouchard. Yesterday, two experts called by the Crown expressed firm convictions that answers on a number of papers had been written by Bouchard.

A part of the disputed writing was in script and in other places answers were printed in block letters. There was nothing to indicate conclusively in either case, Mr. Payne held, that Bouchard had been the penman.

CERMACK PREPARES TO REPLACE CITY HALL HEADS WITH NEW MEN

Warns Capone to Stay Out of Chicago for Nex Four Years.

TAKES OATH OF OFFICE.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 9. (CP)—The Democratic broom which swept Anton J. Cermak in and William Hale Thompson out of the Mayorship, was poised for action to-day.

Cermack's formal induction as Chicago's new World's Fair Mayor was the order of the day, with Cermak declaring he had promised to clean out the City Hall and that he proposed to lose no time in doing it.

The bums who hang around the City Hall are going to be swept right out Cermak told interviewers yesterday. Almost simultaneously he told London newspapermen in a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation that his advice to Alphonse Capone was for him to stay out of Chicago for the next four years.

Florida for Capone

Capone is under sentence here, you know, and I suggest that he stay in Florida, Cermak said. His reference was to a six months sentence imposed on the gang chieftain by a Federal Judge for contempt of court for failure to respond to a summons from a Grand Jury which was investigating incomes. Sentence was stayed pending an appeal.

Administration of the oath of office to Cermak had been tentatively set for to-morrow, but completion of the official canvas of Tuesday's voting in record time yesterday made possible this formality to-day. Cermak spent some time considering selection of department heads, but declined to give out any advance information. Rumor had it that Col. A. A. Sprague might be named as Commissioner of Public Works, to succeed Richard W. Wolfe.

Office holders spent yesterday cleaning out their desks at the City Hall, getting ready for the influx of new officials. Meanwhile Thompson finished up his plans for a steamboat tour of inland rivers, starting to-day.

Bank Clerk Held On Theft Charge

OSHAWA, Ont., April 9 (C.P.). —Arrester at his lodgings last night by Constables Foreman and Goodwin, William Stewart, 2-year-old ledgerkeeper, employed at the Dominion Bank here, was charged in Police Court this morning with theft of $1,500 from the bank. Stewart, a youth who came to Canada from Scotland, was not asked to plead, and has been remanded in custody until April 14. The offence is alleged to have occurred on March 21.

PRAIRIES CHOOSE JUSTICE J. BROWN

Saskatchewan Judge Named to Represent Them on Royal Grain Commission.

ENQUIRY UNDER WAY.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 9 (C.P.)— Chief Justice J. T. Brown, of the King's Bench Division of the Supreme Court of Saskatchewan, has been nominated by the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta as the representatives of the Prairie Provinces on the Royal Grain Commission to investigate trading in futures. The name of Chief Justice Brown was placed before Premier R. B. Bennett for approval early this afternoon, and the approval of the Prime Minister will probably be given later to-day.

The work of the enquiry was under discussion this afternoon between Premier Bennett and Sir Josiah Stamp, eminent British economist and chairman of the Enquiry Board. The other member of the body is W. Sanford Evans, Winnipeg, representing the Grain Exchange.

PLAINS STATES' SPRING HEAT WAVE SETS HIGHEST RECORD IN 40 YEARS

Dust Storm Sweeps Dakota, Minnesota—Mercury Rises Into 80's.

AUCTIONEER OVERCOME.

KANSAS CITY, M., April 9. — A spring heat wave that led to one prostration and established temperature records at several cities was the talk to-day in plains states dotted by snowdrifts ten days ago.

Abnormal weather conditions were reported from Northern Oklahoma to the Canadian border yesterday. L. S. Ruggles, an auctioneer, was overcome while crying a sale in Lincoln, Kas., dust storms swept North Dakota and Minnesota.

Temperatures ranging from the high 70s to 80 inspired increased activity among farmers.

The mercury soared to 89 degrees at Pittsburgh, Kas., and remained there three hours. The same reading at Fairmont, Minn., established the highest mark for April in 40 years. At Davenport, Ia., April 8 went down as the hottest on record with 86 degrees.

Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., Des Moines, and Sioux City, Ia., recorded readings of 88 degrees. A maximum of 80 was recorded in Chicago.

Further south, Kansas City residents complained of spring fever with a maximum of 83 degrees.

Nurse Was Strangled Examination Shows

PROVIDENCE, R.I., April 9.—Attorney General Benjamin M. McLyman said to-day that the report of the autopsy and examination of the organs of Verna Russell, slain student nurse, showed conclusively that the girl was strangled. McLyman, in charge of the State's first degree murder case against Elliott R. Hathaway of Fall River, accused of killing the Russell girl, said that with the exception of one minor detail, the pathological examiantion of the victim's organs is complete. He would not go into details on it.

Wounded Toronto Lad In Critical Condition

TORONTO, Ont., April 9. (CP)— Hackel Faessler, 16, who was shot in the head yesterday near Huntsville while playing the part of William Tell's son, was reported to be in a serious condition in a local hospital this afternoon, following a partly successful operation performed to-day.

The operation performed to-day was a partial success the attending physician declared a portion of the bullet being removed as well as two blood clots and part of the bone.

Gordon Knight, the boy who fired the shot, was held at police headquarters to-day, but after lengthy questioning was permitted to return to his home.

Lisbon City Threatened With Revolt

TROOPS READY AS OUTBREAK LOOMS NEARER

All Gov't Officials Halted For Credentials on Arrival at Offices.

LEAVES CANCELLED.

Unusual Tense Atmosphere Prevails Over Whole Population.

LISBON, Portugal, April 9 (C.P.).—All troops here were confined to barracks to-day except for details left to guard public buildings. Reports were current that a revolutionary outbreak in Lisbon itself was scheduled for to-day. An unusually tense atmosphere was apparent.

When Government officials arrived at their offices to-day they found sentries at the portals to buildings who demanded identification papers and would not let them in without them.

All military leaves were canceled and it was said that troops in barracks were under full equipment and ready to be thrown on to the streets at a moment's notice.

The High Commissioner of Angola, Admiral Souza de Faro, has unexpectedly left for Lisbon.

56,000 WORKERS STRIKE IN OSLO

Action is Result of Unions Refusal to Accept Cut in Wage Scale.

MOVE SPREADING.

OSLO, Norway, April 9 (A.P.) — Fifty-six thousand skilled laborers were out of work in strikes and lockouts to-day as a consequence of refusal of labor unions to accept a revision downward of wage scales. The number probably will be increased to 80,000 by April 15.

Norwegian wages during the last few years have been the highest in Europe, but the agreement expired April 1, and employers demanded decrease commensurate with declines in commodity markets. The matter was submitted to negotiation but the pourparlers broke off without agreement.

The unions not only demanded that there be no decrease, but that there be an increase of from 10 to 20 per cent. in the scale. Premier Mowinckel to-day stated that the Government would take no steps at present to arbitrate the labor troubles unless both sides requested mediation.

Baby Nearly Drowned In Auto Accident

LINDSAY, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—When their car piled up in the east ditch at Pottery Corners near here yesterday forenoon, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lee of Hamilton were badly cut by broken glass, but the damage to the vehicle was comparatively slight. The baby which was in the car with its parents was nearly drowned by the confusion that arose from the suddenness of the accident and when rescued did not have a dry stitch of clothing on it.

Damages to the automobile could have been much worse if the car had rolled over on top, but it stayed on its side. Unfamiliarity with the turn in the road, or the locking of the steering mechanism is blamed for the accident, as there were no other cars near the Lee car at the time.

Youths Shoot Hats Off in "Tell" Style; One Misses—Pal in Hospital, May Die

TORONTO, Ont., April 9 (C.P.). — Enjoying the Easter holidays at a summer home near Huntsville, a group of five local youths endeavored to emulate the exploit of William Tell. As a result Hackel Faessler lies in a hospital here to-day in a critical condition.

Using the more modern weapon—rifles—instead of bow and arrow, the boys were taking turns for the target practice. Several of the boys had their hats knocked cleanly off their heads by the bullets. Then it came Faessler's turn. Gordon Knight, one of his friends, discharged the bullet, it is said, which missed its mark and found a resting-place in Faessler's skull.

The wounded boy was rushed to the office of Dr. Davis of Huntsville, and after treatment was brought here, where hospital authorities announced his condition grave. The bullet fractured the skull.

In addition to Faessler and Knight, Keith Moore, Redmond Milligan, and Richard Plaskett were the other members of the party.

SEANCE MEDIUMS ARE ALL FAKES SAYS MAN WHO CONVINCED DOYLE

"I've Never Seen a Ghost and Don't Believe Anyone Else Has.

GIVES DEMONSTRATION.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, April 9. — Asserting that "people want to be fooled," and that for eleven years he had fooled them, Nino Pecararo, "mystic," who Sir Arthur Conan Doyle admitted, won the famous author over to spiritualism, last night declared that his seances "were all a fake."

"I've never seen a ghost, and don't believe any one else ever has," he said. "I'm sick and tired of giving seances and having spiritualism reap the profit. When ghosts appear at my seances, they are Nino Pecararo in the flesh."

To prove his point, he allowed himself to be securely bound, then freed himself and wrote two messages. One was "from Doyle" and the other "from Houdini." The handwriting compared favorably with authentic originals of the famous men.

In addition, Pecararo passed on two "messages" from dead persons to newspapermen present, and also had "ghost hands" play an accordion.

The demonstration was given in the apartment of Joseph Dunninger, Chairman of a committee named by a scientific magazine to expose fake spiritualists. Dunninger said more than $5,000,000 was spent annually in New York alone on spiritualistic work.

He added: "Conan Doyle had implicit faith in Nino, and wrote that spiritualism rises or falls by him."

Pecararo, who has made his living by giving more than 2,000 seances in eleven years, said he would devote himself hereafter mainly to painting and writing.

Aviation In Danger Of Being Curtailed

OTTAWA, April 9.—Grave danger exists that Canadian aviation activities will be curtailed severely by the need for rigid economy, due to the present state of Federal finances and declining revenues.

The Goverment is confronted with the problem of continuing the expenditure of several millions annually to maintain the Air Force in its present efficient condition or of losing all the ground that has been gained.

The Canadian air services have concentrated upon such useful work as fire prevention in the forests, mining development and transportation in the norther regions, which are now yielding rich treasure, the spraying of grain fields to prevent rust, the carriage of mail and similar operations. Flying stunts organized for the purpose of doing something of a spectacular nature have been discouraged.

Should Use Ballot In School Elections

TORONTO, Ont., April 9 (By The Canadian Press) — Use of the ballot in rural school elections and on school questions, appointment of a school board to eliminate glaring inequalities in school sections and in tax rates, improvements of the system of auditing in ungraded schools, and a special training for teachers in ungraded schools, were suggestions made by Inspector J. W. Marshall, of Niagara Falls, speaking on rural school problems to the Ontario Educational Association yesterday.

RIVER STEAMER FAILS CHINESE

U. S. Naval Guards Aboard Craft Beat Off Attack of Nationalists.

THREE WOUNDED.

ICHANG, China, April 9.—(A.P.)—A battle between a handful of United States' naval guards aboard the Yangtse river steamer Iping and a considerable body of troops, supposedly Chinese Nationalists soldiers, took place here early to-day. The Chinese soldiers opened fire on the ship but were silenced by guns from the steamer.

The Chinese poured sharp fire into the Iping, which had been disabled by striking a rock in the Yangtse rapids and was limping into Ichang for repairs. The engagement was severe but short, the return fire proving too effective for the Chinese to withstand.

The attack was made supposedly by Chinese Nationalist soldiers stationed above Ichange to prevent the entry of Communists into this city.

Having heard Chinese soldiers were searching ships approaching Ichang, the Iping's catpain slowed down the ship, expecting a boarding party to approach and look for Reds. Instead, the ship's officers said, the soldiers attacked the Iping without explanation, forcing the guards to fire.

Leo Bradley, first class seaman, U.S.N., was wounded in the leg and two Chinese aboard the ship were gravely wounded. The Iping managed to escape down the river after the gunfire from her decks had afforded an opportunity.

Lord Byng Of Vimy To Resume Office

LONDON, April 9 (C.P.).—Lord Byng of Vimy, Chief Commissioner of Metropolitan Police, and former Governor-General of Canada, will return to Scotland Yard on Sunday after several months' sick leave.

He is still weak after his illness, The Daily Herald said to-day, but will not contemplate retiring until after he has carried out some of the most drastic reorganizations that have ever affected the London police.

Among other things these will involve a more effective policing of the outlying districts, dealing with crime in the West-end, and reshuffling of higher posts. There is an increasing problem of raids of thieves with automobiles on shops and houses.

BANK ROBBERS FOILED IN EFFORT TO DRILL THROUGH VAULT FLOOR

BALBOA, C.Z., April 9.—An elaborate plan to loot the Colon branch of the National Bank of the Republic was frustrated today when Antonio Buendia, watchman, heard the drone of a drill which was cutting through the bottom of a vault. Juan Castillo, look-out for the robbers was caught, but the others escaped.

Taking advantage of the fact that the bank was closed for the Easter holidays, the robbers had tunneled from a near-by building. The tunnel was fitten with electric lights and an alarm bell system. Equipment for drilling through concrete crowbars and other tools were found in the tunnel.

WEEK-END TRIPS OVER RAILWAYS ARE SHARPLY CUT

Return Tickets Good From Friday Noon Until Monday Midnight.

ESTIMATES RATES.

For Benefit of Those Who Wish to Spend Week-end in Country.

MONTREAL, April 9 (C.P.).—Drastic cuts in fares on Canadian railways for the summer week-ends were announced yesterday by C. P. Riddel, Chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association, after a series of conferences. The new scale will go into effect on May 1, and will continue through June and July. The new round-trip fare from Friday noon till Monday midnight will be only one and one-quarter times the present single fare.

The reduction will be of special benefit to those passengers wishing to week-end in the country. The present round-trip fare for a 100-mile journey is $6.20, and under the new week-end rate will be only $4.35. The present 30-day return fare from Montreal to Toronto is $20.70, as compared with the new week-end round-trip fare of $14.40.

The reductions will apply between all stations in Canada, and will commence the first week-end in May.

Estimated Rates from Toronto

The week-end fares to the following points in Ontario will be approximately as follows, the figures being based on the regular tariffs, the first fare quoted being the estimated week-end fare, the second figure being the present regular return fare: Barrie, $2.75, $3.95; Hamilton, $1.70, $2.45; Niagara Falls, $3.60, $5.15; Brantford $2.70, $3.85; London, $4, $7.10; Windsor, $9.70, $12.95; Sarnia, $7.30, $10.55; Owen Sound, $5.25, $7.55; Goderich, $5.65, $8.10; Orillia, $3.70, $5.30; Kingston, $6.80, $10.15; Gananoque, $7.55, $11.55; Port Dover, $3.50, $5.05; Midland, $4.40, $6.30; Southampton, $6.25, $9; Campbellford, $4.95, $7.10; Gravenhurst, $4.80, $6.95; Huntsville, $6.30, $9.10; Lakefield, $3.75; $5.40; Peterborough, $3.30, $4.75; Lindsay, $3, $4.30; Belleville, $4.95, 7.10; Haliburton, $5.40, $7.75.

COUNT OF PARIS PLANTS AN OAK

Action Symbolizes Royalist Movement to Restore Throne to France.

SUPPORTERS ATTEND.

PALERMO, Italy, April 9.—(A. P.)—A little oak tree planted by the Count of Paris on soil brought from France symbolized to-day the Royalist movement which its supporters hope some day will restore the throne to France.

The ceremony was performed in a park at the Villa D'Aumale, owned by his father, the Duke of Guise, shortly after his marriage to Princess Isabelle of Orleans and Bragance.

The planting was accompanied by a demonstration by the Royalist faction Francaise led by Leon Daudet and Charles Maunras, whose presence here had to be concerted as private in order to get the church's consent to a wedding inside the Cathedral by a Cardinal.

Daudet started cheers of 'Long live the King,' 'Long live the Queen,' 'Long live the Dauphin,' 'Long live the Dauphine.' Some of the Pretender's henchmen then sang a Royalist song.

The bride tore her veil to shreds to make souvenirs for her friends before they departed on their honeymoon.

Sir A. Currie Received By Emperor Of Japan

TOKYO, April 9 (C.P.).—General Sir Arthur Currie, war-time commander of the Canadian Corps, and now Principal of McGill University, Montreal, was to-day granted an audience by the Emperor of Japan. This afternoon Sir Arthur sailed from Japan for Vancouver, on his return home after an absence of several months.

Sir Arthur spent many weeks in England before proceeding to India, where he represented the Dominion at the formal inauguration of the new Government buildings at New Delhi, February 10, and unveiled a Canadian column. He then came to the Orient. His long tour has been mostly in the interests of his health.

French Deny Emir Ali To Be Syrian King

PARIS, April 9 (C.P.). — The French Foreign Office to-day characterized as untrue Jerusalem reports that the French had signed an agreement with Emir Ali, son of former King Hussein of the Hadjaz, whereby he was to become King of Syria.

It was pointed out that Syria merely had been assigned to France by the League of Nations under a mandate, and that any shift in Syria's political status would have to have consent of the Mandate Commission of the League of Nations before it could become effective.

Scotch Woollen Men Visiting Paris First

LONDON, April 9 (By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent). — The delegation of Scottish woollen manufacturers who are to tour Canada and the United States, is being supplemented by a second delegation which left to-day for Paris and other Continental capitals.

The trade realizes that in attempting to increase sales of Scottish tweeds on the American continent, an impression must first be made in Paris, the centre of world fashion.

Scottish makers maintain they have an advantage over more dressy materials, and greater scope in color and design. Paris may set the fashions, but other nations can adopt them while securing materials elsewhere, say representatives of the manufacturers.

KING'S CONDITION IS SHOWING SIGNS OF IMPROVEMENT

Family Dinner at Castle Is Minus His Majesty Who Retires Early.

THREE DOCTORS AT HAND.

Clouded Skies and Rain Aid Little in Helping Shake Off Bronchial Attack.

WINDSOR, Eng., April 9.—(AP)—Progress noted yesterday in the condition of the King, who is suffering from subacute bronchitis, is being maintained, it was stated officially at Windsor Castle this morning.

The statement of His Majesty's condition was issued after his physicians, Lord Dawson of Penn, Sir William Rees and Dr. Henry Martyn had seen him.

It was again emphasized in authoritative quarters, however, that his majesty's progress must continue slow and that rapid recovery could not be expected.

Transacts Business

The King signed a number of state documents this morning in his room and transacted other official business. The weather was less favorable, with clouded skies and occasional rain showers instead of yesterday's sun.

The Queen left the castle during the morning for an automobile ride into London where she visited a picture dealers establishment and made several purchases.

The assurances from the castle that His Majesty is progressing nicely have been somewhat qualified from the beginning, however, by insistence by those about him that his progress must be necessarily slow and that a considerable time must elapse before his normal health is restored.

Not Too Strong

Such warnings are unpleasantly reminiscent of similar admonitions given the public at the time of his serious illness in 1928 and 1929 and have tended to keep alive public anxiety in his behalf. It is known that he is not strong after the former illness and that a new bronchial attack will put his physique to a great strain.

The King did not attend the family dinner at the castle yesterday evening, although the Princess Mary and her husband, Earl of Harewood, newly arrived at the castle were present. His Majesty went to bed comparatively early, a fact to which castle attaches gave no sinister significance, regarding it principally as a precaution against over-fatigue.

CABINET CHANGE BEING PREDICTED

Hon. Leopold Macaulay Mentioned as Minister of Education.

TWO NEW MINISTERS.

TORONTO, April 9.—Another reshuffle of the Henry cabinet will take place prior to the Conservative party convention some time this Summer, according to Queen's Park seers who claim ability to read political signs.

The Ferguson reorganization of the treasury benches was not a permanent one. In the light of succeeding events this make-over is now regarded as having been done for the purpose of placing immediate strength behind Premier George S. Henry in his new position as leader of the government.

One of the important changes scheduled to be made within a very short time is the appointment—and incidentally elevation—of Hon. Leopold Macaulay, provincial secretary to the portfolio of education, at present held by Premier Henry. The necessity of having a full time minister of education is recognized by Premier Henry, it is stated. In addition to divesting himself of this portfolio, the premier, it is said, contemplates relinquishing the portfolio of highways, thus leaving himself free to direct the activities of government.

In connection with the position of minister of highways, T. J. Mahoney, Wentworth South, is mentioned as a likely candidate. There is also the possibility of Hon. William Finlayson, minister of lands and forests, being transferred to highways.

H. A. Clark of Brockville, a member of the Legislature since 1923, is regarded as a strong contender for cabinet rank and if taken into the cabinet, it is thought he would be selected to fill the post of provincial secretary when Hon. Leopold Macaulay takes over the reins of the department of education.

W. H. Ireland, Conservative party whip and president of the Ontario Conservative Association, is another candidate for inclusion in the Henry cabinet. His log years of service to the party, combined with his knowledge of political affairs, would make him an able minister, it is said.

The underlying reason for the proposed cabinet changes is the desire of the government to go to the Conservative convention with a settled cabinet, leaving no vacancies to becloud the main issue which is that of confirming Premier Henry as leader of the government. The constitution of the party calls for a convention within a year of the appointment of a new leader.

PILE SUFFERERS

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief.

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, heals and restores the affected parts. This remedy has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of an operation until you have tried a bottle of HEM-ROID tablets. McDermid & Jury, Bond'E Drug Store guarantees money back if they do not end Piles in any form.

BERLIN SEES SIGNS OF BETTER MARKETS

International Dispute Over Austria-German Trade Pact Causes No Misgiving.

BERLIN, April 9.—The financial outlook in Germany has continued to improve during the past week. Influences making for financial hopefulness were the continuing offers of foreign short-term funds, the activity in the home capital market during March and the plan of German mortgage banks, in co-operation with leading home and foreign commercial institutions, to issue bonds for the funding of short-term debts of German municipalities.

The dispute with France and Czechoslovakia over the plan for an Austro-German customs union has had no depressing influence on the markets. Most authorities doubt whether, even if the legality of the proposed union is conceded, the arrangement will actually go through. The difficulties in the way of it are the disparities between the present Austrilian and the present German tariffs and objections raised by the Austrian textile trade, along with other manufacturers of some other finished goods. The unpopularity of the scheme in Ge man North Sea ports is also having its influence. These localities fear that the inclusion of the Southeastern agrarian States in such a customs union would injure German shipping interests in import of foodstuffs from overseas countries.

COAL OIL PATENTS POOLED BY MERGER

Three European Companies Exploit Hydrogenation Process in Many Countries.

LONDON, April 9. — The world-wide attempt to produce oil fuel from coal profitably was advanced on Tuesday night when it was announced that three great companies on this side of the Atlantic had fused their interests to develop the new hydrogenation process outside the United States and Germany, and that another company with headquarters at The Hague would distribute information to all users of this process.

In this process powdered coal is forced into a container into which hydrogen is pumped and raised to a high temperature. About half the coal is converted into oil, but the experiments have not reached the full commercial production stage.

The formation of the International Hydrogenation Patents Company, with headquarters at Vaduz, Liechtenstein, announced last night, represents a fusion of the interests of the Standard-I. G. Company, the Royal Dutch Shell group, and the Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., which have a total share capital of more than $1,000,000,000. It will operate the hydrogenation process for the liquefaction of coal and the refining of oils in all cocuntries outside the United States and Germany.

The International Hydrogenation Engineering and Chemical Company which is to be organized shortly at The Hague, will arrange the exchange of patent rights and new information on hydrogenation among all users, including corresponding companies in the United States which were organized last year. The United States companies are controlled directly by the principal units of the American oil industry.

German inventions and experience, according to the official announcement, will be available to the new company through the Standard-I. G. Company, representing the fusion of hydrogenation interests between the I. G. Farbenindustrie of Germany and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

A big revival of the declining British coal trade is foreseen when hydrogenation is sufficiently developed.

Big Electrical Job At The Quarry Plant

A contract, described as one of the largest to be handled by a Peterborough firm outside of the C.G.E. Company, for some time, is at present being handled by Grant and Thorpe, electrical engineers of this city for the Ontario Rock Quarry Company at Belmont Township. The contract is said to be in the neighborhood of $1,700 to $1,800.

For the past three weeks ten employees of Grant and Thorpe, have been at work at the Quarry site, under the direction of J. S. Pickering, foreman in charge. They expect to complete the contract, which called for the virtual rewiring of the whole plant, in the course of the present week.

The work has included the installation of six new electric motors; one of 225 h.p., another of 35 h.p., and four of 5 h.p. Also the removal of the transformers from their old location near the crusher, to a position of 450 feet south near the offices; the construction of an electrical tower etc. The contract has involved also, the rebuilding of the outside and inside line work, with heavier cables outside, than those formerly in use. The plant is now able to carry a connected load of 850 h.p.

Growing Deaf With Head Noises? Try This.

If you are growing hard of hearing, and fear catarrhal deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to take. Anyone who is threatened with catarrhal deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

ABERDONIANS DO BIG SHARE.

ELGIN, Scotland, April 8 (C.P. Cable).—Premier Ramsay MacDonald told a gathering of Elgin students last night that a woman friend who had spent her life working for charities, had assured him that whenever an appeal was made for some great national purpose, more contributions came anonymously from Aberdeen than any town in the world.

A fund to assist the relatives of the late Earl of Birkenhead is being raised in England.

WARDEN LAWES LAYS CRIMES TO LONG PRISON SENTENCES

Sing Sing Head Says Men Resort to Violence as They Forsee Heavy Terms.

FINDS FAULT WITH SYSTEM

NEW YORK, April 9—Improved administration of penalties would do more than the projected $100,000,000 prison building program of New York State to alleviate crime conditions, Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing prison, told 200 members of the St. Nicholas Society who gathered Tuesday night at the Biltmore Hotel for the ninety-fifth annual dinner of the organization, which is composed of descendants of early settlers in New York City.

Mr. Lawes outlined recent progress in administration of prisons here and continued:

"Physical discomforts in prisons are being removed, but spiritual, mental, emotional discomforts remain. Outstanding among the results of our prison and penal policies is the fact that prison populations have steadily increased until at this time the population at Sing Sing is at its highest peak.

"Why not face the facts, discarding, if we can, outworn notions and personal prejudices? It does not require strong imagination or unusual authority to keep men in their cells. What earthly use is there for the expensive and elaborate psychiartic and psychological laboratories and personnel if personality, mentality, or individuality plays little or no part in determining a prisoner's punishment, either in character or duration?"

The warden said he was "surfeited with this constant emphasis on punishment and still more punishment. If this method of handling crime were at all effective there might be an excuse for it, but we know that it is not. With the advent of long prison terms crime increased and is still increasing, so that we shall have to go fast to catch up with it.

"I make this statement based on personal study and observation: Crimes of violence are more prevalent to-day, largely because men are made more desperate at the prospect of long prison terms. The trouble is that we are holding fast to the tail of the dog, afraid to let go and unable to check its antics."

What was required, Mr. Lawes said, was a penal system that would deal with crime in its "formative period," offering guidance rather than punishment.

"The liberal use of parole and a broad and effective probation for criminals not yet sentenced will do more toward solving the prison problem than the $100,000,000 we expect to spend on new prisons and reformatories," he concluded.

NO MORE NEED FOR BOATHOOK

Automatic Mooring Among Devices at Annual Boston Exhibition.

MARINE SPEEDOMETER

BOSTON, Mass., April 9 (C.P.).—Yachtsmen who have stood on a sloping foredeck and stabbed with a boathook at the home buoy will find their labors lightened by an automatic mooring, one of the many exhibits at Boston Boat Show, which ran for six days at the end of March.

All the gentleman sailor need do now, with the automatic buoy awaiting him off the landing, is slip a loop of rope over a tall spindle when sailing past. When the slack is taken up the loop is locked in position by a spring hook. A full-sized model of the gadget was shown in a tank at the exhibit hall.

A lower trend in prices was noted at this year's show. More than 3,000 people attended the first day to view a fleet of water craft embracing everything from a six-foot flat-bottomed rowboat priced at $14.00 to a forty-foot mahogany cruiser capable of making a $17,000 dent in the exchequer.

Another clever contrivance is a marine speedometer. Instead of having to compute the speed of one's power craft from the number of revolutions made by the engine, the marine speedometer scoops up a small stream of water beside the keel, which in turn exerts pressure on a water meter that registers the actual number of miles per hour the boat is travelling on a panel beside the deck controls. It also gives the days' distance run, and is accurate for speeds as slow as two miles per hour.

A lone engine builder is exhibiting a husky marine engine that will operate on fuel oil, kerosene, or any diesel fuel equally well, which ever is available.

Comedy Is Presented By Warkworth Y.P.S.

WARKWORTH, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence)—The three act comedy play, "Sunshine Lane," which was staged in the town hall on Monday evening under the auspices of the Young People's Society of St. Paul's Church was a decided success. Each player did exceedingly well which brought much applause from the large audience. Before the play commenced the Young People's Orchestra gave several selections and between the acts solos were given by Miss Ina Bowen, Master Cameron Baker, Messrs. Clayton Cole and Glenn Allen and a duet by Lila and Edgar Allen. Each of these numbers was heartily encored.

The cast of characters is as follows: Mrs. Burroughs, who lives on Sunshine Lane, Miss Sara McCombe.

Helen Burroughs, her pretty and romantic daughter, Miss Orietta Gummer.

Betty Hilton, the sunshine girl of Sunshine Lane, Miss Elizabeth Duncan.

Dorothy Warring, Stephen Warring's daughter, a leader of the younger set, Miss Ina Bowen.

Aunt Edith Warring, her aristocratic aunt, Mrs. A. M. Smale.

Sue Morris, Warring's snappy secretary, Miss Alice Allen.

Stephen Warring the great and only, Grant Allen.

Charlie Conley, his good looking young assistant, Don Partridge.

Mandy Washington, cook for the Burroughs. Miss L. M. McClarry.

Nat Morton, sheik of bygone days, B. Buchanan.

Tommy, vim vigor and vitality in person, Glenn Allen.

Object To Maiden Trip Of Liner On Sunday

GREENOCK, Scotland, April 9 (C. P. Cable). — The choice of the Sabbath day for taking the newly-built Empress of Britain, giant liner of the Canadian Pacific Railway, down the Clyde, was questioned at Greenock Presbytery last night.

Those of us who value the quiet of the Lord's Day, said the Moderator, witnessed with pained concern the invasion of motorists and others last Sunday. It is not to be understood that we are not rejoicing at the skill and enterprise which produced the Empress of Britain but some of us think that another day might have been chosen for bringing her down the river.

Prospectors Rushing Into Pic River Area

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., April 9. — (C.P.).—A rush of prospectors into the Pic and Black River district, about 200 miles east of here, is reported. The hope of the mines is said to be based on a report recently made on the possibilities of the territory by a Provincial Government geologist who reported many favorable features and some fine gold samples. C. C. McGregor, mining recorder here, stated to-day that although he had heard of some activity in the district, no new claims had been registered recently.

SAFE LIVING CONDITIONS.

Safe and healthful living conditions, and opportunities for successful business or professional occupations are the benefits derived by you from the organized community in which you live. To that community you therefore owe something more of personal effort than mere exercise of the franchise, paying taxes and service on jury, etc. You can best discharge this larger obligation by co-operating with others through membership in the Chamber of Commerce.

THURSDAY, AJRIL 9, 1931

THE CHICAGO ELECTION.

"There is no enthusiasm for Mr. Cermak except among those politicians who will be rewarded with patronage if he wins. But Chicago will be rid of a vulgar symbol if it defeats Mr. Thompson," said The New York Times on the eve of the Chicago municipal election.

And that one crisp paragraph would seem to have admirably summed up the whole situation in this civic campaign which had attracted attention among people far distant from the actual scene of the conflict.

Canadians have had their eyes upon Chicago during the peculiar campaign, wondering if there were still enough Morons in the Windy City to deliver their city once more over to a politician who pretended to believe that King George was scheming to get control of the city's educational affairs.

The result of Tuesday's election indicates that Chicago people have at last solved Big Bill Thompson's delivery, and have realized that his buffoonery has made their city a by-word not only in the United States but internationally.

In tossing out this clown ruler the voters of Chicago have done a good day's business for their community, for even if the successor to the Thompson throne turns out to be as powerless in eliminating crime and graft as was Big Bill it will take some time for him to gain such world-wide notoriety—and that in itself will be an advantage.

THE ANNIVERSARY OF VIMY.

To-day is a significant anniversary in Canadian history—the anniversary of one of the finest feat of arms that the story of the Great War affords.

Fourteen years ago this morning, on April 9, 1917, the Canadian division successfully stormed the famous Vimy Ridge and drove the Germans from position against which the French had previously sent wave after wave of attackers, only to lose thousands of men and finally to fail.

The capture of Vimy Ridge is rightly listed among the most important achievements of the war on the western front, and as a masterpiece of careful planning and successful execution.

The victory was of tremendous strategic value because it put the Allies in possession of a dominating position that was destined to serve them in good stead in the dark days of the great German offensive in the spring of 1918.

Many there are in Peterborough to-day who played a man's part in the winning of Vimy and in the hard fighting that followed; they, as well as Canadians generally, will have difficulty in realizing that fourteen years have slipped by since that Easter day when the forces of the enemy were hurled from their apparently impregnable stronghold on the Vimy heights.

Canadian soldiers won honors at many places and on many occasions during the world conflict, and it is fitting that on the anniversary of such an outstanding triumph as the storming of the famous Ridge their exploits should be recalled.

THE RESULT OF THE CONFERENCE.

Representatives of the Dominion and the various Provinces have apparently succeeded in arriving at a satisfactory understanding in regard to the proposed statute of Westminster, which will embody recommendations arrived at at the last two Imperial Conferences.

Fears that the Canadian Constitution as embodied in the British North America Act would be undermined have been set at rest by the decision that so far as repealing, altering or amending the Canadian Constitution is concerned there is to be no change in the existing situation.
